Earl Winterton, Conservative member for Horsham, said he thought a single board on films would suffice for the United Kingdom and "I should have thought English taste through the ages has been fairly good."

Winterton said he admitted pictures about Scotland were produced showing everyone wearing a kilt, "whereas everyone knows that the kilt only appeals to a few extreme patriots and to the type of Scotsman whom I might call the MacSmiths, who desire to be more Scottish than the Scots.

"Scotland has no more desire to be Anglicized than it has to be Americanized," said Eustace Willis, Labor member for Edinburgh north.

J. W. Belcher, parliamentary secretary to the board of trade, said for the government that a Scottish sub-committee of the Film council might consider films and reports to the parent body, but there should be no separate organization.

Ian Orr-Ewing, Conservative member for Weston-super-Mare, said films represented Scotsmen living "in a way impossible for any good Scot. Scotland should not have to see films of Highland clans clad in the wrong cloths, in the wrong way and doing the wrong things."

"PUFF PUFF" MAKES SNOW GO POOF POOF!—Canada's first snow melter hasn't had much to dig its teeth into this winter because of the comparatively light snowfall but railwaymen took it out for a workout following the eight-inch fall last week-end hoping to get an idea of how it will act when the going gets tough. The locomotive-propelled melter is coming down the track pulling in the snow as it goes. The final operation—the snow melted into water pours out of one of the valves and onto a vacant siding.

Friends Present Silverware Set

SPRINGVILLE, March 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stenson of Highway 28, who were married recently, were honored by their friends and neighbors at a gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Robson, Thursday evening. About 100 guests were present. Mrs. Arthur Stenson was formerly Lillie Robson.

Mrs. E. Johnston of Peterborough, as pianist, and Mr. Wilson on the violin, contributed a number of musical selections. Mr. Hilliard Strong was chairman for the occasion.

Solos were contributed by Miss Mary Robson, accompanied by Mrs. Johnston, and Mr. Henry Batten, accompanied by John Batten.

Mr. Bernard Preston and Mr. Henry Batten sang duets and Hazel McIntosh gave a reading.

Mrs. Clarence Laing read an address to the guests of honor, and on behalf of the community, Mr. Norman Lillico and Mr. Bernard Preston presented them with a case of silverware and an electric tea-kettle.

WI Hears Talk On Citizenship

HAVELOCK, March 6—(ENS) —Mrs. Annie Anderson gave a paper on "Citizenship" at the meeting of the Women's Institute Friday. She defined citzenship as the ability to live in harmony with fellow beings, free from hatred and intolerance; to think and act according to the principles of justice and truth.

Mrs. Anderson dealt with the subject from the views of education, training of the children in the home, social welfare, good reading, loyalty and patriotism.

A few remarks on citizenship were given by Mrs. W. Johnston.

Mrs. Anderson officiated as program convener and presided for the program which Miss Cockeram of the Children's Aid Society spoke briefly on the need of foster homes for children of the Shelter.

Readings were given by Mrs. F. R. Vanderburgh and Mrs. W. Smith. Two numbers were sung by Miss Jacqulyn Pufer with Mrs. G. Fox as accompanist.

President, Mrs. C. Taylor, was chairman for the business session.

A communication was read of the address of an Institute in England where food parcels may be sent. Donations of food will be received at the next meeting for the parcels and an appeal made to any person wishing to help in this project.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $134.32.

Mrs. G. Fox reported that the town council had given permission to build another cupboard for the library and that the library grant from the council had been received.

Lunch was served with Mrs. D. McColl and Mrs. A. Anderson as hostesses.

Brakeman is hero in head-on train crash

WINS DOW AWARD

ALEX TIPLER OF NORTH BAY, ONTARIO

shows endurance and courage in rescue work

On a sharp curve near Cobalt the two freights crashed head-on. In a second the locomotives were a mass of twisted, steaming steel. Box-cars tumbled off the tracks like toys.

Alex Tipler was riding in the caboose of the freight train when it happened. The terrific impact of the collision, with the accompanying scream of steel smashing against steel, sounded like an explosion in the pre-dawn quiet. The brakeman was thrown onto the floor . . . and for an instant he lay, dazed and semi-conscious.

In a few seconds, however, he was up . . . and, plowing his way along the icy stretch beside the train, he reached the twisted wreck of the locomotives. Extricating a fellow brakeman from the debris, he carried him back the full length of the train to the caboose. Then once again he returned to the engines . . . and, in spite of a badly bruised back, helped to get the young firemen out of the wreckage and back to the caboose. Then, his back giving him great pain, Tipler stumbled for two miles through deep snow in the sub-zero dawn to a small village. Here he was able to get a message through to the railroad headquarters about the accident.

The courage and unselfishness of this young brakeman merits great praise. We are proud to pay tribute to Alex Tipler of North Bay, Ontario, through the presentation of The Dow Award.

Having already done more than his share, Alex Tipler nevertheless did not quit. Walking two miles in the sub-zero temperature, he summoned more aid and sent word of the smash-up to railway headquarters.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian newspapers.

Splendid Cough Syrup Easily Mixed at Home

To get quick relief from a distressing cough, mix this recipe in your own kitchen. Once tried, you'll say it's your favorite cough medicine, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Anyone can do it. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.)

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its quick action on throat irritations.

Put the Pinex into a 16 ounce bottle, and fill up with your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces of very efficient medicine, and you get four times as much for your money. It tastes fine and never spoils.

And for quick, satisfying relief, it is splendid. You can feel it penetrating the air passages and taking hold of the cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Pinex Is Swift Acting. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

Of Interest to Women

A PURE SILK DRESS—Nothing better found in the shops than a really pretty real silk frock . . . and now, did you know? . . . there are plenty to be had. This particular frock is a custom made model, a best dress for spring about the snowy climes, for a special treat amongst the luggage going south. A sentimental, flowery print of gay colors on a white crepe ground is draped from front to back into a bustle loop, and the practically sleeveless bodice is smoothly fitted, and cut very low in front.

One Accessory in Leopard Necessary To Be In Fashion

It is amazing how trends in fashions start. The latest fad among the screen beauties had no definite beginning, but suddenly every one was in the swing. It has taken such a hold in Hollywood that don't be surprised if it blossoms out all over the country . . . and you start seeing spots before your eyes. To be in fashion these days, it is necessary to have at least one accessory in leopard.

Lana Turner, who once studied dress designing, and still makes a hobby of sketching clothes, recently turned up at rehearsals for her role in a recent picture in black tailored slacks . . . with a wide leopard belt. Lana had the belt made to her own design, matching her shoes of leopard skin.

No one knows who was first, but Esther Williams, who is also noted for her originality in dress, likewise turned to leopard, and created removable leopard buttons. Esther wears these as a change on her basic suits.

Another advocate of leopard accessories is Kathryn Grayson. Kathryn left Hollywood some time ago on a concert tour of principal cities. For this trip she took along a pair of black suede gloves, styled with wide leopard cuffs. They give even the simplest outfit a surprising touch of chic, something different.

Blonde or Brunette

Apparently it makes no difference if the wearer is blonde or brunette, for Marilyn Maxwell, favors a hat and purse to match. Marilyn likes the leopard motif so well that she wears this combination with many of her outfits.

Jayne Meadows, the red-haired stage actress always has had leopard as her lucky charm. It has become, in fact, almost the basis of her wardrobe. Her favorite is a vest made from the skin. Because of the versatile coloring, it can be worn with practically all her suits. She considers this vest a sound investment as it can be worn with slacks or with skirts and blouses.

Perhaps the most unusual item, however, is her leopard earrings. They were formerly gold discs about the size of a quarter, which Jayne had covered with the spotted skin.

There seems to be no limit to the use of leopard, for Audrey Totter designed an attachable hood, lined with leopard, to go with her mustard wool coat. The hood is fastened onto the coat, and then folds back to reveal a fashionable border of leopard around the face.

Leopard is not limited necessarily to articles of clothing. Among movieland's feminine set, there suddenly has appeared a flood of items covered with leopard. Gloria De Haven has a stunning compact so covered, June Allyson a hand-bag, and Beverly Tyler was seen sporting a costume pin of unusual appeal. It was her initials covered with leopard.

NEIGHBORS' INFLUENCE

Modes Of Living Dictated By Meddlesome Friends

Did you ever think that the fear of our neighbors is the most compelling force in our lives? You will say: Nonsense. That isn't true. But it is. We stand more in awe of the neighbors than we do of the Ten Commandments, and we are more influenced by what the Joneses and the Smiths say than we are by all the law and the prophets.

Dorothy Dix

And the curious part about this fact is that we do not set our neighbors up on a pedestal and defer to them because of their superior intelligence and virtue. On the contrary, we know them to be just plain, ordinary, everyday folks, even as you and I, and, taking them as individuals, we wouldn't give two cents a bucketful for their opinions. It is only when the woman next door and the man across the street discuss what we should do and shouldn't do that we are scared into following the herd.

The fear of the neighbors is at the bottom of many of our follies. It is, for instance, what causes millions of people to exist under a nerve-racking strain that eventually kills them by living beyond their means. The A's may be people of simple tastes who love their shabby old house and would like to stay in it, but the neighbors won't let them. They prod them about their home being old-fashioned and lacking modern conveniences, and kid them about being stingy and not living up to their income until, finally, they drive them into building an architect's dream that lands them in bankruptcy.

Encourage Extravagance

And it is the neighbors who are responsible for Mrs. B's extravagance rather than she is. Times are hard and clothes high and Mrs. B. would be content to wear her last year's gowns if the neighbor women didn't keep tab on her every garment and twit her on her clothes not having the new look.

It is the fear of neighborhood gossip that wrecks the lives of many a boy and girl whose silly parents will not let them follow their predestined careers. Their false pride can't stand knowing that the neighbors are lifting their eyebrows over Sally wanting to marry a carpenter and James going behind a counter instead of into law.

How many men's reputations have been blackened, how many girls' skirts have been smirched by the idle tittle-tattle of neighbors, only the Recording Angel knows, but it has been enough to ruin the lives of many an innocent individual. Yet the crime was committed without malice. A talkie woman, who loved the sound of her own voice and who got a kick out of telling news, said: "Did you hear that Johnny Jones is drinking himself to death?" Or: "Isn't it awful what girls do these days!" or "Maudie Smith didn't get home until 5 o'clock this morning. And as for Sally Brown, the way she runs after that rich new boy is just scandalous."

And the deed was done. The gossip mill was started by a woman or man who had not intention of doing harm, but who only wanted to tell a piece of news. Buy maybe a heart was broken. And it is not wonder that we are afraid of what our neighbors say.

Yet if we are afraid of our neighbors lest they should in advertently do us harm, there are our good neighbors who are our ever-present help in times of trouble. Not one of us but who can remember some good neighbor woh nurse us when we were bod who nursed us when we were hungry; who wept with us in our sorrow, and who made us one with the whole brotherhood of man. They are God's best gift to us, and they if they get any fun out of gossiping, let 'em do it.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, March 7

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds much encouragement for spiritual aspirations, studies and activities, in which a strong inclination or urge to metaphysical or philosophical thought may give great satisfaction and uplift. The mentality and emotional patterns are keyed to fine creative thinking in this direction and could bring forth some curious or unique matters for contemplation or experiment.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a period in which the trend is toward unique or curious enterprises or affiliations, in which originality, innovation or audacious adventure into strange fields of invention or science may form their dominant interest. Higher levels of consciousness, flashes to genius, may engineer practical ideas and plans into surprising levels of accomplishment and as well public recognition.

A child born on this day may have exceptional talents and abilities in fields outside the usual or prosaic, being gifted with scientific, inventitve and metaphysical insight and thought.

For Monday, Marh 8

Monday's astrological forecast is for a difficult and challenging day, in which a determined effort to launch and promote unusual plans, ideas and projects may come up against the proverbial "stone wall." To batter this down there is likelihood of errors in judgment, false moves, rash and intemperate behaviour in the endeavor to make headway against any and all odds. Under quickened creative insight, trends to new ways and means, with a semblance of composure on tongue, temperament and emotions, there could be surprising assistance from influential sources, social or financial.

On the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is should find opportunity, even renown, knocking at the door, with exceptional programs for innovations, discoveries, adventure and romance, outside the realm of the commonplace and conventional. The creative insight is under fine stimuli and initiative for enterprise channeled into unpredictable lines. At the same time the emotions and passions, the judgment and drives are quickened and could beget conflict, loss and defeat. Should fury and friction be not held in leash under temperamental "bursts of genius" the required aid of friendly support might be forfeited. Keep composed, practical, and balanced.

A child born on this day may have conspicuous talents or flashes of genius, creative and novel, but an explosive temperament could undermine its ultimate success and destroy its renown

CGIT Doings

St. Andrew's United Juniors' these for the worship was "Discovering the Great Spirit," an Indian interpretation Those taking part: Carole McKenzie, Joan Tremaine and Joan Young, with Arlene Jarvis in the chair. Visitors to the meeting were Senior CGIT Group of St. Andrew's. Miss Copp told of her visit to an Indian Mission School in British Columbia. An Indian project for next week was discussed, and maps of Ontario are to be made, showing where Indians are located, and their tribal names.

MURRAY ST. BAPTIST

An imitation radio interview with three pioneer Baptist missionaries highlighted mission study for CGIT at Murray St. Wednesday evening. Miss Jean Mailing was master of ceremonies, interviewing Miss Marion Pogue as Miss Hunter, a worker among Russian peoples in Toronto and Windsor; Mildred Hayward as Miss M. Pierce, one of the Baptist Home missionaries, associated with All People's Mission; and Miss Blanche Quinn as Charlotte Evans, a co-worker of Miss Hunter in Windsor among Finnish and Hungarian peoples.

The groups recognised Miss Mailing's work as organizer and leader among them with an address by Diane Burnley and presentation by Audrey Sylvester of a leather-bound loose-leaf notebook.

Ice-cream and cookies were served as a fitting climax to the evening.

TRINITY UNITED

Two groups were together for a worship service conducted by Joan Henry, Dorothy Woodcock and Joan Krogh. Senior and Intermediate groups then went to their respective study periods on India where projects were discussed. Intermediate group will carve a totem pole from soap. Senior group are making plans to present a play. Games.

ST. ANDREW'S UNITED

Barbara Scully reported for the meeting held Monday evening. Miss R. Barns continued mission study on Northern Indians in Canada. She was assisted in the worship service by Katherine Hewitt with Lois Holman at the piano. Joan Lustic, Carol and Patsy Scully and Maureen McGee were visitors.

MARK ST. UNITED

On Wednesday, February 25, CGIT opened their meeting with a work period on articles for a bazaar to be held March 30. While the girls worked, a short devotional was led by June Finnie and Diane Babcock.

The same plan was followed this week with Berdene Atchison reading a portion of the Mission Study Book while the girls worked. There for the worship was "Filling in the Spaces of Life." It was conducted by Dolly Star, Diane Babcock, Audrey O'Neill and Jacqueline Tyndall. The latter reported the meeting.

MARK ST. UNITED EXPLORERS

"Human Relationships" was the theme of the worship service held by Beverley Pollock and assisted by Connie Hildenbrand and Marilyn Logan. Jean De Nure led in games. Marguerite McNeilly reported.

CAMP

Dates are tentatively set for two CGIT camps at Inglestane in August. The first is for Intermediates, 12 to 14 years, August 11 to 21; the second for High School Seniors, 14 to 17 years, August 23 to September 3. Registration forms will be available in May.

YOUNGSTER AMONG WORLD MINISTERS — Dr. Noel C. Browne, minister for health in Eire, is 32 years old and is believed the world's youngest cabinet minister. Before his recent election he was a medical officer attached to Wicklow sanatorium where he was gathering material for his fight against tuberculosis which he calls the "scourge of Ireland." He is pictured at home with his daughter Susan, 10 months, who is holding a letter of congratulations addressed to her daddy.

QUITE A SIZE — Miss Margaret Gough, of Beckenham, Eng., had an outsize in escorts when she took Man Friday of Maspound to a Great Dane show. He looks a weighty proposition as he gives his owner a friendly hug before going in to face the judges.

Drew Applauds New Labor Code

TORONTO, March 6.—(CP).—Premier Drew expressed confidence last night that Ontario soon will have the best basis for Dominion-Provincial labor co-operation that has ever existed in Canada.

He discussed the Ontario Labor Department in a recorded address over a provincial radio network, the seventh in a series dealing with governmental departments.

The premier referred to last week's announcement by Provincial Labor Minister Daley that Ontario will adopt the federal labor code when it is passed at Ottawa.

"While the Ontario government is not in complete agreement with every detail of this code," Premier Drew said, "we do recognize that it is an attempt to interpret the experience of the war years and place this in statutory form. It may not be the best code possible, but following the advice of representatives of labor and management it does seem that it is likely to be a satisfactory labor code in most respects.

ONE DAY'S RATIONS — A smile engulfs the face of one of the 11 U.S. army enlisted men who began a diet of one-third of a pound of biscuit and three glasses of water each per day for the next six weeks. The experiment, being conducted at Metropolitan hospital under the supervision of New York medical college physicians, is to aid the U.S. army in developing a survival ration for military and civilian use.

Mad Pianist Still Charms Hospital With His Music

DETROIT, March 6—(AP)—Out at lonely Eloise, the delicate music of the mad pianist still echoes through quiet corridors.

Maestro X still is a patient two years after he startled the music world with his beautiful piano playing.

Dr. T. K. Gruber, superintendent of Wayne County General Hospital at Eloise, said he still is completely mad in everything except his music.

The maestro, whose name never was revealed, was a brilliant student of music. He was committed to the asylum a decade ago, suffering a split personality.

As Dr. Gruber describes it, he withdrew from life into a world of his own twisted thoughts. For many years the musician was unable to walk, feed himself or perform simple acts.

Then, in the search for a means to bring him back to reality, the hospital turned his attention back to his music.

At first an attendant had to turn the pages of the score. If she didn't, the man would play the same page of notes over and over. Gradually, Maestro X improved.

He appeared before a national education conference. He amazed recognized teachers of music with the beauty and clarity of his piano artistry.

Later he performed in public. Millions heard him play Mozart's difficult "Concerto in D Minor" on a national radio broadcast.

"He remains out of touch with reality in everything except his music," the superintenent said. "If we ever are able to help him, however, we feel we may open an important avenue for others like him."

A piano is available to him and daily he plays the classical music he loves.

Homework Monstrous In Shaw's Opinion

AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, Herts., England, March 6 (AP). — To George Bernard Shaw, asking children to do homework is simply monstrous.

"The school managers ought to be warned by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children," observed the playwright.

"If they required such overtime, day in and day out all the year around, from the Prime Minister, the Lord Chief Justice or the Astronomer Royal, they would be certified for a mental hospital.

"It would kill me in a week."

Well, asked a Press Association reporter, how would Shaw begin if he were a Grammar School teacher?

"By threatening to murder my classes if they dared to think of their lessons out of school."

Tells Of Foray On Atomic Bomb

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP).—Captain "X," mystery man of the Second World War, who helped to halt German atomic research, is here on a visit — still a man of mystery.

He was a member of the Norwegian underground, who directed a raid on a German-occupied plant where Nazi scientists conducted atomic research.

Captain "X" directed 11 men who had two machine-guns, a dozen revolvers, skiis, knapsacks, and 20 pounds of explosive. It was called "Operation Swallow" and opened Feb. 28, 1943, near the small town of Rjukan, Norway.

Objective was a few pieces of machinery and 275 pounds of heavy water, an integral part of Nazi scientists' research for the atomic bomb.

The 10-man commando crew parachuted in and attacked the research centre while Captain "X" sat by his radio across the valley. His orders were not to accompany them. He had worked on the operation for a year and knew too much to allow a possibility of capture.

The plant was blown up. The Nazis had to start production all over again in Germany, too late to find the answer to the atom puzzle.

"Everything worked on schedule," said the captain in an interview. "All the men escaped."

For the last six months the captain had been in Yukon Territory on a civilian job, and now is en route to the United States.

Captain "X" is still his name for publication.

Price Levels Waver Slightly

By The Canadian Press

Market activity this week was reduced to insignificant proportions and price levels wavered within extremely narrow range as traders, for the third successive week, sat back to wait for indications of business trends.

On the domestic scene, questions of taxation, prices, wages, demand, production and the European recovery program continued to discourage commitments. On the foreign front conditions showed little evidence of clarifying in the immediate future. In all, the combination of events was too much for the investment seeker to attempt to predict the future.

Corporation bonds at Toronto this week were quoted at from 50 cents to $2 lower following the Bank of Canada's action last week when it stopped purchasing long-term government bonds at $102. The resultant upward pressure on interest rates was seen in the issue of a 4 per cent bond by the Mercury Mills, Ltd., and the increase to 4 per cent of the E. B Eddy Co., Ltd. bond issue.

Rumors in London of the nearing devaluation of the pound had their effect on gold stocks and official denial failed to produce any improvement in foreign bond issues and foreign exchange trading. Grains at Chicago enjoyed a brief flurry on news of the United States government re-entry into the flour market but the activity did not carry through for more than one day.

Cleans Up Mystery Of Lone Overshoe

SAINT JOHN, N.B., March 6 (CP)—The mystery of the solitary, unclaimed overshoe has been cleared up after more than 18 months of shrouded conjecture.

After a busy day, a new overshoe was found in a shoe store here. Apparently a pair of overshoes had been sold but the customer had taken only one from the store. The storekeeper decided to keep the "orphan" in a handy spot.

He explained that he had purchased a pair for his wife in England and had carried his package almost around the world before he took them home and discovered he had only one overshoe.

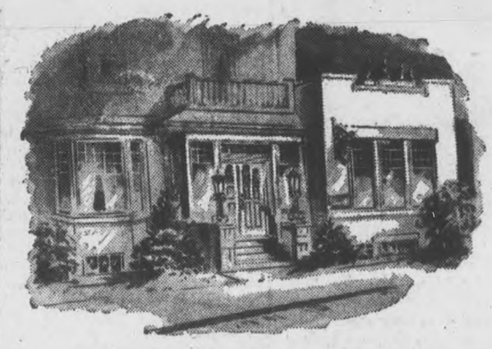
University Grants

QUEBEC, March 6—(CP)—The Quebec government will shortly introduce a measure before the legislative assembly for grants totalling nearly $7,000,000 to three universities, it was learned yesterday. The grants are proposed as follows: Laval University, $4,000,000; University of Montreal, $2,800,000; and University of Bishop's College, $1,000,000.

READY FOR CONVENTION—One of the biggest collections of mining maps to be displayed anywhere in the world will be a feature of the three-day annual convention of the Prospectors' and Developers' Association, opening here Monday. George A. MacMillan (left), secretary of the association, goes over some of the exhibit's highlights with Jack N. Oldham, the organization's public relations man.

Mystery Lights

SOUTHAMPTON, Ont., March 6—(CP)—Police are investigating the origin of lights which residents of this Lake Huron village have reported seeing for the last three nights on the northwestern horizon. No aircraft is missing in the area but authorities are considering the possibility the lights may be flares set up by marooned fishermen.



Council To Order Twelve New Culverts

SOUTH MONAGHAN, March 6 (ENS). — Township council ordered tenders be called for delivery of 3,000 yards of crushed gravel, to be completed by July 1.

It also ordered four tons of calcium chloride and moved that any ratepayer wishing to have some spread on the roads facing their homes be charged for the amount used.

The council decided to order 12 culverts for the township.

The following accounts were ordered paid: J. R. Perrin, telephone account, $400; J. J. Heaslip, roads pay sheet, $304.75; J. E. A. Fitzgerald, coal, $25.50; J. Whittington, council pay, $15; Bruce Fisher, wood, $14; advertising, $3.75.

Twelve very little ones.... WITH VERY LITTLE HOPE

by Jack Scott

A pretty clerk in the Vancouver offices of the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service was making a routine check of volunteer blood donors in British Columbia. Name, age, type of blood . . . it was dull work. The drama behind that roll-call of life-givers was an old one to the Red Cross worker.

What? Babies Giving Blood?

But, suddenly, her eyebrows shot up. Halfway down the list, were the names of twelve donors . . . none of them over 6 months old.

She hurried to the supervisor. No, there'd been no mistake. "You see", the supervisor explained, smiling, "we don't expect these particular donors to show up until around 1970."

The Red Cross worker's discovery unfolds one of the most heart-warming stories in the story-crammed annals of the Red Cross Blood Service. It concerns twelve babies born late in 1947, and with small hope of survival. They were weak, trembling, jaundice-yellow—tragic victims of a malady that once meant death or, at least, the life of a helpless invalid.

This mysterious ailment is caused by a rare combination of blood types in the parents. It involves the so-called 'RH' factor. The bloodstreams of the infants contain 'antibodies', which destroy the red cells. Often the result is uraemia, jaundice, or death.

It took a modern miracle, made possible by the Red Cross Transfusion Service, to save the lives of these newborn babies. The cure is known as a 'replacement transfusion'—a delicate arduous operation, yet holding a remarkable record of success.

Old Blood For New

In these operations the blood is literally drained from the bodies of the infants, to be replaced by normal blood of Red Cross donors. 'Old blood for new', was the descriptive phrase used by one doctor.

And the twelve names? They were those of twelve now-healthy babies who owe their recovery to a miracle of science, the Red Cross, and the anonymous strangers whose blood gave them life. In gratitude, each of the parents had volunteered to donate a pint of blood—and had pledged the infants as donors 'somewhere around 1970'.

* * *

Already in operation in some Provinces—your Red Cross is speeding the extension of Blood Transfusion Services throughout Canada.

But money, as well as blood, is needed. Remember, every phase of Red Cross work is solely dependent on voluntary donations for its support. Will you, by a generous contribution, help the Red Cross in its constant war against pain, illness and death.

Red Cross Services include: Blood Transfusion, Outpost Hospitals, Aid to Sick and Disabled Veterans, Treatment for Crippled Children, Disaster Relief, Nutrition Services, Home Nursing Courses, Swimming and Water Safety, etc.

The work of mercy never ends . . . Give generously to the CANADIAN RED CROSS

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

DEFENSE HOLDS UP TOO

IT IS NOT only the declarer who can profit from using the hold-up play. A defender may get a profitable chance to hold up a winning card and thus impair communication between the declarer's two holdings. In one form, the play applies to a finesse by the declarer and the refusal of a defender to win the trick, knowing that the loss of a second finesse will embarrass the opponent.

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT	Pass	5 ♠	Pass

By bidding which varied a good deal, two duplicate pairs reached that same contract, got the same lead of the diamond 9 and played the first three tricks exactly the same. The diamond A got the first trick, the spade A was scored and the spade 2 was ruffed—in each case by the heart K, for fear that East might have held a singleton.

Then each of the two declarers led the heart 3 and played the J, but what West did on that fourth trick varied. One West took the trick with the Q and returned the diamond 7 to the K. The heart 5 was led to the A, then the 10 and 9 took out the last of West's trumps, so that the remaining spades and club A completed the contract.

At the other table, West refused to win the heart finesse on the fourth trick. He saw the ruckus that would be caused by this hold-up. After winning that trick, South went to dummy with the club A and finessed the heart 10. This time West won, and returned the diamond 7 to the K. Now South, in order to reach his own hand to run the spades, had to ruff a club. When he did so, that left West the final trump. South then was able to score only one more spade. West ruffed the next spade with the heart 8, and his side then followed with two tricks in clubs and two in diamonds to set the contract five tricks. So the holdup play was worth five tricks to the defenders.

6—In Memeriam

CUNNINGHAM—In loving memory of our dear son Bruce, killed in Germany March 7, 1945.
He has gone across the river
To the shores of evergreen
And we long to see his face
But the river flows between Someday, sometime our eyes shall see
The face we love so well
Someday we'll clasp his loving hand
And never say farewell
As angels keep their watch up there
Please God just let him know
That we down here do not forget
We loved and miss him so.
—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by mother and father.

CUNNINGHAM—In loving memory of our brother Bruce, killed in action March 7, 1945.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind,
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
We think of him in silence,
His name we often recall,
There is nothing left to answer,
But his photo on the wall
—Forever remembered Ethel, Denton, Lloyd.

CUNNINGHAM—In ever loving memory of our brother Bruce, killed in Germany March 7, 1945.
He sleeps beside his comrades
In a far-off grave unknown
But his memory is written in letters of love
In the hearts he left at home.
—Ever remembered by Ruby, Leigh, Herbie.

DEANNARD—In loving memory of Roy Deannard, who died March 7, 1945.
In our home he is fondly remembered,
Sweet memories cling to his name;
Those who loved him in life sincerely,
Still love him in death just the same.
—Sadly missed by mother and sisters.

FALLIS—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Thomas Henry Fallis, who passed away March 6, 1947.
Rests in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley blessed so fair,
Some day when our task is o'er
With joy we shall meet you there.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife and family, Fenton, Muriel, Helen, Audrey and Lawrence.

ROSS—In memory of Private Malcolm Ross, who died March 6, 1945, in Germany.
His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved of all.
Some day we hope to meet him
Some day, we know not when
To clasp his hand in the better land
Never to part again
—Ever remembered by mother, father, brother and sisters.

SMITH—In loving memory of Sgt. A. Smith, of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, who was killed in Germany, March 7, 1945.
He died for freedom and for us
Upon a foreign shore
But love still conquers death, and now
He lives for evermore.
—Ever remembered by mother, sisters and brothers.

MONTGOMERY—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Joseph Wellington Montgomery, who departed this life ten years ago the 7th of March 1938.
Dear Joe you are not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
Ten years have past but still we miss you
Never shall your memory fade
Loving thoughts will always linger
Round the grave where dear Joe's laid.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by his wife Elizabeth, and son's Arnold and Noble.

Compulsion Gets Farms For Vets

AUCKLAND, March 6 (CP)—A warning that the government intends to make greater use of its power to acquire farm land by compulsion for the settlement of ex-servicemen has been given by Rehabilitation Minister C.F. Skinner. The minister said that because of the falling off in the amount of land being offered voluntarily for the settlement of returned men from the Second World War, it would be necessary to take more land under the compulsory clauses of the Servicemen's Settlement and Land Scale Act.

Departmental reports show that so far 320,257 acres have purchased by the government by voluntary negotiation for subdivision for the settlement of ex-servicemen. A further 36,767 acres have been acquired under compulsory clauses.

It is estimated that a total of at least 10,000 veterans want rehabilitation aid to get farms and that 6,500 will be settled by 1949. By March, 1947, government had settled 3,609.

When land is compulsorilyacquired the owner is allowed to retain an economic unit from his holding, including the homestead.

Miss D. Plant Hostess To Hastings WA

HASTINGS, March 6 (ENS).—St. George's WA met at the home of Miss D. Plant for devotions and business. Prayers were said by Canon and Mrs. C. R. Spence, and scripture passage read by Mrs. E. Smullin. The study chapter from "Our Family" was taken by Miss Plant.

March 1st was decided on as the date for the local auxiliary's tea at Miss Plant's home in aid of the (Mrs.) Canon Spencer Fund. This is the fund to raise money in aid of the widow of the Canon accidentally shot in the Arctic last autumn.

The ladies decided to send in their pledge of $58 with an additional two. Canon Spencer pronounced the Benediction, and the hostess served tea.

Farmers Union Mutual Fire Insurance Company

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

ANNUAL MEETING — FEBRUARY 28th, 1948

MR. CHAIRMAN, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

It affords me much pleasure on behalf of The Board of Directors to express to you our warmest appreciation for your attendance at this fifty-second Annual Meeting of policyholders, thus manifesting your sincere interest in the progress made by the Company.

GENERAL REMARKS

Before discussing the year's financial report, which already has been distributed to those present and mailed to all policyholders, may I digress for a moment to point out that the price level of farm produets, which represents the height of the farmer's income, has a very direct bearing upon Insuring Companies which carry the risks on farm buildings, produce, and equipment. When prices are high the amounts paid out for losses on live stock, produce, etc., are correspondingly high. Therefore, for your Association to have carried on under these circumstances and at the same time reduced the overall rates by 10 cents per hundred on standard farm risks in 1947, should be a source of satisfaction to members of the Company.

The following figures throw additional light on this question: At the outbreak of war in 1939 the index of farm prices stood at 84.3. As of Deeember 1st last this figure had risen to 181.3 representing an increase of 115.1%. During the same period general wholesale prices rose from 93.2 to 179.5 or 92.6%, and the cost of living index from 100.8 to 143.6 or 42.5%. You will note from these figures that the food index has risen more than any other item in the cost of living. However, as an offset to this higher cost of food, average weekly earnings of employees in the manufacturing industry in Canada increased during the same period from 100.1 in 1939 to 163.6 at the end of last year.

EXTENDED COVERAGE

May I now direct your attention to some important changes in underwriting which were put into effect by your Directors during the period under review.

Electrical appliances have been included as ordinary contents of buildings, (and radios are now covered from loss or damage by lightning) up to $10.00. Permits are now issued covering the use of buckrakes, tractors and trucks for hauling produce on barn floors at an additional premium of 25 cents per hundred dollars on that portion of the risk which would be affected by this additional hazard. It should not be overlooked that in all cases these vehicles must be protected by an approved fire-proof muffler.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

In reviewing the Financial Report for the twelve months which ended on December 31st., the following items are of interest:

The net amount of insurance in force at the year's end was $23,884,019.00. This figure represents an increase for the year of $1,862,289.00. The number of direct policies in force as of December 31st, 1947, stood at 5,857, an increase of 99 from the corresponding date one year ago. This shows a healthy growth by the Company and in addition is a tribute to the work of our agents, who serve the various districts in which the Company carries on its operations.

Total receipts of $122,467.08 indicates the magnitude of the business conducted for the policyholders. The net operating profit including profit on the sale of securities amounts to $27,761.58, which should be gratifying to all.

REFUND FROM SURPLUS No. 2

It is with considerable pride and satisfaction that your Board of Directors announce Refund from Surplus No. 2. With total assets of $397,799.22 exclusive of the premium note residue and the strong liquid position of the Company's finances, this payment was deemed advisable.

The total amount to be returned to policyholders in this transaction is $26,786.36, add to this the $51,216.89 paid out in the early months of 1944 under the terms of Refund from Surplus No. 1, and you have a total of $78,003.25 paid back to members during the four year period—1944-1948.

This indeed is a remarkable achievement which should further strengthen the Company and fully justify the effort of farmers to co-operate with one another in providing their own protection in this necessary enterprise.

The refund will apply on all policies in force continuously for three years prior to December 31st, 1947, thus complying with the regulations of the Provincial Statutes covering such payments. Policies qualifying and written on the annual payment plan will be subject to a refund of thirty-six per cent of the premium paid in 1947, which is slightly more than one-third of the cost to the policyholder for protection from fire and lightning for the preceding twelve months. Policies written on the cash payment plan for three years will be subject to a refund of twelve per cent of the cash payment. Under these provisions all members are sharing in the refund on an equitable basis.

Amendments to the Corporation Income Tax, which provide for a levy on the profits of Mutual Fire Insurance Companies when transferred to Company reserves, had a bearing on the decision arrived at with respect to this important matter.

LOSS EXPERIENCE

Thus far the report shows the brighter side. However, it is always difficult to find the horizon completely clear and the present is no exception to this well established rule The cloud is last year's direct losses of $42,977.83. This is more regrettable when we realize that much of this loss could have been prevented through the exercise of more careful habits around the buildings and the timely repairing of defective roofs, chimneys, flues and pipes.

In the light of this experience we are ever reminded that fire is one of man's greatest friends if properly controlled. It keeps him warm, cooks his food, helps provide power. Indeed there are few articles which do not require the use of heat in their manufacture or processing. Yet, when misused, it become a greedy, roaring giant devouring and destroying everything in its path.

Too many people do not realize the danger of fire and do not take necessary steps to protect their lives and property. Everyone should recognize the fire hazards that are so common, such as faulty wiring, cluttered attics and basements, poor curing of hay, out-worn wooden roofs, and the careless handling of all types of heating equipment. I am sure every Canadian citizen must be appalled at the ever mounting toll of lives sacrificed in recent months to this terrifying, destructive, and merciless element.

FIRE PREVENTION

This brings up the recurring question of fire prevention. For too long the general public has felt that the subject of fire prevention can be left primarily for the attention of Insurance organizations. It should however be recognized as an important obligation not only of each province and municipality, but also of each individual. It is not a problem that can be completely solved by institutions such as Annual Fire Prevent Week in the fall or a clean up in the Spring, although these activities are commendable, it must be a day by day year round activity in which every man, woman and child participates. To this end may I humbly suggest that our young people in all levels and types of schools and colleges be given intensified and expanded instruction in fire safety and prevention. Teachers are especially well qualified to participate in community fire prevention activities. Fire prevention information should be stressed in all groups in which children assemble. I hold strongly to the opinion that only by this method can a nation grow to be truly fire conscious.

UNDERWRITING

It does not require particular skill to take care of the average risk in any type of insurance business. It is the unusual risks that present the problems and from which we can usually expect our difficulties. It may be the over built risk. The highly specialized risk, the one where there is a large concentration of value under one roof, or the run down neglected type where more than one hazard is present. When examining a risk it is well to remember that out of fifty listed fire causes only two are responsible for 70% of farm dwelling fires and two are responsible for 70% of the barn fires. In the case of dwellings it was the faulty defective heating facilities and equipment, couple with inflamable roofs. In the case of barns improper curing of hay and inadequate lightning protection were responsible for this large volume of losses. These conditions lead me to believe that where regular inspections are not made with the agent and owner together may have to assume greater responsibilities by jointly inspecting all heating equipment, chimneys, and roofs at the time when the policy is accepted or renewed.

In conclusion, may I say that Mutual Fire Insurance Companies were founded upon the very soundest of principles. One of the corner stones being service to its members. We must continue to operate for the benefit of premium payers rather than for premium collectors, and be ever co-operative in the best interest of the policyholders, but co-operation is a two-way street. In the very beginning the duty of the Association to afford protection was joined with the equal duty of the insured to reduce the probability of loss. Let all of us remember that it is far better to prevent a loss than to pay for a loss of property which could have been avoided. Should we fail to recognize these fundamental principles, then the real purpose of farm mutual insurance, which we inherited from the older man, will be overlooked and forgotten.

On behalf of the Board of Director and members I wish to express to the Company's agents and staff an expression of our sincerest appreciation for their untiring efforts throughout the year just closed.

Respectfully submitted,
BRUCE McNEVIN.

Silverwood's May Take Up To 8,000,000 Pounds of Milk a Year For Their New Ice Cream Plant — G. W. Keffer of Maple Pays a Tribute To Farm Radio Forum — Farmers' Week Program Covers Four Days, March 17 to 20.

The entire production of 1,000 dairy cows for one year is expected to be the requirement of Peterorough Silverwood Dairies when they broaden out into their new ice cream program beginning this season.

When farmers of this district are wondering about background of demand and generally about props of the industry this news of expansion should be grateful. Some farmers are also thinking of increasing and improving their breeding program through the agency of the artificial insemination unit at Maple. For those reasons it seemed timely this week to mention the work that is approaching completion at Silverwoods.

It has been reported for months that the company is concentrating in Peterborough their ice cream industry, manufacturing and distributing, for a large area of eastern Ontario, and reaching up into the Sudbury district. For this enlarged operation it is expected that the company will require up to 8,000,000 pounds of milk a year. If the average yield of milk is around 8,000 lbs., it is evident that the new ice cream business is going to take the milk of 1,000 cows. And the fluid milk industry will also have to be maintained. Probably Silverwoods will have to extend the radius of their milkpool to get the additional quantity they are going to use when the new ice cream plant swings into manufacture.

Silverwoods are bringing reinforcement to the dairy industry of this district. They are making a large investment in production plant and transport equipment. And they are bringing fresh confidence to the dairy farmers who have been building up their herds.

DURHAM FARMERS SIGN

Forty Durham dairy farmers signed agreements to participate in the artificial insemination unit that is being planned for Belleville as centre of a group of the counties attending easterly to Frontenac. It is expected that many other farmers in the county will join before the next district meeting at Belleville this month.

SHORTHORN SALE

Durham Shorthorn Club's sale at the farm of A. J. Nesbitt, two miles east of Brooklyn Continuation School begins at 1.30 p.m. The catalogue lists 13 bulls and 11 heifers. Garnet Rickard is president of the Club.

FEDERATION DIRECTORS

Directors of the Federation of Agriculture will discuss Thursday night a program of activities for this year. Plans for a field day will be begun, and reports will be received of collections for the Canadian Appeal for Children, and the Health committee is expected to report.

MEET MONDAY NEXT

The committee of Peterborough dairy farmers, appointed at the artificial breeding meeting here Tuesday will meet on Monday, March 8, at 1:30 p.m., to extend the organization of the local unit of the Maple association. Signatures of farmers Tuesday represented 330 cows, and the total number required is 1,000. The committee comprises breeders of Holstein, Jersey, and Ayrshire cattle.

BRAMPTON JERSEYS

Tommie Adachi and his son Cid, are two Japanese herdsmen at Brampton Jerseys. Like many Japanese, they are not big men physically but they have a mighty big way with Jerseys.

In 1946 the high Jersey cow for both milk and butterfat was fed by Tommie and Cid. That was Brampton Lord's Clarivel that, at 10 years of age, produced 19,769 lbs. of milk and 928 lbs. of fat on twice-a-day milking.

Again in 1947 the Adachi father and son combination, fed the high cow on twice-a-day milking. This time it was Brampton Standard Belle, a seven-year-old cow that produced 16,445 lbs. of milk, 977 lbs. of fat, 5.94 per cent in 365 days, exceding Clarivol's 1946 record by 49 lbs. of butterfat.

Belle was not the high cow for 1947 in Canada but she was only two pounds of fat behind the leader and the leader was milked three times a day.

Incidentally, Tommie's 1947 champion has, for a dam, a half-sister of the 1946 champion, the former, a granddaughter and the latter, a daughter of the great production sire, Lord of the Isle. The dam of Brampton Standard Belle is Brampton's Lord Belle 2nd and she has a record of 701 lbs. of fat as a three-year-old.

INSPIRED BY FORUMS

Probably none of the Peterborough district cattle breeders who attended the Tuesday afternoon meeting at the YMCA were aware that they were called together by a forgotten Farm Radio Forum broadcast.

Mr. G. W. Keffer, president of the Maple Breeders' Association, said the inspiration came from a Forum outline of the Leeds cattle club's artificial insemination project two Septembers ago.

"We heard only part of the broadcast," he said, "but we heard enough to arouse our curiosity. At that time we were too busy to make any immediate inquiry, but eventually we started out to get somebody in the Department of Agriculture who knew about it.

We were finally ushered into the office of Mr. W. P. Watson, livestock commissioner. We took the information back to our group. We had only 12 farmers out to our first meeting, not like the 75 or more you have here this afternoon. From the information we had, we all felt there was something there of benefit if we could get a program of our own under way."

That was the beginning of the Maple unit, which has since extended from York to the counties of Ontario, Halton, Simcoe and Peel. The significant fact is that recollection by Mr. Keffer is the inceptive part of the Farm Radio Forum contributed in the organization of the new breeding method in the central Ontario counties.

The Forum is a new agency among farmers whose potential aid and usefulness is illustrated by the incidental acknowledgment made by Mr. Keffer. It has received more publicity from The Examiner than from any other newspaper in the province, and yet the number of Forums in this district is conspicuously small on the Forum map of the province shown at the convention of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. Peterborough farmers are contributing to its upkeep through substantial support from the Federation, and there may be a larger audience here than the Forum record indicated.

"Do We Farm The Soil Or Mine It?" is the question to be discussed on the broadcast Monday, March 8. Obviously it involves the subject of conservation and soil management, the basis of agricultural production.

The Forum Guide reverts to the Jan. 12 topic, "The World Is Our Market" and summarizes replies to different phases of that discussion. One of the questions submitted was "Would you be willing to take less than world price to supply food to Europe?" It involved an appeal to rural sentiment, and also to a practical outlook upon conditions in Europe and their possible effects

FARMERS' WEEKS EVENTS

Farmers' Week, March 17-20, is recommended by Vernon Campbell, president of the Eastern Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen, as "an outstanding agricultural event, with exhibits of seed grain, grass seeds, household appliances, bacon, farm machinery, educational exhibits some of which were shown at the Royal Winter air, and addresses by capable speakers."

The Threshermen are holding their convention on March 17 and 18, and are contributing an interesting and helpful program to the events of the four days. Their registration begins at 10 a.m. March 17 in the former drill hall at Morrow Park, Lansdowne St. J. W. McRae of Kemptville will talk on weeds at the afternoon session which is chiefly devoted to the business of the convention.

The convention dinner that evening will be in the Canadian Legion Hall. Farmers' Week will be officially opened by Warden James Humphries and Mayor W. G. Ovens. The guest speaker is Francis Flood of the U.S. Embasy staff, Ottawa. Caterers for the dinner will be the women of Stewart's Hall, Otonabee.

The Thursday schedule offers agricultural motion pictures in the morning commencing at 10 o'clock and in the afternoon, John Rickard of Newcastle, president of the Quinte District Seed Growers will open the program. John D. McLeod of the Ontario Department of Agriculture will discuss the responsibility of threshermen in the campaign against weed.

Ken Fallis has the subject "The 1947 Seed Drill Survey." There will be half an hour of films and at 4 p.m. door prize draw. The main speaker in the evening will be E. K. Hampson of Hamilton.

The committe has selected films for the four days for the practical interest to farmers. They are continued in the Friday morning program. In the afternon Friday W. B. George, BSA, of Kemptville Agricultural School, will give a talk illustrated with color film on "Soil Fertility Tests" beginning at 2 p.m.

Hybrid Corn Discussion

Professor J. C. Steckley of the Experimental Farm, Ridgetown, has been assigned the subject "Hybrid Corn" at 2:30 o'clock. Farmers who have been wondering about the inclusion of this corn in their season's operations will have a chance to present questions to Prof. Steckley.

Elgin Senn of the Dominion Department of Agriculture will speak on "Bacon Exports" at 3:15 o'clock. The Seed Fair dinner will be at George St. United Church, 6:30 p.m. with W. H. Porter, editor of Farmers' Advocate, London, as guest speaker.

The fair closes with the sale of seed Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with Gordon Hancock as auctioneer.

Stewart Bowman, fair manager, reported many seed entries up to Friday afternoon. They are mostly from outside Peterborough county.

Frank C. Paterson told The Examiner that all the space for exhibits in the big hall have been taken and that this feature of the four days should be attractive to farmers and their wives. Mr. Paterson said he believed the bacon show would bring in a fine array of Wiltshire sides from producers of the district.

There is no admission charge for Farmers' Week. Seed Fair and Thresher directors have been working together for weeks to make this first Farmers' Week an event of practical interest and help.

HYBRID CORN PROJECT

A five-acre husking corn project was undertaken by the Peterborough Crop Improvement Association directors Friday. Ken Fallis of the Department of Agriculture suggested that if forty farmers would each grow five acres it was likely that some grower would buy a picker on that assurance of first year business.

"I wouldn't hesitate to buy a picker if I was assured of 200 acres of custom work," W. W. Dawson, president, said.

"It would help a great deal," Mr. Fallis said, "if you get the idea across among farmers that they do not have to buy a picker. Custom combine work with other grains raises a difficulty about when the work can be done, but with hybrid corn there is ample time. The farmer doesn't have to be concerned about that job. You have the last part of September, October and most of November.

Adoption of the corn project was moved by Alex Huston and Earl Petrie. Several of the members were ready to take on five and seven acres respectively. Others said they hadn't been growing corn and were dubious about beginning this year.

Mr. Fallis referred to the test of many varieties of hybrid corn by Ray Arbogast in Perth County, a summary of which was published in these columns last week. He said that there was more digestible nutrients in corn than in oats and barley. Mr. Dawson expressed his experience and information that "you get just as good a yield from the early corn varieties as from the late."

"Yield in Halton has been up to 95 bushels to the acre, and that county was not considered to be in the corn belt," said Mr. Fallis. "It is similar to Peterborough."

First suggestion of the meeting that the project be confined to small lots, but it was believed that Peterborough experience had already passed that stage."

Frank Paterson mentioned the plantings of Mr. Dawson, James Moore of Asphodel, Clarence Mann and others, and also the experiment conducted last year by Ernie McWilliam of Dewart Milling Co. on the farm of John Lillico.

Mr. Fallis did not hesitate to lend his support to the project. Exhibits of hybrid corn and one or two addresses will be provided at the Seed Fair, March 17-20, and it was believed that further action at present might wait until farmers made their own enquiries a that time.

The association is carrying on the 50 bushels of wheat club and is helping in a Beaver oats project.

Profits Can Still Be Made Raising Hogs In Canada

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., March 6.—Notwithstanding all the grumbling against increased prices for feed grains, profits can still be made on raising hogs — and the proof of that has been coming from men who are suceeding in southern Alberta. One of them estimates that under present conditions there is an average profit of $16 per hog to be made.

Reporting to the annual meeting of the Vauxhall Farmers' Co-operative Association recently, the organization's president and manager, A. Hildenbrand, explained that last year the association had sold 3,160 hogs for $105,554.62, 3,536 sheep for $39,357.18 and 341 head of cattle for $40,302.38.

Then he reviewed present feed prices and the returns available from hogs and concluded that the new bacon agreement with Britain enables farmers raising hogs on a sound basis to clear $16 per animal.

A more striking bit of proof, however, came from the nearby Raymond district where a bachelor farmer living on a few acres of land bought two young pigs for $15 and then fattened them over a period of a few months. He had no grain of his own and was obliged to purchase all the feed required.

The other day he sold one of the hogs and butchered the other for his own use and received a pleasant surprise. He found that his cash returns from the one hog sold exceeded by $7 his entire outlay in buying the two young pigs and all the feed their consumed. And in addition to the clear profit of $7 he also had the meat from a whole hog for his own use.

FINNS BOW TO "REDS", DISCUSS PACT

Say Grocery Chain Bread Sold At Loss

Ask Company Raise 10-Cent Price, Amount Not Named

OTTAWA, March 8 —(CP)—C. M. Ruttan of Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Bakers' Association, told the Commons Price Committee today the organization had accused the A. and P. grocery chain of selling bread at a loss.

Mr. Rutton said he had made this charge to the A. and P. general manager at a meeting in Toronto in January, claiming that the firm was using bread as a "loss leader."

In testimony before the committee last week, George Bird of Toronto, purchasing agent of the A. and P. grocery chain, had said the association in January tried to get the chain to increase the price of its 10-cent bread.

He declared Mr. Ruttan was the intermediary in this attempt.

Mr. Ruttan said today he had not discussed a specific price with the company but he had told the general manager the association felt the company was selling bread at a loss.

Protest Justified

Mr. Rutton told the committee that members of the association still consider 10-cent bread is a loss leader and feel justified in protesting against it.

At the start of today's session, Health Minister Martin, committee chairman read a telegram from J. D. Parent, manager of the chain grocery firm of Dionne, Ltd., in Montreal, declaring that firm was reducing generally the retail price of its bread from 14 to 13 cents a loaf.

Mr. Parent said this action was being taken as the result of a one-half cent reduction in the cost of bread to the company and because of a request made by committee members when he was a witness last week.

Chairman Martin also announced that it was hoped to complete the present initial stage of the committee's bread inquiry by Wednesday evening.

It was expected the investigators then would turn to butter.

5,000 French Immigrants For Quebec

Most New Settlers Come From Normandy Will Sail, Not Fly

QUEBEC, Mar. 8—(CP)—A Quebec newspaper said today it had learned from a reliable source that 5,000 French immigrants, all from Normandy, would come to Canada within the next few months in an immigration plan sponsored by the Quebec government.

The story was not immediately confirmed by provincial authorities.

The newspaper said the plan was similar to that of Premier Drew who arranged for English immigrants to be flown to Ontario last year. In the Quebec case, however, the immigrants would be brought by ship instead of by plane because of the difficulty in charatering aircraft.

The newspaper added that the plan had been approved by the federal department of labor and the 5,000 had already been chosen by a society in France.

Accept Proposal

OTTAWA, March 8—(CP)—A Labor Department official said today the department had accepted a proposal to bring French immigrants to Canada and added that the details were now being worked out.

Commenting on a Quebec news story which said 5,000 French immigrants would come here within the next few months, the official said no definite number had been set or could be set until a canvass had showed how many actually were wanted.

He said the plan would be carried out by the federal government and, "if everything goes well," there was no reason why the movement should not be under way within the next few months. The chief obstacle, as usual, was the lack of shipping. There would be no air migration as in the case of the immigrants brought in by the Ontario government.

The majority of the newcomers would probably be settled in Quebec. The others would go with French-speaking employers elsewhere.

Palestine Arabs Have Minor Role In Warfare

IN NORTHERN PALESTINE, March 8 — (AP). — Arabs of Palestine play only a supporting role in plans of the Yarmuk army to thwart paction of Palestine and "subdue Zionism."

Battle plans of Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji's Yarmuk army call for frontal attacks by trained men—mostly Syrian, Iraqi and Egyptian, with a sprinkling of Pakistan and Yugoslav Moslems and an even sparser sprinkling of Palestinians trained in Syria.

These plans call for guerrilla support only from Arabs living in Palestine.

A staff officer of Fawzi Bey's headquarters company said:

"These people with rifles they don't know how to use are a danger and detecent to us. They can blow a bridge here and there and paralyze the enemy's movements by sniping, but for military operations they just get in the way."

The Yarmuk army's organization is based on small, highly mobile division of 1,500 men. Right now the Arabs report six divisions in Palestine.

One Arab was slain and an Arab woman was found dead in Haifa this morning, police said, apparent victims of night-long sniper fire from Jewish quarters.

A Jew was killed in Tel Aviv when Arab mortar shells were fired into part of the all-Jewish city's borderland with Arab Jaffa.

Suggest Moscow Parley But Type Of Agreement Still Remains A Secret

Most Finns Oppose Military Alliance
Strong-Arm Men Break Up
Mass Meeting Protesting Soviet Treaty

HELSINKI, March 8—(AP).—Finland's cabinet decided today to begin negotiations with Soviet Russia, a member of the government reported. Finland is suggesting that the talks be held in Moscow. No decision was announced on the make-up of the delegation that will go to the Russian capital to carry on negotiations for the treaty of co-operation sought by Prime Minister Stalin.

The cabinet member who made available this information said he could not disclose whether Finland is advising Stalin she is ready to negotiate toward a military pact as well as a friendship agreement.

This reserve likely was due to the desire not to reveal the contents of President Juho Paasikivi's letter to Stalin before the Russian leader receives it.

The Cabinet met with Paasikivi for 90 minutes to-day.

In approving the negotiations, the cabinet and president followed the guidance of Finland's six parliamentary groups. The majority of these favored conferring with the Russians.

One reason was that the proposal originated with Prime Minister Stalin and had become a matter of prestige. Another was that the Finns felt it is necessary at least to meet the Russians to get a more detailed idea of what they have in mind.

An official statement was expected later in the day.

When Prime Minister Stalin suggested the talks in a letter dated Feb. 22 and delivered just 14 days ago, he said Russia would agree to meet either in Helsinki or Moscow.

Stalin's proposal for a mutual assistance pact like those Russia now has with Hungary and Romania has caused much concern. Most Finns oppose any far-reaching military alliance with the U.S.S.R.

The Popular Front, including Communists and Radical Socialists, was the only bloc to support a full military alignment with the Soviet Union. They have 51 of the 200 parliamentary seats.

Any treaty that is concluded must be ratified by parliament.

Yesterday, strong-arm men broke up a mass meeting protesting the proposed treaty.

Four or five men, described by authorities as Communists, suddenly appeared and pushed the speaker aside. They grabbed the microphone and announced that the meeting was organized by Fascists.

The meeting was called by Ernesti Hentunen, who leads an independent party which carries little weight in Finnish politics.

Reeve Of Smith G. McIlmoyl Dies Suddenly

Warden of Peterborough county in 1946, Reeve Thomas Gilbert McIlmoyl died suddenly and alone while engaged in the evening chores at his home in the Selwyn section of Smith township Saturday evening. He was in his 65th year.

Reeve McIlmoyl had been in Peterborough during the afternoon, arrived home for supper in apparently good health and went out to the barn to wind up his week's work. He pumped water for the live stock, and finished other details of leaving the cattle comfortable for the night. His absence seemed to Mrs. McIlmoyl longer than usual, and she went out to the barn to see what was detaining him. He had died of a heart attack.

Some of Reeve McIlmoyl's friends traced his death to the heavy snow storm that blocked district roads at the end of the winter of 1947. He turned out, with a group of men to clear the road between Bridgenorth and Selwyn, worked four days and spent so much of his strength in that emergency job that he had to rest in bed two weeks. It was

Four Bruised By 700 Lbs. Ice

KIRKLAND LAKE, March 8—(CP). — Police scratched their heads in wonderment to-day as they tried to figure out why two mothers and their two small children are alive and almost unhurt after being hit by a 70-pound block of ice.

Horrified spectators rushed over to a ditch yesterday to remove the block of ice from six-year-old Nicole Stacey. It had fallen off a roof, glanced off Mrs. W. D. MacPherson, hit and demolished the baby carriage she was pushing, and then hit Mrs. Roy Stacey, knocking Nicole from her perambulator into a ditch.

When passers-by quakingly pulled the ice from Nicole, the only damage they could find to the child was a bruised wrist. Six-months-old Linda MacPherson was just as lucky—her forehead was bruised. The mothers also were only bruised.

Princess 'Babs' Arrives At Montreal

MONTREAL, March 8—(CP)—Canada's fairy Princess flew in out of a snow storm today—and like all storybook princesses she didn't show a trace of fatigue.

Beaming with happiness after a long and weather-delayed flight across the Atlantic, Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa, arrived at Montreal's Dorval airport at 5:05 a.m.

"It's wonderful to be back," she told two dozen photographers, and newspaper men who met the plane of the 19-year-old girl who won the Olympic, world and European skating championships.

Barbara Ann's arrival was five hours late—her Trans Canada Air Lines plane was diverted to Sydney, N.S., last night after it had left Gander, Nfld., en route to Montreal.

In the Cape Breton coal town, the wheat-blonde Ottawa girl made new conquests among the 5,000 miners, steelworkers and farmers who turned out to greet her.

Her first action was to shake hands with a brawny miner who reached across the aircraft ramp and said: "Come, give us a hand, Babs."

De Gaulle Ready To Lead France

PARIS, March 7 —(Reuters)—Gen. De Gaulle yesterday altered the whole political situation in France by declaring that as far as it lay with him, all was ready for him to assume the leadership of the country.

Political observers in Paris were forecasting that he might well be back in power within the next six weeks or so.

For the first time since he abandoned the premiership in 1946 De Gaulle made a public bid that the government of France should once again be entrusted to him and his followers.

In a speech at Compiegne, 50 miles northeast of Paris, he said: "As far as I am concerned, everything is ready to guide the country in the direction of salvation and greatness as soon as conditions allow."

De Gaulle added that his return to power was subject to conditions which would enable responsibility to be adequately borne.

Tenants Give Party For 'Ideal Landlord'

NORTH TARRYTOWN, N.Y., March 8.—(AP).—Stephen Chambers, manager of a 254-family apartment development, was honored by his tenants yesterday as the "ideal landlord."

He and his wife were honor guests at a reception and tea in the apartment auditorium, attended by 300 residents.

Chambers was hailed as a landlord who overcame wartime shortages and post-war difficulties to provide courteous service, efficient maintenance, plenty of heat, bus service to trains, free golf and tennis facilities and many other advantages.

Pay Courtesy Visit

SINGAPORE, March 8 — (AP). — A 21-gun salute thundered from the aircraft carrier Valley Forge today as United States task force 38 arrived in Singapore on a courtesy visit. Late in the day the British Pacific fleet squadron also is scheduled to anchor here, making one of the largest concentrations of British-American seapower in southeast Asia since the war.

5 Surviving Crash Victims Believed Out of Danger

The five surviving victims of Saturday morning's car-train smash-up, in which Sidney Trowbridge, 309 Maitland Ave., was instantly killed, near Omemee are "out of danger" this morning, contrary to rumors circulating over the week-end to the effect that two more had died.

William Howes, 373 Queen St., is in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, where he is receiving treatment for head injuries, a broken arm and other injuries. The hospital reports that he is "getting along nicely."

Edward Curtin, 284 McGill St., is now in St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was transferred Saturday. He is in some pain, it is reported, but a broken leg is believed to be the extent of his injuries from the crash.

Jack Taylor, Port Hope Highway, is resting at his home now. He has a small bone in his upper jaw broken and has body bruises, and an injured knee.

Facial Injuries

Thomas Martin, Albert St., at his home, is being treated for a possibly broken nose and facial cuts.

Joseph Ryan, 501 Donegal St., has a broken ankle, the other ankle badly sprained, broken ribs, a badly bruised knee. He is in St. Joseph's.

The family of the one fatality from the accident suffered another loss by death last month, when the brother of the widow, Harold "Snap" Parker, noted defenceman of the Petes in 1926 when they won the OHA senior title, died.

The wrecked car, a mass of tortured metal and glass, was towed to Omemee village during the night of the crash. Bystanders who saw the smashed vehicle were incredulous that there were any survivors from it.

Girl 17 Arrested

EMINENCE, Mo., March 8. — (AP).—Betty Jane Kroeger, 17, was charged with murder today after signing a statement that she killed her father and mother last week. The bodies were discovered Saturday night.

Rescue 21 Men Trapped On Ship

MOREHEAD CITY, NC, March 8 — (AP). — Coastguardsmen to-day pulled 21 crew members along a breeches buoy to safety from the stranded motorship Norfolk.

The red-eyed seamen had spent a sleepless night aboard the stricken vessel. All rescued men were reported in good condition.

One other member of the crew was rescued yesterday before efforts were halted due to darkness and heavy seas. The crew member, an electrician, was swept from a rescue line and dashed under the keel of a coastguard boat. He was pulled aboard and taken to hospital with head injuries.

Whipped by a 60-mile gale and shipping water the Norfolk sought safe harbor here from the storm. The Coast Guard attempted late yesterday morning to put a pilot aboard, but the small boat took a terrific beating and one Coast Guardsman was hurt in the unsuccessful effort.

US Prepared To Press New Palestine Plan

NEW YORK, March 8. (AP)—The United States prepared to press for a new Palestine conciliation effort today as the big powers tackled the Holy Land crisis

Exact nature of the United States plan was not disclosed. A member of the American delegation said, however, they would insist that the consultations be confined to "peaceful measures" of settlement.

Representatives of the United States, Russia, France and China will meet. Britain refused to take part in the consultations, which were ordered last Friday in a security council resolution. The big powers were asked to make recommendations by March 15 on what to do about carrying out the partition of Palestine.

Greeks Shell UN Commission

ATHENS, March 8—(Reuters).—Press reports from Salonika today said a detachment from the United Nations Balkan Commission was shelled in Macedonia near the frontier.

No damage was done, the reports added.

The Athens news agency quoted unconfirmed reports from Salonika that guerrillas mined the railroad line between Salonika and Kiklis "in an attempt on the life of Maj.-Gen. James Van Fleet, head of the military section of the American aid mission to Greece."

Van Fleet, Brig. Steele, deputy head of the British mission in Greece, and Gen. Yantzis, Greek chief of staff, were expected back in Athens today from a tour of northern Greece.

Peterborough First

TORONTO, March 8 (CP). — The Ontario Division of the Red Cross Society reported to-day that Peterborough was the first centre in the province to exceed its objective in the drive to raise $1,200,000 in the province in the first weeks of March. The Peterborough objective, reached in a week, was $15,000.

Recover Eight Cars From Montreal Ring

TORONTO, March 8—(CP)—Police said today that eight cars "stolen on order" by a syndicate of thieves operating in Quebec City, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto have been recovered in recent weeks.

They said the stolen car ring was smashed last week with the arrest of a man in Ottawa driving a taxi stolen in Montreal. Cars were repainted and given new licence and serial numbers before being resold.

Safecrackers Grab $4,000 Bonds, Jewels

TORONTO, Mar. 8—(CP)—Loot with an estimated value of $4,000 in cash, bonds, cheques and jewelry was stolen last night by a gang of safecrackers who blew open the safe of the Danforth Wall Board Co., Limited, on Dawes Road in East Toronto.

Police said the safecracking was performed by an exeprienced gang and that they believe it to be the same one which broke into a number of east-end offices and stores during the last few weeks.

A number of windows were shattered but the office furniture was undamaged. Fingerprints were found on the blown safe. Later three suspects were questioned but none was held.

Degree For Alexander

VANCOUVER, March 8—(CP).—An honorary Doctor of Laws degree will be conferred on Governor-General Viscount Alexander of Tunis, at spring convocation of University of British Columbia, May 13, it was announced today. The Governor-General will deliver the convocation address to a graduating class of more than 1,200, largest in the history of the university.

It's a Great Day For Irish DeValera Arrives In US

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP). — American-born Eamon De Valera arrived by plane today for his first visit to the United States in 18 years—in plenty of time to take part in St. Patrick's day celebrations. The former Eire prime minister plans a tour of United States cities until about April 6.

De Valera, who flew in from Shannon airport where 3,000 well-wishers saw him off, was met before dawn by an official party at LaGuardia Field.

He said he believes Eire "will co-operate with other countries as far as feasible with its present national situation."

Answering a reporter's question, he said "everybody knows" the Irish people's opposition to Communism.

De Valera, who was replaced as prime minister by John Costello after last month's elections, said "I have a job on my hands to beat the opposition."

Told that there had been a report that he was offered the post of superintendent of a large school system in New England, De Valera said "I have heard nothing about it. But I am not open now to engagements."

De Valera said he came to the United States "in response to an invitation from the United Irish Societies of San Francisco to participate in their St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Tomorrow night, Francis Cardinal Spellman will give a dinner for De Valera at the Cardinal's residence.

Report New Camera Photographer's Dream Get Finished Picture Within 60 Seconds

TORONTO, March 8 (CP).—You cant's miss a trick with this new camera — in fact, 60 seconds after you click the shutter, you've got a finished photograph.

Its inventor, Dr. Edwin H. Land, of Cambridge, Mass., demonstrated the wonder pic-box for the Royal Canadian Institute here on Saturday.

Using it, a photographer — amateur or professional — can dispense with a darkroom and compare the finished picture with the subject matter before leaving the scene.

Its secret lies in a film which is two to four times faster than conventional types and the use of smaller lens settings. The camera does not carry tanks. Similar to ordinary roll-film cameras, it contains a section holding a roll of special print paper as well as the film.

BADLY SMASHED—This is all that remains of the car driven by William Howes which crashed into a standing freight train near Omemee Saturday morning. Sidney Trowbridge of Peterborough was killed and five other men injured, while returning from a hockey game in Lindsay.

Hong Kong Evidence Tabled This Week

OTTAWA, March 8 — (CP). — The voluminous evidence and exhibits of the 1942 Royal Commission inquiry into dispatch of a Canadian force to Hong Kong in 1941 probably will be tabled in the House of Commons this week, it was learned today.

The government plans to table only one copy, totalling nearly 1,000,000 words because it would cause too long a delay and also be very costly to prepare and print additional copies, a government source said.

The earliest date for tabling is Wednesday but it was be later in the week.

The evidence and the exhibits are being tabled as result of requests made in the Commons by Progressive-Conservative members during the protracted controversy over Hong Kong, where two Canadian battalions were lost when the Japanese invaded the colony in December, 1941.

Plastics Plant Blows Up; Two Men Dead

WALTHAM, Mass., March 8 — (AP)—Police and fire officials searched the ruins of a plastics factory today for two men missing and believed killed in a Saturday night explosion that took two other lives and injured 29, five critically.

The bodies of two workmen, charred so badly they could not be identified immediately, were removed from the wreckage of the Interlake Chemical Corporation's two - storey cement and stucco plant.

Police said a check of hospitals and families of all persons employed at the plant showed the missing and possibly dead were:

William Brushingham, 52; Louis Scalzi, 23; Nichols Raimondie, 22; and Albert L. Quinlan, 48.

The explosion was heard for 10 miles and left the plant a seared mass of girders and heavy machinery piled eight feet deep.

Fire Chief B. A. Neal said most of the survivors apparently were blown clear of the building and that some were shot 50 feet in the air and 7' to 100 feet away from the building.

Neal said that the blast occurred during a change in shifts at the suburban Boston factory. It was followed by a roaring fire which immediately enveloped the building. Neal estimated damage at "about $150,000."

Coast Guard Seeking 3 Missing On Tender

MIAMI, Fla., March 8 (AP)—The Coast Guard reported Saturday night that a 16-foot tender with three men aboard was missing. It was last seen Friday drifting westward near Sand Key off Cape Sable, Fla.

One of the missing men was Al Snider, formerly of Calgary, contract rider for the Calumet Farms. The others were identified as Don Fraser of Toronto and C. H. Trotter of Miami.

Meanwhile the cruiser Tonga with movie star Gregory Peck, mystery story writer Leslie Charteris, and their wives, aboard was found in safe anchorage near Craig, in the Florida Keys, after riding out a storm.

The men and tender were from the yacht Evelyn K and were out fishing when the storm broke. Planes searched the area off the southeastern tip of Everglades National Park Saturday and the search continued yesterday.

CSL Signs Agreement With Sullivan Group

MONTREAL, March 8 (CP)—In a move to "fight Communism in the sphere in which we are able to do so," Canada Steamship Lines have signed an agreement with J. A. (Pat) Sullivan's Canadian Lake Seamen's Union covering 2,600 unlicensed seamen on board nine passengers and 51 cargo vessels of the company for the 1948 season.

The C.S.L. and the C.L.S.U., which Sullivan formed after leaving the presidency of the Canadian Seamen's Union on the grounds that it was dominated by Communists, announced the main terms of the agreement last night.

The contract grants exclusive bargaining rights to Sullivan's Union, maintenance of membership, seniority of employment, $5.25 subsistance allowance a day, two weeks paid holidays for eight months of navigation, eight statutory holidays and all expenses for seamen called to travel while in service.

Will Visit England

OTTAWA, March 8.—(CP).—The Governor-General and Viscountess Alexander wil visit England in April, Government House announced yesterday.

Plan 50-Year Agreement For West European Union

BRUSSELS, March 8.—An economic and military union of Western European democracies, based on ideals to which no totalitarian nation could subscribe, took on substance here last night when Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg agreed on basic principles of a 50-year pact.

Regarded as one of the major bulwarks against the encroachment of communism, this history-making pact will likely form the core of a much wider agreement among Western democracies. London diplomats believe some sort of a United States of Europe will be operating before the year is out.

The final draft of the agreement should be ready for signing by the foreign ministers by the middle of next week, according to The New York Times' David Anderson. In a despatch to The Times he say that the remaining of two treaty versions, one submitted by the Benelux states (Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg) and the Anglo-French text. The differences in them are described as being more in the nature of form than content, and while they may be somewhat difficult to consolidate, they will not endanger the structure of the pact.

More than 100,000,000 people in Europe are affected by the decision of the democracies to federalize. Summed up, it means that the free nations of Western Europe, of which Czechoslovakia was an outstanding example until gobbled up by communism, are determined to stand together in peace and in war, with the United States of America an integral factor in the European pattern.

An indication of the United States' position was given in Washington yesterday when a select House of Representatives investigating team urged an all-Western Europe military defense pact to back up the Marshall plan."

The report of this team, a subcommittee of the Herter Committee on Foreign Aid, said in part: "Only if Western Europe can be given the necessary political and military security will it be willing to rationalize its economy on a continental basis and thereby become economically self-sustaining once again."

Here in Brussels diplomats frankly regard Western Union as an antidote for communism. The dream of statesmen for more than 30 years, its realization has been spurred by the westward march of Russia and the inherent fear of communism.

Diplomatic sources feel sure the eventual size and authority of the Western European Union will be clear before the United States-financed European Recovery Program ends in 1951. While these sources can only speculate what that size and authority will be, there seems no doubt the five countries meeting here will sign at last general agreements for joint military action against any aggressor.

MORE ABOUT—

Reeve Of Smith

believed that he had permanently impaired his heart in that labor.

Mr. McIlmoyl gave a great deal of his time during the last 10 years to the affairs of his township and of the county. He was two years a councillor of Smith, three years deputy-reeve and five years reeve.

Liked Action

Mr. McIlmoyl was not only an active representative of his township, but he was also a sound thinker and ready speaker. He was aggressive in word and deed. He did not hesitate to express his opinions on new projects and ideas, and in all his associations he was generally in the van of action, a leader in municipal, community, and other affairs. In his sincerity as a public official he did not spare himself in time and effort. His wardenship of Peterborough county in 1946 was one of the most successful in recent years, and his township administration was so widely approved by the taxpayers of Smith that they retained Mr. McIlmoyl in the reeveship since then. He has been for years a member of the Children's Aid Society, also one of the Governors of the Peterborough Civic Hospital since that board was set up, and he recently became a member of the new suburban planning committee composed of city and township representatives.

One of the tributes that could be paid to Mr. McIlmoyl was that his personal friendliness extended into his municipal work and marked township and county relations with the city and other bodies.

In Cheese Group

For years he had been an officer of the Peterborough Cheese Producers' Association, representing the patrons of Selwyn factory, and was a member of the Selwyn court of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Reeve McIlmoyl was born in Smith, son of Charles McIlmoyl and his wife Margaret Freeburn. He is survived by his wife, the former Grace Balsdon, one daughter Mrs. Leonard (Jean) Forsythe, Lindsay; Mrs. Howard (Edith) Bell, Peterborough; and two sons, Harold and Charles of Smith; and also by his sister, Mrs. Mildred Hillman of Lakefield.

Mr. McIlmoyl was a member of Selwyn United Church and had been superintendent of its Sunday School. He had a host of friends throughout the county and city who will deeply regret his death. The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the family home, RR 3, Lakefield, to Lakefield cemetery. Rev. E. W. Rowland will conduct the service.

The pall-bearers will be: Alex I. Edmison, Wilfred Nicholls, Gordon Fitzgerald, Melville Crapp, Louis McIlmoyl, Charles Sweeting.

Book Author Kills Himself

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March 8 (AP)—Ross Lockridge Jr., 33, author of "Raintree County," best-selling novel, died Saturday night in his garage. Coroner Dr. Robert E. Lyons Jr. reported that death was suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning.

The writer's father, Ross Lockridge Sr., said that his son's work on his successful first novel had resulted in "a complete breakdown."

"He put his whole heart into his book," the elder Lockridge said. "He was utterly exhausted."

The younger Lockridge's mother said that "he might have had a temporary blackout. We don't feel that he contemplated doing such a thing."

"Raintree County" won a Hollywood $125,000 novel award and was the January selection of a book club.

Power Greed Slows World Recovery–Pope

VATICAN CITY, March 8. —(AP).—Pope Pius said yesterday that mad rivalry for power prevents the world's return to economic order.

Goods, he told a national conference on foreign trade, "have become the object of political speculation," so has "man himself, lowered in so many cases to the status of an article for exploitation.

"We watch unhappily the action of a policy which is only a race for power and hegemony."

His address, as often happens when he speaks on Sunday, was not released for publication until today.

U.S. SCUTTLES ATOM BOMB SHIPS —Survivor of both Bikini atom bomb tests, the U.S. battleship Pennsylvania (top) is towed out from Kwajalein for scuttling. Centre, the once-proud monarch of the fleet begins to settle two hours after the sea cocks were opened and the ship abandoned. Bottom, the battlewagon flips on its side and slides bneath the waves. The navy announcment stated that the vessel, which had been under study at Kwajalein since the tests, and two other target ships were scuttled because they were unseaworthy and their value as scrap would not be worth the cost of decontamination of radioactivity.

Accident Victim Laid To Rest

Six colleagues in the realm of five-pin bowling were pallbearers for the late Sidney Trowbridge this afternoon and burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mr. Trowbridge, an order leader in the industrial control section of the CGE plant was killed instantly early Saturday morning when the car in which he was a passenger struck a standing freight train on highway 7, two miles east of Omemee. Five others in the car were injured.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Ola Parker, and by his father, Alfred Trowbridge, also one brother and one sister, all of whom attended the funeral.

Pall-bearers were Harold Freeman, D. V. Canning, W. R. Weese, R. Clifford, W. Martin and Fred Martin. Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church conducted the funeral service at Comstock's Funeral Home and said the graveside prayers.

Third Collision

LONDON, Ont., March 8 (CP) —Third automobile - train collision in a week at East London Canadian National Railway crossings yesterday injured one man and brought firemen to the scene to smother flames in a station wagon. George Tamblyn, 39, of London, scrambled from his damaged wagon barely ahead of flames that burned the vehicle's wiring.

Fuel, Power Industries Step Up British Output

LONDON, March 8.—(Reuters, —While Britain's industrial shock troops, the coal miners, struggle to restore production from the country's mines to something like pre-war figures, other fuel and power industries have hit targets far ahead of their 1939 achievements.

Government statistics show that the most remarkable progress has been made by electricity undertakings, which boosted a 1939 output on 27,733,000,000 units to an all-time record of 42,742,000,000 units in 1946.

Most of this electricity was generated by steam plant.

This expansion in production of electric power has done much to oil the wheels for the expanded industries which fill a vital role in the battle for Britain's future prosperity. The amount of electricity used by British industry in 1946 showed an increase of more than 50 per cent compared with 1949.

Significant increases in production of other forms of power—gas, oil and gasoline—have also been achieved, the statistics disclose.

Total gas available, for instance, increased from 352,072,000,000 cubic feet in 1939 to 470,114,000,000 cubic feet in 1946.

But Britain's real industrial backbone has always been, and remains, its coal mines. For that reason the achievement of the miners last year, when they almost hit their 200,000,000-ton target, attracted more attention.

This year, the government hopes that coal production will be appreciably nearer pre-war level—which was never less than 222,240,000 tons a year between 1935 and 1939.

Information compiled by government statistical experts shows that production in other basic industries has not changed sensationally compared with pre-war. Iron ore production in 1946 reacher 12,173,000 tons—less than the 1939 figure but more than that of 1938. The wartime peak, reached in 1942, was 19,906,000 tons.

Total production of steel ingots and castings showed litle change betwen 1939 and 1946, when it totalled 12,695,000 tons.

Canada Draws 50 Million From Export-Import Bank

WASHINGTON, March 8—(CP.—The Canadian Government has drawn its first $50,000,000 of a $300,000,000 line of credit at the Export-Import Bank, it was announced Saturday.

Canada said she needed the money to buy machinery, coal, cotton, oil and other industrial materials.

The Canada line of credit is available only until the end of this year with interest at 2½ per cent.

Princess Elizabeth, Philip Settled In Borrowed Flat

LONDON, March 8 (Reuters). After three months of marriage, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh have settled down to a marital routine not unlike that of any other working couple.

They have been unable to entertain lavishly or even give a house-warming party because their official London residence, Clarence House, built in 1825, will not be ready for them until next winter.

A nursery floor is being fixed up in Clarence House — a Buckingham official said to-day.

"It would be foolish for the repair men working on the place now to be recalled to do that job at a later date. It might as well be included in the establishment."

The public duties of Princess Elizabeth, who has not had many official appointments since her wedding, will be gradually increased as summer approaches. She is booked as far ahead as the end of june.

The daily program of the Royal couple goes something like this:

They have breakfast together in the Kensington Palace flat which they borrowed from the Earl and Countess of Athlone, who are in South Africa. He kisses her good-bye at 9 o'clock and drives away in his Austin to his Admiralty job.

She then is driven to her Buckingham Palace office to supervise personally her small household staff and cope with her correspondence, which has increased from 30 to 50 letters a day since her marriage.

100 Howling Indians Attack Two Mounties Making Arrest

MONTREAL, March 8—(CP).—Two Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers were injured, one severely, Saturday night when they were attacked by a mob of about 100 Indians as they tried to arrest two of them who were under the influence of liquor at the Caughnawaga Indian Reserve, across the St. Lawrence River from Montreal.

Their police cruiser was wrecked while a restaurant where the riot broke out was damaged extensively before squads of RCMP and provinical police reserves broke through road blocks set by the Indians at the entrance to the reserve, 10 miles from Montreal.

R. Morin, 6-foot 4-inch constable of the Montreal division of the RCMP was taken to St. Joseph Hospital in Lachine with severe head injuries, while his companion, Constable J. Dupras, was treated for cuts and bruises.

Inspector J. R. Lemieux, head of the Montreal subdivision of the RCMP, said that Dupras and Morin, who are attached to the Caughnawaga detachment, were patrolling the reserve Saturday night when they spotted two Indians who seemed under the influence of liquor in front of Stacey's Restaurant.

Surround Mounties

The Indians resisted arrest and a mob of about 100 Indians gathered around the Mounties who were trying to bring their prisoners to the police car.

Then the riot broke out and the mob attacked the Mounties with bottles, chairs, rocks and their car was overturned and wrecked. Dupras and Morin were pushed into the restaurant where they were the target of more projectiles.

When Morin fell on the floor, the Indians pushed a heavy counter over him. Finally, the two officers made their way to the police station from where they called RCMP headquarters.

Inspector Lemieux and Capt. Norbert Labbe of the provincial police called all available reserves, but when they arrived at Caughnawaga they found all kinds of obstructions in the tunnel which leads to the reserve. Indian women milling about added to the confusion.

The police cleared the road blocks and ordered the women home, but when the officers reached the village the mob had disappeared and there was not an Indian to be seen on the street, Inspector Lemieux said.

The RCMP official said tonight that several arrests would be made as the leaders of the mob were well known to police.

New Liskeard Choir Wins Grand Trophy

TORONTO, March 8.—(CP).—Winners of scholarship and cash prizes totalling more than $5,000 were announced Saturday night at the close of the two-weeks' Kiwanis music festival.

In the evening's vocal finals, the 53-voice ladies' philharmonic choir of New Liskeard, Ont., won the female voice chorus class and was awarded the grand choral trophy as well as a special $100 prize. After travelling nearly 400 miles to participate, the choir earlier won the ladies' double trio class and the girls' chorus group for singers 21 years and under.

Scholarship winners included: Carolyn Gundy, Kingston, pianist, $100, and Keith Calder, Thorold, singer, $50.

In the day's closing competitions, Miss Gundy won second and third place in violin classes for competitors 18 and under and 21 and under respectively.

Wilfred Manning, Jr. Woodstock, was first in two saxophone solo classes for players 15 and under and Donald Hyder of London, Ont., took a second prize. Mr. Hyder also placed second in the open class with Howard Greenly, Woodstock, third.

Ronald Pettit, Guelph, was best baritone, 20 and under with A. Wiltshire, Oshawa, second. R. W. E. Higgins, Niagara Falls, Ont., tied for third in the open baritone group.

Rotary Club Selling Seals

COBOURG, March 8—(ENS).—The Rotary Club of Cobourg is hard at work mailing out thousands of Easter seals throughout all Northumberland county with the exception of the Campbellford area. Purpose of the seals is to raise funds for the provincial campaign of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. Fred Slade heads the local committee of which the other members are Stuart C. Webb, Dr. W. W. Wade, Douglas Tait and Lester Caughey. Honorary sponsors are A. A. Martin of Brighton, Fred Ball of Baltimore, Grant Allen and Madeline Rooney of Cobourg.

Uninvited Guests

TORONTO, March 8 —(CP)—Police said yesterday two men walked uninvited into a party in an east-end home Saturday night and turned the festivities into a near-riot when one of the men fought with the hostess' father and then battled a police officer. Ronald Roberts, 24, was arrested on a charge of assaulting a police officer and his brother, Clifford, 18, was charged with obstructing an officer.

Alberta Drama Groups Lauded

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., March 8— (CP) — Adjudicator Robert Stuart shuffled Alberta's ranking drama group and their players on Saturday, gave the province a new slate of top-ranking actors and offered the deposed titleholders hope of another try at Dominion honors.

He rated Calgary workshop 14 best in six groups competing in the two-day regional festival, intended to choose Alberta's Dominion Festival entry besides deciding local honors.

But so well did last year's titleholders, Edmonton's Community Theatre, perform, he said that he would make "strong recommendations" to the Dominion Festival Board that they be invited to the Ottawa finals next month.

Other honors he awarded were:

Best director— Gordon W. Atkinson, producer-director of "Maistre Pierre Pathelein," Calgary's prize-winning, one-act play.

Best actress— Milwyn Davies, the queen in Laurence Housman's "Victoria Regina," Edmonton's offering.

Best actor— Jack Phillips, the draper in "Pathelein" and Gerard Lepage, the Prince Consort in "Victoria."

Two Plead Guilty

COBOURG, March 8—(ENS).—Carmon Jones, Oakville, was remanded on $500 bail when he appeared in police court here on a charge of dangerous driving laid after an accident involving his truck and one driven by John Watson of Oshawa.

Arrested last week by Constable C. Cunningham who captured them after a chase in the police cruiser, Douglas Brinks of Windsor and Allan Durant of Brockville pleaded guilty to two charges of theft and one of attempted break and entering. The pair were charged with attempting to break into Macklin's service station here on March 2; breaking and entering and theft at Edwards' Garagdge, Kingston, March 1, and theft of a car at Kingston on the same date. They were remanded for sentence.

Takes Deer Picture North Of Cobourg

COBOURG, Mar. 8 — (ENS)—Mrs. Bill Jones of Cobourg obtained a picture of a doe while on her way to the ski club. Mrs. Jones noticed the animal standing quietly by the cement abutment of a bridge on the new highway near Baltimore.

A buck, doe and fawn have been seen several times in the vicinity of Baltimore, believed to have fled from the Northumberland Forest on account of wolves. This week a doe, likely the one photographed was chased by hounds into the bush on the Maher property just north of Cobourg. It got away safely as it was seen yesterday in Greer's swamp further east.

Prisoner Hangs Self In Police Station

BROCKVIILE, March 8 —(CP) Crown authorities said today an investigation is proceeding into the death of Lawrence G. Ewart, 31, found dead Sunday in the police lock-up at Prescott, where he had been taken Saturday night following a disturbance at the Prescott arena.

Ewart, a laborer, was found hanging from a rope made of a sweater and a scarf, by Constable George Fox when he arrived with the man's breakfast. Physicians estimated he had been dead for two hours.

Obituary

FRANK DAWE.

ROSENEATH, March 8 (ENS) —Word has been received by friends here of the death of Frank Dawe on February 18 at his home 1228 West Colorado Avenue, Colorado City, Colorado. Mr. Dawe, about 70 years old, suffered a stroke about six weeks ago. His widow, formerly Clara Blodgett, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Artimas Blodgett of Roseneath, was born and lived here until her marriage. A son Merrill survives, also, and a son lost his life in the Second World War.

Indians Aid Hydro

SARNIA, March 8.—(CP). — The Sarnia band of Indians have voted unanimously to grant the Hydro-Electric Power Cimmssion of Ontario a 100-foot wide 30-acre right-of-way for a power line through the reservation. H. R. Silcox of the H.E.P.C. property department, said the new line will help to lessen the current power shortage.

Oil Furnace Explodes

OTTAWA, March 8.—(CP). — Set off by an oil furnace explosion, a two-alarm fire Saturday night caused $80,000 damage to a downtown business block and left 15 occupants of upper storey apartments homeless.

Fatality Toll Reaches 12 Over Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Four persons were killed in two head-on collisions in suburban Montreal, bringing to 12 the fatality toll reported in Eastern Canada during the week-end, a Canadian Press survey revealed today.

A train-auto accident took the life of an Ontario hockey fan, a three-year-old Montreal girl died when a small film projector exploded, setting fire to an apartment, and a Richmond Hill, Ont., man was the victim of a hit-run driver.

A motor scooter and a toboggan figured in two other Ontario deaths. At Owen Sound a man bled to death after suffering a knife thrust in his throat, and a permanent army non-commissioned officer was found shot through the head at Sudbury armories. Carbon monoxide fumes caused one death at Sarnia.

In the first head-on collision near Montreal Saturday three women were killed and two men hurt in an auto-truck collision.

Casualty List

Mrs. Ubald Brien, 45, of Montreal; Miss Fernande Henri, 26, and Miss Rosalyn Gervaus, 40, both of suburban Ville St. Laurent.

In the second near Ste. Rose, 20 miles from Montreal on Sunday, William Semegan, 32, was killed and his wife injured.

Three-year-old Judith Gordon was burned to death when flames trapped her in a Montreal apartment. The fire was believed caused by a small film projector which exploded while a group of neighborhood children were being entertained

William Allison, 21, formerly of Montreal, died at Sudbury a few hours after a motor scooter he was riding Sunday was in collision with an automobile.

Walter Deadman, 63, of Richmond Hill, north of Toronto, was fatally injured Saturday night when he was knocked down by an automobile and then ran over by a truck, the driver of which did not stop.

Visiting Sarnia, Jack Barrie, 48, of Dearborn, Mich., was found dead in his parents' garage Sunday, apparently asphyxiated by carbon monoxide fumes.

Strike Freight

When an automobile plowed into a moving freight train Saturday at Omemee, 10 miles west of Lindsay, Sidney Trowbridge, 43, died before medical aid could be given. Five other passengers were injured.

Carol Elizabeth Easton, 11, of Hornpayne, Northern Ontario, died Saturday of injuries she received Friday when struck by a truck while tobogganing.

Allan Crowe, 22, died early Saturday shortly after he was found in a pool of blood at the front steps of an Owen Sound house. Arthur Hooey was later arrested and charged with murder.

Sgt.-Maj. B. R. Bignell of Toronto, a member of the permanent army since 1935, was found shot through the head at Sudbury armories Saturday.

4-Vehicle Collision

PETROLIA, Ont., March 8 — (CP)—A four-vehicle collision on No. 21 highway a mile south of this Lambton county town late Saturday in which a man and his wife were thrown through the top of their automobile resulted in only minor injuries to the pair. Mr. and Mrs. Allan Adams of RR 3 Forence, Ont., were the victims. Mr. Adams, 27, suffered a fractured right thigh, and his wife severe shock.

Named Road Supt.

ROSENEATH, March 8 (ENS) —It is reported Edward Noonan was appointed road superintendent Friday, for Alnwick Township, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of former superintendent Dawson Timlin.

Wayne To Play Heavy Role In New Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 8 (AP) —This will be a big year for John Wayne, both as producer and star.

The actor is slated to paly a heavy role (his first) as the sadistic Ralls in "Wake of the Red Witch" at Republic. He is preparing two of his own productions there: "Eagles in Exile," a story of Napoleon's henchmen in the United States, and "The Alamo," about the famous Texas fort.

John also will do "Three Godfathers" for John Ford at MGM. It's the story of three outlaws who discover a woman in childbirth on the desert. Their dilemma: Whether to continue fleeing or help the woman and risk capture. The title tips off their decision.

Singing Paradise

Glorida Grahame's first version of singing "Paradise" in "The Long Denial" was too warm for the Johnston office. It had to be refilmed with less explosive lyrics. That's what I have been telling you—this Grahame gal is hot stuff....

Eddie Cantor tells me his biography is progressing well at Warners, despite contrary reports. He expects it to be filmed in the fall.

Big Plans

Eve Arden has big plans for her own producing company. She says she would like to direct pictures, although not those starring herself. No Orson Welles, she...

Robert Montgomery is just about to close a deal that will put him on the air as a news commentator. Bob has more background than most actors for commenting on the news, having taken an active part in national and diplomatic affairs....

Orson Welles' "Macbeth" is reported being held back for an autumn release.

"It's not the type of film people will go for during hot summmer weather," says a Republic source.

Sweating It Out

Frederic March is sweating out the arrival of the "Christopher Columbus" script from England. He is finishing "The Judge's Wife" and is slated to sail for London April 14. But he won't leave until he has read and approved the script....

Greer Garson denies she has been seeing Richard Ney. It's all over now, sez she....Jean Hersholt is still turning down film offers. He is too busy with the academy, relief fund, and his air show. Dr. Christian's European trip this summer will mark his first air absence in 11 years.

Hedy Lamarr is showing her temperament on the "Let's Live a Little" set.

Cobourg Legions Ask Protection From Air Raids

COBOURG, March 8 —(ENS)—Cobourg branch of the Canadian Legion at its monthly meeting here passed a resolution that the government be requested to take steps to ensure safety of the civilian population in the event of hostilities.

The complete lack of any form of defence for the civilian population of the Dominion was aired at the meeting. It was pointed out that while the international situation could only be view with much uneasiness, the utter lack of any defence for the civilian population of Canada's cities and towns could only be viewed with grave alarm. Adequate air-raid shelters and missile bunkers cannot be built overnight, and much thought and careful planning will have to be devoted to this matter long before any construction can be embarked upon, the Legion felt.

It was unanimously agreed that a resolution be forwarded to the Dominion Command, Canadian Legion, to the following effect:

"That the Canadian Legion request the competent government authority to take prompt and efficient steps to ensure the safety of the civilian population in the event of hostilities."

While it is not the feeling of the Cobourg Branch that war in the near future is inevitable, common sense would seem to demand that precautionary measures immediately be undertaken. It was further felt that it would be far wiser to build bunkers and air-raid shelters and never use them than to need them badly and find they had never been constructed.

Great Films For Peterborough

The local Film Council deserves congratulations for its enterprise, and the faith which it has shown in Peterborough's good taste by inaugurating a program of classic films. The city's movie houses bring us the best of the new films, but understandably they cannot cater to the public which wants to see old films which were landmarks in the cinema world, or foreign films; in a city of this size that public is not large enough to support a movie house run for profit. Nevertheless, the public for such films is larger than many people might imagine, and the International Film Series fills its needs admirably.

* * *

The film shown on Friday night last was Mayerling, one of the very few films which creates a genuine sense of tragedy. It is remarkable for many things—for the economy with which it is produced, for the fine quality of its acting, for the admirable music which Honegger wrote to accompany it and for its realism and penetration of character; but its fame is not based upon any of its details, but upon the fine work of art which is the sum of those details.

* * *

It is an admirable thing that such a film should be seen in Peterborough. It broadens our artistic horizons, it gives us a new appreciation of what a movie can be, it gives us a peep at the world through French eyes. The International Film Series has made an excellent beginning and we hope that it will go on from strength to strength. It is an enemy of parochialism, and a new window through which Peterborough can look out upon the great world of international art.

Racial Issue May Split U.S. Democrats

The issue raised by U.S. President Truman's civil-rights program is still a threat to the unity of the U.S. Democratic Party. This program, announced early last month, chiefly affects the Southern States—the so-called "Solid (for the Democrats) South". It calls for Federal legislation against lynching, poll taxes, discrimination in employment and racial segregation in interstate travel. It was supported in Congress by most Republicans, but aroused angry protest among Southern Democrats.

* * *

Definite action following these protests began a week ago today. The Governors of six Southern States arrived in Washington, D.C., to confer with Senator J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, Democratic National Chairman. Senator McGrath's answers to their questions were firm to the point of abruptness. When they asked if we would move to have Mr. Truman's program withdrawn, the answer was a flat "No". The Democratic Governors left and later issued the statement that "The Present leadership of the Democratic Party will soon realize that the South is no longer in the bag".

* * *

The South's next move was quickly made. On Thursday Governor William Tuck of Virginia delivered a special message to the Virginia General Assembly. He asked that the names of Presidential candidates be omitted from next November's ballots. The ballots would instead list slates of electors (members of the Electoral College) not committed to any Presidential ticket. Other Southern States are expected to ask for similar action.

* * *

There is shrewd political reasoning behind this proposed manoeuvre. The U.S. Constitution, technically, does not provide for a direct popular vote for President. The voters actually choose a list of electors, and these in turn elect the President. Usually, the electors are committed on the ballot, and by withholding commitment, the Southern States would be threatening the withdrawal and bestowal elsewhere of 127 Electoral College votes — enough to guarantee a Democratic defeat.

* * *

It remains to be seen whether the threat will be carried out. It would seem unlikely, in view of the fact that it would mean the end of any hope of Federal patronage for Southern politicians. It is thought the threat is more likely to be a preparatory move aimed at increasing the South's power within the Democratic Party. Prior to 1936, the South was given a virtual veto power in party councils by a ruling which required a two-thirds vote for any action in national convention. It would not be surprising if the South agreed to support Mr. Truman in exchange for return of this rule—but it would be most surprising if the rule could be returned without alienating the support of Democrats in other sections of the United States. It will be regrettable if Mr. Truman loses Democratic support through the introductions of a truly democratic measure, but hardly surprising in an age when many political party labels have lost their literal meaning.

Shelving Margarine

Last week in the Commons the question was asked whether the Geneva Agreement permitted the importation of margarine into Canada. Mr. St. Laurent who replied said that,

> Should it be found that the Geneva Agreement or the one substituted for it by the Havana conference does require this section (the ban on margarine) to be repealed or amended, the repeal or amendment can only be made by parliament.... There is nothing to prevent making duties or taxes as high as may be proper to leave the dairy industry completely undisturbed.

Mr. St. Laurent was not merely fobbing off the questioner; he was trying to shelve the issue; he was perhaps indicating Government policy.

If it is the Government's policy to leave the dairy industry "completely undisturbed" in its monopoly, it is kowtowing shamefully to a hard group of dairy magnates and special agricultural lobbyists. It is treating the people despicably, scornfully spurning their wishes and neglecting their needs.

Children used to race home from school and pounce into the kitchen for several hunks of bread and butter. Now the wife of a small wage-earner with three children must refuse this after-school nourishment. She cannot afford to be liberal with butter costing seventy cents a pound. She could, however, afford to give them margarine which is as nutritive as butter.

Is the Government going to play coward by allowing the ban on margarine to continue at such great cost to every household in this country? The ban is morally indefensible, wrong in principle and economically unjustified. The Government must not shabbily refuse to act merely because the dairy industry is a better organized group than the consumers. The Government must heed the people.

Canada's Growing National Importance

We think that our readers will be interested in the following extract from a letter which we received recently from Mr. J. D. Cambridge, who regularly sends us a 'London Letter'; the good opinion of the rest of the world is both an inspiration to higher flights, and a reminder of our many shortcomings:

"A Canadian abroad cannot but feel proud of the high reputation of Canada everywhere. Be it New York, London, Paris, Brussels, or points in between, the recognition of your accent is followed by a friendliness embarrassing in its sincerity and warmth. In this country in particular, on trains, in stores, pubs, or in friendly meetings, the word "Canadian" brings a flood of eager questions and remarks—do you know my cousins in Vancouver, my brother is in Montreal, what is the future of farming in the west, we had a lot of Canadians stationed near us during the war, and many more on the same note of friendly interest. On the continent Canada's contributions to UNRRA and during the war are gratefully remembered. Sir Arnold Plant, a member high in the councils of economic planning during the war told me how impressed he was with the calibre of the Canadian delegates to international meetings he had attended. The European edition of Newsweek quotes the New York World-Telegram: "...Canadians are a bulwark of democracy and decency. We are fortunate in our neighbours". This unique and widespread recognition of Canada's contributions in war and peace is one of our proudest achievements. No nation stands higher in world opinion than ours, and long may it be justified".

A minister declares people should confess their sins to a pastor or tell them to a psychiatrist. There are some people, of course, who go around bragging about them to anyone who will listen.

Englishman In Northern Alberta

By AIDAN COCKBURN
In The London Spectator

TO one who has lived in urban England the most striking thing about this life is its isolation from the rest of the world. The highway to civilization was the Peace River, and that could be used only in summer. Overland, saddle-horse and dog-team provided the only means of transport, and though roads were gradually made that were possible for a car or a team of horses, they were unbelievably bad by English standards, little more than mud in summer, ice and snowdrifts in winter. To drive a car here requires a complete re-orientation of European ideas on the subject; the emphasis is on the accelerator and not on the brake as one would expect, and, in fact, a jeep is the one really satisfactory way out. Many of the farmers in the outlying districts still use a "caboose" and team to drive through the snow. This object is one of the most comical sights ever seen—a small wooden house on sledge runners, with a brazier inside a little chimney belching smoke, the whole thing looking rather like something from Peter Pan.

✧ ✧ ✧

One of the biggest steps to the development of this country came with the discovery of gold and uranium in the North West Territories and the building of a highway from Edmonton to Yellowknife, a project which is still unfinished. This made the transportation of grain very much simpler, and provided the first easy means of access to the unsettled and unsurveyed country of the North. Now Northern Alberta sees itself as the country of the future, and its promise has already begun to draw people from farther south. Under its soil are known to lie vast deposits of coal and oil, and what else may be there is anyone's guess.

Manning, where I have been since our arrival in Canada, did not exist a year ago. Then two men, an Englishman and an American, realized the importance of the new highway and decided to build a hotel halfway to Yellowknife. Since then a dozen shops and as many houses have sprung up around it, and the new town has been named after Alberta's premier. As building here is of wood, it takes very little time for a mushroom town like this to grow, and, in addition, more than one tradesman from the neighbouring settlements of North Star and Notikewin saw the advantages of the new site and moved his entire business in one piece. This was not a difficult operation, as he simply put the building on skids and used a tractor to drag it down the road and across the frozen river. Now there is a fair-sized town for this part of the country, and there is every indication that it will grow still more. It has electricity, of a somewhat erratic nature, but water must be hauled from the river as required. Many people have their water delivered as ice and melt it down themselves. Wells have in general proved impracticable, and the water-supply remains one of the big drawbacks.

As it is a new town Manning is still without its community centre, which provides most of the entertainment in these small settlements. Once a week there is a movie show at either the North Star or Notikewin Community Hall, which is also used for badminton and dancing. For a dance, a band comes up from Berwyn or Peace River, 70 miles south, and the population of the surrounding countryside gathers together. The old-fashioned "square dances" are still popular, but they are rapidly being ousted by a perverted form of quickstep, danced to a hill-billy rhythm. Although this sounds an odd mixture, the result is a very pleasant and individual dance which could with advantage be introduced to Europe. Lunch here, by the way, means the break in the dance about midnight, when one goes to the cafe or a friend's house for food. Everyone plays bridge; it is almost the first thing one is asked when meeting people, and comes second only to, "Well, and how do you like our country?" This question is always delivered with complete confidence in the reply; in Latin it would begin with "Nonne," which traditionally demands the answer "Yes."

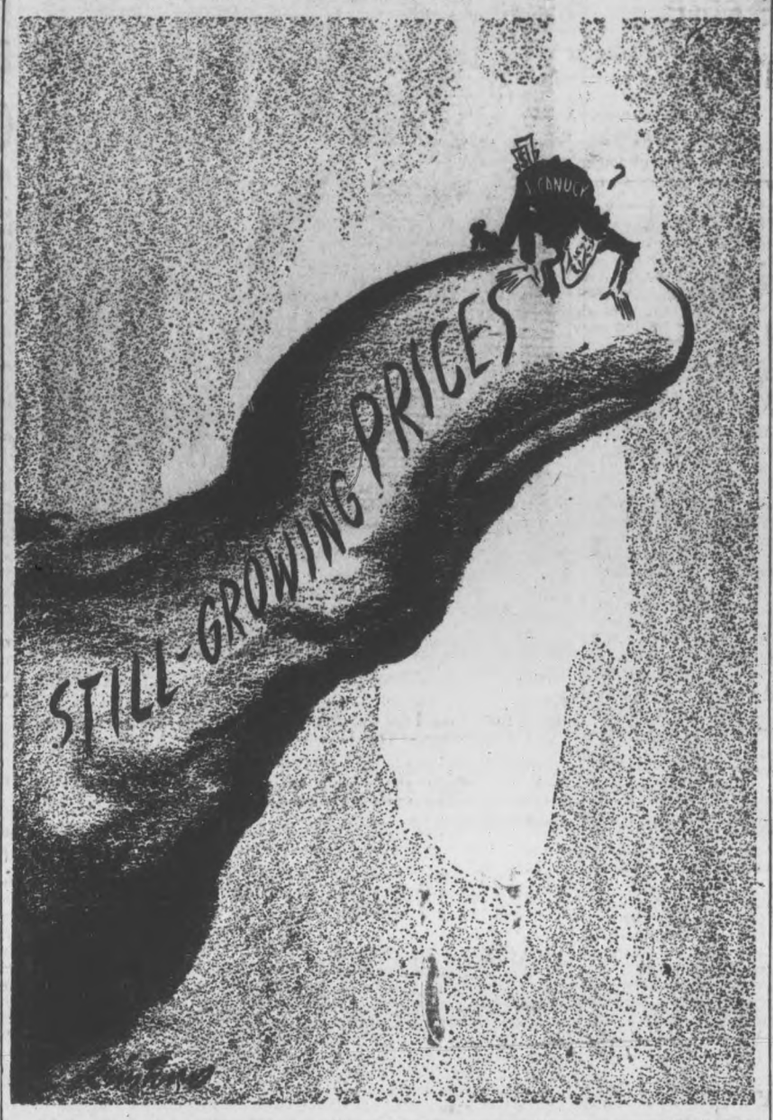
The odd fact is that, in spite of all its drawbacks, we do like their country. We have the disadvantage that we are only casual visitors, busy exploring Canada, and so are less inclined to shut our eyes to the flaws than Canadians are, but we have to admit the fascination of the place. The old-timers are convinced that no one can resist the lure of the North. They have seen too many people come for a short time and stay for good.

✧ ✧ ✧



A large proportion of the farmers in this district are Ukrainian. The men make good farmers, and neither they nor their womenfolk are upset by hard living conditions. There are also a good many farmers who left Saskatchewan in drought years, with a sprinkling of other European nationals and some Americans. Of British settlers so far I have found little trace. It may be that the life is too hard and too different from what is taken for granted in England, but whatever the reason it is a mistake. It is generally accepted theory that in a very few years "the Yanks" will take over Canada. Many people are indifferent, but even some of the most pro-British assume that it is inevitable. Perhaps it is, when there are so few who have any ties with England or the interest that British settlers would naturally have in remaining part of the Empire.

A LITTLE LATE

A sailor, stuttering badly, rushed up to the captain with a message. Knowing that the man only stuttered when speaking, the captain directed him to put into poetry and sing what he was trying to say. Thereupon two hours later the sailor came back and sang:

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot and never brought to mind; The blooming cook's washed overboard and he's twenty miles behind."

"JOHN" THUMB

Letter To The Editor

BYRON THE SCOT

Sir: I was rather surprised to read in tonight's Examiner your sharp reaction to the claim made that George Gordon, Lord Byron was a Scottish poet. I do not quibble about his place of birth which, as you know sir, was London. He was English for that reason and he also bore an English title. But the accident of having been born in England did not make Byron a patriotic Englishman. He despised his native land. His love of Scotland was, I suggest, almost as great as his love of Greece. I disagree with your assumption that because he did not like Scotch reviewers he had no affection for Scotland and other Scots.

In "Lachin Y Gair" the name of a place near Aberdeen where his Scottish mother took him at the age of two and kept him until he came into his title and went to Harrow School he says,

I sigh for the valley of dark Loch na Garr.
Ah! there my young footsteps in infancy wander'd;
My cap was the bonnet, my cloak was the plaid etc.

Also, in the same poem:

Years have roll'd on, Loch na Garr, since I left you....
Yet still are you dearer than Albion's plain.

In Canto III of "Childe Harold's Pilgrimage" he makes proud and effectionate references to the Highlanders, to "Evans, Donald's fame" and to "young gallant Howard"—"partly because they blend with me his line". He was proud of his Scottish descent.

Yours etc.,
"CALEDONIAN".

Editor's Note: Byron liked nothing better than to play a part—the Greek liberator, the international adventurer, and the English milord; we think that he may have enjoyed posing as a Scot, at times, but that does not make him one.

Unconsidered Trifles

Judge—"Why did you marry two wives?"

Bigamist—"It takes two women to support a man with conditions as they are at the present time."

Two men had spent a joyous evening together in town, and with the generosity occasioned by good cheer one insisted on taking the other home with him.

They caught the last train to Brockville. On reaching the town they found no conveyance at the station to help them farther on their way, so they set out on foot.

After walking for half an hour, the host stopped, and turning to his friend, said:

"George, old man, I'm sorry. I must 'pologize."

"Not at all, Harry, not all," replied his friend. "Had a glorious evenin'."

To which Harry retorted: "Yes, George, must 'pologize. Fact is, we moved last week. We're living at Belleville now."

✧ ✧ ✧

"Did you hear that every single prize in our band contest was carried off by one man?"

"Good gracious! What did he get?"

"Six months."

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said....Is not God in the height of heaven? and behold the height of the stars, how high they are!....Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee. Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.

If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up, thou shalt put away iniquity far from thy tabernacles.... For then shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and shalt lift up thy face unto God. (Job 22: 1, 12, 21-23, 26.)

Then Job answered and said....Oh that I knew where I might find him! that I might come even to his seat!...Will he plead against me with his great power? No; but he would put strength in me....

Behold, I go forward, but he is not there; and backward, but I cannot perceive him: on the left hand, where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himself on the right hand, that I cannot see him: but he knoweth the way that I take: when he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold. (Job 23: 1, 3, 8, 8-10.)

Ontario's "Iron Curtain?"

If in future hidden skeletons moulder in the closets of the government service of Ontario, the grisly responsibility will be that of Premier Drew's Cabinet. Its Public Service Act which came into force on March 1, prescribed an oath of secrecy for civil servants that makes Mr. Churchill's European "iron curtain" one of nylon-like transparency by comparison.

Hitherto, all public service employes have had to take an oath of allegiance—very properly. But now they must also swear that except as they "may be legally authorized or required," they must not "disclose or give any person any information or document that comes to their knowledge or possession" by reason of the fact that they are civil servants.

In short, if a newspaper reporter makes a legitimate request for information from a provincial government department, he may innocently find himself inciting a civil servant to break his oath of secrecy. Or if a harassed taxpayer demands documentary proof why he is so unfortunate, the authors of his discomfiture can blandly plead "official secrets."

Why, indeed, the provincial civil service should be cloaked with such secrecy is not at all obvious. Premier Drew's government is making no atomic bombs, planning no private wars, engaging in no diplomatic bluff with foreign states, nor accumulating secret weapons—except political ones—that require the safeguards of large-scale official oath-taking. Surely a simple departmental decision upon occasion is all that is needed to maintain what temporary reticence may be necessary in the public interest?

Oaths are cheapened by too great use of them. As the old Greeks knew: "Oaths are not surety for a man but the man for the oaths."—Ottawa Citizen.

A BRITISH OPINION

"I've stopped worrying about our Basic Petrol boarders—I reckon we'll have the Russians dropping in on us for the holidays."

Don't Notice Much Difference Under Coal Nationalization

By STUART UNDERHILL

WOLVERHAMPTON, England, March 8—(CP).—The manager of a large Staffordshire coal mine, asked what changes he had noticed under nationalization, replied "There's very little difference—just a few extra forms to fill out." He hastened to add, however, that he approved nationalization, now in its second year, and "ultimately it will be the best thing for all concerned."

"For one thing, we'll be able to get the best brains in the industry together to discuss our problems," he said. "For another, we'll be able to share around the equipment."

His remarks pretty well summed up the experiences and attitude of other mine executives. Mines which operated efficiently under private enterprise — and there were many — have been left virtually to themselves while the National Coal Board proceeds cautiously with its task of reorganizing the industry.

Inefficient, uneconomic producers are more likely to come under the spur of officialdom; some may even be closed unless they produce a type of coal in such scarce supply it is needed regardless of cost. Coking coal is in this category.

"We have 60 pits in the West Midlands," said Sir Ben Smith, former Food iMnister in the Attlee Government, now chairman of that division of the NCB. "Over a 10-year period they may be reduced to 18 or 20."

Matter of Course

Coal miners themselves seem to accept nationalization and the benefits it has brought them as a matter of course, but few seem to grasp the urgent need of increasing production.

Viscount Hyndley, chairman of the NCB, blames persistent absenteeism on local conditions. An on-the-spot official added.

"A lot of men work only two days a week at the coal face, for which they get about £4. Income tax on that is negligible. But suppose they work long enough to earn £9. About £2 10s goes in tax.

He contended the miner has become complacent under the concessions that had been heaped upon him since the war—five-day week, higher wages, extra food and clothing.

"He feels too secure," he grumbled. "You won't get him working until he feels there is another fellow right behind him waiting to take his job."

Elect Vice-President

TORONTO, March 8 —(CP)—Lt.-Col. E. G. Renison of Toronto was elected vice-president of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association at an executive meeting Saturday. Appointment of seven Ontario representatives to the executive of the Dominion association was announced. They are: Reeve F. G. Gardiner, Forest Hill; Walter McGibben, Waterloo; John Ford, Smiths Falls; R. H. Wilson, Windsor; Elmer Bell, Exeter; John Root, Orton; and Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Toronto.

Inspector Kills Wife

UTICA, N.Y., March 8—(AP)—Maurice J. Mario, 32-year-old air depot inspector, last night shot and killed his estranged wife after stabbing her, then committed suicide, Coroner Herman J. Haberer reported.

NORSE SEAMAN SAVED — A seaman aboard the Norwegian tanker Kaldfonn, Johannes Braut, is transferred in mid-Atlantic from a lifeboat to the U.S. army transport Jarrett M. Huddleston. Stricken with appendicitis, Braut was operated on by army doctors as transport headed for New York.

Gen. De Gaulle Warns Defence Must Be Included In U.S. Aid

COMPIEGNE, France, March 8—(AP).—Gen. De Gaulle declared yesterday that American aid to Europe must extend to "the fields of defence" as well as the economic support provided in the Marshall Plan.

He made the statement in a speech here calling upon France to lead an organization of western European countries in joining with the United States to oppose Communism and the spread of Soviet influence.

De Gaulle told a meeting of his reassemblement of Du Peuple Francais that such an organization might have the support of 250,000,000 men.

"It is necessary that the efforts of the old Europe and those of America be joined to put our poor world back on its feet," he said.

"This means without any doubt that the United States lend us large and prolonged help in the economic field. They took the initiative and I hail with no embarrassment their clear-sighted generosity.

"But it is clear that their support should spread at the same time to the field of defence in as precise and explicit a manner as the Marshall Plan does on credits and imports."

Must Have Place

For the first time De Gaulle said categorically that the German people must have their place in a "free states of Europe."

France, Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg are drawing up a plan for unity in a five-power meeting in Brussels. France, Britain and the United States agreed at a London conference which ended Saturday on a federalized form of government for western Germany and international control of the Ruhr.

As for the political situation in his own country, De Gaulle urged elections to end "a system which can only be one of chronic feebleness and permanent crisis." He said he was ready to take over direction of France as soon as conditions afford the necessary responsibility. De Gaulle's political power was demonstrated last September when his RPF party scored heavily in country-wide municipal elections.

He said France is menaced from abroad by the expansion of a vast empire, whose "masters aim at world domination." He identified the empire as Russia "with her vast resources, docile, patient and proud people of 180,000,000, all manipulated by an absolute dictatorship."

New Wheat Pact Slows Up Market Slump

By The Canadian Press.

An acknowledged evil within the economic system—the "boom-bust" cycle—was further harnessed over the week-end with the announcement of a 36-power wheat agreement putting a $2 a bushel ceiling and $1.10 floor price on wheat exported by the United States, Canada, and Australia over the five crop years starting August 1, 1948.

Government, business leaders, and economists have long recognized the need for some means of narrowing down the alternating periods of business booms, inflation, deflation, depression. Such cycles, in the past, have involved all sections of the economy—agriculture, industry, finance, without preference as to priority either in the boom or the bust period.

The problem has been to exercise just that amount of control that will level off the curves without placing feters on the economy.

All forms of economic controls —familiar to most since the beginning of the last war—serve in some degree to stabilize conditions. Allocation of materials, price ceilings, direction of imports and exports, and international trade agreements are examples.

Admittedly, it is difficult for a population enjoying the fruits of record heights of production and accompanying prosperity to concern itself effectively with possibilities of a sharp reversal of conditions. The grain grower in the United States to-day receiving about $2.50 a bushel for his wheat may be dubious about selling at $2. But the recent price crash in grains could indicate that a floor at $1.10 a bushel five years from now may be highly acceptable.

Deny UAW Election Fought Over Reuther

WINDSOR, Mar. 8—(CP)—Election of officers in local 200, United Auto Workers (CIO) at the week-end was not fought on the "Reuther issue," re-elected President Roy England said last night.

There no longer is a "clearly-defined line" between left or right wing in local union election issues, he said.

"The election was based on the merit of whether local 200 would remain the largest local union in Canada. Regardless of any factionalism imported from the United States our local voted on the individual merits of its leaders."

"My campaign was not based on pro- or anti-Reuther—when I think he is right I will support him. When he is wrong I will not support him."

Maj. Harden Elected

BELFAST, March 8 — (CP). — Maj.-J. R. E. Harden, Ulster Unionist (Conservative) candidate, was elected Saturday to the United Kingdom House of Commons for Armagh constituency. Results announced Saturday night showed that Harden polled 36,736 votes to 24,422 for Seamas O'Reilly anti-partition (Nationalist) candidate.

Widow Wins $22,500 Prize Picks Benny Mystery Man

HOLLYWOOD, March 8 — (AP).—Mrs. Florence Hubbard, a widow, of Chicago, Saturday night identified Jack Benny as "the walking man" and won a radio jackpot worth $22,500.

Mrs. Hubbard, sales woman in a Chicago department store, was the first person telephoned by Ralph Edwards, master of ceremonies.

Quizmaster Ralph Edwards explained that Benny was the "walking man" because:

"He won't spend the money for cab fare."

He also pointed out that the comic's home town is Waukegan, Ill., which means walk again.

The jackpot included: A home laundry; $1,000 diamond and ruby watch; an automobile (Cadillac); gas range; 16 mm. motion picture sound projector and screen; two-week vacation for two at Sun Valley, Idaho, with all expenses paid; a $1,000 diamond ring; vacuum cleaner; combination phonograph, radio and television set; refrigerator; paint for both inside and outside of a house; complete woman's wardrobe for every season; home freezer filled with food; airplane; dining room and two bedrooms filled with furniture; $2,400 trailer completely equipped; 14-foot boat; $1,000 for appliances; piano; electric blankets; three men's suits for each male member of her family and a sewing machine.

Estimates Will Be Tabled In Commons During Week

OTTAWA, March 8 (CP).—The amounts of money various government departments expect to spend during the 1948-49 fiscal year will be tabled in the Commons early this week in a blue-covered book that bears the unimpressive title of "estimates." The book, containing a break-down of proposed expenditures by departments, will be tabled as soon as the debate on the Throne Speech is concluded.

The debate will be interrupted Monday, at least, for debate on a resolution establishing a committee to study veterans' legislation. Once the resolution, which will permit first full-fledged discussion this session on veterans' demands, the Throne Speech debate will be continued.

The estimates are expected to contain few surprises, although they probably will be lower than a year ago. The 1947-48 estimates were for expenditures of $1,995,878,634 compared with expenditures of $2,901,994,112 in 1946-47.

Postpone Construction

Because of the shortage of material, the Public Works Department is understood to have decided to postpone construction work not immediately required. This means that the new post offices requested by members from various parts of the country, the new dredges requested by others, and the new wharves termed as essential by still others are likely to remain on the list of "future requirements."

Veterans Affairs and Defence Department estimates are expected to show further reductions from a year ago, because of the steady decline in war service gratuity payments and in the requirements of the defence forces.

Ships' Officers

The Federal Labor Department is not making any plans for early intervention in the strike of the ships' officers that has tied up ocean vessels on both Canada's coasts.

Attitude of the department at this stage is that it will not step into the dispute until it is asked by one or another of the contestants. So far, neither has shown an inclination to do this. Nor have they opened negotiations between themselves.

Lions Down A Goal To Preston In OMHA Bantam Final Playoffs

The Peterborough Lions took a shorter side of a 5-4 count in Omemee on Saturday afternoon at the hands of Preston puckists. It was the first game of their goals-to-count Ontario Minor Hockey Association Bantam "B" finals, return bout being in Preston next Saturday. The Pammett pack will make the trip down one goal on the round.

The two young squads of bantam finalists turned in a fine display on good ice. It was a fast, clean contest throughout with but four penalties handed out by the Lindsay referee, two to a side. The score was 4-1 for Preston in the first frame, and 4-all to end the second. The visitors, though outplayed, tallied the winning marker halfway through the third chukker. About 200 fans viewed the playoff tussle.

Couldn't Click

Lions seemed stage-struck in the opening inning and didn't click till nearly the end of that period. Preston struck fast and soon rolled up a 4-1 edge. They were sparked by two fine players, J. McDonald and Switzer, who shone throughout, with Cowell and Mosauk also good. None of the Lions showed much in the first heat, but Stewart got going in the second to figure in on three goals, and the whole team looked up to form the last half of the fray.

Switzer got a pair of goals in the first period and J. McDonald counted twice, as well as having two assists. Cowell aided on two. Stewart scored the lone Lions' marker from McGrath late in the stanza. He got one in the second and assisted on counters by Pammett and Ferguson in that chapter. J. McDonald got the only one in the third, but Lions had most of the play as they soared back in both second and third. Ferguson and Stewart missed some fine close-in tries during the third and it wound up 5 to 4 for Preston.

The teams:

Preston: Goal, Mosauk; defence, Daub and Ashley; centre, J. McDonald; wings, Cowell and Switzer; alternates, Gillow, Milatz, Starr, Gowing, MacLeod, Pfeiffer, H. McDonald and Rooke.

Lions: Goal, Delahaye; defence, Stewart and Byrne; centre, Pammett; wings, Langhorne and Ferguson; alternates, McGrath, Spencer, Scriver, McGillen and Cunningham.

Referee, S. McIntosh; lineman, H. Payne.

Summary:

First Period

Preston—Switzer (Cowell, J. McDonald) .. 2.25
Preston—Switzer (J. McDonald) 3.15
Preston—J. McDonald (Cowell) 16.45
Lions—Stewart (McGrath) 19.06
Preston—J. McDonald 19.23
Penalty—Ashley.

Second Period

Lions—Pammett (Stewart) . 5.21
Lions—Stewart 8.35
Lions—Ferguson (Stewart) .16.50
Penalties—Langhorne, Ashley.

Third Period

Preston—J. McDonald 9.30
Penalty—Ferguson.

Bancroft Wins Puck Title In North Loop

BANCROFT, March 8.—(ENS). —By virtue of a convincing 9-2 win over their village rivals, the Rovers, the high-flying Bancroft Trappers, after going through the entire schedule without a defeat, maintained that record in play-off competition to handily take the Northern Hockey League championship in two straight games. The Trappers had pulled down the first decision by a 6-3 score.

In this, the return engagement, the youthful Trappers were held well in check for two periods. In fact it was one of the closest battles seen on Bancroft ice for two periods. A rugged first period found the Trappers on top by a 2-0 margin. Kavanagh and Foster were the goal getters. The second period had its tense moments as Severin sank the first for the Rovers, while N. Brough retaliated to again maintain that two goal lead at the second intermission.

Broke Away

As the third frame opened the cautious Rovers, facing defeat, sent wave after wave of attackers on McGhee but the act backfired as the Trappers broke out in a scoring rush to sink six goals behind the bewildered O'Shaughnessy, while the Rovers came back for a single tally, this by Delyea. Goal-getters for winners in this period were Jack Maxwell and Crawford with two each, while Kavanagh and N. Brough flicked the red light for one each.

The game was fast but rugged and produced some fine hockey. Tempers flared on both sides but no serious damage was done. The boys were held in check by Referee Follis and Linesman Foster. During league and playoff competition the champion Trappers, managed by Ed. Alexander, ran up a string of eleven straight victories without a defeat. They scored 102 goals and had 27 scored against them, which gave Goaler McGhee a 2.63 goals against average. Line-ups:

Rovers — T. O'Shaughnessy, goal; defence, Watson and Conlin; forwards, Maxwell, Moxam and Cox; subs, Stringer, McAlpine, Vance, Severein, Delyea, J. O'Shaughnessy.

Trappers — Goal, McGhee; defence, Flaglar and E. Carpenter; forwards, N. Brough, E. Brough and Kavanagh; subs, Adams, Walton, Whyte, J. Maxwell, Crawford.

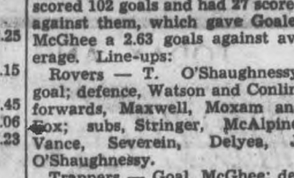
R. Best, D. Charlton, C. Lawrence and C. Curtis left this morning for Midland. They will be there for a couple of days playing in Midland's annual open bonspiel.



The games committee is now ready to receive entries for the Neill Trophy. The only stipulation is that each rink must be of schedule calibre. This contest is set down for Monday, March 8. It looks like a tremendous entry.

The Sturgeon Trophy got away to a good start on Saturday night. Two rounds were played. Next Saturday night the games continue in both the primary and consolation events.

We had another full house on Saturday afternoon. The boys are sure making the best of the artificial ice. The winning skips were C. Giroux, F. Batten, G. Putnam, M. Cruthers and J. Richmond.

And now for the vice-skips' bonspiel. First round this evening at 7 p.m. Be out on time.

J. Willey, Dr. M. McCartney, Dr. R. Morgan and H. Bradburn are playing in Oshawa on Tuesday in the next round of the Colts competition.

You think it'll be all over in Omemee tonight when Legion and Petes tangle? Well, the Petes don't, and this is their battle-cry tonight:

Petes' puck sun it seemed was setting,
But they still had lots of fight;
As they growled a call defiant:
"Curfew must not ring tonight!
"We have trode the path of champions,
We fought through when it was tight:
Come what may 'tis not the day—
Curfew shall not ring tonight!"

* * * * * *

Things have looked grim before for those puck veterans—for Bun, Honey, Art, Joe, Red, Drake, Les and Ray. But they survived and brought titles Peterborough-ward regularly, junior "B", intermediate "A" and senior "B", provincial and even Eastern Canada. And, while things were never grimmer than now—with Legion up three games to one in the four-in-seven group finals—they don't figure on bowing out tonight. They expect to at least prolong the series, if not ultimately pull it out of the fire. After all, 'twould mean a split gate tonight if they lost for one thing — and that's not good!

* * * * * *

However it turns out, it should be a jim-dandy of a battle all the way. Those streamlined Legionnaires are hotter than halfway through the Painted Desert right now as they scent a title, while the classy Petes are due for a comeback after a surprising reversal of form their last two starts. Can't be sure yet if Tompkins will be in the Petes' lineup, but if he is, he'll make a difference. Legion want to wrap it up tightly tonight, and the Petes won't fade out without a terrific fight, so it adds up to the tastiest hockey dish served the customers of these parts in many moons. It ought to be a honey all the way.

* * * * * *

Local Lions were edged out 5-4 in Omemee on Saturday aft by Preston in the first fray of their OMHA bantam "B" finals. Return tilt is in Preston next Saturday and Ray Pammett's pack are down one marker for this all-important playoff. About 200 fans saw a tidy tussle with the Lions having more of the play after a slow start and they should still come through on foreign ice to grab off the championship. They spotted the Preston boys—pretty much a two-man team—a 3-1 margin in the first period, and then outplayed 'em the rest of the route. A clean contest throughout between two good bantam squads.

That Hollywood picture and pro mat villain, Wee Willie Davis — all 270 pounds of him — will clash with Earl McCready in the main grapple bout at the Brock Arena this Wednesday night. Earl will be giving away a lot of weight but has more push than Davis and had an edge on him in a recent team wrestling tangle. It ought to result in some hectic action, anyway. Ben Sharpe (who has a large local lasses' following) is in the semi-final against huge Hi Lee, and this will be a battle of giants, literally speaking. Both have to duck their heads going through doorways. Jack Moore mixes with Dr. Ed Meske in the prelim. It'll be an entertaining card for mat fans, of which there are plenty around this city and district.

At a senior ball meeting Saturday, 'twas decided to check into possibilities of a revived COBL or, failing that, a Toronto loop entry for the Petes this year. Ed Murphy, Jack Turner and Bill Edger were chosen as a nominating committee for club officers, and early organization action is promised. They hope to have lights in Riverside this season and they are agreeable under such circs to pay a civic rental. Eddie Murphy pointed out that last year they only paid the city a percentage of playoff games but they had heavy expenses, such as out-of-town trips, over $1,700 guarantees to visiting clubs for exhibitions, and $350 to sponsor the local intermediates. "We could have given the city that $350," he said, "but instead we spent it on the younger fellows."

Girls' basketball playoffs at the YWCA are: Nurses vs. Normals at eight tonight, and St. Paul's vs. CGE at six—not at eight—on the morrow. Towne Togs are in Toronto on Wednesday in LOBA playdowns against Duvals, return fray being here on Saturday. PCVS boy cagers' results are in elsewhere, our junior "A" team playing in Oshawa tomorrow. And the PCVS colleens bowed out in Bowmanville on Saturday in district playoffs, but it was eighter than three in a rumble seat. Coach Marion Bell's junior PCI-ers eliminated Port Hope and then were edged out by the belles of Bowman Villa in the final by a single point in the last minute of play. And Coach Doris Fenner's senior squad rubbed out Port Hope girls but lost to Bowmanville in semi-finals by a point in the last few seconds of play. Tough luck, girls.

PCVS Lasses Lose Out In Playoffs

PCVS senior and junior basketball teams were nosed out in Bowmanville on Saturday in interscholastic district playoffs by narrow margins. The junior club, coached by Miss Marion Bell, won their semi-final game over Port Hope and dropped the final to Bowmanville H.S. by a single point, 17-16. The senior PCVS lasses, coached by Miss Doris Fenner, took a preliminary victory over Port Hope, but were edged out in district semi-finals, 16-15 by Bowmanville.

In the junior semi-final, which ended 27-19 for the Peterborough maidens, Mary Craw paced the winners on the attack with 11 points while Gwen Budd led the losers in sniping with 10. PCVS had a 12-7 margin at the halfway mark and they continued to look a little better than the Hopers the rest of the route. The teams:

PCVS: M. Craw 11, M. Braund 6, L. Paddock 5, M. Hollingsworth 2, N. Mason 3, W. Watson, D. Howson, C. Graham, P. Estlick, D. Penhall.

Port Hope: B. Jex 6, D. Sleeman 2, G. Churchly, G. Budd 10, A. Moncrief 1, N. Trawin, D. Reynolds, C. Chestnut, S. Stevenson.

The semi-final struggle saw Bowmanville pull ahead by 11-9 in the first half of a fine fixture, and go on to win out by a single point. The Collegians were in front with a minute of play left when Bowmanville looped in a field goal to gain the close verdict and take the district championship. Mary Braund led the losers with seven points, as Rhona Evans topped the victors with six. The teams:

Bowmanville: J. Dale, M. Osler, C. Campbell, D. Chartren, M. Walton, P. Bowes, L. Bates 2, P. Dippell 4, L. Fisher, R. Evans 6, A. Northcott, J. Sudds 5.

The senior PCVS cagers won 19-15 from Port Hope in a neat number, being down 8-6 at halftime but finishing stronger to earn the decision. Neither team clicked too well on free tosses in this contest. J. Hall, C. Clifton and M. Collins each counted four points for the winners; while B. Jex and T. Sawyer led the losers with six points apiece. The teams:

PCVS: P. Stewart 2, J. Hall 4, P. Martin 2, C. Clifton 4, M. Collins 4, J. Gillespie 3, J. Ackerman, J. Smith, R. Dougherty, B. Lawrie.

Port Hope: B. Phillips 3, M. MacTaggart, B. Jex 6, T. Sawyer 6, M. Sleeman, L. Bucch, A. Harness, H. Morton.

In the senior semi-final, Peterborough had a 10-6 bulge at the halfway mark and played on equal terms the rest of the route. They were up a point with a minute to go when Bowmanville tossed one in to pull out the victory by a single point. B. Grant led the winners in scoring with six points, while Mary Jane Collins topped PCVS with nine. The teams:

PCVS: P. Stewart 1, J. Hall 1, P. Martin 2, C. Clifton, M. Collins 9, J. Gillespie 2, J. Ackerman, J. Smith, R. Dougherty, B. Lawrie.

Bowmanville: J. Heyland 3, M. Breslin, S. Bonk, G. Griffith, V. Hopkins, M. Snowden, B. Grant 6, J. Grant, H. Marjerrison 2, M. Buttery 5, H. Dippell, P. Paterson.

Junior 'A' Finals Start

TORONTO, March 8 — (CP).— The best-of-seven Ontario Hockey Association Junior A final series between Barrie Flyers and Windsor Spitfires start tonight in Windsor. Winner of the series advances to the all-Ontario Memorial Cup playoffs. The second game will be played at Windsor March 10, the third match will be either at Barrie or Toronto March 12 or 13. Windsor moves to Barrie for the fourth game March 15 and Barrie goes to Windsor for the fifth tilt March 17. The sixth game will be at either Barrie or Toronto March 9 or 20 and the seventh match at Windsor March 26.

PCVS Seniors Victors Over Cobourg

Results of Friday evening's two games at the PCVS gym found the local Senior A team with a substantial lead over Cobourg in the senior district finals and advanced the Oshawa Junior B boys into the finals with the PCVS Junior A. The Senior A-Cobourg game was a 48-16 rout of Cobourg seniors, winners of the eastern Senior B group. PCVS takes a 32 point lead to Cobourg for the second game Friday of this week.

Oshawa B made it almost as decisive, as the PCVS Junior B team faded badly in the second half to go down 34-16. The junior finals open in Oshawa Tuesday, and should the Peterborough A team win, Oshawa is likely to concede the return game here, just as Peterborough Junior B's conceded the second game of the points to count group final on Oshawa's floor, following Friday's game.

Start Fast

PCVS A's went ahead early in the senior game and led 14-6 at the quarter on baskets by McKee three times, Connell, Hugh Dibben and Dave Dibben, and foul shots by Connell and Richardson. B. Jamieson with two and Bevan accounted for the six Cobourg points. Five more hoops and a foul shot for PCVS, while Cobourg was held scoreless put the home team well in front at half time 25-6. The fast pace was continued in the third quarter as McKee found the mark four times, with Connell, Richardson and Hugh. Dibben scoring once each against two hoops for B. Jamieson and one each for J. Jamieson and Bevan of Cobourg. The last quarter was rather quiet in comparison, Grafstein having two field goals and the two Dibbens one each. McGuire had the only last quarter score for Cobourg.

The Junior game was close to half time with PCVS in front 6-4 at the quarter and 14-13 at the half. George Hall of PCVS had 12 of his team's points at this point and was the reason PCVS were making a game of it as his teammates were a way off shooting form. Hulcio and Phillips were the main Oshawa threats to the half with eight and five points respectively. The second half was all Oshawa as Hall's foul shot in the third and Ackford's foul shot in the fourth were all the scoring the home team could muster as against three more field goals for Hulcio, three and a foul shot for Bak and two of each for Phillips.

The teams:

Woman From B.C. Badminton Star

TORONTO, March 8 — (CP).— Only the smooth, well-trained performance of Vancouver's Mrs. Claire Lovett, winner of the ladies singles event, prevented Toronto battledore stars from making a clean sweep of the five-day Canadian badminton championship tournament which ended here Saturday.

John Samis, also of Vancouver, surrendered his men's singles championship in a closely-fought 10-15, 15-9, 15-11 match to Toronto's Dick Birch, leaving Miss Lovett as the sole western representative on the 1948 championship list.

Miss Lovett clinched the ladies' singles title for a second consecutive year with a masterful 11-6, 11-5 victory over Marjorie Mapp of Toronto.

Samis drew cheers from packed galleries when, with the match tied at the end of the second set, he overcame Birch's 9-1 lead to tie the score 11-all before his former Vancouver clubmate added the winning four points. Birch, who learned his badminton on Vancouver courts lived in Montreal before coming to Toronto two years ago.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Leo Dandurand, manager of Montreal Canadiens, set a precedent in the National Hockey League, 25 years ago tonight, by suspending Sprague Cleghorn and Billy Coutu, two of his own players for rough tactics in a game with the Ottawa Senators in which Lionel Hitchman suffered a concussion. Senators won the League championship and the Stanley Cup that year.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

Peter Wilson, outspoken London Sunday Pictorial sport critic, said yesterday that Barbara Ann Scott "probably is the world's most attractive athlete" but criticized with "regret" her choice of program. Wilson said the Canadian girl appeared at Wembley barelegged and in a costume which gave the impression of a bare back.

Wilson said that Barbara Ann's costume was "a fair enough costume for ordinary skating but Miss Scott performed to the music of Ave Maria to the accompaniment of whistle and wolf calls from the stands—tribute to her charms—and went through a routine which included the travesty of a young girl praying."

Stating that Barbara Ann intends studying domestic science when she returns to Canada, Wilson adds: "At the risk of being blunt, we should like to suggest that she also study what is and what is not suitable for a display on ice."

A Chicago coroner's jury investigating the ring death of 20-year-old Sam Baroudi, Saturday reported that boxing in Illinois is of a "character so unsavory and disreputable as to warrant wholesale revision of professional boxing regulations and ethics." It returned a verdict of accidental death in Baroudi's death and recommended legislative action to eradicate present boxing abuses. Expulsion for life of Mike Spinelli, Baroudi's manager, and Al Warner, the fighter's trainer, from professional boxing also was recommended.

Mel Harwood, 40, coach of the Atlantic City Sea Gulls of the Eastern United States Hockey league, died at his home in Baltimore, Md., yesterday of a heart attack. A native of Pembroke, Ont., he attended an Ottawa high school and later played as goalkeeper on hockey teams through Saskatchewan.

For the first time since prewar days, inter-bureau hockey was resumed by the Toronto and Montreal bureaux of The Canadian Press Saturday when the Montreal team shaded Toronto 3-1 at Montreal Forum to retain the Eddie Johnson trophy. Practising what they usually write about, the teams put on a rousing battle until the final whistle.

The United States Golf Association, calling recent squabbles over links rules a threat to the game, Saturday revamped its playing code for the second time in two years. USGA president Fielding Wallace urged member clubs to "permit their courses to be used only for competitions in which the established rules are to govern."

Chief among amendments, most of which go into immediate effect, is one tightening the rule governing artificial constructions. If an obstruction touches the ball or interfered with a player's swing, the ball may be dropped within two club-lengths of the point of the obstruction nearest where it originally lay. In other words, a player now may avoid interference only to make a swing. He doesn't necessarily get a clear shot to the hole.

RCAF Flyers, Canada's Olympic hockey champions, Saturday defeated the Racing Club of Paris 5-3 in the final match of the Jean Potin cup tournament. The Paris team won the cup on the basis of their total of 16 goals in the tournament. The Canadians had a total of 14 goals.

Petes Planning To Play Senior Baseball

The Petes decided at an open meeting in the "Y" on Saturday to play senior baseball again this season. They expect there will be floodlights in Riverside Park this summer and expect to pay a rental percentage of gates to the city for use of the park. Eddie Murphy is checking with other cities on a possible revival of the COBL, Belleville having sent assurances of entering. Failing a suitable COBL, the Petes will try either for an entry in a Toronto senior league or to work an interlocking schedule with Toronto teams.

A nominating committee of Ed Murphy, Jack Turner and Bill Edger, was chosen to bring in a prospective slate of officers for an early general meeting. It was pointed out that several new players would be required to field a strong squad, but that the club had a complete set of equipment except for some new bats. It was reported that Oshawa interests were seeking an entry in a Toronto setup, while Kingston was showing some COBL interest. Further matters will come up at the next meeting.

Hi Lee To Meet Big Ben Sharpe

Wee Willie Davis, who meets Earl McCready in the main bout at the Brock St. Arena Wednesday night, hopes to prove his contention that "you have no wrestlers up around here that can touch me". Davis did not appear too well when he met McCready in the team bouts here and Earl is confident that he can flatten the huge former movie villain.

Earl McCready

Davis stands a good six feet and weighs 270 pounds but the 240-pound Canadian looks to have what it takes to beat most of the big matmen.

An all-star supporting card will have Ben Sharpe meeting the gigantic Hi Lee and Jack Moore against Dr. Ed Meske. It should be a banner evening—for the fans at least.

Toronto, Wings Deadlocked Leafs Win, Lose Game

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Five hard-fought week-end games leave Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs still deadlocked today for the National Hockey League championship, and Detroit has six games left to Toronto's five before the schedule closes March 21. The week-end struggles also just about ended Montreal Canadiens' hopes of making the Stanley Cup playoffs. With only five games left, Canadiens are seven points behind Boston Bruins who hold the fourth position and last playoff spot. Norm Dussault, the rookie winger who has been a tower of strength for Canadiens in recent games, suffered a possible brain concussion at Chicago last night, after a terrific check from Bill Gadsby of the Hawks.

The Wings on Saturday were held to a 2-2 tie by the Canadiens at Detroit, while Leafs were edging New York Rangers 2-1 at Toronto. On Sunday, Leafs suffered a 3-1 defeat at Boston, Wings took another 2-2 tie at New York and Canadiens were beaten 9-3 at Chicago.

At Chicago Sunday the Hawks rolled up their biggest score of the year in the victory over Canadiens. Dussault's injury came near the end of the first period. Gadsby hit Dussault with a terrific check at the Chicago blueline and Dussault lay motionless on the ice for several minutes while fruitless attempts were made to revive him.

Dussault finally was taken on a stretcher and at hospital was believed suffering brain concussion. X-ray plates today will show how badly he was hurt.

Divide Goals

Gaye Stewart scored two of the Chicago goals, the others divided among Roy Conacher, Red Hamill, Bud Poile, Bill Mosienko, Gus Bodnar, Ralph Nattrass and Doug Bentley. Montreal scorers were Elmer Lach, Murph Chamberlain and Maurice Richard. Each team drew six penalties including one major to Jack Stewart of Chicago, in the heavy going.

The Wings and the entire crowd at Madison Square Garden last night figured it was a Detroit win until Tony Leswick scored with 20 seconds left to give Rangers the tie. Leswick had scored also in the first period, matching the opening goal by Ted Lindsay of Detroit. Don Morrison got Detroit's second goal early in the final frame.

Take Lead

At Boston Sunday the Bruins gained a 3-0 lead before the second period ended, Grant Warwick scoring in the first frame and Milt Schmidt and Don Gallinger in the second. The Leafs, who had seen Frankie Brimsek stop several dangerous shots, finally broke Brimsek's shut-out with Joe Klukay's brainy goal in the third period.

Brimsek had just stopped a hot one from Garth Boesch and was looking for the puck in a tangle of players when Klukay got to it, and neatly shoved it in.

Gus Mortson of Toronto and Fern Flaman of Boston drew majors for fighting in the last minutes, one of several skirmishes during the game.

Saturday the Leafs beat Rangers on Howie Meeker's third period goal after Syl Apps had tied it up in the same frame, matching Tony Leswick's goal for New York in the middle period. Leswick was serving a penalty for slashing when Apps got the tying goal. Meeker turned in one of his finest games and deserved the game-winning counter.

NHL Leaders

Standing—Detroit, won 29, lost 14, drew 11, and Toronto, won 28, lost 14, drew 13, points 69.

Points — O'Connor, New York 54.

Goals—Lindsay, Detroit 31.

Assists—D. Bentley, Chicago 32.

Penalties—Barilko, Toronto, 147 minutes.

Shutouts—Lumley, Detroit, six.

LAST OF TORONTO OLYMPIANS HOME—Murray Dowey (right) goaltender for Canada's RCAF Flyers, Olympic hockey champions, is greeted by Coach Jim McPherson of the Barker's team of the THL Major series on his return from Europe on Saturday. In centre is Wally Halder, whose scoring feats helped Flyers win the title. Halder and Dowey didn't play for Barker's as the schedule concluded Saturday night, but they'll be ready to help in the playoffs which start next Wednesday.

NHL Gambling Report Delayed For 24 Hours

DETROIT, March 8 — (AP). — An official National Hockey league report on hinted player gambling was delayed 24 hours today.

NHL president Clarence S. Campbell notified Governor Kim Sigler of Michigan he would not be prepared until tomorrow to turn over the results of his investigation.

Campbell originally had intended to give Sigler his findings today. Campbell had kept mum the last few days on any further results of his week-long inquiry which produced at the outset what he called "circumstantial evidence" against two unnamed players.

Barrie Swamps Rockets In 12-4 Triumph

By The Canadian Press

It took all five games of the series to decide it but Barrie Flyers finally won the nod Saturday to meet Windsor Spitfires in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A final playoffs. Barrie handed Galt Rockets a 12-4 pasting to win the best-of-five quarter finals 3-2, and tonight move into Windor for the first tilt of the best-of-seven finals.

The Flyers completely outplayed the Rockets for the first two frames, with Barrie leading 5-0 at the end of the first and 10-1 at the end of the second. In the final session Galt outscored Barrie 3-2, as play was more on even terms.

Shifty Paul Meger, with three goals and two assists, led the Barrie snipers while Stan Long scored twice and Bruno Favero, Jerry Reid, Bill Barrett, Rusty Aiken, Ray Gariepy, Gil St. Pierre and Sam McNabney each counted once.

Robbie Robertson scored two goals for Galt in less than one minute in the third frame while the Flyers were shorthanded. Harry Pidhirny scored one in the second and Harry Marchand one in the third to complete the Rocket scoring list.

Besides the Junior OHA and the Senior NOHA tilts scheduled for tonight, Hamilton Tigers and the Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen hook up at Hamilton in the first game of their best-of-seven finals for the Senior OHA title.

Week-End Stars

(By The Canadian Press)

Gaye Stewart, Chicago, who scored twice and assisted three times as Chicago drubbed Canadiens 9-3.

Bud Poile of the Hawks who picked up four points in the same game.

Milt Schmidt, Boston, who scored what proved to be the winning marker as the Bruins defeated the Maple Leafs 3-1.

OWEN SOUN MAN STABBED — Allan Crowe, 22, of Owen Sound (right), was stabbed to death Saturday on the doorstep of the home where Arthur Hooey (left), resides. Hooey is being held by police and was remanded till March 13. Scene of the crime is shown below. There are bloodstains on snow and doorstep.

Wait Eight Weeks

OTTAWA, March 8—(CP)—At least an eight-week wait appeared certain today before Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson of the Exchequer Court hands down a decision bearing on the $863,331 income tax case of Albert Sansoucy, Montreal textile merchant. Mr. Justice Thorson said yesterday it would be the end of April, at least, before he could announce his judgment.

Auction Sale Held On 100-Yr.-Old Farm

BONARLAW, March 8—(ENS)—An auction sale was held on the farm of George Eastwood, two miles west of Bonarlaw, on Wednesday. There was a large crowd and good prices were realized.

Cows ranged in price from $110 to $170.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastwood are moving to Whitby. Over 100 years ago the Eastwoods took up residence in Rawdon township, and Mr. Eastwood is the last one of the pioneer family.

Ask Suggestion For Further Nationalization

LONDON, Mar. 8—(CP)—A Labor party pamphlet issued yesterday invited party members and supporters to consider the future program of nationalization and to suggest before the next general election further industries to be brought under public ownership.

The pamphlet showed that party headquarters anticipates a further extension of nationalization beyond fuel, industries, transport, civil aviation, the Bank of England and cable and wireless services, all dealt with in legislation introduced since the 1945 general election.

Without giving a hint of what industries are on the priority list for nationalization, the pamphlet noted that at the last Labor party annual convention there were resolutions calling for nationalization of chemicals, the automobile, industry, cotton, shipbuilding, milk distribution, betting, breweries, water supply and land.

"Some may consider this list too long, others too short," said the pamphlet. "Many will doubt whether these are necessarily the right sector for further nationalization."

The pamphlet continued that the choice for nationalization should be made from industries which are one or more of the following:

1. Basic as supplies of vital raw material to other industries, to human life, health or defence.
2. Monopolized by a large trust or trusts.
3. Inefficient because unable to find finance for capital developments, split up into units too small for economic operation, or burdened with particularly low standards of management.
4. Investors of capital on a large scale.
5. Suffering from bad industrial relations.

Sergeant Killed At Practice

SUDBURY, March 8 — (CP). — Sgt.-Maj. B. R. Bignell of Toronto died in hospital late yesterday some 20 hours after he was shot through the head in what city police described as a target practice accident.

Bignell, whose widow and two children live in Toronto, had been a gunnery instructor here with the 56th Light Anti-Aircraft Battery since last August.

The permanent force officer, in his early 30s, was found lying face down on the miniature rifle range in a basement of the Sudbury Armouries. A Luger automatic lay nearby with an exploded shell jammed in the breech. Police said Bignell apparently went to the basement for target practice.

A sister, Mrs. Russell (Gladys) Down, lives at St. Thomas.

Plan National Group Of Canterbury Clubs

LONDON, Ont., March 8 — (CP). — A co-ordinating committee to form a national association of Canterbury clubs was set up yesterday at the end of a three-day convention. Canterbury clubs are composed of Anglican university students.

Members of the committee, which also will study relations with United States clubs are bill McCauley, Montreal; Ellis Evans, Toronto; Robert Welch, Hamilton; David Adams, Guelph, Stanley Genle, London, Ont.; and Douglas Burns, Kingston.

Archbishop G. F. Kingston, Primate of the Church of England in Canada, urged world-wide extension of fellowship among students.

Western University 70 Years Old Hall Installed As President

LONOON, Ont., March 8.—(CP).—Pomp and pageantry honored the 70th birthday of the University of Western Ontario yesterday.

Dr. George Edward Hall was installed as Western's new president, while five honorary degrees were conferred and a silver mace, gift of the University of London, England, was oficially received.

The Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Anglican Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of all Canada; James S. Bell, London city treasurer; Dr. David Hughes Parry, Vice-Chancellor of the University of London; Mrs. Jessie A. M. Gilmore, Western's first woman graduate, and Dr. H. E. McMahon, former Western graduate, now Professor of Pathology and Bacteriology at Tufts Medical Schol, Boston, Mass., all received degrees of Doctor of Laws, except Dr. McMahon, who was given a Doctor Science degree.

In his inaugural address, President Hall said:

'In accepting this responsibility I accept also the challenges which are inherent in the position.

"It is my firm conviction that universities must recognize three major responsibilities—1, to teach in the most adequate manner possible; 2, to advance knowledge through research and investigation; 3, to develop men and women.

"Our universities should be available for those who are capable of taking advantage of higher education, for those who give evidence of being competent to think, for those who are potential leaders—and for all those, lack of funds should not be permitted to determine their future."

He was installed by Chancellor Arthur R. Ford.

Dr. Hall said universities face two major problems. One is whether to become "retreats" for scholars or institutes for teaching the sciences along highly-technical lines. The other is whether to admit only the most brilliant students who can absorb a high standard of education or a large number for whom standards must be lower. Each side has its merits.

BANK CLEARANCES UP

Last week bank clearances total was $2,276,465, the second highest week to date in 1948. Highest week of the year was the first week in January.

PAGING PORT HOPE!

Peterborough is faring badly in a comparison of collections with the neighboring town of Port Hope in regard to the Canadian Appeal for Children. The Port reports collections now over $3,500 while the city total to date stands at about half that figure.

MARKER DEADLINE

Hon. George Doucett, Minister of Highways announced over the week-end that the deadline for using old car markers is March 22. Demands for the new plates across Ontario, and it is likely police will be given orders to crack down after the March 22 deadline. The Minister says there will be no extension.

LONG SERVICE BUTTONS

Edward Hollingsworth and W. A. Mowry, of Local 191, International Moulders and Foundry Workers Union of North America, have been presented with gold buttons by the parent organization in Cincinnati, Ohio. This was in recognition of 45 years continuous membership in the organization, both having been initiated in Local 191 on March 3, 1903.

TURN IN PLEDGE CARDS

In some cases canvassers are having difficulty contacting people who took out pledge cards for the Red Cross and Community Fund campaign. If these people would bring cards or cash contributions to the headquarters of the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund, 332½ George St., in the Bradburn Building, or mail them to this address, it would speed up the conclusion of the campaign. As of Friday night the total stood at $61,500 either collected or pledged.

EXPECT TAX INCREASE

Kitchener council expects an increase of a few mills in the tax rate they are to strike Wednesday. In the meantime Ald. Ainley says "There will probably be some first class slashing to reduce the estimates to rock bottom."

COUNTY ASSESSOR

D. B. Turnbull has begun his duties as county assessor in Waterloo. He has been assessor in North Dumfries township for six years. His immediate work is preparation of the 1949 assessment of Waterloo county.

BRANTFORD RATE 47 MILLS

The municipal estimate committee of Brantford city council fixed Friday the tax rate at 47 mills, an increase of three mills over last year. First requisitions totalled 53 mills. Since then the committee has been paring appropriations to the 47 mill level.

HOMECOOKING POPULAR

Improved weather was the probable reason for a larger market on Saturday both inside and outside. Eggs and poultry were plentiful inside, but an unusually large quanttiy of homecooking was sold. Sales were reported as much better on the outside market also.

AUTOMATIC SPRINKLER?

One Simcoe St. store has an automatic window-ledge washer —whether it wants it or not. A neat hole in the side of a waterpipe down the front of the wall sends a steady spray along the window ledge, and, in a further endeavor at neatness, sends it right into a sewer drain under it.

CALLING THE U.N.O.

Rules of the Geneva Convention, and other international agreements concerning the treatment of neutrals, were ignored at noon today as the consistency of the snow proved "just right" for snowballs. Many an adult's dignity took a loss in the onslaught of white missiles from the hands of school students. The factory workers managed to get in a bit of fun with themselves, too.

SCHOOL FUND COLLECTIONS

Total collections in the schools among students for the Community Chest drive were $443.06—all in pennies. Last year, it took six men four hours to count and roll the "take." This year, with the use of the Police Department's new coin-rollers, the job was done in two hours. The total was considerably lower than last year. Only two schools—St. Peter's and St. Mary's Convent — exceeded their objectives.

NO SERIOUS FIRES

Several chimney fires, and one plugged chimney resulted in calls to the Fire Department over the week-end. No serious outbreaks were reported Friday afternoon, were reported Friday aftrnoon, one at 561 Patterson St., residence of W. R. Jones, the other at 373 Bethune St., Mrs. C. Clements. There were no alarms on Saturday, but three on Sunday. Chimney fires were extinguished early in the morning at 138 Macia St., rsidence of William Saunders, and in the evening at 219 Rogers St., residence of John Casey. Firemen were forced to clean out a chimney at 313 Murray St., residence of Mrs. C. Hutchinson, on Sunday noon when smoke filled the premises.

Mayor Pays Tribute To Reeve McIlmoyl

"You've taken my breath away," said Mayor W. G. Ovens when informed by The Examiner this morning of the death of Reeve Gilbert McIlmoyl of Smith.

"He was one of the best reeves I ever had the pleasure of working with. He was a good, sound administrator; he was always cooperative in matters between the city and the county and Smith Township, and he was always friendly and good-humored. I'm going to miss him very much. I knew he had not been in the best of health, but the last time I was talking he said he had never felt better. I'm sorry to hear of his death. It is a real shock, as it will be to the members of the several bodies in the city on which he was a county representative."

"One thing I liked about Gilbert McIlmoyl was that he always told you what he had in his mind," said Reeve M. H. Johnston. "He didn't hold things back. He was a real good fellow. I liked him very much. We never had a harsh word, but always got along well together. I was in the county council all the time he was. I can say that he will be greatly missed this coming session. He had quite a warning last summer that he wasn't in the best of health, but I suppose we don't pay enough attention to such experiences when they come."

Sidney Whatley War Veteran Dies At Age 67

Sidney Whatley, 67, for many years an outstanding figure in military circles in Peterborough, and recently retired as chief caretaker of the Peterborough Armoury, died suddenly Sunday afternoon after a short illness at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Whatley was associated with His Majesty's forces since January 1, 1900, when he joined the 1st Welsh Regiment in England. He was a native of Warminster, England, and after serving in the South African War, went to India with the forces. In 1912 he came to Canada, on reserve of his regiment, and in 1914 was re-called to serve with his unit in the First Great War. He was invalided back to Canada through war injuries in 1916, and was appointed inspector of munitions in Peterborough, until 1918. From that time until recently, Mr. Whatley was an active member of the reserve force, at one time being a captain quartermaster. For the past seven years he was chief caretaker of the Peterborough Armoury and was only recently retired.

SIDNEY WHATLEY

"Sid" Whatley, as he was familiarly called by hundreds of Peterborough citizens, was a familiar figure about the Canadian Legion hall where he was secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association and later the Canadian Legion, from 1918 to 1929. He was one of those chiefly instrumental in the establishing of the present Legion hall, and his cheery countenance and manner will be missed by many.

He was returning officer for the riding of Peterborough West in several federal elections, and was a member of AF & AM, Grand Lodge of Scotland.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, Phyllis (Mrs. W. Rehill), Omemee; three sons, Cyril, Kenneth and William, of Peterborough; four sisters, Blanche, Marjorie and Cicely, all of Warminster, England, and Mrs. Olive Garrett of this city; and two brothers, Charles and Colin, of Warminster.

The funeral will be held from Belleghem's funeral parlors on Wednesday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock, with interment at Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. W. J. Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican Church will conduct the service.

34 Suggestions Pay Off $717 To CGE Employees

Thirty-four suggestions for factory improvements accounted for a total distribution of $717 to alert CGE employees the week before last. P. S. Keeting, structural steel, was top man with an award of $180 for an idea concerning improved methods in the fabrication of steel structures. Miss Mary McCusker, fractional motors department, was second top "man" whose suggestion effected a saving of winding material for fractional motors; it netted her $150. R. Clifford, orders and stores department, gained $112.50 for improvements in purchasing routine.

G. W. Clarke of the instrument laboratory received $67.50 and J. Price, carpenter shop, came close with a winning of $65 for his suggestion. The meter department was represented by E. J. Westman, holder of an answer to a $36 question, and plant engineering's J. A. Cooke was awarded $15 for his contribution. H. E. Mowry, switchgear, received $10.50, and W. Boulton, an even $10.

Some of the other awards of varying amounts were as follows: G. Chalupka, $7.50; R. H. Clements, $7; J. U. Reil, H. Turner and R. J. Dickson, each $5, and C. Killingbeck, $3.

4 Cars Damaged In Two Crashes

Two accidents in Sunday night, within two hours of each other, caused some damage to the four vehicles involved.

About 6.30, a truck driven by Tony Crebar, R.R. 8, Peterborough was struck by the car of Cecil Succee, R.R. 3, Peterborough, when it skidded on the ice on Highway No. 7 at Lansdowne St. into the rear of the truck. Herbert Edwards, R.R. 3, Peterborough, a passenger with Succee, received a slight cut on the head. Damage to the truck was on the side, front wheel, frame, bumper and running board. All these were also damaged on the car. PC Ray McMillan investigated.

George and Perry Sts. were the scene of the next accident, about 8.30, when the cars of Frank Poole, Bobcaygeon and Thomas Morley, 685 Gilchrist St. collided on the icy streets. The Poole car received dents to two fenders and hubcaps and a broken foglamp. One fender and the grill were damaged in the other car. PC Allan Edmison investigated.

Cancel Mobile Run

Peterborough's 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (the Prince of Wales Rangers) RCA held a training workout Sunday at the Armoury with good attendance. Training included care and maintenance of equipment, and action drill on the snow-covered square.

A mobile run which had been planned was cancelled due to road conditions but it is expected that this phase of the training will be held at a later date.

Regimental training will be continued on Tuesday night, when a number of recruits will commence their first sessions with the regiment.

Bill Might Affect House Projects

TORONTO, March 8—(CP)—D. B. Mansur, president of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, said yesterday that proposed legislation in the provincial house might affect the 60-odd wartime housing developments in Ontario.

Commenting on legislation indicated in the Speech from the Throne, Mr. Mansur was concerned that the measure would give the provincial government the power to designate any wartime housing project as the sole responsibility of the Dominion government.

He said the wartime projects in Ontario included 13,608 houses, including many at Windsor, Hamilton, Bratford, St. Catharines, the Toronto area, Ajax, Peterborough and Ottawa.

A federal official and head of the housing agency, Mr. Mansur said "we are very interested in this proposed legislation but we are not quite sure of the implications. As soon as the bill appears we will have some idea of what it is about."

Robert Muir Leaving City

One of the best-known members of the local military, Robert "Bobby" Muir, veteran of the 21st Battalion, CEF, is leaving Peterborough. He will live in Toronto for a few months until he decides where he will take up permanent residence.

Mr. Muir was connected with the Canadian Reserve Forces from 1906 to 1934, first enlisting in the 24th Battery in the old Mark St. drill hall of East City. On his return from overseas, he joined the 57th Peterborough Rangers and rose to the rank of sergeant. Later, he transferred to the 4th Battalion, CMGC, acting as CQMS under Major H. Dodds. After two years' service there, he transferred again to the newly-formed Peterborough Rangers under Lt.-Col. A. W. McPherson, and served with that unit until 1934, when he was awarded the long service medal.

In 1926, he was appointed chief caretaker of the armories here, a position he held until 1938. He was considered the best stores and equipment man in Military District No. 3 (Kingston), and always rated a 100 per cent marking in the infantry competitions for care of stores.

Always a determined and fearless fighter for the interests of ex-service men, tribute was paid him by many of the veterans of the city who expressed their regret at his departure.

"Bobby" was one of the founders of the returned men's club and of the local branch of the Peterborough GWVA, in which he held every office during his membership, being elected president of the branch in 1920.

He is also a member of the Red Patch and the local Legion branch.

32 People Win Red Cross Safety Awards

Thirty-two people, most of them 'teen-age boys and girls, received awards Saturday afternoon signifying their qualifications as instructors in swimming and water safety. The awards were made at a banquet which concluded the final "lecture" in a Red Cross course which the eentrants, from the ctiy and district, took last week. There were also four presentations of Senior Swimmer Badges.

Mrs. C. J. Ray, president of the local branch of the Red Cross, in welcoming the successful candidates, laid stress on the fact that some were from outlying centres of the district and gave the visitors a special welcome.

She said that this class, the second held in the city (Peterborough was the first centre in Canada to sponsor such a course, represented a valuable asset to the community in turning out young people qualified to teach swimming and supervise safety at swimming places

Alvin Clark, physical director of the YMCA; emphasized the need of Peterborough city and the Kawartha districts in general to increase and improve their swimming facilities. With greater demand of residents, due to shortened working hours and with the important tourist trade calling for ever increasing improved facilities, there should be a drive to see that bathing beaches and well-supervised swimming places be established.

The course was run by W. R. McAdam and A. T. Davey of the Ontario divisional office of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Presentations of the awards were made by Mrs. F. E. Hooper, convener of swimming and water safety of the local branch.

Those receiving awards as instructors were: Nanita Bogue, Beryl Aker, Gordon Buck, Marguerite Buck, Lillian Coones, Mary Cockeram, Mrs. V. R. Curry (who has been appointed an examiner for tests, it was announced), Lynn Davidson, Herb Cardwell of Wallace's Point, Ruth Floyd, Mary Gerow, Norma Gant, Jill Groombridge, Jack Forbes, Elaine Humphreys, Betty Jacquith, J. Millard, Merle Jobbitt, Lenore McDonald, Beaverton, Barbara Moore, Peggy Noyes, Joan Patterson, Len Pulver, Annabeth Riddell, Beb Rumary, Kenneth Stacey, Dorotny Saunders, Vera Tasket, Frank Wright, Robert White of Beaverton, Mrs. Velma Wilson of Keene, Grace Webber of Beaverton.

WIN AT CARNIVAL

"Patsy" Morgan, 19 Conger St., is probably too young to appreciate the $50 door prize she won at the Y's Men's Carnival Saturday night. Howard McLean said she was about five or six years, but she held the ticket for the biggest bundle of bills she could call her own in her young life. Winner of the doll, pinned-up with dollar bills amounting to more than $50, was Howard Whitney, 27 Aylmer St.

709 Applicants Seek Homes 300 Would Purchase Council Committee Learns

Twenty additional applications for houses have been received at the office of H. S. Longhurst of Wartime Housing Ltd. since the date of the last report, Feb. 23, which was prepared for information to the council. These latest applications are classed among the urgent. Both Mr. Longhurst and Ald. Gordon Armstrong, chairman of the council's housing committee, affirm that every practical precaution is being taken to ensure that available houses are allotted to applicants on the basis of income. Preference goes to ex-service men. Some members of the council in an informal discussion the other night expressed concern about the $37.50 a month houses going to men whose income demanded a preference for them in the disposal of that accommodation.

The report from the Wartime Housing division lists 709 applicants. Of them, 319 were Peterborough residents prior to the war, and they have overseas service; 158 were residents but have no overseas service; there were 145 ex-service men who were non-residents prior to the war; and finally there are 87 non-residents before the war and are without overseas service.

254 Without Children

The classification of the 709 applicants extends to the number of children for the reason that a preference is given to parents in the housing emergency. Seven of these families have five children or more; 11 have four children; 36 have three children; 113 have two children (each); 286 have one child; and there are also 254 without children.

The review goes even beyond those actual numbers, with this comment: "Of the above 254 without children, at least 140 are 'expecting' in the spring or early summer.

"Of the 709, about 300 are willing to buy wartime houses if available. These are the most urgent cases; almost without exception living at either the husband's or the wife's home, or in one room.

"Family trouble is prevalent, and we have about 40 doctors' letters telling of acute nervous conditions due to strained relations."

Attached to the report is a copy of the application form which must be signed by those who hope to become tenants. This information was obtained by the Armstrong committee as part of the basis of its recommendation to the Council that 200 extra Central Mortgage houses of the improved wartime housing type be applied for.

Section Filled

Included in the report is an outline of the 128 dwellings of Housing Enterprises, the Dutton subdivision, in the McKellar St. area. There have been 125 rented and occupied, and the three others have been allotted and will be presently occupied.

Of the 125 tenants: 97 were veterans and 28 non-veterans. Seven had no children; 63 had one child; 42 two children; 11 had three; two had each four children

Rentals of the houses occupied by non-vets are: three at $44 a month; three at $48; 16 at $50; six at $57.

With respect to Housing Enterprises, it was found that some difficulty was experienced with regard to the higher rents. Many of the returned men were definitely unable to afford a rental of $44, apart from the higher figures."

H. Yudin Heads B'nai B'rith; Dr. Zacks Speaks

At the regular meeting of the Peterborough B'nai B'rith lodge, held Sunday night, Dr. Louis Zacks was guest speaker. His address was in conjunction with the Canadian-wide publicity campaign on cancer, to be held in April. All local organizations and lodges are being asked to support this campaign, and threee members of the lodge volunteered to be the representatives of the lodge on the Peterborough Cancer Society. These were Jacob Low, Ben Collis and Zimmel Levine.

Dr. Zacks stated that during the last war, there were some 40,000 Canadian soldier killed, whereas during the same period, there were some 80,000 people who died of cancer. Though the field of cancer is still a partially blind one from the view of medicine, nevertheless, if cancer is found in its early stages, people can be saved. It is up to each person to see his doctor, whenever they feel any unusual pain. Many questions were asked of the speaker, in regard to cancer, and the address was one of great interest.

There was also the election of officers, and the following were elected:

President, Harry "Hilly" Yudin; first vice, Fred Pulver; second vice, Morris Black; secretary, Irving Moldaver; treasurer, Isadore Botnick; chaplain, Isadore Black; trustees, Ben Epston, Zimmel Levine and Leo Rice; Ben Abramsky.

The annual installation of these officers will take place in April.

MUSKRAT WITH IDEAS—Some of the handsomest fur coats you see with a mink in your mind's eye are not mink at all . . . never saw a mink, in fact are the natural enemy of the mink, on account of they are muskrat. But handsome they are, with their warm, glossy skins let out and manipulated in the coat's construction as is mink, and, of course, to be sold at a fraction of mink price. Such a coat (to be had in full or three-quarter length) is shown above; the model has full, luxurious sleeves, a full ripple back, and a close throat with tuxedo effect colar.

Couple Wed In Warkworth Will Reside In Toronto

WARKWORTH, March 8.—On Saturday, March 6, Doreen Lenore Peterson, only daughter of Mr. J. A. Peterson and the late Mrs. Peterson, became the bride of Arthur Bryce Arnold, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Arnold of Brooklin. Rev. H. G. Lester performed the ceremony at the bride's home in Warkworth, which was tastefully decorated with evergreen and palms for the occasion.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white brocaded satin with long pointed sleeves, sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and gathered skirt with bustle effect. Her floor length veil was caught to her head with orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of Bettertime roses. The only attendant was Miss Marion Arnold, sister of the groom, who wore a gown of frosted blue moire, with matching mittens and halo of blue flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink Briarcliffe roses. Mr. Hugh Arnold attended his brother. The bride's cousin, Mr. Jack Peterson, was at the piano.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. G. B. Patterson, aunt of the bride, attired in a two-piece Montreux blue crepe dress with black accessories and wearing a corsage of Bettertime roses, assisted by Mrs. A. P. Arnold, mother of the groom, dressed in heaven blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink Briarcliffe roses.

Friends of the bride who served at the reception were Misses Lila Peterson, Lois Fowler, Noreen Oliver, Ferne Wilson, Yvonne Edwards and Mrs. Evelyn King.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold will live in Toronto.

Jean Baker. During the discussion of plans for the teen-age conference of Ontario and Quebec delegates to be held here April 1, 2 and 3, further plans were made for the dance that is being held to raise funds for this project. The date is Saturday, March 13, and it will be an informal dress-up party in the recreation room at the YWCA with Grace Ingram in charge of arrangements. Tickets may also be obtained from Eleanor McGee and Wilma Watson. Entertainment for the meeting was provided by Mrs. Q. McKinney who showed two films entitled "Light With Father" and "Operations Fido."

Marmora Couple Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

MARMORA, March 8.—(ENS). —Sunday was of special significanse to Mr. and Mrs. James Vilneff of Victoria avenue, Marmora—it was their golden wedding anniversary.

They were married on March 7, 1898, at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Philip Woodcock, by Rev. J. C. Wilson, resident Methodist minister of Tweed at that time. He also performed the marriage ceremony for two of Mrs. Vilneff's sisters and two of her brothers within a few years.

Mr. Vilneff, who was christened James Eseby, was born 73 years ago on the Snow Road in the township of Elzevir near Actinolite. A son of the late James Sheppard Vilneff, river driver, and Mary Jane Lindsay, Mr. Vilneff first attended school at Denbigh and continued his education at the Victoria school in Belmont township. He recalls his first teacher at Victoria school (formerly Holcombe school house). She was Miss Holcombe and Mr. Vilneff thinks her Christian name was Elizabeth. He finished his education at Old Havelock school.

When residing in Stanwood, he met his future wife, Fanny Woodcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodcock, Tweed.

Mrs. Vilneff, who is six years younger than her husband, received all her schooling in Tweed public school, remembering today such teachers as Mary Alexander and Maggie Holdcroft.

Attendants at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Vilneff were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Woodcock, sister and brother-in-law of the groom. The weather that day was springlike, with all the snow gone.

Following their marriage, they lived in Tweed for about seven years, during which time their three daughters were born, Agnes, Jessie and Elsie. Jessie, who married Edward Taylor, died 18 years ago. Agnes is now Mrs. Byron Emmons of Kingston, while Elsie, Mrs. Ralph Taylor, lives in Oshawa. From Tweed Mr. and Mrs. Vilneff moved to Madoc Junction, then to Thurlow township and settled in Marmora 23 years ago.

Mr. Vilneff has a fondness for farm life and put in many years of his life on various farms in Central Ontario. Later he varied his employment, working on the C.P.R. section at Tweed, the C.N. R. section at Marmora and also entering the employ of the Pearce Company and the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company Limited in turn.

Poor health a few years ago halted his industrious life. As a hobby since coming to Marmora, Mr. Vilneff raised Ancona chickens for exhibiting at Marmora Fair. His favorite pastime when in good health was angling. Mrs. Vilneff has enjoyed quilting and general sewing. She is very fond of reading. She possesses a keen sense of humor.

Questioned about the growing feminine murmuring about washing dishes she replied, "that doesn't bother me because dishes have to be dirtied if you want a good meal. Once the meal is over I get after them and they are soon done." Mr. and Mrs. Vilneff are members of the Marmora Free Methodist church.

Relatives visiting over the week-end to extend congratulations were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor and son Douglas and Mrs. Gerald Goulding and daughter Linda of Oshawa; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Martin and sons James and Russell and a grandson and granddaughter, of Peterborough; Miss Jean Taylor, nurse-in-training at Civic hospital, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor and daughter Sharon, Newmarket; Mrs. Simon Vilneff and family, Marmora township, and Mrs. John Cooper, Madoc.

Of Interest to Women

THE MINIATURE BOOK to end all miniature books . . . Recently a picture from the U.S. was printed in many Canadian newspapers showing what was claimed to be the smallest book in the world. Mrs. A. G. Howatt of Montreal saw it, and she was not taking statements like that lying down. She phoned her local newspaper to say her husband had one that was even smaller. Judging by the photo above, her record in pint-sized books is going to be hard to beat. The book, which is smaller than a postage stamp—measuring three-eighths by four-eighths inches, contains poems by Rudyard Kipling.

For Tuesday, March 9

A pleasant and profitable condition may be expected to crown well-directed efforts, with industry and application enhanced by tact, good sense and prudent use of the personal element. Magnetism, gracious and sympathetic approach, rather than harsh and drastic action, could prove much more effective at clearing up difficulties. Consideration for others in family, affectional as well as business or cultural relations, assure lucrative and happy culminations.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a profitable and happy year in which home ties, romance, professional life as well as financial or business interests depends largely on the personal attitude and behavior. Good cheer, consideration for the interests and feelings of others, could be more effective than any show of force or sordidness. Family, social life, cultural contacts, affable and gracious tactics could bring joy, enhanced popularity and prestige, even in commonplace aims or objectives.

A child born on this day may have a flair for the artistics in art, music, literature, its social and business life being enriched by its personal talents, graces and charm.

QUESTION: Will you please tell me just how I can make fish and chips like those we buy at the shops. Mine taste good but never look so nice. I know the shortening must be the best and it must be hot enough to brown a cube of bread in 60 seconds. But I never get the batter to puff out like those we buy. Also just what kind of fish is the best. Any thing you can tell me will be greatly appreciated. Mrs. R. P.

ANSWER: Halibut is the white-fleshed fish that should be used for deep fat frying but the fish fillets that are imported from our Maritime provinces, and fillet of flounder, and cod are also used.

Fritter Batter No. 1

One and one-quarter cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 beaten egg, 2-3 cup milk. Mix and sift dry ingredients, then add beaten egg and milk. Combine mixtures and beat about 3 minutes.

Fritter Batter No. 2

One cup flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup water, 2 tablespoons olive oil or salad oil, 1 beaten egg white. Mix and sift dry ingredients, then add water and beat until smooth—about 3 minutes. Add oil. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white just before frying.

Potatoes should be sliced thinly as possible, or cut in strips 3-8 inch square and soaked for at least ½ hour in cold water and dried before frying.

Most of the fish and chip shops do not use egg in their fritter batter, but this would insure yours puffing. They have such a large quantity of fat that they heat it 25 deg. hot than you should with a smaller quantity. Thus, when the battered fish strikes the hot fat the batter instantly puffs and the puffs are cooked and keep their shape.

Write to me again if you need more specific information.

QUESTION: Kindly send me your recipe for peach upside - down cake and peach crumb. Mrs. P. L.

ANSWER:

Peach Upside-Down Cake

In a small frying-pan or round baking dish put 3 tablespoons butter and 2-3 to ¾ cup brown sugar and stir over low heat until well mixed and melted. Place halves of peaches, cut side down in this syrup (or use any other fruit—a nice design results if you place a maraschino cherry under each cavity of the peach halves). Pour over

Cottage Pudding mixture: Beat 1 egg and add ½ cup sugar while beating. Add 1 cup flour sifted with 1 teaspoon baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt. Then add 1-3 cup milk, and 3 tablespoons melted shortening or cooking oil, and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. until batter shrinks from side of pan slightly and is golden. Turn out on round platter and serve with syrup from fruit, and whipped cream.

Peach Crumb
(or Peach Crumble Pudding)

Six or 8 peaches, peeled and halved (or use 12 or 16 drained canned peach halves), ½ cup brown sugar, ½ cup sifted flour, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ cup butter. Place peaches in greased baking dish. Work remaining ingredients together in consistency of fine crumbs and sprinkle over peaches. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 25 to 30 minutes. This is best served warm with heavy pouring cream.

Girl Advised To Get Job Give Up Idea Of Marriage

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am almost 17 and I am engaged to a boy who is almost 18 and a senior in high school. I am very much in love with this boy, but I make terrible grades at school and will never get out of school because I will never have enough credits. We are both planning a college education, but I will never get there.

Dorothy Dix

I want to quit school and get married. I want to get a job, to do anything except to go to school. Everyone in my family on both sides has gone to college and my father is a lawyer, but I just hate school.

What shall I do? Shall I tell my family that I want to quit school and get married? But this boy couldn't support me just now.

A VERY WORRIED YOUNG GIRL

ANSWER: If you are so allergic to an education as your letter indicates, it is certainly a waste of time and money for you to even think about going to college. As the old saying goes, you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink, and you can't cram an education into the brains that have no desire for one.

I have known many parents who made cruel sacrifices to try to educate children who had no interest whatever in improving their minds, and who would go to school for years and years, because they were made to do so, without even learning how to read intelligently. But these same children very often turned out to be keen in learning any sort of trade or occupation that brought them in money and which interested them. Evidently you belong in this class.

Work—Not Marriage

You hate school, but you would like a job. So I think your parents will be wise in not forcing you to go to school any longer, but will put you to work. But, for goodness sake, have enough sense not to get married before you are ready for it. And especially don't inveigle the young boy with whom you think you are in love into marriage. If he is going to take a college course, it will be a long, long time before he will be able to support a wife.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married three years to a man who is considered intelligent, but who is very stingy and who does not give me credit for having sense enough to handle the money I earn. We both have jobs and make about the same salary. Besides which, I keep house. I work six days a week. In addition to my housework, I have to iron my husband's work clothes at night as he claims the laundry will tear them. He requires me to turn my pay check over to him and he gives me barely enough for carfare and lunch money.

My job is one which requires that I be well-dressed and neat, but he does not allow me enough to buy clothes to keep up my appearance as I should. I feel that since I turn my money over to him that we should have a joint bank account, but he will not agree to this.

Is there any chance of his ever changing?

PUZZLED SUE

ANSWER: Not the slightest. A tightwad never changes. For stinginess is not only the meanest of the vices, it is the most incurable. When a woman finds out that she is married to a man who regards her as nothing but a slave who toils for his enrichment, and who takes all she earns without the slightest appreciation, she had as well face the truth and recognize the fact that he will never be even honest with her. He will always grab everything she makes, and she will never be of any interest to him except as a money-earner.

I can think of nothing meaner in a man than for him to not only take all of his wife's wages, but her labor in making a home and his requiring her to wash his dirty clothes at night, and then begrudge her enough money to buy clothes she actually needs.

DEAR MISS DIX: My wife is as cold as dry ice towards me, but she would make a very merry widow. She has all the comforts of life that I give her, plus her family who live on us, so she doesn't need me around. She and her mother are so attached that they say their prayers together in our bed-room while I am trying to sleep.

POOR HUSBAND

ANSWER: You are indeed in a sad case, but don't discourage your wife in prayer, even if it does interrupt your sleep. Maybe sometime she will get around to asking God to make her a better and more considerate wife.

Directions

Canned Green Beans (1 cup?

To make the Black Bean Soup soak 2 cups black beans 12 hours. Drain. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in frying-pan and add 1 sliced onion and saute 5 minutes. Then add to it, in large kettle, the beans, 2 quarts water, 1 sliced carrot, 2 stalks chopped celery, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1½ teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ⅛ teaspoon cayenne, 1 ham-bone. Cover and simmer 3½ hours, adding more water as necessary. This may be served strained or not as desired. Nice garnished with slice of lemon and hard-cooked egg when served.

To make the Chocolate Cornstarch Pudding, Mix 3 tablespoons cornstarch with ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup sugar and stir until smooth. Scald 1¾ cups milk with 1 or 1½ oz. unsweetened chocolate. Pour a little of the scalded milk mix over the cornstarch mixture, stirring, then mix all in top of double boiler stirring until thick. Cover and cook 25 minutes. Cool, add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Pour into serving dishes, sprinkle top with shredded cocoanut and chill.

Canada's Foreign Policy In Palestine Debates

By WALTER O'HEARN

NEW YORK— There were at least six behind the scenes conferences Friday between members of the Security Council in an effort to straighten out the Palestine tangle. The Canadian delegation did not play a prominent part in any of these conversations.

Canada's contribution had been significant enough, inasmuch as General A. G. L. McNaughton's short statement on Wednesday virtually killed any chance of the United States formula — or that part of it which would have the Security Council sanction partition before proceeding to conciliation. The Canadian delegate, supporting a Belgian amendment, was warmly backed by China and when the session closed it was seen that the American proposal could not muster enough votes to pass.

The immediate American State Department reaction to this took the form of dark hints that some delegates might receive instructions to change their stand from their home governments. It is virtually certain thta strong American representations have been made in the capitals of Argentina, France, China, Colombia — yes, and Canada.

But provision had also been made for the failure of this high pressure salesmanship. Yesterday all efforts were being made to reach a compromise which could slide through the Council without serious opposition. Yet there was very little area for compromise. The Belgian proposal is very close to the American one, except that it envisions partition as a starting point in Palestine discussions and not as an accepted principle. How to reach a midway position between a starting point and an adopted principle, is a mild puzzler. It would be a neat trick if you could do it.

Breach of Peace?

Proponents of the Belgian formula, which consists merely of deleting the first paragraph of the American resolution on Palestine, point out that it also removes an anomaly from the United States proposal, for that proposal speaks in its first paragraph of proceeding under chapter VII of the U.N. Charter (the chapter dealing with breaches of the peace and then goes on in succeeding paragraphs to talk of conciliation. It says in effect "here is a clear breach of the peace which we are determined to put down; now let us talk conciliation." Even when you believe that proceedings in Palestine are a clear breach of the peace, that proposition seems self-contradictory.

The reaction to the Canadian stand here has taken many curious turns and it has evoked at least one provocative thesis among U.N. observers. It is argued that twice in as many weeks—on the Korea elections in the Little Assembly and now on Palestine in the Security Council — Canada has stood up boldly against the United Stattes. It is further argued that these emphatic statements of difference of view with the Americans—where those differences exist—is now part of Canadian foreign policy.

The theorists who argue this way are divided in their explanations of this phenomenon. One school of thought would have it that Canada resents the charge, frequently made by pro-Soviet sources that Canada is in the American pocket.

Another and perhaps more thoughtful school comes up with a different explanation. They say that high government circles in Ottawa feel that the United States is plunging too far and too fast, if not into war at least into some deeper global trouble and that Canadian spokesmen are performing the modest function of a check-rein.

The whole theory may be wrong, as even the observers who advance it admit. But the second explanation is given considerable prominence here and is considered more attractive and logical. It acquits Canada of the suspicion of mere petulance and gives due regard to the real, abiding friendship between Canadians and Americans. At any rate our delegates are standing up to be counted—if not be counted on by a complacent American state department.

Eyes On Guatemala

The antics of the republic of Guatemala are causing a little concern here. There is no indication yet that the threatened gestures of this Latin American state toward the British colony of Honduras will come before the Security Council. Certainly the action of the Guatemalans in denouncing Scotch whiskey has caused headshakings here but it hardly seems to call for United Nations action. The UN has no lunacy commission.

But the trend Guatemala represents is deeply disturbing to some diplomats here. Dr. Juan Jose Arebalo took over the presidency of this little republic two years ago March 15 at the head of a coalition of Frente Popular, Partido Accion Revolucionaria and Accion Nacional. Since that time little Guatemala has shaken its fist at the world.

Dr. Arebalo's background is academic. He taught at San Jose in his native country and was rector of the Argentine University of Cucuman. One might deduce from this that Guatemala policy reflects the aggressive anti-foreignism of the Peron regime. But it is not as simple as that. Dr. Arebalo, whose Argentine experiences were not uniformly happy, is backed by political groups well to the left of the Peronists of the Argentine. His government is rather aggressively anti-clerical. At the same time it has not been unfriendly to Franco Spain.

Some observers see Guatemala as the entering spot for the wedge Russia is trying to drive between the United States and her Latin neighbors. Guatemala's anti-foreign activities of the moment are directed against Britain. As recently as last week in the Little Assembly, Guatemala voted obediently with United States. But it has often been the history with republics south of the Rio Grande that anti-British moves have been followed by anti-American ones when it was found impossible to play one power against the other. That is obviously impossible today.

The Latin countries today are becoming circumspect rather than good neighbors of the United States. The glow of real friendship that was felt in the Roosevelt day is subsiding. There is, too, constant gnawing and boring at British interests. It may be very good politics but it profits nobody. Or rather it only profits those who wish to see the Americas split asunder and Latin states far apart from the Anglo-American community.

Bracken Blames Ottawa For Rising Costs

KINGSTON, March 8—(CP).—John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, told a week-end convention at the Progressive Conservative Student Federation he considered the Federal Liberal administration the "chief culprit" in Canada's rising cost of living.

Addressing 150 young men and women representing students from most of Canada's universities and colleges, he said the Government's monetary policies "have expanded credit faster than goods have been produced, with no other result than that prices have risen."

He added:

"They (the Liberals) have done nothing to meet this condition. They have a commission now trying to find the scapegoat. They have run the nation into the greatest trade crisis in history."

Canada last year had bought twice as much from the United States as it sold to that country. Efforts to correct the situation had been "a tragedy of errors."

He said he felt the Government should take responsibility for the health of the national economy but this should not mean "the Government owning everything, running everything."

A resolution urging that Canada take part in "an immediate showdown" with Russia was among the 17 passed by the convention and sent on to party officials for possible inclusion into party policy.

Hockey's Big Seven

Buddy O'Connor's individual scoring leadership faced a real threat over the week-end as three Chicago players and Elmer Lach of Montreal made a great bid to overhaul the slight New York Ranger pivotman who went scoreless in his two week-end games. Bud Poile, Chicago's biggest point-getter climbed up into second place, a point behind O'Connor by picking up four points at Canadiens' expense last night. Gaye Stewart moved up into the charmed circle by virtue of the five points he garnered up against Montreal. Elmer Lach kept abreast of the leaders with a goal and an assist.

Charge Church Enters Politics

WASHINGTON, March 8 — (AP). — A Protestant group said today the Roman Catholic Church "has entered the political arena" seeking public funds for its schools.

A spokesman for the National Catholic Welfare Conference reported:

"No spokesman for the N.C.-W.C. has proposed that parochial (separate) schools be incorporated into the public school system. Such incorporation is legally impossible."

Protestants and other Americans united for separation of church and state said in an open letter to the N.C.W.C.:

"You say that the hierarchy does not want union of church and state. But its actions dispute its words. It at least wants union of church and state at the public treasury, and it is working with great energy to secure a union. Your denial cannot cover up this fact. . . .

"Protestants and other Americans united have accepted the Hierachy's challenge . . . We propose to acquaint school boards, legislatures, congress and the courts with the fact that five-sixths of our country's citizens clain their constituational right not to be taxed to support any church whose religion they do not profess, or to support their own religion."

Convicted 3rd Time

LAUREL, Miss., March 8—(AP)—Negro Willie McGee Saturday night was sentenced for the third time, by an all-white jury, to die in Mississippi's electric chair. He was convicted again of the rape of a young white Laurel housewife Nov. 1, 1945. His two previous convictions and sentences had been reversed by the state supreme court.

What's What In Baseball

NEW YORK, March 8 — (AP). — Earl York, 21-year-old rookie first sacker of Chicago Cubs, is off to an impressive start in his bid for a major league berth.

York, a southpaw, has clubbed a homer in each of the Cubs first two exhibition games against Chicago White Sox. The Cubs took both games by a one-run margin.

Al Jurisich, Homer Spraggins and Charley Schanz will pitch for the Philadelphia Phillies tomorrow when they play their farm hands.

The youngsters from the Phils' farms have been poking fun at the regular Phils ever since they arrived in camp so Manager Ben Chapman decided to give them the opportunity to make good their boasts.

Boston Braves, were told today by the Brooklyn Dodger secretary, Harold Parrott, that Eddie Stanky made this comment after being traded to Boston: "The Dodgers will not win the pennant without me." Boston gave up Ray Sanders, Bama Rowell and cash for the second baseman, currently bedridden with pneumonia.

Manager Bucky Harris of New York Yankees has intimated that he will retain six outfielders for the championship season.

Joe DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich are set in centre and right field, respectively, with Charley Keller slated for left. The other three are rookies Cliff Mapes and Ed Stewart, and Johnny Lindell, star of the recent World Series.

Manager Zach Taylor of St. Louis Browns was far from pleased with the showing of his pitchers yesterday. Pittsburgh Pirates, in gaining a 12-11 victory from the Browns, combed Brownie hurlers for 18 hits.

What's all this talk about Saving money?

IT ALL ADDS UP TO THIS:
Almost everybody admits that putting something aside every pay-day is a good idea. For one thing, it's a comfortable feeling to know that, come what may, there's a nice cushion in the bank to fall back on. For another, it's good for your self-respect to realize that at least part of what you work for is yours after the bills are paid.
Saving is far from easy in these days of high prices. But now, as always, the hardest part for most people is making a start and establishing the habit of saving.
Opening a savings account at The Bank of Nova Scotia is a pleasant and stimulating experience in any case. And possibly, without quite realizing it, you've already accomplished the first step. If you have War Savings Certificates maturing, now is the time to talk to the Manager of our nearest Branch about using the proceeds to start building security for the future.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

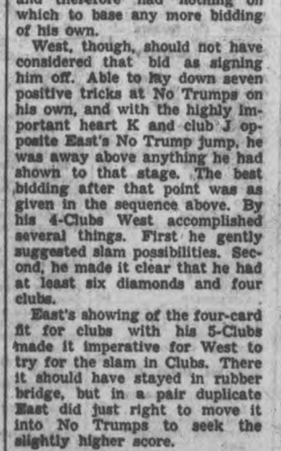
HE CAN'T SIGN YOU OFF

YOUR PARTNER may "sign off" for himself, but he can't sign you off. Regardless of what may have been the preceding bidding by your partnership, extra strength, above what you have already shown, is always an invitation to you to go farther. That applies to a bid of 3-No Trumps by your partner as well as to any other call. He may consider that bid as a signoff and a desire to play for mere game, forgetting all about any chance for slam. But if you have values unknown to him, you should govern yourself accordingly.

(Dealer: West. North-South vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	5 ♣	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	6 NT

Can you imagine the bidding ending at 3-No Trumps on that deal? It did, at five tables in a twelve-table club tournament with a good many average players competing. In each case the bidding had begun with 1-Diamond, whereupon East bid 2-No Trumps, West 3-Diamonds, then East 3-No Trumps. The West players who passed that gave as their reason that East's 3-No Trumps was "of course a signoff."



Certainly it was a signoff for East, saying in effect that he had shown the full value of his hand and therefore had nothing on which to base any more bidding of his own.

West, though, should not have considered that bid as signing him off. Able to lay down seven positive tricks at No Trumps on his own, and with the highly important heart K and club J opposite East's No Trump jump, he was away above anything he had shown to that stage. The best bidding after that point was as given in the sequence above. By his 4-Clubs West accomplished several things. First he gently suggested slam possibilities. Second, he made it clear that he had at least six diamonds and four clubs.

East's showing of the four-card fit for clubs with his 5-Clubs made it imperative for West to try for the slam in Clubs. There it should have stayed in rubber bridge, but in a pair duplicate East did just right to move it into No Trumps to seek the slightly higher score.

6—In Memoriam

BRICK—In loving memory of Hector's birthday today, he died in Italy.
I have fought a good fight
I have finished my course
I have kept the faith
Lest we forget.
—Sadly missed by mother, Mrs. Brick.

COX—In proud and loving memory of Bdr. Louis P. Cox of the 4th Anti-Tank Reg., killed in Germany March 7, 1945.
You went, it seems but yesterday,
And now by crosses row on row,
You linger where the poppies grow,
Not dead, but just away.
—Ever remembered, mother and family.

SHERIDAN—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Jas. Sheridan, who passed away March 8, 1936.
There's a sad, but sweet remembrance
Of a mother, fond and true,
There's a token of affection always
And a heartache still for you.
—Always remembered by husband and daughter Agnes.

YOUMANS—In loving memory of our dear father, Eleazar Youmans of Havelock, who passed away on March 8, 1947.
Somewhere back in the sunset
Where loveliness never dies
He lives in the land of glory
Midst the gold and blue of the skies
And we who love him dearly
Whose passing has brought many tears
Will cherish his memory always
And brighten the drifting years.
—Sadly missed by daughter Edith, son Judd and daughter-in-law Irene.

Hunting Modern Style

LIGONIER, Pa., March 8—(AP). — The century old Ligonier Valley fox hunt has gone modern — the hunters now use airplanes. Sportsmen said their 103rd anniversary hunt yesterday was a great success, thanks to a low-flying plane which guided hunters to a clearing where six foxes were killed. Some 400 hunters and dogs converged on the clearing from a 13 1-2-mile circle. In last year's "old-fashioned" hunt no airplanes were used. And only one fox was killed.

FLYER HITS OPEN SWITCH — Bud Hayes, trainman, left, was thrown through glass door, suffered slight shock when Toronto-Detroit flyer hit a standing freight near Thamesville, on Friday night. Passengers were shaken up. Right, four box cars were reduced to splintered wood by impact. Engine of crack train hit broken switch and plowed into freight. None of coaches were damaged.

4 Municipalities Ask Permission To Annex Land

TORONTO, March 8—(CP)—Petitions from four Ontario municipalities asking confirmation of municipal board permission to annex adjoining land have been placed before the provincial legislature.

St. Catharines wishes to add certain parts of the township of Grantham, Peterborough would annex areas of North Monaghan township, Chatham wants to include part of Raleigh and Dover townships in the city, and the town of Simcoe asks permission to take in certain parts of Woodhose township.

Twenty other private bills are before the legislature, to come up at the present session.

Niagara Falls wants confirmation of an agreement with the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway Company for a bus system to replace the present street car setup.

The township of Dover wishes to sell the telephone system to the Bell Telephone Company and to distribute the proceeds among subscribers. Niagara Falls General Hospital Trust asks permission to change the name to Greater Niagara General Hospital Trust, and Hamilton Orphan Asylum asks that the name be changed to the Aged Women's Home of Hamilton.

Three bills came from Ottawa. Ottawa Ladies College wants to be known as a non-denominational institution of learning. The Association for Advancement of Learning would change its name to Carleton College, and the City of Ottawa asks validation of an agreement with the Ottawa Electric Railway Company and amendment of the City of Ottawa Act as changed in 1946.

Fought Over Girl Two Pay $10 Each

Magistrate Philp warned two youths in court today that "fighting in a dancehall is not a laughing matter," as he fined them each $10 and $2.50 costs of their guilty pleas of causing a disturbance in a public place. The two, Ronald Milligan, 684 St. Mary's St., and Eldon Moore, 25 Victoria Ave., said OPP Lloyd McClure, had scuffled in a dance hall Saturday night in an argument "over a girl-friend."

Three men paid fines of $10 and $2.50 costs each when they pleaded guilty to illegal consumption of liquor. Evidence given by OPP McClure stated that the accused had been members of a party drinking beer in a parked car outside a dance hall Saturday night. A similar charge against a 16-year-old boy was dismissed.

Those fined were: Russell Yates, 539 Waterford St., John C. Plumpton, 236 Perry St., and Frank Reed, 121 Parkhill Rd.

Shoots Farmer

MONROE, La. — An unidentified school boy told police he shot and then clubbed an aged farmer to death because the man teased him about his inability to chop wood. Police said the 16-year-old youth confessed to firing two shots at the farmer, B. F. Shepperd, 70. No charges were filed immediately.

POCKET CARTOON
By OSBERT LANCASTER

"Ah yes, it's pretty enough now, but one sharp frost and it'll look like the stock market after a speech by Cripps!"

Safety Campaign Hits A Snag

"For want of a nail, the shoe was lost", is an old saying that might be applied to a lost-time accident at the CGE in their recent campaign to accumulate an objective of a period of a million accident-free man hours. The rules of the game are that any employee sustaining lost time through an accident tumbles the accumulated total back again to zero for a fresh start.

This particular program had reached a total of 550,000 man-hours for the week when a workman accidentally stabbed himself with a screwdriver which necessitated a two-day layoff and finished that campaign. However, the management are tenacious in their purpose of attaining a continual million-free-man-hour objective for this accident destroyed a third attempt to "hit the target". They caution employees not to become smug when the goal seems to be within easy grasp but to redouble their vigilance.

Find Golds Uncertain On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, March 8.—(CP). — Stocks extended a mild improvement on the stock exchange in quiet trading on majorities of narrow gains for most groups. Golds were uncertain with gains and losses scattered through the list for insignificant changes. Trading generally was featureless. Volume for the first three hours was 296,000 shares, about 47,000 less than Friday's similar period.

Among the leading industrials B.A. Oil was up at 21½, Building Products at 30, Canada Malting at 47½, Canadian Canners at 18¾, C.P.R. at 13⅛, Distillers at 18, Laura Secord at 14¼, and McColl at 10⅝.

Hollinger was down ½ at 10½ and Dome up ⅛ at 23¼ for the senior golds. For the base metals gainers were Smelters ½ at 59¼, Eureka, Labrador 25 at $5.75 and Noranda ¼ at 45.

Asbestos Tames Sparks—Flames

Here's how another home was saved from fire by Asbestos . . . the magic mineral.

This house was situated just 10 feet from a building which was completely destroyed by fire. A barrage of sparks and billowing flame roared across an alley separating the two buildings—yet the house remained undamaged! You see, it was protected by Johns-Manville Cedargrain Asbestos Siding Shingles.

In addition, J-M Cedargrains are strikingly attractive. They have all the charm and beauty of fine, weathered wood. Made of Asbestos and cement, they will not rot or deteriorate—never need paint to preserve them. Cedargrains can be applied right over old-fashioned sidewalls in remodelling—and they're ideal for new building too. Ask your nearest J-M dealer for free illustrated folder. Peterborough Lumber Co. May Discuss Treasure Early In Week

QUEBEC, March 8 — (CP) — A further statement from Premier Duplessis on the Polish treasure question is expected this week following his declaration Saturday in the legislative assembly that he would comment again "at the proper time."

"We shall see who is telling the truth," he said after Leon Casgrain (L—Riviere-Du-Loup) criticized him for "describing Mr. St. Laurent as a collaborator of Stalin."

Mr. Casgrain referred to the premier's original statement published Wednesday in L'Action Catholique, Quebec daily newspaper, in which he announced transfer of the treasures, which had been stored in the Hotel Dieu here, to the provincial museum under guard of provincial police.

Before Mr. Casgrain raised the matter in the provincial House occupied with the budget debate, Fernand Choquette (L—Montmagny) said Premier Duplessis' Wednesday statement represented the "last spasms of a dying regime."

"We have heard of provincial autonomy, Communism and the flag which doesn't belong to the government," said Mr. Choquette. "Now the premier tries to attach him self to the Polish treasures. "I say it is too late. Nothing can save this discredited regime."

In the meantime, a reliable authority who could not be identified declared that published excerpts of a letter from Dr. Z. R. Bielski, charge d'affaires at the Polish legation in Ottawa, to Sister St. Henri, superior of the Hotel Dieu, were "genuine" but that the letter had not been completely reproduced.

Spring steps from a Romantic Portrait

Spring fashions echo, in accents of today, the flowing lines of a portrait by Sargent; the archly emphasized figure of the Gibson Girl; the delicate detail and colour of Renoir.

Spring fashions repeat, in modern terms, a gentled shoulder, a hand-span waist, a voluminous or clinging skirt, a shapely head and slender foot.

So, in the manner of the romantics, we show you this Spring's fashions... invariably feminine, infinitely becoming.

Four Children Burned In Two Fires

Spread So Quickly Rescue Impossible; Father, Baby Hurt

By Canadian Press

Four small children perished today as their homes went up in flames in Thornbury, Ont., and Valleyfield, Quebec. Frantic efforts to save them were futile.

At Thornbury, six-year-old Marilyn Boyle and her four-year-old sister, Brenda, were suffocated today in a fire which swept their six-room frame house, while their mother and neighbors made frantic attempts to save them.

The mother, Mrs. Carman Boyle, was in the kitchen when the fire started but was prevented from reaching her children by flames and heavy smoke. Mrs. Jean Conklin, a neighbor, tried to climb the short flight of stairs to the children's room but was also driven back.

Tommy Goldsmith, a mail and express carrier, hoisted a ladder to a second storey window but was unable to enter the room.

A third child, eight-months old Lyall, was saved by Mrs. Conklin shortly after the fire broke out.

Police are investigating the cause of the blaze. Damage was estimated at $4,000.

Quebec Casualties

VALLEYFIELD, Que., March 9. —(CP).— Two young children were burned to death early today in a fire which caused serious injuries to their father, Steven Allan, and his baby son.

The fire of unknown origin destroyed a one-storey wooden bungalow on Fabre St. in Billette village 25 miles southwest of Montreal on Lake St. Francis.

The dead children were Guy, four, and his sister, Gaetane, three.

The father and the four-months-old baby were admitted to hospital with "serious" body burns.

The mother was said to have been visiting her father in a house not far away when the blaze started.

Seize Morphine Worth Million

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP). — Customs officials, who seized morphine they valued at approximately $1,000,000 retail aboard a ship docking from Europe, believe they have broken up "the Havre international dope ring."

"No gang can stand losing that money," collector Harry M. Durning said after the seizure yesterday in the bakery of the SS Marine Marlin.

Some marijuana and a quantity of illegal merchandise also were found aboard.

The pure morphine, in protective wrappings, was discovered in flour barrels, cracker barrels and an oven.

Canada's Red Menace Told In The Examiner

Don Cameron, brilliant Windsor Star reporter, Wednesday starts a series of articles exposing the amazing extent to which the revolutionary cult of international Communism in Canada has gained widespread and dangerous power. Mr. Cameron is well known as an author and newspaper man both in Canada and the United States. His most recent series on the condition of old age pensioners in Windsor brought direct and immediate results. This time Mr. Cameron has graver implications. In Toronto and Ottawa, in the mining towns of the northland the work camps of the bush—in a score of widely separated places—he has interviewed nearly 100 persons and brought back innumerable facts to tell the story of what may well be the most comprehensive account of Communists in Canada ever written.

Parents And Stork Get Their Dates Mixed Baby Comes Too Soon; Born In Taxi Cab

A bouncing nine-pound baby boy began life last night in a taxi, due to a bit of miscalculation on the part of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. DeLaire, 299 King St. A rush call for a taxi was answered by the Sullivan taxi, for whom the father is a driver.

Despite the best speed the taxi could do over the slippery roads under the coaching of driver "Doc" McCallum, nature would have her way. The baby was born in the back of the cab in the presence of the rather bewildered father. When the taxi arrived at St. Joseph's hospital, nurses came down to the cab and brought both patients back, where they are reported today to be both "doing nicely."

This is the fifth child for the DeLaires, but the first one born in such an original setting.

Vicious Brawl Described By Lindsay Police; Seven Committed For Trial

LINDSAY, March 9—(ENS).—The four Tracey brothers of Lindsay—Gerald, Leo, Lionel and Earl—with John Hopkins, were committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction in April by Magistrate E. A. Gee following preliminary hearing in police court here Monday. The five men are jointly charged with taking part in a public fray in a local beverage room Jan. 31, and with assaulting police officers John Hunter and Ross Endicott.

Also committed for trial at the same hearing were Fred Bissette and Lorne McGee. Bissette is charged with obstructing police, while McGee is charged with obstructing and with assaulting Constable Hunter. All seven elected to be tried by a higher court.

W. J. A. Fair of Peterborough is acting in their defence.

The preliminary hearing Monday pertained to the charges against Hopkins and the Traceys of taking part in an affray. A preliminary hearing concerning the assault charges was waived, and these will be dealt with in the higher court.

Stephen Wasylkwi, manager of the Kent Hotel, said he was tapping beer in the men's beverage room the night of the brawl, and just before 10 o'clock heard there was a commotion in the washroom. Investigating, he found several men in the washroom, among them Lionel Tracey and John Hopkins. Also there, his face "covered with blood" was Reid Clarke, aged 21, of R.R. 6, Lindsay. The hotel manager said there had apparently been fighting in the washroom, and he managed to get the men out into the beverage room where the fighting broke out again.

"A big man who I think comes from Peterborough jumped Lionel Tracey and had him down in a corner," Wasylkwi stated. "The fight started breaking out all over the room and I closed the bar. We tried to quiet things down but couldn't and so phoned the police." He was not able to say just what had started the fight, and could not tell who all

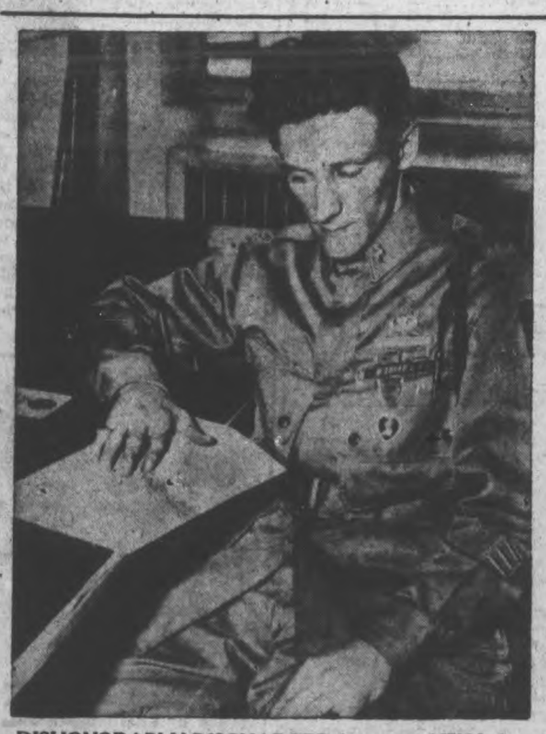
Finns Appoint Leftist Group For Russ Talks

HELSINKI, March 9 — (AP). — Finland picked a leftist-tinged delegation today for the Moscow talks on a Russian-Finnish treaty of friendship and mutual assistance, a government member said.

The official cabinet announcement said President Juho E. Paasikivi decided "to authorize the chairman of the delegation to sign any document possibly arising out of the negotiations."

Parliament must ratify any agreement reached.

Government quarters said they expected the negotiations to begin on or about March 20. The seven-man Finnish delegation will be headed by Premier Mauno Pekkala. There was no indication whether special technical advisers on military matters will be attached to the group.



The majority of Finland's political parties have expressed opposition to a military alliance with Russia. Of the seven delegates, three represent parliamentary groups which have gone on record against an arms pact.

The Finnish cabinet session decided upon the make-up of the delegation at a meeting this afternoon. Finland's Foreign Minister, Carl. J. A. Enckell, a non-party man, is vice-chairman of the delegation.

Pekkala is a member of the Socialist Union party, which is affiliated with the Communists in Finland's "Democratic Union."

Ottawa Takes Holiday To Celebrate Skater's Homecoming

By GEORGE RONALD

OTTAWA, March 9 —(CP)— Barbara Ann Scott, world, Olympic and European figure skating champion, surged into her home town today on a tidal wave of wild enthusiasm.

Politicians, school children, civil servants and businessmen alike dropped everything in one mad, concerted effort to make the blue-eyed skater's homecoming the most impressive accorded anyone by this flag-draped capital.

They jammed the mile-long parade route and long before the arrival made movement in the vicinity of the Union Station practically impossible.

The private car carrying the 19-year-old sweetheart rolled in on schedule at 12:40 p.m. EST.

Hours before her arrival, the crowds gathered. There was a gay and festive air as school children, given a special reprieve from lessons, trooped into the area and stomped their feet in time to the martial music.

Good To Be Back

"My, it's good to be back in Ottawa," Barbara Ann exclaimed as she hugged first Prime Minister Mackenzie King and then Mayor Stanley Lewis.

A huge bunch of roses were the first gift, as Mrs. Lewis stepped forward to make the presentation. Mayor Lewis, wearing his chains of office, presented the skater with a key to the city and an illuminated scroll.

The hugging scene had to be repeated again and again for photographers who missed it the first time.

A moment later, however, the prime minister was the forgotten man as Barbara Ann was swept away by the crowd.

Mrs. Scott added to the levity a few minutes later by leading Mr. King along and shouting: :

"Make way for the prime minister."

The blue-eyed skater wore a black dress for the occasion, white gloves and a white, off-the-face hat. She also wore a triple strand of pearls.

Outside the station, the red-coated band of the Ottawa Technical School was joined by bands from the R.C.A.F. and R.C.M.P.

Legal Battle Opens For McKee Youngster

TORONTO, March 9 (CP). — The legal battle between Mark T. McKee, wealthy airline executive, and his divorced wife, Evelyn, for custody of their seven-year-old son, opened here today after being fought for the last six years in United States and Canadian courts.

The Ontario court of appeal will open hearings of the mother's appeal against the ruling of the Ontario Supreme Court which granted custody of the boy to his father in a judgment by Mr. Justice Dalton Wells issued last Oct. 18 after almost a month's trial in Kitchener and Toronto.

Report 250 Casualties As Dump Explodes

SHANGHAI, March 9 (AP). — A Chinese ammunition dump exploded at Tsingtao to-day, levelling a city block and causing 250 casualties. An estimated 100 were killed.

United States Navy sources here said the explosion occurred just before noon, within half a mile of docks where the USS Estes, flagship of the American Western Pacific Fleet, and the Navy hospital ship Repose are tied up. Tsingtao is the Chinese base of the US Navy's Far Western Fleet.

The explosion, set off by an undetermined cause, swept an area east of the docks. Resulting fires left a mass of blackened ruins in a wide sector.

Transport Attacked

SHANGHAI, March 9 — (AP). — Two P-39 fighter planes marked with the Red Star of Russia made five passes at a commercial airlines yesterday, firing their machine-guns but apparently not trying to hit it, airline officials said today. The transport, one of the planes owned by Maj.-Gen. Claire L. Chennault's commercial airline, was carrying 32 refugees from Mukden, Manchuria. It was crossing the Gulf of Chihli south of Russian-occupied Port Arthur and Airen, the airline reported, but was giving those cities "a wide berth," as all Chennault planes do.

2 U.S. Officials Released By Russians

NEURNBERG, Germany, March 9,— (AP). — Two high officials of the United States war crimes prosecution staff returned to Neurnberg safely today after 27 hours in the custody of armed Russian soldiers within the Soviet-occupied zone of Germany.

The two are Howard H. Russell, chief of the administrative division, and Virgil Van Street, member of the I. G. Farben prosecution staff.

They visited the Leipzig fair together with their wives in the last week. They were overdue in Neurnberg by several days and inquiries were made.

The group returned late this afternoon, weary and nervous but unharmed.

Pass 7 Articles In Union Pact

BRUSSELS, March 9 (AP). — Delegates from five western European powers today approved seven articles to be included in a proposed pact for a union against Communist expansion.

Conference officials declined to say which articles were being referred back. One of them was reported to bind all signatory powers to refer differences to the international court.

A second meeting was scheduled later today.

Officials from Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg forecast a speedy agreement on economic issues. They expressed hope the economic phases of the pact would be ready to sign by the end of the week.

French delegate Roland De Margerie declined comment on reports that the five-power "western union" would seek to have its defensive stature backed by the military might of the United States.

Suspend Gallinger of Bruins For Being Associated With Gamblers—Campbell

Very Surprised At Being Fired Ranger Man Says

OSHAWA, March 9 —(CP)— Billy Taylor said today he was "surprised" at the news from Lansing that President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League had expelled him on a charge of having associated with gamblers.

The 28-year-old centre of New York Rangers, at his home here said he had known some persons active in gambling but that "cannot be helped" because gamblers frequent sports events and make themselves known to players.

However, "I never have been asked to bet on the outcome of a game."

So far she had received no official word from President Campbell and any future action on the matter would depend on that.

Taylor said earlier that he had asked and received permission from the Rangers to come here to attend to some business.

Taylor was traded to the Rangers by Boston Bruins recently for right wing Grant Warwick. He formerly played with Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings.

Very Shocked

NEW YORK, March 9.—(CP). —Brig.-Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, today issued the following statement in connection with the expulsion from hockey of Billy Taylor, New York Rangers' forward, and suspension of Don Gallinger of Boston Bruins.

We are naturally shocked that Taylor has been expelled from organized hockey for complicity in gambling on hockey games. The Ranger organization had no knowledge whatsoever of the fact when the trade was consummated on Feb. 6 that brought Taylor to our club.

We have not received the details of the evidence upon which President Campbell based his decision of expulsion. We are confident, however, that he would not have taken this drastic action without a thorough and unbiased investigation and we have no intention of appealing from his ruling.

EXPELLED FROM NHL — Billy Taylor of the New York Rangers has been expelled on charges of being associated with gamblers, Clarence S. Campbell announced today. Don Gallinger of Bruins was suspended.

Taylor Authorized $500 Bet On Chicago Game

LANSING, March 9—(AP)— National Hockey League President Clarence S. Campbell today expelled Billy Taylor, New York Ranger hockey player and suspended Don Gallinger of the Boston Bruins on charges of being associated with gamblers.

Campbell reported the punitive action to Michigan's governor Kim Sigler.

Campbell had returned to Michigan to announce his decision because Detroit police officers had given the league president information pointing to a link between gamblers and professional hockey players.

The hockey league president expelled Taylor for conduct "prejudicial to and against the welfare of hockey."

He charged that he had sufficient evidence to show that Taylor had "knowingly associated with and communicated with James Tamer a criminal and known gambler."

$500 Bet

Taylor, Campbell reported in a formal statement to Sigler, "was interested with Tamer in a wager on the outcome of a National Hockey League game played in Chicago on Feb. 18 between the Boston Bruins and the Chicago Black Hawks. Taylor's interest in this wager was that he authorized Tamer to place for him a bet of $500 on the Chicago Black Hawks."

Boston, however, won the game in question 4-2.

In his investigation, Campbell made trips to Chicago, Boston and New York. He also visited southern Michigan prison where

Irgun To Halt Attacking British

JERUSALEM, March 9 (AP)— Hagana and Irgun Zvei Leumi, the two main Jewish fighting forces in Palestine, will get together to-day, reliable informants said, to bind themselves into a common military front against the Arabs.

They added that the merger has all been worked out and a pact setting out the details is reported ready for ratification by the two organizations at Tel Aviv.

Under the agreement, Irgun would retain its own organization and officers under Hagana's overall direction.

One of the principal points in the agreement, Jewish sources said, was an Irgun promise to halt immediately its attacks upon the British forces, now in the process of withdrawing from the Holy Land.

Irgun's attacks have long been a bone of contention between the underground group and Hagana, the official militia of the Jewish agency. Hagana contended the attacks were terrorism which hurt the Jewish cause.

Discuss Agreement

Some informants said David Ben Gurion, chairman of the agency, probably discussed the agreement with Sir Alan Cunningham, British High Commissioner for Palestine, yesterday.

Hagana never has been recognized officially by Britain, but has been operating openly, alongside British troops and Palestine police, for several weeks. Irgun, an outlaw group, still is underground and has been striking at both the Arab and British forces.

Stripped Of Power

JERUSALEM, March 9 (AP).— The Arab League has stripped the Mufti of Jerusalem, Haj Amin El Husseini, of virtually all his power.

The seven-state league, with headquarters in Cairo, has taken over full military and political control in the affairs of Palestine's 1,250,000 Arabs.

The Arab higher executive in Palestine, headed by the Mufti, now deals only with such internal affairs as collection of taxes, export of citrus fruit and settlement of tribal blood feuds. The fight against Zionism and partition is directed from Cairo.

Urge Drainage Of Farm Land

TORONTO, March 9—(CP).— There are substantial areas of land in Ontario, formerly productive but now waste land or rough pasture, which could be brought back to crop production with proper drainage.

This opinion was expressed in the report of the committee on farm drainage tabled before the Ontario Legislature.

Following an 'exhaustive study' of drainage problems throughout southern Ontario, the committee, appointed last March, reported that the problem appears to be one of convincing the farmers that they could operate their farms more profitably if the waste land were drained.

There was a general feeling throughout the province, however, that drainage of farm land is desirable, and if conditions for tile drainage of farm land is favorable, a tremendous amount of such work would be undertaken immediately by a large proportion of farmers.

Britons Told To Pull Belts Tighter

Even With Marshall Plan Aid Living Standards Will Be Reduced

LONDON, March 9 — (CP). — British hopes of easier times in 1948 were shattered today by a government economic survey which said that even with Marshall Plan aid, living standards will be reduced compared with those in 1947.

Without Marshall Plan help Britain faces wholesale unemployment, the report said, along with distress, dislocation of industry and no prospect of a decent living standard for years.

The White Paper, detailing Britain's economic difficulties, called for a national effort to increase exports to Western Hemisphere countries like Canada to pay for food imports. Export targets for textiles, especially cotton, which are wanted by Canada, have been increased even while the over-all objective of export sales has been forcibly reduced.

"The import program for the first half of 1948 has been drastically revised in the light of our present exchange difficulties," the paper said. "The Western Hemisphere programs are no more than sufficient to maintain the nation in health and working efficiency."

A large part of the 1948 food imports will be fresh fruit, vegetables, processed foods of "rather low nutritional value" bought in soft currency areas and meant to give variety to the British diet in place of Western Hemisphere foods it has been found necessary to cut.

Cut Food Imports

The document, reflecting the stern realism of Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's economic chief, contained these details:

1. Because important foreign markets are becoming saturated with goods, the 1948 export target has been reduced from 60 per cent above the 1938 volume to 50 per cent.

2. Hopes of assistance from the United States was indicated in almost every paragraph, but even if it comes there will be a "somewhat reduced" standard of living with an appreciable reduction in food and clothing consumption.

3. The over-all deficit in the balance of payments in 1948 should drop from £675,000,000 in 1947 to £250,000,000. But the last reserves of gold and dollars, which amounted to £680,000,000 when the year began, likely will be cut by £222,000,000 by June 30. If the drain continues, the remaining amount will be exhausted in 1949, a condition which "clearly could not be contemplated."

4. The strategy must be to reach an over-all balance of payments and "achieve as quickly as possible a satisfactory means of paying western hemisphere countries nor purchase of them."

It was estimated that the reduction of food imports from the western hemisphere will force down the average daily intake of calories for each person to 2,681 compared with the 1947 average of 2,880 and the pre-war average of 3,000.

Welch Gets 10 Years In Strychnine Case

ST. THOMAS, March 9—(CP). —Joseph Vernon Welch, 24, today in Assize Court here was sentenced to ten years in penitentiary on a reduced charge of manslaughter.

The manslaughter verdict arose out of the strychnine poisoning death of Welch's wife Florence last August.

Only repreesentation on Welch's behalf was made by his counsel, George A. McNabb, who said he looked upon the finding of the jury as meaning Welch's crime was only one of momentary negligence, a negligence "through which he had lost his affection and companionship of his wife." He said he hoped the judge would take a similar view.

Mr. Justice W. R. Treleaven did not agree. He said the fact remained that the purpose of Welch's purchase of strychnine was unlawful. It was for the purpose of committing suicide. It was criminal right through."

MacArthur Will Accept Nomination

Will Take On Truman If Nominated General Has Declared

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP) —Gen. MacArthur bid openly for top place on the Republican ticket today, even as President Truman foreclosed his mortgage on the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

The two announcements, only hours apart in Tokyo and Washington, far overshadowed today's New Hampshire primary, the first actual voting for delegates to the national party conventions in Philadelphia.

MacArthur's message saying he is available but will not actively seek the presidency put the 68-year-old general in the positive candidate class, along with Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, former Governer Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and Governor Earl Warren of California.

The supreme allied commander in Japan named no party in his announcement that he would accept "any public duty to which I might be called by the American people."

But only 10 days ago, he sent a message to Republican headquarters in which he said "The Republican party has never deviated from the proposition that all political power resides in the people."

Truman's decision to run drove a new wedge into the Democratic party, split over his civil rights program. His action killed and practical hope of southern party members for a compromise candidate.

Politicians generally agree that now the president has spoken the nomination cannot be denied him.

Patrolman Killed In Apartment Battle

NEW YORK, March 9 — (AP). — Patrolman Julius Mirrell, 26, was shot to death and another seriously wounded today in a gun battle with a lone burglar-suspect in the basement of a Washington Heights apartment building.

Within an hour after the shooting, one man had been picked up for questioning, police reported.

Seriously wounded with two bullets in the chest and another in the arm was patrolman Jacob Zuckerman, 32.

An immediate police search rounded up a man in restaurant who, police said, answered descriptions of the slayer.

Authorities said the man had blood on his camel's hair coat, which was similar to one worn by the gunman.

the participants were. He said all the Treacey brothers appeared to be sober.

Everybody Swinging

"When we arrived at the hotel half the people in the beverage room were fighting," testified Constable Hunter. "Everyone was swinging at everyone else. The only one I could identify at the time was John Hopkins, who was fighting near the front exit. Before I could get to Hopkins someone knocked him down."

"I walked to the middle of the floor and yelled for them to break it up," the officer continued, "and most of them responded. Things quieted down for a moment and then I was struck from behind. Something struck me across the shoulders and the back of the head. I was partially dazed from the blow when someone grabbed me around the arms from behind. I broke away, and turning, saw Constable Endicott holding Lorne McGee. Then Gerald Tracey, who was nearby, struck me about three blows on the left side of the head. Earl Tracey and someone else clinched with me and I went down. While I was on the floor Earl Tracey kicked me in the body about four times. It nearly paralyzed me, but I managed to get up and draw my billie. Earl approached and I hit him some place with it, then blows were rained on me from all sides."

"I don't know who all my attackers were but part of the time it was the Tracey boys who held me," Constable Hunter testified. "Lionel hit me on the head about four times, hard. Leo and Gerald were also swinging. I didn't see what Constable Endicott was doing since I was kept pretty busy.

More Help Called

"I broke away then and talked to Lionel. He seemed reasonable enough. I warned him to stop and he did, but Earl still tried to get at me and I managed to avoid him. A waiter opened the front door and we started putting the patrons out of the beverage room. I went to telephone for more help and then, taking off my greatcoat, returned to help evict the patrons. It seemed that Lionel and Leo wanted to terminate the fight at that point, while Earl and Gerald wanted to continue it," the officer said.

"Everyone was in a bad frame of mind, and we tried to use diplomacy in getting them outside knowing that just the two of us wouldn't be able to make any arrests," Hunter went on. "It wasn't long before Constable Bolderstone arrived. At this time the room was cleared, but the four Traceys followed Bolderstone inside.

"Lionel grabbed me and said, 'We want you, Hunter.' I pulled away and went behind the bar. I was played out and told Bolderstone to arrest them. He told them they were under arrest and they protested. Endicott told them to come up to the station and talk it over. Lionel Tracey said, 'No, we'll settle it right here.' Then the fight started again. Earl and Gerald were fighting with me. I went down twice and was kicked both times. Eventually we got things under control, when I noticed that Earl Tracey was pretty badly beaten."

"Beaten by whom?" asked Magistrate Gee.

"By myself," Hunter replied. "I knew at the time my left hand was broken. Later I went to Dr. White and had a cast put on two fingers and my left side taped. Only last night I had to call the doctor about my back."

Rocked the Car

Continuing with the story, Constable Hunter said when he left the hotel he saw Sergeant Russell Hargrave in the back of the parked police cruiser with John Hopkins. He said Constable Bolderstone had trouble putting Earl in the cruiser, and while putting them in, three or four men tried to upset the car by rocking it. He said Fred Bisette was one of the men.

Earl and Hopkins were taken to the county jail, he said, where they were locked up. Constable Hargrave found Leo outside the jail shortly after, then took him inside and arrested him.

"Did you know Leo was at the jail to arrange for his brother's release?" asked Mr. Fair in cross-examination.

"No," Hunter answered, adding that he had no part in Leo's arrest.

Charges Beating

"At one time Earl Tracey was alone in the governor's office with the police," said Mr. Fair, "and I'm instructed that two officers held him while you beat him about the face."

"That's not true," Constable Hunter declared.

"Someone gave him a beating," asserted Mr. Fair, "did you hear anyone beating him?"

"No."

"Who put the scars on Earl's face?"

"I think I did," Hunter replied.

"Did you use a beer bottle on him in the hotel?" Fair demanded.

"I did not," Hunter said. "I picked up a beer bottle, but I didn't hit him with it; though I would have if it had been necessary."

"Possibly you kicked him once or twice?"

"I might have when he dove at my feet."

"I suggest that you centred your attack upon Earl," said Mr. Fair.

"No, he centred his attack on me," was the reply. Constable Hunter denied that there was any grudge between Earl Tracey and himself.

Sun—Rises at 6:41; Sets at 6:16

Mild cloudy weather with scattered light snowflurries prevails in most sections of southern Ontario this morning. It is colder in northern Ontario and light snow is falling in most sections due to a weak disturbance which is passing through that part of the province. A very extensive body of cold air over the prairie provinces is moving southward behind the northern Ontario disturbance. This situation is expected to bring generally clear and considerably colder weather to all sections of Ontario tonight and Wednesday.

Forecasts:

Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Niagara, Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions — Cloudy with scattered light snowflurries and not much change in temperature today. Clear and colder tonight and Wednesday.

Summary for Wednesday: Colder.

UK Navy Ready Within 10 Days

LONDON, March 9.— (CP).— Defense Minister A. V. Alexander, answering charges by Winston Churchill that the Labor Government had weakened the Royal Navy to "lowest level," told the House of Commons today Britain could send a balanced naval task force to sea within a week or 10 days if needed.

He said he would like that to be known to the world.

Such move "would very seriously interfere with the detailed technical scheme of training, but nevertheless it can be done and would, if necessary, be done." Alexander said.

Alexander made his statement in reply to Churchill as the Commons opened debate on the navy estimates for 1948-49 which are $612,000,000, $174,809,000 less than for the current fiscal year.

Churchill criticized the government decision to scrap five old battleships.

"If the United States had followed the purblind policy now proposed by the British Admiralty under the directon of Socialist ministers, 50 destroyers (which the United States lent to Britain during the war) would have been scrapped 25 years before as mere junk."

As the parade moved off, Miss Scott took up her position in a gleaming black open car—not the canary-colored automobile she rode in at her last big homecoming. The vehicle was smothered with brilliant daffodils.

The bands and a convoy of 16 polished RCMP officers headed the parade as it proceeded past the National War Memorial on Confederation Square.

Along the route were flags and huge streamers which read "We Love You Barbara Ann," "Ottawa Is Proud of You," and "Welcome Home."

Every store window sported its own welcome signs. A whirling life-size model of the little skater was in one department store window which also boasted the costumes Miss Scott wore when winning the world and Olympic championships.

Mobbed By Crowd

Despite police barriers, crowds four and five deep surged ahead of the car, separating it from the 16 Mounties on horseback that headed the procession. Shouting "Barbara Ann—Barbara Ann," the people fought their way toward the automobile in which the little skater stood smiling and waving.

So many people pressed into the streets along the parade route that it took a full hour for the procession to work through the mile-long way to the reviewing stand.

Following the parade and official welcome by Mayor Lewis, Barbara Ann once more had to fight her way back through the crowds to the Chateau Laurier, where she was guest of honor at a luncheon.

Prime Minister King, who had slipped away in the crowds after meeting Barbara at the train, attended the luncheon.

Ducks Starving

BROCKVILLE, March 9 (CP). —Large numbers of dead wild ducks, believed to have starved, have been found at nearby Cardinal. Garnet Gilligan, of the Cardinal Fish and Game Club, has been putting out food to keep other birds from starving.

Change System Of Navigation

LONDON, March 9 (Reuters)— Royal Air Force navigational experts today issued their verdict on a 5,500-mile Arctic flight by seven Royal Air Force Lancasters which ended a fortnight ago. They said that flights to polar regions now are routine and present no abnormal hazards.

The Lancasters, acting as flying classrooms for 18 expert air navigators taking a post-graduate specialist course at the Royal Air Force's empire air navigation school at Shawbury, Shropshire, flew from Shawbury to Gibraltar and then in a giant circle northwards into the Arctic and back to Scotland.

Between Gibraltar and Reykjavik, their only landing places, they tried out a new system of air navigation called pressure pattern navigation.

Used occasionally, pressure pattern flying is a way of "chasing tailwinds" by varying the altitude to fly at a constant pressure. The aircraft thus ensures a continually favorable wind, lengthening the distance covered over the ground but reducing the airmiles and time in the air.

he talked with Tamer, a known gambler and convicted bank robber who was returned to the institution two weeks ago as a parole violator.

Campbell said he was suspending Don Gallinger indefinitely pending further investigation of his associations with James Tamer, the Detroit gambler.

The hockey president said his investigations had "established to my complete satisfaction that no other player in the National Hockey League was involved in any gambling."

"There's not," Campbell's statement said, "been any charge of 'fixing' or attempting to 'fix' a hockey game, although that expression has been erroneously employed several times in recent publicity and the evidence completely negatives that succession."

Has Authority To Act

Campbell said the hockey league by-laws permitted the president "on such information and reports as he may deem sufficient" or on any act or conduct of an official or player who has been "dishonest, prejudicial to or against the welfare of the game or the league to hand out fines or suspensions."

"A player has violated the rules of hockey by betting or being interested in any pool or wager whether or not he has any connection with the game involved," Campbell said.

The investigation in the case of Gallinger, Campbell said, "will be vigorously pressed," but he could not estimate how long it would require.

Won't Tolerate Gambling

Campbell said "the National Hockey League will not tolerate gambling on hockey games by any of its personnel nor will it tolerate their knowingly associating with gamblers or other undesirable characters."

The 29-year-old Taylor, a resident of Oshawa, played one season with a farm club in Pittsburgh and then with the Toronto Maple Leafs until the summer of 1946 when he was traded to Detroit Red Wings. He played for Detroit in 1946 and 1947 and one day before the current season opened was traded to the Boston Bruins.

A month ago he was traded again to the New York Rangers but played only briefly for them and since has been under treatment by the club physician.

Gallinger, 23, a resident of Port Colborne, Ont., and reportedly a friend of Taylor's, served in the Canadian Air Force and had played with the Boston Bruins since 1942.

Campbell said that no special arrangements would be made to permit the Bruins and the Rangers to replace the two suspended players. He said that the clubs however could sign new amateurs or call up players who are on loan.

Good Cooperation

Campbell said in his formal statement that "the law enforcement authorities of the state of Michigan have been very cooperative in supplying valuable evidence upon which this investigation has been largely based."

He asked Sigler for continued assistance from the state in the investigation of Gallinger's case.

"I like the way you do things," said Sigler. "There is no compromise with crookedness. You can rest assured that all the facilities of Michigan will be available to help you clean up this situation."

Sigler and Campbell went into a private conference to discuss the continuation of the investigation.

Refusing to elaborate on the written statement, Campbell said, "To go beyond my statement would harm my inquiry. It might take me months to complete it."

Campbell said that he had discussed the charges with Taylor personally but that Taylor would not admit the bet although he admitted having telephone talks with Tamer.

Campbell came to Lansing after a trip that took him to Chicago, Boston, New York and Montreal.

Mission At Fort George Described By Missionary

YOUNG'S POINT, March 9 — (ENS). — In last Saturday's edition of the Examiner mention was made of a letter from Mrs. H. S. Shepherd, wife of Canon Shepherd. Canon Shepherd is in charge of St. Philip's Indian and Eskimo Residential School and the Anglican Mission at Fort George, on James Bay. Mrs. Shepherd in her letter is very interesting:

"It is a delightful place, spruce woods all about us, a very nice little house to live in, a fifty-bed school, and a beautiful, new, but small government hospital ready for opening. A nice largish church, and first, but last to be mentioned, hundreds and hundreds of Indians, all sincere, devout members of our church. Yesterday we went visiting in the tents, and it was so nice to meet the people in their own homes. I find the babies fascinating, all laced up in their little bags and swinging happily in their swings. Is there anything half so sweet as babies, whether black, white or brown? I met one dear old soul, who can't walk. She had the loveliest look on her face, could speak some English, and she looked so radiantly happy, with all her children and grandchildren about her, a queen in her own realm.

"There are all kinds of boats and planes coming and going here constantly one does not feel any isolation. A medical party of five doctors, who are making a survey of James Bay, is expected tomorrow. We are putting them up. Also two nurses coming in to open the new government hospital. And so it is—there is much coming and going. To-day it is the boat in with freight and the parades of Indians, big and small on the trails, bringing up the mission freight."

This letter was written in July and belies the impression of a bleak, lonely outpost. Mrs. Shepherd mentions the children, two boys and a girl, and how much they are enjoying the life at Fort George. Also the arrival of the new Hudson Bay Company manager and his wife, their only white neighbors.

ARAB SUPERSTITION

A nomad tribe of Arabs in ancient times had a superstition that evil would overtake a family if a girl, after marriage, set eyes on her mother again.

ed by Detroit police was turned over to Campbell last week on orders of Governor Sigler.

Corroberate Evidence

That evidence, Campbell said, was corroborated by his personal investigation.

The charge of betting by hockey players came to life with the arrest of James (Occo) Tamer, convicted gambler and bank robber who was recently returned to prison as a parole violator.

Campbell said that following his conference with the governor he would return immediately to Montreal. He planned to meet Thursday in New York with the governors of the league for a previously scheduled meeting.

Reform Dept. Urges Change In Handling Sex Offenders

TORONTO, March 9 — (CP). — Shortcomings in the criminal code in regard to mental sex offenders and alcoholics are pointed up in the report of the department of reform institutions in Ontario.

One of 13 reports tabled before the provincial legislature yesterday, it suggests a study of the two classes of offenders with a view to developing legislation for providing special treatment.

The report noted that the parole board is not in position to advocate treatment for such offenders although they may be mentally ill.

The report further showed that efforts to curb juvenile delinquency in the province are beginning to show results. It said it can prove that parents are chiefly to blame for such delinquency as does exist.

A bill amending the real estate act which provides for commissions being collected on rentals as well as sales of property, was given first reading.

The public hospitals and sanatoria for consumptives acts will be amended to permit a municipality to pay $40 instead of $30 for burial of indigent persons.

The report of the provincial research commission strongly advocated continuation of the system of research scholarships in the province, instituted last year. The report said $44,275 was spent on scholarships of the $50,000 set aside. It intimated that more money should be spent on agriculture research, noting that expenditure had been $300,000 when the industry produced more than $400,000,000 annually. The report pointed out that the United States spends one per cent of its annual income on agricultural research.

King, Queen Travel ThroughPanamaCanal

LONDON, March 9—(Reuters) —The outward voyage of the King and Queen to New Zealand and Australia early next year will be via the Panama Canal, it was learned to-day.

This rules out speculation that the Royal party will visit the new Dominions of India and Pakistan on the way to the Antipodes. The route chosen is taken to mean that they will first visit New Zealand.

Buckingham Palace officials denied American News Agency reports that Malaya and Ceylon as well as India and Pakistan might be visited during the tour.

May Reforestate Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya (CP)—Timber experts from Britain recently concluded talks here with Kenya's agricultural and forestry department. They discussed the possibilities of planting 200,000 acres of softwood trees in the mountains of this equatorial country.

Abandon Hope For Ship

MIAMI, Fla., March 9—(AP)— Hope of finding Jockey Al Snider and two fishing companions, missing at sea since Friday, dimmed yesterday as squally weather hindered the operation of some 30 military and private aircraft scouring a 20,000-square mile area of the Gulf of Mexico.

Skip Brown-Outs

LONDON, Ont., March 9.— (CP).—While Hydro officials in many Ontario centres continue to pull switches to help conserve power, London today passed its 10th day minus enforced brown-outs. Public Utilities Commission officials said switch-pulling has been unnecessary because of consumer co-operation.

Refused Auditorium

TORONTO, March 9.—(CP).— The National Federation of Labor Youth yesterday was refused use of Bloor Collegiate auditorium for what the group described as a mock trial to determine who is responsible for high prices. C. H. R. Fulles, business administrator for the Board of Education, said the applicant for the permit to hold the meeting in the school identified himself as a Communist and for that reason the organization was refused use of the auditorium.

Baking Industry Finances Will Be Probed

OTTAWA, March 9 — (CP) — Commons price committee investigators will dig quietly into baking industry finances after the public phase of its inquiry shifts to butter this week, it was indicated today.

The committee was expected to end the first stage of its public inquiry into higher bread prices on Wednesday, but Health Minister Martin, committee chairman, declared yesterday that would not bring the bread investigation to a stop.

The committee's steering subcommittee was considering sending accountants into the baking industry, he said, and it appeared likely that would be done. Also in prospect was an accountants' investigation of milling company operations, with the likelihood that this branch of the trade would be in the spotlight when the committee got back to bread some time later.

Since its bread inquiry opened, the committee has heard considerable about milling company control extending into the bakery business.

Given Evidence

Latest evidence on this came yesterday, when the committee heard of directorial connections between the Maple Leaf Milling Company and Canada Bread Company, operating in Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba; Eastern Bakeries, in the Maritimes and Canadian Bakeries, in Western Canada.

Evidence on this came from A. V. Loftus of Toronto, president of Canada Bread, who said the Maple Leaf firm controlled his company's stock.

However, Mr. Loftus declared Maple Leaf did not direct operatoins of the bread firm.

Begin Czech Purge

PRAGUE, March 9 — (AP). — Czechoslovakia's Parliamentary Acion Committee, formed to purge parliament, gets down to business to-day. The new Communist - controlled government said in a broadcast last night that all parliamentary deputies elected in 1946 and still seated when the government changed hands, can come in safety to the first meeting of parliament to-morrow.

Nevertheless, the Parliamentary Action Committee, headed by a woman Communist deputy, scheduled a meeting to-day on future plans, a subsequent broadcast said. The committee's announced plan is to weed out of parliament any deputies who refuse to pledge loyalty to the government, or whose past actions give doubt to their future attitude.

Lakefield Meeting Hears Discussion On School Area

LAKEFIELD, March 9 (ENS). —With five reeves and three ex-wardens in attendance, a large crowd in the Memorial Hall heard Gordon Duffin, provincial representative for school areas, outline the procedure for obtaining a school area for the Lakefield district.

Mr. Duffin advised the first step was to form a committee with Inspector K. O. Berkin as chairman and study the county with a view to picking a central and easily accessible centre. County Council in turn forms a board, one member from each centre having a population of less than 3,000. A member from the Board of the Public School having the largest attendance, one member from the Separate School Board, and one from the County Council.

Duties of Board

The new board selects site and engages an architect. They will have to report to the Department the number of pupils they anticipate and will be told the size and number of rooms they may have.

"High Schools of to-day," said the speaker, "do not meet the need of the children who attend. Most rural High Schools have only an academic course which does not always provide the student with a means of livelihood upon graduation. Each school should have academic course to Grade 13, a practical course, a general workshop, home economics, an agricultural course, and a commercial. All courses should be carried through to Grade 12. The Department pays in grants 75 per cent of the cost of maintenance of the school, of the debenture and on transportation, not exceeding $200 per pupil. "It is dubious," said Mr. Duffin, "if a school could be built at the present time for $100,000. Bancroft School cost $300,000. This school section has 750 pupils, statistics show."

The high school would have an enrollment of one-third, or 250 pupils.

Principal R. J. Sutton of the high school introduced Mr. Duffin, who was thanked by J. Ridpath, chairman of the board, and Roy Brown, councillor.

Mr. Brown stated that the chief interest of the people in the high school area was that Lakefield would like the county to decide where the new school would be located, as the present school is overcrowded.

Mrs. J. Brown, president, was chairman of the meeting.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. T. Corkery; correspondence was read by Mrs. C. Coons, and a vote of thanks moved by Mrs. E. Roth and Harold Deeth to those who helped with the school fair. Special mention was made of George Stenner, who entertained 190 children with movies, while their parents attended the fair.

Dental Report

Mrs. Brown read the report on the dental inspection conducted by Dr. R. Campbell, assisted by school nurse, Mrs. Wallace Hendren, which showed that the 255 public school students have 690 cavities, 154 extractions and 7 cases of trench mouth. The Home and School plan to have a dental inspection in high school in the near future.

Miss Gweneth Hughes of the Children's Shelter in Peterborough, stressed the need for more foster homes.

Reeve W. C. Grant paid tribute to the Home and School Association and introduced Melville Johnston, Jerry Mahoney, Norman Wilson, James Gifford and Roy Brown.

The high school band played several selections, and Ann Samis, Carolyn Ann and Frances Erskine, Jean Geraldi and Wendy Dunford presented a dance number.

Special Service Held At Springville

SPRINGVILLE, March 9 (ENS) —A men's choir of 14 voices was one of the special features of a service in Springville United Church on Sunday evening. Mr. Frank Stevens was at the piano and the choir contributed two numbers with solo and duet parts taken by Mr. Bernard Preston, choir leader, and Mr. Allan Stevens.

Mr. Allan Stevens led the congregation in a service of song accompanied at the piano by Mr. Eric Hartshorne of Peterborough. Miss Dorothy Lowes of Millbrook was guest soloist.

Mr. Frank Cunningham of the Peterborough Christian Business Men's Association played a lovely sacred solo on his accordion. After this, Mr. Cunningham spoke on "Christ of the past, the present, and the future."

Dr. Reddick, minister of Springville United Church assisted with the service and heartily thanked all who had assisted in the service.

The offering of $9.39 will be given to the Peterborough WCTU for their work among the boys and girls in scientific temperance courses, elocutionary contests, etc.

Poetry Moves Ahead

LONDON, Ont., March 9 — (CP). — Poetry must keep pace with science, Dr. E. J. Pratt, Canadian poet, said yesterday in an address at the University of Western Ontario. Dr. Pratt, senior professor of English at the University of Toronto, said the pulse of a destroyer's diesels, the "ping" of a submarine-seeking asdic, the hum of the electric generator and other "new" sounds peculiar to modern civilization are claiming the place in poetry long held by the hoof-beat and the rapier's clang.

Salaries Top Estimates At Collegiate

COBOURG, March 9.—(ENS). —Detailed figures concerning the various estimates which make up the total on which council bases its 53 mill tax rate are being given out to the public by Mayor Joseph Smith, in order that the public will have an idea as to how the tax monies are to be spent.

For consideration this week, the estimates of Cobourg Collegiate Institute are listed. Heading the list is teachers' salaries totalling $41,940. Cost of instruction equipment $2,785, including general shop $800, home economics $500, science $250, library $400 and other items. Only $25 was earmarked for agricultural equipment. Administration costs are $940; school operation $5,905, including caretaker's salary and fuel. School plant maintenance, $2,350; miscellaneous items amount to $435. Total expenditures amount to $54,355. Receipts, including provincial grant of $36,000 and county grant of $3,200 amount to $42,558.

Requisiton from the town is $11,797. This amount, plus debentures of $5,051.11, makes a total of $16,848.11.

COBOURG, March 9 — (ENS). —Homer Seale, who plays inside on the champion Galloping Ghosts rugby team, 1946 Dominion title minners, has joined the Cobourg police department. He succeeds Joseph Taylor who resigned to join the Ontario Provincal Police. Constable Seale is 23 years of age and served with R.C.N.V.R. He was born in Cobourg.

Wounds Accountant

VICTORIA, March 9.—(CP).—A 40-year-old Chinese was held for mental examination today following the wounding of an accountant during a shooting affray in the main branch of the Royal Bank of Canada yesterday. Police said there was no evidence of an attempted holdup. The Chinese entered the bank carrying a rifle and an argument over a cheque and the shooting followed.

Red Cross After $900 At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, March 9 — (ENS).—The local campaign for the Canadian Red Cross Society is now under way.

Mrs. R. A. Linton, president of the Campbellford and Seymour Branch, said that the co-operation of the Rotary and Kinsmen Clubs will ensure the quota of $900. A return of $168 last night by Walter Wiggins after a partial canvass of the west side business section would seem to confirm this.

Carl J. Maier is chairman of the canvass. Division supervisors are: Ward 1, Rotarian Bill Holmes; Ward 2, Kinsman Paul O'Sullivan; Ward 3, Kinsman Forrest Dennis; Ward 4, R. A. Connor; business section canvassers, west side, Rotarian Walter Wiggins; east side, Rotarian Lew Glover.

Lady canvassers are: Ward 3, Mrs. K. Cairns, Miss Gertrude Maynard, Mrs. Forrest Dennis, Mrs. Henry Bates, Mrs. George Lucy, Mrs. Nelson Lloyd, Mrs. Joe Smith, Miss Della Keir, Mrs. W. Scott, Mrs. M. Sayers; Ward 2, Mrs. Mills, Miss Kay Harold; Ward 1, Mrs. George O'Sullivan.

3 Charges Bring Penitentiary Terms

COBOURG, March 9 — (ENS). — Remanded from last week for sentence, Douglas Binks of Windsor and Alan Durant of Brockville appeared in police court yesterday. The two were arrested by Constable C. Cunningham who chased them in a stolen car in the police cruiser. They were charged with attempting to break into Macklin's service station on March 2; theft of a car at Kingston on March 1 and breaking into a Kingston garage on the same date.

Binks received concurrent terms of three years in penitentiary for the Kingston garage robbery; two years for car theft and two years for the attempted break-in at Cobourg. Durant, on the same three charges received concurrent terms of 2 years definite, 12 months indefinite; 18 month definite and six indefinite; 18 months definite and six indefinite.

Cobourg Plans Centre To Cost $150,000

COBOURG, March 9.—(ENS). —Robert Holland, chairman of the building committee of the proposed recreation centre, said yestrday that a $140,000 structure might be in operation next season if the public co-operates financially. Cost of the building would be $100,000 and cost of artificial ice would be $40,000.

'We went over our plans and estimates with the architect and have prices on various portions of the building. If necessary, we can call for tenders," Mr. Holland said.

It is deecided that the framework will be of structural steel with cement foundation and cement block wall to the eaves. The roof sheeting would be guaranteed for either ten or twenty years. The building committee believes the artificial ice pipes will function satisfactorily if covered with shallow cement. The essential factor at the moment, when contracts are being scanned, is the financial help of citizens. The ratepayers have consented to a corporation contribution of $50,000, the balance to be made by canvass.

LAST BRITISH TROOPS LEAVE INDIA—Regimental colors of the 1st Battalion, the Somerset Light Infantry, are displayed at Bombay, India, Feb. 28, before the troops embarked for the United Kingdom on the Empress of Australia. The battalion was the last contingent of British troops to leave the Dominion of India.

This Is Not "Much Ado About Nothing", as Shakespeare Said!

The Reserve Force in Peterborough is the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment, formerly the well-known Prince of Wales Rangers, and now converted to artillery. Today's city regiment is fast becoming one of the strongest in the Dominion and can readily take its place in the defence line whenever called upon.

But the regiment still needs men. Men to fill the many positions which go to make up a crack HAA outfit, one which will protect the industries of Peterborough from air attack in case of air incidents. Men are needed to operate the many facets of a regiment, including orderly room, medical section, pay section, vehicle group, signals and wireless, as well as the fighting group of the regiment, which includes gunners, predictor numbers, radar operators, plotter operators, height-finder detachments, telephonists and technical men.

The 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment is calling for volunteers from the following groups of men, for participation in the regimental activities every Tuesday and Thursday night.

(a) Former Active Force (war-time) personnel of any Arm, whose category is good and whose enthusiasm is better. In ranking personnel, every attempt will be made to retain the rank held on discharge from CASF, and personnel will be allotted as closely as possible to their past trade.

(b) Young men who either could not be spared for the Second Great War, or who were at the time too young, who now feel it their duty to keep the Reserve Force at an operational level.

(c) High school cadets who have a grade X or higher education at present, who are going to continue their education and who have reached the age of 17 years.

(d) Of all these, any who are especially proficient in special army duties will be welcomed but the regiment will train any persons who are enthusiastic about joining but who may be holding back because of the fear that they are totally ignorant of the ways of the army and especially of artillery.

Prominent military experts in Canada have characterized Canada's Reserve Force as the Dominion's "first line of defence" in case of an emergency. Just as the Reserve Force was the backbone of the Canadian armies early in the Second Great War, so in the future, that same force will do its work.

A Regulation That Needs Revision

A regulation of the provincial Department of Health makes it necessary for any child which has had an infectious disease to have a certificate from the local Medical Officer of Health before it returns to school. This seemingly innocent regulation is, we feel, of very little use in practice, and lays a burden on local health officers which they should not be expected to bear. In Peterborough, since last September, there have been widespread outbreaks of chicken pox, mumps and measles, and some hundreds of children have missed school because of them; each one of these children has had to apply in person (which means with a parent, in most cases) for a certificate from the M.O.H. Is it to be expected that he can give each child the examination it needs to certify that it is free from infection? Is it right to lay that responsibility upon him?

* * *

This regulation, we understand, was made to prevent careless physicians from certifying that children were fit to return to school who were not free of infection. We think that the proportion of physicians who are careless in such matters is small, and we do not think that the remedy for the carelessness of some physicians is to load part of their work upon one already busy man. Nor do we think that crowding children who may or may not have recovered from a variety of diseases into one waiting-room is in the interest of public health.

* * *

There are two remedies for the present situation. One is to make the certificate of the physician who has treated a child during infectious illness acceptable at the schools. The other is to revive the quarantine system, by which sufferers from infectious diseases were confined to their homes for a sufficient period. The present system, which permits infected children to play on the streets with well children (although they may not go to school with them) is ridiculous. We suggest that the Ontario Minister of Health, the Hon. Russell T. Kelley, examine this situation thoroughly, and amend the present regulations in such a way that municipal medical officers are not given an impossible job, and so that infected children are segregated for an appropriate length of time. The present system is farcical and ineffective.

Praise For The Film Board

The high praise given the Canadian National Film Board in Australia, where the Board is closing its office, is interesting when we compare it with some of the criticism which has been directed against the Board in Parliament during the past month. Educational authorities in Australia deeply regret the decision of the Board to close its office on that continent, for our Canadian films were highly regarded there, both for their intrinsic worth and their value as links with a sister dominion. Last year more than 300 Canadian films were given 16,400 showings; it is estimated that more than a million and a half Australians saw them. These were, it must be understood, documentary films about our country and its products. The value of showing them in a large trading country like Australia hardly needs to be stressed; it is the kind of advertisement which money alone cannot buy, and it creates the kind of goodwill and inter-Commonwealth understanding which is of great importance in our disturbed world.

The Film Board is the agency through which Canada is most vividly presented to peoples abroad with whom we trade, and with whom we wish to be friends. The average Canadian is not, we believe, well informed about South America, but great numbers of people in South America have seen something of our life in the films which the Film Board sends them. Our trade with South America is large, and it is thoroughly worth our while to see that the people of the Southern Republics know something about us. It is a pity that the Film Board office in Australia must be closed, but we can take satisfaction from the assurance of the Australian people themselves that it has done a good job there.

High Jinks And Political Kinks

The long tale of the Polish art treasures in Canada is a mystery which only the pens of the late John Buchan, Edgar Wallace and Alexandre Dumas should set down. Instead, its instalments have been coming over the Canadian Press wires since 1946.

The reasonably certain facts of the case are these: thirty-nine or forty chests contain the "treasures" which range from ecclesiastical antiques to Cracow tapestries and the coronation sword of Polish kings. They were brought secretly to Canada in 1940 and hidden in the purlieus of Ottawa and Quebec. In 1946 the Polish ex-Minister to Canada announced that the treasures had disappeared from their war-time hiding places in Ste. Anne de Beaupre, an Ottawa convent and a bank's vault. They have since been reported here and there and various claimants have been seeking to lay hold of them and to get Ottawa to intervene on behalf of either the new Communist Polish officials or the representatives of the old Government-in-exile. Ottawa has pointed out that the facilities of the Canadian courts are open to the claimants, but that diplomatically it has no right to interfere.

Those are the bones of the affair; the intrigue is far more romantic. Passwords have passed into the chaste ears of nuns; there is a mysterious agent with a tumour; high actors in the drama bear chilling, extravagant names—Dr. Fiederkiewicz, Waclaw Babinski, Stanislaus Swier-Zaleski. Now Premier Duplessis of Quebec has introduced a modern Canadian touch to the story—perhaps to bring the denouement. He has charged that the R.C.M.P. "violated" the cloister of the convent of the Hotel Dieu in Quebec and has had thirty-six treasure-trunks removed from the convent and put in the vaults of the Quebec museum on the Plains of Abraham.

Mr. St. Laurent, the Minister of External Affairs, has pointed out that the charge that R.C.M.P. forced their way into the convent is bunk. He says that Duplessis is trying to "smear" Quebec Federal Ministers. The top question in the latest development is: By what right did the Provincial Government of Quebec (in other words, Duplessis) seize the treasures and store them in a public building? What is the pay-off? Surely he doesn't want them merely as a tourist attraction?

Will There Be War?

It is inevitable that at present many people should be asking themselves, Will there be war with Russia? Ever since the close of the late conflict Russia has been increasing her territory by the same means, and with the same bullying menace, that Germany used. How are we to meet this situation?

On January 23 Winston Churchill made a speech in the British Commons which was not, in our opinion, heeded as it should have been. In it Mr. Churchill spoke of this growing fear of war and urged that a drifting policy would inevitably lead to war; the best chance of preventing war, he said, lay in coming to a settlement with the Soviet Government before it was too late. "It is idle to reason or argue with the Russians", said he; "it is, nonetheless, possible to deal with them on a fair, realistic basis, and in my experience they keep their bargains, so long as it is in their interest to do so; that might, in this matter, be a long time".

Mr. Churchill then recalled that he had said in 1945 that the possession of the atomic bomb gave the western democracies a breathing space of three or four years. Two of those years have now elapsed. And he concluded:

> "With all consideration of the facts, I believe it right to say today, that the best chance of avoiding war is, in accord with the other Western democracies, to bring matters to a head with the Soviet Government, and by formal diplomatic processes, with all their privacy and gravity, to arrive at a lasting settlement.
> "There is certainly enough for the interests of all, if such a settlement could be reached. Even this method, I must say, however, would not guarantee that war would not come. But I believe it would give the best chance of preventing it, and that, if it came, we should have the best chance of coming out of it alive".

Is not this good advice? And if it is, why has it not been heeded?

Neighbours recently joined in a search for a boy who ran away from home because he had to practice two hours a day on the piano. The youngster was lucky, however—his parents found him first.

"Of Cabbages and Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"HARD times followed the crash for the writing trade in general, but not for Alexander Woollcott (writes Samuel Hopkins Adams in his delightful biography—A. Woollcott.) Not only did he maintain his output, but he raised his prices. He became, so far as I can discover, the highest-paid book reviewer in history. Again, as in the early days of his dramatic criticism, he had initiated pioneer methods, and thus enlisted the interest of a new public. He got people to reading books who had never read before, by introducing the chatty, familiar, human-interest note. He had a neat trick of anecdote and reminiscence wherewith to spice his disquisitions and relieve them from the taint of the high-brow attaching generally to literary critiques.

"HE would recall, apropos of a homespun novel, that Walter Hines Page, before he became Ambassador to Great Britain, rejected David Harum as 'too vulgar.' A notice of journalistic memoirs reminded him that the King of Italy cherished a romantic ambition to become an American reporter, if, and when the business of royalty played out. He liked to inform or remind his readers that Alfred Housman made his debut over the pen-name of Terence Hearsay; that Sarah Bernhardt played Ophelia one hundred times before she knew how the play ended, her interest dying with the death of the hapless maiden whom she depicted; that the convincing local colour of the tropical novel, Mr. Fortune's Maggot, emanated not from observation but from the fancy of Sylvia Townsend Warner, who had never been within thousands of miles of the South Seas; that Shangri-La's high and lost peaks and vales were created by one 'whose travelling, I believe, had been limited to a fortnight in a Swiss pension'; that Franz Schubert, wasting away in poverty, asked for the latest J. Fenimore Cooper novel; that Bennett's full name was Enoch Arnold Bennett and he had had two wives simultaneously; that one line of Anthony Hope's is literally graven in bronze, the elegy for W. S. Gilbert, 'His Foe was Folly & his Weapon Wit'; that Barrie financed the ill-fated Scott expedition to the South Pole; that Paul Robeson, though a Phi Beta Kappa and an all-American end at Rutgers, never made the Glee Club, and the 'unknown' line of 'poetry' cut into the stone of the Yale Library is neither unknown nor poetry, being, in fact, the opening sentence of the best-selling novel, "Scaramouche": 'He was born with the gift of laughter, and a sense that the world is mad."

◇ ◇ ◇

"I NEVER thought of W. H. Davies as a London poet, (recounts Ernest Rhys in his delightful autobiography "Wales England Wed"—or part of, I should have said, as has written several other volumes about his eventful life, equally delightful.) He seemed to belong to that open-air breed which needs a country background, but his London diversions were not exactly idyllic. One evening a friend called at his rooms and found he had gone to the Palladium. There he found Davies in the front row of the gallery smoking his clay pipe and laughing outrageously at a comedian."

"YEARS later the same figure in grey tweed stumping along with his wooden leg and still smoking the clay pipe, arrived at a hospital door in Mayfair where a poets' reading (got up by Grace, Mrs. Ryan) was to take place on behalf of the Belgian refugees. Ten or twelve poets turned up to read. But only two took the ear of the audience, and one was W. H. Davies. I am haunted still by that unaffected voice:

"What is this life, if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare?
No time to stand beneath the boughs
And stare as long as sheep or cows.
No time to see, when woods we pass,
Where squirrels hide their nuts in grass."

◇ ◇ ◇

"THE book-hunting instinct, always a strong one in me, was stimulated by the hunting up of old authors for Everyman (the series Rhys helped J. M. Dent found) and picking up the literary trail in the Reading Room of the British Museum. Books apart, there was a queer attraction about the place, and outside it in a Viennese cafe where we drank the best coffee in London. The Reading Room itself was the most extraordinary club in the world, where one met poets and lunatics, beggars and literary bigwigs".

◇ ◇ ◇

"MANY fellow-visionaries there were, I knew, immured in that sombre building, several poets, some of them attached to the regular staff, like Laurence Binyon in the print room, and Robin Flower, Irish poet and Celtic scholar, in the Manuscript Department. A pleasant escape from the Reading Room to Flower's quarters, for he usually had some story to tell of his last Irish holiday. Once when passing through the stately gallery of the King's Library I saw him ahead of me, lurching in his gait, and he told how he had been thrown from a wild horse in the Aran Isles. He was laid up there for some time, and the only available nurse was the mid-wife, a humourous motherly woman, who every day when she came to see him threw up her hands and said in Gaelic with a laugh: 'Arrah now, you've been a long time tying-in.'

Slaves In Ontario

The first Legislature of Upper Canada was organized in 1792 and the following year the Legislature, largely at the instance of Governor John Graves Simcoe, passed a bill forbidding slavery after that date.

There were never many slaves in this province. The few here were brought in by some of the pioneer U.E. Loyalist families. As a concession to them they were permitted to retain their slaves until death, but the children of these slaves were to be free on reaching maturity.

So that Upper Canada was the first part of the British Empire actually to abolish slavery.—London Free Press.

Communist Membership

(THE MANCHESTER GUARDDIAN)

THE membership of the British Communist party reached its highest point in 1943, when, for the first time in its history, it was a patriotic party and when the Soviet Union, whose agent it is, was an honored and admired ally in war. Since the end of the war the Communist membership had fallen—at first slowly; in the last years more rapidly. By the summer of 1947 the 60,000 of 1943 had become 38,600. This is the last published figure. Mr. Pollitt told the Italians yesterday that he had 46,000 members, but did not say whether the figure is of "registered" or nominal members. It may be expected that the new tactics imposed by Moscow—the vilification of Labour leaders and the violent anti-Americanism, coupled with the new Labour counter-offensive — will hasten the slump. For the Communist party is a very volatile party. It has a hard core of the faithful, but outside that a highly fluctuating and unreliable fringe. In its first years, from 1920 to 1925, it had never more than five thousand members; the figure jumped up to 10,800 in the coal stoppage of 1926 but soon melted away and by 1931 was down to little more than two thousand. In the great depression it gained, but the most rapid progress came in the late thirties. The Communists benefitted from their Popular Front tactics, reflecting the changed foreign policy of Russia and the Communist International, which sought anti-Fascist alliances. The Communists were the most vocal in protest against the rise in Nazism and Fascism and were helped by the general feeling among Progressives in favor of a working arrangement between all sections of the Left. When war broke out the membership had reached 17,800. The precise effects of the inglorious change-round of 1939-41, when the war was opposed on Moscow's orders, have not been disclosed; the next figures are for the end of 1941, after Russia had come into the war and the Communists become patriotic. The rise was now spectacular, but the tide has turned once again as Russia has gone isolationist. Molotov's boast that "all roads now lead to Communism" rings emptily here; perhaps that is why he and Zhandov and the rest love us so much.

From The Larger Lunacy

As in Othello it must be the fault of the moon—"she comes more nearer earth than she was wont and makes men mad."

For what have we now in the realm of the crackpottedly fantastical? Nothing less than a solemn news-agency account of a "British Interplanetary Society," allegedly composed of "prominent scientists," forecasting military bases on a moon divided up between the warring nations of the earth, and dropping, unlike the quality of mercy, guided missiles upon this place beneath.

The fact that the "British Interplanetary Society" has the same relation to science as Kipling's "flat earthers," and that its "scientists" are the sort that are at their best composing comic-strip impossibilities, does not destroy the tale's entertainment value. But lest it should re-start "flying saucer" fatuity or send the inhabitants of some part of this credulous continent fleeing from wrath coming from the moon, let it be gently insisted that the moon is uninhabitable and that if men ever get there they will have to bring their atmosphere with them.

If only Stephen Leacock were living at this hour, with what glee would he add another moonbeam to his larger lunacy. — Ottawa Citizen.

The Lost Swab

In St. Thomas a number of years ago an operating surgeon, a man noted for his skill and who always keeps an eye on what his aides are doing, notwithstanding his concentration on his task, saw that the nurse whose duty it was to extract the swabs and things was "wool-gathering" and not paying the attention to her job that she should have done.

Unobserved by her he took out one of the swabs and put it in his pocket. When the patient was sewn up he said to her: "Have you all your swabs there?" "Oh yes, she replied. "Count them", he commanded. She did so, found that she was one short, gave a shriek and collapsed on the floor.

No doubt she kept her mind on her work after that.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pastures. (Ps. 100: 1-3.)

Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breadth unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein. (Isa. 42: 5.)

Fear not: for I am with thee: I will bring they seed from the east, and gather thee from the west; I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth; even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him; yea, I have made him....

Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. (Isa. 43: 5-7, 10.)

A BRITISH OPINION

Says Pittsburgh Will Be Improved Club

TAMPA, Fla., March 9.—(AP).—Johnny Neun, Cincinnati Reds' pilot, thinks that Pittsburgh will be an improved ball club this year....And in the next breath he adds: "I may be the only one who thinks so."....Some other members of the Reds official family believe Dixie Walker won't be as effective in Pittsburgh as he was in Ebbets Field, where the fans were all on his side.... Word from Clearwater is that Jim Tabor is hollering for his unconditional release from the Phillies so he can join a semi-pro club ....And on the first bounce from Hollywood comes the word that Jimmy Dykes has been told he'll have to produce in the Pacific Coast League this season or take himself and his big cigar elsewhere.

Indirect Approach

One thing the Reds miss since the departure of Bill McKechnie is Bill's polished ways of insulting umpires, something Johnny Neun hasn't yet been able to match....A few years ago, for instance, four umpires turned up for one game. All went well until there was a decision at third which Bill didn't like....McKechnie merely wandered down to the coaching line, studiously ignored the arbiter, and remarked to the opposing third-baseman, "the tipoff on you guys is that you have to have four umpires to get a decision."

Send Navy Destroyer To Pick Up Two POW's

PLYMOUTH, England, March 9—(CP)—Two German prisoners-of-war who escaped from a camp at Bridgewater, Somerset, and stowed away aboard a Vancouver-bound ship, are back in prison after a daring attempt to leave Britain.

The men escaped last month and made their way to the Avonmouth docks, where they stowed away aboard the 5,224-ton merchantman King Neptune which left Feb. 27 for Vancouver.

When members of the crew found the escapers aboard a message was sent to the Royal navy destroyer Johnston which picked the men up at sea and landed them here.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B_1, C, D, Riboflavin (B_2), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

Million More Inhabitants In Ontario In Next Ten Years Porter Forecasts

Predicting that Canada in general and Ontario in particular were "on the threshold of a great period of expansion," Hon. Dana H. Porter, K.C., Minister of Planning and Development, in a luncheon address before the Rotary Club on Monday, estimated that Ontario's population would increase by 1,000,000 within the next 10 years.

This figure was arrived at by adding the yearly increase of population in the province, estimated at 40,000, to the annual Ontario quota of immigrants, calculated to be 60,000. Over a 10-year period this would give an additional 1,000,000 people, he said.

He intimated it was expected that the number of immigrants arriving through the Ontario Air Immigration Scheme would reach the 7,000-mark sometime this week.

Referring to the scheme he denied that British emigrants were given an over optimistic picture of conditions in this country. "If selective immigration has accomplished nothing else it has averted many people coming with false hopes and aspirations." And he estimated that fully as many, if not more, applicants in the London reception centre were advised not to come, as those who did make the journey. He explained that the particular skills and background of the individual were carefully investigated before affirmative advice was given.

"Planning for tomorrow is making decisions today rather than waiting for difficulties to arise suddenly," he said.

Survey Made in 1946.

To determine the number of people Ontario could absorb, the provincial minister said that his department made a survey in the latter part of 1946, interviewing industrialists, mining associations, agricultural associations, labor groups and other bodies, receiving a cross-section of opinion from which a tentative estimate could be made.

Possibilities of immigration from the British Isles and from Europe were explored, he said, and the policies of the various European governments regarding emigration were considered.

Holland had been particularly co-operative in this respect, he said. Approximately 40 people a day pass through the special immigration office set up in The Hague to get their health examination. The majority of them were farmers who found not enough land to settle down on in their native land and wished to settle in British territory.

This year about 8,000 Dutch settlers are expected to come to Canada, he said, and most of them would be coming to Ontario. In almost every case a definite arrangement has been made to work on specific farms in some capacity.

Lack of shipping space and the conversion of guilders into dollars were the two major drawbacks to a speedier flow of Dutch immigrants, said Mr. Porter. He said, however, that this summer there should be enough Dutch ships available to bring these future citizens to Canada.

In a recent visit to Holland Marsh, north of Newmarket, where a large number of Dutch are working on the land, the minister said he found them satisfied and settling down to their new life after only a few weeks. Some of them have large families, as high as eleven children, he said.

He expressed his satisfaction at the functioning of the Air Immigrant Scheme, and said organizational plans for this venture had to be developed rapidly. A charter agreement was entered into at the end of June, 1947, and the first plane carrying 40 people from the United Kingdom landed at Malton on August 3.

One of the chief considerations in choosing the prospective immigrant was his age, said Mr. Porter. He contended that people not more than 35 years of age could adjust themselves to their new life more readily. "On the whole young men and women are more readily adjustable under new conditions. If there is no vacancy in their particular skill or trade they can take alternative employment."

The average time is three days for an immigrant to get a job, said Mr. Porter. He cited the example of one man who left his job in a London hotel at noon on Saturday, stepped into the Ontario immigration centre in that city, caught the next plane, and was working in a Toronto hotel by 9 a.m. on Monday.

"The overwhelming majority are fully satisfied, and realize that they are not going out to pick manna off the ground, but to make a contribution to the country . . . It may mean hard work, and putting up with temporary inconveniences — which can be done if the person feels these inconveniences can be overcome."

The speaker was introduced by James Dutton, Sd., and thanked by Herbert Bradburn. James Hamilton presided in the absence of president Charles Cummer.

Here and There In Sport

Henri Rochon of Montreal yesterday was seeded fifth among non-American stars in preparations for the United States indoor tennis championships which start Thursday at New York. Elaine Fields, also of Montreal, was seeded second among non-Americans in the women's singles.

The Illinois State Athletic Commission yesterday deferred action on its threat to suspend the managerial licence of Mike Spinelli, New York, in connection with the ring death of Sam Baroudi, Akron, O., February 21. The Commission met a few hours after ranking light-heavyweight fighter Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati was cleared in court of an involuntary manslaughter charge stemming from his fatal bout with Baroudi.

The coroner's jury recommended that Spinelli and Baroudi's trainer Al Warner, be barred for life from professional boxing.

With only five games to play, Carl Liscombe of the Providence Reds appear a cinch to take individual scoring honors in the American Hockey League. According to statistics reelased yesterday, Liscombe tallied 104 points in 44 goals and 60 assists. Cliff Simpson of Indianapolis is second with 94 points and also has five games to play. Liscombe is the first player in the league's history to top 100 points in a season.

Toronto Bell AC jumped into a 9-2 lead over Hamilton last night in the first game of the OMHA midget group home and home playoffs at Toronto. Winner of the total-goal series meet Barrie or Oshawa in the semi-finals to decide who plays Stratford or Kitchener in the finals.

The rigid duck hunting regulations of 1947 may be relaxed this year, Director Albert M. Day of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, said at St. Louis yesterday. Initial reports from a Federal waterfowl census made in January indicate that a three-year decline in the duck population has been halted, he said.

St. Catharines Lions, defending Ontario Juvenile A OMHA champions, defeated Toronto Beaches-Lions 5-0 in the first game of a total-goal home-and-home group playoffs at Toronto last night. Winners of the series play Barrie Lions in the semi-finals for the right to meet Kitchener or Stratford in the finals. Archie Leoni rapped in two quick goals on solo efforts, while Albert O'Hearne, Connie Switzer, and Eilard O'Brien scored the others.

Oscar Judd, lean southpaw for Philadelphia Phillies, took off by plane yesterday from Clearwater, Fla., for his Ingersoll, Ont., home after receiving word of the death of his father. Judd, one of the five ranking left-handers in the Phillies camp, will rejoin the club after the funeral.

SECOND BASE CANDIDATE

Washington Senators have a rookie second base candidate who was a manager last year. He is Calvin Coolidge Ermer, who was named boss of the Class B Charlotte Club — a Washington farm team—in the middle of the 1947 season. Ermer, who was 21 at the time, batted .297 and led the Tri-State League in doubles with 27.

New Powerful Germ-killer May Whip Bubonic Plague

BALTIMORE, March 9—(AP)—A nine-year-old boy lay critically ill in Sydenham hospital here. He suffered from a skin eruption with a secondary infection that ordinarily would lead to death.

Doctors administered huge doses of streptomycin and penicillin. They did not help.

Then they called John Hopkins hospital physicians who have been experimenting with a new, powerful germ-killer, called polymyxin.

The Hopkins scientists injected the drug, in the form of a white powder, underneath his skin. Three days later, the eruption began to clear. He was well after eight days.

The un-named boy was the first human to be treated with Polymyxin. In the last several months, similar speedy cures have been effected by th drug in cases of undulent fever, whooping cough, certain types of blood poisoning and meningitis.

The Hopkins doctors, Perrin H. Long, professor of preventive medicine, and Morton S. Bryer, Eleanor A. Bliss and Emanuel Schoenbach—told of the first cure last night.

May Whip Plague

They reported the drug may lead to a final triumph over bubonic plague. It will be sent to India soon to find out how it works against that ancient curse on mankind.

Typhoid fever, various urinary tract infections, tuleremia (rabbit fever) and certain deadly infections are among the ailments against which doctors said they found the new drug "uniquely effective."

One big advantage polymyxin has over the other recent "wonder drugs" is that the germs it attacks do not develop a resistance to it, the doctors reported.

Polymyxin comes from the bacilis polymyxa. This is a minute organism commonly found in soil, water, sewage and such.

The drug is not yet available for general clinical use.

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP).—Chicago Cubs, who finished next to last in the National League home run derby in 1947, are leading the major baseball leagues in this specialty in the Grapefruit League. In three games, all against Chicago White Sox, the Cubs have slapped six homers.

Emil (Dutch) Leonard, Philadelphia Phillies' veteran knuckle ball expert, will pitch the opening game of the National League season against Boston Braves at Philadelphia April 20, Manager Ben Chapman announced. Leonard won 17 and lost 12 last year.

Connie Mack, Philadelphia Athletic manager, is eyeing the rookie shortstop William Demars for a berth with the A's when they leave Florida April 2.

With First Sacker George McQuinn in the fold, only pitcher Charley Wensloff remains on the New York Yankees' holdout list. McQuinn came to terms yesterday.

Senators Argue About Use Of Margarine

OTTAWA, March 9 — (CP).—A Liberal senator's Bill to revoke the ban on oleomargarine won support last night from another member of the Government side of the Red Chamber — but was opposed by two other Liberals.

Discussion of the margarine question was revived as the Senate resumed debate on a motion of Senator W. D. Euler (L-Ontario) for second reading of a Bill which would permit importation, manufacture and sale of the butter substitute.

Senator W. J. Hushion (L-Quebec) argued that margarine at 40 cents a pound, compared with butter at 70 cents, would "mean $12 a month difference for the man with a large family." The substitute should be manufactured "for those who can't pay for butter."

Opposition to the Bill came from Senators Cyrille Vaillancourt (L-Quebec) and J. P. McIntyre (L-Prince Edward Island).

Senator Vaillancourt said he does not deny that margarine is "wholesome and nutritious" nor that the question of "personal freedom" is involved in prohibiting its sale. But margarine probably could not be sold for less than 50 cents a pound and the yearly per capita saving would be less than $6. Between 1917 and 1923, when margarine was sold in Canada, the dairy and farm industries had suffered — "and I don't want to see the same damage done again."

Senator McIntyre said butter prices would tumble if margarine was put on the market and all industry would sooner or later be affected.

Canada did not have enough population to absorb production of both margarine and butter. To pass Senator Euler's Bill would be "a great injustice" to Canadian farmers.

Veteran Tigers Still Smoothies Of Ont. Hockey

HAMILTON, March 9.—(CP).—That old refrain of "you're an old smoothie" once again may be applied to the veteran Hamilton Tigers whose smooth passing and team play may take the Senior "A" Ontario Hockey Association championship crown for the fourth straight season. This year's edition of the Jungle Tribe is a little younger, much cleaner and still powerful.

The much-used term "old men of the mountain" still can be applied to them but with a little less accuracy as a few new younger faces have turned up in that familiar and once-grubby yellow-and-black upholstery, and a few older players have either retired or transferred allegiance.

The Tigers, who gained nation-wide fame two years ago by not washing their underwar for luck, are seeking the O.H.A. title. Having disposed of the youthful Toronto Marlboros they now are locked in a duel with Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen for the league crown.

Puck Dazzle

At the close of the 1946-47 campaign after being ousted from the Allan Cup hunt by Montreal Royals, most of the old-timers on the squad announced their retirement. But when training was called, they came running as veterans like Art Childs, Clare Shillington, Swat Mason, Bert Peer, Frankie Liscombe, Bill Dinning and the Conick brothers—Ab and Johnny—couldn't resist the puck lure.

In individual efforts the Tigers, who average more than 30 years in age, again come close to the top. Clare Shillington finished one point behind Johnny McCormack of the Marlies in the scoring race with 76 points, and goalie Art Childs finished in a tie with Howie Harvey, also of the Marlies, with an 86-goals-against average.

Warns Suspicion Will Grow Over Hong Kong

OTTAWA, March 9 — (CP) — Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross (PC-Souris) said last night in the Commons that public "suspicion' 'of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent and former Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff in connection with the royal commission on Hong Kong "will grow and spread...until the time there is a public inquiry held in the open."

Speaking on a government motion to establish a veterans' committee, Col. Ross noted that the 2,017 Canadian soldiers who fought in the unsuccessful defence of Hong Kong in 1941 did not receive special Pacific campaign pay.

"I want to assure this House that today there is very great dissatisfaction in parts of Canada with the manner of treatment dealt out by this government to our veterans of Hong Kong...

"The report of the Duff Commission of 1942 was not in keeping with the true facts with respect to this matter. I wish to say that many people are very suspicious of Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff, the prime minister and the secretary of state for external affairs, who was then minister of justice, with respect to that inquiry.

"I want to add right here that this suspicion will grow and spread across this country up until the time there is a public inquiry held in the open to prove or disprove many of these charges with reference to that inquiry.

Neal Resigns Name Mather CPR President

MONTREAL, March 9.—(CP.—The resignation of W. M. Neal, 61-year-old chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, was announced yesterday by the company and is effective immediately.

Mr. Neal's resignation, brought about by continued ill health, came only a year after he took over as head of the C.P.R.

George A. Walker of the legal department and senior vice-president in Montreal, becomes chairman, and W. A. Mather of Winnipeg, a railroader since his 'teen, becomes president.

Mr. Neal succeeded D. C. Coleman as chairman and president on Feb. 1, 1947. Prior to that he was vice-president for five years.

A native of Toronto, Mr. Neal joined the company there when only 16 years old. His rise was steady and in 1922 he became superintendent of the Algoma district with headquarters at North Bay.

In 1942 he was made assistant to the vice-president at Montreal. Between then and the time of his appointment as vice-president in 1942, he served as general manager and then as vice-president of western lines at Winnipeg.

Mr. Walker, also a native of Toronto, entered the company's legal department there. He was appointed director of the company in 1947 and elected to the executive committee a month later.

Mr. Mather, a graduate in engineering from McGill University, was born in Oshawa, entering the C.P.R. when he was 19.

He takes over the presidency after serving as vice-president of the prairie region since May, 1942.

Legionnaires Defeat Petes, 4-2 To Capture The Group Title In A Redhot Senior "B" Playoff

Legionnaires rubbed out the Petes 4-2 in Omemee last night to take the OHA Senior "B" group championship four games to one. A big crowd saw a redhot struggle last evening on good ice with Legion earning the duke but having to fight it out to the final gong against the battling Petes. Play was fast, close and exciting from start to finish. There was some stiff checking in spots but it was generally clean for a playoff game between these warmish rivals. Referee Ab Grant of Toronto handed out 13 penalties to keep it under control, seven going to the winners. The score was 1-1 in the first and 3-2 for Legion going into the third chukker.

Edge For Each

Ned Vitarelli's crew had a good margin on play in the first inning, despite the tie count, and Red Creighton's pack outplayed Legion, though outscored, in the middle heat. It was fairly even in the heated third period, first one side pressing and then the other. The Petes congratulated the winners at the finish, saying the better club had won—and Coach Creighton said they did not intend to lodge a protest regarding one of the Legion players on the residence rule.

Both goalies again were standouts in this torrid tilt, kicking out a flock of labelled shots. Ross Nicholls had to be good in the second as the Petes peppered him. Ned Vitarelli and Godfrey again were solid on Legion's defence, and Drake Jopling went best at the Petes' blue line. Ernie Nicholls was the pick of both teams up front while Crowley was the only one to garner two scoring points. All the puckists on both teams worked terrifically throughout.

In Memory

A minute's silence was observed at the start for the late Sid Trowbridge, and then they opened it up fast. Bob Greenlaw first tested Harding and Blewett came back to make Nicholls jump. Godfrey went off for holding and Kingdon followed for tripping. Tompkins' goal didn't count after the whistle. Later, Parnell was gated for playing the puck minus his stick and Crowley scored the first goal. He took Doug Mortimer's pass and raced up on a breakaway to tally in close. With all back, it was fast until Doug Mortimer went over for slashing and Horton followed for charging. Ace and Ernie Nicholls came close as Legion pressed, and Parnell was robbed by Harding. Ned Vitarelli drew a penalty for high-sticking and Freddie Mortimer tied up the count in close as they ganged up, using a backhander. Legion were peppering Ray at the end.

Kingdon tried Nicholls early in the second and Ernie Nicholls almost fooled Harding. The Petes began ganging up and Jopling hit the post. Legion's first line bothered Harding and then Ross was kept on the jump for a space. A Kingdon-Tompkins thrust nearly paid off, Montgomery got right in and then Garvey was thefted, before Dootch Vitarelli gave Ray a hot stab to handle. Bob Greenlaw made it 2-1 as he raced in fast with a pass, starting from Rochetta to Crowley, and he finished it up neatly. Half a minute later, Ernie Nicholls blasted a sizzler from defence and it got away from Harding to make the count 3-1. The Petes tore back to outplay Legion till Tompkins went off for holding, and he was followed by Freddie Mortimer and Bob Greenlaw for high-sticking.

Even Frame

Rochetta was close to open the third and Ernie Nicholls got a cut on the nose. Later Montgomery got one there, too. Doug Mortimer was waved away for tripping and five Petes' forwards roared in. Bob Greenlaw almost counted on a breakaway but Ray outguessed him. With all back, Freddie Mortimer was close and then Parnell on a breakaway. Horton was chased for charging and Parnell a bit later for hooking, as Tompkins nearly fooled Ross in close. Red Creighton took Tompkins' defence, and it was deflected off pass and slapped one from outside a defender's skate into the twine to make it 3-2. With Ron and Bob back, Legion put it in the bag when Parnell—just out of the box—took a long forward from Ned Vitarelli and broke away to go right in and slip it into the hemp. Ernie Nicholls came close again and then five Petes' forwards went on the prowl to pester Ross Nicholls the rest of the way unsuccessfully, though Montgomery drew a slashing penalty near the finish.

The teams:

Legion: Goal, R. Nicholls; defence, Godfrey and N. Vitarelli; centre, Rochetta; wings, R. Greenlaw and Crowley; alternates, E. Nicholls, A. Nicholls, Burns, Parnell, D. Vitarelli, H. Greenlaw and D. Mortimer.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Jopling and R. Creighton; centre, Blewett; wings, Garvey and J. Creighton; alternates, Kingdon, Tompkins, F. Mortimer, Horton, Montgomery, F. Parsons and Burton.

Referee, A. Grant; linesman, H. Payne.

Summary:

First Period

Legion—Crowley (D. Mortimer) 6.25

Jamaican Clips Record

MONTREAL, March 9 — (CP). — Tall, tan and terrific Herb McKenley sent an estimated 7,500 Montreal track enthusiasts home last night convinced that the Jamaican will be a mighty tough man to beat in the coming summer Olympic Games in London. McKenley, who holds the world 440-mark, clipped 1:68 seconds off the Canadian indoor record for 500 yards to win the special invitation event for that distance in the Canadian Legion's second annual track meet.

Reg Dyer Leads YM League With 826 Mark

Canada Packers retained their two-point advantage over Commercials in the YMCA Men's League last night defeating B'nai B'rith 4-2. Commercials 4-2 win over Jay Bees kept them in second spot just ahead of Tips Tops and Artists who both gained on the leaders by scoring shutouts. The Artists blanked Quakers 6-0 and Tip Tops whitewashed Aberdeens by the same margin.

Reg Dyer was high man in the individual scoring taking down high three with 826 and high single of 357. The veteran Dyer has been going good lately, and his steady bowling has brought the Artists to within a few points of top spot in the loop.

Other good triple scores included Harry Graham's 775, Ray Bennett 751 and George Coleman 707. Dyer's single was the only 300 score, Harry Graham just missing with 299.

Artists had both high triple and single team score with 3411 and 1283.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Even though they settled for exhibition games most of last summer, the Petes had quite a baseball following. And we're glad they intend to operate again. There is certainly a spot for senior ball in this city and it would draw even better under the lights. Though we like the Saturday afternoon games, too. Something should be coming from Belleville within a few days as they're planning to operate. also some talk in Kingston and Oshawa, and it might be that the old COBL can be revived. If not, or only partially, these teams may be included in a Toronto senior setup, if only on an interlocking schedule basis. But it apepars pretty definite that the Petes—minus a few former stars and plus several newcomers — will be dishing up senior ball for local fans comes summer weather again.

This from the Niagara Falls Review: "Phil Downie seems to have made one shrewd appointment in his latest changes in Dynamo executive offices. We're particularly interested in Jerry O'Donoghue's nomination for the managerial role. The youthful Peterborough product has worked untiringly for the game's advancement here the past season. He assumed most publicity duties and he hasn't done so without monetary cost. On many occasions Jeremiah has gone into his pocket to assume some of the club's obligations and once advanced an amount far in excess of what is generally paid out in this particular business. We're told his grid ability was beyond that of many of his mates and it's men of this type who deserve important offices." Nice going, Jerry.

Their Help's Needed

We hope the industrial heads swing in with the Civic Arena Committee's plans at their meeting tonight and lend support to the important project. Without the manufacturers' aid, it would be mighty tough sledding. An artificial ice arena is not only an asset but really a necessity in a thriving city like Peterborough. A shame to see so many fans having to go out of town for "home" games — good hockey, too—spending money, endangering lives; and also a great many hockey lovers having to remain at home. Just have to do without their ice entertainment. And the youngsters coming up—well, our minor circuit, our industrial loop, and others, had to fold up when the natural ice on open-air civic rinks went recently. We need this arena badly and this is the year to get it.

It was trails end for the Petes in Omemee last evening as they were handed the slimmer side of a 4-2 count by Legionnaires before a big crowd. A swell struggle all the way, with the scrappy Legions earning the group title. They've been building for three OHA years and finally clicked this semester, getting hotter than tamales during the current series. Yes, they're worthy winners and our congrats to them. A fast-stepping, battling bunch of puckists, they should do alright in provincial playdowns. Haven't heard at this writing when or where they go next, but should learn a bit later today what the setup is. Maybe in time to catch the bottom of this pillar.

Went Down Battling

And the Petes need not feel disgraced after their loss last eve. They went down battling bitterly to the last bell, and then they congratulated the victors. They've had their share of titles and will be back another year—this just wasn't their year. Favorites most of the season and the bunch who finished the schedule atop the pile, they slumped a bit when the chips were down. And you can't do that against a hot club like Legion were. But the Petes made this last tilt a dandy and outplayed Legion—though outscored 2-0—during that sizzling second period. Red Creighton said afterward that the better team had won and he had no intention—as rumored—of protesting one of the players reported to have come in after the residence date deadline.

* * * * * *

If we were compelled to pick stars of last night's scrap, we'd pick three—Ross Nicholls, Ray Harding and Ernie Nicholls. Both goalies shone, and Ernie was the best forward out there. Others were good, too—in fact there were no loafers in that game. Jopling was solid on defence for the Petes, as were Ned and Johnny for Legion. Tompkins was always dangerous, and so was Joe Rochetta. Crowley was in on two goals and kept hustling every minute. But they all toiled like Trojans and no fan left the arena till that last bell sounded. Referee Grant handled the game well, letting a little go but clamping down when it roughed up at all. The crowd saw a fitting finale to senior "B" hockey on Omemee ice for this winter.

Marmora Goes Ahead

A capacity crowd of 1,200 at Madoc last e'en saw the men o' Marmora pull out a 7-4 victory over Norwood. It was the second win—along with a tie—for Marmora in three tilts played so far in the best-of-five Trent Valley League puck finals. A victory for them in Norwood on the morrow would wrap up the TVL title, though we imagine those Norwood chaps won't bow out too readily. Lot of interest in this large and lively district circuit, and play was hot enough last gloaming with the homesters drawing most of the penalties. Cousins, the Leonards and K. Trumble sparked Marmora to the win while Scott, Hamilton and Payne were the pick of the losers.

O'Connor Keeps Top Place In NHL

MONTREAL, March 9.—(AP). —With the National Hockey League's four playoff spots all but settled, the hottest race in years for the scoring title has taken over the spotlight.

Lightweight Buddy O'Connor, New York Ranger playmaker de luxe, still heads the list with 55 points, but gunning for the lead two points back is Norman (Bud) Poile of Chicago, and three points back of the pace-setter are Elmer Lach of Montreal and Chicago's Gaye Stewart.

Official statistics released today show O'Connor with 23 goals and 32 assists, while Poile has 24 and 29. Lach and Stewart have identical records of 26 counters and 26 assists.

Not out of the battle for the scoring crown and the $1,000 bonus that goes with it are the Bentley brothers, Max of Leafs and Doug of the Black Hawks, who boast 50 points apiece.

Likely a Toss-up.

O'Connor, Poile and Stewart each have six games left to play in the run to the wire, while Lach has only five counters. But, in any case, picking the eventual winner looks like a toss-up.

Sharp-shooting Ted Lindsay of Detroit has a wide edge of the circuit's goal-getters with 31 counters to his credit, while O'Connor and Doug Bentley share the assists leadership with 32 apiece.

Young Harry Lumley of the Wings appears a solid bet to walk off with the Vezina trophy which goes to the netminder who has played the most games for the team having the fewest goals scored against it. In the Vezina race, Lumley holds a six-goal edge on veteran Turk Broda, of Toronto, and also has the best goals-against average, having allowed 126 goals in 54 games for a 2.33 per game average.

Bouncing Bill Barilko of Leafs still tops the penalty list with 141 minutes spent in the cooler. Rushing Kenny Reardon of Canadiens is next with 125 minutes.

Marmora Wins TVL Game Over Norwood

MARMORA, March 9—(ENS)—Defeating Norwood 7-4 on Madoc ice last night, Marmora took their second win in the best-of-five TVL finals and need but one more for the title. It was the third series game, one being tied, and the next one will be in Norwood on Wednesday night.

The count last night was 1-1 in the first period, but Marmora had an edge in the second to outscore Norwood 4-1 and that was the difference, each side counting two in the third. Play was fast and a bit rugged at times with the winners drawing seven of the nine penalties. Cousins, E. Leonard and K. Trumble led the Marmora attack as Scott tallied twice for the losers. The teams:

Norwood: Goal, Morrison; defence, Pettersen and R. Webb; centre, Scott; wings, Brown and Payne; alternates, Hamilton, Puffer, B. Webb, Rogers and Fennell.

Marmora: Goal, Koski; defence, G. Leonard and E. Leonard; centre, Cousins; wings, Goodchild and K. Trumble; alternates, Loveless, E. Trumble, McInroy, Doyle and Forestell.

Referee—R. Ouimet; linesman, T. Cousins.

Summary:

First Period

Marmora—E. Leonard 2:40
Norwood—Scott 10:20
Penalties — McInroy, Cousins, Pettersen.

Second Period

Marmora—Cousins ..... :35
Marmora—Cousins (E. Leonard) 3:00
Marmora—Cousins (G. Leonard) 6:32
Norwood—B. Webb (Rogers) 16:40

Windsor Edges Flyers 4-2 As Tigers Drop Dutchmen

By The Canadian Press

It's one down and three to go for Windsor Spitfires and Hamilton Tigers in their hunt for the Junior and Senior Ontario Hockey Association championships. Last night Windsor took a 4-2 decision from Barrie Flyers in the first tilt of their best of seven junior finals and Hamilton defeated Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen by the same 4-2 score to win their first game of the best of seven senior finals.

The two senior finalists were decided in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association as McIntyre Macmen defeated North Bay Black Hawks 8-6 for their third straight win in the best of five semi-finals after dropping the first two. The Macmen now meet Sault Greyhounds for the senior title.

Windsor was lucky in taking that victory over the Flyers as the Barrie crew outplayed them for two periods and outshot them over the route 44-32. Two goals in the middle session by speedy Gord Haidy, one a fluke and the other on a breakaway, gave Windsor their winning edge.

Barrie opened the scoring midway through the first period when Whit Mousseau slapped in a rebound. Five minutes later Jim Hay tied the count for Windsor to end the period at 1-1. Jerry Reid put the Flyers one up again early in the second but Haidy matched that again as his shot slanted off the goalie's stick in an attempt to clear. Haidy hit for his second a bit later on a breakaway to put Windsor into the lead for the first time.

Larry Wilson scored the only third period goal as Windsor had an edge over the Flyers for the first time in the game.

Hamilton Tigers had to come from behind a one-goal deficit in the first period when Kitchener led 2-1. The Tigers sniped the lone two middle-period goals and added another in the third.

3 Montreal Boxers Perform For Toronto

TORONTO, March 9.—(CP).—Big boxing guns from Montreal will be lined up in fearsome array in Maple Leaf Gardens tomorrow night as three of that city's boxing sons figure in the upper half of the six-bout card.

Ol' Davy Castilloux, at 31 still a formidable fighter will meet 26-year-old Simeon Waithe, in the eight-round lightweight feature.

The 126-round semi-final promises to move at a fast pace, with twoi of the fastest little ringmen known locally entered for the eight-rounder. Vic Eisen, reported in line for a non-title bout with world bantam champ Manuel Ortiz, will come up against Jean Richard of Montreal

Last of the Montrealers carded is Al Payette, who faces crowd-pleasing, eager Harvey Mathe, Sudbury in the six-round top preliminary, a lightweight affair.

Irish Frank O'Connor and Joe Cardinal of Oshawa clash in a four-round welterweight opener.

DISCHARGED TODAY

Eddie Stanky, newly purchased Boston Braves' second baseman, who has been confined to a hospital in the Dominican Republic, will be discharged to-day and join his new club on Saturday. The fiery second sacker suffered a virus infection.

Six Tough Wrestlers Ready For Sizzling Mat Program

One of the hardest wrestling battles of the season is expected on Wednesday night in the Brock Arena ring when Earl McCready and Wee Willie Davis meet up in a bout that means plenty to both. Wee Willie, whose name belies his enormous size and weight, is a tough morsel for even a top flight grappler to tackle. But the powerful McCready, once his usually even temper is aroused, can come up with a whirlwind attack which has enabled him to handle a long list of big rough, tough matmen. It should be a thriller of a match.

Ben Sharpe will get an acid test also when he meets Hi Lee in the semi-final. Sky-Hi is one of the tough problem boys of the mat game and handsome Ben may be in for a bad night.

Jack Moore meets Dr. Ed Meske in the opening bout and it should provide fireworks.

Can't See Much Progress In Film Economy Drive

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, March 9 (AP).—This is a report on how Hollywood's economy drive is coming along.

I can't show you how much the studios are saving, not having access to and not being expert on that kind of figures. But, by touring the studios every day, I can see what changes, if any, are being made.

Directors are the keynote to much money-saving, because if they keep their companies moving fast, economies are made. Many of them are in demand now—not because they are good, but because they are fast. This can also backfire.

A director of a recent tropical film endeared himself to the bosses by shooting an "A" picture in 24 days. But the picture was so bad that a couple of weeks of costly retakes were needed. That ain't saving money, brother.

Straws in the Wind

RKO is shooting "The Boy With the Green Hair" for $800,000, a record for a color picture. MGM is romping along with "The Three Musketeers," figuring speed will keep the cost down to $3,500,000. At least one major studio is reported to be dropping all players except its stars. Nearly all free-lance actors are working for less.

There are more unemployed writers than ever before. Several films are being made with a week or so of rehearsals before shooting begins.

But even the most amateur observer can see evidence of non-economy. One studio seems to have no qualms about a two-hour lunch period. Another just started a big-budget musical with half a script.

Some think that the solution to the industry's problems is a return to the swiftly-shot films of the B category. True, the B hive may help to pay a studio's overhead, but that's about all. As John Huston says, the only solution to Hollywood's ills is good pictures.

Arctic Department

Maureen O'Hara was complaining to me on "The Long Denial" set that in some quarters she is reputed to be aloof and cold.

"This is a legend that has stuck to me, the same way legends have grown up around Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, and others," she declared. "It probably grew out of some of the stand-offish roles I played in my earlier days. But was I cold in 'The Spanish Main'? Was I cold in 'The Foxes of Harrow'?"

I assured her she wasn't.

"Maybe it's because I don't make a big show of everything like some people here," she continued. "There was a time when I used to worry and fuss about everything, but I learned to take things calmly.

"Cold, huh? Ask my hairdresser if I'm cold." I did. "Ask Will Price," Maureen suggested. She was referring to her director-husband, an ex-Marine, and I think I'll skip the suggestion.

Dial 1430

Say George Kell Star Baseman

LAKELAND, Fla., March 9.—(AP).—In one breath experts tell you that the biggest 1948 headache of Detroit Tigers will be their sub-par infield. In the next, they agree that in George Kell, the Bengals possess the best third baseman in the major leagues.

Tiger chief, Steve O'Neill goes even further on the capabilities of his 25-year-old hot corner guardian.

"Kell is the best third baseman I have ever seen," stout Steve insisted, "and mind you, I have seen some good ones in my 38 years in baseball.

O'Neill thinks Kell has a good chance to cop the American League batting championship this season. The 170-pound youngster, now in his fifth big league season, batted .320 last year, fourth highest in the circuit. He swatted .322 in 1946, his first year with the Tigers.

"As a hitter, he hasn't the power of Ted Williams or Joe DiMaggio," O'Neill said. "But he gets his share of solid hit. Every time you look up he's on base."

Council Plans Honor Roll At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, March 9—(ENS)—Millbrook Municipal Council last week, with Reeve H. D. Bigelow presiding, adopted the principle of the Workmen's Compensation Act. The clerk was instructed to make application for coverage of municipal employees on the basis of the 1947 payroll.

The letter from the secretary-treasurer of the Millbrook Water Commission regarding an account submitted to the Commission for labor while on the payroll of the municipality, was ordered referred to the chairman of the Water Commission, on motion of Councillors Woods and Fallis. A letter advising that three tons of calcium chloride were being held on allocation, pending confirmation from the Council, led to the motion that the clerk order the amount stated.

Homer Ouellette, representing the local Lions Club addressed Council requesting permission to hold its meetings in the Millbrook waiting room, on the second and fourth Mondays of each month, request being granted. In return the Lions Club agreed to provide a caretaker for the room in question at its own expense. It was decided that fire insurance to the amount of $2,200 be taken on the building, and $300 on the contents of the Millbrook waiting room.

The clerk was instructed to have prepared an Honor Roll with names inscribed of all those residing in the Village of Millbrook who served in the armed forces of the Second Wirld War, and also to have the names of those killed inscribed on the Cenotaph in the Town Hall Square.

The following accounts were presented and ordered paid: Harry Elgar, labor, $16.75; Chester Fisher, labor, $31.75; R. Lunn, labor, $3.50; Smith Garage, was and oil, $26.79; Walter Challice, $11.10; Coulter Bros., $6.33; G. T. MacPherson, ambulance, $7.50; Hydro Commission, $104.36; L. Winslow, wood, $3; H. M. Trick, coal, $20.50; Harvey Aikins, wood $56; W. H. Coombe, 50c; Millbrook electric repairs, $2.18; Miss B. McCorry, hospital, $52.88; Department of Hea'h, insulin, $2.72; J. J. Kellett, salary, $125; United Counties, snow plow $330; W. Kennedy, sawing wood, $4.50; Docon Telephone Company, account, $16.67.

The clerk reported $44 paid out in direct relief during the month of February, and Fire Chief D. Sheppard reported practice, with equipment all in good repair.

U.S. Prices Go Back Into Tailspin After Slight Recovery From Feb.

By The Canadian Press

Commodity prices in the United States yesterday again went into a tailspin.

Three weeks of narrow fluctuations resulted in the very modest success of the staples in recovering a meagre portion of the losses suffered in the first two weeks of February, but the pressure yesterday wiped out most of this recovery.

Trades could point to no specific reason for the break in grains. But, with the price of wheat about $2.44 at Chicago Saturday, the 36-power wheat agreement, announced over the week-end, for a $2 a bushel ceiling on wheat exported by the United States, Canada and Australia starting Aug. 1, 1948, must have loomed importantly in the minds of those with large holdings in grains.

Reports from grain growing areas pointed to continued improvement in 1948 crop prospects —particularly in those areas vitally dependent on western hemisphere grains and ready, so long as funds were available, to pay any price.

It would appear that in addition to the pressure of the price agreement now reached by the nations concerned in the export and import of wheat, the laws of supply and demand are working on the current price levels and tending to bring them into closer conformity with the new situation.

LOL 419 Holds Basket Social

NORTH SMITH, March 9 (ENS).—Wesley LOL No. 419 held its annual entertainment and basket social Friday evening with the hall packed to capacity. Mr. Kenneth Stewart was chairman. Orchestral selections were given by Mrs. J. A. Northey, Mrs. Ralph Garbutt and Mr. J. W. Blewett. The Misses Leona Armstrong, Velma Garbutt and Melba Pavey gave two vocal numbers with guitar accompaniment. Messrs. Charlie and Bill Pavey sang a duet with organ accompaniment by Miss Mary Nicholls. Mr. Stuart Clydesdale of Warsaw gave an address. A chocolate pie-eating contest was directed by Mr. Tommy Mason with six participants.

Thirty-seven handsome baskets were auctioned off by Messrs. T. Mason and R. Barbutt and bidding was brisk.

Mr. Roger Armstrong and his committee served lunch.

The proceeds amounted to more than $100.

Big Membership Increase In Ku Klux Klan Group

ATLANTA, March 9—(AP).—The Ku Klux Klan claims an increase in membership due to the civil rights issue raging in and out of Congress and through the southern United States. In a new pamphlet the order says it is ready for a period of "constructive planning and activity." Spokesmen deny any Klan connection with some activities charged against the group. But they advertised widely in advance a recent parade in Swainsboro, Ga., and another in Wrightsville, Ga., on the eve of a county primary election.

In both instances crosses were burned on the courthouse lawns after from 200 to 300 hooded and robed Klansmen paraded around the square. Leaders said the KKK had gathered to rededicate itself to maintenance of southern traditions, incluring segregation of races.

At Wrightsville, Dr. Samuel Green, Atlanta physician and Grand Dragon of the Georgia Klan, told the crowd: "We want to see the Negro treated fairly. But whenever the Negro takes his place at the side of white men through the force of federal bayonets, blood will flow in the streets of the south."

Probe Threats

The anti-Nazi League in New York recently called for a federal bureau of investigation of alleged Klan threats against the Mayor of Anderson, S.C., who had denied the Klan a parade permit. Green denied the mayor had been threatened. He said the mayor's name was not mentioned at the Atlanta Klan meeting specified by the anti-Nazi League.

The State of Georgia revoked the Klan charter, but Green says it now operates voluntary state associations. He claims similar voluntary groups operating in "practically every state."

The physician said Klan chapters can meet any night except Wednesday; they omit that night because it is prayer meeting night in many churches; records of political candidates are studied and given to members, "but no one is told how to vote."

The pamphlet lists Klan ideals as: "A white man's organization; an American, Protestant, Gentile organization."

St. Mark's WA Holds Meeting

St. Mark's WA of Otonabee met at the home of Mrs. Whitfield Robinson and welcomed one new member. The meeting opened with a hymn, Mrs. Bert Armstrong at the organ. Mrs. Whitfield Robinson, president, read the litany, followed by Scripture reading by Mrs. Gordon Robinson. Mrs. Bert Armstrong gave a reading. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Arthur Blodgett, in which was mentioned the social evening held February 25, at Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield Robinson's home. Proceeds totalled $11. A reading was given by Mrs. Malloy, after which Mrs. Arthur Blodgett read from the study book.

Harwood WI Votes Aid To Burned-Out Family

HARWOOD, March 9 (ENS)—The open meeting of the Harwood Branch of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday in Harwood Hall, when a community dance and pie social was held. Mrs. A. Lawton presided, when money was voted for blankets for a family who had recently been burned out. Tickets were sold on a tufted rug which the Senior Room of Harwood School had recently made. The proceeds is for the appeal for British children. The collection was also towards that fund. Mrs. R. S. Johnson was convener of the program.

Apsley History Told

APSLEY, March 9—(ENS)—The meeting of Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. R. Tucker on Thursday.

Plans for sending food to Britain were made. Several articles for a bazaar were bought.

Mrs. W. Lean read a paper on early history of Apsley and surrounding country.

$250 Is Westwood Aim

WESTWOOD, March 9—(ENS) The meeting of St. Andrew's United Women's Missionary Society was held on Friday at the home of Mrs. W. Morris. President, Mrs. Clayton Brackenridge was chairman.

Plans to raise funds in the coming year were discussed.

The allocation for 1948 is $250 for auxiliary and mission band.

A parable was read by Mrs. R. J. Douglas. Mrs. Clayton Brackenridge gave a temperance reading and Mrs. A. Wood and Mrs. E. Sargent contributed a duet.

The study book chapter was presented by Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Wood. A hymn and prayer were given by Mrs. J. E. Glover.

Slain By Gang

PITTSBURGH, March 9 — (AP).—A 32-year-old father of five was shot to death Saturday night in a cigar store as the steel city was held in the grip of a 24-hour crime wave. The victim was identified by police as Basil (Bud) Riello. A few hours later police said Rudy Bodnar, 43, had been arrested and charged with the murder. Police said the slaying was a "racket murder and the result of a payoff argument in a numbers game."

Alex Kay Talks To Selwyn Group

SELWYN, March 9 (ENS). — The People's League met in the school Wednesday evening, when they entertained the Young People from Bridgenorth. The most important event of the evening was the talk given by Mr. Alex Kay of Peterborough, when he spoke on his experiences as a bird naturalist and a lover of nature. Everyone benefited greatly by his explanations on the life of trees as well as birds.

The president, Mrs. Harold McIlmoyl, introduced the speaker and thanked him at the close of his remarks.

The recreational part of the evening was under the direction of Miss Esther Meiklejohn ,when a musical quiz and other contests were enjoyed. After delightful refreshments were served Clinton Payne of Bridgenorth moved a vote of thanks to the Selwyn people for a pleasant evening.

County Council Rescinds Motion Firing Officer

It was made public Monday that County Council has, in its November session, rescinded an early motion calling for the dismissal of County Constable Mark Lonsberry. The motion had been made in the June, 1947, sitting, during which a Norwood resident had alleged that the officer had been the cause of a disturbance on the Norwood arena in March of 1947 leading to a fight.

The move was revealed this week by the Kawartha District Police Association, which had receive a certified copy of the Council's motion. The full wording reads:

" . . That the motion made by this Council on June 12, 1947, whereby the dismissal of County Constable Mark Lonsberry was recommended, be rescinded and that no further proceedings be instituted in the matter."

When the dismissal motion had been made, the Police Association under PC Leo Murphy of the Peterborough city force, held an independent investigation into the incident In a presentation to Council they gave the findings of that investigation and apparently on that basis the rescinding motion was made.

At the annual meeting of the Association, John Morrow was re-elected president. Other officers for 1948 are: 1st vice-president, D. P. Morris; 2nd vice-president, Mark Lonsberry; secretary, Garnet F. Samis (re-elected); treasurer, Douglas J. Farthing; member to Police Association of Ontario executive board, Garnet F. Samis; members of Kawartha District Police Association executive board, Lloyd A. McClure, William Meagher, Leo Murphy; entertainment committee, Andre Dalton, Wiliam Clarke, Lloyd A. McClure, Leo Murphy, Bertram Howden, Dennis Traynor, Carmen English, Malcolm Bassett; ways and mean committee, Gordon Puffer, Eldon MacDonald, R. L. Taylor, Harold Mesley, Garnet Samis.

William Wigg, retired police serfeant of the Peterborough city force, was made a life member of the district association and the executive board of the provincial organization will be asked to vote him life member of that organization.

William Meagher, retired city detective sergeant, will continue as an active member.

President Morrow stressed that it was the intention of the district to ask for the 1949 convention of the provincial association to be held in Peterborough and asked that the full membership give their assistance to see that this convention was a success, by emphasizing drives for funds during the year.

Council Unable To Assist Farmers' Week

"I hate to see this going in the paper," said Ald. Max Swanston, presiding at the meeting of the finance committee of the council last night, as Mayor Ovens moved, seconded by Ald. Gordon Armstrong, that a grant of $200 be made to Farmens' Week.

A few minutes the committee split evenly on the proposal, and the chairman had to cast the deciding vote.

"I've every sympathy for the farmers and the Seed Fair," said Ald. Swanston, "but no one said more than I did about economy when we were striking the rate. I'm voting against the motion."

Farmers' Week, Mar. 17-20, at Morrow Park, is a combination of the Quinte District Seed Fair, bacon show and convention of the Eastern Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen.

By the way, the Threshermen appear to have adopted Peterborough as permanent convention locale. They have been holding their annual sessions here for years. Vern Campbell of Douro is the president and Art McIntyre is secretary. The Seed Fair is a rotary show. It was held in Oshawa a year ago.

The letter from Frank C. Patterson, agricultural representative requesting a grant was received before the estimates were decided. The council was uncertain whether the assistance it might give could be confined to snow removal and other work about the park. At any rate when the committee in its last stand against the higher tax rate was looking for items to omit, it definitely rubbed out the Seed Fair.

No Money Available

Mayor Ovens briefly referred to the letter last night: "Farmers' Week is an important affair."

Here we go again," said Ald. Swanston, alluding to the council's resolution warning its committee chairmen and others against spending any money not authorized in the appropriations.

Said Ald. Waddell: "I don't object to this grant, but to breaking the resolution we passed only a week or so ago."

"This is not an expenditure by any of the committees," Ald. Raine argued. He said quite a number of farmers and representatives of companies serving agriculture were coming to Peterborough, some of them for four or five days.

"I think it would be a mistake to ignore Farmers' Week," Ald. Gordon Armstrong remarked.

To Ald. Swanston's reference to publicity of the discussion, Ald. Raine suggested this might be the first and the last exception. So, Ald. Swanston called for the vote.

Another in October

The discussion also mentioned the fact that the district "Black and White" day, the big event of the Holstein breeders of a wide area of Central Ontario, returning to Peterborough next October for the third year in a row, had also been left out of the council's reckoning. They were given $100 last year to help defray expenses.

"Too bad" said Ald. Raine as Farmers' Week was passed up.

"I'll give them something myself" Mayor Ovens said, in a modestly casual tone.

Mumps, Measles Come — Go But MOH Goes On Forever

Every Friday, Saturday and Monday morning and afternoon—and to a lesser extent every other day except Sunday—there is a long line of school children waiting more-or-less patiently outside the city buildings on Simcoe Street. It is not a personal appearance of Superman or a free showing of a movie which causes these persistent queues. It is an innocent little white slip of paper which, right now, can be signed by only one man in the city. And before they can return to school, these children have to carry that signed slip with them.

They are children who are recovering from communicable diseases or those who are kept from school because of such illness in their homes. Under provisions of the Public Schools Act of Ontario, they cannot return to their classes until they have been certified "pure" again by the Medical Officer of Health. So, every morning and afternoon, dozens line up to receive this permit to return to school.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, the city MOH, has been "snowed under" with this chore since the opening of school in September. Since that time, there have been 1,349 cases of cured mumps gazed upon by the long-suffering Dr. Kelly and more than 700 cases of measles have come under his scrutiny.

These last two and a half months have been a gala time for the overworked MOH and his staff. Measles, he pointed out, came into their own in impressive quantities, as 696 cases trouped through his office for his pencilled blessing during January and February alone. It may not be an epidemic, but it must be observed that from September to December there were only six cases of the measles handled by the office. This February alone had 601 cases, which caused the doctor to remark fervently: "Thank goodness it was a short month."

The increased population of Peterborough is shown by the figures. In 1942, there were 1,086 cases of mumps reported during the full year and in the following year there were "only" 932 cases of measles for the full twelve months.

Dr. Kelly is also quick to point out that the present offices of the department would be overcrowded if it handled only a third of the present volume of cases.

Plan New Set-Up.

The pressure of work, it was pointed out, must be handled by the city department at present, as it is responsible for control measures of all communicable diseases. Unless it were necessary that these cases were reported to the department, it would be impossible to combat diseases and their "spread."

A set-up by which this condition will be eased is now in sight. The city Department of Health and the Department of Education have both agreed (since last June) in principle on the amalgamation of the two health services into a generalized organization. The project is now awaiting drawing up of the necessary contract and ironing out of details.

Under this plan, communicable diseases would still be reported to the Department of Health. However, "clearance slips" for the affected students would be issued by the doctor of the Department of Education, who, in this plan, would receive authorization from the city MOH to issue such slips — an authorization which is permitted under the provincial statute.

In the meantime, the lack of the generalized health system ensures that Dr. Kelly is kept busy. Monday there were 71 children inspected by him.

That is, there were 71 — here comes No. 72.

Around its neck, there is a 1925 dog tag of the city of Peterborough.

Won't Take Loss To Speed Sale Of Houses

City council in committee last night refused to reduce from $400 to $100 its claim on certain Wartime houses which Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation may soon offer for sale.

This project of 100 houses was authorized in 1945 by an agreement which the Corporation now wishes to renegotiate. They are scattered about the city, Ecloux Ave., New Romaine, Ross St., Caddy, Hart Ave., and on other streets. Most of them have been occupied since 1946.

The agreement with Wartime Housing provided that in the event of sale of any of the houses before the end of 1950 the city would receive $400 a lot.

City owned some of the lots on which those houses were built, and bought other locations. Sewers had to be laid on some of the streets, but were already available on others. City Clerk Outram made a rough estimate of average cost to the city . . $315.50. If other houses were sold in the subsequent five year period to 1955, the city, in the agreement, was to receive $200 a lot.

Built for Veterans

These houses were built for men who served in the war. Central Mortgage is tentatively quoting: the four room houses $3,300; a larger four-room type $3,600; five-room type $4,000; six-room $4,300. It was suggested to the council that if the city would write a new agreement accepting $100 for each lot, Peterborough could provide an advantage of $300 for many of the prospective ex-service buyers and probably $100 for others, if all the houses were not sold within the first period to the end of 1950.

The Corporation has not definitely determined the price range, but the tentative figures quoted above were regarded as being close to the amounts finally determined.

One of the terms of purchase is: 10% down ad monthly payments equivalent to present rent.

It was suggested that the people of Peterborough could make it easier for those young veterans of the war, now married, in acquiring houses to call their own, by accepting the new settlement of $100 a lot for such domestic services.

In a present purchase, if the council acceded to the renegotiating, the four room house would be $3,000 instead of $3,300. The down payment would be $300, and the monthly payment would be the present rent. Incidentally, at least in 18 instances the land on which the houses were built was owned by Wartime Housing.

To this proposal of offering some financial assistance to men who served in the war, the finance committee returned a coldly business answer. It was just plain "No." The motion of Ald. Adam Sands, seconded by Ald. F. J. Anglesey, was: "that we notify Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation that Peterborough is adhering to the original agreement." It carried without a cheep of dissent.

Mayor Ovens suggested that the council might invite W. W. Scott, negotiator for the company, to come to Peterborough and discuss the proposal.

The expression was heard that the city would be bonusing these ex-service men purchasers "at the expense of the ratepayers."

Ald. Gordon Armstrong said it was obvious that the proposed negotiation would be a benefit to those tenants of the 100 houses who would buy them. There was no other realty basis today on which a man could obtain a house of that value by a down payment of $350, or 10% of the selling price, plus the current rate of rent which they are paying. "We would be reducing the price of a house away below the market value, I think the company is introducing an element of speculation, and in competition with private builders."

VIVE MOSCOW!

Any sign of regimentation these days or any suggestion of unquestioning following of a leader is usually blamed on the Communist. In this case, deep Red shades may be detected in the actions of a large number of the city's pigeons Monday. Peterborough's pigeon population is a harem-scarmer lot whose only interest in common seems to be a desire to debeautify unbeautiful buildings. Their activities seem quite devoid of co-ordination. Monday, however, unnerved citizens watched as about 50 of the birds went through sinister movements — over the general area of the city buildings, the group wheeled in stately ranks, back and forth for 15 minutes or longer. Even a normally organized group of birds do not act as well-trained as these possible fifth columnists. Maybe the Kremlin scientists are cooking up a pigeon-size Atom bomb . . .—R.B.

Council Asks Electricians To Discuss Bylaw

"What benefit is it going to be to the people of Peterborough? That is one thing we should consider."

Ald. Adam Sands was referring in the finance committee of the council Monday night to a letter from Carley and Standish on behalf of local electricians asking for a licensing bylaw.

Ald. Grant Miller suggested that representatives of the electricians should be asked to meet the council, and discuss their proposal in detail.

Ald. Doug Miller said that the 21 electricians signing the petiton proposed that permits be issued by examination to persons applying for license after April 1. "Why shouldn't they all be licensed before getting permits? Some members of the electrical maintenance association—there are about 100 altogether—have expressed the view every electrician should be required to pass an examination, and certify as to qualifications. They object to people who are now in the business as of April 1st being free of examination. They maintain that there are lots of electricians who are not fully qualified. Some of them might be able to wire a house, but in factory installations they wouldn't know where to start."

Ald. Dodds said he agreed with Ald. Sands, and would like to know what advantage the licensing system was going to be to the public.

Ald. D. Miller: "Major Harry Clifton, distriot Hydro inspector, would be a good man to consult. He knows the score."

One of the comments was to the effect that some electricians employed "handy men" who did most of the work.

Ald. Gordon Armstrong seconded Ald Grant Miller's motion that the petitioning electricians be asked to send representatives to the council to discuss their proposal.

Tells Of Cancer Society

James Hamilton, ex-mayor of Peterborough, on Monday asked the Rotary Club for three active members who would help the local unit of the Canadian Cancer Society in its educational campaign. He said other service clubs would be similarly approached. In a brief address he said that the society was purely educational in function. An eighth of present-day deaths are due to cancer, he said, and a third of them could be avoided if given medical attention while in the early stages.

Jr. Chamber Declines Offer To Staff Rink Campaign

At a combined meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and representatives of the Peterborough Civic Arena Committee at the YMCA Monday night, the Junior Chamber, after a review of the proposed campaign to raise $140,000 and erect a secondary ice arena, voted to decline the offer made by the committee.

First information that the Chamber had in connection with the proposal "to provide a finance chairman and the organization of the finance committee" appeared in an Examiner news story.

The Chamber called an immediate meeting to discuss the project and hear the committee representatives. Stanley McBride and Mrs. Wm. Addyman appeared for the Arena Committee.

Both repreesentatives outlined various phases of the arena project, and answered a wide range of questions from Junior Chamber members. More than 30 Jaycees attended the meeting.

In the motion declining aid the following was recorded: "That the Junior Chamber does not see its way clear to provide the chairman and organization of the finance committee to work with the secondary rink committee."

Opinions expressed at the meeting may be summed up in the following: If the proposed secondary rink is erected, subsequently the Memorial Centre with its artificial ice arena will be erected, and one or both would become a financial burden on the city. At the moment, import restrictions on structural steel preclude the erection of the Memorial Centre. It is felt, however, that when this situation eases, immediate action could be taken to complete the Memorial Centre.

Operation of a secondary rink incorporating artificial ice plant will be burdened by a substantial operating cost, and while this cost could no doubt be met from operating revenue until such time that the Memorial Centre is erected, it would be a short-sighted view to imagine that it could carry on against the competition of the Memorial Centre when it is built.

Discussion tended to show that the Junior Chamber of Commerce realizes the loss of revenue to the merchants of Peterborough and the added expense and inconvenience which is being caused participating hockey teams and spectators, due to the lack of a covered ice arena in the city. Opinion was expressed that a natural ice arena with a smaller seating capacity than now planned for the Secondary Arena would provide immediate accommodation for the major hockey teams and would develop into accommodation for church and industrial leagues, with the protection of artificial ice in the Memorial Centre for play-off games.

Buck Protests Ruling To Bar 'Red' Speaker

TORONTO, March 9 (CP)—Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor-Progressive party, today released the text of a letter sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, protesting the Canadian government decision to refuse permission to Harry Pollitt, leader of the Communist party of Great Britain, to visit Canada.

Pollitt's application to enter Canada to make a speaking tour was refused in view of the Dominion government's recent decision to invoke the immigration act to exclude Communists.

Mr. Buck's letter stated: "It is apparent that long unused provisions of the immigration act are being revived to limit free political discussion in this country and prevent Canadians from hearing a point of view unpopular with the Canadian government."

Father And Small Son Visit Wounded Mother

TORONTO, March 9 —(CP)— Robert Meredith and his five-year-old son arrived last night from Vancouver to see Meredith's divorced wife, wounded last week in a restaurant shooting.

The 32-year-old foundry worker said he "hadn't bothered" to pick up divorce papers which made his divorce decree absolute last June.

Asked about the possibility of a reconciliation, he said:

"I don't know. It depends on a lot of things. I can't speak of what the future holds."

CAN'T BE INCLUDED

Civic pensions cannot be extended to the nine employees of the Children's Aid Society, according to advice received by City Clerk Outram from Mr. C. A. McFadyen, local representative of Canadian Government annuities. He was instructed by the finance committee of the council last night to notify the C.A.S. that it cannot be included in the new civic group because it is a body separate from the council.

Final arrangements were made for the annual membership drive campaign which is to be held the week of April 12 and for the next concert on March 18 which will feature Pamella Williams, talented singer.

Lindsay Singer Wins $50 Award

Barbara Chase of Lindsay gained 89 points in a field of 23 contestants in Eaton Auditorium, Toronto, on Saturday to win a $50 scholarship award for singing. It was donated by the Kiwanis Club of Toronto, and the presentation was made by Dr. Gordon Slater, organist and choirmaster of Lincoln Cathedral, Lincoln, England. She was accompanied in her rendition of Mendelssohn's "Wings of Song" by her sister, Marjorie.

In less than two years, Barbara Chase has won three other scholarships besides the current award, namely, Hilton Manley $50, Toronto Esteddfod $50 and Toronto East Festival $25. Another talented Lindsay singer, Helena Berens, recently sang on a nation-wide hookup.

Council Approves Upping Amps Pension

The appeal of the "War Amps Association" for a pension of $100 a month to men who suffered 100 per cent disability in their war service was endorsed by the city council Monday night. It applies to the blind and legless, those who are paralyzed and so on.

The letter from Rev. Sidney E. Lambert on behalf of these Canadians included the expression that they should be the last targets of government economy. Their basic rate is $75 a month, but they are receiving $87, in a day when some factor sweepers are getting 85 and 90 cents an hour.

Mayor Ovens' motion of support was seconded by Ald. H. Dodds.

"Could we request Peterborough Bus Lines to carry our Peterborough Amps men free," said Ald. Dodds. "There are nine or ten of them. A yearly pass would be a little help." His motion was seconded by Ald. Doug Miller.

Foresters Report New Members

Guests of honor at the meeting of Court 29, Peterborough, Canadian Order of Foresters, were Bros. Col. Alf. P. VanSomeren, high secretary of the Order, and P. E. Perrin, superintendent of organization, both of Brantford. Bro. Walted Booth, CR, presided.

Welcoming committee was Bros. A. Weames, B. Austin, Mrs. H. Hamilton and Mrs. A. Weames.

A class of candidates was presented to the high court officers, the initiatory degree being conferred by the 'teen age degree team from Bowmanville under the marshalship of Bro. Wm. Hawkshaw.

Bro. VanSomeren congratulated the new members and complimented Bro. Wm. Hawkshaw and his team on a dignified and impressive presentation.

Turning to the work of the Order in general, he gave an account of the historical background of Court Peterborough, and the strides the society had taken in the last few years — financially and in membership.

The speaker urged each member to assume his full rsponsibility in his fraternal mission.

Bro. Perrin welcomed the new members, and presetned Bro. Cal. Braun, district field representative, with the beautiful diamond efficiency button, symbol of the best results obtained in the month of February across Canada.

Other speakers were Bros. J. Kelly, FF, Art Reynolds, VCR, and R. D. Brown of Court Peterborough.

The committee in charge of the lunch was: Bro. H. Hamilton, Mrs. E. L. Blackwell, Mrs. H. Hamilton, Mrs. A. Weames, Mrs. E. Reynolds, Mrs. G. Anerton, Mrs. R. Adams, Mrs. S. Harding, Mrs. W. Booth and Mrs. A. Archer.

City Trust Statement Untrue, Mayor Says

City Trust Brief Shrowded In Mystery, Council Members Learn

"There is one falsehood in it. Outside of that, I don't care how many briefs they send."

Mayor Ovens was referring in Finance Committee last night to a brief from the City Trust Commission asking the Ontario Legislature not to permit the City Council to have custody of, and the right to sell, properties owned by the municipality. They include the market block, Ashburnham Town Hall, Hilliard farm, one or two other parcels and also their insurance.

There was no letterhead on either of the two typewritten pages, nor was their signature, but the committee identified the presentment as of City Trust authorship. It was also understood that copies had been sent to members of the Legislature, and especially to the members of the Private Bills Committee. There was some suggestion that copies other than that which it found its way to the Finance Committee file, were signed by Mr. Basil D. Hall, solicitor for the City Trust.

After Ald. Swanston had read the epistle extolling the City Trust and is capabilities, Ald. Dodds asked: "Who's the author of it?"

"Rumors are flying," Mayor Ovens quipped.

Ald. Waddell: "Was it passed as a resolution of the City Trust?"

No Record Of It

"There is no record of it in the books of the City Trust," said Mayor Ovens. "But, I understand it is going to the private bills committee as a protest against our bill."

"It must have been passed by the Trust," Ald. Waddell insisted.

"No; I understand not," His Worship answered. "The information I get is that a brief was considered a month or so ago. No action was taken then. Some change took place since then, and this so-called brief has gone in."

Ald. Anglesey enquired whether the council had the right to ask the City Trust for a definite statement as to whether the brief was adopted by the Commission and also whether copies had been sent to the private bills committee of the Legislature. "And, we should have their answer in writing."

"It says this question wasn't voted on," said Mayor Oven. "That is a falsehood, as every member knows. The council submitted the question to the people and they approved of the proposal to sell city-owned property."

His Worship told Ald. Waddell he had no exact information as to whether the brief was passed as a Trust resolution or was an expression "of individuals."

"As citizens we can ask to see the minutes of the Trust," said Mayor Ovens. "If we don't get an answer in writing from them, I'll gladly ask Mr. T. A. Mackay, the Trust secretary, to let me see the minutes."

Damage Will Be Done

Ald. Sands "I think we may assume that this brief has gone to members of the private bills committee, and as a result of it their minds will be made up. The damage will be done against us. That is what we have to counteract before we go there, and we should get busy on it. Our bill will be before them on the 22nd."

Ald. Grant Miller moved that the City Trust be asked whether they are opposing the Peterborough bill, and that an answer be requested by Thursday.

Ald. Anglesey seconded it. If nothing comes of that approach, it was understood that Mayor Ovens would apply directly to Mr. Mackay to examine the Trust records.

35-Man Veterans' Committee Now Established By Commons

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, March 9—(CP).—A 35-man veterans' committee was established by the Commons yesterday during a day-long debate marked by unsuccessful Opposition efforts to have wartime merchant seamen recognized as members of the armed forces. Lt.-Col. A. J. Brooks (PS—Royal) moved an amendment to the committee resolution that would have recognized the seamen as members of the armed forces as far as veterans' benefits are concerned.

The amendment was ruled out of order after External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said the committee would have the power to investigate the complaints of all services closely associated with the war. He felt it would be "false" to state that the seamen were members of His Majesty's forces.

Labor Miniser Mitchell said there was no comparison between the seamen and members of the forces. The seamen belonged to trade unions and during the war had received civilian rates of pay.

In moving the resolution, Veterans Minister Gregg said increased allowances for married student veterans will be reflected in cheques mailed at the end of March. He also disclosed that recently-announced increases for disabled pensioners, war widows and dependents could be sent to recipients in early April if the House approved enabling legislation before Easter.

He said the legislation would be placed before the committee within the next day or two then he would obtain first reading of the enabling Bill.

At the House opening, Prime Minister Mackenzie King advised that the Government would move to meet Opposition requests that the resolution seeking approval of the Geneva trade agreement be split into two parts to permit a separate study on British preferential tariffs.

First Instalment.

Finance Minister Abbott said the $50,000,000 which Canada has withdrawn from the $300,000,000 credit obtained from the United States was the first of a number of instalments which the Dominion will take at "fairly regular" intervals during the next four or five months.

Before the Progressive Conservative amendments to the Veterans' committee resolution was ruled out of order, Capt. Walter Tucker said he could see no objection to it if the aim was simply to have the committee study the question of whether or not merchant seamen should be entitled to the same benefits as members of the armed forces.

Howard Green said any member who voted against the amendment would be doing a great injustice to the seamen. There had been "great unfairness" to these men through the government's failure to grant them benefits.

Several of the Opposition members urged that there be a permanent committee on veterans' affairs.

Many Jobs

E. B. McKay said there were many things a permanent veterans' committee could do. It could, for instance, revise the whole scale of allowances and pensions, and study the expenditure estimates of the Veterans' Department and take that work away from the Commons.

Clare Gillis said the committee's work would be limited by the amount of money which the treasury board made available. While urging the payment of benefits to merchant seamen, he criticized the government for withholding the benefits from members of the forces who were honorably discharged.

Union Official Given Brush-Off

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., March 9.—(AP).—Charles A. Doyle, alleged alien Communist released on bail from Ellis Island here, returned to New York city today after vain attempts to speak before a local of the union in which he is an official.

Regional executive secretary of the United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers (C.I.O.) was at first denied admission to a meeting of about 500 members of Local 12058 last night on the basis he was not a member of the local. However the presiding officer, local secretary Wesley J. Hilts, admitted Doyle as a guest. Those present were Carborundum Company employees.

Doyle soon was called upon to speak. An argument followed as to whether he should.

Doyle made several attempts to speak but was interrupted each time.

He said later he would attend a hearing today in New York city on whether he and four other alleged alien Communists should be denied bail. All five engaged in hunger strikes during their confinement on Ellis Island.

The five will face deportation hearings by the United States immigration service this month.

Northern Lights At Brightest Now

HALIFAX, March 9 (CP). — The price of entertainment may be following other prices upwards, but March and April will be months in which Nova Scotians will see free night entertainment provided by nature.

The northern lights — aurora borealis to astronomers — will be rippling across Maritime skies in these two months, the brightest in 11 years.

Rev. M. W. Burke-Gaffney, Dean of St. Mary's College Engineering Faculty, says that chips of atoms called ions have been erupting from the sun in increasing numbers and, when they touch off the gasses above the earth the sky is alight with dancing colors.

Father Burke-Gaffney says the sunspots, which throw off ions, were the biggest and most numerous in a century last year, guaranteeing a good show of northern lights.

In ordinary times, northern lights appear about 15 days in every year, but in the next two months there should be about 30 displays if clouds don't obscure the sky. Father Burke-Gaffney says the gases ignited during the display will throw off brilliant greens, yellows, pinks and purples.

Father Burke-Gaffney says the display of northern lights is something like atomic warfare in the skies, though not as destructive. The shower of ions from sun spots while from the sun's face in exactly the same manner that atoms burst when hit by a guided neutron.

Butter, Cheese Drop

TORONTO, March 9.—(CP).—Production of both creamery butter and cheddar cheese showed a decline in January from the same month a year ago, the Ontario Department of Agriculture said yesterday in its monthly dairy report. Creamery butter production was down 15.2 per cent, amounting to 3,063,400 pounds, as against 3,610,900 pounds in January, 1947. Cheddar cheese production was down 45.8 per cent — 627,300 pounds, compared with 967,300.

Pro-Rata Award For Part-Time Help Allowed

Gilbert Watson, president of the Resorts of Ontario, has had a portion of the Work and Vacations With Pay Act synopsized for the benefit of resort owners who are especially interested in this Act. Resort operation is a seasonal business, and because of this, many resort operators have not been able to properly interpret the terms of this piece of legislation. It is likely therefore that the following will be of interest, not only to resort operators but to all employers who use seasonal labor.

Under the provisions of this Act, an employee is entitled to one week vacation with pay, after employment of one year.

The Government has seen fit, in response to the representations of seasonal trades (for example, building trades, ship workers, etc.) to make a provision for pro-rata reward to employees who do not continue in the employment of an employer for the full period of one year. The plan is to give an employee, on termination of his employment, a book stamped with stamps purchased by the employer from the bank, and which stamps cover the period of employment, at the rate of 2 per cent of his earnings for the period of employment. In the case, of course, where employment is maintained for the twelve months ending June 30, a full week vacation with pay is prescribed for the employee.

The plan works from the commencement of the employment, with the exception of the employee who quits his job. In the case of the quitter no stamp credits are required where employment is for a period of less than three months. If, on the other hand, a man is employed and then dismissed within a period below three months at the instance of his employer, due to slackness of work or other cause, he is to be given a book with stamps crediting him for the actual period during which he was employed.

An example of the working of the system would be an employee who worked intermittently for two or three employers during the twelve month period. He would receive from the first, his book stamped with credit stamps for the period of employment; likewise from the second and third employers for the respective periods of employment. At the end of June in each year, he can cash his total stamp credit Vacation with Pay at any bank.

In the case of Resorts where the employees are hired for a definite period of less than three months, it is advisable to have a form prepared to be signed by each employee, stating that the hiring is for the period of day to day; so many weeks or otherwise stating so as to make it quite plain that the employment was understood from the beginning to be for the defined period of less than three months. By this action, Resort employees taking short-term employment will not not be brought under the operation of the stamp credit regulations, so Resort owners will not be concerned with the system whether or not the employee leaves at the instance of the employer, or of the employee himself.

Police Hold Husband In Nightclub Slaying

DETROIT, March 9—(AP)—Suburban River Rouge police arrested Homer Caldwell today several hours after his 26-year-old wife was shot to death in a crowded night club.

The victim, red-haired Mrs. Lulu Caldwell, died in hospital Sunday night shortly after an assailant calmly fired three shots into her heart as she watched the floor show.

Her estranged husband, a 27-year-old steel worker, was arrested as he enterd his rooming house this morning. He was held for questioning with no charge placed against him.

Mrs. Caldwell was shot in the chest. Claude Carbeille, 22, who was nearby, was wounded in the arm and leg.

Police said witnesses quoted the killer as saying before he fled:

"She's my wife and they got what was coming to them."

EUROPE DIVIDED—The increasing pressure exerted on tense Europe by the advance of Russian influence and the growing anti-Soviet feelings is dividing the continent into three great blocs which are pictured on the map above. The Russian bloc, made up of the U.S.S.R. and her satellites, the newest of which is Czechoslovakia, is shown in black, indicated by No. 3. The anti-Soviet countries of the west, Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands, indicated by No. 1, now meeting to discuss a "western union," form another bloc, and the Scandinavian countries to the north, indicated by No. 2 Norway, Sweden and Denmark, which are becoming more suspicious and unfriendly to the Soviet as it increases demands on Finland.

Bill To Revise Mine Safety Is Introduced

By The Canadian Press

Revision of Ontario mining legislation to bring safety regulations into step with improved practices now followed by most of the province's big mines is forecast in a government measure introduced yesterday in the Ontario legislature.

Mines department officials said the bill given first reading was drawn up from combined suggestions from mine operators, mine equipment manufacturers, labor unions and the provincial mines department.

The Ontario house yesterday also saw 13 reports of provincial commissions tabled and gave first reading to government bills dealing with the real estate and business brokers act and hospital legislation.

Attack Communists

In the Saskatchewan Legislature, A. T. Proctor (L-Moosomin) charged that there was a strong Communist element among C.C.F. members of the House.

Throne Speech debate continued in the British Columbia Legislature. Members heard suggestions that a sales tax be imposed to help municipalities and that sweepstakes be run to raise money for hospital.

Two references to Quebec were made in budget debate in the Alberta legislature. J. Percy Page, opposition leader and independent member for Edmonton, said he asked all provincial governments for information about their budgets and only Quebec did not reply. He commented that government officials in that province probably were "too busy prosecuting unbelievers and padlocking the doors of unbelievers."

In the second reference, Mr. Page said Quebec spends only 11.03 cents on education for each dollar of provincial expenditure. He said the Quebec percentage spent on education was the lowest in Canada.

2 Children Suffocate

VAUXHALL, Alta., March 9.—(CP).—The two children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gow of Vauxhall suffocated to death in a fire Sunday while their parents were absent from home. It is believed the children, Kenneth, 27 months, and Elan Robert, 13 months, started the fire while playing with matches and a fire broke out. The mother was attending church services with the four older boys and the father was outside watering the stock.

He will go into business with his brother, a tailor in Montreal.

Wouldn't Leave Sidewalk, U.S. Soldier Shot

VIENNA, Mar. 9. (AP)—United States Army authorities said today that Pte. Jack Grunden, 18, was shot in the back last night after refusing to obey a Russian order to get off a sidewalk.

They described the incident as the "boldest act yet perpetrated against a member of the occupation forces in Vienna by a Russian soldier."

The shooting occurred in front of a Russian headquarters hotel in the international district. The American will recover, but may lose his left arm, the provost marshal's office said:

The official account said:

Grunden was walking with Pte. Joseph Harper and Pte. Sam Adelman and three Austrian girls in front of the Grand Hotel. A Russian sentry ordered the soldiers into the gutter and the Americans refused. The sentry then pushed one of the soldiers, who pushed him back. Thereupon the sentry called another sentry from inside the hotel.

The second sentry struck Grunden with his gun, knocking him to his knees. While the American still was on the ground, the sentry fired a shot into his back. Another entered Grunden's arm, smashing the elbow.

Men Unarmed

Harper and Adelman—unarmed, according to United States military regulations — and the three girls ran to the American-occupied Bristol Hotel, two blocks away, as the Russians fired over their heads.

The Russians made no effort to give first aid when an ambulance arrived 45 minutes later.

The Russian excuse for the shooting given officially to the Americans today was that the shot GI had threatened to strike the Russian guard with a bottle when he latter attempted to disarm him.

One of the Austrian girls, Alfriede Elias, returned to the scene to tell her story to the international military police, Reed said.

Fifteen Russian soldiers barred their path with bayonets and took the screaming girl into the hotel. American officials said she has not yet been released.

Quota Shipments Open To Britain

OTTAWA, March 9. (CP) — Quota shipments by some 225 Canadian companies eligible under the 1948 schedule of the United Kingdom token import scheme may start immediately, the Trade Department said Monday.

The quotas, covering 192 items, will be maintained at 20 per cent of average imports during the basic period from 1936 to 1938.

"Any Canadian exporter having a prewar market in the United Kingdom for any of these commodities now is assured of obtaining British import licenses for token shipments," the department said.

The department's export division will certify token-shipment vouchers for eligible exporters up to the full amount of each quota. Unfilled balances from 1947 quotas must be cleared through the British Customs by March 31.

Two items — leather footwear and manufacturers of mulga wood —have been added to the import list. Eight have been deleted: Outboard motors, portable electric generators, damask table linen, greeting cards, snapshot mounting corners, paper towels and napkins, furniture of bamboo canes, wickerwork or similar materials, and lighter flints.

No Austerity Now In Canada Tell Tourists It's Land Of Plenty

DETROIT March 9.—Canadians and their guests still live off the fat of the land and there is nothing austere about the country's economy except in relation to American dollars Douglas B. Greig, president of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada, said today in an address to the Economic Club of Detroit.

"I consider it most unfortunate that the word 'austerity' has been tacked to Canada's exchange conservation program," Mr. Greig said. "It makes many of us in Canada a bit uncomfortable, because it creates in the minds of those who have but a sketchy knowledge of our situation that Canada has been reduced to a living standard comparable to that of the United Kingdom, where the word austerity has an entirely different meaning.

"Some very kind but not too well-informed Americans have written to our travel bureaus to say they have cancelled plans for Canadian vacations in 1948 because they do not want to deprive us of food we can ill spare," Mr. Greig said.

"The Canadian economy is productive, vigorous and growing," he continued. "Our problems today cannot be laid at the door of any social or political experimentation. Canada has a balanced budget. Our social experiments are largely local.

"Canada, despite her comparatively small population, is the best customer the United States has—and that has been true for many years. Our 12 million people bought about 62 billion worth of goods from the United States, and if travel and other services are included, this amounts to about $220 per capita.

"But your 145 million people spend only about $1 billion for goods in our country, which, with the same adjustments, amounts to $12 per capita," Mr. Greig told his audience. "There in a nutshell, is the reason we find ourselves in our present predicament. Normally the rest of our United States dollars—that odd billion—have come to us in roundabout fashion. We have in the past relied mainly on England, British Commonwealth countries and Europe for approximately half of the dollars we need to settle our account with you. What has happened, of course is that the indirect pipelines have dried up.

860 DP's Arrive

HALIFAX, March 9—(CP)—Carrying 860 displaced persons from Europe, the transport General Sturgis docked here Saturday from Bremerhaven. Of 260 industrial workers among the group, 75 will be employed by Canadian Pacific Railways in Northern Ontario and Winnipeg, 105 Hydro-Electric workers will go to London, Norwood, Moore Lake Nipigon and Hydro in Ontario and 45 will enter the Algoma Steel Company plant at Sault Ste. Marie.

10,000 Stevedores Pay Jobless Insurance

OTTAWA, March 9 — (CP) — More than 10,000 stevedores or longshoremen across the Dominion will begin uemployment insurance contributions April 1, R. C. Barclay, director of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, said last night.

Included are about 1,800 stevedores at Halifax, 1,000 at Saint John, N.B., 3,000 at Montreal, about 1,500 on the Great Lakes and another 3,000 on the west coast.

The waterfront workers will be assessed on a daily wage basis and will have to contribute 180 days before receiving benefits.

Mr. Barclay said the insurance will be invalid for men on the Great Lakes and at Halifax durig "off season" periods, unless the men have other means of livelihood. On the Great Lakes the "off season" is in the winter, and at Halifax in the summer.

An Expensive Prize

LOS ANGELES, March 9.—(AP).—These radio contests jackpots aren't all gravy, a federal internal revenue spokesman said yesterday. He estimated that Mrs. Florence Hubbard, of Chicago, who won $22,500 in merchandise in the "walking man" contest, would be subject to close to $13,000 in taxes, without considering any possible exemptions she may have.

Police Arrest Former Priest

ROME, March 9 (AP)—Italian police announced the arrest today of Eduardo Prettner Cippico, 42, an unfrocked Roman Catholic priest.

The police said last Friday they were investigating the disappearance of $450,000 worth of jewels in connection with his flight from house arrest in the Vatican the previous day.

Today's announcement said mobile squads found Prettner, former keeper of the archives for the Vatican secretariat of state, in the home of two women in a Rome suburb. It said "important documents" also were seized. The women were identified as the wife and daughter of a former general of the fascist militia.

The Holy See unfrocked the priest after his flight in order that Italian police might arrest him without violating the lateran treaty. The Vatican announcement said he had confessed many "swindles and falsehoods."

A warrant for his arrest was sworn out Saturday on complaint of counsel for the wealthy and prominent Cippico family of Trieste, to which he is related through his mother. The warrant charged him with disposing improperly of jewels confided to his care during the German occupation.

Doesn't Think Russia Anxious To Start War

LONDON, Ont., March 9—(CP)—Dr. W. A. Mackintosh, vice-principal of Queen's University, last night told a Queen's alumni meeting that in his opinion Russia's experience in the last war will make her think twice before she goes to war again.

"I do not feel that Russia is anxious to withdraw from the United Nations or go to the point of war and she does not want isolation," said the wartime economist who was for a time acting finance minister.

"One of the things impressed upon her in the last war was the amazing power of a coalition—which is what she now faces."

Whitton Report Said Fair On Home For Delinquents

EDMONTON, March 9. (CP)—Dr. Charlotte Whitton's comment about Edmonton's home for juvenile delinquents—"I have never seen worse anywhere"—was fair in the main, Alberta's Royal Commission on Child Welfare was told today.

The witness was a former judge of Edmonton Juvenile Court, Very Rev. A. M. Trendell, Anglican Dean of Edmonton.

Dr. Whitton's words were contained in a report on Alberta welfare conditions, prepared for the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire.

She now awaits trial by the Supreme Court of Alberta on charges alleging conspiracy to commit defamatory libel. Charged with her are Jack Kent Cooke, publisher of New Liberty magazine and Harold Dingman, a New Liberty writer.

Since the Whitton report, Dr. Trendell said today, the juvenile detention home had been made over with "all the difference between heaven and hell."

Present quarters, contrasted with the former cell blocks, were "adequate," though he thought "a man and his wife who are lovers of children and their work" should be in charge. Boys shohld not be detained in the home more than five days.

Lucas—Sedgwick

NORWOOD, March 9 (ENS)—On Saturday, at the home of Mrs. Annie Sedgwick, her youngest daughter Mary Irene became the bride of Donald Ernest Lucas, son of Mrs. Provost and the late Mr. Lucas of Marmora. Rev. A. Homer of Perth officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother, Clifford Sedgwick, the bride was charming in a blue street-length dress and black accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewellery was a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Helen Clark, Havelock, was bridesmaid and wore a pale green jersey dress with black accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Everett Sedgwick, brother of the bride, attended the groom.

The living-room was decorated with Easter lilies. Music was played by Mrs. Roy Nevins and Mrs. A. Homer sang "O Perfect Love."

After the ceremony a reception was held. The bride's mother received wearing a flowered jersey dress, with black accessories and corsage of red roses.

Friends of the bride who assisted in serving were Misses Joan McConnell, Doreen Jones, and Joyce Homer. Later the bride and groom left for Toronto. For travelling the bride wore a black suit, wine topcoat, and black accessories. They will reside in Peterborough.

RECEIVES "Q" AWARD—Miss Helen Currie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Currie, 1290 Clonsilla Ave., Peterborough, is shown as she received a "Q", highest honor award in athletics at Queen's University, Kingston, during "Color Night" activities Friday. Miss Currie is a double winner of the award, having placed highest in her own right, and also on a team of three, swimming in inter-collegiate competitions.

Mrs. H. Paige Rowell Elected Third Term President YW

Report of the nominating committee of the YWCA, presented by Mrs. W. R.L. Blackell, was accepted at the board of directors' meeting Monday afternoon. Those in office for the coming year are: president, Mrs. H. Paige Rowell; 1st vice-president, Mrs. T. J. Carley; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. H. T. Rehill; 3rd vice-president, Miss O. Johnson; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Hornal; corresponding secretary, Miss E. Morrow; treasurer, Mrs. R. H. Turner.

Mrs. F. M. Somerville presided for the election and expressed appreciation of the services of the officers and the untiring efforts and excellent leadership of the president who returns to office for another year. "The YWCA has grown to be a very large organization, with many departments and almost continual activity touching every interest of young life," she said.

Mrs. Rowell, in taking office for the third consecutive year, said "Y" work brought real satisfaction and was a work which deserved the best effort each member could put into it. Mrs. Rowell expressed her appreciation of the loyal support of board and committee members.

MRS. PAIGE ROWELL

New members of the board for 1948, Mrs. R. Morgan, Mrs. J. S. Cann and Mrs. D. Brown were welcomed. Mrs. Rowell paid tribute to Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner, who had been named honorary president and Mrs. A. K. Moir and Miss M. Hamilton who had been made honorary members.

The opening devotional period was taken by Mrs. J. H. Vernor. Mrs. R. Turner presented the financial report and appreciation was expressed of the success of the Red Cross and Community Fund campaign of which the YWCA is a participant. Monthly reports of the various committees were presented: Miss O. Johnson and Mrs. W. J. Gordon, reporting for the program and social committees in connection with the recent annual meeting; Mrs. J. H. Vernor, reporting a recent visit of Miss Mabel Rae, personnel secretary of National Council; Mrs. Rowell mentioned repairs made by the repair committee, under Mrs. C. J. Ray, which included plastering and painting of several bedrooms and the club supper room, which is being decorated by pupils of the Collegiate Institute under supervision of Miss Thompson.

The swimming committee report presented by Mrs. H. C. Sootheran included announcement of the Ornamental Swimming Club water fantasy, "Down the Midway," and the splendid success of the Red Cross water safety course held in the YWCA and YMCA by "Y" swimmers. Mrs. T. J. Carley, for the girls' work committee, spoke of the YWCA 'teen conference for this district being held in Peterborough "Y" April 1, 2 and 3. This is the first conference for younger membership and will be directed by Miss Jean Campbell of National Council, YWCA.

Board members are asked to assist with billets for the 125 delegates and the social committee is requested to take charge of the high tea for Saturday. Announcement was made of the '38 club bridge and fashion show, March 16 and the 20 plus club operetta which will be presented in April in the Collegiate Institute as well as the regular club and educational program. This department has worked on the So-Ed program being held by YMCA and YWCA in the Normal School, and they have promoted, with the swimming pool, a variety night program to run for six weeks.

Report of the girls' council presented by Miss Flora Metcalfe told of regional conference at Oshawa, April 10, when Peterborough Y will have 15 delegates. Natoinal Young Adult assembly in Manitoba will be in August. Girls' Council is holding a rummage sale March 20 with proceeds for delegates to these "Y" conventions. The special association event of this month promoted by the council is "World Observanee" with a special program for Tuesday evening at which Miss O. Johnson will be the speaker.

Health Education committee report was given by Mrs. H. Rehill who announced the gymnasium pageant would be held May 18 in the Brock St. Gardens. Sewing committees are already busy on colorful and dainty costumes and all classes are are enthusiastic. Appreciation was expressed of the co-operation of the Lions Club who will assist and who have extended free gym tickets to a number of school children. Eleven basketball league games were held during February.

Mrs. E. Yelland reported for the residence; Mrs. F. M. Somerville for the Local Council, announcing a tea for this Saturday and Miss L. Brownscombe, general secretary, outlined educational classes, gymnasium and swimming and social evenings arranged for the new comes to Peterborough from Europe.

New committee chairmen for 1948 were named by the president who presented each with a copy of committee suggestions for each convener:

Finance, Mrs. T. J. Carley; girls' work, Mrs. H. Rehill; health education, Mrs. J. L. Thompson; residence, Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell; swimming, Mrs. H. C. Sootheran; camp, Mrs. W. J. Hardill; national interpretation and support, Miss Flora Metcalfe; personnel, Mrs. J. H, Vernor; membership, Miss O. Johnson; social, Mrs. W. Gordon; repair, Mrs. C. J. Ray; public affairs, Miss M. McIntosh; advisory board, Mr. G. A, Gillespie.

Refreshments arranged by Mrs. Edythe Davidson, residence secretary, were served at the close.

Chapter Division In May Officers Elected

At the meeting of Beta Sigma Phi, Alpha Theta Chapter, Monday evening in the YWCA it was decided to accept responsibility for decorations at the Local Council Spring Tea on Saturday, March 13. Mrs. Maurice Holt will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. John Dougherty and Mrs. J. Garrett.

Charter members of the Sorority who joined four years ago will go into Exemplar Degree in May. Miss Phyllis Turkington announced names of those who will take executive positions at that time as follows: president, Miss Connie Nicholson; vice president, Miss Moira Whalon; recording secretary, Mrs. Eileen Hiland; corresponding secretary, Miss Olive Morley; treasurer, Miss Madelyn McWilliams.

Slate of officers for Alpha Theta Chapter, comprising the remaining members, as read by Mrs. J. Dougherty, is: president, Mrs. Mary Kelly; vice president, Mrs. Gwynn L'homme; recording secretary, Miss Mary King; corresponding secretary, Miss Rheta Nelson; treasurer, Miss Margaret Wyllie.

First speaker of the evening, presented by Mrs. George L'homme, was Miss Moira Whalon. Regarding her topic, "Enjoyment of children," she said, "They are a constant source of education, and must be truly understood to be enjoyed." Miss Rheta Nelson introduced the second speaker, Miss Marjorie Armour. On "Enjoyment of adults," she said, "Take a sincere interest in other people and you will enjoy them." Miss Shirley Pringle's topic was "Conversation" and she illustrated her points with sentences in poor English in which members had to detect the fault and give the correct construction.

Miss Madelyn McWilliams announced her marriage which is to take place on Saturday, March 27, at Trinity United Church.

Coffee was served with Miss Grace Lundy, social convener, in charge.

Home and School Association News

KING EDWARD SCHOOL

Fathers were especially welcomed at the meeting of King Edward Home and School Association Monday evening by the president, Mrs. L. Gibson. A special "father's night" program and been arranged by Mr. H. Turner, and included piano solos by Frank Hamon, a number on the xylophone by Murray Maunders, sketches by Doug Landry, several numbers by Herb Mullins on the violin, and songs in which he accompanied himself on the guitar. Miss Dorothy Whatley and Frank Hamon also contributed piano duets.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. G. N. Perry, meat packing inspector, who explained the care that is taken in preparing meat and its various products for consumers, and the nutritional values of these items.

During the business session the Home and School convention in Toronto on March 29 was announced and further plans will be made to attend. Attendance prize was won by Mrs. R. Hawkey's room.

Refreshments were in charge of the fathers who had taken considerable pains to have them prepared and served according to men's ideas on such matters. Hosts were Messrs. C. Murduff, H. Ball, L. Gibson, E. Ritchie, C. Blackburn, A. Williamson, A. Atwood, D. T. Crawford, W. Prest, G. Myles.

Millbrook Women Plan Bake Sale

MILLBROOK, March 9. — (ENS).—Mrs. H. A. Turner was hostess for the March meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Thomas' Anglican church, held at her home at the week-end with the president, Mrs. Fred Lowery, in the chair, and conducting the opening devotions. Mrs. Douglas Sheppard, secretary, read the treasurer's report in the absence of that officer, Mrs. Howard Lancashire. After discussion it was decided to hold the monthly meetings on the first Tuesday, instead of Wednesday, of each month, and to have an afternoon tea and home baking sale in the waiting room on Saturday, April 24.

Details for this event will be completed at the next meeting on Tuesday, April 6, at the home of Mrs. P. E. Hamilton. The rector, Rev. C. M. MacLean, was present during the latter part of the meeting and offered the closing prayer, after which Mrs. Turner served lunch, and a social hour was enjoyed, with Dr. Turner joining the guests.

Top to Toe, French Fashions Show Skirts Keep Limelight

Fashion-conscious women these days should keep their eyes on skirts, because if Canadian fashion follows French, as it usually does, the skirt will be the important part of the ensemble for some time to come. This was indicated yesterday in the 40 Paris originals shown in Toronto.

On one grey wool suit what appears to be a peplum on the jacket is really the top of the skirt, and the tiny basque jacket fits in under a black belt. In addition, the designer has taken two folds of the material, brought them around from the back and made huge triangles on each side, which are caught under the peplum. On another skirt, the designer has done his draping horizontally and caught the fullness up with a big pearl button on the side. Griffe has taken yards and yards of turquoise blue satin and made what looks like a sheath of a dress. Actually it is accordion pleated from top to bottom and shimmers in the light.

Coats, whether French, American or Canadian, are either princess or peignoir in line and capes are excellent—both short and long. One strictly luxury item of pink magnolia is a wrap-around coat with plain top but a full fox hem. A dramatic full-length scarlet cape with tiny flat collar is lined in navy and white polka dots to match a dress.

English suits are among the most beautiful. One was a wine and black ensemble. Horizontal stripes are used on the wine and black bodice and the black box-pleated skirt has vertical inserts of wine. Another beautiful suit is in grey. The jacket, cut-away slightly in front, still presents a tailored face to the world, and in the back the fullness is arranged over a large softly pleated ruffle to give the effect of a huge, highly placed bustle.

Unusual color combinations add a cheerful note to approaching spring. A short clutch coat of soft aqua wool is worn with a violet skirt, in a bell silhouette. A flower laden mauve milan sailor completes the ensemble. The wrap-around influence can be seen in some of the shortie coats. Even though they are buttoned the cut is the same. One gay scarlet affair has a navy collar, binding and buttons.

What goes on to help where nature left off, or went too far, was shown by two ballet dancers who performed in taffeta petticoats, tiny corsets, cinches, and, of all things (tatting will probably get a new lease on life)—camisoles.

The hats in this show follow the romantic, elegant mood. There are several bicornes, flattering for the thin faced woman and always stunning. For the demure, flower laden bonnets are shown, and for the not so demure there are bonnets which have a touch of sophistication. Bumper sailors, without a front brim complement many of the ensembles.

With the attention going to the skirt it is also focussed on shoes, and a number of the new models were shown. Many are high in the back, extending to the point where the double reinforcement in a full fashioned stocking usually stops. Many have double ankle straps at this point—others "T" straps with variations.

Of Interest to Women

British Hospitals Desperate Over Pupil Nurse Scarcity

LONDON, March 9 (Reuters).—So few women in Britain today are attracted to the nursing profession that some hospitals, particularly mental homes, are forced to advertise in France, Belgium and Holland for pupil nurses.

The Middlesex County Council has inserted newspaper advertisements in these three countries for pupil nurses on the Continent to apply for posts at Schenley Mental Hospital which comes under the council's jurisdiction.

A Middlesex County official said: "We are desperate for mental nurses. Schenley Hospital alone is designed to accommodate 2,000 patients but the shortage today is so acute that not only beds are closed but entire wings.

"One of the main reasons for this is the poor pay for mental nurses. A staff nurse starts at £5 4s. (about $21) a week rising to a maximum salary of £6 5s.," he said.

Depressing Picture

"We need 40,000 women for all sorts of nursing jobs, from staff nurses to matrons, as there are 60,000 beds closed down throughout England and Wales," a Health Ministry official said.

"Although there are more student nurses than before the war—43,879 in training today — there is a great wastage problem. About 50 per cent of the profession leave either during their training or afterwards."

The number of trained nurses working in hospitals in England and Wales totals 40,163, including 1,000 midwives. The number of beds in all types of hospitals, Voluntary and local County Council institutions, in England and Wales totals just over 500,000 for a population of about 40,000,000.

Undomestic Wives May Lose Husbands Who Want Homes

A WOMAN WRITES: "When we were first married we were always hard-pressed for money and I worked my way through business college and became a secretary, and since then I have worked continuously. Now my husband is doing well in business. Holds a responsible position with a wonderful future. And we have a lovely home.

Dorothy Dix

"Now the problem is that my husband wants me to quit work, stay at home, keep house and rear a family, and this I simply cannot bring myself to do. The very thought of being completely dependent on anyone else, even my husband, sends me into a panic. I never fail to have a superior feeling when I see my neighbors in their faded hoursedresses, their hair still in curlers and no make-up on each morning when I step out to work in the latest clothes, hair curled, make-up just right, and knowing that I will soon be buying a new Spring wardrobe.

"Though we can live well without my income, if I give up my job it will mean doing without things that I crave and enjoy and have been accustomed to having. But my husband has become insistent that I resign my cushy position and I am just determined that I will not do it. However, I want his happiness first and above all things. What shall I do?"

Of course, if a woman really values her husband's happiness above everything else, she would sacrifice her desires to his and pass up the counting room for the kitchen. Basically the wife's part in marriage is making a home and bearing children, and if she refuses to do this she has defaulted on her part of the marriage contract. That is the law of God and man and it only becomes null and void through necessity, as when a man is too lazy and shiftless to support a family or too ill to work, and the wife and mother is forced to go out in the world to earn the living for her family.

Dislike Housework

Now not all women are domestic by nature. Many of them loathe cooking and scrubbing and baby-tending and are bored to tears by the never-ending routine of housework. Their talent is for business, and the thing that never ceases to thrill them is the excitement of bargaining and buying and selling and putting deals across, and they make a terrible sacrifice if they give up their careers just to please their husbands.

For, in addition to giving up the work they enjoyed for the work that is just an uncongenial task, they have to also give up their financial independence, and the woman who has once had her own pay envelope can never be quite reconciled to having to ask her husband for money, no matter how generous he is.

Of course, every working girl who falls in love believes that she will be perfectly happy if she exchanges her job for a wedding ring, but it doesn't always happen that way. I once asked a very successful business woman, who had married and who was living in a bird's nest of an apartment, how she liked being a lady of leisure, and she replied: "It's awful. I don't know what to do with my time. I feel like a hundred horsepower Diesel engine would if it were put to doing a half horsepower job."

But the cold, hard fact remains that after marriage a woman's job is making a home for her husband and her children, and if she makes a success of it she has to give it her whole time and thought and energy. When she tries to run a home on a part-time basis and substitutes pet dogs for babies, the next stopping place is the divorce court.

Which is sad, but true.

CREATIVE efforts of exceptional scope and novel objectives in which personal ingenuity and skill might be backed by public support or recognition, could be drastically upset or disintegrated by false moves, too adventurous techniques, or an erratic judgment, in which feelings, and emotions run away with sound ideas. Take no chances, adhere to sane tactics and refrain from spectacular "playing to the grand stand," if career and ambitions, as well as personal integrity, are to be maintained. Pause for reflection.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is have a very good chance for exceptional accomplishment in putting over ambitious projects of a creative nature, or developing ideas along unusual lines, in which public cooperation and recognition are "in the bag." However, unusual, unforeseen or unorthodox events or interferences may have deplorable reactions on groundwork already laid. Impulsive, erratic or speculative urges may precipitate this dilemma. Career, prestige, stability, could be thrown into the discard by wild ideas, desire for thrills or the limelight. Slow and sure methods might advance really worthy efforts and objectives.

A child born on this day may possess fine talents and ambitions, with promise of support from superiors or the public, but a reckless urge for the limelight or false notions might defeat it.

Low Prices Delight Family From England

Couple Claims Canadian Prices Not Known To Prospective Immigrants

"If you want immigrants from England, tell them what your prices are," was the advice of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Bull of Bourne End, Buckinghamshire, England, who arrived from England to take up farming.

"That is the main reason that many are hesitating," they explained, "as it is difficult, almost impossible to get that information there."

Those prices, they have found in the main compare most favorably with English prices .... and then of course there is always the factor that one can buy it here.

The Bulls, with their daughter Jeanne and son Malcolm and their dog Susie (who cost them $80 to get across) arrived in the city last Thursday. They left England on the Aquitania Feb. 26, landing in Halifax earlier last week. Because their daughter, Mrs. Chris Lashmar, lives in Peterborough, they came here. With the snow and difficulty of travel in winter they have decided to stay in the district, which they find they like.

Their plans call for a small farm where they can carry on mixed vegetable gardening and some livestock and poultry.

Mr. Bull was a coach (chartered bus) driver in England and has held other positions. They left for Canada because they felt "there is more opportunity — more scope — for the children here."

The entire family spoke in awed tones of the food.

"It bewilders us," said Mr. Bull remarking that their breakfast had included a month's egg rations and several weeks ration of bacon, butter and sugar— at a meal.

The food prices were also source of amazemen to them.

"Everything in the household line is so much cheaper here, said Mrs. Bull. They had been shopping that morning, she said, and had bought some kitchtn chairs for $2.65 here. The same chairs would at least cost 45 shillings in England ($9). Also, in England, it would be necessary to have a purchase permit before the chairs could be purchased —permits granted only to newly-weds and those who could prove they needed them.

People Feel Cramped.

"One of the main reasons for the large number leaving England," said Mr. Bull, "is that the people there feel cramped— the women are fed up with being unable to properly feed their families. "They mentioned that Canadian offices in England gave them the feeling that they were wanted and welcome in the Dominion.

Mrs. Bull commented that the most delightful Canadian expresison to her was "you're welcome." Somehow, she said, it sounded nicer than the more commonly used English equivalents.

England, they said, needed the people who are leaving, and in actual earning power, in many cases, they can earn more in England than in Canada. But it cannot be spent there.

Of the rationing sceme during the war, they spoke highly. It was "wonderfully fair," they said, and without it the average working people would have starved. Their only criticism is that the restaurant meals in England were not also rationed. This enabled those with funds to obtain unfair advantages of food over the poorer "classes."

Restaurant prices in Peterborough amazed the English newcomers. They work out to about half the English prices, they said

"When I write home telling the people about Canada, there is liable to be a stream of people coming," smiled Mrs. Bull.

"I am not an imaginative writer," she said, "but I believe my last letter sounded like a fairy story."

The clothing situation in England is characterized by its slowness, they said. When a man finally obtains rights to a suit of clothes, it take a full year in some cases for the order to come through.

Prefer "Pubs."

In regard to the Ontario system of beverage rooms, they were emphatic in their criticism. They compared the present public drinking here with the club-like "pubs" in England. In a friendly atmosphere, mixed drinking is carried on where dancing and games can be played. Drunkenness is but a fraction of the Canadian average, they said.

"The "New Look" is faring badly in the old country, they reported. The long dresses are not meeting with general approval among the better-dressed people. This, they felt, was because of the long strain of cloth rationing for bedding, curtains and other goods. This dictate of fashion they said, is regarded as foolish wastage.

"And besides," added Mr. Bull with male candor, "there's no excuse for it in Canada where the girls can get beautiful nylons so cheaply."

The expression of pride which they had heard on every side. "You'll like Peterborough," impressed them. There is much stronger sense of regional pride here than in England. There they pointed out, a man will boast about his favorite football team much more than his town or city.

Another thing which bewilders the Bulls about the city is the driving habits of the Canadians.

"How do you tell when a man is turning left or right?" they asked with good-natured complaint.

"We have finally worked out a system of telling this in Peterborough, 'Mr. Bull stated. "If the driver turns his head to the left, we know he is going to turn right."

They like the people. From the porters who met them on their first Canadian train to the waitresses who are serving them this week in a city hotel, they find a congeniality and friendliness which appeals to them.

Intent on purchasing furnishings for their new farm home here, they are beginning to find their way about the new land.

Even Susie looked quite at home, curled up in the corner of the room on her blanket.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

MAY FORCE AN HONOR

POSSESSION of a singleton trump of less than honor stature may seem to be of no value unless you can win a trick with it through ruffing some other suit. But it can be worth a trick to your side without necessarily having to win one. In some situations, ruffing with it when the declarer can over-ruff may be of telling usefulness. It may oblige the declarer to use a really high trump, instead of a very small one, to take that particular trick. By thus consuming one of his honors, he may establish in your partner's hand some card which otherwise would have been dropped when the declarer later took out trumps.

	♠ 10 5 3 2 ♥ 10 9 6 ♦ A Q 7 5 4 ♣ Q
♠ J 6 4 ♥ A K Q 7 5 2 ♦ 8 3 ♣ J 9	N W E S	♠ 9 ♥ 8 3 ♦ J 10 6 2 ♣ 10 7 5 4 3 2
	♠ A K Q 8 7 ♥ J 4 ♦ K 9 ♣ A K 8 6

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♥	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠

It was painful to watch East fumble his one chance to be of some use on this deal. With his "worthless" hand, he reckoned it made no difference, so paid slight attention to what he did with his own cards.

West raked in his heart K and Q, then led the A. East mechanically discarded his club 2, and South of course ruffed the trick, employing the 7 for that purpose. Then the declarer rattled off in quick succession the spade A, K and Q, followed by the diamond K, A and Q for a club discard, the club Q, the diamond 4 ruffed by the spade 8, then the club A and K. That of course gave him an extra trick above his game.

At other tables of the same duplicate game, East made one simple move that held the contract to exactly game without any overtricks. In these cases, when the third high heart was led, the East player realized it might be from a six-card suit and South therefore would have only two hearts to start with. In that event, South would ruff, using a small trump unless East stuck in his spade 9 to force a bigger one.

That is exactly what these East defenders did. The ruff with their 9 compelled South to play one of his three high trumps. So doing built up West's spade J as a trick-taker.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ Q 5 ♥ J 10 7 ♦ J 9 7 5 ♣ K 4 3 2
♠ A K 10 8 7 4 ♥ K Q 8 6 5 ♦ None ♣ A J	N W E S	♠ J 9 ♥ A 9 4 3 2 ♦ Q 8 6 4 ♣ Q 5
	♠ 6 3 2 ♥ None ♦ A K 10 5 2 ♣ 10 9 8 7 6

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

After South leads the diamond K, what is East's proper playing plan at 6-Hearts?

6—In Memoriam

EVERITT—In loving memory of Edward Arnold Everitt, who passed away March 9, 1947.
—Loved and remembered by his wife and family.

EVERITT—In loving memory of Edward Arnold Everitt, who passed away 1 year ago, March 9, 1947.
We cannot clasp your hand, father dear;
Your face we cannot see;
But let this little token
Tell that we still remember thee.
—Ever remembered by Irene, Ernie and family.

DIXON, Malcolm—In loving memory of a dear father and husband, also son, who passed away March 9, 1946.
When evening shades are falling,
And we sit quietly alone,
To our heart there comes a longing,
If he only could come home.
Friends may think we have forgotten
When at times they see us smile
But they little know the heartache
Our smiles hide all the while.
—Always remembered by wife and family and father, mother, sister and brothers.

DIXON, Malcolm—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, who passed away March 9, 1946.
From our happy home and circle
God has taken one we loved,
He is borne away from sin and sorrow,
To a nobler rest above.
No one knows how much we miss him
No one but aching hearts can tell
Lost on earth, but found in Heaven,
Jesus doeth all things well.
—Always lovingly remembered by father, mother, sister and brothers, also wife and family.

McCOLL—In loving memory of Clif-Hugh McColl, who passed away ford McColl, son of Mr. and Mrs. March 9, 1941.
Not just today, but every day
In silence we remember.
—Always remembered by mom, dad, sisters and brothers.

McNAUGHTON—In loving memory of our dear father, Henry McNaughton, who passed away one year ago March 8.
When evening shades are falling
And we are sitting alone
In our hearts there comes a longing
If you only could come home
'Tis lonesome here without you, Dad.
There is such a vacant place
For we never hear your foorsteps
Nor see your smiling face
As we loved you, so we miss you
In our memory you are dear
Loved, remembered, longed for always
Bringing many a silent tear
To those who have a father
Cherish him with care
There will never be another
To fill his vacant chair.
—Sadly missed and always remembered by wife, sons and daughter.

7—Cards of Thanks

FACE-LIFTING AT KNOX

Knox United Church is the latest in the growing list of local churches undergoing renovation. No structural changes are being made but the interior of the church is undergoing a thorough house-cleaning. Workmen of a local firm labored on 60-foot scaffolding all last week so that the central part of the high vaulted ceiling would be finished before Sunday. There was no disruption of the Sunday services. It is expected that the work will be finished before Easter.

Greatest Days For Mines Said On Way

TORONTO, March 9 — (CP). — Cheered by Federal Mines Department assurance that the greatest days of Canadian mining still lie ahead, the 16th annual convention of the Prospectors and Developers Association of Canada today entered the second day of its three-day session.

The more than 1,500 Canadian and United States delegates were scheduled to hear addresses today by G. C. McCartney, a consulting geologist just back from Brazil, by A. H. Lang of the Geological Survey of Canada and by W. N. Ingham and W. G. Robinson of the Quebec Department of Mines.

The forecast of a bright future side, Federal Deputy Minister of Mines and Resources, after delegates heard from thir own president a call for a free market in gold.

"The crystal ball is clouded but it is not so obscure that we cannot foresee an era of demand for base metals and fuels that should guarantee prosperity for our producers for at least the lifetime of those present," said Dr. Keenleyside. "For myself, I share the faith in the future of gold which I know to be common to the members of this Association.

Greater Assistance ..

"Because of this demand for oil, coal, copper, lead, zinc, nickel and gold . . . the private prospector and the company representatives in the field now can look for annually increasing assistance from the services of the Federal government."

Such Federal imposts as the customs duty on mining machinery and its components added to the costs of mining. On the other hand, the government made certain tax concessions, helped build roads and airstrips in remote areas and through its trade commissioner service kept in close and constant contact with world markets.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO, March 9 — (CP). Wholesale fruit and vegetable prices were unchanged here today.

HOG PRICES.

TORONTO, March 9 — (CP)— Hog prices were unchanged at Brantford, $28.25 delivered to farmers; unchanged at Hull, off truck, unquote, $28.75 dressed grade A delivered, in markets reporting early this morning.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, March 9 —(AP)— Nearby deliveries of grain futures were sharply lower at the opening of the Board of Trade today. Wheat was off as much as 6¾ cents, corn was 7⅝ lower, and oats were down three cents. Brokers said trading reflected disappointment because of light government purchase of flour.

At the start wheat was unchanged to 6¾ cents lower than yesterday's close, May $2.32-2.29½; corn was two to 7⅝ cents lower, May $2.10-2.08½, and oats were ½ to three cents lower, May $1.07½-1.08¼. Soybeans declined the permissible daily limit of eight cents, May $3.40.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 9 — (CP). — Continuation of selling today kept oats and barley futures prices below yesterday's close on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Weaknesses on the Chicago market also were reflected here. Support was indifferent. A few buying orders by shopper accounts came in at the lower levels but buying was not aggressive. Trading, fairly active at the opening, turned dull.

Only a few transactions, mostly of a commission house nature, were made in rye futures.

Prices:

Oats—May 1⅜ lower at 76; July ⅞ lower at 73½a; Oct. ¾ lower at 71½.

Barley—May 2½ lower at $1.06; July 2¼ lower at $1.02¾a; Oct. 1¾ lower at 98¾.

Inspections: Wheat this year 535; last year 345; cars of contract 244; oats 67-109; barley 42-65; flax 17-7; rye 1-5; other grains 4-3; total 666-534.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, March 9 — (CP). — Prices were generally unchanged in sales on the livestock market up to mid-session today. Cattle trade was active although no sales were recorded on sheep or lambs.

Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were cattle 600, calves 150, hogs 400, no sheep or lambs.

Weighty steers were $15-$16.75 and butcher steers brought $14-$16.25. Heifers sold for $15.50 downwards. Butcher cows were mostly $9.50-$12.50 with canners downward to $6. Bulls sold at $10.50-$13 and fed yearlings went for $15.50-$17.50.

Calves were steady at $22-$24 for choice with plain lights and heavies at $13-$17. Grassers were $9.50-$12.

Hogs were firm at $29 for grade A $28.60 for grade B1. Sows were $20 dressed.

Caution Prevails On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, March 9—(CP). — Prices were generally easier on a slight increase in activity on the stock exchange today but the price range continued narrow. Influence of yesterday's break in commodities in the United States had its effect on early session trading and caution prevailed through the day.

Volume for the first three hours was 394,000 shares, about 98,000 more than yesterday's similar period.

Key industrials on the downside were Abitibi, Algoma Steel, Burlington Steel, Canada Steamships, Canadian Food Products, Canadian Breweries, Industrial Alcohol, Dominion Foundries, Fanny Farmer, Ford, Loblaw 'A', McColl, Orange Crush.

McIntyre touched a new high at 66 on a gain of 1¾ in the senior golds and Wright-Hargreaves added 9 at $2.79. Base metals losers included Smelters, Falconbridge, Labrador, Steep Rock and Sherritt.

Australia Gets Carrier

CANBERRA (CP). — Eighty volunteer Royal Australian Air Force pilots are training on a British aircraft carrier which they will bring back to Australia when their training is completed. Planned maximum strength of 94 officers, pilots and 80 rating pilots is not expected to be reached for 10 years.

VALUABLE DOG KILLED

A Scotch collie, valued at $400, was killed by a car outside the home of his owner, James Laidlaw, on the Warsaw Road, on Saturday. The driver stopped and helped the owner, but the dog died later of internal injuries. It had stood up after being struck and walked to the side of the road.

OUT IN FORCE

Provincial policemen were on duty in full force at Omemee Monday night and were on traffic patrol between the village and Peterborough. It is reported that three motorists who cut out of the traffic line near Peterborough were nabbed and will be charged. The unusual activity is believed to be a result of the car-train wreck last Friday night, following the hockey match.

TWO CHIMNEY FIRES

No major fires were reported on Monday, but firemen answered two calls for two chimney fires. At 1.30 p.m. 484 Sherbrooke, residence of Mrs. Mary Carson. Again at 4.35 p.m., residence of Mrs. Jeanette Davis, 33 Stewart St.

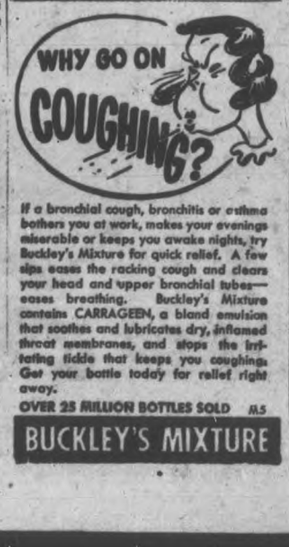
15-Mile Swim Starts At YMCA

The YMCA 15 mile swim for the Canadian Legion trophy got under way Monday night when six swimmers dived in for their first half hour in the water.

Ken Stacey took the lead from the start and held it all the way for a total of 97 lengths of the pool —nine over one mile. His time for the mile of 27.06 was the fastest recorded in the pool since the record of 24.30 was set by Stan McBride in 1938.

Jack Forbes, last year's winner, pushed Stacey all the way for 93 lengths and Don Campbell was third with 89 lengths. Gerald Pinch, Gordon Buck and Jim Kennedy also registered a half hour of swimming. Frank Wright, unable to start, will get under way tonight and anyone else who is interested will be welcomed in the event.

In the weekly handicap swim, Ken Stacey was the winner of the 40 yds. free style event in a close race with Hugh Outram and Ron Wood was third. Twenty-eight swimmers were present including Bill Watson, Neil Clark and Noble Zinston, new members of the club.



Find 15 Trunks Full Of Weapons

PARIS, March 9—(Reuters)—Marseilles police continuing investigations into the discovery there of arms dumps intended for Jewish Terrorists in Palestine today indicited four unnamed persons—for alleged participation in arms traffic.

Three "suspect" trunks were found today after the discovery last night of 15 trunks full of arms but one was found filled with rags and the other two were empty Police learned that the trunks had been left at a private house by a person whose identity was not known.

Among the arms were winged torpedoes, hand grenades and rifles of foreign make. Three tons of arms were found earlier hidden near the old port of Marseilles bringing the total found to more than eight tons.

"There is no doubt that all the arms were destined for Palestine," police officials said.

Build 50 Houses Mayor Says None Available

LINDSAY, March 9 (ENS). — "I believe the town of Lindsay should undertake to build 50 more wartime houses," said Mayor Charles Lamb, at a meeting of council Monday night. "At least 75 people are looking for wartime homes here now and I doubt if you could rent a house in Lindsay today for anything. A number of local persons working in Peterborough would take wartime homes here," he added.

Reeve H. H. McFadden differed with the Mayor. "Isn't it logical that when persons working in Peterborough can find homes there they will be likely to move to Peterborough?" he pointed out.

"Not only that, but by building more houses we'll be competing with private enterprises, Ald. J. C. Kingsborough agreed. "The time has come when private industry should be given a greater chance here," he said. "And the people of Lindsay should be told the financial burden they must assume for the installation of services to these wartime projects."

It was generally decided that a public meeting should be held to determine whether or not citizens feel they need additional wartime units.

Ajax, Malton Only Ones Outside Municipalities

TORONTO, March 9—(CP)—Wartime Housing projects at nearby Ajax and Malton are the only two in Ontario outside the jurisdiction of any municipality, D. B. Mansur, president of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, said last night. Other projects in municipalities such as Toronto, Windsor, Brantford, St. Catharines, Peterborough, and Ottawa are covered by agreements between municipalities and CMHC, he explained.

Mr. Mansur suggested this might be the reason the Provincial Government singled out Ajax and Malton as two projects which might be restored to the Federal field of responsibility.

The Provincial Government announced last week in the Speech from Throne that legislation would be introduced to designate any Wartime Housing project Ottawa's sole responsibility. Later it was learned that Ajax and Malton would be the only two affected.

Sailor Admits Killing Mother

KINGSTON, Pa., March 9 — (AP). — Police Chief David Francis reported today that William Davis, 26-year-old United States navy veteran, killed his mother with a hatchet because she was "too good to live."

Francis said Davis is being held without charge while police decide what to do about him. "It's a strange case," Francis said. "The boy has a sick mind."

The police chief gave this account of the slaying:

Davis and his mother, Viola, went upstairs together last night. Shortly afterwards, his father, Daniel, found Mrs. Davis lying on a sofa, a wound in her head. He asked her what happened and she replied she didn't know. The son was gone. Mrs. Davis died in hospital two hours later.

Shortly afterwards young Davis arrived at police quarters.

Britons Crowd Galleries To Enjoy Great Paintings

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Britain's art galleries, dignified, quiet and almost empty a few years ago, now are appealing to the "mob." The ordinary man and his wife are beginning to recognize great paintings. Galleries in many parts of the country report a box office boom with attendances much higher than in pre-war years. Figures take a sharp rise when there is a "featured" exhibition of words by such notables as Van Gogh, Picasso and others.

An example of the upward trend was the daily block-long queue outside London's Tate Gallery early this year when Van Gogh paintings were on view. More than 100,000 persons trooped into the gallery during the two-week showing and other galleries in other parts of the country reported Van Gogh a "big drawing card."

Other Centres

At Birmingham, 104,000 persons crowded the gallery to see the work of a man who could paint sunlight. In Glasgow, art gallery attendance as a whole is reported up 70 per cent over pre-war figures.

The works of Picasso and Matisse drew almost 75,000 persons at the City Gallery in Manchester in a two-week showing. Another 25,000 went to see the Cezanne water colors.

Women Interested.

The National Gallery in London reports a monthly attendance of more than double that for any pre-war month. Officials say that the crowds are a complete cross-section of the community and include a "high proportion" of women.

Art authorities are agreed that there is a genuine interest in paintings and pictures and that interest has risen steadily since the early 30's when taste for the visual arts was encouraged through art education schools.

One authority says that the public has been reaching more than ever for the fine things in art since the first air raids of the Second World War reduced life "to its fundamental realities." People want to see color, compared with the drabness of everyday life in the country.

Selwyn WA To Make Autograph Quilt

SELWYN, March 9 (ENS). — Mrs. James McConkey was hostess to the W.A. of the United Church on Thursday when 19 members and two visitors were present.

A new member, Mrs. Orr Sage, was added to the roll-call. The scripture was read by Mrs. G. Fitzgerald and the topic was given by Mrs. Melville Crapp.

Miss Cochrane, of the staff of the Children's Shelter, gave an interest talk on Foster Homes.

The quilt was finished that the ladies had been working on and they planned to quilt their autograph quilt at the home of Mrs. Clifford McIlmoyl next week.

Mrs. Wilfred Nichols invited the ladies to her home for the April meeting.

Peron's Men Lead Voting

BUENOS AIRES, March 9—(AP).—First returns from yesterday's national elections favored candidates supported by President Juan D. Person.

Although electoral boards will not begin the official count in Congressional races until Wednesday in most provinces, returns in municipal elections held simultaneously gave victories to administration supporters in the provinces of Santa Fe, Entre Rios and Jujuy.

These returns tended to bear out claims by the Peronista party of a sweeping victory.

Masaryk Kills Himself "Red" Pressure Hinted

EXTENDS FIRST WELCOME — In the Red Cross Port Nursery at Halifax, a young mother meditates on the hardships of her past life, as she rests with her baby on the threshold of a new and happier world. Just reopened after being released from army occupation, the Red Cross Seaport Nursery extends the first welcome to thousands of displaced adults and children from Europe.

Demand U.N. Investigate Czech Coup

Masaryk's Friend Won't Resign Asks World Support

LAKE SUCCESS, March 10—(AP)—Dr. Jan Papanek, Czechoslovak delegate to the United Nations, demanded today that the U.N. Security Council investigate the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia.

Dr. Papanek told a hurriedly called press conference at U.N. headquarters that he had submitted to Trygve Lie, U.N. secretary-general, a formal demand that the Security Council consider the Feb. 20 change in the Czechoslovak government.

Dr. Papanek was a friend of Jan Masaryk, who fell to his death in Prague today.

Papanek said:

"I represented the Czechoslovak government that existed before Feb. 20. I was never a representative of the new regime. I am not resigning my office (as Czechoslovak delegate to the United Nations.)

"It is upon the members of the United Nations to decide whether they will recognize the regime in Prague now or recognize the republic as it was before Feb. 20. But I will not go out and leave the post empty."

Waitress Dies 9 Days After Shooting

Police Prefer Murder Charge Against Pianist Leslie Davidson

TORONTO, March 10 (CP)—Mrs. Margaret (Mickey) Meredith, 25 - year - old waitress wounded nine days ago in a restaurant shooting, died in hospital today.

Only a few minutes before the death of the former army show singer, Leslie Davidson, Montreal-born pianist, was remanded to March 17 on a charge of attempted murder of his former night-club partner, whom police say he shot in a fit of jealous rage.

Police later said a murder charge against Davidson had been preferred.

Davidson was taken to Magistrate's Court for his appearance on the murder charge and Magistrate Tupper Bigelow remanded him to March 17. The accused has been under mental observation in Toronto's Don Jail.

Close at hand at the time of the young woman's death, which followed two serious brain operations to remove a bullet, were her estranged husband, Robert Meredith, and their five-year-old son, Bobby. They arrived last Monday from Vancouver.

Davidson, who police say lived with Mrs. Meredith after becoming separated from his wife, was arrested in a west-end club an hour and 40 minutes after the shooting, while he played "Pretty Mickey" on the piano.

Following the two operations, in one of which the bullet which pierced her brain was removed through her nose, Mrs. Meredith's condition was reported to be improving. Early today her condition took a turn for the worse.

Takes Life 15 Days After Coup

Communists Report Foreign Minister Had Not Been Well

PRAGUE, March 10 — (CP). — Dr. Jan Masaryk, 61-year-old Czechoslovak Foreign Minister and son of the founder of the republic, committed suicide today by jumping from the window of his official residence in Prague.

An official announcement said investigations were proceeding.

Attributing his death to illness and insomnia, it added that the statesman probably decided to end his life "in a moment of nervous disturbance."

Communist Premier Klement Gottwald made no immediate statement. Nor did ailing President Eduard Benes, who acceded to Communist demands for control.

A radio account said half of the text of a speech Masaryk was to have made tonight to a Polish-Czech friendship was on his desk.

Masaryk's acceptance of office in the Communist-dominated government set up two weeks ago surprised western observers.

Dangerous Game

His flat endorsement several days later of close co-operation with Russia, coupled with an "I am with you" message to the army and to his "Czech and Slovak brothers," however, seemed to most qualified observers to mean that he had embarked on a definite course of action. There were two schools of thought as to what that course might be.

One felt he was playing a most dangerous double game.

The other felt he had lent himself to the new government, in the possible hope that he could steer it on a middle course and bring Moscow and the west together in the peace he always insisted must be maintained.

His death recalled that Dr. Prokop Drtina, the minister of justice before the Communist coup, was found under a window outside his home two days after the Communists took over. Prague police said he had attempted suicide and suffered a serious head injury.

News of Masaryk's suicide caused great disturbance among members of the government.

The official statement added:

300,000 Must Change Jobs

LONDON, March 10—(CP).—More than 300,000 men and women may have to leave their present jobs this year, switching to industries whose output is more valuable to Britain's export drive. A Government survey of 1948 economic prospects, gloomiest official forecast ever made in the United Kingdom, said yesterday that increased labor forces are needed in coal mining, transport, agriculture, textiles, metals and engineering.

The greatest contribution is expected from the building trade, clothing industry, distributive services of food and drink manufactures and public services.

The Government apparently hopes to effect the transfer by its present limited powers to direct labor, backed up by its control of raw materials, which can be withheld from industries it does not consider essential.

May Need More Control

Some political observers predicted, however, that before the year is out the Government may have to seek wider authority to dictate where and when a man will work.

Government documents are called White Papers but the contents of this 30,000-word report are so grim that it has been popularly nicknamed "the black paper."

Today the press used blunt headlines and charts to impress Britain's economic plight upon the people.

Some newspapers expressed belief editorially that despite dire warnings, the full meaning of Britain's financial crisis has not been grasped by the man on the street.

Senators Approve Request To Admit Chinese Families

OTTAWA, March 10—(CP).—A brief asking that all Chinese be allowed to bring their wives and children into Canada was supported today by the Senate Immigration Committee following presentation of a brief by a delegation from the Committee for the Repeal of the Chinese Immigration Act.

The brief asked that present regulations granting Chinese citizens of Canada the right to bring their wives and children to the Dominion be extended to cover all Chinese in Canada.

On motion of Senator James Murdock of Ontario, the committee went on record as supporting the request.

Irving Himel of Toronto, who presented the brief on behalf of the eight-man delegation, pointed out that as a nation, Canada had protested to the USSR government against its refusal to allow Russian-born wives of Canadians to leave that country.

Mr. Himel estimated there were 23,000 married Chinese in Canada, 19,000 of whom had wives and children in China.

"How can we, in all integrity, protest against their refusal when we refuse to let Chinese wives join their husband here, except upon their production of a citizenship certificate which in the case of most Chinese will take them about two years to obtain?"

The committee has for co-chairmen Dr. A. E. Armstrong, head of the overseas mission of the United Church of Canada and Dr. S. K. Ngai, prominent Chinese surgeon of Toronto.

The committee asked repeal of P.C. 2115 because, among other reasons:

1. "You have advocated that any suggestion of discrimination based on either race or religion should be scrupulously avoided both in the Immigration Act and its administration."

2. "The repeal . . . would cement the bonds of friendship and encourage trade relations between Canada and countries like China, India and other Asiatic nations that have expressed strong disapproval ow thta law."

3. "P.C. 2115 stands for a policy which is not only unnatural, but is contrary to all religion, humanity and social welfare."

To Leave Union Open To Others

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 10—(AP))—Five western European countries negotiating a military alliance agreed in principle today that their union will be open to other countries of the continent.

France and Britain have pushed for a five-power pact open to other powers, and British officials said the Benelux countries—Bellium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—had accepted this as a basis for discussion.

The provision to leave the door open was believed to be designed primarily for Italy.

Such a clause could, however, accommodate any of the Marshall Plan countries which might want to join in the future.

Diplomats of the five countries have completed nearly all the other articles of the treaty. Economic and military clauses were sent this morning to the drafting committee, and officials predicted this conference may end tomorrow or Friday.

Britain Rejects Note

LONDON, March 10.— (Reuters).— Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today that Britain rejected a note from Guatemala disclaiming responsibility for the attack March 1 on the British Legation in Guatemala city. The note was delivered to the British government March 4 in reply to a strong British protest about the incident in which "insulting placards" were stuck to the Legation building and the Guatemalan flag hoisted to the official flagstaff, Bevin said in the Commons.

Czechs Ordered To Redraft Constitution

PRAGUE, March 10—(CP). — Premier Klement Gottwald told parliament today at its first session since the Communist coup, that the new Czechoslovak constitution will be redrafted.

Gottwald spoke for almost an hour but made no mention of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk who committed suicide this morning. The Premier asked for a vote of confidence.

When the crisis broke, last month, drafting of the new constitution had not been completed by the sub-committee of the National Constitution Assembly appointed in 1946. It was originally intended that it should be ready for the general elections, set for May.

Gottwald outlined the government's action program as follows:

1. To realize the most urgent tasks.

2. Realization of the demands of the trade unions and the farmer organization made Feb. 22 and 28.

3. Measures to destroy all conspiracies directed against the regime.

Gottwald said that the tasks confronting the government before the coming elections included the nationalization of the wholesale trade, the export and import trade and of enterprises employing more than 50 workers.

Ask $1,500 Minimum

WINNIPEG, March 10—(CP).—The National Council of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada decided yesterday at its annual meeting here to present a request to the Dominion Government for establishment of a minimum salary of $1,500 per year plus a cost-of-living bonus for all full-time civil servants.

A. H. Helm of Kitchener, council president, said the resolution asked for a cost-of-living bonus o: $9.75 a month with a boost for every five-point rise in the cost-of-living index, retroactive to Oct. 1, 1947.

Blame Riots At Burwash On Poor Administration

TORONTO, March 10—(CP). — Dissatisfaction with food, housing, long hours of work and lack of recreation and medical care were the chief factors resulting in the disturbance at the Burwash Industrial Farm near Sudbury, last October. This was disclosed in the report of Commissioner Stuart K. Jaffray to reform Institutions Minister Dunbar, tabled in the legislature yesterday.

Responsibility for the outbreak of the riots "is clearly on the administration and not on the inmates," the report said.

The commissioner reported "a gradual weakening of the administration under the previous superintendent" and the heavy administrative load "which piled up on him and finally clogged the administrative process to the danger point."

He added:

"The pressure for this explosion has been building up for some time, but particularly for the last two years."

He said responsibility must be shared by the previous superintendent, under whom the disturbances took place, and by the department of reform institutions.

"The impossibly heavy administrative load is the inevitable result of failure of the Ontario government (the present government and previous governments) to provide sufficient senior administrative staff."

Charges Sisters Intimidated

QUEBEC, March 10—(CP)—Premier Duplessis, in a prepared statement today on the Polish treasury controversy, declared that Sisters of the Hotel Dieu convent in Quebec City had been subjected to "annoyances and proceedings of intimidation" by the Polish charge d'affairs and members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The 3,000-word statement made no reference to the disposal provincial authorities will make of the treasures transferred from Hotel Dieu to a Quebec museum Feb. 25.

The premier quoted a statement by External Affairs Minister St. Laurent in the Commons and said it was "incontestable" that "it was Mr. St. Laurent himself who asked that the services of the Mounted Police be employed (in the search for the treasures).

London Crowds Cheer Churchill

LONDON, March 10 — (CP).—Thousands of people lined the streets and cheered yesterday as Winston Churchill, smoking his traditional cigar, toured the London suburb of North Croydon where a by-election Thursday is expected to be one of the keenest contests since the Labor government took office in 1946.

Speaking in support of Conservative candidate Fred Harris, a local business man, Churchill told voters that the return of a Conservative in North Crowdon would "give courage to all who have not lost faith in England."

As Churchill drove off, he stood up in his slow-moving automobile while admirers climbed on the running boards, clasped his hand and patted him on the back.

The by-election was caused by the retirement of Conservative H. U. Willink, who has taken a university post.

Set Aside 81 Million For Seven Provinces

OTTAWA, March 10.—(CP).—An appropriation of $81,025,000 to compensate provinces which have turned over the income and other taxation fields to the Dominion is shown in the estimates of government expenditures in the 1948-49 fiscal year tabled in the Commons last night.

Under these taxation agreements, Prince Edward Island will receive $1,673,000, Nova Scotia $10,175,000, New Brunuswick $8,050,000, Manitoba $12,853,000, Saskatchewan $13,728,000, Alberta $13,434,000 and British Columbia $21,112,000. There is no vote for Ontario or Quebec.

Heroin Worth $50,000 Seized In New York

NEW YORK, March 10—(AP).—Seizure of 40 ounces of pure heroin, estimated to have an ultimate underworld value of $500,000 when diluted, and $18,300 in cash was announced today by detectives of the city narcotics squad.

They said the seizure was made in the arrest of Charles Marano, 26, in Brooklyn last night.

Marano carried most of the narcotic in a paper bag, and the rest was found in a basement drain used as a hiding place by a gang of dope peddlers, detectives said.

Would-Be Thief Meets His Match

TORONTO, March 10 (CP). — Gordon Thompson, 33, taxi driver and father of seven, resisted last night when a man carrying a small arsenal tried to get in his cab. He disarmed the man of a .45 calibre revolver and a rifle.

Police later arrested Fred Hayden, 22, in a west end Toronto house and charged him with threatening and having an offensive weapon in his possession.

The cab driver said he struggled with the man and knocked him out of the car.

A gun against his ribs, Thompson decided to resist. "I thought what's the use of going away to get it when I might as well get it right here?

"I grabbed at the gun, got my hands on it and wrenched it away. I pushed the man out of the car, struck him on the jaw and hit him with the butt of the gun. I guess I gave him everything I had."

Police said Hayden told them he was despondent because a girl declined to see him.

Finnish Delegates Attempt To Resign

HELSINKI, March 10—(AP)—Several members of Finland's delegation to negotiate with Russia were reported today to have asked in vain to be relieved of their assignment.

They were appointed yesterday to negotiate in Moscow in a Finnish-Russian pact.

Informants said the delegates told President Juho K. Paasikivi they "did not under any circumstances want to go to Moscow."

The president is reported to have cut them off with the remark:

"There is no question of whether you have any desire to do this or that. This is a compulsory labor."

Canada Threatened By Red Menace

Powerful Fifth Column, Well-Schooled, Awaits Only Favorable Moment

By DON CAMERON
Windsor Star Staff Reporter

Communist agents of world revolution, sponsored and sparked by the Kremlin, await only a favorable moment of crisis to unleash within Canada a potentially disastrous attack upon the very life of the nation.

A powerful fifth column of disciplined activists, schooled and experienced in the black arts of treachery and terrorism, maintains a constant state of alertness in strategic Canadian cities from coast to coast. Its action committees are prepared to strike instantly at the most vulnerable points of our democratic structure with the same ruthless efficiency that has brought vast areas of Europe and Asia under the hammer-and-sickle rule of the most powerful totalitarian tyranny on earth.

High Command In Moscow

This deadly enemy of human liberty and dignity is not native to our soil; it is alien in origin and international in outlook. More than 75 per cent of its strength in Canada is recruited from foreign-born or foreign-speaking groups. It is integrated with the Communist conspiracy in the United States and throughout the world.

Its high command—a completely autocratic dictatorship—is in Moscow, to which Communism here is directly and unmistakably linked.

These are cold facts, not an anxious summing up of alarmist rumors. They are known to be facts by top level leaders in Canadian governmental, business and social organizations. Because of this knowledge, there is today in high circles more serious planning for security than at any time since the war emergency was gravest.

Visited Many Places

These facts became known to this reporter through personal investigations that, in the final stages, covered weeks of time and thousands of miles of distance. To establish their truth he visited the seat of government at Ottawa and isolated workers camps in the bush, mines and factories, Communist meeting halls and headquarters of organizations dedicated to the preservation of human rights.

He talked with statesmen and politicians of every persuasion and labor leaders of every affiliation, with industrialists and shop foremen, policemen and jailbirds, atheists and clergymen, including some of the most important men in the Dominion and more of the little fellows who represent all that is best and worst in society.

He found clear and specific evidence, which this series of articles will set forth, to substantiate every statement made here.

Same As In Europe

He found:

1. Intensified Communist activity in all fields in which the Kremlin's busy advance agents operate to smooth the way for world revolution, comparable to the stepped-up tempo of the Soviet Union's westward and eastward surges through Europe and Asia.

2. That there exists a complete program of action by which Communists intend to take full advantage of political and economic disturbances anticipated this year—disturbances they intend in some

Sweden Fears Russ Advance

Army Leaders Demand Forces Be Increased

STOCKHOLM, March 10 (Reuters).—Sweden's military leaders are calling for strengthened defence forces to meet any future threat of war which, according to them, is becoming more imminent.

The commander-in-chief, Gen. Helge Jung, and the commanders of the navy and air force are branding as inadequate a new defence plan providing for slightly reduced armed forces. The plan has been worked out by the parliamentary defence committee and was submitted to the House this month.

It calls among other things for smaller, faster ships for the navy; conversion of two bomber squadrons and one reconnaissance squadron into fighter squadrons in the air force; and a reduction in the number of artillery and anti-aircraft batteries in the army.

Jung and his colleagues charge defence should not be a lower priority than the other needs of the country. The armed forces are being pruned, but other state organizations are being maintained at full strength.

Walks Out After Battle On Korean Election

NEW YORK, March 10.—(CP).—The New York Times, in a dispatch from Seoul, Korea, said that George Patterson, Canadian delegate to the United Nations Temporary Commission on Korea, walked out of the meeting and refused to return to a later session.

The Times dispatch said his action followed a wrangle over whether a recent announcement it would hold elections May 9 was binding on the Commission Mr. Patterson objected on the ground that the election decision was made at an informal meeting held while he was absent in Tokyo.

The election date was announced Feb. 28 by Lt.-Gen. John R. Hodge, United States commander, after he had conferred informally with Commission members.

The Commission today issued a statement which said "the whole question of observing the elections and implementing the resolution of the Interim Commission is now under consideration by the Commission."

The Times dispatch added that today's developments dealt Korean hopes for May 9 elections a severe setback.

Estimates For 1948 Down By 131 Million; More Items To Be Added

Lower Living Costs Bring Decreases In Agriculture, Veterans Departments, Pensions, Allowances Major Increases

OTTAWA, March 10—(CP).—Government expenditures for the 1948-49 fiscal year are estimated at $1,985,146,060 — a $131,821,793 drop from the 1947-48 figure of $2,116,967,853. But Finance Minister Abbott said in a press statement issued shortly after he tabled the estimates in the Commons last right that supplementary estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31 still are to be sumitted. "And it may be expected that, in accordance with the usual experience, supplementary estimates for the new year 1948-49 will later be found necessary to cover requirements that now cannot be foreseen."

The estimates show anticipated decreases in the expenditures of the veterans, reconstruction, finnance, external affairs and agriculture departments.

Increases are looked for in the resources, health, revenue, public works and transport departments and in votes for government owned enterprises.

Lower Living Costs

Mr. Abbott said the decreases "arise largely from the lower amounts required for food and cost-of-living subsidies, relief to Europe, and for the closing out and contraction of various demobilization and reconstruction activities, as well as a reduction in the number of veterans still drawing benefits, gratuities and re-establishment credits."

Major increases would be in old-age pensions and family allowances, health services to Indians, income-tax administration, survey and mapping work, road-improvement, national-park facilities for tourists, Indian education, public works, construction and improvement of airport and air services and essential reconstruction of maritime ports.

The minister said a total of $1,214,288,000 almost was "uncontrollable." This amount included family allowances, pensions, public-debt interest, veterans' war-service payments, subsidies to the provinces and government contributions to unemployment insurance.

The Defence Department would have authority to spend $252,000,000—$20,000 more than it expected to need—so that the department would not be unable to carry out essential work.

Small Increase

Despite accelerated post-war immigration, Canada's immigration bill during the 1948-49 fiscal year will be only $24,167 greater than the cost in the 12 months ending March 31. Total cost is expected to be $862,683 compared with $838,516.

The Veterans Department chopped nearly $82,000,000 off its estimated expenditures for 1948-49 as compared with the previous fiscal year. But estimates tabled as a gauge of government spending in the next 12 months showed that the department still ranked among the big three.

The Federal government's share of the cost of pensions to needy persons 70 and over is expected to be $27,200,000 higher in 1948-49 than in the current fiscal year. The pensions are expected to cost $65,000,000 compared with $37,800,000 in 1947-48.

An anticipated increase of about $37,000,000 in cash expenditures for national defence in the 1948-49 fiscal year is indicated.

Revenue Dept. Up

The Department of Revenue estimates are up $10 million, $2 million of which is accounted for by expansion of services at customs ports and outposts, presumably to take care of the increased burden of administering the Abbott-Howe restriction program.

The other big item of increased expenditure is in expansion of district offices in the taxation division, a jump of $7 million from $14.7 million to $21.8 million.

The Film Board, coming under national revenue, has shown a drop this year of $99,000 as compared with an increase last year of $777,000.

Another big saving in estimated expenditure has been in the finance department, where estimates have dropped by $27 million from $630 million to $603 million.

Hundreds Mourn Reeve McIlmoyl

Wise Investment Pays Off Double

Your J-M reporter today learned about a wise investment a friend made years ago that now pays double dividends. He said, "I had my home insulated with Johns-Manville Rock Wool and I find it saves me about 30 per cent on fuel. The money I saved has paid off the cost of insulation. So now each year's savings are clear profit. With today's fuel prices and the shortage of some fuels, I figure I'm getting double dividends."

Thousands have discovered the benefits of J-M Rock Wool Insulation. They find it not only saves fuel—it keeps out wintry draughts. And in summertime keeps your home up to 15 degrees cooler.

If you are considering insulating your home, get the facts and free folder on J-M Rock Wool from your nearest J-M dealer, or contact Johns-Manville, 199 Bay St., Toronto.

Hold Gay Party In Barber Shop

One of the most unusual birthday parties of all time was held in Peterborough Tuesday evening. Two men and a lady celebrated the event, not in a posh dining-room with white linen and gleaming silverware, but in a barber shop. And here's the payoff—the lady volunteered her age without hesitation, but the two men remained tongue-shy.

There were guests, a delicious birthday cake, and other refreshments. Everyone ate their fill and enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Curious?

The three principals were Jack Smith, Benson Avenue, Chester A. Grant, Homewood Avenue, and the lady who proved to be the centre of attraction, Gail Smith, 7, daughter of J. S. Smith, 146 Simcoe Street.

Gail, who lives over the Smith & Freeman barber shop, has been the mascot of "the gang" since she was about three years of age. By chance her birthday falls on the same day, March 9, as that of Jack Smith, co-partner and owner of the Scottish half of the Smith-Freeman business. Ches, Grant, another frequent visitor, also has a birthday on March 9.

A triple birthday celebration and a host of good will—that has the ingredients for a good party. And that's exactly what happened.

When the shop reached closing time Tuesday evening, Harold Freeman and Jack Smith decided to tidy up the premises for the big do. (They shifted a big pile of magazines from the table to a settee.)

Gaile was the belle of the party. Dressed in a pretty yellow frock, and her hair dressed into two be-ribboned braids, she "Oh-d" and "Ah-d" as the special cake with pink and white icing, containing six candles was brought in. She extinguished the blazing candles in two puffs and dived into the cake without any prompting.

As she devoured the icing — which spelled out the words: "Happy Birthday, Gail"—she announced (between bites): "I wish I had a birthday every day."

Sandwiches prepared by Mrs. Freeman and a bottle of milk left her so full she agreed when fellow-celebrant Ches Grant leaned over and said: "You are going to have a tummy-ache, little lady."

Visitors included J. S. Smith, Gail's father, Edward Pritchard, Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club, and Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Smith, Gail's mother. Everyone dipped into the sandwiches and ate huge slices of cake until the absorption point had been reached.

While Gail drank milk, the elders toasted the trio in ginger ale. (And lovely ginger ale it was, too!)

A rubber raincoat was the special gift for Gail from "the gang." The unusual party broke up when it was time for her to leave.

There was no morning report on the much-expected tummy-ache, but who can blame her for saying: "I wish I had a birthday every day."

A vast polar air mass covering western Canada and penetrating as far south as Texas, has spread eastward to cover Ontario and much of Quebec this morning. Temperatures in northern Ontario dropped to 20 below, or lower, during the night. In southern Ontario, most places held at 15 above, but lower temperatures are expected for tonight. Snow, which is falling over an area from Texas north to Wyoming and as far east as Chicago, is expected to extend slowly eastward to reach the Lake Erie region Thursday morning.

Lake Ontario and Haliburton regions — Clear and cold today and Thursday. Winds light today.

Summary for Thursday: Clear and cold.

Mining Stocks Softer On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, March 10—(CP)—Easier trends maintained in quiet trading on the Stock Exchange today with more stocks moving than in the last two days although the share volume was lighter. Mining stocks were softer but industrials and western oils were about unchanged.

Volume for the first three hours was 379,000 shares, about 15,000 less than yesterday's similar period.

Weaker golds were Aunor, Canadian Malartic, Chesterville, Eldona, Dome, Giant, Kerr Addison, La Luz, Malartic, Mylamaque, Negus, Teck Hughes and San Antonio. Down among the base metals were Sherritt, Steep Rock, East Sullivan and Osisko Noranda gained ½ at 45.

Sight Strange Sub

ATHENS, March 10 — (AP).—Constantine Rentis, Minister of Public Order, said to-day an unidentified submarine has been sighted in the North Aegean Sea. He told reporters there is no doubt the submarine is directly or indirectly helping the guerrillas. A general staff communique said 47 guerrillas were killed and 108 captured by troops in Macedonia and the Mt. Olympus area.

Indian Woman Stands Trial In Axe-Slaying of Husband

TIMMINS, March 10 (CP)—A 32-year-old Iroquois Indian woman who came to this Northern Ontario gold-mining town as a bride in the early '30s will stand trial for murder in the axe-slaying of the man who won her hand in a bushland courtship.

Mrs. Clara Irene St. Cyr, sandy-haired mother of six young children, was committed for trial after preliminary hearing yesterday before Magistrate Siegfried Atkinson.

Nervously fingering the plain gold wedding ring which Jerome St. Cyr once placed on her left hand, she heard police describe events surrounding the death of the 34-year-old laborer whose throat-slashed body was found last Friday in a darkened bedroom of the dingy tarpaper shack the family occupied.

Constable A. Guolla of the Timmins police department said he and Sgt. G. Beacock talked to Mrs. St. Cyr at the home of her brother, Art Rice, early Friday. Constable Guolla quoted her as telling him:

"I done away with my husband."

"I asked her, 'With an axe?'" continued the constable. "She said 'Yes.'"

The officers drove to the five-room shack, in which the fire in the Quebec heater had gone out. Twelve-year-old Robert St. Cyr, the couple's eldest child, met them at the door and told them:

"Daddy's asleep and I can't wake him up."

Only one light burned in the house. The officers used flashlights to search the squalid rooms. In a front bedroom, as if asleep, on a blood-stained bed lay the body.

A search of a shed at the back of the house revealed a blood-spattered axe.

Muskoka Man Electrocuted Moving House

ORILLIA, Ont., March 10. (CP) — Alexander McTaggart, 36, of Severn Bridge, Muskoka County, was electrocuted yesterday by an 8,000-volt power line. Riding on the roof of his house as it was being moved by a bulldozer, he apparently used a shovel handle to clear wires which became entangled with the chimney.

A brother, John McTaggart, who was helping move the building along Highway 11, with the aid of a bulldozer, said the victim was on the roof of the building attempting to guide it past the Hydro lines when the accident happened. When a chimney tangled with the wires, McTaggart apparently used a shovel handle to clear them. One of the lines snapped back suddenly. The shock knocked him 16 feet to the ground.

Married and the father of six children ranging in age from six months to 14 years, McTaggart had lived at Severn Bridge for several years. When the new highway was surveyed, his home was directly in its path. With a March 20 deadline for vacating the house facing him, he had recently managed to purchase another house which he was in the act of moving about a quarter-mile to a new site.

Coroner Dr. C. G. Johnstone of Gravenhurst and Provincial Constable David Adair investigated, and with Chief Lee Edwards of the Orillia Fire Department and three Orillia hydro crews attempted resuscitation by means of an inhalator and artificial respiration for six hours before hope was abandoned.

Pope Stresses Vote Importance

VATICAN CITY, March 10. — (AP).—Pope Pius, in his annual Lenten address to the Rome clergy, told them today it is their right and duty to impress upon Roman Catholics "the extraordinary importance" of Italy's elections April 18.

This is considered the Pontiff's reply to his critics in the Communist - dominated "Popular Front," who for weeks have been charging that the church is improperly and illegally intervening in politics.

The Pope's speech, the most forthright political pronouncement yet, placed his personal prestige squarely behind the efforts of Italy's cardinals, bishops and priests to mobilize Roman Catholic votes to defeat the Left in the coming parliamentary elections.

Drew Charges Ottawa Breaks Faith Again

TORONTO, March 10 (CP). — An exchange of letters with Hon. Louis St. Laurent was tabled yesterday in the Ontario Legislature by Premier Drew who described it as an example of how the federal government had "completely broken faith."

A letter to Mr. St. Laurent, then acting prime minister, on Nov. 6, 1947, asked about reports that the dominion was planning to set up a department to deal with development of resources.

Premier Drew said in the letter that such action, without prior exploration with provincial governments, would involve duplication and interference with matters which are under provincial jurisdiction.

The reply said:

"The government would not contemplate the establishment of any department the functions of which would involve entry into the constitutional field properly occupied by the province without prior arrangement with provincial governments. . . any reports which may have appeared in the press along the lines indicated in your letter are without foundation."

Premier Drew yesterday said the government had later gone ahead and set up the department without consulting the provinces.

Pitcairns Island School

SUVA, Fiji (CP). — Pitcairn Island, first settled by the mutineers of H.M.S. Bounty, is to have a prefabricated government school-house which is being assembled here prior to being shipped to the island. The teacher will make the trip with the school to teach the children of the island's 200 inhabitants.

MORE ABOUT—

Takes Life

"Neither on the day before his tragic death nor yesterday evening did Dr. Masaryk show any signs of mental depression, on the contrary, he was full of life and of his usual optimism."

No Demonstration

First reaction of the authorities was to cut off all communications from abroad, but these were restored after the official announcement.

As the news became known in Prague, the people gathered in small groups whispering to one another with sorrowful faces. However, there were no public demonstrations.

The interior ministry ordered all flags on public buildings to be flown at half-mast.

The general attitude of the people here was described by one observer as "stunned but cautious."

The people were told of the foreign minister's death in a government radio broadcast which said:

"The presidium of the government announced that in the early hours of this morning Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk voluntarily took his life, which had always been full of work for the fatherland and the nation.

Crowds gathered in the street as the news spread. Many wept.

Report Pressure

(In London, Gen. Lev Prchala, leader of a Czech movement resisting the Communist regime in Prague, said London exiles had heard that Masaryk was "under terrific pressure to bring him into line" with the Communist government.

(Informed of the reports that Masaryk had taken his own life, Prchala said: "suicide? it is possible.")

Masaryk's last public appearance was in the old town square Sunday, when he attended a combined celebration of the 98th birthday anniversary of his late father and the 30th anniversary of a battle in which Czech and Russian troops fought side by side.

Photographs taken then made him appear harassed, haggard and worried.

His body was found in the palace courtyard at about 8 a.m. It was carried away quickly. Neighbours said the lights in Masaryk's offices burned all night.

Arrest Rumored

The press section of the foreign ministers unwillingly confirmed the report of Masaryk's suicide.

Dr. Anton Chmela, head of the section, responded obscurely at first, by saying:

"He is not dead, in a certain sense,"

Then, asked directly whether or not Masaryk had ended his life, he said:

"Yes, it is true."

Masaryk, son of Thomas G. Masaryk, liberator, founder and first president of modern Czechoslovakia, became foreign minister of the Czech government-in-exile July 8, 1940. After his country was freed from the Germans in 1945 he returned there and has held the foreign affairs post since.

A non-party man, he was retained as foreign minister when the Communists took over the government on Feb. 25. There were rumors soon after that he had been imprisoned. The Communist press denied these rumors.

Suffered Bronchitis

The foreign minister, suffering from bronchitis, remained in bed during the recent government crisis and refused to see reporters

His retention in the cabinet was considered by some to be a political manoeuvre by which the Communists hoped to trade on the name of his father.

A bomb plot against Masaryk's life was foiled last September. The conspiracy failed when explosive parcels were found in the mails addressed to Masaryk and two other Czechoslovak officials.

Masaryk was considered last September as a possibility for the presidency of the United Nations Assembly sessions. He headed the Czchoslovak delegation to the assembly.

British Stunned

LONDON, March 10 — (CP). — Stunned amazement characterized the reaction in western countries today to the death of Jan Masaryk.

The British foreign office said the gay, wise-cracking diplomat was driven to suicide by Communist betrayal of Czechoslovakia.

A foreign office spokesman told a press conference:

"I can only say that nothing could more clearly demonstrate the character of recent events in that country (Czechoslovakia) and the betrayal of that country by a small minority taking its orders from abroad, than the death by his own hand of the son of the late president of Czechoslovakia. . ."

Anthony Eden, wartime foreign secretary and long a close friend of Masaryk, commented: "this is indeed a tragedy. He inherited a tradition of freedom to which he could never be false. He has now given his life in its cause. His name will always be remembered wherever free men meet. . ."

The news of Masaryk's death was received by a parliamentary labor party meeting in what was described as "an appalled silence." In parliamentary circles the same sense of shock was registered everywhere.

Soviet-U.S. Agreement Crumbling

Russian Statement Sets Off Sparks Outside UN Chamber

LAKE SUCCESS, March 10.—(AP).—The much-heralded United States-Russian agreement on Palestine partition appeared today to be crumbling.

A battle of words outside United Nations chambers yesterday spotlighted their current differences over the political future of the Holy Land. It was the sharpest split on the issue between the two powers since last November when they pushed the partition plan through the U.N. Assembly.

The core of the verbal tussle was American insistence on bringing the Arabs, bitter foes of partition, into U.N. consultations. So far the Arabs have boycotted every discussion of the scheme. The Jews accept the plan to create Jewish and Arab states by next Oct. 1.

A high Soviet source told reporters yesterday the United States appears to favor re-opening the partition plan.

"Some persons seem to be hesitant about carrying out the Assembly decision," he said tartly.

Several hours later Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate, took the unusual step of replying directly to the remarks of the spokesman.

"I regret that the Soviet spokesman has sought to pre-judge the issues before the process of consultation has gotten under way," Austin said in a special statement. Adding that was "surprised" that the Soviet delegation would authorize such remarks, Austin said:

"I can say that my government is interested in the facts and in a decision based upon them."

"Honorary Citizen"

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Eamon de Valera, showered with ticker-tape, dined and named an "honorary citizen" of his native New York, leaves today for Washington to visit President Truman at the White House. A round of ceremonies for the former prime minister of Eire ended last night with a private dinner at the residence of Francis Cardinal Spellman.

WESTERN EUROPEAN LEADERS — Beneleux (Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg) leaders and British and French diplomats are gathering at Brussels, Belgium, to formulate a Western European union, embracing politics, culture, conomics and military matters. The plans will be presented, when completed, to the British and French governments for approval. The move is being made in order to present a united front against the further spread of Communism. Shown above, are, from left to right: unidentified man; Sir George Rendel, British ambassador to Belgium; M. Fernan Van Langerhove, Belgian U.N. represenative; Belgian premier, Henri Spaak, one of the union's foremost advocates, and Count Jean Marie Francois de Rautecloque, French ambassador to Belgium.

Arena To Cost $100,000 Complete

COBOURG, Mar. 10 —(ENS)— Robert Holland, chairman of the building committee of Cobourg recreational centre, yesterday clarified a previous announcement in regard to the centre. The cost of the building, including the artificial ice, would be $100,000. While the figure of $140,000 was mentioned, it was to cover the centre when it included equipment and furnishings as a complete recreation and community building. Present plans go only so far as to finance the building and artificial ice.

"SEEDY" NUTRITION

Soldiers of Czarist Russia were given a 2½-pound bag of sunflower seeds as an iron ration.

Scouts Reorganized

BETHANY, March 19 (ENS)— Members of the Boy Scouts troop met at the home of Dr. G. M. Longfield on Monday for the purpose of re-organizing. Bert Ginn was appointed leader of the Fox Patrol and Ronald Pomeroy of the Wolf Patrol. Regular meetings will be held each Wednesday evening, with Dr. Longfield as the Scoutmaster.

Public Co-operates Saving Power

COBOURG, Mar. 10 —(ENS)— The public is co-operating quite well with the public utilities commission in the appeal to conserve electric consumption it was revealed last night by Percy Greene, manager of the utilities. Last night, dividing the town into eleven zones, the employees of the utilities surveyed the community to see how the public responded to the seven p. m. momentary shut-off that signalled the public to turn off all unnecessary lights for the rest of the night and hot water heaters for two hours.

"We found the public pretty well observing the request to save current. However we are just struggling from day to day to reach our 10% economy quota," Mr. Greene said.

Learn Minister Full-Fledged Active Scouter

Cubs and Scouts of All Saints' Anglican church held a father-and-son banquet on Thursday. About 125 dads and lads attended.

Rev. Wm. E. Kibblewhite, the new rector, was present in full Scout uniform. Fred LeBar was chairman. Also at the head table were District Scouter Geo. Siddall, A.D.C. G. Groombridge, I. Burgess, president of the local Association, Rev. Kibblewhite, District Commissioner E. J. Wolff, Scouter George Brook and Scouter Art Rose.

The sing-song was led by Mr. Kibblewhite. Chairman LeBar urged the fathers to take active part in the work of the troop and pack. Patrol Leader Calvon Johnston proposed a toast to the dads and the reply was given by Mr. Grant.

Troop Leader Bobby LeBar presented District Scouter George Siddall, for some years an active Scouter at All Saints, with a pipe as a token of esteem of the troop.

Mr. Kibblewhite was speaker of the evening He drew attention to the fact that no new discovery belonged to any one nation but was shared by all regardless of its discoverers's nationality, citing the radio, penicillin. He urged the fathers to give some part of every day to their sons.

Disctrict Commissioner Wolff congratulated the group on its present standing and said "every group looks forward to the support of the clergy, but there are few who can boast of the minister being a full fledged and active Scouter.

The Commissioner then presented George Brook with a long service medal. Scouter Brook was for some time attached to All Saints as a Scout leader, Cub leader and in Rovering. He attended the Rover moot in Scotland some years ago as one of Canada's representatives, the Mother's Auxiliary being of great assistance toward this attainment.

Leaving Peterborough some six years agb, Mr. Brook took up residence in Port Hope and was soon active in the work there, tarvelling to Cobourg every week to start the Scout movement in that town. At present there are three troops and two packs. About two years ago Scouter Brook became Commissioner for that district.

Following this presentation an appeal was made for Scout clothing and gifts for a pack and troop in England. Scouter Rose also appealed to the fathers for their support in the Scout work.

The Mothers' Auxiliary, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Morton, were responsible for the meal and were thanked in Scout style before the evening was over.

It was also the opportunity for the formation of a Rover Crew, a meeting of several old members who were present, was held with that purpose at the close of the banquet.

Ban Daylight Saving

EDMONTON, March 10—(AP). —Alberta farmers have scored a smashing victory over city slickers — daylight time will be prohibited in the province this summer. A bill sponsored by the provincial government awaits only third reading and Royal assent to become law.

Mumps Plentiful

COBOURG, Mar. 10 —(ENS)— Fifty-seven cases of communicable disease were recorded for the week ending March 6, it is reported by the headquarters here of the counties health unit. Mumps still heads the list with 34 cases of which 17 are in Port Hope, seven in Cobourg and the rest scattered through the counties. Fourteen cases of red measles were contracted in rural municipalities. Two cases of chickenpox and one of German measles along with six cases of scarlet fever completed the list.

Wm. F. Vincent 91 Years Old

PICTON, March 10 — A family dinner party was held yesterday to mark the 91st birthday of William Finley Vincent. Held at the home of his son, Clifford Vincent, RR 1, Bloomfield, the party was attended by friends and relatives, among whom were three sisters of the nonogenarian, Mrs. Byron Reynolds, Mrs. C. A. Vincent, Picton, and Mrs. S. W. Tripp, Hallowell.

This is the first birthday that William Finley Vincent has spent away from the farm where he was born, near Unionvale. He moved about a year ago when his son and family left the old Vincent homestead farm to reside one mile south of Bloomfield. Until then, the homestead property had been in the Vincent family since 1818, a matter of 130 years.

He was born at Unionvale, March 8, 1857, on the farm where his grandfather, the pioneer Jonathan Vincent, originally cleared the forest. His parents were Hiram J. Vincent and Nancy Orser. Here members of the Vincent family lived to the fifth generation, the latter being represented by George Vincent, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vincent.

He married Annie Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vincent of Norwood, Hastings County, in 1877. Mrs. Vincent died 20 years ago.

Roseneath Ships 3 Large Parcels

ROSENEATH, March 10. —(ENS).— Three large parcels containing 17 articles of men's and boys', women's and children's clothing, quilts and 39 miscellaneous artticles were shipped to the supply depot, Toronto, for European relief by the WMS of the United church the latter part of February. This report was presented at the regular meeting of the society on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. George Mouncey, supply secretary and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, who assisted with the packing. A letter acknowledging the receipt of parcels was read by Mrs. Mouncey.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell portrayed the early struggles of pioneer missionaries to China, Japan and other ections of the Orient.

Mrs. J. A. Nichol, treasurer, announced $60, the installment for the first quarter, ready for remittance to presbyterial treasurer.

The meeting was held in Mrs. Ford Derry's home and Mrs. R. C. White presided. Mrs. White was assisted in the devotions by Mrs. D. Brisbin, Mrs. A. Nill, Mrs. J. A. Nichou, Mrs. Andrew Brown and Mrs. F. Derry.

Mrs. Andrew Brown announced a short program, including a recitation by little Miss Audrey Derry, and readings by Mrs. G. Mouncey and Mrs. A. Halstead.

The April meeting will be held in Mrs. F. Lewis' home.

MUST BOOST EXPORTS

To meet financial strain and bring prosperity, Great Britain has to increase her export to about 75 per cent over pre-war level.

Declare War On Warbles In Haldimand

COBOURG, Mar. 10 — (ENS) Haldimand township has declared war on warbles, and Clerk Mackenzie Rutherford advises Ralph Banbury, county agricultural representative that Reeve Alex Stephen and the township council have agreed to distribute the necessary powder and finance it on a township basis. Not only does this method secure the needs at wholesale cost but many farmers will treat their cattle when they have the powder and instructions at hand, who would otherwise never get around to this job. Some experimental work has shown that beef cattle that are free of warbles, gain sixty pounds more on pasture in summer than those infested with this grub. It is not a difficult task but must be done at the right time, Mr. Banbury points out.

Mother Suffers Severe Burns

MANCHESTER, March 10 (CP) —Mrs. Marilla Rowe, aged 35, was rushed to Oshawa General Hospital early Tuesday afternoon suffering from extensive burns sustained when her clothing caught fire in the kitchen of an upstairs apartment here. Doctors described her condition as "extremely critical" and expressed the view that it would be almost miraculous if she survived.

The accident occurred while Mrs. Rowe, her 15 - year - old daughter, Marlene, and married sister, visiting her from New York, were in the flat which the Rowes rented from Mrs. Marjorie Williams, one mile north of Manchester.

According to Dr. G. M. Rennie, Port Perry, who ordered Mrs. Rowe rushed to hospital, her sister had shown great heroism in extinguishing the flames with a dampened blanket and had herself required treatment for extensive burns to both arms. Harvey Rowe, husband of the injured woman, was notified while at work in Toronto and proceeded immediately to Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe and their two children, Marlene, 13, and Douglas, 12, have resided in Manchester since last December. Mrs. Williams stated that they had purchased six acres of land in the vicinity with the view of opening a tourist home.

Obituary

JABEZ HALLETT

PICKERING, March 10 — Jabez Hallett, retired farmer, and resident of Canada for 60 years, died today in his 82nd year. He was a native of England and had farmed for many years in Pickering. He was a former school trustee for SS No. 1, Pickering, and was a member of the United Church. Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. C. W. Pilkey, Mrs. C. R. Hutchings, Mrs. William A. Heron and Mrs. Charles Law.

Organize Cattle Units

COBOURG, March 10—(ENS) —The cattle units for Northumberland county are shaping up in the artificial insemination campaign. The Campbellford group seems assured, it is pointed out by Agricultural Representative Ralph Banbury, but the Cobourg-Colborne area has only a little more than half the necessary signature.

Extra application forms were mailed out by Mr. Banbury. Representing Campbellford are Lindsey Anderson and Reg. Seymour, and the other group, Stanley Macklin and Douglas Hoskin.

GOLDEN WEDDING: "I have been invited to attend a friend's golden wedding reception and will be on duty at the door. What are my duties? Do I shake hands with the guests? Do I wear a hat?"

It sounds like a nice party with the friends doing the honors. As for your duties, get there 15 minutes ahead of time, then open the door for arriving guests. Wear a hat if the reception is formal. It isn't necessary to shake hands with the guests unless you know them well and they offer to shake hands with you.

MUSICAL HUSBAND: "When a note is struck on the piano, my husband, without looking at the piano, can tell what note has been struck. To me this seems remarkable. Is it?"

Your husband is one musician in 10 with absolute pitch. He is rare and well worth bragging about.

RUG CLEANING: "What with dirty weather, my family and the dog, our rugs are dirty as ditch water. Can you give me a good cleaner? Not gasoline please?"

We like a dry soap jelly for both rugs and chesterfields. First, clean the chesterfield or rug thoroughly with the vacuum cleaner; or, if you haven't a cleaner, cover the chesterfield or rug with an old sheet wrung out from warm water. Beat with a stick; remove the sheet and rinse. Repeat until all the dust is removed; a little household ammonia in the last rinse will bring out the color of the fabric. Dissolve ¾ cup soap chips in 3 or 4 cups of hot water; let the mixture cool, when it will be jellied. Put one quarter of the soap jelly into a deep bowl and whip to a thick, dry froth. Brush the suds on a small area, rubbing just enough to loosen the dirt. Remove the dirty suds with a cloth or sponge wrung dry from lukewarm water.

SHEET MUSIC: "Where can I sell a number of soprano solos, both sacred and secular, in good condition?"

Best way to get that news around is to run an ad in the daily papers.

Communism In Canada

The Dominion Government is now taking steps to bar alien Communists from entering Canada. The present Immigration Act gives ample power for such action for it specifically prohibits the entry into our country of people who "believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of Canada or of constituted law or authority, or who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate the assassination of public officials, or who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property"; also prohibited are people who are "affiliated with any organization entertaining or teaching disbelief in, or opposition to, organized government, or advocating the . . . propriety of assaulting or killing any officer . . . of the Government of Canada or any other organized government, because of its official character". These regulations are an effective net for catching Communists, and already Harry Pollitt, the leader of the Communist Party in Britain, has been told that he may not come here. The regulations will no doubt be used also to halt at the border some of the Communist labour organizers from the U.S.A. who have been driven north by the Taft-Hartley Labour Law.

* * *

Canadians of truly liberal instincts will not like or give full approval to this discrimination against Communists, for although we do not think that liberal Canadians have any use for Communists or their beliefs, they will see in such action an opening for dirty work on the part of some of our native fascists. It is too easy, because some labour leaders are Communists, to assert that all labour leaders are Communists, and to try to bar them from Canada on that account. And it is altogether too easy for democratic nations to set out on Communist witch-hunts and make themselves ridiculous, as did the U.S.A. when it investigated Communism in Hollywood. We must never forget that the path toward real freedom lies between the extremes of Left and Right; there are plenty of people in Canada who shriek against the Left because they are (perhaps without being fully aware of it) vigorous proponents of the Right. The dangerous and difficult path of the liberal means the avoidance of extremes.

* * *

Nevertheless we think that Canada took an inevitable step in barring Communists from crossing her borders. But what are we going to do about the Communists already within our borders? Today we begin a series of articles in this paper by Don Cameron which give some idea of the extent of Communist activity in Canada. It is out of the question that we should ever stamp out Communism entirely in Canada; unpopular political faiths always have adherents among the disaffected and the disgruntled and the neurotic, and Canada has her full share of such people. But there are ways of rendering Canadian Communism ineffective, and one of the best of these is the spreading of information about Communism and what it involves.

Russian Dis-Ease

Soviet Russia's expansion and hegemony is ruthlessly increasing. Two weeks ago Czechoslovakia was drawn within the Red pale; now Finland, fanatically white, is being trapped. These two nations accepted the necessity of economic co-operation and diplomatic friendliness with Communist Russia. As long as these countries had political independence their people were not disposed to be overtly hostile. Russia may now find that she will have two unmanageable countries within her fence.

The tradition of liberty is stubborn in Czechoslovakia where from Reformation times the people have violently opposed attempts to submerge them and destroy their personal freedom. Time and again they have erupted from oppressive foreign domination — the last time in 1918, when the country became independent of the old Austro-Hungarian imperialism. They will not be quiescent under the hand of Communist Russia—their twentieth century democratic ideal is too sturdy, too vital in the hearts of a people who have had but one precious generation of freedom.

The Finns will not be easy for Soviet Russia to manage, but for a different reason. They cherish a hatred of Russia more than they reverence any kind of democracy. The Finns were oppressed by Czarist Russia, and a Russian dressed up as a Commissar is still a Russian. They have always been willing to make a military alliance with any country prepared to fight Russia. That was the chief reason for Finland's being allied with Germany. Czechoslovakia and Finland, and even Poland, could become Trojan horses inside the boundaries of Soviet Russia. In times of peace they will have to be expensively and constantly policed; in times of war they would be the outposts of Russia's enemies rather than of its defences. The realistic men in the Kremlin may even yet feel that it is safer not to incorporate them into the U.S.S.R.

A Hundred Thousand Will Come

The Federal Minister of Mines and Resources who has ministerial responsibility for immigration announced in Halifax on Saturday that 100,000 immigrants will be permitted to enter Canada this year. His statement confirms the figures we gave in these columns four weeks ago and makes them official.

A hundred thousand immigrants this year is only 25,000 more than last year and far short of the expectations aroused by the Honourable James Gardiner when he said in Toronto a few weeks ago that the aim was to secure half a million immigrants annually from Britain and continental Europe. A hundred thousand is a meagre influx compared with the four hundred thousand of 1913. It is not a figure to excite apprehension or commendation because of its size. In the third year after the Great War as many people came to live here as we expect in this third year after the late war.

We think that the Government is setting its sights too low and is too willing to take the shortage of shipping as an excuse for not having a firm policy and a larger immigration. We are not tub-thumpers for unrestricted, unlimited immigration of the kind permitted between the years 1902 and 1914. It is very necessary that a thorough study of Canada's needs and potentials and of apposite European conditions be made before the Government starts to import Mr. Gardiner's millions or to embark on a grandiose scheme like that recently suggested to the British Government by Australia's Minister of Immigration. (The suggestion is that Britons migrate to Australia in millions.)

We need a policy and a Minister of Immigration so that we may have answers to question like this: Is it better to bring immigrants from Europe and let them produce their own food and clothing here by their own labours, or to keep them in Europe and have our own people produce the wheat and the boots for them either as gifts or to buy with money we have lent them?

Jackson Park Creek—An Open Sewer

The haphazard growth of Peterborough and the commercial development of the city have destroyed the natural beauty of the two streams which run through the central area—the Otonabee river and the Jackson Park creek. The Otonabee's banks are occupied for long stretches by factories and railway tracks and its waters are far from pleasant. The Jackson Park creek from the Bonner-Worth (after it leaves the Park) to Little Lake is unsightly and unsanitary.

It is too late to make this little stream a pleasant water-course through the city, though parts of its channel could be tidied up, planted with shrubs and trees and made avaiable to the public as little oases from pavement and brick. What must be done is a general purging of its litter and a purifying of its water. At present its banks are used as garbage dumps and its channel as a sewer by people who probably regard themselves as respectable citizens. Garages dump dirty oil into it; several establishments dump ashes on the banks, on the ice or in the water; residents along its course throw tin cans and all sorts of unsightly refuse in its general direction. Even if the Parks Committee or the Board of Works do not want to take any action, the city's Department of Health and its Sanitary Inspector cannot disregard this foul, disgraceful open sewer which crosses or passes under nearly all the important streets in the city. Peterborough cannot be called a clean city until Jackson Park creek is cleaned up.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW

Further Implications Of The Kinsey Report

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

LAST week I gave something of the background, intention and method of "Sexual Behaviour In The Human Male", the book which has caused so much comment as "the Kinsey Report". Today I should like to say something about its implications. A full discussion of the Report is not possible in a review of this length, for it would not do to pick out isolated facts or bits of information and present them without their context, and such a proceeding would smack of sensationalism. It will be enough, perhaps, to say that the book reverses, on statistical evidence, a great many cherished opinions about the sexual behaviour of men on this continent, and renders the word "normal", in its usually accepted meaning, quite useless in this connection. In due course Dr. Kinsey and his associates will publish a volume discussing the sexual behaviour of women from the same point of view, and the implications of the present volume will not be fully clear until that companion piece appears.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE first important implication of the book is that sexual behaviour is more varied in the individual, and varies more widely from man to man, than is popularly supposed. With this must be considered the evidence that sexual activity begins much earlier, and persists longer, than has commonly been thought. According to the evidence of the Report, a man reach his peak of virility before he is twenty—a fact for which our culture and civilization makes little allowance. It also appears to be true that virility may persist until great ages, and that impotence before the middle seventies must be attributed to psychic rather than physical causes. The importance of this evidence to lawyers and judges is plain. The legal profession and the clergy will also be interested in the evidence which the Report presents that many forms of behaviour which have at one time or another been condemned as abnormal are in fact very common—too common to permit them to be described by that word. It is a fact, of course, that virtually every form of sexual activity except intercourse for the express purpose of procreation has at some time been condemned as perverse or sinful.

❖ ❖ ❖

A DEEPLY interesting finding of the Report is that sexual behaviour varies sharply from one social level to another. The lowest group is that which has received grade school education only; the next group is that which has received all or most of a high school education; the third and highest group is that which has received university education and any further education beyond that. This division into levels arose from the findings of the Report, and was not part of its statistical apparatus from the beginning. Conduct which would be commonplace on the lowest level would not hold good for the middle level, and the conduct of the middle level would not be acceptable on the highest level. It is interesting to learn that while prostitutes are prepared to accept the type of behaviour favoured by their clients, they insist upon that which is most natural to them in their non-professional contacts. No discussion of these levels of conduct is possible here, though it may be said that the upper level is, as might be expected, more sophisticated and adventurous than the others, although it operates under restraints which are considered artificial by the middle level, and inexplicable by the lower level. A consideration of these levels — so opposed to democracy in appearance, and yet so ingrained, it seems, in the democratic world—cannot help but influence the opinions of the law and the churches, teachers and newspaper writers—everyone, in fact, who has to deal with people and weigh their actions. But it must be emphasized that the variations commonly called perversions are about equally distributed among all three levels.

❖ ❖ ❖

SOME of the lesser findings of the book are of special interest. The concept of sublimation—the diversion of sexual energy into other channels—does not fare too well in the Report, for no evidence can be found to testify to its truth, although Dr. Kinsey and his colleagues have sought for it. The popular belief that the morals of young men are greatly influenced by life in the Army or Navy is also discounted; while it is true that a uniform throws a man's behaviour into greater prominence, it does not appear to be true that it leads him to different, or greater, sexual activity than would be his normal lot in civilian life. The book strikes, also, at that cherished bogey of older people—that the young people of today are much looser in their behaviour than were the young people of a generation ago. It appears that during the past thirty years sexual behaviour has remained fairly constant in all its usual forms, despite the fact that this period has included two great wars, the "roaring 'twenties", and a great depression — surely a representative slice of human experience. Sexual behaviour remains today much what it was in our fathers' and grandfathers' time. But the object of the Kinsey Report is to show us what that behaviour really is, so that in future we may deal with actualities, rather than with guesses and wishes.

Old Fashioned?

Among the more inexplicable developments of our liquor control system is the application of a London, Ont., ladies' ready-to-wear clothing shop for a cocktail licence. It opens, however, a wide field of interesting speculation.

Perhaps the intent is that a lady who comes in ruffled may go out slightly on the bias. Or one of those brief bathing suits may look like a better buy if it is seen double. On the other hand, the lady may need a couple of quick sniffers before she feels quite confident a strapless evening gown front will stay where it's supposed to.

Or—and it's inevitable we should come to this—maybe its just that New Look getting a trifle cockeyed.—Windsor Star.

Britain's Way Vs. Marxist Doctrines

(By MELITA SPRAGGS IN THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR)

MARXIST philosophies, though unacceptable to most British people, were worked out by a philosopher who tramped the London streets and studied documents in the British Museum.

It is a fallacy to believe that Communism as preached by the Kremlin is a Russian product. It is as German as the Hitler doctrines, Sir Paul Dukes reminded the Federation of Business and Professional Women here over the week-end. Sir Paul, who served in Britain's Intelligence Service in Russia during the First World War, was speaking on "International Night" to inaugurate this week with its theme, "A Way of Life for Peace." It is important, if peace is to be preserved, that responsible people should understand the origin of the philosophy which is dividing the world by a chasm against its will, he said.

Thus, in studying the tragic circumstances on the Continent of Europe at the present time—a situation wherein East and West are being separated into two hostile camps—Sir Paul Dukes declared it is necessary to go back to the philosophy of Karl Marx. This German exile worked out his economic theories in the cafés of Soho, as he tramped up and down Tottenham Court Road, or studied manuscripts in the British Museum.

He divided the world into capitalists and toilers, like church and chapel, and many other arbitrary divisions. He omitted to mention the graduations in between. He declared a clash between bourgeoisie and proletariat was inescapable in the nature of things—peace between them was impossible. Therefore, there was only one solution—that the proletariat must rise in their millions, exterminate the bourgeoisie, and substitute a dictatorship of the proletariat. It is important to recall, Sir Paul said, that the Czarist regime fell by weight of its own incompetence. It was not overthrown by Communists.

Indeed, some of their most famous leaders read about the liberal revolution in newspaper headlines. Profiting by the consequent abolition of class and political distinctions, these followers of Karl Marx came back to Russia with the facile Marxist doctrines.

Since then, of course, the Kremlin has drastically modified the system. Only in the Department of Foreign Affairs—the one department "so crucial in the world today"—does the ideology of Karl Marx dominate, Sir Paul Dukes stated. The Marxist theory that the world is inescapably divided into two hostile camps, bourgeoisie and proletariate, which must ultimately clash, is making for divisions inimical to world peace. It was not sufficiently understood, Sir Paul felt, that Britain and Soviet Russia had little identity of interest in solving the problems of peace. No country was more popular than Russia in Britain during the war. British people paid full justice to Russia's contribution to the war effort.

However, it was a mistake to conclude that because the two countries had an identity of interest in defeating the common foe, they would have an identity of interest in solving the problems of peace. The two things must not be confused.

Britain has never accepted the Karl Marx doctrines of the inevitably of the clash between the classes.

Sir Paul Dukes referred to the careers of such women as Margaret Bondfield, Britain's first woman Minister of Labour, who had worked her way up from a poorly paid shop assistant to become the first woman Cabinet Minister.

"Britain has shown she can bring the classes together without violence," he said It will continue to abolish differences in the classes without shooting in the streets, without barricades or police dictatorship, but through understanding and common agreement

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

At that time Merodach-baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered. And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon. Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them.

Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts: behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord. (Isa. 39: 1-6.)

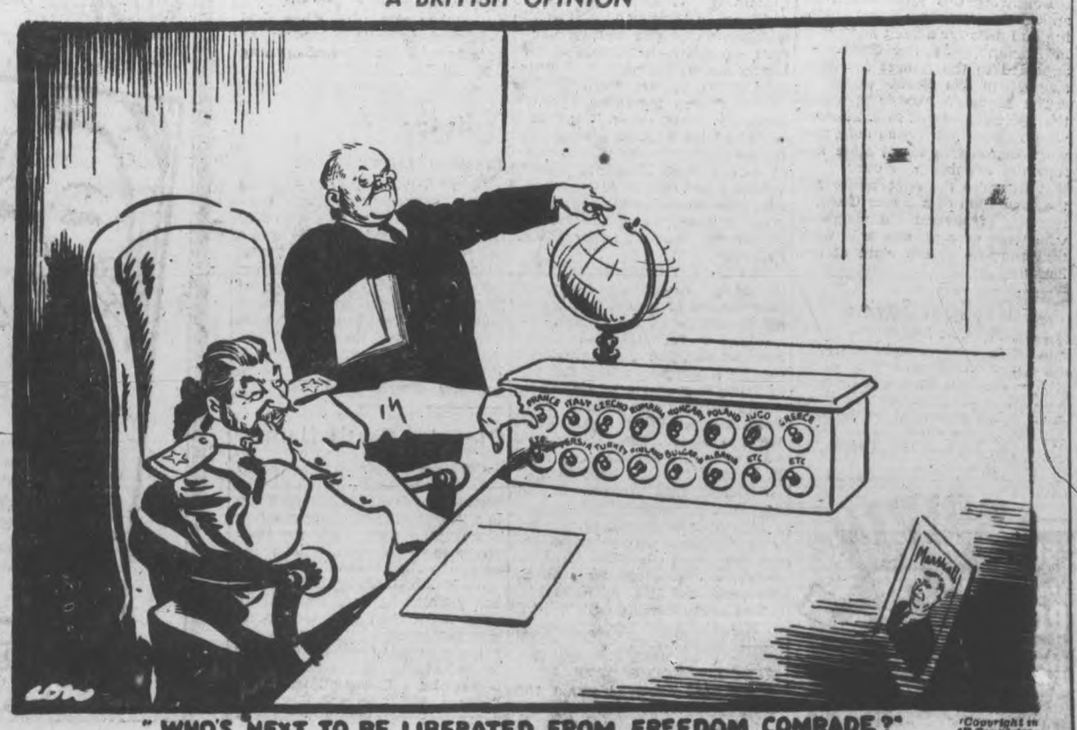
Letter To The Editor

ASKS FOR LOCAL INFORMATION

Sir: While removing a cheap print from a picture frame that used to hang in the home of my great-aunt (who died quite recently) I found an original water-colour in very good condition. It is to obtain some information about this that I am writing you.

It is titled "From Julian's Landing, Stony Lake, Peterboro, 1871" and the artist's name, in the corner of the picture, would seem to be Rev. V. Clementi. It is very definitely an amateur's painting and the perspective is not all it might be, but it impresses me as an interesting piece of Canadiana and I intend to frame it. As a further piece of information, the picture may have come from Cobourg, where my great-grandfather settled when he came to Canada.

It may interest you to know that to discover the address of your newspaper, I had to refer to your issue of December 6, 1946, on the front page of which my picture appears in the extreme lower right corner, outside edge. You see, I was a patient at the DVA Hospital then. I can never forget the kindness of Peterborough people during and after the fire.



Thanking you in anticipation,

D. S. WILSON.

128 Glen Road, Toronto 5, Ontario.

Ed. Note: The Reverend V. Clementi was rector of the Anglican Church in Lakefield in the middle years of the last century. For fifty years he was a prominent figure in Peterborough.

Won't Enter Housing Business Drew Promises Legislature

TORONTO, March 10—(CP).—The people of Ontario had assurance today that the Provincial Government does not intend to enter the housing construction business directly. Premier Drew made it clear during the Throne Speech debate in the Legislature yesterday that the provincial housing program will be designed to stimulate building of low-cast accommodation to meet the needs of the people.

As for direct entry into the business, the Premier said he does not believe it is the function of government to act as a manufacturer.

The agencies best equipped for housing construction are those who have the training and experience for it.

The premier's general statement on housing came in reply to the address by Liberal opposition leader Farquhar Oliver who said he was glad to see the government had finally got around to dealing with the housing problem, one that was listed among the 22 points in the Progressive Conservative election platform of 1943.

Raps Power Shortage

Mr. Oliver wound up an hour-long criticism of the government's legislative program by moving a throne speech amendment which would condemn the government and Hydro Electric Power Commission for "failure to provide adequate reserves of power."

This was countered in a lengthy reply by the premier who said the blame was with the previous Liberal administration which, he declared, did less for hydro development in its nine years of office than the Drew administration had accomplished in two years at the helm.

Mr. Oliver said at the outset of his speech that everything must be done within the province and dominion to protect against Communism.

Men and women in all walks of life should realize they have responsibility in citizenship and they must take these responsibilities seriously, he said. The time had come for an awakening in this country.

Mr. Oliver expressed the opinion that unions recognize their position with respect to Communism. He said he thinks they're doing a good job of eliminating the Communist element. His comments were directed at the remarks of Premier Drew last week that many trade unions were being overrun by Communism.

Anaemic Program

The Liberal leader described the government agricultural program as "anaemic" as outlined in the throne speech.

The government, he said had started its program by setting up a county committee and a commission on farming. These were "but a fifth wheel in agricultural organization." The commission had not sat for 22 months and it had never been necessary. The minister of agriculture knew as much now as he did before the commission's report."

The time, he said, has come to place more emphasis on marketing of agricultural products by developing other uses through extensive research.

Premier Drew replied that the government is looking forward to the time when it will be able to put food to industrial uses. He added that it had already gone a long way in that department, by setting up the Ontario research council to co-ordinate and stimulate research in every field in the province.

DEATH TO BACTERIA

Tests found that when penicillin was used daily in tooth powder, oral bacteria dropped from an average of 72,000 to 300 in three weeks.

Don't Want Patients

OTTAWA, March 10 — (CP). — Health Minister Martin said yesterday in the Commons he understood the government of New South Wales was holding an official inquiry into the claim by an Australian that he has found a cure for dreaded cancer. Mr. Martin read a cable from Australia in which the chairman of the investigating commission said he would "strongly recommend against patients coming here at present."

General Rate Up In Victoria

LINDSAY, March 10 (ENS)—The general tax rate for Victoria County was struck at 5.4 mills for 1948 during the March session of County Council which opened here today. Last year the general rate was 4.1 mills, according to County Clerk F. L. Weldon. Among the main reason for the increased rate, the proposed construction of a new bridge at Fenelon Falls, expected to cost the county $20,000 of the total $100,000 cost, ranks high. Mr. Weldon said this $20,000 estimate alone raises the rate almost a mill.

Other estimates which Mr. Weldon described as "unusal" include a $3,000 grant for the Provincial Plowing Match to be held here in October, an $800 grant to the Victorian County Plowmen's Association for a banquet following the match, and the rising costs of operation of the Children's Aid Society. The C.A.S. estimates a $20,000 expenditure in 1948, as compared to $15,000 in 1947. The rate for the County Home for the aged was placed at .5 mills, as compared to .3 last year. This was also due to increased operating costs.

Debating Finals

GUELPH — March 10 — (CP). — Winners of students' Canada-wide debating contests will discuss Canada's defence in the finals at the Ontario Agricultural College Friday and Saturday. Representatives of 25 universities will try to decide whether "Canada's national defence should begin at home." Judges include Dr. H. L. Leahman, Waterloo College president.

Approve Wheat Pact

OTTAWA, March 10 — (CP). — Trade Minister Howe disclosed yesterday to the Commons that the government already has indicated formal approval of the new international wheat agreement and said he believed the pact would be submitted to parliament for ratification.

NINTH ANNIVERSARY — Here is an interesting study of Pope Pius XII, as he celebrated the ninth anniversary of his pontificate at Vatican City, Rome, amid a world threatened once more by strife. The pontiff has thrown all his weight into the scales against Communism in an appeal to Catholics all over the world to combat it.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
can rob you of vigor and fun!

GIRLS with pale faces and colorless personalities—tired girls who look and act half-alive—often may blame a blood condition.

It may be a blood condition that's robbing them of fun and friends—a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron. Their red blood cells may be too pale and small to transmit full energy to every body tissue. Many women—many men and children, too—go dragging their way through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

If your energy is waning and your color is fading because of this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells to healthy color and size—to help restore your usual vigor.

Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other conditions. Always consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood! Then your energy and color can come surging back! You can begin to get some fun out of life again!

BORDERLINE ANEMIA
why it can make you
TIRED • PALE • LISTLESS

Blood that builds energy! This is how energy-building blood looks under a microscope. Here are big, plentiful red blood cells that can release vigor to all your body.

Blood in Borderline Anemia! Many have blood like this; never know it. Cells are puny, faded. Blood like this can't release the energy you need to feel and look your best.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Used to be a writer a spell back by the name of Will Shakespeare and he once wrote a play on a guy called J. Caesar. In this play, referring to a dude named Cassius, he wrote: "Yon Cassius has a lean and hungry look; he thinks too much—such men are dangerous." And it struck us that this description pretty well covers the Legion pucksis. Unlike the Petes, somewhat surfeited with hockey honors during the past decade—and perennial group winners up this way—the lean and hungry Legionnaires were thinking dangerous thoughts this season and that's why they won group honors o'er the Petes. They outfought 'em.

* * * * * *

Youth must be served, and Legion are younger than the Petes generally and as a club. Which gave them an edge in speed. But you also need a lot of fight to defeat a classy crew of veterans—spotted with several classy youngsters — like the Petes. This the Legion had in gobs. They worked themselves up into a hockey hatred—it became mutual—against their civic opponents and they fought themselves into exhaustion every playoff game. The veterans of the other club couldn't quite maintain that desperate pace. They had the savvy and the will but not that little extra push needed in a hot series. It has been fading bit by bit the past few years. Time does that to us all.

* * * * * *

Likely Some Changes

In all likelihood there will be several changes in next year's edition of the Petes. Several veterans are prepared to hang 'em up and new blood will be added. They'll be potent again, don't worry, but few hockeyists past 30 today—aside from defencemen and goalies—can step with the younger chaps. That's why Conny Smythe built a new young team last year and they won the Stanley Cup. The veterans he let go haven't done so well. Some of the older Petes are still valuable players but some are over the hill. Too bad to see the end of an era, and that sing-song on the bus coming in from Omemee on Monday eve was the last such for some fine fellows.

* * * * * *

President Ed Riley of the PHC asked us to extend the club's congratulations to Legionnaires and he added: "We wish them success in provincial playdowns." And the Petes individually congratulated Legion after the last game. No hard feelings following a heated series. Good sportsmanship. Both teams played for keeps during the games but the players of rival factions are friends again now that it's over. As a matter of fact, more bitterness cropped up between the rival fans throughout, and also between wives and girl friends of each club. 'We're glad it's over as, next to a religious or civil war, there is probably nothing to create hard feelings like two teams of the same city fighting it out against each other for a title. And so the feudin' and the fussin' is over for this year.

* * * * * *

Legion Versus Orillia

Like a nigger's left heel. 'twould be neither right nor fair if the ice went before this week-end around here. As fans will want to see how Legions do in their playdowns against Orillia. They are to play in Orillia tonight with the return game in Lindsay on Friday. Goals will count in the two-game series, as spring is rapidly approaching. Not sure at the moment if this will be rated an OHA senior "B" semi-final series, or a quarter-final, as several clubs remain in the running. Feeling of the Petes after Monday's game was that Legion, if they stay as hot as they were in group play, will be mighty tough onions for any club in the province to masticate. But they can't let down now.

* * * * * *

A trio of Industrial Hockey League tussles on Norwood ice, with the general info in elsewhere. Quakers and Nashua battled it out to a 4-all draw, Packers edged the Marines 4-3, while Westclox and the Automotive scrapped to a 3-3 tie. When the city rinks folded, these gallants had to take the rest of their schedule elsewhere, a costly procedure for a loop operating on the proverbial shoe-string. But they continue to dish up good hockey down Norwood way, and are about set for the playoffs.

Cage Playoffs Proceed

CGE colleens captured a 27-21 cage victory o'er St. Paul's in a tidy tilt last p.m. in the YWCA. More action expected there this Friday as the round-robin playoffs wear toward a finish. Towne Togs tackle Toronto DuVals in LOBA intermediate "B" playdowns tonight in Oakwood Collegiate gym, return game being here Saturday. In men's play, the winner of St. Catharines and East Yorks clash with Outboard Marines at 8.15 Saturday in the local Collegiate, first of their OABA intermediate "A" semi-finals, points to count. PCVS junior "A" chaps eliminated Oshawa 48-14 last eve in the Motor City to take district honors with the right to go into COSSA semi-finals. As they're young enough, they'll also enter OABA midget playdowns next month. Griffin led the attack with 18 points.

Electrics Take Cage Win Over St. Paul's

CGE pulled out a 27-21 Girls' Basketball League round-robin playoff victory last evening in the YWCA gym. They had a 13-11 edge in the first half and outscored St. Paul's by 14 to 10 in the last chapter. Both sides turned in some fine basketball at times and kept up a lively pace throughout as they battled hard for the hoop decision.

Play was quite even most of the route, with St. Paul's having a margin on territorial play, but not as accurate around the basket as the Electrics. They had more shot but missed more and CGE pulled ahead in the final five minutes of play to win. M. Kennedy and I. Stewart led their attack, while B. Pringle was tops in scoring for the Saints. The teams:

St. Paul's—J. Smith, B. Deyell 4, B. Pringle 8, J. Abbott 2, J. Smedmor 5, C. Raper 2, M. Beggs, N. Mason, B. Luther.

CGE—J. Meadows 4, M. Kennedy 10, T. Stewart, M. Perrin 2, I. Stewart 8, B. Stewart 3, H. Gardner, N. Shearer.

Referees — D. Burrows, E. Smith; ttimer, F. Chapman.

Last Night's Stars

By The Canadian Press

Doug Bentley, Chicago, who paced the Black Hawks to a 4-1 victory over the first-place Detroit Red Wings by scoring once and assisting in two other markers.

Emile (the Cat) Francis, Chicago goalie, who turned in a stellar netminding performance in keeping the heavy-scoring Red Wings to one goal.

PCVS Junior "A" Cagers Take District Honors Over Oshawa

PCVS Junior "A" boys' basketball team won the district COSSA junior title last evening in Oshawa and at the same time won the right to enter the COSSA semi-finals in Toronto March 19. The score was a decisive 48-14 over the Oshawa Junior "B" team, winners of the eastern junior "B" group. By eliminating all under 17 opposition in the district the PCVS team will also represent the Lakeshore district in the OABA midget tournament to be held at PCVS April 17.

As the game in Oshawa opened, PCVS quickly found the hoop and on scores by Griffin, Dinsdale, Thompson and Northcott and foul shots by Griffin and Northcott built up a 10-2 quarter time lead. Northcott added two more field goals in the second quarter. Griffin and Grafstein had one each during this eight-minute period and along with one popint free throws by Griffin, Lee and Thompson, the score had mounted to 21-4 at the half.

Lot of Fouls

The second half was a parade of foul shots, PCVS having 18, 10 of which were converted, while Oshawa had nine, four counting. Don Griffin found time to add five field goals to his total, Northcott two and Grafstein one.

Griffin was the top scorer with 18 points. Al Northcott was next with 13. Hulcio was top scorer with six points for Oshawa, but hurt his team's chances by going out of the game with five fouls.

The teams:

PCVS "A"—Griffin 18, Lee 4, Dinsdale 3, Thompson 5, Northcott 13, Grafstein 5, Sergeant—total 48.

Oshawa "B"—Hulcio 6, Coggins 2, Bak, McTavish 3, Simpkin 2, Storie, Phillips 1, Fleming, Kirby, Tippet—total 14.

Referees—Pattie and E. McIlveen.

All-Star Mat Card At Brock Tonight

Three rugged wrestling matches are expected in the Brock Arena ring tonight when six of the biggest matmen in North America tangle. The main bout, of course, holds the spotlight with Wee Willie Davis battling Earl McCready. Earl is a 240-pounder but he will be outweighed by about 30 pounds by the six-foot-six-inch Davis.

Hi Lee

In the semi-final Ben Sharpe, another near-giant, takes on the colossal Sky-Hi Lee who tips the beam at 290 odd.

To open the evening's mat earthquakes, Big Jack Moore will wrestle Dr. Ed Meske the wrestling chiropractor.

The main bout winner will be in line for further important matches.

Sweeps Feature Competition In Lasses' Loop

While Towne Togs took high pinnage this week in the Girls' Bowling League with 2945, Marines had best game of 1056. Marion Timm of the latter lasses led in single counts with 284 as Marg Selkirk of the Togs topped in triples with 702. J. Alexander of Brintons rolled 613 for the blind score of 612. There were four sweeps, Arcos over Sevenaires, Marines against Commandos, Togs over Hurricanes, and Brintons over the Dodgers. Merry Macs won 2-1 from Cardinals. The results:

ARCOS (3)—M. Thompson 606, J. Brockley 454, M. Rogers 499, E. Thompson 536, A. Patterson 594. SEVENAIRES (0)—A. Johnson 486, E. Rae 530, M. Richardson (1) 99, K. Beatty 454, A. Dixon 453, Dummy 250.

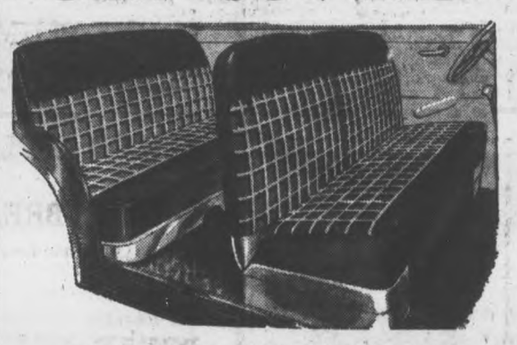
GREENBERG HANDLES THE HICKORY—Some of the Cleveland Indians gather round to watch Hank Greenberg, who continued to work out with them at Tucson, Ariz., though he has not signed a contract to play with the club, as he hits some out during a workout. Big Hank, who is one of the game's great hitters, is worth watching. He has been negotiating with Bill Veek, owner of the Tribe, to join the Indians as a player.

St. Michael's Swamp Lindsay Juniors 13-6



LINDSAY, March 10 — Toronto St. Michael's Majors handed Lindsay Junior "B's" a 13-6 shellacking here Tuesday night in a fast, thrilling exhibition game before 700 fans. The locals kept pace with the more experienced visiting club during the first two periods, but St. Mikes found their bearings in the third stanza and swamped the home club with eight goals.

Hawks Leave NHL Cellar Trounce Red Wings 4-1

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Chicago Black Hawks at last were out of the National Hockey League's cellar spot today, climbing into fifth place over the idle Montreal Canadiens on the strength of a 4-1 Hawk victory over the Detroit Red Wings. That result at Chicago last night in the only NHL game of the evening had several important repercussions. It leaves the Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs deadlocked for the league leadership and each team even in games, with only five left before the schedule ends.

It also boosted Norman (Bud) Poile of the Hawks, former Leaf, within one point of New York's Buddy O'Connor in the scoring race. Gaye Stewart and Doug Bentley of Chicago jumped into a tie for third place in the scoring race, one point back of Poile.

And it leaves Chicago and the sixth-place Montreal Canadiens still with a mathematical possibility of making the four-team Stanley Cup play-ofs. With five games left Chicago now is six points behind the fourth-place Boston Bruins, and Canadiens are seven points back.

A Uew Team

The once-despised Hawks who have been a new team since Charlie Conacher replaced Johnny Gottselig as coach at the start of the year, were ahead all the way in recording theeir first victory of the season over the Wings. Young goalie Emile Francis in fact had a shut-out until Detroit captain Syd Abel on an assist from Gord Howe got Detroit's only goal with just over a minute to go to the final bell.

Roy Conacher scored Chicago's first goal on Bentley's assist in the first period. Bentley scored off Bill Mosienko in the second, and in the final frame Stewart and Bodnar assisted, but Poile's score before Mosienko got their fourth, with another assist to Bentley.

All United States teams are in action tonight with Chicago at Detroit and New York Rangers at Boston Bruins. On Thursday the Canadian teams catch up, with Toronto Maple Leafs at Montreal Canadiens.

OHA Scoring Crown Given To Two Players

TORONTO, March 10 (CP). — After a careful re-check of referees' reports and credited Canadian Press sumamries as supplied by the teams' official scorers, the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A scoring championship has been jointly awarded to Johnny McCormack of Toronto Marlboros and Clarence Shillington of Hamilton Tigers.

Earlier, unofficial reports had McCormack winning the title by one point. The check credited Shillington with another assist to bring his official total up to McCormack's at 77 points.

This is the first time in history the crown has been held jointly, and both players have joint possession of the Robert (Moose) Ecclestone Trophy for the next 12 months.

Runner-up in the scoring race is little Ike Hildebrand of Toronto Marlboros with 66 points, and six points behind him in third spot is teammate Leo Curik with 60 points.

Johnny Blute of Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen led the league with most goals at 39, and McCormack earned the most assits at 49. Harry Psutka of the Marlboros was the "bad man" with 131 minutes spent in the penalty box, and Howie Harvey led the goalies with four shutouts.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Thousands of sport fans filed past the body of Howie Morenz as it lay in state in the Montreal Forum, scene of his greatest triumphs, 11 years ago tonight. Making a comeback at the age of 35, Howie was playing some of the best hockey of his 14-year NHL career when he broke a leg in a game Chicago and later died of a heart attack.

Cardinals Hope o Build trong Bench

ST, PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. — (AP). — Your ordinary seball manager envies the ri- who has some good ball play- on the field, but Eddie Dyer St. Louis Cardinals is envying e ones with a "strong bench." at may be a tip-off that the rds will have a beter-than-fair st string this season....Eddie asons that Brooklyn was a bet- club than St. Louis last year cause of that veteran reserve ength on the bench....."Fel- ws like Lavagetto and Vau- an can't play every day," he d, "but last year Lava- tto made two hits against us t won two close games and ughan did the same thing ce."

Following that theory, Dyer y keep Don Lang, an older yer who had a good year at lumbuus in 1947, as his utility ielder instead of the younger m Glaviano or Bernie Creger. "You don't want fine prospects the bench. You want them to y," he explains.

GEORGE LYNCH, 16-year-old Toronto miler, clipped ten seconds from the Canadian junior indoor mile time at the Eastern Canada meet in Montreal. Lynch covered the mile in 4.39.1, lapping his field.

RECORDS BROKEN—Going over the hurdles is Toronto's Kim Kimbark, at 17 the finest hurdler in Canada. Running in the open invitation 50-yard hurdles at the Eastern Canada indoor track meet in Montreal, Kimbark whipped all competition through running far out of his age group. His time for the distance was 6.7 seconds.

LONG STRIDING Gordon Haight, Hamilton, Ont., added the 500-yard junior indoor title to his records at the Eastern Canada track meet in Montreal, taking three seconds off the official indoor record. Canada's best junior athlete in 1947, Haight recently won the 1000-yard high school event against the best American collegiate middle distance men in New York.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

Heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis and Britain's Tommy Farr refought their world title bout of 11 years ago yesterday—over a late breakfast. The two fighters discussed all 15 rounds of their last ring meeting in New York, Aug. 30, 1937.

Farr, now a paunchy, prosperous Brighton hotel man, kept his date in the house in Kensington's Brompton Square where Louis and his entourage are staying during their visit to London. After breakfast, Farr accompanied Louis to the Earlscourt exhibition where Louis gives sparring exhibitions three times a day.

Leo Barbini, coach of Fort William Columbus Club junior hockey team, has been suspended for the balance of this season and for the season 1948-49, it was announced yesterday by the Thunder Bay Amateur Hockey Association. The announcement followed a playoff game in which Barbini refused to continue to play with Port Arthur West End Bruins. The interruption, resulting from a penalty handed out to a Fort William defenceman, occurred in the third period with the teams deadlocked 5-5.

Henry Cotton, captain of Britain's Ryder Cup team, will leave for the United States March 20 to compete in the masters golf tournament at Augusta, Ga., April 11. Cotton and Bobby Locke, the South African star, may team up for a series of exhibition matches in the United States after the masters tourney.

Coach Reggie Hamilton of the Kansas City Pla-mors of the United States Hockey League was forgiven yesterday and as result, charges of disturbing the peace which has been filed against him were dropped. The charges resulted from a fracas during a Feb. 21 game between Kansas City and Omaha Knights at Omaha.

Jersey Joe Walcott is using the scientific approach in training for his re-match with heavyweight champion Joe Louis, June 23. Walcott, arrived at Chicago yesterday for a four-round exhibition tonight, and said he has studied movies of his near-upset of Louis "11 or 12 times."

"The way it looks to me, I have the style to beat Louis," the 34-year-old Camden, N.J., Negro said.

Since his fight with the champ, Walcott has purchased and furnished three houses, added a Cadillac to his garage and put $3,000 in the bank "for my six kids' education."

A $2 bet brought a daily double payoff of $2,129 yesterday when two neglected outsiders galloped to victories in the first and second races at Oaklawn Park, Hot Springs, Ark. Eight persons cashed in winning double tickets on Trots Pride in the first and Magic Chief in the second.

Only Houston Huskies Sure Of Playoff Spot

By the Associated Press.

With 10 days of play left in the United States Hockey League season only one team, Houston Huskies, has a playoff berth assured. There's a two-way tie for third in both Northern and Southern Divisions to-day, with the Kansas City Pla-Mors and St. Paul Saints holding the deadlock in the North and Dallas in the South.

Dallas went into a tie with the Oilers by virtue of winning at Houston 5-3 last night. Omaha helped St. Paul by whipping the Kansas City Pla-Mors 7-3 at Omaha. The Omaha victory elevated the Knights into second place with 65 points, three less than the idle Minneapolis Millers and a single point more than Kansas City and St. Paul.

Three Tight Games In Industrial Loop

NORWOOD, March 10 (ENS)—Three Peterborough Industrial League games were played in the Norwood Arena Monday night. The first, Quaker Oats v. Nashua, ended in a tie 4-4. D. Willshaw appeared to be the only player for Quakers, along with his brother, to get anywhere near the opposition's goal, D. Willshaw netting four and H. Willshaw assisting in the last goal for Quakers in the third stanza. Marcelle and Conroy were outstanding for Nashua. The line-ups:

Quaker Oats—Goal, Hartwick; defence, Hill and Wesenberg;; centre, H. Willshaw; wings, D. Willshaw, Woodcock; alternates, Isaac, McConachie, White.

Nashua — Goal, Jolly; defence, Cournyea and Campbell;; centre, Whitnell; wings, Conroy, Byrnes; alternates, McMaster, Lester, Martell, Delahaye.

First Period
Nashua, Conroy 1:35
Quaker, D. Wilshaw 7:20
Penalty—Conroy.
Second Period

Apsley Pee Wees Win

YOUNG'S POINT, March 10 — (ENS). — Young's Point was blanked 6-0 in Apsley on Saturday by the Apsley Pee Wees. The Young's Point players were reported as outlucked on several occasions when it appeared a score was imminent. Superior skating ability in particular seemed to give the homesters a decided advantage.

After the game hot coffee and sandwiches were served. An Apsley girls' team was ready to play but there was no opposition. Mr. Hinze of Young's Point is said to be working hard to whip the boys and girls into shape so they will be contenders when next year's hockey season rolls around.

Also helping by their support and assistance in coaching the team are Messrs. Pelton, Darling and Tedford.

It is believed that Young's Point will have a rink next season which will enable it to give the teams the necessary practice.

Team lineups: Apsley—Goal, H. Wagner; defence, D. Earnshaw and J. Tucker; centre, A. Wagner; wings, T. Wilson and S. Jeff. Substitutes, S. Earnshaw, M. Young, R. Rowe, E. Spenceley.

Young's Point—Goal, T. Duane; defence, M. Townsend, and R. McIlmoyle; centre, S. McIlmoyle; wings, R. Freeburn and J. Darling. Substitutes, Keith Tedford.

BASEBALL

NEW YORK, March 10 — (AP). — Cleveland Indians will hold their last workout at Tucson, Ariz., today before embarking on an 18-day tour of the west coast. Some players will remain. Three of them — Pat Seerey, Walt Judnich and Jim Hegan will be left in care of Hank Greenberg, who is giving them hitting hints.

Washington Senators, weakest hitting club in the American League in 1947, are pinning their hopes this year on a few rookies with fat minor league batting records. The Nats are hoping that southern association graduates Al Kozar and Gil Coan can maintain their .339 and .338 pace in the big time.

Johnny Pesky, Boston Red Sox infielder, says he will be a better third baseman than he ever was a shortstop — no easy task for a player named to the American League all-star team in two of his three major league seasons. Vern Stephens will play shortstop.

Ken Trinkle, star New York Giant relief pitcher, is the lone unsigned member of the team. He became the last Giant holdout when shortstop Buddy Kerr agreed to terms yesterday.

Johnny Lindell, who became the New York Yankees' regular left fielder when Charley Keller was injured last year, is not resting on his laurels. The hero of the Yanks. World Series triumph collected three hits and drove home four runs as the Yanks won their first exhibition game this season

8-6, from Detroit yesterday.

Philadelphia Athletics claim they have installed a set of foolproof battery signals. Even if the opposition understands the system, they can't be stolen, the A's say. The system was used yesterday as the second string whipped the Varsity 2-1.

Waraw Captures First Game From Westwood

NORWOOD, March 10.—(ENS).—Warsaw were the winners in the first of their play-off finals—three out of five—with Westwood last night in Norwood arena, before a fair crowd. Doug Evans worked hard and played a good game, netting two goals in the first period. Joe Watts also did a neat core, setting up three goals. Murray Paterson and Ivan Watts also counted two each. Don Sharpe played a clean game on defence, as well as getting a goal.

Westwood promised on their play to make things more interesting, getting two goals in the last three minutes of play in the first tilt, but that was their only splurge. Warsaw kept them scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Line-up:

Warsaw—Goal, Patterson; defence, L. Lonsberry and Simpson; centre, I. Watts; wings, M. Paterson and Joe Watts; alternates, Don Sharpe, Doug Evans, S. Lonsberry, G. Payne, E. Payne.

Westwood—Goal, Renwick; defence, Shearer and B. Mortlock; centre, T. Woods; wings, B. Thompson and L. Sargent; alternates, G. Graham, Morris, Simpson, B. Warr.

Referee— 'Bud' Webb; linesman, Hartley Morrison.

Summary:

NHL President Confers With Detroit Police Again

DETROIT, March 10.—(AP).—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League held a 20-minute conference yesterday with Harry S. Toy, Detroit police commissioner, a short time after he shook the hockey world with announcement that Billy Taylor of New York Rangers had been expelled from the league and Don Gallinger of Boston Bruins indefinitely suspended.

Campbell, who is due back in Montreal today, made the announcement in Lansing, Michigan's state capital, to Governor Kim Sigler after a probe of reports of gambling on NHL games. He emphasized that no other NHL players are involved and thta no "fix" of a game was attempted by any player.

League officials said the 29-year-old Taylor is "out of organized hockey with no right of appeal." Gallinger is suspended pending further inquiries and the 23-year-old Boston player, protesting his innocence, immediately mailed an appeal to Campbell.

Why Campbell stopped yesterday for a 20-minute conference with Toy, who first furnished information connecting gambler James Tamer, convicted bank robber, with the two players was a matter of speculation. Campbell parried questions on whether he had received new information.

Weston W. Adams, president of the Bruins, expressed hope the club's third ranking scorer, would be exonerated, and said an appeal would be filed "if Gally wants it."

"But we want the facts either way," he added. "The case is not closed."

News . . . . In Brief . .

By Canadian Press

LONDON, ONT. — One of the first recorded cases of rabbit fever or tularemia in the district has been diagnosed here, city medical officer C. A. Harris said today. The rare but dangerous disease usually is transmitted to human beings through the handling of infected rabbits or other rodents, he said. The patient, a Mount Elgin, Ont., man, has been discharged from hospital and is undergoing treatment at home.

BRANTFORD — Commencing March 15, all graduate nurses on the staff of the Brantford General hospital will receive a salary increase of $7 a month, it was announced at a meeting of the board of governors yesterday. The increase also will apply to part-time graduates.

SACRAMENTO — Californians who stubbornly cling to "sun time" except in great emergencies, go on daylight saving time Sunday because of a searing drought which has caused a critical power shortage, as in southern Ontario. The added hour of daylight in the evenings will save a great deal of power.

CHICAGO—More than 100 persons fled from their apartments in a three-storey brick office-apartment building today when a bomb exploded. The explosion blasted out the door of a small printing shop and shattered more than a score of windows in nearby buildings.

NEW YORK—The "Grey Market" in steel in the United States is about to collapse, the Iron Age, metal working trade weekly, said today. "One more heavy punch will knock it out," the publication said. High premium prices obtained more than a week ago are finding few if any takers this week."

A Good Bargain.

BRANTFORD— Members of the Public Utilities Commission say they made a good bargain when they bought a 1,500-kilowatt transformer from War Assets Corporation for $1,000 with promise of immediate delivery. A new one, which would cost $15,000, would not be delivered for a year or 18 months.

TORONTO— Churches seeking strength for their tasks should enlist the energies of laymen, Dr. C. C. Stouten, executive director of the Laymen's Lutheran League of Stewardship of the United States, told a United Church Ministerial group.

PICTON—Prince Edward County's oldest citizen, Mrs. John C. Hubbs celebrated her 101st birthday. She is of United Empire Loyalist stock and has spent her entire life in this district.

KINGSTON— A symphony orchestra is being organized under sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club Some 50 musicians already have tourned out for two practices.

ST. CATHARINES — William Darling, 26, suffered a bullet wound in the chest when a revolver which he was cleaning accidentally discharged, police said. Hospital officials reported his condition is serious.

KINGSTON, Jamica— Despite police protection provided at a cost of $800 a day, patrons still refrained today from travelling on buses operated by non-strikers. Bombs, smuggled aboard the vehicles have injured two persons and a driver has been shot during the two-weeks-old drivers' and conductors' strike.

NANKING— China protested to Russia that Soviet fighter planes fired on a commercial airliner south of Manchuria Monday. The foreign office announced the protest was made through the Russian embassy after a "thorough study" of the incident.

ESSEN — Rhur miners raised 306,000 tons of coal Monday, beating by 15,000 tons the daily record established last week.

Trains Collide.

PHILADELPHIA— Two Pennsylvania railroad electric passenger trains, one inbound from Wilmington, Del., with about 200 passengers, crashed head-on near a suburban station last night and slightly injured about 18 persons.

The crash occurred a few moments after the inbound train had entered the tunnel approaching the station.

PITTSBURG— Leonard Bernstein, New York conductor, will be guest maestro of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra for seven weeks next winter. Bernstein, 29, will be one of a number of guest conductors to direct the Pittsburgh Symphony, pending appointment of a successor to Dr. Fritz Reiner, who resigned several weeks ago.

WAVING ACKNOWLEDGEMENT of joyful cheers, Barbara Ann Scott stands in gleaming black open car which swept her through mass-packed Ottawa streets yesterday when the capital pulled out all the stops in making its homecoming greeting a warm one. Flower-decked car (not the one presented by Ottawa) sweeps into Confederation Square (right) to reach reviewing stand near police station south of War Memorial.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica— Costa Rica's political truce has been extended another 24 hours to midnight tonight. Announcement of the extension came as troops and police moved into residential sections of the capital. The government and opposition have been disputing selection of a president.

HOLLYWOOD — Two gunmen invaded the home of Mario Chamlee, retired opera singer, tied him up and ransacked the house for two hours, then robbed Mrs. Chamlee and Mrs. Edward Arnold, wife of the film actor. Chamlee finally escaped and called police.

WASHINGTON — Augustus E. Giegengack, United States public printer for 13½ years, resigned, giving as his reason that he could make more than his $10,000 yearly salary elsewhere.

ZANESVILLE, O. — Kerosene from a blow torch ignited the clothing of James Stiles, 19, burned him fatally and spread to the shed in which he was working. Then a loading platform caught fire, an oil tank exploded, two freight cars on a siding were destroyed and a large building burned down.

BATAVIA, Java.—A Netherlands East Indies interim government was installed at the Governor General's palace. The Dutch-sponsored government will function until the establishment of a United States of Indonesia. The Dutch have set Jan. 1, 1949, as the tentative date for setting up a federation.

LONDON, Eng.—Britain last week drew $6,000,000 from her Canadian loan, in addition to drawing the last $100,000,000 of the United States loan. This leaves $9,000,000 still to be drawn from the Canadian loan this month, to complete the agreed drawings of $45,000,000 this quarter.

LONDON, Ont. — Police are probing a racket in building materials in London and district which is costing contractors an estimated $1,000 per month. In the last few months both city and township police have received scores of complaints of the theft of materials from partially completed homes. Several hundred houses are under construction in the district.

TORONTO.—Mayor H. E. McCallum announced that owing to voluntary curtailment in use of power, cut-offs in the city would be only 20 minutes instead of 40 minutes daily for the balance of the week.

KINGSTON. — Seven-year-old Edward Thomas Davidson, was killed when he slipped under the rear wheels of a city bus from which he had just stepped. The only son of Mrs. Howard Davidson, a widow, the child was taken to hospital by Dr. Bruce Hopkins, who was passing the scene of the accident in his car.

Food For Princess

LONDON, Eng.—Two big boxes of fancy canned food, a gift from the people of Ontario, will be delivered today or the next day to Princess Elizabeth as a token wedding present. The Ontario Government's present was a big donation of foodstuffs for distribution to needy British families. J. S. P. Armstrong, Ontario Agent-General, went to Central Hall in Westminster, to pick out 150 pounds of food for Princess Elizabeth's own larder.

TOKYO.—After 15 days of strenuous negotiations, Premier Designate Hitoshi Ashida has formed a coalition cabinet. The new cabinet comprises seven Democrats, eight Socialists and two Peoples Conservatives.

NORTH BAY.—Albert Charlebois, 24, was sentenced to one year definite and nine months indefinite in reformatory for stealing and wrecking Mayor Ced Price's car Saturday.

LONDON, Eng. — Prominent sections of the Labor party will attack the Government for failure to take a stronger line on wages, profits and prices when the annual Whitsun conference of the party opens at Scarborough, Yorkshire, May 17.

TORONTO.—Hope that a national health scheme would be announced "sooner than most people anticipate" was expressed by Hon. Paul Martin, Minister of National Health and Welfare.

MONTREAL — Vice-President Conrad Sauras of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) announced the conclusion of agreements with Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence Transportation Co. Ltd., and Shell Canadian Tankers Ltd., of Toronto providing for wage increases.

HALIFAX — Two merchant seamen were sentenced to seven days in jail after conviction by Magistrate R. E. Inglis on charges of refusing to obey a lawful command of Capt. James Kieran, master of the freighter Yarmouth County. Charges against two others were dismissed.

GERMISTON, Transvaal — One European and nine African miners were missing after a "bump" — a pressure burst followed by a land subsidence — in a Witwatersrand gold mine.

Canada Threatened cases to aggravate—with the single aim of bringing the capitalistic free-enterprise system to the state of collapse so ardently desired by the Soviet regime.

3. Storm warnings for organized labor, where amazingly effective tactics of a small minority of Communists have forced 10 out of every 44 Canadian trade union members, whether or not they approve, to follow a pro-Red leadership along a party line plotted to conform with Russian interests and foreign policy.

4. Tens of thousands of liberal-minded Canadians, largely men and women of integrity and goodwill, unsuspectingly enlisted in the revolutionary ranks through a devious network of organizations and propaganda channels openly or covertly serving the Communist international hierarchy, designed to gain support for or weaken opposition to the Red cause when its conspiratorial phase erupts into action.

Facts For First Time

The story, pieced together from innumerable and widely separated sources, will require days for telling. This newspaper intends to tell it fully and factually, without undue emotionalism, to forewarn and forearm loyal citizens who heretofore have had only vague rumors and intemperate denunciations on which to base their judgment.

This newspaper believes that a conspiracy brought into the open, where it may be seen for what it is and dealt with accordingly, is no longer to be feared.

The Windsor Star launched its investigaton into Communism in Canada in the hope of learning the answers to perhaps the most urgent questons being asked today. They are:

1. Is this country in any real danger from Communists or Communism?

2. What is Communism's actual strength in the Dominion, and at what points is it strongest?

3. Who are the leaders of Canadian Communism and what are their links with international Communism?

4. What would happen to Canada if, conceivably, a Communist revolution should be successful here?

5. What are the circumstances that enable Communism to flourish in the Dominion?

6. Is there a cure for Communism, and if so, what is it?

It was a big order. Filling it took time, travel and hard work.

Now the answers are in, and for the most part they are definite and conclusive. If here and there an unknown quantity is left over—as in the attempt to compute Communism's actual strength in Canada rather than merely count noses of visibly practicing Reds—the partial failure only emphasizes the extent to which they have made themselves more insidious by burrowing underground.

The answer to the first question is the plainest and shortest of all. In large part it has already been given.

Yes, Canada is in serious danger.

Given the opportune crisis, which they themselves may precipitate if the Soviet Union finds itself hard pressed in its cold war with the few remaining democracies—the desperation of a depression, the disorders of a wave of strikes, the confusion of a not too improbable war—the Communist fifth column will direct cunning and powerful assaults against every support of our national way of life.

Use Proven Methods

It will use techniques that have been rehearsed, tested and perfected in a long list of victim countries, of which Czechoslovakia was the most recent and Finland may be the next.

There would be swift official counter-measures, of course. The methods of surveillance, arrest and internment to which Canada had to resort during the war would be dusted off, possibly to better advantage since the exposure of the wartime Soviet spy ring at Ottawa revealed the lengths of treachery to which Communists were willing to go.

Whether such measures could put down the uprising before a disastrous inside job of sabotage had been carried out—or, indeed, could put it down at all—remains to be proved.

Last week, in a number of troubled mining towns and cities, this reporter found a little group of Communist labor manipulators from the United States in a favorable position to shatter at a single blow the peace and economic stability of the great gold fields of Northern Ontario and Northwestern Quebec.

Last week, also, the Canadian government decided to do something about it after months of talking and hesitating. The Department of Immigration was instructed to enforce existing laws against the admission to Canada of "persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the government of Canada or of constituted law and authority."

Robinson May Be Barred

Reid Robinson, eastern vice-president of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and regional director in charge of a rough-and-tumble organizing campaign among the gold miners, at the time had left Kirkland Lake, Ont., for labor meetings in the United States. The supposition was that, since there was no doubt of his Communist connections, he would not be permitted to return across the border.

Return he did, however (when and how are not entirely clear) and only last night attended a closed meeting of union members at Kirkland Lake at which a resolution was passed to the effect that "It is vitally important that our leadership be allowed to remain here."

The question of his passport is under consideration at Ottawa. Robinson indicated he would fight "attempts to smash the union by mining operators getting the government to refuse union officials border-crossing rights."

Presumably, however, in view of his unquestionable Red activities—which these articles will review in greater detail later—Robinson's departure from the Canadian scene is not far distant.

Presumably, also, the Red-dyed crew Robinson brought with him from the States, where his operations were hampered by the Taft-Hartley Law and a sordid scandal involving an effort to "borrow" $5,000 from an industrialist with which his union was negotiating, will be asked to leave Canada when their present visas expire. There are reports that this has happened in one case.

Whether such action will effectively undo the yeoman service these Red agitators already have given in the interest of the Stalin program for the advancement of globular Communism is questionable.

When they crossed the border heading northward, trailing records of past embroilments in labor warfare and plots to lure the workers of two nations into subversive camps, Robinson and his gang encountered earnest but confused opposition by the miners themselves, who had no anti-union bias but did resent the Communist infiltration into their ranks.

Nevertheless, within a surprisingly short time the "invaders" had established themselves in key positions from which they dictated the policies and actions of the unions at will, seizing such dangerous power that alarm and suspicion spread all through the northland.

Strike This Spring

It is a fact—although Robinson and his lieutenants refuse to admit it publicly—that everything is in readiness for a strike this spring that will close the mines and bring to a standstill the business life of the mining towns.

In this typically Communist blow at the welfare and security of hundreds of thousands of men, women and children, Red-led miners are to be supported by Red-led bushworkers of Communist Bruce Magnusson's Union of Lumber and Sawmill Workers.

The United States visitors did not accomplish this alone and unaided. They were welcomed by Communist LPP workers and small but active Communist minorities within the union, and received hearty co-operation in the preparation of a Red renaissance. For Canadian Communists are as enthusiastically dedicated to the proposition of total revolution and the disloyalties it entails as American Communists or those from any other land.

The only difference between Canadians and others is this: Canada can refuse to admit non-Canadian subversives and can deport those who have slipped through the gates, whereas she must keep her own.

However, the departure of Robinson et al still will leave within the IUMMSW a hard core of native and naturalized Communists and pro-Communists who have been jockeyed into key positions and schooled to varying degrees of proficiency in the technique of violence.

If these Canadian revolutionaries can carry on and operate the machinery already geared for strife—and there are good arguments for the proposition that they can—then the government's belated action will have counted for very little as far as the mining companies, their employees and all those dependent upon them are concerned.

JOINT AND MUSCLE PAINS may mean kidney trouble

A function of the kidneys is to help eliminate impurities from the system. If the kidneys grow sluggish, these impurities—in particular, excess acid—accumulate and settle, and may become a cause of pain and suffering in joints and muscles. The way to tackle the root of the trouble is to help the kidneys. They should be toned up with De Witt's Kidney and Bladder Pills—the medicine made specially for this purpose. De Witt's Pills invigorate the kidneys so that they perform their natural function properly. De Witt's Pills are a very well-tried remedy. They are sold all over the world and we have many letters from sufferers telling of relief gained, after years of suffering, through taking De Witt's Pills. They act on the kidneys quickly. Introduce Bill To Assist Deserted Wives

TORONTO, March 10.—(CP).—A bill designed to make it easier for Ontario courts to force husbands to support deserted wives and children was given first reading in the Legislature yesterday.

One of the 10 bills introduced by Attorney-General Blackwell, it will eliminate need for bringing the deserting husband back to Ontario. Instead all evidence in the case would be sent to the court nearest the husband's place of residence.

It also provides a three-month maximum sentence for a husband who fails to satisfy the court that he cannot pay the maintenance of his deserted wife or children.

A second bill will enforce maintenance orders issued against servicemen living in Ontario who have wives and families outside the province.

This applies to other jurisdictions which have reciprocal legislation, including the United Kingdom, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

An amendment to the commissioners for taking Affidavits Act provides that barristers, municipal treasurers, heads of municpal councils, reeves, deputy-reeves of all towns and controllers and aldermen may take affidavits in their respective districts.

Under an amendment to the Notaries Act, the privilege as a notary public is automatically voided for any barrister who is disbarred or any solicitor struck off the roll.

BARBARA'S HAT HAS NEW LOOK — Women spectators gasped and stared at flower decoration on Barbara Ann Scott's off-the-face white straw bonnet during triumphal procession through Ottawa streets yesterday and presentation of gold key of the city by Mayor Stanley Lewis (left). Bright red rose bobbed pertly under tiny open black parasol. Barbara Ann said it was the gift of a Toronto friend, who had asked especially that she wear it. Barbara Ann is first woman to be made a freewoman of the city. Viscount Montgomery is city's only freeman.

Ex-Convicts Need Citizens Help

LONDON, Ont., March 10 — (CP). — Joseph McCulley, Federal Deputy Minister of Penitentiaries, asserted here yesterday that greater public sympathy and support must be given ex-convicts if they are to be assimilated as law-abiding members of society.

The commissioner said every effort is being made by the Federal Government to follow the recommendations of the Archambault Commission which investigated penitentiaries, but public opinion was needed as a basis for real reform.

He told a combined service club meeting that "unless the public generally is willing to give an ex-convict a decent opportunity to re-establish himself in normal society, he has little alternative but to look for friendship among his old associates with the natural result of a too-easy return to crime."

He said courses are now being conducted for penitentiary offices to teach them how to deal with sex offenders and drug addicts, and mentioned several reforms as already accomplished.

Charge US Leading Plot To Wreck Soviet Union

MOSCOW, March 10—(AP)—Russia maintained last night that the United States is engineering a western power scheme to divide Europe and increase military strength in Germany for aggression against the Soviet Union.

In a note to the United States, Britain and France, Russia declared the western powers are trying to build up military potential in the Ruhr so as to "turn western Europe into a strategic base for American imperialism in Europe with the purpose of aggression against the U.S.S.R."

The note was made public last night. Russian officials said it was delivered Saturday. It did not say what action the government intends to take.

The note also rejected a British reply to an earlier Russian protest against a recent three-power conference in London on Germany's future. That conference, the Soviet note charged, violated the Potsdam agreement of 1945.

In addition, the Russian note contended, the major western powers are trying to liquidate the four-power Council of Foreign Ministers.

It charged the United States wants to split Europe into two camps, and "include Schismatic Western Germany in the western bloc." To this end, the western powers were paralyzing the Allied Control Council in Germany, and wanted to liquidate the Council of Foreign Ministers "in order to get rid of all constraints which might hinder the conduct of such a policy as the Council of Foreign Ministers could not agree upon."

Poster Contest Deadline Set At March 24

As part of a Canada-wide campaign to arouse interest in the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses, a national poster contest has been drawn up. To bring the matter home directly to the citizens of Peterborough, there will be a local poster contest, with prizes for the first three, and the winning one being entered in the final judging at Ottawa.

Prizes of $20 for first, $10 for second and $5 for third will be given to residents of Peterborough and surrounding district who combine the best work of art and VON theme. Emphasis is placed on the fact that first-class artists will not necessarily carry off the top awards: the theme of VON service in the community is considered the most important judging point.

Winner of the local contest will then have his entry placed in the Ottawa finals, held in the early spring, where three prizes of $50, $25 and $10 will be awarded.

Contest is open to anybody — school children, adults, amateurs and professionals. Entries should be 18" by 24" and addressed to Dick Raine, publicity chairman, VON, 240 Rubidge St., not later than Wed., March 24.

An example of what might be expected would be a VON nurse shown attending a bed-ridden patient. Original and striking themes have the best chance of succeeding.

All posters will be considered the property of the order and may be used for publicity work if they so desire.

Commenting on the contest, Mr. Raine said it was begun as a publicity measure to bring the work of the order to the attention of the public. "Everyone knows the grand work they are doing in Peterborough. It is there for both rich and poor."

Reserve Decision In Perjury Case

Judgment of Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, was reserved until March 15 in the preliminary hearing of Carl Milheron, 18, of 356 Gordon Ave., charged with perjury.

Evidence given this morning included a half-hour questioning of PC Gordon Trennam, the investigating officer in the case of Murray Nice, during which trial the alleged perjury was committed while the accused was testifying as a defence witness.

The charge alleges that Milheron "swore falsely" that he was not on a city bus involved in the Nice case. This was contrary to the evidence given at that trial by PC Trennam and the accused Nice.

The police witness repeated that he was certain that Milheron had been on the bus, stating that he had first seen him as he was leaving the bus on the night of Feb. 8. He repeated his certainty of identification under questioning of defence counsel W. J. A. Fair. There was lengthy and detailed questioning on the events on the bus and during the Nice trial. The witness agreed with Mr. Fair that the question of whether the accused in this case were on the bus or not was immaterial to the point in the Nice conviction.

James J. Flemming, JP, shorthand reporter of the magistrate's court, read shorthand notes he had taken during the Nice trial containing the alleged perjury. Mr. Fair registered objections, which were overruled, on the crown's entering of the entire transcript of the Nice trial as an exhibit and also objected to the witness reading some of the statements into the record from the transcript, and not from the shorthand notes.

Murray Nice, the accused in the original trial from which the perjury charge arose, testified that he believed that Milheron was on the bus, but stated that Milheron might not have been actually inside the vehicle. He was not sure, he said.

The defence offered no evidence.

Mr. Fair argued that the alleged perjury was not material to the Nice trial, and had no bearing on the decision there.

Magistrate Philp, in reserving judgment until the 15th, also remanded until that date a similar perjury charge against Vernon Revoy, 287 Park St.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Damage was caused cars driven by Frank Poole, Bobcaygeon and Thomas Morley, 685 Gilchrist St., when they collided at the corner of George and Perry Sts. Both received dented fenders. The hubcaps were also dented on the Poole car and the fog light broken. The grill of the Morley vehicle was damaged.

HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER

Damaged estimated at $35 was caused the car of Arnold Steele, 507 Bolivar St., when an unknown car struck it while it was parked on George street. The blow on the rear of the car, a new one, drove it into the parking meter standard, denting the front fender and perhaps throwing the wheel alignment out. The tail light was also broken.

150 Oddfellows Attend Gavel Ceremony

More than 150 Oddfellows were in attendance when a travelling gavel was presented to Kawartha Encampment No. 6, IOOF, by Madoc Lodge No. 179, on Tuesday night at Oddfellows' Hall.

With members of Madoc Lodge officiating under the direction of Dr. S. R. Beatty, Madoc, Grand Herald of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, the Degree of Friendship was conferred on ten candidates.

Present were Grattan Harris, Otonbee Lodge No. 13, DDGM of District No. 44; Reginald Guerney, Kawartha Lodge No. 6, DDGP of District No. 19; and representatives from Peterborough Lodge No. 111, Otonabee Lodge No. 13, Lakefield, Millbrook, Picton, Oakville, Georgetown and Stirling.

Visitors were welcomed by Chief Patriarch Joseph Emery, who presided, assisted by Senior Warden Harry James.

At the conclusion of the business a banquet was held in the dining hall.

Dismiss Charge Against Driver

A charge of careless driving against Vernon Dancey, 255 Princess St., was dismissed by Magistrate Philp today after the injured woman, Mrs. William Flint, 47 Park St. South, admitted that "there was little the driver could do about it."

The accident, in which Mrs. Flint received a broken leg, occurred on Jan. 24 when she was struck by Dancey while she was crossing Park St. to return to her house. She had been putting her young niece on a north-bound bus, she said, and was coming back when hit. The fall after the collision had broken her leg, she said.

She admitted to Defence Counsel W. J. A. Fair that she had not taken "proper precaution" before crossing the street.

PC's C. J. McGillen and Ernest Beatty also testified.

FISHING TACKLE APPEARS

All it needs is a brief spell of warm weather and the fisherman begins to think of his favorite sport. "Closed Shop" Clause Is Questioned

A "closed shop" clause is a new agreement between the council and the local Fire Fighters' Association is one of its details which have been referred to the finance committee for consideration April 12.

The executive committee of the council discussed the agreement this morning with Captain Garnet Brown of the fire department. It is understood that new phases of the proposed agreement have caused any hesitation of acceptance by the council. Finance committee is reported to have discussed it Monday night, and that some of the members were of the opinion that the closed shop feature was "going a little too far".

Capt. Brown remarked to the Examiner today the council need have no doubt about the clause which proposes that firemen should be members of the local union, and that after new men have passed their department probationary period they should then join the union.

"Former Chief Defields, now retired, of Windsor council, has said that when the closed shop clause went into effect in his department he was extremely dubious about how it would work out," Capt. Brown said. "His experience, however, was just the other way round. He found that it worked out on the side of efficiency in his department. One of the things the council has demanded here is that no fireman shall engage in off-shift work. He is to give his time solely to the fire department. It is said now that there are still some firemen who are doing other odd work on the side. If we had a Union rule on that point under the closed shop system, the Union could enforce it. But, we are not in that position at present. The Union can say it favors this regulation, but while it has no authority over the men it cannot do anything effective about it."

Capt. Brown said the members of the Union wanted to be as helpful as possible to Chief Smith, for the good of the Department. "There couldn't be any interference with the Chief's authority in engaging new men," Capt. Brown said. The Union as part of the Fire Fighters' Association had undertaken not to go on strike, and in any matter that might arise in which there might be some dispute it could be expected that the Union would always be reasonable, because they were concerned about maintaining the harmony that exists in the department and also in promoting efficiency, and generally having the confidence of the citizens.

GET PAID TOO?

Employees of the city works department are having no end of fun these day. With the final (?) thaw (?) now under way, they are permitted, indeed required—to paddle about playfully in the mud, opening up street sewers, clearing drainage lines. School kids would be spanked, but these lucky people casually get paid for it. More fun.—RB.

Constable Foils Break-in; Prowler Escapes

An attempted break-in on the premises of Fanning's Laundry, King St., was nipped in the bud Tuesday night near midnight when the police constable on the beat, making routine check, arrived in time to hear the attempt and frighten the world-be intruder.

PC William Scott was checking the doors at the front of the building about 11.15 p.m. when he heard the sound of breaking glass. He ran around the side of the building to the separate laundering building at the rear in time to see one man climbing over the fence there. He gave chase but was unable to see anyone on Sherbrooke St., which is on the other side of the fence.

The glass in the door to the rear building had been broken, but according to a check made this morning, nothing had been taken.

Police Question Several Boys

The "ring-leaders" and members of a gang of little thieves are now being questioned by city detectives. Acting Detective William Clarke, detailing the method of the young crimesters' operations, said that they "pulled" most of their "jobs" in the past few months in the vicinity of the public library and George St. United church. The crimes consisted mostly of petty thievery, from desks and drawers.

The gang is well-organized, he reports. A couple is detailed to stand on guard to watch that the coast is clear and warn if there is anyone nearing the spot of the crime.

Their ages range from 9 to 13 years.

$10 To Children

BETHANY, March 10 (ENS)—The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. William Phillips on Monday with Vice-president Mrs Leslie Challice in the chair. Ten dollars was voted to the Canadian Appeal for Children. A committee comprised of Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Ralph Muligan and Mrs. Pomeroy was appointed to look after the fire engine and equipment. Mrs. C. Cumimskey took charge of the program which included a reading by Mrs. Pomeroy. Mrs. Clarence Page gave a talk on "Inside Rideau Hall." Creighton Carr gave two guitar and song selections. A geography contest was conducted by Mrs. Page. Lunch was served by the hosess, assisted by Mrs. Cummiskey, Mrs. Bristow, and Mrs. Palmer. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Gervin Mulligan.

Company Heads Favorable To Secondary Rink Say City's Share Too Low

Representatives of the city's major industries gave their approval "as individuals" to the Civic Arena proposition, but did not commit their companies when they met at the invitation of the Arena Committee Tuesday night. They were shown the proposed plan of action of the committee in their drive for $140,000 and also inspected plans and drawings of several types of rinks being considered.

George Clarke, general manager of the Nashua Paper Co., noted that the objectives of the committee listed the industries for a $40,000 and the city council for $10,000. He expressed criticism of this proportion.

"The city council is not backing sport in this city," he said. "They are afraid to raise the tax rate. It is not entirely up to the manufacturers and business men. Moves like this build future citizens of the city, and for the council to put $10,000 into a $140,000 rink is a disgrace . . it is a crying shame that this city of 35,000 has no rink for the boys to play on . . I think we all agree to that."

J. E. Girven, assistant works manager of the CGE, inquired if the committee were certain the rink would pay for its own operation. It was pointed out in reply that, when the Memorial Centre is built, it will be taken up many nights by organization which have contributed and deserve its use. For this reason, the secondary rink would, it was said, become the "hockey centre" of the city.

Rent To Pros

Additional sources of revenue, Chairman Richard Ouimet stated, would be available in renting the rink to American hockey teams in the autumn months for practice work. Several groups have also expressed their interest in the formation of a Senior 'A' or Junior 'A' team here.

The committee will this week conduct a complete canvass of the 80-odd industries of the city to ascertain their views on the matter. The agreement, in principle, which the industrialists had made at the meeting, as individuals, would be of great moral support in the campaign, the committee said.

Suggested breakdown of the $140,000 objective is: Special names, $20,000; business men, $20,000; industries, $40,000; entertainment, $20,000; payroll deduction or substitute, $30,000; city council, $10,000.

Chairman Ouimet reviewed developments of the rink questions since the first step — the public meeting late in January.

The proposed administration of the rink, he said, would be to have a city-appointed manager with complete responsibility to a three-man committee of the city council. The manager would handle all aspects of the rink operation, including the canteen, which would not be let on concession.

Will Return Cash If Necessary

It was also pointed out that, in view of some opposition which had been encountered because of the delay in work on the Memorial Centre, that all contributions would be returned if building were not underway within a year. Mr. Ouimet reported that a committee check on sample factory workers of Peterborough showed strong backing for the rink, if the public could be assured of action.

He added that several contracting firms contacted had stated that, if notified by April, they could have the rink completed by the first of November.

Those present representing the larger industries were: William Kay, superintendent of Raybestos Co.; Lewis H. Ingram, vice-president, Quaker Oats; J. E. Girven, assistant works manager, CGE; H. H. Tewsley, head of product department, Canada Packers; George Clarke, general manager, Nashua Paper.

It was announced at the meeting that two members added to the building committee, headed by Alderman Hurrell Dodds, are Archibald Weir and John Russelle.

Breeders Meet

Reports of their national convention and of the shows at Toronto and Ottawa were given at the meeting of the local Chinchilla club Monday. The ribbons won by Peterborough breeders were on display. Geo. Milliken, vice-president spoke briefly of the attempt some years ago of a breeder of gray rabbits to label them Chinchilla rabbits. There was still some confusion in the public mind chiefly in the notion that the Chinchilla was a type of rabbit. He said it would be some years before its fur would be produced in large quantity. Present increase was required for breeding purposes.

Story Dietitian Is Niece Of Jas. Skinner

Miss Jean Grant, dietitian, mentioned in association with Dr. Thomas Spies in a Collier's story about miracles of medicine credited to him in his work in Alabama, is a niece of Mr. James Skinner, The Skinner home was at Woodville, near Lindsay, but Mrs. Grant, Mr. Skinner's sister, is now with her daughter in the south.

The magazine speaks of Dr. Spies as "the" authority among researchers fighting starvation throughout the world. The following paragraph suggests something of his speciality in medicine: "People given up by doctors and family have been brought to young Tom Spies who found them to be suffering from the most elementary of human ailments, starvation. They ate three meals a day but were slowly starving."

Some of the diseases he has been wresting with are anemia and pelagra, virtual blindness, and even insanity. He has rejected enticing inducements to institute his work in various countries of South America and more recently in China and India.

It is said of Dr. Tom Spies that never in his career has he accepted a fee. He and Dr. Robert Stone operate a vast research enterprise for around $150,000 a year, "which any good budget man knows would be impossible. The secret is that he infects his forty assistants with so much zeal that they ask little in salary. To some of his associates who could easily make $15,000 a year in private practice, he pays $4,000. His salaries, including his own, average $2,400 a year.

Veterans Honor Late S. Whatley

Semi-military funeral for the late Sidney Whatley, 67, who died Sunday at St. Joseph's Hospital after a short illness, was held at 3 p.m. today from the Belleghem funeral home with a large crowd in attendance. Rev. W. J. Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican Church officiated. Honorary pall-bearers were Col. J. A. Dewart, MC, ED, Lieut.-Col. G. R. Melton, ED, Col. J. R. Bolton, ED, Lieut.-Col. James Turnbull, ED, Lieut.-Col. V. M. Eastwood, MC, ED, and RSM Harold Chate. Acting pall-bearers were: RSM J. Miller, RQMS F. J. Leach, BSM C. H. Chapman, BQMS T. V. Sedgwick, Sgt. N. R. Gilders and Sgt. A. W. Jarvis.

The funeral cortege was met at the entrance of Little Lake Cemetery by a groupal parade from the Armouries, and consisted of a firing squad and Bugler BSM H. Davidson. Firing party members were BSM W. H. Pushie, Sgts. J. Parry, J. K. Brown, B. L. Smith, D. T. Jones, Gnrs. W. A. McIvor, J. H. Thompson, K. J. Dinsdale, R. R. Kennedy, A. G. Johnston, R. E. Rose and P. G. Clancy.

Mr. Whatley was what might be termed a "professional soldier," having seen military service from 1900 in England, South Africa, India and the First World War where he received war injuries that invalided him out of the service. He was always interested and active in military affairs and was instrumental, in large measure, in the establishment of the present Legion hall. He was secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association for 13 years.

Lacrosse Club Seeks Long Bowl Lease

Plan To Spend $600 Painting Arena To Preserve Investment

Request of Peterborough Lacrosse Club for a moderately long term lease of the site of Miller Bowl on Townsend St. was referred by the finance committee of the council Tuesday night to the legal committee of which Ald. Adam Sands is chairman.

Club proposals were recently reported in a letter from Ken Kingston who was joined in a deputation at Monday night's meeting by Harry Tudhope and Pete King.

Ald. Doug Miller, president of the Club, said they were planning to spend $600 on a paint job to preserve their investment of last year. They also intend to engage a coach for the summer, a University of Toronto man who has been specializing in recreational work. A considerable part of his duties would be coaching boys who wish to learn the game, and it was expected that he would be working with them every day.

Ald. Gordon Armstrong said he felt strongly that the Lacrosse Club should be supported. "We have no place for junior hockey, no public tennis courts, we got back only $34 from baseball at Riverside Park last year. We have none of the facilities for athletics that are provided in most other cities and towns. But, we have a very vigorous lacrosse club, and I'd like to see us do whatever we can for them."

The delegation emphasized the dubious position of the lacrosse executive in laying plans for a more active season than ever this year, but lacking agreement with the council for the use of the Townsend St. grounds on terms that encourage the improvements now on paper, including enlargement of the Miller Bowl to the south.

The Kingston letter had proposed a nomination rental of one dollar a year, and also suggested that the Club would vacate the lot if needed for some important purpose by the city. Mr. Kingston expressed the feeling of the executive that the council should assume the cost of any such removal within the time of the lease.

CONQUERING HERO'S RECEPTION — Even the wee sma' hours of the morning failed to dampen the enthusiasm with which the city of his birth, New York, welcomed Eamon De Valera, for 16 years the prime minister of Eire. There was a throng of dignitaries on hand to welcome Ireland's beloved "Dev" when he flew in from over the sea. Defeat in recent election gave him time for the visit, but he got a conquering hero's reception. Beside De Valera stands Frank Aiken, former minister of finance of Eire, who made the trip with him. Civil Liberty Won For Us J. A. Dewart Says

West Ward Liberals held their first meeting in the Belmont Club Rooms Monday evening.

Called for the purpose of organization, the meeting turned into one of political discussion. Opinions were expressed by George A. Macdonald who was elected Chairman of the West Ward, Dr. E. M. Crough and others, that the great need today was a well informed electorate and that the young people in particular should develop an understanding of the problems of government and a appreciation of the worth of democratic principles.

Col. J. A. Dewart in a thoughtful address pointed out that governments are merely mirrors of public opinion. To- day, he stated, the young people seem to have no anchors. They do not appreciate that personal liberty and freedom from oppression is something that was won over many years in the struggles of our forefathers. For a long time now, the generations on this continent have enjoyed this heritage. They take it for granted and do not realize that it can be readily lost.

All Leaders Enslaved

Recalling that Czechoslovakia during the two war enjoyed democracy and now after a few weeks of fast moving events, Col. Dewart said this country was dominated by communism. Already the purge has started. All members of the Civil Service, prominent figures in labour unions and those who are leaders and men and women of all stations of independent thought who will not accept communism in its entirety are being sent to concentration camps. They will be enslaved like the fifteen million in concentration camps in Russia. They will be lost forever and will be fed sufficient to sustain them and marched to their daily tasks to preform slave labour. Col. Dewart also pointed out that Russia will make a great bid for power in the elections in Italy in April. It is a struggle between Canada and United States to supply enough food between now and those elections to prove to the people that they can be saved to democracy and not be compelled by reason of their dire distress to accept communism.

Arthur H. Lewis, President of the Peterborough Provincial Liberal Association presided and both he and Arthur McClellan, President of the Federal Liberal Association, heartily approved of the expressions to continue meetings that will permit discussions on political subjects that are so important in this and every other democratic country to-day. At the conclusion of the meeting, a luncheon was served.

The President Arthur H. Lewis expressed the sympathy of the meeting at the passing of Reeve Gilbert McIlmoyl a life long liberal who had for many years been president of the Smith Township organization.

Hint Fireworks In Senate Over Chevrier

OTTAWA, March 10.—(CP).—A hint that verbal fireworks may enliven today's Senate sitting was given yesterday by Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, who lashed out at a recent rules change intended to enable cabinet ministers to introduce bills in the red chamber.

Senator Haig, contending the change is "unconstitutional," said any minister who enters the Senate will be a "stranger . . . and I'll ask that he be removed."

Senator G. P. Campbell (L-Ontario) asked: "Does the honorable leader of the Opposition intend to take exception on the floor of the House?"

"I do," said Senator Haig.

He made known his opposition when Senator Wishart Robertson, Government leader, said he proposed to ask Transport Minister Chevrier to introduce in the Senate today legislation to amend the Canada Shipping Act. This would be the first time—under rules adopted by the Senate last year—that a cabinet minister presented legislation in the Upper House.

Senator Haig said no change the Senate made in its rules could alter the British North America Act provision that no non-senator could enter the Senate without unanimous consent.

Senator J. W de B. Farris (L-British Columbia) moving second reading of a bill implementing the import restrictions announced last Nov. 17, said all types of government control are "unfortunate."

Angry Opposition Challenges Legality Of New Excise Tax

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, March 10—(CP).—The constitutionality of one of the Government's American dollar conservation measures was sharply challenged by an angry opposition in the Commons yesterday after members voted 107 to 95 to adopt the Address in Reply to the Throne Speech. Although the vote indicated majority approval of the Government's legislative program as outlined in the Throne Speech, the three Opposition parties joined as they had in the division to charge that the Government had acted as a dictatorship in announcing Nov. 18 that new 25 per cent. excise taxes would form part of the dollar-saving program.

The argument grew steadily hotter and at the adjournment, John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, was on his feet trying to raise a question of privilege while External Affairs Minister St. Laurent put through the adjournment motion.

Deputy Speaker Ross Macdonald (L-Brantford) ruled the adjournment motion unbeatable and moved from the chair. At this point Mr. St. Laurent sought to advise the Opposition parties of the program of business for tomorrow, but could not make himself heard above the din.

"If honorable members do not want to know the business, all right," he said, and left the Chamber. Cries of "Dictatorship" followed government members from the Chamber, and a half-dozen Opposition members began singing the Communistic "Internationale."

Gives Explanation

Before the scene reached its height, Finance Minister Abbott explained that in his November announcement he had said Parliament would be asked to impose "retroactive taxes." Up to now, no one was required to impose the taxes. However, the people did pay them because they knew Parliament would pass the legislation. If Parliament did not pass the legislation those who paid the taxes could obtain a refund.

This explanation did not satisfy the Opposition and they renewed their arguments on the resolution that would give legislative effect to the retroactive taxes. As a result of the last minute scene, it was not known whether study of the resolution will be resumed to-day.

One of the angriest outbursts came when Hughes Cleave (L-Halton) sought to show from the record that Mr. Bracken had stated at the start of the session that the "austerity" program was "not urgent" and that the House should open with the Throne Speech debate instead.

Couldn't Delay

Mr. Abbott said it was not correct to say the taxes were imposed without the consent of Parliament. No one had suggested that this would or could be done.

The position of "these proposed taxes" was that there had been a question as to whether the government should wait until Parliament met in December. It was decided that because of the rate at which Canada's dollar reserves were declining, action should not be delayed.

A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West) also a lawyer, said that if what Mr. Abbott had done was legal, then any Cabinet minister could set aside the statutes and "run his own show until Parliament catches up with him."

Scotland Yard Works Overtime As Unobtrusive Experts On Job

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, March 10—(CP).—Along the Thames embankment, almost in the shadow of Big Ben and directly facing the swirling river, is a small, unobtrusive green door set in a high stone wall. On the other side is Scotland Yard — a sprawling warren of buildings wherein the energies of 16,000 policemen are directed towards the capture of every type of wrong-doer.

The green door opens directly into a small room full of people who look more like detectives than detectives usually do. They are crime reporters — the flying squad of Fleet Street.

Facts To Headlines

This is the room where the facts that trickle down through the public relations officers from the big men of the Yard are turned into headlines.

In a room just above the reporters sits Scott of Scotland Yard —Sir Harold Scott, Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police. Large built, with thick black hair and merry blue eyes, he has never walked a beat, never solved a crime, yet as an organizer he is recognized as one of the best brains of the Yard.

In some of the other rooms are Deputy Commander George Rawlings—the man who is supposed to know everybody in London; Acting Superintendent Bob Fabian—the man who "never gives up"; fingerprint expert Fred Cherrill and his assistant Harold Birch.

Crime Keeps Them Busy

Unnoticed and often unrecognized, these and a score of other celebrated crook-chasers wander daily in and out of the Yard. Their working hours range from eight to 18 hours a day, depending on the current amount of crime. Of late all have been putting in overtime.

For the amount of work they do their salaries are moderate. Superintendents earn between £15 ($60) and £18 a week; Chief Inspectors from £9 to £12 10s.; Detectives from £7 to £12.

Switchboard operators, too, work hard, for anyone in London can reach the Yard in a few seconds by dialling "999" and many of the calls are trivial and unnecessary.

"We cannot afford to discourage even stupid calls," a Yard Inspector said. "The stupidest person may have something important to tell us."

June Allyson Gets Chance At New Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 10 (AP) —A clever bit of salesmanship has resulted in another co-starring picture for June Allyson and Peter Lawford.

Frank Sinatra was slated to star in musicalized remake of "The Shop Around the Corner," originally made in 1938 with Margaret Sullivan and James Stewart. When Lawford heard that Sinatra couldn't do the film, he rounded up June Allyson and Director Chuck Walters. The "Good News" Trio wired Producer Joe Pasternak in Sun Valley to hold the picture for them.

When Pasternak returned to M-G-M, the three cornered him and persuaded him to give them the movie. It is scheduled after Lawford's "Vespers In Vienna" and June's "The Three Musketeers."

Personality Parade

Jeanette Macdonald is going back to M-G-M in "A Family for Jock" with Lassie and Claude Jarman Jr. The studio was happy about her return in "Three Daring Daughters." . . .

Bob Hope has a yen to play "Private Lives" on the New York stage this summer. He'll either do that, or barnstorm the country again with a variety show . . .

Andy Russell is back in town to start his new air show. He's also talking pictures offers again, including one to portray Russ Columbo in the late singer's biography . . .

Stopped "Man"

Ralph Edwards had hoped his 'walking man" contest would run another week, since many people thought the mystery pedestrian was Babe Ruth instead of Jack Benny. The quizmaster says he has no immediate plans for another contest, but you can bet that he'll have another one before long . . .

There was a knock-down, drag-out fist fight through the Brown Derby the other night. But it didn't make the headlines because no movie figures were involved . . .

UN CHILDREN'S CONFERENCE met at Lake Success to discuss the problem of hungry children throughout the world. The meeting, which was called "The Report of Children," was organized by the United Nations Appeal for Children. Young delegataes from 26 countries including students on visit and children of United Nations delegates and staff debated. Some 400 New York Children heard the discussion.

4,987,369 Gallons Liquor Sold In '47

TORONTO, March 10.—(CP).—Gallonage sales of liquor, beer and wine through government vendors during the year ended March 31, 1947, was 4,987,369. During the same period, gallonage sales of beer through brewers' warehouses and retail stores was 37,963,901, while 1,169,434 gallons of domestic wine were sold.

This and a record net profit of $34,998,051 were shown in the report of the Ontario Liquor Control Board tabled in the Provincial Legislature yesterday.

Gross business was $155,568,068 for the 12-month period compared with $135,776,068 the previous year.

Increase in liquor sales was 13.2 per cent and beer jumped 15.4 per cent.

Kiddies Take To Books

MONTREAL (CP)—More than 35,000 books were taken out from branches of the Montreal children's library during 1947, an increase of 24 per cent over the previous years, library officials said here.

Canada's Trade Balance Better

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP). — Canada's adverse trade balance with the United States climbed to $43,000,000 during January from $39,900,000 during December, but still was down more than $10,000,000 from the January, 1947, total, official figures showed yesterday.

At its low January level, the deficit still was reflecting the government's dollar saving measures, including import prohibitions and special excise taxes, which were launched November 17 and began to show their effects in mid-December.

The January total compared with an adverse balance of $79,800,000 in November, $86,200,000 in October and $73,800,000 in September. The comparable total for last January was $55,800,000.

The adverse balance for the whole of 1947, created by Canada's growing shortage of the United States dollar with which to pay for purchases from across the border, totalled $918,100,000.

The January deficit gave no indication of the current status of Canada's United States dollar reserves, but Finance Minister Abbot told the Commons this week that the dollar stock, which had dropped to around $480,000,000 in December, now was around the $500,000,000 mark.

Reforming Prisoners

GALT, Ont. (CP)—The more attention given to the reformative approach, the greater success there will be in reduction of crime in Canada, J. Alex Edmison of Toronto, said here. Mr. Edmison has been engaged in rehabilitation of prisoners after their release.

China Grateful To Canadians

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP). — A message of appreciation for Canadian relief assistance to China has been received by the Canadian Ambassador in Nanking, T. C. Davis, from P. H. Ho, Director-General of the Chinese National Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in Shanghai, it was announced today.

The External Affairs Department made public a letter from Mr. Ho to Mr. Davis, which followed closure of CNRRA operations.

"The material contribution from your government has been a large one," the letter stated, "but of equal importance to us has been the work of the Canadian nationals who have worked shoulder to shoulder with us during the past two years . . .

"I am sure you share my satisfaction with the establishment of the trusteeship and the rehabilitation commission which will be in a position to continue the work of UNRRA and CNRRA in certain long-term projects."

Automatic record-changer for twelve 10-inch or ten 12-inch records. New Electronic Feather tone arm. Handsome Chippendale cabinet of selected walnut. Connection for FM or television-sound.

Westinghouse Model 697X "The Consort"
A truly de luxe console radio, with "Polyphonic" Reproduction. Covers standard broadcast plus expanded 25–31 metre and 41–49 metre bands. Phonograph connection and switch. Built-in antenna. Push-button tuning.

Hear Every Note, Both High and Low From Big Bassoon to Piccolo

It's hard to believe how much you've been missing until you hear Westinghouse Polyphonic Reproduction. The notes that used to get "lost" at the top and bottom of the musical scale are brought to you just as they left the broadcasting station or the recording room. So, too, are the subtle overtones that give life and color to music.

And Westinghouse "Polyphonic" gives you this full-range tonal fidelity at any volume . . . rich, full bass without blare; clear, flutelike treble without shrillness.

THE POST WAR RADIO YOU'VE WAITED FOR

"Polyphonic" is a trademark name for a new radio circuit advancement, adapted by Westinghouse from a wartime radar development and now made available for the first time to enhance the beauty and lifelike fidelity of radio and recorded music. It is one of the many advantages you'll enjoy in the new Post-War Westinghouse Radios and Radio-Phonograph Combinations.

Gossip Brings Self Poverty Not In Success Rules Listen For Business Girls

A message directed to YWCA business and professional girls, stressing "hard work" as the recipe for success in life, delivered by Miss Olga Johnston, dean of Peterborough Normal School, was the main item on world wide observance day program Tuesday evening.

Meaty "dos" and "don'ts" came under the heading of "Growing Up," 1948 theme of the occasion. "At 21 you should know where you want to go," said Miss Johnston. Self-analysis will probably indicate a change of personality to become more like one aspires to be, so she recommended changing the physical, intellectual, moral and social aspects of yourself, and said it could be done within a year.

Stability, honesty and integrity are vital points in Miss Johnson's plan. "You must have independence, and show it in quiet confidence of manner. Be able to make your own decision with finality, because you have considered the pros and cons well."

"Do you have a goal for the future?" Miss Johnston asked. For fulfillment of early plans she recommends the three s's, "system spells success." Another trio, explained in detail, were "self-reverence, self-knowledge and self-control."

"Work at the job you have as though it is to be for the rest of your life," she advised. "As a rule, success comes quickly and unexpectedly, and very often when you are making a good job of something you dislike." She also pointed out that when opportunites for advancement arise, they should be seized. "Have the courage to give up a good job for further education, and don't be afraid to leave your home town if it means something better for you."

Gossip was named by Miss Johnston as the besetting sin of women, followed closely by jealousy and both are to be strictly abhorred for successful living. "Look for goodness and gladness in people, and remember you, yourself become the poorer from deprecating remarks about others." Quotes from famous authors emphasized importance of guarding against these faults.

Some other admonishments were to build up character on dependability and show love for your fellow citizens. "Don't let anyone make you inferior," she said, pointing out that all have an equal chance to be decent and respectable and make the most of their talents. She urged the girls to belong to worthwhile organizations such as the YWCA and to affiliate with some church and give energy to its work.

In thanking Miss Johnston, Miss Lena Dewart said the address had fired listeners with zeal for improvement as they mature gradually. Introduction of the speaker, who is vice-president of the YWCA Board of Directors, and sponsor of '38 Club, was made by Miss Flora Metcalfe.

Blush Satin, Sweeping Train Worn By Ruth Jean White

In Mark St. United Church, Saturday, a pretty setting was created with daffodils, roses and fern, for the marriage of Ruth Jean White to Mr. Wilbert Howson, performed by Rev. A. M. Partridge. The bride is a daughter of Mr. F. T. White, and the groom a son of Mrs. Howson and the late Mr. C. Howson. During the ceremony, Mr. Gerald Routly sang "Through the Years" and "O Perfect Love." Mrs. Cecil Searles was at the organ.

The bride's gown was of blush satin made with a full skirt and sweeping train. In keeping with the new fashion a slip of the same material finished with rose buttons showed at the front where the overskirt was drawn up. The fitted bodice had a high neckline and was fastened at the back with buttons to the waistline. Sleeves were leg-of-mutton style. Her veil of French net fell from a headdress that was trimmed with matching rosebuds and she carried a cascade of Bettertime roses. Mr. White gave his daughter in marriage.

Attending her sister was Mrs. A. Cumming, matron of honor, wearing blue silk jersey in a floor length gown with shoulder veil of pink net caught to a bandeau of pink roses and white snapdragon, the latter repeated in her ring bouquet of Briarcliff roses. Mr. Fred Howson was groomsman for his brother and ushers were Mr. Fred White and Mr. Howard Howson, brothers of the bride and groom.

Following a reception in the lowec hall of the church, Mr. and Mrs. Howson left on a motor trip to Toronto and Ottawa. For travelling the bride chose a gray gabardine suit with matching hat and handbag, and a black shortie coat, and her corsage was of pink roses. They will reside at 23 Edgewater Blvd.

Special Services To Mark 30th Anniversary

St. James W.M.S. Auxiliary met in Wesley Hall, Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. E. Johnston in the chair. Mrs. H. Doig opened the service with music while the president welcomed new members, Mrs. W. Prest and Mrs. Allen.

In the business period a special request was made for clothing for the suffering Eurpoean countries. It was decided to observe the thirtieth anniversary of the auxiliary with special services on May 19 and to hold WMS Sunday service on April 11. Details will be arranged later for both services.

Department secretaries gave fine reports of their work. Mrs. George Rowe reporting for community friendship told of visits to the sick and cards and letters sent.

Mrs. W. K. Sloane gave data on temperance work. Mrs. F. W. Craik told a true story of 'giving' in connetcion with her department, Christian stewardship.

The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. R. B. English, treasurer.

Miss M. Bowers and her group, Mesdames Peel, Dinsdale, Sloane and E. M. Davis took over the program. Their theme was "The field is the world" and "The seed is the word."

Mrs. Dinsdale read the story of the power from scriptures. Mrs. Davis led in prayer and Mrs. C. Dorrington gave an Easter message in song.

Study for the month was in charge of Miss Bowers who gave the story of the Bible in the Hawaiian and Gilbert Islands.

Study Conditions In Rural Canada

Afternoon Branch of St. John's W. A. held a devotional and business meeting Tuesday in the Parish Hall. Mrs. H. C. Sootheran, president, in the chair.

In absence of the rector, devotional period was conducted by the president, and mission study period by Mrs. H. A. Craig. The latter presented a very comprehensive study of church conditions in the vast rural arreas of Northern and Western Canada. She dealt largely with the need of "taking the Church to the people" and stressed the importance and success of sharing an established Church building with other denominations.

Each convener presented favourable reports and routine business consisted of discussion on ways and means—and the appointment of representatives to the "C. W. A." meeting to make plans for the re-organization of the "Church Year". Those appointed were Mrs. Sootheran and Mrs. L. Mills.

Following the adjournmeat tea was served, hostesses being Mrs. W. P. Robertson and Mrs. F. D. Kerr.

Pleasing Program Held at Y.W.C.A.

Groups were meeting in YWCA's throughout the world Tuesday for the annual World-Wide Observance Day of business and professional girls. The theme "Growing Up" was emphasized on the program of Peterborough YW with a quotation from "Alice In Wonderland." "Would you tell me please which way I ought to go from here," and an address by Miss Olga Johnston pointed the way.

Chairman for the program was Roma Brindle. Opening worship service was led by Miss Hilda Northey. Piano solos by Miss Gladys Coit, showing exceptional talent, entertained delightfully.

"Now we're 21" was the title of a skit by T 'N' T Club members. Miss Donna White took the leading role, supported by Misses Mary Scollard, Barbara Carter, Lois Heffernan, Audrey Metheral, Sonya Bissette, Zella Bush and Helen Hall, Miss Hilda Thurston, leader, read the introduction.

Songs were led by Miss Hazel Wilson with Mrs. Muriel Hawkey accompanying at the piano. Miss Marion Pound organized discussion groups giving each a list of pertinent questions for consideration, while refreshments were served. Members of '38 Club serving were Miss Ailwen Jones, Lena Dewart, Hazel Wilson, Marion Pound, Aileen Patton, Maxine Elliott and Selena Buck.

Announcement was made of the rummage sale to be held Saturday, March 20, in the YWCA with proceeds to be used for delegates to conventions. Articles for sale will be appreciated and volunteer assistants are needed.

Cavan News

Of Interest to Women

Should Mother of 3 Wed? Well First Warn Suitor

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a mother of three girls, aged 9, 7 and 3. I divorced my husband two years ago because he was such a drunkard. I am 32 years old and a man 28 years old wishes to marry me. He is a hard-working man, thrifty, makes good money, and says he is willing to support my children and me. We are very congenial in our tastes.

Dorothy Dix

But what puzzles me is that I am older than he is and have had ten years of married life, while he has never been married before. What do you think are the chances of success of such a marriage?

MAGGIE.

ANSWER: The difference in your ages does not matter at all, but how a young father will react to having three children wished on him as a bridal present, is something to give you pause and make you do a lot of serious thinking.

As you know from experience, children are an expensive luxury, what with their board and keep and their clothes and their schooling and their doctor's bills. Also, they are noisy and quarrelsome and very disturbing to the peace of all of those who are unaccustomed to them.

Warn Suitor

So I think that you should in all honesty warn your suitor of what a handicap he will be shouldering if he marries you. Also, let him spend a day or two with the youngsters so he will get some idea of whether he can stand their racket or not. If he loves children, well and good; but if he is allergic to them, it is a bad bet for you to put yourself in a position where you will always be compelled to be refereeing the fights between your husband and children.

Your ten years of experience of married life should certainly have fitted you for getting along with a husband. So go to it if the young man is willing to risk the kids.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband frequently comes home with lipstick on his shirt, and your callous comment is: "Why don't men send their shirts to the laundry?" Are men indeed the weaker sex, and should we wives school ourselves to the fact that we should overlook infidelity in them? I am trying to keep an open mind on the subject.

MRS. A. D.

ANSWER: My comment on the lipstick and the laundry was intended as a mere pleasantry, but with this grain of truth behind it—that the least that a husband can do who comes home branded with some other woman's lipstick is to send his shirt to the laundry and not expect his wife to wash it.

But, all jesting aside, a little lipstick is not necessarily evidence of a husband's unfaithfulness. So many women pile the red grease so thickly on their mouths that you can't get in speaking distance of them without being smeared with it. And, anyway, the easiest way to break your husband of the lipstick habit is to send his shirts to the laundry. By the time he pays the laundry bill and finds he hasn't a clean shirt to his name he will be more careful.

There is something to think about in the old story of the wife who trusted her husband so completely that she said if she even saw him philandering with another woman, she wouldn't believe it. She would know it was her lying eyes.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Should a baby shower be given, before the baby arrives or afterwards. My husband says the shower should be given afterwards, because it has to do with the color of the gifts. You couldn't give a boy baby a pink present nor a girl a blue one. Does color matter? Please help me.

J. D.

ANSWER: Of course it doesn't except to the Mamas who are pernickety about such matters. Blue for boys. Pink for girls. Showers are given before the baby is born.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, March 11

A false move, an urge to squander, "show off," or other act of excess, enthusiasm, extravagance or miscalculation, could combine to thwart and undermine excellent prospects. All avenues for error, bad judgment, wayward indulgence or misplaced confidence, overshooting the mark in the hopes of spectacular gains or notoriety, should be rigidly squelched. Health, home and personal popularity as well as funds are menaced.

For the Birthday

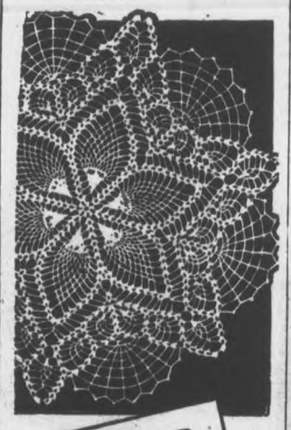
Those whose birthday it is are admonished to start out with a plan of conservation and restraint if they would avoid tactics and errors likely to undermine cherished goals. Under an impulse to overact, to plunge, to shine "in a big way" before the public, family, or in social or financial circles, a mighty and fruitless crash would be invited which could demolish credit, security, prestige and bring reactions on health and happiness. Suppress profligate and bombastic tendencies, over-generosity. Make no loans or speculations.

A child born on this day may have high hopes and aspirations, but these are endangered by its exaggerated sense of values and importance, its prodigality or lack of thrift and restraints.

Rev. C. G. Boyd Speaks to WMS

Highlight of the Tuesday afternoon meeting of George Street Church WMS, held in the board room, was a Lenten message from Rev. C. G. Boyd. He spoke of the gateways through which mortals must pass, "Christian Pessimism" and "Christian Despair," and contrasted God's world with man's world. He left a challenge with members to pass through the narrow gate and asked "Do you deny yourselves things for Lent, or do you deny yourself?"

Guest soloist for the occasion was Mrs. Ross Moore who sang two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. L. McNeil at the piano.



Appreciation to the guests was expressed by Mrs. V. Boorman.

Mrs. E. H. Brown, vice president, opened the meeting with prayer, and Mrs E. A. Stinson offered prayer for the bereaved of the congregation. Mrs. H. Girven reported 108 calls made in homes and 65 in hospitals. A number of cards have been sent out.

Worship service was led by Mrs. R. Reynolds, leader of Group 8. Scripture was read by Mrs. F. Burnham and Mrs. V. Boorman led in prayer. An article on temperance was read by Mrs. Burnham. Christian stewardship secretary Mrs. P. M. McCarrell gave an interesting talk on "The Stewardship of our talents and abilities."

Taking as her theme, "Attempt great things for God and expect great things of God," Mrs. R. Powel interpreted the study book in a pleasing manner.

Candidate for oblivion?
It has been estimated that there are probably less than 1,000 Trumpeter Swans in the whole of North America. Every remaining pair of these beautiful birds is vitally important to the continued existence of the species, and the protective legislation which has been enacted on their behalf must be carefully observed in order to save these birds from total extinction. More detailed information concerning this and other elements of our natural resources, and full-color reprints of our wildlife pictures, without advertising, are available free by writing to The Carling Conservation Club, Dept. D., Waterloo, Ontario.
In 1813, Audubon carefully estimated that he saw over a billion Passenger Pigeons in one day. Today there are none. This same fate may overtake the Trumpeter Swan unless great care is taken in conserving the meagre supply which still exists.

Britain Forced To Raise Exports

By The Canadian Press

The British government's economic survey, made public yesterday, once again emphasized how vitally necessary it is for that nation to continue increasing exports to maintain even her present living standards.

Post-war purchases in Canada of essential foodstuffs have been made largely on the basis of a Canadian loan of $1,250,000,000 which now is almost exhausted.

Important foreign markets for Britain are becoming saturated with goods and the 1948 export target has been reduced, but an all-out drive is to be launched to increase exports to Canada to pay for the large quantities of food purchased here.

Last year's sales by Britain to Canada, about £40,000,000 ($160,000,000) are expected to increase to £70,000,000 in 1948.

Canada, also faced with the problem of disappearing United States dollars, must look to sources outside the U.S. for the things she is not yet producing herself. There is ample evidence that Britain does produce the things Canada needs.

Although the situation looks "ready-made" for both countries, there is the complaint by Canadian importers that British prices are too high.

Mrs. McKee Asks Child's Custody

TORONTO, March 10 — (CP). — The six-year-old legal fight for custody of seven-year-old Terry McKee may have entered its final phase yesterday.

Mrs. Evelyn McKee, mother of the boy, asked the appeal court of Ontario to set aside a judgment of Mr. Justice Dalton Wells of the Supreme Court giving Mark T. McKee, wealthy airlines executive, custody of the child.

Mrs. McKee's counsel contended a 1945 judgment of a California court awarded her full custody of Terry.

The appeal said McKee then brought the child to Ontario "and Mrs. McKee did not know where he was until February, 1947.

She came directly to Kitchener and started proceedings for custody of the child brought here by the father."

The couple were divorced in 1942.

'R. I. Ferguson, counsel for Mrs. McKee, asserted Mr. Justice Wells treated the custody application "as though the child were domiciled in Ontario — he was kidnapped and brought here by his father."

A Los Angeles court gave Mr. McKee full custody of the boy with the provision that the mother have the right to access to h three months in every year.

CANADA'S SHARE

Canada's share of the cost of the proposed development of the St. Lawrence River as a seaway is estimated at about $82,954,000.

Restored As Tourist Attraction Historic Fort To Be Re-opened

KINGSTON, Ont., March 19 (CP). — Historic Fort Henry, used during the war as a prisoner-of-war camp, will be re-opened stairways had to be removed. Damage to installations was widespread. Doors were smashed in, to the public, May 24. At least, that's the hope of Ronald Way, fort historian, who is supervising work of repair and reconstruction now going on at full speed.

A few days after the department of national defence turned the Fort over to the highways department last December, a crew of some 50 repairmen, carpenters and metal-workers swung into action. The job that faced them was not easy.

Temporary buildings were clustered in the huge inner quadrangle of the Fort. They all had to go. Barbed wire that lined the rampart and other walls and stairways had to be removed in, every pane of glass was broken, electric fixtures had been ripped apart and nearly all the bulbs broken.

Meanwhile, refurbishing and rehabilitation of the curios, antiques and period pieces that graced the ancient structure before they were stored away for the war years, is also going forward. To accomplish this, a workshop has been set up in an old storeroom. In this cavernous room sounds the alien hum of electric saws, burnishers and drills. Some eight men, employees of the department of highways, are working on the old equipment as well as building new articles to replace those destroyed or damaged beyond repair.

Built originallly to keep Americans off Canadian soil. Following the war of 1812, the the Fort was restored in 1938--and is being re-restored now--with exactly the opposite purpose in view.

Cost $875,000

The first restoration took two years to complete, at an expenditure of about $875,000. In the years since the Fort held a regular garrison--forty years before--the walls had caved in and the ditches were filled with rubble and rock.

Restoration was first begun in July, 1936, under the direction of Mr. Way and the sponsorship of the department of highways. Guns were reassembled (through not to operating efficiency); walls were repaired; electric lighting was installed; collections of musketry, swords, uniforms, naval goods retrieved from English warships sunk at nearly Cedar Island and other mementoes, were set up in various rooms.

Whole idea behind the restoration was to achieve an illusion of walking directly into the world as it was 100 years ago. To this end, a fortress guard establishment was set up. Clad in resplendent scarlet uniforms of the period, the guards stood watch at the gates and guided visitors. In the 13 months the Fort was open before the outbreak of the Second World War it was visited by 93,000 persons.

Of great interest to visitors is its significant position--guarding Navy Bay and Point Frederick, where vital naval yards had been established. The Fort was to be one of a system of six redoubts that would make the ship-building establishment secure from American attack. The other forts were never erected--the British taxpayers, who were footing the bill, decided they had paid enough for construction of the Rideau Canal system and Fort Henry.

Kitchen Science Sheds Light on New Economy Meals

By Ruth Parsons

How to s-t-r-e-t-c-h that food dollar so that, despite rising costs, your family can still have meat with their meals! That's the man-size problem facing most women today. And so Heinz experts have been busy working with inexpensive meats . . . finding new ways of making these poor relations to the tender, choicer cuts, sing with a flavour-delight all their own. Now they advise that Heinz 57 Sauce, Heinz Worcestershire Sauce, and Heinz Mustard can work wonders with these cheaper meats . . . add a savoury goodness that will put them high on the list of family favourites. Here's a combination of beans and meat that for very little cost will make 4 to 5 people very happy:

WESTERN BAKED BEANS

½ lb. minced round steak or leftover meat loaf
½ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon fat
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
½ cup Heinz Tomato Ketchup
1 tablespoon Heinz Cider Vinegar
1 teaspoon Heinz Worcestershire Sauce
1 tablespoon Heinz Prepared Yellow Mustard
1 15-oz. tin Heinz Oven-Baked Beans in Tomato Sauce

Brown steak and onion in fat. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Pour into a casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 40 minutes or until heathed through. Serves 4 to 5.

Heinz Prepared Mustard

Three New Recipes for Low-Cost meals...

Even economy meals should have appetite-appeal. That's why wise housewives rely on three flavour-aids—Heinz 57 Sauce, Heinz Worcestershire Sauce and Heinz Mustard—to pep-up plain dishes. Try the recipes below—they help you to serve economical meals that are wholesome, nourishing and will appeal to the whole family.

QUICK CHILI CON CARNE

½ lb. minced, lean beef
1 medium onion, sliced
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
1 10-oz. can Heinz Condensed Cream of Tomato Soup, undiluted
½ cup water
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 tablespoon Heinz Prepared Yellow Mustard
1 tablespoon Heinz 57 Sauce
1 tablespoon Heinz Sour Pickles
2 tablespoons finely chopped Heinz Oven-Baked Beans in Tomato Sauce
1 20-oz. can Heinz Oven-Baked Beans in Tomato Sauce

Brown beef and onion lightly in fat. Add remaining ingredients, cover, and simmer 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add beans and heat thoroughly. Serves 6.

SPAGHETTI RAREBIT

1 cup medium-thick white sauce
1 tablespoon Heinz Prepared Yellow Mustard
1 teaspoon Heinz Worcestershire Sauce
1 20-oz. tin Heinz Spaghetti
1 cup shredded sharp cheese

Prepare the medium-thick white sauce in top of double boiler and add the mustard, Worcestershire sauce, and spaghetti; cover and heat over boiling water, stirring occasionally. Just before serving, add shredded cheese and heat just until cheese is melted. Serve on slices of hot buttered toast and garnish with Heinz Dill Pickle. Yield—6 servings.

SALMON AND MUSHROOM SHORTCAKES

1 tablespoon butter or fine-flavoured dripping
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tin Heinz Condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon Heinz Worcestershire Sauce
2 tablespoons chopped Heinz Dilled Cucumber Pickle
½-pound tin salmon

Heat butter or dripping in upper pan of double boiler; add onion and cook over direct heat until onion is tender but not browned. Stir in the Mushroom Soup, milk, Worcestershire Sauce and chopped dilled pickle. Cover and heat over boiling water. Drain and flake salmon and add to hot sauce. Heat thoroughly. Serve between and over split and lightly-buttered rich baking powder biscuits. Yield—4 servings.

FINESSE ONLY AT END

IN OCCASIONAL rare cases, especially when no other play is available, it is well to try a finesse at the earliest possible moment, before the defense has too much information. As a generality, however, a finesse should be postponed as long as possible if other plays are available which may be attempted first, the trying of which still leaves the finesse as a last resort if the other methods don't pan out. This applies alike to the making of a contract and the gaining of an extra trick.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
Pass	1♠	Pass	2♥
Pass	6♥

Talk about direct bidding! It was not so direct, however, at all the tables of a duplicate game involving players of widely varying ability. It seemed that the more complicated a pair was in its methods, the worse contract it reached. The bad contracts ranged all the way from a mere 3-No Trumps to 5-Spades. Fortunately no pair was so unsound as to reach 6-No Trumps and get licked by two immediate diamonds.

Most tables found East in 6-Hearts, some making it right on the head and others gaining an extra trick, as they should. Where only the small slam was scored, without the extra, East ruffed the diamond K in dummy, took out trumps and then tried the club finesse, which failed.

Those who raked in all the tricks started likewise, but after removing trumps they worked on the spades. When the Q fell on the second round, the rest of the spades furnished discards of the remaining three diamonds and the club Q. If the spade Q had not dropped, one ruff of a spade would have set up three of the suit for sloughing the club Q and two of the diamonds, and the remaining diamond could have been trumped in the dummy.

With such desirable procedures available, it was the height of laziness, let alone of absurdity, for the declarer ever to finesse the clubs.

6—In Memoriam

MOONEY—In loving memory of my father, William Mooney, who passed away March 10, 1947.
His weary hours and days of pain,
His troubled nights are past,
And in our aching hearts we know,
He has found sweet rest at last.
—Sadly missed and ever remembered by son Percy and daughter-in-law Muriel.

MOONEY — In fond remembrance of my dear father, William Mooney, who passed away one year ago today.
It is only a grave, but it still needs care,
For the one I love is sleeping there;
Gone and forgotten by some he may be,
But never a day forgotten by me.
—Sadly missed, Viola.

MOONEY—In loving memory of my dear father, William Mooney, who passed away March 10, 1947.
With tears I watched you sinking,
I watched you pass away,
I tended you with loving care,
But could not make you stay.
I watched beside your bedside
As the lonely hours passed,
And how my heart was broken
When I saw you breathe your last.
It's lonesome here without you,
And sad the weary way,
For life is not the same to me
Since you were called away.
It was years of sacrifice and little of play,
Faithful and true to the end of your days;
Splendid you passed, the great surrender made
Into the light that never more shall fade.
—Ever remembered by Mary.

MOONEY—In loving memory of a dear father, William Mooney, who passed away one year ago today.
Resting here in solemn death,
Waiting for that grand day,
Is one who for his family toiled
And for his wife worked day by day.
God knows how much we miss him
Never shall his memory fade
Loving thoughts shall always wander
To the spot where he is laid.
—Sadly missed by his family.

LOMAX—In loving memory of Arthur Lomax, who passed away March 10, 1944.
We cannot clasp your hand, father dear,
Your face we cannot see;
But let this little token
Tell that we still remember thee.
—Ever remembered by his sons.

McMULLEN—In loving memory of James McMullen, who passed away March 11, 1947.
In our hearts there comes a longing
If you only could come home,
'Tis lonesome here without you, Dad
There is such a vacant place
For we never hear your footsteps
Nor see your smiling face
As we loved you so we miss you
In our memory you are dear
Loved, remembered, longed for always.
—Sadly missed by wife Margaret, and daughters Helen and Meryl.

REHILL—In loving memory of my dear husband Bruce Harper Rehill, who passed away three years ago, March 10, 1945.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife Hilda and daughter Doreen.

8—In Memoriam

TALLMAN—In loving memory of our dear mother, Flossie Tallman, who passed away five years ago March 10, 1943.
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered, since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts, your memory lingers,
Sweetly, tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Lovingly remembered by daughters Katie, Eva and Marie.

7—Cards of Thanks

Roseneath News

Miss Isa Lewis, Baptist deaconess, London, England, a guest for some months of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis, left on Tuesday for a speaking tour through Western Canada to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baptie and children, Mary and Kenneth of Norwood, and Miss Lorna George of Campbellford, were Sunday guests of their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McCleary.

HIGHWAYS BUMPY

Highway 7 between Peterborough and Lindsay is reported to be very bumpy. Apparently the pavement has heaved during the winter. In one spot there is a series of bumps and bus passengers say these can be readily felt, and they give the bus driver some trouble.

NO FIRES ON TUESDAY

Members of the fire department could have knocked off for a holiday on Tuesday. Apparently Peterborough was free from fires as no calls came into the department.

Charge Senate 'Refuge' For Retired Politicians

By The Canadian Press

A description of the Canadian Senate as a "refuge" for retired politicians was heard yesterday in the Alberta Legislature as Attorney-General Lucien Maynard sponsored a motion urging early convening of a Dominion-Provincial conference.

Senate reform was one of the subjects that could be discussed at a Dominion-Provincial conference, Mr. Maynard said. The Senate would not be "too bad" if senators, instead of holding appointments for life, were members only as long as they could "make some contribution," debate on the resolution was adjourned.

The suggestion of a Coast Guard service for Canada's Pacific shoreline came up again in the British Columbia Legislature. W. H. Brett (CCF—Prince Rupert) said recent marine accidents entailing loss of lives "brings forcibly to light the appalling lack of Coast Guard facilities on this coast."

Commenting on reports that up to 5,000 Normandy immigrants would be brought to Quebec, Premier Maurice Duplessis told the Quebec Legislative Assembly that his Union Nationale Government took the view the time is not ripe for immigration. But people suitable to the province would be accepted "at an opportune time and under reasonable conditions."

In the Saskatchewan Legislature, Premier T. C. Douglas charged that the Liberal party established a "dummy corporation" in 1940 for "buttressing party funds" from sales of aniline dye to the government. He said the dye was used in coloring tax-free gasoline for farm equipment.

Home and School Association News

KING GEORGE SCHOOL

An exceptionally large crowd attended "father's night" at King George School Tuesday. A fine program was arranged by Mr. B. Bell and committee of the Home and School Association.

Miss R. Young, guest speaker, was introduced by Mr. F. Ash. She spoke on the "family court," telling how it is made up and the duties performed. She stressed the fact that officers are not so much interested in punishment as in getting at the cause of the trouble.

Mr. J. Nornabell thanked Miss Young.

Formal opening of the meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. English. Mr. D. Munroe, principal, welcomed the parents and introduced the teachers present. Attendance prize was won by Mr. Drury's room.

Sleight of hand tricks by Mr. Edward Bradshaw were most entertaining. A demonstration of tumbling was given by boys of Mr. H. C. Drury's class. A humorous recitation by Miss Connie McKelvie.

The meeting closed with a sing song led by Mr. J. Telford.

Hosts serving refreshments for this occasion were Messrs. C. English, B. Bell, F. Innes, D. Walker, M. Tyndall, J. Nornabell, R. L. Hale and J. Thornton.

Power Sources Finished In 1944 Greater Than Liberal Supply

TORONTO, March 10 (CP)— Power sources at Stewartville and DeCew, completed under the present Progressive Conservative administration late in 1944, have brought in more power than all the new generating capacity of developments during nine years of the previous Liberal administration, Premier Drew said yesterday.

He was speaking in the Throne Speech debate following charges by Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver that the Drew government was responsible for the present Hydro shortage.

Mr. Oliver said the plans for the Upper Ottawa River development had been drawn up when the Progressive Conservatives took office after the 1943 election.

It wasn't till 1946, he added, that construction of the project actually got underway.

If the government had proceeded in 1943 it could have averted the present shortage.

Had Agreement

Premier Drew admitted the Liberal government, of which Mr. Oliver was a member, did sign an agreement with the Quebec government in January, 1943, and it did have an act passed in February approving the agreement covering the proposed Upper Ottawa River project.

"Nothing, however, was done from that day until we took office on Aug. 17, 1943, to proceed with construction of these power sites or even to obtain the necessary authorization to proceed."

Premier Drew said the three years taken to begin construction of the Upper Ottawa project were absolutely necessary.

"We proceeded as rapidly as possible," he said, in view of such things as shortage of supplies.

The discussion on Hydro brought forth criticism from Mr. Oliver on the appointment of Robert Saunders, ex-Mayor of Toronto, as chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

Mr. Oliver said it would have been preferred to have the Commission non-political in regard to the governing members, but that now all three commissioners were Conservative.

Premier Drew said he wasn't going to make any excuses for Mr. Saunders and went on to declare that Saunders was the best man for the job.

Hog Marketings Heavier Across Ontario

Hog marketings continue heavier than a year ago, according to the weekly report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Seed grain appears to be in sufficient supply as the season begins to fix attention on program and plans. Young pigs are selling up to $10, with comparatively light offering. There is also an increasing demand for chicks.

Fourteen townships in Grey have passed bylaws making control of the warble fly compulsory. Six townships in Huron have arranged for free treatment of cattle against these pestiferous flies.

Artificial insemination gets a prominent place in this week's reports from agricultural representatives. In Hastings 139 farmers already have signified their intention of joining the Belleville unit. It is expected that two units will operate in Northumberland. In Prince Edward 107 farmers have signed up 1,010 cows. In the Pembroke area farmers who have been following this practice since last July are now counting noses and are finding that breeding averages are as good or better than natural breeding."

York mentions with satisfaction that the fields of wheat and clover are covered with a thick and protective blanket of snow.

Glengarry says export of dairy cattle continues active and prices are good. "A number of trucks of hay have been exported this week to Vermont and Massachusetts. In Lanark county some of the townships are taking by-law action against the Warble fly."

Deputy-Reeve Favors New School Plan

LINDSAY, March 10.—(ENS). —"I am in favor of a high school area plan for Victoria County," said Deputy-Reeve Ray Webster of Mariposa in addressing County Council here Tuesday. "A system with a centralized high school in Lindsay and transportation service would provide additional opportunities for rural students. Children would have a choice of subjects which they do not have now in smaller continuation schools, and even if it raised the taxes four mills it would be worth it for the children," he declared.

Mr. Webster was speaking during Council's discussion of the high school area plan for this county as proposed some time ago by the high school area consultative committee. Not all Council members agreed with him.

"I believe more individual instruction in smaller continuation schools is better than mass education in one congested institution," said Dr. F. M. Graham, reeve of Fenelon Falls. Schools are an important part of smaller centres, and I believe we'd be sacrificing too much for the few who would benefit," he said. "And we've been happy so far with the old system."

Reeve J. S. Dix of Mariposa agreed with Mr. Webster. "The system of continuation schools has been fine in the past, but we've now outgrown the system," he stated. "Many people in Little Britain, Woodville and other villages are by-passing their local schools to send their children to Lindsay right now. The Lindsay Collegiate will soon be teaching shop work and domestic science. Under the school area plan more pupils could come here and take advantage of the extra courses."

Deny Company Aided Liberals

REGINA, March 10 —(CP)— Peter S. Deis, Regina barrister and principal shareholder of Acme Dye and Chemicals Ltd., today denied Premier T. C. Douglas's charge that the firm as a dummy corporation set-up by the Liberal party to bolster campaign funds during the administration of former Liberal Premier W. J. Patterson.

The company "never at any time made any contributions to any political party," Mr. Deis said. Nor had he ever been secretary of any party organization.

Mr. Douglas said the firm was a "dummy" corporation whose sole function was selling the government aniline dye for coloring tax-free gasoline for farm equipment. At $5.80 a pound—$3.44 more than the C.C.F. government was paying, he said.

Mr. Deis' statement said the actual facts of the company's dealings with the government were at "complete variance" with the premier's statement, and that the facts were "readily available."

NEWFOUNDLAND WILL VOTE ON UNION

U.K. Refuses To Publish Telegrams

Believe US Involved In Contents; Will Not Reconsider

LONDON, March 11—(CP)—The government announced today that it will not permit the publication of telegrams concerning the international situation which Britain exchanged with Canada at the time of the dispatch of the Canadian force to Hong Kong in October, 1941.

In a formal reply to a question in the House of Commons by Quintin Hogg, Conservative member for Oxford City, the government said that it is willing to see the publication of the messages relating solely to the dispatch of Canadian troops but it is unable to agree to the same course of action on the telegrams "relating to the international situation."

The government reply did not specify the subject matter of the international affairs in the telegrams but it is understood on good authority that the United States is involved.

The reply, from the Commonwealth Relations Office, added that such telegrams are framed on a basis that they will not be published and "the whole system of full and frank communication between His Majesty's governments would be prejudiced if telegrams of this nature had to be prepared on a basis that this rule might not eventually be observed."

The question has been "very carefully examined at the highest level and the United Kingdom government regret that that they cannot reconsider their decision."

Hogg was not in the Commons to hear the reply so no verbal answer was necessary from Patrick Gordon Walker, Commonwealth office under-secretary, the spokesman for the department in the Commons. The written reply was issued later.

EXTRA!

WASHINGTON. — President Truman today asked Congress for an additional $55,000,000 to help tide Western Europe over until the European recovery program is enacted. Congress voted $540,000,000 temporary aid last fall, including $18,000,000 for China. It was expected then that this money would last until the Marshall Plan was passed.

Need Independent Economy—Abbott

Declares Exaggerated Dependence Upon US Proves Too Vulnerable

TORONTO, March 11 (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said today that Canada has reached the stage where she must begin building a more independent economy.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Empire Club of Toronto, Mr. Abbott said Canada's shortage of American exchange has demonstrated once again "how vulnerable our economic position is in its exaggerated dependence upon the United States for materials and equipment and upon western Europe for markets."

"We have reached a stage in our national development when we must reduce this dependence and begin the building of a more virile and independent economy of our own."

The war, he said had brought unprecedented industrial expansion and industry's plans for expansion in 1948 were greater than they were in 1947.

"From the point of view of our dollar position and because of its general inflationary effect," said Mr. Abbott, "it would be better for everyone concerned if the program of capital expansion and improvement were spread over a longer period, and I am hopeful that this will be one of the results of the dollar-saving plan . . .

"I verily believe that we are on the threshold of really great developments—on the verge of a new dynamic era in our country's history which should lead to a further tremendous expansion in our production and economic power."

Reign Of Terror Grips Czechs, Masaryk Says

WASHINGTON, March 11 — (AP). — Military developments in the United States reflect the "very, very serious" world situation noted yesterday by State Secretary Marshall.

High command conferences . . new weapons . . . quests for military manpower . . . Congressional warnings against cutting defence funds.

All these coincide with Marshall's grave summation of the trend of global affairs.

He made it plain at a press conference he was referring both to Communist expansion in Europe, including Czechoslovakia, and to what he called a "considerable passion" aroused in the United States by European developments.

He cited the death of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk in Czechoslovakia as evidence that the Communist rule of that country is "a reign of terror."

Marshall spoke after being asked to give his "assignment of the situation" which, he was told, includes widely-felt fears ranging from the possibility that Italy might fall to the Communists in the April 18 elections, to talk of war.

He replied:

"I think you correctly described the situation in your question — that there are great fears as to the developments.

". . . The situation is very. very serious. It is regretable that passions are aroused to he degree which has occurred . . ."

Speaking of Czechoslovakia, he said: "It is a reign of terror . . . and not an ordinary due process of government by the people."

Authoritative sources said that in referring to "passion," Marshall had in mind a passionate desire on the part of many people to do something quickly—and not necessarily something that cold reason would approve.

Russia Threatens Walkout If Jews, Arabs Invited

NEW YORK, March 11—(AP).—Russia threatened today to walk out of the Big Power Palestine talks if the Jews and Arabs were invited to take part in the discussions. Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko rebuffed a new American attempt to call the Arabs of Palestine and the Jewish Agency before the Big Power conferees.

Gromyko said he could not participate if the Jewish and Arab representatives or the UN Palestine commission were brought in for consultation. He said Jewish-Arab conciliation efforts in the past had failed.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, Britain's representative, reiterated his governmene's intention to terminate the mandate May 15 and to leave Palestine.

No Modification

Cadogan also said he personally felt no modification of the U. N. Assembly's 1947 partition plan would be accepted either by the Jewish Agency or the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine.

The United States delegation was not yet ready to concede failure, but top Arab leaders indicated there was little likelihood thta the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine would accept the American bid to take part in the big power consultations.

Belleville Resident Elects Jury Trial

OTTAWA, March 11 —(CP)—Richard Rogers, 37, of Belleville, elected trial by judge and jury when he appeared in county court today charged with possession of safe-breaking equipment. Preliminary hearing was set for next Thursday.

Rogers was arrested following an accident last Feb. 21 when an automobile in which he was passenger crashed into the side of a moving freight train. The tools allegedly were found in the car.

Give Masaryk State Funeral

PRAGUE, March 11.—(AP).—Jan Masaryk will be given a state funeral Saturday by Czechoslovakia's Communist-controlled government. He will be laid to rest beside his father, Thomas Masaryk, founder and first president of the republic.

The 61-year-old non-party foreign minister was found dead yesterday, two weeks after the new cabinet came to power, in a stone courtyard more than 50 feet below his bathroom window at the foreign office. The government said he jumped.

Funeral services will be held in the Pantheon of the Prague Museum in the capital's central square. Communist Premier Klement Gottswald will speak.

Czechoslovakia mourned the minister today in shocked melancholy. Half-staffed tricolors and black banners did not begin to tell the story of the loss felt by the "little people." To thousands the loss was personal, because Marasyk numbered his personal friends in the thousands.

Churchill Threatened

LONDON, March 11. (Reuters)—Scotland Yard took special precautions today for the security of Winston Churchill after Southampton police station received an anonymous warning that Britain's wartime leader "was to be assissinated" at midday today.

Scotland Yard stated that the call, made over the Southampton emergency telephone system, was in "a childish voice."

The incident was not brought to the notice of Churchill's staff.

3 Choices Offered On Ballot

Minority Vote Noted In British Report, Include Confederation

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 11—(CP).—The choice of confederation with Canada was offered the people of Newfoundland today when the contents were disclosed of the official ballot for a national referendum which will decide the old colony's political future.

Announced simultaneously in London and here, the ballot will offer the following choices:

1. Retention of the present government by commission.
2. Return of responsible self-government.
3. Confederation with Canada.

The national convention, elected in June, 1946, to recommend possible future forms of government and dissolved last Jan. 31, suggested to the Commonwealth Relations office in London that the ballot offer a choice of retention of commission government or the return of responsible self-government.

Note Minority Vote

By a 19-16 vote the convention turned down a resolution that Confederation with Canada also be included on the ballot. The minority vote, however, was noted in the report to the British government.

Since then the pro-confederation bloc in the convention, led by Joseph Smallwood, has waged a vigorous campaign to have union with Canada included.

He has announced that petitions, signed by more than 50,000 of the island's 330,000 population, had been received asking that confederation be included in the referendum. These had been forwarded to London.

The 45-member national convention had power only to make recommendations to the British government.

King Gustav In Paris Death Rumors False

PARIS, March 11. (AP)—King Gustav V of Sweden arrived in Paris by train late today on his way to the Riviera.

Rumors spread mysteriously in Sweden this morning that the 89-year-old monarch had died aboard the train, the Nord-Expresse from Brussels. The King arrived smiling and giving every sign of being in good health.

MOURNED BY CZECHS — Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovak diplomat, ended his career by leaping to his death from the window of his residence in Prague. Son of the man regarded as the father of the Czech republic, Thomas Masaryk, Jan retained his post as foreign minister in the newly created Communist government of Premier Gottwald. A few hours before his apparent suicide he was reported to be in optimistic spirits. It has been reported that a strong Red pressure had been used to try and "influence" him.

Complete Story Of Hong Kong Still Lacking

By ROSS MUNRO

OTTAWA, March 11.—(CP).—Complete story of the dispatch of the Canadian force to Hong Kong in October, 1941, probably will never be known, because five secret British documents still remain under lock and key.

The 1,000,000 words of evidence and exhibits of the 1942 Royal Commission inquiry into Hong Kong where two Canadian battalions were lost in the Japanese onslaught of December, 1941, proved to be somewhat of a dud when they were tabled yesterday in the Commons.

One of the main points at issue —whether the Canadian government was warned prior to the sailing of the expedition on Oct. 27, 1941, that war with Japan was an early possibility — probably cannot be settled unless the British documents are produced.

Col. George A. Drew, now premier of Ontario, who, in 1941, acted as Opposition counsel in the inquiry, set off the six-year-old dispute by charging, among other things, that the Canadian government was explicitly warned three days before the force sailed that war was expected.

The tabled evidence and exhibits lacked a clear-cut warning to Ottawa and the Duff report maintains no such information was received.

Testifying regarding information received from the United States government at that time, Maj.-Gen. Maurice Pope, assistant chief of the general staff, said there was no interchange "of what I would call military intelligence dealing beyond the shores of Canada" between members of the joint U.S.-Canada defence board.

However, there was no information in Ottawa that was not in Washington "and probably no good purpose would be served in furthering the information from Washington to Ottawa, most of

Tobacco Farmer Gets $1,100 Back

BRANTFORD, March 11 (CP)—Illes Fagt, tobacco farmer of nearby Wilsonville, was so excited last evening he could not recall the name of the man who returned to him $1,100 of the $1,200 that fell through a hole in his pocket here the day before.

He's not worried about the missing $100. "I'm thankful that much was returned to me." Mr. Fagt said the money he withdraw from the bank was to pay hired help and some hospital bills.

He remembered that the man who did not speak English fluently came from R.R. 3, Burford.

11 Killed And 89 Injured As Bomb Blast Shatters Jewish Agency

Car Stolen From US Consul Parked In Yard Just Before Explosion; Building Housed All Archives Of Group

JERUSALEM, March 11 — (AP). — An explosion severely damaged the Jewish Agency building today soon after an automobile flying the United States flag was parked in its heavily guarded courtyard. The Jewish Agency, the official organization for Palestine Jewry, said 11 persons were killed and 89 injured. Up to 500 persons were in the building and 50 or 60 were in the right wing, which was the worst shattered.

(A Reuters News Agency dispatch listed among the injured a Canadian woman, Mrs. Esther Adler, wife of John Adler of Liverpool, business manager of the English language Zionist newspaper Post.

(Edwin Samuel, son of Viscount Samuel and director of the Palestine Broadcasting Service, also was listed among the injured along with Isaac Ben Svi, president of the Jewish National Council, and Gershon Hirsch, the agency's official press spokesman.)

Hagana, the Jewish militia, took charge. Its preliminary inquiry indicated the explosive had been under the automobile's floor. The government said the Jews were barring all police from the scene.

Consul's Car

A Hagana informant said wreckage of the automobile indicated it was that of United States Consul General Robert B. Macatee which was stolen yesterday.

Leib Jaffe, chairman of Keren Hayessod, the Jewish National Colonization Fund, was reported to have been one of those killed.

A spokesman for the Jewish agency told a press conference that the driver of the car "was said by guards to be well known to them as one of the consulate drivers."

Only the driver was known to have been in the car. A second man had been reported previously to have accompanied him.

Czechoslovak Probe Demand Pigeon-Holed

LAKE SUCCESS, March 11 — (AP). — The United Nations pigeon-holed yesterday a demand for Security Council investigation of the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. The demand was made by Dr. Jan Papanck, Czechoslovakia's chief delegate to the UN.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie put the document on the shelf after consultations with top advisers. A UN statement said merely that the document would be treated as a non-governmental communication.

The move means that the demand will lie dormant in the files unless some country officially sponsors it. Other delegates watched the situation closely but there were no immediate indication that any country would step in to push the issue.

Britain Lifts 75 P.C. Duty On U.S. Movies

LONDON, March 11 (CP)—The government today withdrew its much-criticized 75-per-cent duty on United States film earnings in Britain and made way for a quick resumption of the normal import of films from Hollywood.

Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, made the announcement in the House of Commons after reaching an agreement with a delegation of Hollywood producers led by Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Wilson said the 75-per-cent tax "would be withdrawn as quickly as the necessary order could be made" and that normal export of American films to Britain will "resume as soon as possible."

Earlier, both British and American officials said the agreement is subject to ratification by United States film executives in Hollywood.

The new agreement, effective June 14, will run four years, but be subject to review after two years. For the first two years the United States producers may take home $17,000,000 a year of their earnings from American films shown here. In addition they may withdraw dollars equal to British films' earnings in the United States.

Police Director Is Suspended

MONTREAL, March 11—(CP).—Pacifique Plante, assistant director of police and militant crusader against vice in Montreal, today was suspended by Police Director Albert Langlois.

Police headquarters sources confirmed the suspension but gave no details.

Lieut. Armand Courval, directly in charge of the morality squad under Plante, confirmed the news of his superior's suspension. He said all the officers of the squad, numbering about 40, were immediately asking for transfer to other branches of the police force because of the suspension.

Courval declined to say what were the reasons for Plante's suspension.

Canada's Red Minority Wields Vast Influence

25,000 Communists In Canada Are Known To Have Taken Red Oath

By DON CAMERON
Windsor Star Staff Reporter

How strong are the Communists in Canada today.

About 25,000 are known to have taken the Red oath of allegiance to their ideological fatherland, the Soviet Union, and to have embraced Marxist-Leninist principles of violent world revolution as interpreted by Secretary-general Joseph V. Stalin. Most of them are members of the Labor-Progressive Party, which is the current legal name of the illegal Communist Party of Canada.

Figures Don't Tell Story

This scales down to the figure of one Communist out of every 480 people in the Dominion, which at first glance seems to be a rather insignificant showing. It is even less impressive when viewed against the world total of 18,000,000 Communists, of whom 6,000,000 are in the USSR. It means that only one out of every 720 Communists in the global picture is a Canadian.

However, those statistics don't begin to answer our question. In every matter dealing with Communists there is always more — much more—than meets the casual eye.

Proportionately, Canada has more Communist saboteurs plotting from within to wreck her social and political structure than Russia had in that bloody October of 1917, when the Bolsheviks made themselves masters of a sprawling, disorganized hodge-podge of peasant states destined to give the rest of the world nightmares in years to come.

Moreover, Canada has nearly four times as many Communists, proportionately, as has the United States with 75,000—and yet that great democracy, with only one Moscow-inspired disruptionist for each 1,800-odd presumably orderly persons, is undergoing an aggravated attack of the Red jitters and is expelling its alien revolutionaries as fast as it can catch them.

Invisible Army Is Strong

It is the invisible and unwritten roster of the Communist army that tells the story of its actual strength, and here we must resort to rough estimates.

Dmitri Manuilski, Ukrainian Communist representative to the United Nations and for many years the foremost co-ordinator of the activities of Communist parties throughout the western world, reported to the 18th congress of the party of the Soviet Union in 1939 that Canada then had 16,000 members—and that these had "a following of militant workmen to carry on activities under the guidance of the party" of from 15 to 20 times as many.

Using Manuilski's top figure, that would indicate a present total of half a million Communist supporters in Canada, or one for every 24 persons. Very likely this is an exaggeration. But it could be reduced to 365,000, and Communists and pro-Communists in Canada still would surpass the proportionate number that, in Russia, rules a population of 200,000,000 people with a hand of iron.

Labor Men Follow Blindly

We know that 180,000 of the 800,000 trade union members affiliated with the Canadian Congress of Labor and the Trade and Labor Council blindly follow the lead of a small minority of Communist officials, although the great majority does not in any way subscribe to the Red program for wrecking the capitalistic free-enterprise system.

We know, furthermore, that unions comprising about as many workers stand on the borderline, with the balance of power so slightly in favor of a moderate leadership that the least pressure of unfavorable events would tilt it the other way.

And now we begin to see where much of the real strength of Communism in Canada lies — not in the skill with which they can manipulate masses of non-Red workers to vote with the party line, or hurl defiance from the picket line.

In Timmins, heart of the Porcupine gold mining district of Northern Ontario, this reporter talked last week with a Communist official of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. He was one of the half-dozen United States Reds who had crossed the border with Reid Robinson, eastern vice-president of the union, with the purpose of winning 30,000 miners to the Stalinist cause.

Boast About Pending Strike

The conversation centred on the strike the international union leaders propose to call in the spring, which would bring near-ruin to all the towns and cities of the northland and cause severe suffering to nearly a quarter-million men, women and children. It is a strike, incidentally, which would be held against the wishes of probably 95 percent of the miners themselves.

"How can you do it?" the official was asked. "The Porcupine mines aren't much more than 25 per cent organized, on the average, and most of the Union men would rather compromise on wages and stay on the job rather than strike for the extra 22 cents an hour they know they can't get. What if they just refuse to stop work?"

The agitator grinned engagingly. A personable fellow, and franker than most of his comrades, he said:

"When the strike meeting is called, the boys we're sure of will be on hand early and pack the hall. We'll have held a rehearsal before-hand, and only the ones we've scheduled to speak will get a hearing. There isn't a chance the vote will go any way except our way.

"The picket line will be manned by picked workers. The boys up here have had experience with strikes—bad ones—and it isn't likely any of them will try to go through the lines. If any do—well, we'll just put enough of our men in strategic places so that they won't try twice."

Out of all the inhabitants of that north country the LPP has a numerical strength of about 600. In the last election for the Timmins City Council the LPP leader, Communist Ray Stevenson, ran a bad eleventh in a field of 12 candidates.

Tiny Group Can Take Over

You begin to realize that Red strength is far out of proportion to its numbers when you reflect that a tiny group has the power to immobilize the greater part of 30,000 miners and wreck the economy of whole communities whose prosperity depends on them.

Something of the sort happened in 1941 at Kirkland Lake. Communist Reid Robinson engineered that strike, also. The miners lost it. The mines lost because of it. Families went hungry, merchants went broke and many small businesses failed. Now, seven years later, the town has not yet fully recovered.

Two brothers in Kirkland Lake have not spoken to one another since the day, near the end of the strike, when one returned to his job to keep from losing his home while the other remained in the picket line.

Communists Only Winners

The Communists didn't lose the strike. Their avowed purpose, their only reason for being Communists, is to spread class hatred and sabotage in every possible way the economic structure they are pledged to destroy to make room for Red totalitarianism.

They even made political capital of the outcome in certain labor circles. So devastating was the Kirkland Lake strike that the government, in the hope of preventing others like it, passed labor relations laws requiring, among other things, that employers must recognize unions as bargaining agents when their strength is sufficient to justify it.

The Reds have been so insistent about taking the credit for that legislation that a lot of workers believe they were solely responsible for its adoption.

That gives them added prestige.

And we have only begun to tell the full story of Communist strength in Canada!

Elizabeth Gets Big Chance To Rule While King On Tour

LONDON, March 11 (AP). — Princess Elizabeth will get her first big chance to "rule" the British Communwealth when her parents visit Australia and New Zealand early next year.

She will head a council of state, comprising four or five members, chosen to act for the King while he, Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret tour the "down under" dominions.

The British family round the world view the royal visit as a further move to strengthen commonwealth ties in tremulous times. At the same time it regards as significant the King's wish that Princess Elizabeth remain in London as his chief deputy.

It will be her most important and extended experience in practical affairs of state.

As heiress presumptive to the throne, Elizabeth will serve as senior member of the council. She sat on such a royal panel once before, but only briefly, in the summer of 1944 when the King made a wartime visit to Italy. She was then only a few months past her 18th birthday, legal age for royal heirs.

Her husband, Prince Philip, cannot be a counsellor. Under the law, only the wife or husband of a sovereign, the heir presumptive and others of legal age next in direct succession may form the regency.

Counsellors are armed with most of the King's powers. They are forbidden, however, to dissolve parliament, to create new peers, to appoint bishops, and to change the uniform of any of the armed services. The signature of all members of a council are required on state papers.

A counsellor's daily round is much the same as the King's.

By law at least two regents must agree on any state decision. Although prohibited from acting on matters needing the King's special approval, the council is authorized to sign parliamentary bills.

Nine Women Die In Mental Hospital Fire

ASHEVILLE, NC, March 11 — (AP). — Nine women patients died here early to-day in the blazing inferno of a mental hospital fire. Seven of the victims were trapped helplessly on upper floors of the four-storey central building of the Highland Hospital for Nervous Diseases, Dr. B. T. Bennett, medical director, reported. Two others were evacuated by firemen who dashed into the fiery structure, but the two died soon afterward.

The fire, discovered about midnight, started in the kitchen of the hospital's central building. It quickly spread to an elevator shaft and was licking the building's roof when firemen arrived.

Screams of trapped women rang out above the roaring conflagration as doctors, nurses, the firemen and police ran through the blazing structure, risking their lives in an effort to save the 20 patients in the building.

They quickly huddled the rescued patients into another building where some sat silently and others yelled hysterically.

Police Captain Harold Enloe was the first man to reach the building.

"I could hear screaming on the third floor," he related. "Flames by then were leaping through the roof of the building."

Jews in the building at the time said the automobile with the American flag entered the courtyard through the guarded gate with two men inside. The men parked the car, walked past the guard and drove away in a waiting taxicab, the witnesses said. The building caught fire after the blast.

Witnesses speculated that the car may have been one of the automobiles stolen in the last two weeks from the United States Consulate.

Badly Damaged

The right wing, said persons on the scene, was an utter ruin. It still was burning an hour after the blast. All the rest of the structure was badly damaged. Windows were shattered, walls cracked and the roof blown off.

The building, finished in the late 1920's, housed all archives of the agency and the most important records of Zionism. First reports indicated many of these escaped destruction.

The explosion sounded almost as heavy as the disastrous Ben Yehuda street blast on Feb. 22, when more than 50 persons were killed in the Jewish district of the Holy City.

Canada Joins With Allies Condemning Czech Coup

OTTAWA, March 11—(CP).—The Canadian Government described the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia as "tragic" in a statement read to the Commons yesterday by External Affairs Minister St. Laurent on the death of Jan Masaryk, former Czech Foreign Minister. It was the first formal Canadian government objection to the Red grab, and in it Mr. St. Laurent associated the Dominion firmly with the Feb. 26 declaration by Britain, the United States and France condemning the seizure.

"The Canadian Government and the Canadian people at large associate themselves with the Feb. 26 declaration of the three great powers," the Minister said.

In his statement, he made reference to Czechoslovakia's democratic freedom for which Mr. Masaryk had fought and which, he said, she now had "so tragically lost."

Ottawa Shocked

Mr. St. Laurent declared the government had been "shocked and grieved" to learn of the death of Masaryk, described in a Prague government announcement as having taken his own life.

He had devoted himself to the service of the state, the external affairs minister said, and when the Nazis had overrun his country, he had shown "courage and resource in carrying on the struggle" from abroad.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, quickly seconded Mr. St. Laurent's tribute. He said all parties in the Commons would associate themselves with the minister's statement.

Bethel Association Discusses 'The Home'

BETHEL, March 11—(ENS)—The regular meeting of the Bethel WA was held in the basement of the church. Mrs. J. Darling opened the meeting and led in prayer. The devotional period and business discussion was led by Mrs. E. Ruth. Mrs. Ruth's topic was based on "What makes a house a home." Evelyn Darling read the scripture lesson. Helen Ruth gave a reading. The association decided to cater for the young people's convention on May 1. Mrs. J. Darling expressed thanks for Mrs. Noble Strain for a treat she received while ill.

Those present divided into three groups and discussed questions prepared by Helen Ruth. Lunch was served and a social hour spent.

12 On Plane Killed In Crash

CHICAGO, March 11 — (AP) — A Delta Airlines DC-4 plane crashed and burned explosively late last night a few seconds after it took off from Chicago's Municipal Airport. Twelve of the 13 aboard were killed.

The only survivor was a 33-year-old mother whose seven-year-old son perished in the fiery wreckage. She screamed hysterically for her child as she was pulled from the flames.

The woman, Mrs. Tripolino Meo, of suburban Oak Lawn, Ill., suffered severe burns. Both of her legs and both her arms were broken. All four members of the crew were killed.

Finish Editing Union Treaty

BRUSSELS, March 11.—(AP). —A delegate said the drafting committee of the five-power conference today completed editing the full text of a western European union treaty.

Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg have been conferring for a week on a proposed political, economic and military union.

Pierre Elvinger, Luxembourg member of the drafting committee, said the treaty has 10 articles and a preamble.

A plenary session of the conference was convened again late today to consider the draft.

Conference officials said "only two or three points" remain to be settled. All predicted agreement on these before the delegates leave the conference table at the end of today's session.

Spokesmen said an official treaty text in French and English will be ready tonight or tomorrow morning. Another meeting to polish it up may be necessary tomorrow but the odds are against this.

Industrials Post Majority Of Losses

TORONTO, March 11 (CP). — Prices turned easier after steady opening on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day, but the range remained within fractions. Industrials posted a majority of the losses for key issues, while golds were moderately softer. Base metals were about unchanged.

Volume for the first three hours was 389,000 shares, about 10,000 more than yesterday's similar period.

Newsprints showed some firmness on fractional advances for the industrials, but other groups were mixed. Leading stocks on the gain side were Dominion Stores, Ford, Hamilton Bridge, Loblaw B, United Steel, and International Paper. Losers included Abitibi, Bell, BA Oil, Bank of Commerce, Fanny Farmer, Walkers, and Massey-Harris.

Easier golds were Amalgamated Larder, Beaulieu, Bevcourt, Chesterville, Cochenour, Giant, Hollinger, La Luz, Mylamaque, Wright-Hargreaves, and San Antonio.

University Orators Wage Battle Of Words

GUELPH, March 11 — (CP). — Undergraduate orators, representing universities across Canada, will meet here tomorrow and Saturday to decide the champion Canadian university debating team by arguing the resolution, "Resolved that Canada's defence should begin at home."

Hosts of the Canadian University Debating Association finals will be Ontario College of Agriculture and Ontario Veterinary College, joint representatives of central Canada, who will trade repartee with debaters from the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, western champions, and Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., eastern titlists.

It is not likely the amateur parliamentarians will decide where Canada's defences should begin, since each team will be required to debate both sides of the resolution, affirmative one day, negative the next. If one team should win approval of the judges for both their pro and con arguments, they automatically become Canadian champions. If no team is able to win both arguments, the title will be decided by the percentage of points awarded by the judges.

Chief Saves Baby

PEMBROKE, Ont., March 11 — (CP). — Courageous Fire Chief Robert Dey yesterday plunged through a broken window into a home roaring with flames and rescued 11-months-old Wesley Anderson after the mother had valiantly made three attempts to reach her trapped baby. His wrist slashed by broken glass, the fire chief fought through the dense smoke in the room and located the baby by his screams.

Peter Kaiser Sings Tonight

Music lovers this evening will welcome another music appreciation broadcast, one of a regular series presented by The Examiner and designed to give listeners a better insight into the world of finer music. The present series brings listeners the talents of the promising young baritone, Peter Kaiser. The program originates in the studios of CHEX and will be heard at the regular broadcast time of 9:30 p.m.

Mr. Kaiser's program will consist of The Ramblers Song, with words and music by Walter Adrian.

From the suite "Four Indian Love Lyrics" composed by Am. Woodforde Finden, he will sing "Temple Bells" and "Till I Awake". The words for this suite have been taken from the book of poems entitled "The Garden of Koma", by Lawrence Hope.

A selection familiar to all will be Anton Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me".

Concluding the program are two songs from the cycle "Eliland" by Alexander von Fielitz. The opening three songs in the cycle were heard on last week's program, and the remainder of the ten songs will be heard on subsequent programs. The story told in the cycle "Eliland", is briefly as follows: A monk in an island monastery falls in love with a nun who has recently taken her vows. Although he never speaks to her of his love, he composes and sings love songs dedicated to her. The Abbot hears of this and calls the monk to his cell. The monk is told that before the day is out he must promise never again to sing his songs of love, that his every thought must be snow-like, and his heart ever faithful. The monk sadly obeys in the moving words of the finale. The two songs to be heard this evening are Heimliche Grusse (Secret Greetings) and Am Strande (by the Strand).

VIEW OF PACIFIC—The restrictions a Canadian winter sets on many other activities does not limit the seagoing training program of the RCN. It is simply a case of following the weather best suited to provide the seamen with maximum practical experience—and in the course of it they acquire a good deal of valuable geographical knowledge on the side. Here a group from a Canadian warship get a South American landsman's outlook on the Pacific Ocean.

Ontario Council Deadlocked On County Home

WHITBY, March 11. — A special night session of Ontario County Council for discussion of the County Home ended in deadlock Wednesday night. A report presented by a special committee set up to deal with the question was referred to the committee members for redrafting after council was unable to agree whether to build a new home in co-operation with the city of Oshawa.

The report recommended that the city of Oshawa and Ontario county each pay 50 percent toward the new home. It asked, however, that Oshawa should be credited with only 12½ percent of assets realized from the present home at Whitby, as this is the extent of the city's interest in the present building. This proviso has proved a main stumbling block in negotiations.

Oshawa has insisted on being credited with 50 percent of the old home's assets before undertaking to split the cost of a new one. The present building has been condemned by provincial inspectors, successive grand juries, and a report of the home's physician, Dr. W. W. Baldwin.

Reeve Stewart Ball, Uxbridge township, tonight condemned the Oshawa proposal as "very unfair." Reeve Thomas Harding of Reach Township, charged that "we've had no assistance whatever from Oshawa in maintenance or administration costs of the old home. January was the first time an Oshawa representative ever attended one of our meetings."

He urged council to consider the question without Oshawa being involved. "Both the city and the county have enough money to look after their own old people," Reeve Harding claimed.

Will Tito Be Sore! Cobourg Snubs Note

COBOURG, March 11 (ENS)—From Yugoslavia to the Cobourg Chamber of Commerce has come an invitation to the Zagreb International Fair to be held May 8 to 17. Mayor Joe Smith, who is also manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was slightly irate when he read the elaborately - decorated invitation and the accompanying pamphlet.

"Isn't it just too bad," commented Mayor Smith with sarcasm, "that March 1 is the deadline for acceptance. We will not be able to go. We didn't receive it in time."

Mr. Tito would not have relished Mayor Smith's tone of voice, as he chucked the invitation in the waste basket.

Kin And Rotary Meet

CAMPBELLFORD, March 11—(ENS)—In a move to further good-will and co-operation between the local Rotary and Kinsmen clubs, a joint dinner meeting was held in the parish hall, Tuesday.

Presidents, Rotarian Owen Watson and Kinsman Joe Smith were joint chairmen.

An ornithologist from the Department of Lands and Forests, Alex Kay, Peterborough, gave an address on bird life. He described the habits of some of the Canadian birds.

THEIR HATS IN PRESIDENTIAL RING—Making their announcements on the same day, Gen. Douglas MacArthur (left) and President Harry S. Truman (right), declared they would accept the presidency. From Tokyo, Gen. MacArthur said: "I would be recreant to all my concepts of good citizenship were I to shrink because of the hazards and reseponsibilities involved from accepting any public duty to which I might be called by the American people." Truman's candidacy was announced by the Democratic National committee chairman, Sen. J. Howard McGrath, who said: "The president has authorized me to say that if he is nominated by the Democratic national convention, he will accept and run."

Churchill, Eden Choosing Younger Men To Step Up

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, March 11—(CP).—Winston Churchill and his deputy, Anthony Eden, now can glance back along the rows of Opposition members behind them and judge those who will come to high office if Conservatives win the next election. As party strategists they are interested in younger men. The assumption is that Eden will take over as party leader when Churchill leaves. This means that with good fortune Eden, now 50, will retain the leadership for about 20 years and men of less than 45 years have the best hope of becoming future Conservative Prime Ministers.

Decision about Cabinet Ministers will be made only if and when the Conservatives eject the Labor Government. But even now the Opposition chiefs must have some in mind.

If a turn of the wheel brought Conservatives to power soon, high offices might be filled as follows:

Foreign secretary, Anthony Nutting, 28, member for Melton, who served in embassies in France, Spain and Italy and at the foreign office. He was Eden's private secretary in 1942 and has been a major force in developing the Young Conservative movement.

Chancellor of the Exchequer: David Eccles, 43, member for Chippenham, who served with the Ministry of Economic Warfare, was economic adviser to the British embassies at Madrid and Lisbon and was at the Ministry of Production during the tensest war years.

Minister of Defence: Brig. A. R. W. Low, 34, member for Blackpool North, a barrister who turned soldier and had a notable war career.

Home Secretary: John Boyd-Carpenter, 40, member for Kingston-Upon-Thames, a barrister, among the most competent naggers of the government on home affairs.

Labor Minister: Peter Thorneycroft, 39, member for Monmouth, wartime transport ministry parliamentary secretary.

Minister of Civil Aviation: Air Commodore Arthur Harvey, 42, member for Macclesfield, experienced in both civil and military flying.

History Of Cobourg Being Assembled Now

COBOURG, March 11 (ENS)—The Cobourg Business and Professional Women's Club is sponsoring an historical booklet of Cobourg. By the quantity of material being gathered, it should reach the proportions of a good-sized book. Price will be moderate and the club is appealing for any historical pictures and other material that private citizens may have. Publication is being timed for the celebration from July 30 to August 2nd of the 150th anniversary of the first settlement in Cobourg.

May Be Record Year

COBOURG, March 11 (ENS)—Visitors to the Northumberland Forest Ski Club Wednesday said that the present condition of the hills and trails should ensure skiing for some time to come. The drop in temperature stiffened the snow, of which there is still plenty, and the season shows every indication of setting a record for length.

The charge against Earl Shewen, Mount Julian, for which he paid a fine in police court recently, was one of improper rear lighting, on his vehicle, not for speeding, as had been reported.

Bounty On Foxes Set At $3 Each

BELLEVILLE, March 11.—Fox-hunting will be a profitable pastime for residents of Thurlow township in the immediate future.

For due to the loss of livestock and poultry through the depredations of Brer Fox, the township council at its March meeting authorized the payment of bounties on foxes killed or trapped in the township by township residents.

For each fox killed or trapped in Thurlow by a resident, between April 1st and October 31st in any year, a bounty of $3 will be paid. Residents trapping or killing foxes between November 1st and March 31st will receive a bounty of $2. Pelts must be submitted to the township clerk or a member of council for identification purposes.

During the business session, council recommended that the Gore and Storrie report on the installation of water and sewer services to the Smith and Reynolds properties, be accepted and approved, and that the firm be notified. It also approved a motion that a ratepayers' meeting be arranged for the purpose of explaining the proposed High School Area and that the meeting be advertised.

Auxiliary Classes Described To H and S

CAMPBELLFORD, March 11.—(ENS).—Dr. Carmen Stothers, supervisor of auxiliary classes for the Department of Education, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Home and School Association Wednesday.

Throughout Ontario, he said, there are 350 auxiliary classes held for handicapped children and those with variations in ability.

Disctrict school boards, he said, may apply to the department for teachers, if glasses are needed for pupils with defective speech, hearing or sight. Bed-ridden and crippled children may be taught in the home or hospital. Special classes are also provided for students with low intelligence. Better adjustment of these pupils, he said, is gained through these special classes by teaching them self-respect and building up their self-confidence.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Martin, public school inspector, and thanked by Mrs. E. C. Roberts.

A public school operetta, sponsored by the Association, will be held in April.

Mrs. Chris Newman, secretary, was appointed a delegate to the Ontario Home and School Association convention in Toronto on March 31. The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Thompson's class.

Entertainment was provided by a chorus of Grade VII pupils, who sang three numbers. A trio of Mrs. J. Scott, Mrs. F. DeCarrol and Jack Clark also sang, accompanied by Mrs. George Nicholls. Lunch was served by the social committee.

Dies From Burns

OSHAWA, March 11. (CP) — Mrs. Marilla Rowe, 35, of Port Perry, 14 miles north of here, died in an Oshawa hospital today from second degree burns suffered when she poured coal oil into a stove yesterday. When the coal oil exploded in the stove, her sister, Mrs. Emma Smith, dashed into the kitchen and extinguished the flames.

Death Of A Liberal

The death of Jan Masaryk is a tragic witness to the destruction of freedom in Czechoslovakia and a tocsin ringing a solemn warning throughout the world. Jan Masaryk was a liberal and a patriot, and served his country as Foreign Secretary even to the hour of his death. By his death he served his country for he gave thereby despairing testimony and adjuration. A fortnight after the Communists raped Czechoslovakia of freedom, he chose to live neither as a compliant bystander to his country's doom nor as an impotent exile. He met death.

* * *

He was not a great man, great as his father Thomas Masaryk and President Eduard Benes, but he loved liberty and bore a great name. The Czechs will feel keenly that their minister and son of their state's founder escaped to the oblivion of death rather than accept the ignominy of personal and national bondage. The outer world must now understand that the cause of liberty in Czechoslovakia is presently lost and that not even Benes can redeem the nation to which he and Thomas Masaryk dedicated their work and lives.

The New City Hall

A site for the new city hall has been decided upon and money for the erection of the building has been munificently provided. We do not expect to see the building of it for a year or two because the site has not been bought, plans are in an embryonic stage at best and the difficulty of getting building materials and the very high construction costs make the immediate erection inadvisable if not impossible. We should like, however, to call attention to some of the dates in today's third column account of the building of the old town hall.

On January 1st of 1950—fewer than three years hence—Peterborough will celebrate the centenary of its incorporation. September 27th of the next year will be the hundredth anniversary of the laying of the corner-stone of our first town hall. It would be a neat historical coincidence if the corner-stone of the new city hall were laid on the centenary of the city's incorporation and the building were to be ready for use in 1951. Projects like the construction of a new city hall are often impeded because no dates have been aimed at. We think that the Council would not be rash and hasty if it set target dates in 1950 or 1951 and began soon to decide upon plans.

France, Britain And Benelux

The speed with which Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg reached agreement on forming a Western Union testifies to the urgency of political and economic conditions in Europe. The five-power conference in Brussels has drawn up a document, now to be signed, which lays the political and legal foundations for a West-European Union in which a hundred million people will be committed to economic co-operation and common defence in the cause of liberty. The treaty is most definite in its economic clauses; the political and military terms have been phrased with a studied vagueness which leaves some primary questions unanswered. Even if a political union and a military alliance in the technical sense have not been projected, these five nations are committed to a mutual defence of western Euorpe's security against war-like aggression and external political infiltration. In other words, they are united against the threats of Communist Russian overlordship. They have made a stand.

A West-Europe union can function only on three conditions—adequate and immediate aid from America (E.R.P.), a revived German economy, and the restoration of European security. The European Recovery Program is still being debated in Congress; it is hoped that the tragic and convulsive events in Czechoslovakia and Finland of the last two weeks will impress American legislators with the urgent necessity of putting the program into immediate operation. Before the war Germany was the heart of Europe's economic life; until her resources and man-power are mobilized Europe cannot recover. The recent London conference between France, Britain, the United States and Benelux has agreed upon the coordination of German economy with that of western Europe. The Brussels agreement will give a measure of security to western Europe, but the co-operating countries either singly or together are not strong enough to withstand Russia without military guarantees from the United States.

The initiation of a West-Europe Union does not guarantee the peace and prosperity of Europe but it does provide the continent with a new hope.

The World Wheat Agreement

The World Wheat Agreement signed last Saturday cannot properly be called a "world" agreement because two of the five chief exporting nations—Soviet Russia and the Argentine—are not participating. Soviet Russia considers it an instrument of the Marshall Plan to cajole the thirty-three countries who have agreed to import the wheat under the terms of the Agreement. The Argentine prefers to make money on wheat in the open market rather than to lend support to a stabilizing long-term policy. Despite American reports and the fact that the Agreement was signed in Washington, Canada is the chief contributor. It is to export 230,000,000 bushels, the U.S. 185,000,000 and Australia 85,000,000.

The agreement requires governmental sanction, particularly in Canada, the U.S. and Australia. Canada is likely to accept it, for it is an extension of the already existing contract with Britain to sell wheat to it next year at two dollars a bushel. American mid-western farmers may try to block it in Congress, for in the present open market they are getting $2.79 a bushel. The Agreement provides a five-year contract which sets a maximum price of two dollars and a minimum of $1.50 in the first year, decreasing to $1.10 in 1952. Such plans as these, adopted on such a great scale by so many countries are wise long-term attempts not only to provide food for Europe at reasonable costs (and incidentally to make E.R.P. dollars go farther) but to stabilize a basic market and protect the growers.

Some Canadian wheat growers in the West have been carping about their apparent losses in being forced to sell much of their wheat to Britain at prices below those in the open market. They may object to the new Agreement. It is true that the difference between the British and the unrestricted world price have amounted thus far under the British contract to $150,000,000. That has not been a direct loss to the Canadian wheat producer. He has received enormous subsidies from Ottawa, he has a guaranteed market and a guaranteed price. Both the British contract and the World Wheat Agreement will protect him from the disastrously low prices of the mid-thirties. He cannot expect to have a price floor and no ceiling.

The Age Of Substitutes

If it is the mark of a really progressive intelligence to give delighted welcome to whatever is now, we must confess at once to being a mossback. We greet the news that something new has been discovered to take the place of something thoroughly satisfactory with doubtful groans. We sigh for the days when cloth was cloth, leather was leather, and food did not contains extra vitamins. This is very wicked of us, but we can't help it.

It is with no particular pleasure, therefore, that we read that twelve of Britain's leading industrial scientists have been set to work to evolve the following:

New, and at present undreamed-of foods.

New tastes for "old" foodstuffs that are wholesome but not particularly palatable.

General use of soap in which there is not a particle of fat.

Goods made of ersatz cotton every bit as good, if not better than, the real thing.

Boots and shoes made entirely without leather, from laboratory-produced materials.

Entirely new materials for clothes.

Houses built without an inch of timber.

A vast new range of plastic materials.

The discovery of such things would help Britain to cut down her dollar deficit, certainly. We hope that they do not also cut down the traditional excellence of the materials used in British manufactures, for if they do, Britain will have lost something which has been of the utmost value to her—her reputation for producing first-rate goods.

Finland is showing that she has a backbone as well as Finns, even though she may be but another fish caught in the Soviet net.

The Erection Of The Town Hall

(From Dr. Poole's History, 1867)

UNTIL the close of 1849, Peterborough had the rank of a mere village, and was an integral part of the Township of North Monaghan. With the passing of the act of incorporation, which came into force in January, 1850, a new era may be said to have commenced in its history. Property greatly increased in value, and in a few years new and fine blocks of buildings took the place of many of the first wooden houses which till then had occupied the best sites in the leading thoroughfares.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE late Thomas Benson, Esq., was the first mayor; and the new council over which he presided appear to have lost no time in inaugurating steps for the improvement of the town. In the spring of that year, a premium of one hundred dollars was offered for "the best approved plans, specifications and estimates for a new town hall and market house; and also for plans, etc., of an uniform series of buildings to occupy three sides of the market square."

❖ ❖ ❖

THOSE offered by Mr. Thomas, architect, of Toronto, were accepted, though not without a protest as to alleged unfairness on the part of the council, by Mr. Kivas Tully. In accordance with these, the corner stone of the present town hall and market house, was laid in September, 1851, with imposing ceremony, music and much rejoicing.

❖ ❖ ❖

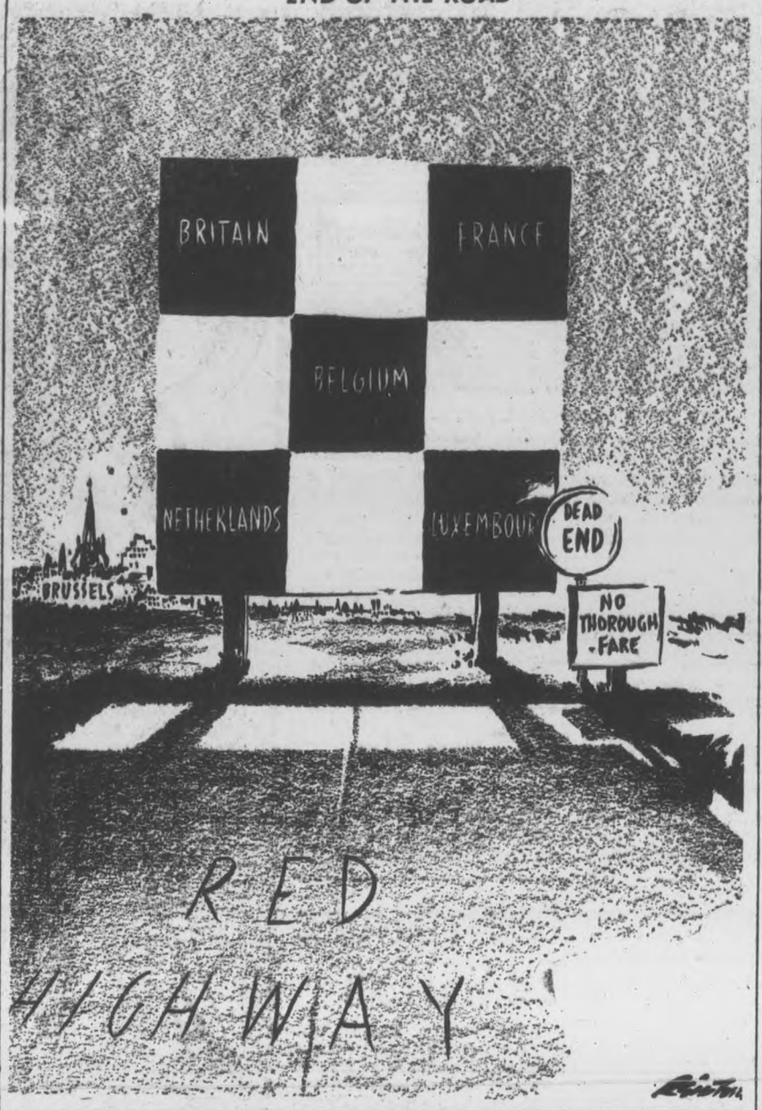
THE following inscription, on parchment, was deposited in the corner stone:—"On the 27th day of September, A.D., 1851, Charles Hudson, Esq., mayor laid the foundation stone of this building, erected by order of the Town Council of the Town of Peterborough. Members of the Council,—Charles Hudson, Esq., mayor, James Harvey, Joseph Spenceley, John Reid, Thomas Chambers, Clarke Spalding, James T. Henhorn, Edmund Chamberlen, Egerton Perry, M.D., Thomas Hutcheson, Robinson Rutherford and John Haggart. Members of the Building Committee,—Edmund Chamberlen, James T. Henthorn, Thomas Chambers, John Reid and James Harvey, Esquires. Walter Sheridan, Esq., architect. Mr. David Taylor, contractor. (Signed) W. H. Wrighton, Town Clerk."

❖ ❖ ❖

THE importance of the occasion was such, that it was arranged that an ox should be roasted whole, wherewith to entertain "all and singular" who might choose to accept the hospitality of the town. This part of the programme was literally carried out, but, unfortunately, while revolving upon the spit, the body of the ox was carried away, either piecemeal or entire, by persons whose guilt was never verified; and thus the great feast of the evening fell to the portion of others than those for whom it was intended. A sumptuous dinner was however served by Thomas Chambers, Esq., at his "Commercial Hotel", which was followed by speeches and such conviviality as is usual on occasions of the kind.

❖ ❖ ❖

IN the following year, (1852) two fine brick buildings were erected on the Market Square, on the corner of George and Simcoe streets, which were at once occupied, but were unfortunately destroyed by fire in June, 1857. Soon after, the present market block rose on the ruins. Its tasteful front is creditable to the town, while its capacious shops, of greath depth, afford ample accommodation for the extensive business carried on within their precincts. These buildings were erected, not by the corporation, but by private individuals, under a ground lease for 21 years; the town being then bound either to renew the leases, or pay for the improvements at an estimate of their value.



❖ ❖ ❖

ON the 6th of May, 1864, the Town Hall bell was erected in its present position in the Market House tower. Its weight is 902 pounds, and its total cost to the town $400. "On its being placed on its supports, Mr. Chief Engineer Helm, ascended the belfry, and amidst the cheers of the bystanders, broke upon it a bottle of wine, and in the name of the Fire Brigade called it "Protection."

The German Spell

Professor Carre, a well-known French writer, has published a little book with the title "French Writers and the German Mirage" which will astonish most of its readers by its revelation of the extent and the tenacity of French admiration for Germany between 1815 and 1870. His illustrations come from the most famous names in French literature, beginning with Mme. de Stael and ending with Taine and Renan. He suggests that what was wrong with their judgments was that they were all out of date. Mme. de Stael was admiring in 1810 a Germany that she had seen in 1804. Victor Hugo, who called Germany the "fatherland of all thinkers," was not afraid of the growing power of Prussia, "a young, vivacious, energetic, spiritual, and chivalrous nation." Renan thought that Germany's gift to the world was to be the "higher conscience that would bring with it the Kingdom of Heaven." Taine, also an ardent admirer, had something of a shock when he visited Germany just before the Franco-Prussian War. Almost the only French writer who saw in good time how events were shaping in Germany was Quinet, who sounded the alarm in 1831 and warned Michelet, who still cherished his admiration for Germany with his hostility to Britain and his mistrust of Russia, that "the unity of Germany was preparing itself in a most menacing manner." Michelet himself was so slow to grasp the truth that in 1866 he welcomed the Prussian victory over Austria as that of a serious Protestant over a Catholic and frivolous people; a judgment as unhappy as Marx's view that the transfer of power from Paris to Berlin was an advantage. Most people after reading all the tributes Germany received from French writers will ask themselves whether any other people has ever dissipated so much goodwill and sympathy by overbearing and aggressive conduct.—Manchester Guardian.

Dominions At Lake Success

(NEW YORK TIMES)

ONE of the best mirrors for seeing the British Commonwealth of Nations as it stands today, new in concept, individual in national sovereignty, united on the gravest world political issues, is the United Nations. Here, in the councils of the fifty-seven-government association for peace, seven of the eight dominions of the British Commonwealth play their self-determined political roles with greater freedom and greater individually than ever before.

It was the first time that a British Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations appeared at the United Nations to conduct the United Kingdom's side of a case, when Philip Noel-Baker, who holds this position, arrived at Lake Success from London to deliver the views of Great Britain on the dispute between the dominions of India and Pakistan, over the prized territory of Kashmir. The office of Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations is new, being an outgrowth of the former British governmental offices for India and Dominion Affairs; it symbolizes the new concept of the Commonwealth, which is now officially defined by His Majesty's Government as referring to all Britannia, from the non-self-governing territories, such as the Gold Coast, to the fully sovereign nations, such as Canada.

The very fact that such intra-British disputes as that over Kashmir and the South African-Indian racial case are brought before the United Nations, instead of allowed to remain solely within the diplomatic purview of the British Commonwealth, and the fact that the United Kingdom continues to restrict itself to such an objective role in the United Nations on these issues emphasize the intellectual independence, continually increasing, of each member nation of the Commonwealth.

On the other hand, on such fundamental issues as the international control of atomic energy and the terms of the German and Japanese peace treaties all the dominions of the Commonwealth are substantially in full agreement. The development of the old British Empire into the new British Commonwealth of Nations is a dynamic political phenomenon that reaffirms the historian's faith in the slow but just processes of Anglo-Saxon democracy.

That Easy Tax Form

The new income tax form came to our desk recently and after hearing all about its clarity and simplicity we turned to it as a tired traveller to a mountain stream, ready to say "ah" and relax as to a Debussy melody.

With just a touch of dismay we noted right off it was still six full pages, that it was divided into 58 sections, most of which included many a sub-section, and more than a few of which sub-sections were parcelled up into a's, b's and c's. There was, however, an atmosphere of well-meaning about it; for example the delicacy of putting the paragraph about penalties at the very end, and the amoral, businesslike way of stating without blushing that for purposes of taxation an illegitimate child is indeed a child.

It seemed, too, that elaborate precautions were being taken to define terms, although there may be some heart-searching by parents who claim exemption for children over whom they must have not only custody but control. Still, "control" is an accommodating sort of word and if the taxpayer at the time of testifying to such control over his child finds the ink has date stones in it and the pen has been used as a dart—well, a little freedom makes for democracy and strong minds.

What really muddied the stream though, and at the same time inserted harsh noises into the melody and thereby garbled the document no less than this metaphor, was the key definition for purposes of clarity of when is a child qualified for family allowance. It read, and we're not quoting from memory, as follows:

"Child qualified for family allowance means a child that in the last month of the taxation year in respect of which the expression is being applied, was qualified or might have been qualified by registration under the Family Allowances Act, 1944, so that an allowance under that Act was or might have been payable in respect of that month or the imemdiately following month."

At this point we laid the whole thing aside and concluded that things are about the same, or might have been were they not otherwise specified as different, which they weren't.—Ottawa Journal.

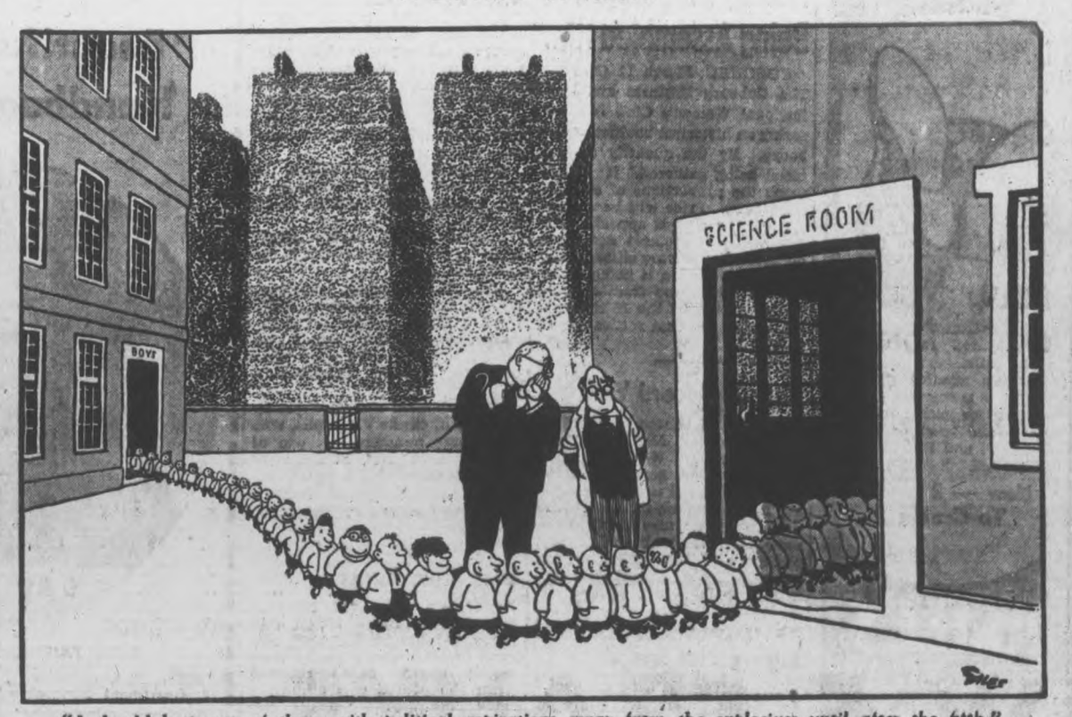
A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now it came to pass in the days when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land. And a certain man of Beth-le-hem-judah went to sojourn in the country of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons. And the name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife Naomi, and the name of his two sons Mahlon and Chilion, Ephrathites of Beth-lehem-judah. And they came into the country of Moab, and continued there.

And Elimelech Naomi's husband died; and she was left, and her two sons. And they took them wives of the women of Moab; the name of the one was Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten years. And Mahlon and Chilion died also both of them; and the woman was left of her two sons and her husband. Then she arose with her daughters in law, that she might return from the country of Moab: for she had heard in the country of Moab how that the Lord had visited his people in giving them bread.



Wherefore she went forth out of the place where she was, and her two daughters in law with her; and they went on the way to return unto the land of Judah. And Naomi said unto her two daughters in law, Go, return each to her mother's house: the Lord deal kindly with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me.... And they lifted up their voice, and wept again: and Orpah kissed her mother in law; but Ruth clave unto her.

And she said, Behold, thy sister in law is gone back unto her people, and unto her gods: return thou after thy sister in law. And Ruth said, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God. (Ruth 1: 1-8. 14-16.)

Weather Raises Bettors' Hopes In Spring Double

By MICHAEL O'MARA.

LONDON, March 11 (CP). — If Britain's present spell of fine, warm weather continues a few more days, bettors have high hopes of turning the tables on the bookies in the spring double —the Lincolnshire Handicap and the Grand National Steeplechase —generally one of the heaviest combined betting events of the turf year.

Favorites for both races, respectively, the French-bred Clarion III and Lord Bicester's Silver Fame, hardened at last night's Victoria Club call-over. The four-year-old flat racer tightened from 20-1 to 100-6 and the nine-year-old fencer from 100-8 to 100-9.

Both are near the top of the handicap in their respective races and will likely need excellent going to carry their big weights—Silver Fame will lug 160 pounds while 124 is Clarion III's impost —home ahead of the big fields.

46 Entrants

Forty-six entrants remain in the National to be run at Aintree March 20 and likely more than 50 will go to the post in the Lincolnshire March 13, possibly beating the record for the flat race field in Britain. Fifty-one juveniles competed in the race several years ago at Newmarket.

If it comes up muddy, bookies will likely score heavily. That is what happened last year when the spring double was contested in miserable conditions when Jockey Treble won the Lincolnshire and Caughoo captured the Grand National— both at 100-1, and both lightly weighed.

Caughoo did his chances no good when he fell at the final fence in the last pre-National tune-up when running Wednesday at Navan, Eire. On the contrary, the 1946 victor, Lovely Nottage, ran nicely over three miles of the Windsor course to finish fourth in a fairly high-class field.

Hamilton Whips Dutchmen 5-2 In Overtime

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tigers and Windsor Spitfires continued their winning ways last night as the Tigers took a 5-2 overtime win from Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen to go into a two-game lead in their best-of-seven Ontario Hockey Association senior finals and Windsor squeezed a 6-5 victory over Barrie Flyers for their second straight win in the best of seven junior finals.

In the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Porcupine Combines shaded Copper Cliff Redmen 5-4 in theeir best-of-seven junior finals. Copper Cliff now leads the series 2-1.

Spitfires started off in strong style but faded in the last period as the Flyers put on a last-minute attack to net two goals in 11 seconds of play. Windsor led 2-1 at the end of the initial frame and 6-3 at the end of the second before Barrie finally climbed closer.

Shifty Gord Haidy outstepped the Flyers for three goals while Marvel Pronovost, George Ouellette and Eddie Busch each scored one. Rugged Ray Gariepy was high man for Barrie with two goals while Sam McNabey, Don Ashbee and Rusty Aikin each had one.

Close Game

The Hamilton-Kitchener affair was closely matched all the way with both goalies, Art Childs of the Tigers and Keith Woodall of the Dutchmen, playing standout hockey. Tigers led 1-0 at the end of the first and 2-1 at the end of the second. Dutchmen tied it in the third to force the game into overtime.

Then in that extra period the Dutchmen promptly fell apart and three Tiger players rammed in goals to give them the wide edge.

Carl Smelle provided the first-period Hamilton goal and Clare Shillington got the second in the middle session. In the overtime frame, Swat Mason, Ab Conick and Frankie Liscombe all connected once. The two Dutchmen goals came from Sparky Weiler and Bobby Bauer.

Hitting, Detroit Tigers' most needed weapon for the 1948 campaign, has come easy for regulars and rookies alike in the early exhibition games. In their first two contests, the Bengals banged out 29 hits for 20 runs, with almost everybody getting in on the fun.

Spraying For Warble Fly Too Costly, Council Told

LINDSAY, March 11—(ENS)—"It's virtually impossible for Victoria County to undertake the spraying of cattle for the purpose of warble fly control," Reeve. Charles D. Logan of Verulam told members of the county council Wednesday.

"It's estimated there are 66,000 cattle in the county, and that's altogether too many to start spraying," he declared. "If anyone is to undertake warble fly control it should be the townships individually."

He was speaking in reference to the request of a delegation from Eldon township, which waited on council asking that steps to eliminate this pest be taken. William Newman, Lorneville, a spokesman for the delegation, had said it was estimated beef raisers in the county lost about $330,000 annually owing to wastage of cattle caused by the warble fly.

Reeve J. S. Dix of Mariposa said the spraying solution might cost $800 a barrel, and a mobile spraying unit would cost more than $2,000. "And one spraying unit could not do the work," he said. "The cost is too prohibitive and the results might not be worth it."

At the suggestion of Reeve H. H. McFadden of Lindsay, action was deferred to the June session in order that more study could be given. The delegation's request that steps be taken to wipe out wild carrot weed in the county's ranch land was also left over for consideration.

Central Ontario Badminton Titles To Be Decided In Peterborough

The Peterborough Badminton Club is holding the Central Ontario Badminton Championship matches in the Market Hall and Armouries, March 19 and 20.

On Friday night, the men's doubles matches will be played to the finals at the Market Hall, and the ladies' doubles will be played to the finals at the Armouries.

On Saturday afternoon, mixed doubles will be played at the Market Hall.

Final matches will be played Saturday night at the Market Hall. There will also be consolation events.

First Since 1937

This is the first time since 1937 that these matches have been held in Peterborough. In that year, they were held in the Armouries when Bowmanville won the championship.

Last year the matches were held in Oshawa, when Peterborough and Bowmanville tied at the end of two days' play.

It is expected that Oshawa, Bowmanville, Lindsay, Belleville and Peterborough will have full entries registered by the end of this week.

Each club may enter four men's, four ladies' and eight mixed teams.

Won Last Year

Peterborough won the ladies' doubles championships last year when Audrey O'Donobhue and Dorothy Sullivan took the title after three hard games.

The home club is favored to take this event again with Marg. Baker and A. O'Donoghue teamed to make an outstanding ladies' pair.

V. O'Donoghue and Bob Baker reached the finals in the men's last year, but were ousted by the strong Bowmanville pair, Goose Osborne and Jack Bruff.

The Badminton Club is playing five nights a week, tuning up for the coming matches, and the executive have made arrangements for a full program of matches.

The Peterborough club goes to Toronto this week-end for a match with the Strathgowan club.

Only War Can Free Romania Ex-King Michael Tells Newsmen

NEW YORK, March 11—(CP).—Only war, former King Michael of Romania, said yesterday, can rid his country of Communism under existing circumstances. The tall, handsome ex-king, who arrived with his mother, Queen Helen, aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth for his first visit to the United States, said he still considers himself the rightful ruler of Romania.

Michael was asked: "Under present circumstances, do you think there is any way of freeing your country from the Communists except by war?"

He replied: "Not at present."

Warm Welcome

The former king and his mother were welcomed to New York by a crowd of some 500 standing outside Pier 90, among whom were pro-Communists carrying placards labelled: "Our republic greets the Romanian people's republic," and anti-Communists bearing placards with the declaration: "Long live King Michael of Romania.

The 27-year-old king who abdicated under Communistic pressure and his mother were welcomed to the United States by what veteran ships' news reporters termed the most boisterous press reception in years. One Cunard White-Star Line steward remarked caustically: "If this is democracy, I'll eat tomatoes."

To nearly all queries as to how he would attain his aims of returning to the throne of Romania, Michael replied: "I don't know."

Michael said he plans to stay two or three weeks in the United States but has no itinerary. He doubted that he would have time to visit Canada, but would so if possible. Such a visit may come when he goes to Detroit.

In answer to a question as to whether Russia forced his abdication, he said he didn't "see any Russians about."

Did Romanian Communists compel him to give up his throne? "Yes."

Asked whether refusal by the Pope to permit his marriage as a Greek Orthodox Church member to Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma, a Roman Catholic, would prevent their wedding, Michael said: "I'll have to get back first and ask her."

Legionnaires Down Two Goals After A 6-4 Reverse In Orillia

Legionnaires are down two goals in their OHA Senior "B" round to Orillia Narvos after losing 6-4 last night on Orillia ice. The return game of the goals-to-count series is in Lindsay tomorrow evening. About 2,000 fans—over 100 from Peterborough—saw a fast, tight tussle on good ice in Orillia. The Narvos proved to be big and fast, outweighing Legion by a good margin and being just as fast skaters. Two Toronto referees let a lot go, and missed a lot, and Legionnaires suffered several casualties in the scrap. Ned Vitarelli got a cut on the head when tripped into the boards, Johnny Godfrey had an injured knee late in the third and had to retire, and Bob Greenlaw received torn shoulder muscles. Play was rugged most of the way.

Ernie and Ace

Again the line of Ernie Nicholls, Ace Nicholls and Al Burns proved more potent in close, as they accounted for two goals, while each of the other lines was good for one. Ernie and Ace had two scoring points each. Godfrey and Ned Vitarelli went fine on defence, and Ross Nicholls kicked aside a flock of hot stabs in every frame. Orillia had an edge on play in the first frame, Legion went best in the second, and it was pretty even in the third—two Orillia goals being scored when Legion had a man in the cooler. Payne, Anderson and the two Gordons were the pick of the husky homesters.

Ernie Nicholls came close to counting early in the first period, a fast, fairly clean frame. McNeil and then Moreland tested Ross in close as the Narvos began to press the attack. But Legion scored first with Ace Nicholls taking Burns' forward pass at close range and hammering it home. Orillia roared back and Anderson soon evened it up from Payne on a fast passing play right inside. Varty made it 2-1 from French as they swept around defence on the big ice and gave Nicholls no chance to block the quick flip. Burns and Ernie combined on a nice play and Rochetta pulled a good try, but Orillia had the best of it as the period wound up.

Legion Tied It

It was different next heat as Legion found their legs. They had more of the play most of this chukker but only outscored Orillia 2-1, the second ending with the game tied 3-3. Bob Greenlaw and Crowley tore in early but were blocked and then Payne tallied on a neat return pass from Red Gordon inside for Orillia. The latter player went off then for holding and Legion pressed till Hicks got it for tripping. Both were back and Ross robbed Brandon. Dootch Vitarelli was gated for hooking and Crowley scored for Legion when Ned Vitarelli shook him loose with a forward, Bill breaking away fast and pulling the goalie out nicely. He nearly got another but later went over for interference. E. Nicholls came close on a breakaway and, with Ted Gordon off for tripping, Dootch Vitarelli tied the score in a scramble, Parnell aiding.

Penalty Hurt

Ned Vitarelli drew a holding penalty early in the third and Orillia struck fast. Payne scored with Red Gordon and Anderson assisting as they tore right in on Ross. French and Bob Greenlaw mixed it and threw punches to draw major penalties. With Ned still off, MacNeil raced in to count after passes from Ted Gordon and Brandon. Ned got back and they had several nice chances but Red Gordon made it 6-3 from Anderson on a hot angle shot from defence that got away from Ross. Godfrey came close as Legion threatened and then Ernie Nicholls scored on a slap shot at the goal-mouth after passes from Godfrey and Ace Nicholls. Rochetta and Crowley nearly counted and then Ned Vitarelli was hurt but remained on, and Godfrey soon had to leave with a bad knee. Ted Gordon and Ned were chased for roughing and it was hot and even, with Rochetta and Crowley nearly notching another just before the gong.

The teams:

Legion: Goal, R. Nicholls; defence, Godfrey and N. Vitarelli; centre, Rochetta; wings, R. Greenlaw and Crowley; alternates, E. Nicholls, A. Nicholls, Burns, Parnell, H. Greenlaw, D. Vitarelli and Hicks.

Orillia: Goal, Clarke; defence, Brandon and Whitney; centre, Payne; wings, Anderson and R. Gordon; alternates, MacNeil, T. Gordon, Antonia, Moreland, French and Varty.

Referees, M. Hackett and P. Allen of Toronto.

Summary:

First Period

Legion—A. Nicholls (Burns) 4.35
Orillia—Anderson (Payne) . 8.00
Orillia—Varty (Fcench) 9.24
No penalties.

Stirling Grabs A Big Win Over Sundridge

STIRLING, March 11—(ENS)—Before a sellout crowd here last night, the Stirling boys took a 15-6 victory over Sundridge to give them a nine-goal lead in their OMHA midget "C" playoffs. Return game will be in Sundridge on Saturday. It was a fast, clean game with Wanamaker, Mason and McCrory combining beautifully to battle the visitors. Putnam went good in goal for the losers, while MacDonald, B. McCreary and Wittick worked hard.

After MacDonald's tally in the first, Wanamaker counted two and Mason three for Stirling, McCrory having two assists and Wanamaker one. The latter got another in the second, as did Robson and McCrory, while Mason and McCrory had assists. MacDonald tallied from Whittick for Sundridge. Dobson added one for Stirling in the third with MacDonald then counting from Whittick for Sundridge, Woods adding another from McCreary who later got two, assisted by Wittick and Mousseau. Mason scored for Stirling from McCrory, the latter then getting a pair as Wanamaker dented the twine three times in the third. Mason helped a lot with four assists in this stanza. The teams:

Sundridge: Goal, Putnam; defence, Wood and Kunkel; centre, Steele; wings, Mousseau and Ibbiston; alternates, Stack, MacDonald, Wittick, B. McCreary, Christie, Webber and C. McCreary.

Stirling: Goal, Donnan; defence, Robson and Dobson; centre, Mason; wings, McCrory and Wanamaker; alternates, Chambers, Ingram, Hermiston, Phillips, Burkitt, Faulkner and Burgess.

Hockey's Big Seven

Although held pointless as the Boston Bruins toppled the New York Rangers, 6-3 last night, Buddy O'Connor clung to his slim one point lead in the individual scoring race. Two Chicago players moved into a second place deadlock with Norman (Bud) Poile as Gaye Stewart picked up a goal and Doug Bentley added an assist to give them a total of 54 points. Ted Lindsay scored a goal and picked up two assists to move up ahead of Toronto's Max Bentley with 51 points

Industrial heads, morally behind the Civic Arens program, are considering company action as well as the rink committee suggestion of employees contributing two hours' time a week for four weeks toward financing the project. These manufacturers are ready to move in and assist if some 60 per cent of people answering a rink questionnaire—appearing three nights starting today in The Examiner—are in favor of the arena. They are not obligated to contribute anything by voting in favor of having this arena in Peterborough. Well, it's nice to know that these manufacturers see the need of such a local setup and are in favor of it. Service clubs have promised co-operation when the actual drive begins March 18, and the general committee will handle the campaign. There'll be a meeting tonight to report progress.

Monty Looked Good

One of the most promising youths—and there were several on each side—to show in the recent senior "B" group playoffs betwixt Petes and Legion, was Keith Montgomery. Centre of a controversy over eligibility to play for the Petes ('twas found out that he could), he hustled every minute and showed a lot. With another year yet in junior play, if not two, Keith has a good future in hockey before him. He is husky, scrappy and a real fast skater—and this experience in senior "B" playoff competition won't hurt him a bit. You'll likely hear more of Monty in other puck seasons.

Reserve seat ducats were sold out yesterday morn, we're told, for the Orillia-Legion struggle in Lindsay tomorrow night. An 8.30 OHA senior "B" playdown game, return one of the two-game series with goals to count. Sure to be a sellout crowd and it ought to be a dandy duel on fast ice. Weather has been kind to Legionnaires again in tightening up for them, thereby permitting at least one more "home" game on natural ice. Quite a bit of room for rush-seat patrons at either end of the rink, but they should get there early as Lindsay fans form a hefty following for Legion, too.

* * * * * *

A Penalty Cost Two

We think Legion can capture this series, though they're down two markers after that 6-4 win for Orillia on home ice. They got two quickies in the third last eve with Legion a man short. But they can't be sold short by any means. They're a lot bigger than the locals and just about as fast, with good passing plays and a smart goalie. Play it rather rugged, particularly with two referees coasting around and missing nearly everything—offsides, holding, tripping, etc. For both sides. The Vitarelli crew didn't get clicking in the first frame, but snapped back to have a margin on play in the second. And it was about even in the third. Real fast throughout with goth goalies kept on the jump.

* * * * * *

Ernie and Ace Nicholls were each in on two goals and nearly had a few more. Our defence went good and Ross was fine in the twine teepee. Whole gang worked hard and if they keep up that pace on Lindsay ice, they should pull the series out yet and go into provincial semi-finals. If Godfrey and Bob Greenlaw are not sidelined with injuries. Johnny got a nasty bang on his knee and he was limping badly after the game. Greenlaw had his shoulder hurt and 'tis thought some muscles are torn. Ned Vitarelli got a gash on the noggin but will be in action for sure. One fist fight with Greenlaw getting the best of it, though both drew majors. Orillia management wanted a hundred reserve seats for the return match in Lindsay but they were sold out yesterday. It'll be a sizzling struggle on the morrow, undoubtedly.

Four Of 'Em Mixed

A furious finish to the main mat bout at the Brock last p.m. and Referee Bert Maxwell just threw his hands up finally and called it a "no decision" affair. Wee Willie Davis and Earl McCready were having a hot tussle when Jack Moore got into it on Davis' side. Then Ben Sharpe took up the cudgels for Earl and first thing one knew the four were into it in the ring in a four-man riot. While the fans screamed to the high heavens, or anyway halfway there. Those four hefties certainly supplied some heated action at the windup. Hi Lee, just 297 pounds of him, and large Ben Sharpe battled it out to a draw in the semi-windup with the ref counting both out of the ring at the end. Dr. Ed Meske won an official decision on points o'er rough Jack Moore in the prelim. Yes, sir, those pro grapplers provide few dull moments when they're in action.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Major Frederic McLaughlin's threat to ice an all-American Nation Hockey League team was carried out at Chicago 11 years ago tonight. The Black Hawks, renamed "Yankees" for a night, didn't do so well, losing to Boston Bruins, 6-2. The Chicago boss gave up the all-American hockey idea in short order.

DuVals' Cagers Hand Loss To Towne Togs

TORONTO, March 11.—(CP).—Toronto DuVals downed Peterborough Towne Togs 41-24 last night in an Ontario Basketball Association intermediate match. The game was the opener of a home-and-home semi-final series.

The Petes took a first period lead but were soon outdistanced. The loss was the Togs' first in LOBA competition this season, the visitors coming to the city as Eastern Ontario champions.

Barbara Barbaze, one of the top scorers in the Toronto league, paced the winners with nine points, with Jean Shycoski coming through with three field goals and a foul shot for the Duval five. Beryl Csumrik was a standout both on the offensive and defensive for the losing quintet.

The return game will be played in Peterborough Saturday, the series' winner meeting the Niagara Falls group cham for the Ontario title.

Peterborough Towne Togs (24): Csumrik 7, Caverly 2, Pringle 5, Hewitt 6, Castle 2, Kennedy, Deyell, Rose 1, Vass 1.

Toronto DuVals (41): Patrylock 4, Matthews 2, Tufford 2, Branston 3, Smith 3, Schofield 4, Corbett 4, Shycoski 7, Barbaze 9, Davidson, Finlayson 3.

Norwood Wins Over Marmora

NORWOOD, March 11—(ENS)—Before a record crowd here last night, Norwood pulled out a 6-5 nod over Marmora in a TVL finals to force at least one more game. With Marmora now up two to one in the best-of-five finals, the scene shifts back to Madoc on Friday evening. Last night's tilt was a sizzler on fast ice with every bit of the arena packed to the rafters with a noisy throng. League president Art Duncan of Batawa was on hand in case Marmora cleaned up the series.

Play was fast and furious throughout, but clean generally as only three penalties were drawn. Hamilton again sparked the Norwood attack, being in on five of their six goals, and Payne also proved a potent sniper. Cousins, Goodchild and K. Trumble were probably the pick of the visitors, but all players—including the goalies—on both teams turned in a great effort. Norwood struck hard early, held their own the middle part of the game while Marmora battled back hard near the finish.

The teams

Marmora—Goal, Koski; defence, G. Leonard and E. Leonard; centre, Cousins; wings, K. Trumble and Goodchild; alternates, Loveless, E. Trumble, McInroy, Doyle, Forestell and Brooks.

Norwood—Goal, Morrison; defence, Hamilton and Pettersen; centre, Scott; wings, Payne and Brown; alternates, Puffer, B. Webb, R. Webb, Fennell, Wight, Rogers and Ross.

Referee, R. Ouimet; linesman, A. Weir.

Summary:

First Period

Norwood—Hamilton (Puffer) 14:07
Norwood—B. Webb (Hamilton) 14:28
Norwood—Payne (Pettersen) 15:04
Penalty—Cousins, Hamilton.

Second Period

Marmora—Cousins (Goodchild) 1:15
Marmora—Loveless (E. Trumble) 7:20
Norwood—Hamilton (Payne) 9:09
Penalty—Hamilton

Third Period

Norwood—Payne (Hamilton) 1:12
Norwood—Hamilton (Payne, Brown) 4:05
Marmora—K. Trumble (E. Leonard, Goodchild) 11:42
Marmora—Cousins (K. Trumble) 16:05
Marmora—G. Leonard 16:35
No penalties.

Millers Edge Tulsa

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis Millers are pointing for a winning streak to help them wind up the United States Hockey league season in first place. The Millers halted a five-game losing streak last night at Minneapolis with a 5-3 victory over Tulsa. The victory pushed the Millers' points to 70 in the standings, four more than second-place Kansas City.

Grapple Bout Ends In "No Count" With Four-Man Riot In The Ring

The main wrestling bout at the Summer Gardens last night between Earl McCready and Wee Willie Davis produced one of the wildest affairs ever seen here when Referee Bert Maxwell ruled "no decision."

McCready and Davis had each won a fall, Earl in 17 minutes and Davis evening it up in 18 minutes. Davis had the support of a second in Jack Moore and gained his fall after considerable coaching from Moore, much to the irritation of the fans.

McCready took the first fall with his rolling cradle splits and Davis the second with a choke hold and body slam.

In the third round Earl was pouring it to big Willie and twice caught the Californian in his rolling cradle splits. But each time Davis managed to get to the ropes and it looked as if Moore was of some aid in Davis' escape.

That must have been what Ben Sharpe thought also for he came around the ring to tell Moore off. With that the chesty Moore threw a punch that caught Sharpe nicely in the throat. Big Ben replied with about three elbows to Moore's head. In the meantime McCready had Davis pretty flat in the ring. The fight between Moore and Sharpe overflowed right into the ring where Moore pulled Earl off Davis. From that moment on there was pandemonium.

All In There

Sharpe and McCready flew at Davis and Moore and the four big powerhouses smashed and crashed around the ring like a flock of elephants. Ben and Earl were definitely getting the best of the four-man riot when Maxwell decided there had been too much interference and "threw" all parties out.

The semi-final between Ben Sharpe and Hi Lee was a humdinger and almost as wild as the main go. It ended in a double count-out.

The enormous Lee, who tips the scale at 297, proved to be even wilder than when he was here last spring. He hurled his gigantic body at Ben Sharpe as if he were a lightweight. He can certainly move fast for a big fellow. Sharpe however did not back up and at times the two giants stood toe to toe and slugged it out. On three different occasions they smashed head-first through the ropes and were lucky to land with no broken bones. Ben made good use of that "monkey-drop" manoeuvre of his off the ropes and on one occasion managed to lift his huge adversary over his head for a body slam that shook the building.

The end came when both tumbled out of the ring and neither would let the other back in. It was a torrid go and had the fans on their toes and yelling all the way.

Meske Wins Decision

Dr. Ed Meske flew to a points decision over Jack Moore, the former Ohio State full back. The boys dished up a fast and rough match with Moore proving the villain of the piece. He almost finished the wrestling bone-setter with a crotch-stand hold, but Meske held his own most of the way. At the end of the 30 minutes the referee decided in favor of the blond Meske who appeared to have a slight edge.

Wings Wallop Hawks 7-2 Take Over NHL Leadership

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

That's the darndest finish the National Hockey League has ever put on. Detroit Red Wings walloped the fifth-place Chicago Black Hawks 7-2 last night to take over the league leadership. The question is: Can the Toronto Maple Leafs beat the tail-end Canadiens at Montreal tonight and get back on even terms with the Wings? The other game last night had Boston Bruins scoring three last-period goals to beat New York Rangers 6-3. That puts Boston one point back of the third-place Rangers.

The four play-off positions still aren't settled mathematically. For instance, the tail-end Montreal Canadiens can still get into the Stanley Cup fray if they win all their remaining games and Boston and Chicago lose theirs. But Chicago and Montreal are going to get the bad news any day now. One defeat for Montreal and they're out of the play-offs, no matter what the other teams do. Likewise for the Hawks.

Race Close

The race to the wire is so close that the NHL governors postponed their meeting scheduled for New York today, to fix the Stanley Cup dates, until next Tuesday.

Today's standing shows Detroit with 71 points and four games left. Toronto has 69 and five games left. New York has 53 with five games remaining. Boston 52 and five, Chicago 44 and four, Montreal 43 and five.

The Wings, smarting under the defeat they suffered at Chicago Sunday, made no bones about it when they entertained the Hawks last night. They led 3-0 in the first and 6-0 in the second period. Harry Lumley in the Detroit goal looked a cinch for his seventh shut-out until Ralph Nattrass and Gaye Stewart scored for Chicago early in the third period.

Gordon Howe scored two of the Detroit goals, the others being potted by Pete Horeck, Rod Morrison, Jack Stewart, Ted Lindsay and Jim McFadden

Clinch It

At Boston, the Bruins and Rangers were on even terms until the final frame, when Boston scored three goals to clinch it. Kenny Smith scored two Boston goals, the others coming from Pete Babando, Jimmy Peters, Johnny Pierson and Paul Ronty. The 19-year-old Ronty, brought up recently from Bruins' Hershey farm, besides his own goal, set up two other scoring plays.

Tony Lewick scored two of the Rangers' goals and Ed Kullman got the other. Rangers' genial coach, Frank Boucher, lost his smile under the Boston avalanche in the last period and in the final minute yanked Jim Henry from the nets to send six forwards up, but it didn't work.

LONDON NEXT STOP — Morris Curotta, Australia's track sensation (above) will represent his homeland at the Olympic games in London this year. An "unknown" until a few months ago, Curotta has become a public idol and authorities predict a great future for the young runner.

AUSTRALIAN WOMEN ATHLETES—Australia's women athletes have been training hard for selection in the team to represent Australia at this year's Olympic games. Among the leading contenders are: Judy Joy Davies, 21, of Victoria (left). She placed third on the Olympic swimming team. She holds the Australian 110 yards back-stroke and 880 yards free-style titles. Denise Spencer (left centre), 18, Queensland, was placed fifth in the Olympic swimming team. She holds Australian 110, 220 and 440 yards free-style titles. She also holds record for 440 yards free-style. Nancy Lyons (right centre), 17, Queensland, was placed sixth in Olympic swimming team. She holds Australian 220 yards breaststroke title. Her time for the swim is equal to the world's best. Marjorie MsQuade, 13, (right), Victoria, was placed eighth in Olympic swimming team. One of youngest to go to games, she holds the Australian 110 and 220 yards junior free-style titles and the record for the 220.

Barons In 22 Tilts Without Loss

By The Canadian Press.

Cleveland Barons' remarkable unbeaten string in the American Hockey League to-day stands at 22 games, thanks to a 11-0 triumph over the lowly Philadelphia Rockets. The game, played in Philadelphia last night, left the first-place Barons eight points in front of the idle Buffalo Bisons in the Western section. With only one game left to finish out the season, Cleveland is assured of the top spot.

In other games played last night, Providence Reds, Eastern loop leaders, went down to a 10-6 defeat at the hands of the faltering Springfield Indians, while Hershey Bears and St. Louis battled to a 3-3 tie.

Roy Kelly, Johnny Holota, and Roger Gagne led the scoring parade in Philadelphia with two goals each. Other Cleveland goals were divided evenly between Church Russell, Jack Lavoie, George Allen, and Herchenrater.

Last Night's Stars

Kenny Smith, Boston, who scored two goals as the Bruins whipped New York Rangers, 6-3.

Gordie Howe, Detroit, whose two goals paced Detroit Red Wings to a one-sided victory over Chicago Black Hawks.

Tony Leswick, New York, who scored two of Rangers' three goals.

SEEKS PLACE ON TEAM

Ernie McCullough, Calgary sprinter now attending Notre Dame University at South Bend, Ind., definitely intends to seek a place on Canada's Olympic track and field team, his father said here last night.

Ingrid Bergman Would Like Comedy Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, March 11 (AP) —Having conquered almost every kind of acting role, Ingrid Bergman now is eyeing comedy. She is letting it be known that after her film with Alfred Hitchcock in England, she wants a light role. Her only previous approach to comedy was her hilarious boxing scene in "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Mortimer Snerd is learning Swedish. Edgar Bergen is brushing up on his ancestral tongue in preparation for his return to Sweden this fall. Mortimer has never spoken the language, but Charlie McCarthy does; in fact, he talks it better than Edgar. The ventriloquist explains that Swedish sounds better from his throat than from his natural voice.

He Gets Around.

Billy DeWolfe, Paramount's travelling emissary, has an offer to help open a theatre in Lima, Peru. That's one trip he'd like to make, but he's too busy in "Isn't It Romantic?"

Lou Costello was discoursing on the business of horse racing on the "A and C. Meet Frankenstein" set: "You can't lose money racing horses. It casts nine bucks a day to board a horse. Training expenses are extra. But almost any horse should be in the money a few times during a meeting. With the fat purses they hand out these days, you'll at least break even." If you don't mind, Lou, I'll stick to pinochle.

Sights and Sounds.

Humphrey Bogart and Edward G. Robinson star in my favorite scene of the week. They were sunning themselves outside the "Key Largo" set when a rubber-necking tourist bus drove by. "Look—here's Eddie Robinson; smile of the people, Eddie," Bogart shouted. Robinson got up and pointed. "There's Bogey, too; say hello to the nice folks, Bogey."

10-Second Review

"Sitting Pretty" (20th-Fox) will roll 'em in the aisles. In these days of heavy screen fare, it will be embraced by audiences, since it considers nothing weightier than the problems of a small town couple (Robert Young, Maureen O'Hara) and their middle-aged baby sitter (Clifton Webb). Need I say more?

Fabulous Racing In Far East

By RAY TIMSON

VANCOUVER, March 11. — (CP).—Everybody has rupees to wager at Bombay and Calcutta race tracks. And you could lose fabulous Santa Anita inside either of them.

Tanned and talkative Peter Macritchie trundled into Vancouver recently and unfolded weird and wonderful tales of the turf in Palestine, India, China and Japan.

En route home, the Montreal newspaper man told Ken (Vancouver Province) McConnell that in the Far East there are sad conditions everywhere but at the races.

The Bombay and Calcutta tracks each have a capacity of 125,000 fans. And at Hong Kong races—or "rices"—they have a $147,000 sweep three times annually, which makes it the biggest 'stake' in the world today.

Elmira Up Two In Finals Over Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, March 11. — (ENS).—Elmira took a two-goal lead in the first of the Bantam "C" finals played on Lakefield ice before a bulging rink, as they shaded the Sea Scouts 9-7 Wednesday night.

Badly handled by Referee Leggott, the game got out of hand in the last period, when seven penalties were handed out and the referee had to have police protection to leave the rink.

Evenly matched, the teams battled to a 2-all draw in the first period. In the second Elmira went up a couple, scoring 3 to 1 by the Scouts, the session winding up with a score of 5-3, and the referee taking a terrific panning for allowing considerable rough play by the visitors without a check-up.

The final frame saw the Scouts even the score until he game got out of hand, and with three players in the jug at one time, Elmira grabbed an edge.

A Fine Effort

Pearson played an outstanding game, with Bill Twist and Gord Coyle displaying excellent performances, Coyle keeping up his record of three goals a game. Spike Sloan, Scout fireball, had an off-night on scoring, but figured in several assists. Wingett was up to par in the nets. Hunter, Heffernan and Wasson also turned in real hockey..

Klinck, big Elmira defense man, shone for the visitors, bagging three tallies, with the left-winger, Davis, notching a couple, and the goalkeeper, Soehrner, proved a hard boy to beat.

Coyle opened the scoring and Hunter added a quick one from Heffernan a coupe of minutes after. Marshall notched one for the visitors and Kinck added the evener six minutes later.

Davis put Elmire up one early in the second and Pearson tied it on a beautiful rush halfway through, only to have Klinck and Martin add two fast ones to put the visitors two goals up shortly before the period ended.

Roughed It Up

Davis again opened the scoring for the westerners in the third and the crowd went wild as Twist and Coyle each scored within two minutes. At this point the visitors started to rough it as Twist shoved in the tying goal. Quehl broke the tie three minutes later and Kinck added another. Here Referee Leggott finally started to hand out some penalties, and gated Martin, Thur, Sloan, Davis and Twist in quick succession. Thur grabbed another for Elmira. with the Scouts two down. While Davis was off for his second penalty Coyle and Sloan added the final for the Scouts a minute before the gong went, leaving the score 9-7.

The return match will be in Kitchener, it is expected, on Friday.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Last-minute excitement prevails down the line as the National Hockey League heads into the home stretch leading to the Stanley Cup playoffs in which players will share a money pot in excess of $200,000.

Final position means plenty to players involved and in the case of the Leafs and Wings it will amount to a difference of $500. First-place club players receive $1,000 each, whereas the second placers get $500, third $350, and fourth $150.

There is something new in this year's playoffs, and it will cost each cash customer 25 cents additional on each ticket with the extra income going towards the players' pension fund. Estimates say this figure could reach $80,000 after amusement tax is removed and already there is $26,000 in the fund from the all-star game last fall.

J. A. House, president of the Henley Aquatic Association of St. Catharines which conducts all rowing regattas for the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen of Canada, yesterday announced that the CAAO had confirmed three regattas on the Port Dalhousie course this summer. There are the Canadian school boy championships, with specified races for international competition with the American School Boy Racing Association, on June 5; the Canadian Olympic trials, under CAAO supervision, on June 26; and the 66th Royal Canadian Henley Regatta, July 28-31.

RCAF Flyers, Canada's Olympic hockey champions, yesterday defeated the Aik club team of Stockholm 4-0 in their forst match at Sweden. The game was the first of five scheduled games against Swedish clubs.

Maurice Podoloff, president of the American Hockey League, said yesterday that his circuit will recognize the life suspension given Billy Taylor of New York Rangers by the National Hockey League. The United States Hockey League also announced it had recognized Taylor's life suspension.

Jersey Joe Walcott, who became a celebrity overnight by twice flooring Joe Louis, last night engaged in a timid four-round exhibition with Austin Johnson, Atlantic City, at Chicago. Johnson kept up a full retreat for all four rounds. Net receipts were $2,972, not enough to meet Walcott's guarantee of $4,000.

Henry V. Safarik, defenceman on the Princeton University hockey team, was suspended yesterday on charges of playing in the Metropolitan and Eastern United States Hockey Leagues under the assumed name of "Lee." Action was taken under an Ivy League rule which calls for forfeiture of amateur standing for competing under an assumed name.

The daily double at Oaklawn Park, Hot Springs, Ark., paid off in four figures yesterday for the second straight day. The combination of Lucky Doo in the first race and Starladier in the second returned $3,306.70 for $2. Tuesday's daily double of Trot's Pride and Magic Chief paid $2,129.

BASEBALL

NEW YORK, March 11 — (AP). Dan Bankhead, Brooklyn pitcher from the Memphis Negro League, is getting a chance to show how he can play outfield.

Bankhead's single helped the Dodgers score four runs in the second inning of an exhibition game in the Dominican Republic yesterday with Montreal Royals of the International League. Brooklyn won 8-2.

"Maybe he's a great outfielder," said Manager Leo Durocher. "I'll never know unless I try him. One thing I do know—he's a great all-around athlete. The first time he came to bat last year he hit a home run."

A real battle looms for the Boston Braves second base job between ex-Dodger Eddie Stanky and Connie Ryan, Tribe veteran. Ryan punched a single, double and triple in five trips yesterday as Boston trounced Cincinnati Reds 14-3. Stanky is expected in camp Saturday.

The Phillies, pitching is beginning to worry Manager Ben Chapman. In two straight games with Cincinnati and Detroit, they have been touched for 28 runs. In contrast, the Phils have been able to score only eight times. Detroit blasted Philadelphia yesterday 14-5.

BRINGS CHEER TO SHUTINS—Quite recently a shut-in himself, Babe Ruth, one of baseball's all-time greats, won another bevy of admirers when he visited the Roosevelt Hospital in Miami, Fla., for crippled children and adults. The Babe brought cheer to the little inmates, autographed baseballs for them and left them far happier than he found them. He is shown waving farewell to his newly made friends.

OLA Meets April 17

TORONTO, March 11. — The Ontario Lacrosse Association will hold its annual meeting in Toronto Saturday, April 17, at 1 p.m., it was announced yesterday. It is the 62nd annual meeting of the association, one of the oldest sports organizations in the province.

Castilloux Wins In Dull Boxing Display

TORONTO, Mach 11.—(CP).—Promoter Frank Tunney should be glad only 2,500 spectators saw his main event in Maple Leaf Gardens pro boxing card last night. It narrows down chances of his getting a reputation for abusing tired old men.

The pair in question are 31-year-old Dave Castilloux of Montreal and 26-year-old Simeon Waithe of Toronto, who ploughed their way through eight dull rounds until the stubby Castilloux, weighing a fat 140 pounds, was awarded a split decision over Waithe, 135 pounds.

Castilloux's clever roving tactics had the younger Waithe missing punch after punch, and his years stopped him from really giving the Toronto negro a boxing lesson.

Highlight of the bout was the third round and the opening five seconds of the next. Castilloux opened a small gash over Waithe's right eye in the middle of the third and Waithe, still recovering as the bell opened the fourth, took a terrific straight right that that jolted him against the ropes.

Reports say Castilloux, by virtue of last night's win, may be Arthur King's next challenger for the Dominion lightweight crown.

Vic Eisen, 118, clever Buffalo featherweight, had a tough job winning a close eight-round semi-final over game Jean Richard, 126 pounder of Montreal.

DiMaggio Aces With Fans, Sport Writers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 11—(AP)—When the announcer giving the Yankee line-ups yesterday said: "Centrefield, Cliff Mapes," a venerable fan stood up and shouted, "Where's Joe?" then stomped out and got his money back . . . This writer can sympathize with the fan, for one thing he has picked up durling a couple of weeks in Florida is a great admiration for Joe DiMaggio, not merely as a ball player but as a grand guy, personally . . . he's always ready to sign an autograph or pose for a picture or give a quick answer to fan's question, and he does it with a ready smile when a less obliging person probably would tell the fan to go jump in the gulf . . . Maybe Joe feels that way, but he doesn't say it . . . Incidentally, the reason he didn't play yesterday, except as a pinch-hitter, is that his arm, operated on last fall, still stiffens up a little and he's taking it easy on throwing.

Strictly Business

Before yesterday's game some New York writers were ribbing DiMaggio about the catch Al Gionfriddo made off him during the 1947 world series . . . "Did it make you mad to see that Gionfriddo got beaned?" one asked . . . "That's a heck of a way to get even," Joe countered. . .

"You know," DiMag went on, "Gionfriddo caused me to make the best speech of my career last winter . . . We were at dinner together and first Al gave them his version of the catch . . . When it came my turn, I just said I was very happy that Al made that catch, because that extended the series, gave the Yankees an extra big crowd and more money and then they could pay me a little more."

Canada Must Recreate Surplus Of Exports Abbott Tells House

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, March 11—(CP).—Finance Minister Abbott told the Commons yesterday that Canada must re-create a surplus of exports over imports if she wishes to continue assistance to Europe and also if she wishes to solve the economic problems arising out of the shortage of American dollars.

Mr. Abbott said this surplus could be brought about either through increased production or reduced domestic consumption. Perhaps production could be increased, but generally speaking it now was "pretty nearly" at full capacity.

He was speaking during continued debate on a resolution that would give legislative effect to the 25-per-cent. excise taxes which the Government announced Nov. 17 would form part of the dollar-saving program.

Opposition speakers have charged the taxes are unconstitutional because they were not first authorized in parliament. They have argued that the taxes, though applying to a long list of non-essential artticles, work hardship on the people.

Mr. Abbott said one of the primary aims of the taxes was to reduce domestic consumption and enable Canada to play a larger part in the reconstruction of Europe. He reiterated that Canada could not continue to live "in the era of prosperity in the midst of a starving world," and added that Canadians were living beyond theier customary needs.

He told Ross Thatcher (CCF-Moose Jaw) that rationing of imports would not have been sufficient action to solve present problems, because a reduction in the domestic consumption of domestic products was needed as well.

Earl Rowe (PC-Dufferin-Simcoe), argued that the government could increase production by reducing the tax load that now was discouraging business, initiative and enterprise.

International Debate

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said the government plans shortly to call the External Affairs Department estimates for study and thus open a formal debate on international affaairs.

Mr. King obtained approval of a resolution to meet Opposition requests that legislation seeking ratification of the Geneva trade agreement be divided into two parts to permit a separate debate on British preferential tariffs.

In the excise tay debate, Mr. Abbott said Canada has been exporting at a high level on credit. Up to the end of 1946 she was able to do this because her production was above domestic reuirements. But in 1947 this position changed, with the development of a greater domestic demand which found the country consuming about the same amount of goods it was producing.

If Canada was going to continue to maintain its overseas exports, the country would have to reduce its consumption.

Paper Industry Finances Better

By The Canadian Press.

The strong financial position of the pulp and paper industry in Canada has been pointed up within the last few days by annual statements of several newsprint companies. In almost every instance these reports show sharply increased profits, expanded assets, and improved working capital positions.

To use but three reports published the other day—Provincial Paper Ltd., net profits in 1947 were up 197 per cent over 1946, a jump from $355,170 to $1,055,511. Abitibi Power and Paper Co. profits last year were $8,563,046 as against $5,600,206 in 1946. Price Brothers & Co., Ltd., $6,118,897 in 1947 and $4,816,184 in 1946.

In round figures, Caandian production of newsprint last year was at an all-time high of 4,396,000 tons, of which more than 80 per cent went to the United States. The industry has experienced a sharper range of prosperity and depression than perhaps any other Canadian industry of comparable proportions.

Newsprint prices based on New York figures, ranged from the all-time high of $112 a ton in 1920 through a low of $40 between 1934 and 1935 (when much of the industry was in bankruptcy) to the current price of about $96.

Stress Conciliation

OTTAWA, March 11 — (CP) — Canada regards it as a "paramount" necessity that the United Nations Security Council make every effort towards conciliation before considering measures under the U.N. Charter to enforce the Palestine partition, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said yesterday in the Commons.

Cancer Patients Get 2,400 Treatments

SYDNEY, Australia, March 11—(CP).—John Braund, 78-year-old Sydney layman who claims to have discovered a cure for cancer and has been treating persons at his home in suburban Beverly Hills, said today he has given 2,400 treatments since the spotlight of publicity was turned on his claims 13 weeks ago.

A New South Wales government investigating committee has been forging ahead with their inquiries into his work but Braund said he will not wait for conclusion of the investigation before setting up a private clinic. He has advertised for rooms for this purpose.

Because of the strain of overwork, he said, he has wired a friend to come to Sydney to help him out. Asked by a reporter if the friend was a doctor of medicine, Braund replied:

"A doctor? I wouldn't have a doctor in this house. They are the curse of the world."

No Error In Duty Or Judgment Involved In Sending Troops To China, Duff Report

By The Canadian Press

Sir Lyman P. Duff said in his 1942 Royal Commission report on Hong Kong that the Canadian government received no information before the Canadian force sailed for Hong Kong on Oct. 27, 1941, that war with Japan was an early possibility.

Sir Lyman, then Chief Justice of Canada, said he was satisfied that nothing occurred between Sept. 29, when Canada informed the British government she would send a force, and Oct. 27 that would "furnish any cogen: reason for the withdrawal by Canada from the responsibility she had accepted."

The Commissioner said that expedition was well-trained and well-provided with equipment, insofar as shipping facilities allowed.

Following is a five-point summary of the report:

Imminence of War

Nothing emerged concerning the probability of war with Japan before the Canadian expedition sailed Oct. 27, 1941, "which would have been considered to be justification for the withdrawal by Canada from the responsibility she had undertaken."

"On the contrary, the reasons which prompted the acceptance of the proposal continued to operate with possibly increasing force up to the sailing of the expedition."

This conclusion was reached with the advantage of reading a number of dispatches from the United Kingdom government, which the commissioner said he was not at liberty to reproduce, as well as a dispatch from Canadian military headquarters in London which was partially reproduced in the report.

"War Unlikely"

The partial reproduction of the CMHQ dispatch, dated October 26, 1941, was taken from paragraph nine and said:....Consensus of opinion that war in Far East unlikely at present...."

The only telegram from the British Government included in the report was dated October 30, 1941, three days after the force sailed.

It said: "We are very grateful to you for dispatching your contingent to Hong Kong at such short notice. We fully realize the difficulties of mobilization and of distance which have had to be overcome. The moral effect of their arrival in November will be much greaer than it would have been two months later."

The UK Government in a dispatch of September 19, 1941, had asked for a Canadian force for Hong Kong and the Canadian Government accepted the proposal.

The Canadian Government was actuated by considerations of what other Dominions had already done in the war. It was also considered that the arrival of the contingent in Hong Kong would have great moral effect on the Far East and would reassure the Chinese as to Britain's intention to hold Hong Kong.

Only Course Open.

"I have no doubt that the course taken by the Government was the only course open to them in the circumstances."

There were solid military grounds for a conclusion that even in event of hostilities the situation of the force would not be hopeless.

It was thought the garrison could be evacuated or relieved from the sea by British and American naval forces and it was "not unreasonable to expect" aid from the landward side by Chinese forces.

A G.M.H.Q. telegram Oct. 26 said that the Chinese had undertaken to attack the Japanese with 10 Divisions in the rear of Canton if the Japanese attacked Hong Kong.

The attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7 and the loss of the British Battleships Repulse and Prince of Wales in the China Sea Dec. 8, however, radically altered the situation.

"I can find no dereliction of duty or error in judgment either on the part of the Government of Canada or of its military advisors in the decision to accept the proposal of the United Kingdom to send a Canadian force to Hong Kong and the dispatch of the force pursuant to that decision.

State of Training

Gen H. D. G. Crerar, then chief of General Staff, recommended the Royal Rifles of Canada of Quebec city and the Winnipeg Grenadiers for the force.

He said that "both" battalions "are unis of proven efficiency."

Hon. J. L. Ralston, then defence minister, cannot be justly criticized for action on this opinion and the evidence satisfied the Commissioner that Gen. Crerar's recommendation was "made upon sound ground and and that he is not chargeable with any error in judgment, still less with any dereliction of duty in relation to it."

Principal criticism directed against this selection concerned certain platoon weapons which were included in the Canadian Infantry establishment but which before October, 1941, were not available generally for training purposes.

Gen. Crerar said there were a number of Battalions, including the Royal Rifles and Winnipeg Grenadiers, which, although "somewhat handicapped" by lack of mortars and anti-tank rifles, were generally adequately-trained to undertake defensive responsibilities such as those in prospect at Hong Kong.

The two battalions, in fact, were in a "more advantageous position" in respect to these weapons than the units of the army in general.

There were solid reasons for believing any deficiencies in training in such platoon weapons could be made good before meeting the enemy.

Mechanical Transport

There is no evidence that the force suffered through lack of its 212 vhicles, which failed to reach Hong Kong in time, or that they were not supplied in the colony.

The troopship which carried the expedition did not have sufficient carge space to carry them. The vehicles did sail Nov. 4 in an American ship it never reached Hong Kong, being diverted by United States authorities.

Twenty vehicles were sent to Vancouver to fill a small amount of free space on the troopship but did not arrive before the ship sailed.

"Had more energy and initiatives been shown by the quartermaster-general's branch the availability of this would have been ascertained earlier and the vehicles would have arrived in time for loading on Oct. 24."

Creation and Dispatch of Force

In a period of two weeks, it was necessary to obtain the required reinforcements as well as to attend to the multifarious task involved in equipping the expedition."

Of the men added to the force, all but about six per cent had undergone more than 16 weeks' training after enlistment.

"I have reached the conclusions that was no unfairness either to the battalions, or to the expedition, as a whole, from the addition of this small percentage of men who had not fully completed the standard period of training."

N. D. H. Q. Staff

The Canadian Military Authorities undertook a task of "considerable difficulty."

"Subject only to my observation concerning 20 of the 212 vehicles of the mechanical transport, they performed that task well.

"Canada sent forward, in response to the British request, an expedition that was well-trained (subject as aforesaid, insofar as shipping facilities allow) well-provided with equipment."

SHOWS PRISON LIFE—Sketches by George Edgecombe, 8 Galley Ave., Toronto, (top), former private in the Royal Rifles, illustrate life in prison camp at Hong Kong as he experienced it. He enlisted July 10, 1941, went over in October with only four months' training. Captions of sketches are his notes. Lower shows "Punished by torture—Adhesive tape over mouth. Cigaret put in nostrils and lighted. He lived to tell of it."

of TWO who came back

by Lotta Dempsey

Of course, quite a few air force personnel got their faces smashed in crack-ups. But a girl . . . well, girls have a very special feeling about their faces. And when they brought the tall slender WD corporal into hospital—one of the eight of twenty-seven left alive out of a flight that crashed between Vancouver and Prince Rupert—she was about the most unrecognizable Airwoman still breathing in this country.

They flew Helen—and Mary, another WD with a badly burned back—to Toronto's Christie Street Military Hospital, for skin grafts and burn treatment. A Red Cross worker told me she'd never forget it. The Red Cross room is in the heart of the wards, next door to the room those girls had.

For weeks workers just tiptoed in and out on their rounds—writing letters, supplying stamps, cigarettes and chocolate bars to the patients.

'No Visitors'

One operation followed another through the weary months in which doctors built a new face for Helen and treated Mary's back. The girls became great friends with the Red Cross workers. But they didn't want to meet people from the 'outside', right then. Even when the 'No Visitors' sign went down and Air Force boys and other vet. patients wheelchaired and crutch-tapped in, they were still shy about seeing 'just people'.

The Red Cross was different. Those women in the deep blue smocks were part of their own submerged world of pain and illness, yet attached to the country outside. They did the little things the girls needed—feminine bits of shopping, letters and messages, planned small celebrations.

New Trades

As the girls progressed, going from one hospital to another for treatment, the Red Cross was always there. Supplying ambulances, at first—later, escorts to hockey games, concerts, plays. Offering quiet practical assistance whenever it was needed.

Today Helen and Mary are learning new trades. Helen can no longer teach physical education or model. Mary cannot continue her typing, because of permanently stiffened fingers. But while DVA prepares them for their new lives, the Red Cross still stands by as they do with all our Canadian veterans in hospitals everywhere. In proof that we, the people, have not forgotten.

Red Cross Services include: Blood Transfusion, Outpost Hospitals, Aid to Sick and Disabled Veterans, Treatment for Crippled Children, Disaster Relief, Nutrition Services, Home Nursing Courses, Swimming, Water Safety, etc.

Had Report Jap War Likely Any Day Let Untrained Men Sail, Drew Reveals

By The Canadian Press

In a letter to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, dated July 11, 1942, Col. George A. Drew charged that, despite warnings by the British Government that war with Japan was an early possibility, the Canadian force was dispatched to Hong Kong in October, 1941, untrained and ill-equipped for battle.

Col. Drew, now Premier of Ontario, took a sharp issue in this letter — the Federal Government declined to table it in the House of Commons — with the report of the 1942 Royal Commission inquiry into Hong Kong, in which he participated as Opposition counsel.

The findings of the commissioner, Sir Lyman P. Duff, then Chief Justice of Canada, "are directly contrary to the evidence as a whole," Col. Drew maintained.

Following is a five-point summary of statements in the letter:

Imminence of War

Three days before the Canadian Hong Kong expedition sailed from Vancouver Oct. 27, 1941, the Prime Minister received "the most explicit warning" from the British Government "of the possibility of early hostilities."

This message, along with a second from the British Government of the same Oct. 24 date, "left no doubt that the Japanese Government had passed under the control of extremists on Oct. 16 and that in their opinion war in the Pacific was an early possibility."

The second message referred in specific terms to the "altered circumstances" in the Far East. "It was a message of the utmost importance because it showed that the British Admiralty was acting upon the assumption that danger had increased in the Pacific and in addition to the escort already arranged for the troopship, a cruiser escort was being provided from Manila to Hong Kong."

On Oct. 16, according to the United States' Roberts report of the inquiry into the Pearl Harbor disaster, the U.S. War and Navy departments instructed their Pacific outposts to make their dispositions with regard to the early possibility of war.

Knew Reaction

"You were informed that the government of the United Kingdom was of the same opinion as the government of the United States and that they were acting accordingly."

It would be "inconceivable" if the Prime Minister had not been informed of the reaction of the British Government. It would also be "inconceivable" if he was not told of the U.S. reaction, unless the partnership with the U.S. in the Joint Defence Board was "utterly meaningless."

In any event, Mr. King was "definitely informed" Oct. 24 in the two messages mentioned.

"I was unable to procure an order for full disclosure from the commission but, even without full disclosure, I saw unmistakable proof that you were warned days before the departure of this force and that there was every reason to take stock of the situation in the Pacific and to anticipate the possibility of early hostilities."

While the question of the Hong Kong force was under consideration, there never was any thought that Hong Kong could be held in event of war with Japan.

State of Training

The Winnipeg Grenadiers and the Royal Rifles of Canada from Quebec City — the two battalions in the Hong Kong force — were "hopelessly untrained for war."

Up to the time of their departure, neither unit had been able to give its men training with the two-inch mortar. They had never fired a three-inch mortar, an anti-tank rifle, an anti-aircraft machine gun, a sub-machine gun or rifle grenade or thrown a live bomb.

The Grenadiers had never fired their Bren guns and until just before departure had never fired services ammunition with their rifles.

The War Committee of the Canadian Cabinet and the General Staff knew that an early attack by Japan was possible and they knew that these men might be called on to fight a desperate enemy at any time after debarkation.

"Nevertheless, units were sent which had never had any firing practice whatever with some of their most important weapons. They had little firing practice with any weapons . . .

"They were unready for active service by any standards of training."

The fact that it was known that war with Japan was an early possibility should have governed the composition of the force and the state of its equipment.

Mechanical Transport

The Canadians went into action against the Japanese before a single one of their 212 vehicles had arrived at Hong Kong.

The need for this transport — and of water vehicles — was underlined in messages from Hong Kong, yet the Royal Commission report said there was no detriment to the expedition due to failure of the vehicles to accompany the troops.

The report conveys the impression that failure to get 20 priority vehicles on the troopship Awatea, which carried the force, and failure to get the remainder to Hong Kong before the fighting started were matters of relatively little importance.

The commission findings that "some lack of energy" was shown by NDHQ in getting the 20 vehicles to Vancouver in time were far from adequate.

Creation and Dispatch of Force

So casual was the method of dispatch that no staff officer in Ottawa knew that the Hong Kong force had left without vehicles until it was far at sea.

The War Committee of the Cabinet received no report of the state of the force when it sailed.

The system of control and checking details was so inefficient that Hon. J. L. Ralston, Defence Minister at the time, did not know the troops were without transport until Dec. 15, one week after the Japanese attack.

The arrangements for reinforcements were so delayed that 450 new officers and men only joined the units immediately before departure or, in some instances, at stations en route.

Of these, about 140 had less than the minimum 16 weeks' training required for overseas service. Twenty-three men, left behind by another battalion because they were below mental standards of that battalion, were included.

The force left Vancouver 51 men short, that number being shown as deserters when the units left. This was known to no staff officer in Ottawa.

NDHQ Staff

While the report referred to the Canadian military authorities undertaking a "task of considerable difficulty" in October, 1941, the only difficulties were those created by the "shocking inefficiency" of NDHQ and the Headquarters Staff.

They were only difficulties resulting from incompetence.

Two months after the force left the four staff heads in Ottawa still disagreed as to their respective responsibilities.

Blame Capital And Federal Gov't For High Pork Price As Hog Producers Hold Meeting

TORONTO, March 11.—If some citizen has an idea that the price of pork is too high, there are 500 men in Toronto who will shout him down with this argument: "Don't blame the farmer."

Now in annual meeting, they are delegates to the Ontario Hog Producers, which represents 60,000 breeders. In Charles W. McInnis of Iroquois they have a president who is unusually gifted as a speaker.

He opened yesterday's session by firing one round at capital, another at labor and a third at the federal government.

His arguments did not go unanswered, as J. G. Taggart of Ottawa, director of agricultural services, spoke for Federal Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner.

Dealing with Ottawa, Mr. McInnis said: "We are told that the bacon contract with the United Kingdom will continue for two years. But suddenly, in the midst of the year, the finance department with one stroke of a pen completely upsets another department's program by wiping out the grain subsidies.

"They left us at the mercy of the speculative market and we were faced with a loss of from $7 to $10 a hog. Now we have to discover another way of marketing. The controls brought in during the war are the first to disappear. I am wondering, if they continue to disappear in the ruthless way they have been, if the hog industry won't also vanish."

Prices Always Set

For capital, the president had this to offer: "It is suggested we turn back to free enterprise. We never had it and I don't think we ever will. There has always been somebody to set prices by manipulation and otherwise. There always will be.

"In Denmark the farmers sent their own representatives to England to negotiate and their agreements were satisfactory.

"Reports are coming from the United Kingdom that the people there are not too concerned about getting our bacon. In the war, when industries received cost plus and plus for what they did, and we were producing for less than cost, we thought our efforts would be appreciated.

"I wonder if these reports are due to pressure from the circles of finance. I feel the United Kingdom's people would sooner get the bacon from the Canadian farmer who stood behind them in their hour of distress. Why, we should be sending from 500 to 700 million pounds instead of 200 million!"

Mr. McInnis referred to the packinghouse workers' strike last fall in his criticism of labor's attitude.

When his innings came as speaker at the luncheon, Mr. Taggart dealt mainly with the removal of the grain subsidy.

The hog population of Ontario, he said, was the same in 1908 as it was in 1944, roughly 1,900,000. In 1947 it rose to 2,250,000, highest on record. The cattle population remained the same (though there was a shift from beef tot dairy types) namely 2,700,000.

Cut Acreage

Meanwhile Ontario farmers, since 1908, have cut their acreage for wheat, oats and barley almost in half, from 4,655,000 to 2,280,000. They have gone in for specialized crops. Consequently they are buying western grains to feed their livestock.

"Now the western farmers claim they were the real victims of control," he said, "and that they were the ones who were actually producing below cost.

"But it still remains that 80 percent of the grain is fed on the farms in Ontario that produce it. If you increase the price of grain that goes into commerce, you increase the price of pork—on all things grown on the farm by the same amount."

Mr. Taggart then asked if the farmers wished to revert to the pre-war system of marketing when there was no assured or stable market for UK bacon or to continue with the contract. In accepting its advantages he also wondered if they would assume its responsibilities. Last year Canadian producers fell 10 million pounds short.

"Do you want something new?" he inquired. "If you make your own contract you'll have to keep it. It will be your own problem if you don't produce enough. If there's a surplus, what?

"Under the present system the board will endeavor to deal with the surplus. For example, in 1943 there was a surplus of 75 million pounds of bacon because of lack of shipping space in war. We didn't consider it wise to advertise that then. The meat board handled that situation."

Dr. Wright Takes Overseas Post Gave 19 Years' Service To Keene

KEENE, March 11 (ENS)—Dr. H. Wright, M.D., C.M., who has been for 19 years doctor and medical health officer at Keene, has accepted a position under the Canadian Government as Medical Examiner for Immigrants coming to Canada from Britain and Europe. He left Thursday for New York, where he sailed the following day.

During the war he was actively interested in the Red Cross Society at Keene and was on the Advisory Board of Otonabee branch. He also gave his service at the Blood Donor's Clinic. In the community he was interested in all welfare work specially with young people in baseball and hockey. He is a member of the United Church and on the Official Board.

His departure for this new position came so suddenly that there was little time to arrange a send-off from the community.

The night before he left for New York a few friends called and presented the following letter which was read by Rev. George Murray:

"Dear Dr. Wright:

We are representing the congregation of Keene United Church and also speak for all whom you have so faithfully served as doctor and wise counsellor.

"Few doctors anywhere have rendered such splendid service as you have during these past 19 years. You have not only been efficient in the discharge of your duties, but to all you are looked upon as a beloved physician. You have had the joy of healing many of their sicknesses and bringing comfort to those in pain. We think of the many whom you have had the joy of bringing into the world. You have endeared yourself to the whole community which covers a large territory and it is with much regret that we think of your leaving Keene so soon.

"As a citizen, you are one of the best and with Mrs. Wright and your lovely family, we feel how much we are indebted to you all, both in church and community. We are glad that Mrs. Wright and family are not leaving at this time and we will plan for an occasion when we will more suitably express our appreciation of the splendid service you have all rendered."

Prairie Group To Perform Davies' Play

REGINA, March 11 —(CP). — From seven one-act plays — including works of such dramatists as Eugene O'Neill and William Saroyan — produced here this week by amateur drama groups, Robert Stuart, an English actor adjudicating all provincial drama festivals this year, will pick the play to represent Saskatchewan in Dominion drama festival competition.

One of the plays, to be presented by the University of Saskatchewan Drama Directorate, is by a Canadian author. The festival, which starts to-day, will run for three days.

Four plays are entered by Saskatoon groups and two by the Regina Little Theatre which last year won the festival with Noel Coward's "Ways and Means." One member of the cast—Bill Walker, a Regina radio announcer— won the best male actor award at the Dominion drama festival.

The third group is the newly-formed Federation of Canadian Artists Drama Club from Prince Albert, entering the festival this year for the first time.

William Reid, vice-president of the Saskatchewan Drama League, said the league had ruled to permit only one-act plays in the festival this year because it felt more encouragement could be given drama in the province by a concentration on one-act plays.

The University of Saskatchewan Drama Directorate has entered "Eros at Breakfast," a comedy by Dobertson Davies of Peterborough. It will be directed by Frances Mylend.

Dublin Theatre Takes Toronto Man's Play

TORONTO, March 11 —(CP)— After unsuccessfully trying to produce his new play in Canada, John Coulter, Toronto playwright, has had his "The Drums Are Out" accepted by the Abbey Theatre of Dublin.

The story of Irish strife and violence—"a preview of the catastrophe of the world" — will be produced by the Abbey Players in the early summer.

Mr. Coulter, whose "The House in the Quiet Glen" broke all records for perfection in the 1937 Dominion Drama Festival, was asked to write a new play for production by the Toronto Arts and Letters Club.

He submitted his newest play to the club for participation in the 1948 Dominion Drama Festival, but there troubles began.

Practically every other person in Toronto seemed to be either acting in some play, or directing one or helping to stage it," he explained.

Sept. 23—Canadian war committee accepts proposal.

Oct. 16—"War party" takes over Japanese government.

Oct. 27—Expedition sails from Vancouver.

Nov. 15—Expedition reaches Hong Kong.

Dec. 8—Hong Kong attacked by Japs.

Dec. 25—Hong Kong falls.

1942—

Jan. 12—Col. Drew in speech charges untrained men attached to force.

Feb. 12—Duff Royal Commission appointed; Drew named opposition counsel.

March 2-31—Evidence taken in secret.

June 5—Duff report discredits charges; finds expedition was well-trained and well-equipped. Drew says probe's secrecy hid official blunders.

June 24—Drew charged under defence of Canada regulations.

July 10—Charge against Drew dropped.

July 11—Drew letter to Prime Minister King asserts Duff report distorted evidence.

July 15—Prime Minister declines table Drew letter on ground it violates commission secrecy.

1948—

Jan. 29—Report of Maj.-Gen. G. M. Maltby commanding British troops at Hong Kong, says Canadian units arrived "inadequately trained for modern war."

(Throughout February, Opposition demands for tabling of the Duff Commission evidence and the Drew letter were made in the Commons leading up to the decision to table the evidence with certain sections paraphrased.)

Not Obliged To Obey Ruling Of U.S.

TORONTO, March 11 (CP)—As the divorced parents of seven-year-old Terry McKee continued their six-year legal battle over the child's custody, Chief Justice R. S. Robertson of Ontario commented yesterday in Ontario Court of Appeal that a judgement of a foreign court may be sustained in Ontario but it need not be "slavishly enforced."

Counsel for Mrs. Evelyn McKee, socially-prominent Los Angeles resident, argued that she should have custody of the child. He said a California court gave the mother custody in 1945 but the father, Mark T. McKee of Mount Clements, Mich., brought the boy to Ontario.

R. I. Ferguson, Mrs. McKee's lawyer, said the father, who is a wealthy United States airline executive, should be required to show why Ontario courts should not enforce a California order.

"I don't think our cases will uphold you on that point," said Mr. Justice F. D. Hogg, one of the three justices hearing the appeal.

Other Rights

Chief Justice Robertson said that while the interests of the child must predominate, still the application for custody was by two other individuals asserting their rights.

Mr. Ferguson criticized conditions on the 350-acre McKee estate at Linwood, near Kitchener, where the boy now lives. He said Terry had to go 2½ miles to school "through snowdrifts."

"Well, what of that?" inquired the Chief Justice.

"I don't like to remember doing it myself," Mr. Ferguson replied.

"Perhaps none of us do," remarked Mr. Justice Hogg. "But it still may not have done us any harm."

The hearing is continuing.

Christian Youth Conference Is Described

MARMORA, March 11—(ENS)—An insight into the proceedings of the Second World Conference of Christian Youth held in Oslo, Norway, last July was given by Rural Dean W. J. Robinson of Tweed, AYPA delegate at the meeting of Marmora Home and School Association, Monday.

The speaker, introduced by Rev. J. M. Brownlie, reminded his hearers at the outset that this conference was part of the Ecumenical movement which he defined as "a moving together of the household of faith."

He maintained that the church in the world, despite other observations, is definitely on a uniting trend.

Great tributaries of the movement were the YMCA, YWCA, and Student Christian Movement, the Sunday School and the world missionary movement.

The first World Conference of Christian Youth was held in Amsterdam in 1939 shortly before the war.

There is, he said, great significance in the fact that the World Council of Churches comes into being this summer at Amsterdam.

He gave brief sketches of meetings held by the delegates on the SS Marine Jumper, in which they journeyed from New York to Plymouth, the stay in England and the trip to Oslo by way of Sweden.

Russia Not There

At the convention there were 1,200 delegates from 71 countries, in addition to 100 senior delegates and 200 teachers. Russia did not send an official delegation and the one which was to have represented Japan was prevented by eastern regulations from attending.

E. C. Prentice, principal of the school, thanked Dean Robinson.

Mrs. A. H. Rennie, president, was chairman.

Robert Sanderson gave a coronet solo.

W. J. Cottrell reported on the joint meeting held in Cannifton in February.

Singing was led by Rev. J. M. Brownlie with Mrs. Fraser at the piano.

Convict 8 SS Men In Racial Program

NUERNBERG, March 11 (AP)—Eight SS (Elite Guard) officers who promoted Heinrich Himmler's racial purity program were convicted to-day of war crimes and crimes against humanity. An American court handed down its judgment after a six-months trial. Those convicted will be sentenced later to-day.

Five defendants were acquitted of the crimes, but convicted of membership in the SS.

The 14th defendant—only woman in the dock—Inge Viermetz, was found innocent of all charges and ordered released. She was deputy chief of the "Lebensborn" organization, which placed children in German homes.

CNR Gateman Gets Suspended Sentence

TORONTO, March 11—(CP)—Melville Whyte, 64, Canadian National Railways gateman, was given suspended sentence on a criminal negligence charge today following an accident when Whyte did not lower the crossing gate and Robert Buckham of Montreal was injured in a train crash.

In pronouncing sentence Magistrate J. L. Prentice said: "I am taking into consideration the fact that you have lost your employment and any benefit under the pension plan, but there will be a conviction. You will be given suspended sentence."

Urge Action For Russian Wives

LONDON, March 11—(Reuters).—The government was urged last night to take "drastic action" to solve the question of Russian-born wives of British subjects who are being detained in Russia and prevented from joining their husbands here.

Martin Lindsay, Conservative member, told the House of Commons that there were some 135 Soviet wives in London apart from those who could claim diplomatic immunity and suggested that this be reduced to the number of wives, British by law, who had been detained in Russia.

State Minister McNeil said that "it is easy to point out methods of embarrassing the Soviet administration."

But it should be understood that any retaliatory action that the British government might take might cause the risk that the final position of these women might be worse than their present position.

MADE FOR THE FINEST TABLES

All over Canada, hostesses are serving Yorkshire Relish, the famous peppy, zesty sauce that has been England's favourite for nearly eighty years. Yorkshire Relish is real palate-luxury, rich, smooth, fruity and piquant; the concentrated goodness of specially selected fruits, aromatic herbs and spices, blended and matured, like wine. Ask your store for it by name.

Two varieties: YORKSHIRE RELISH, the original thin sauce, and YORKSHIRE RELISH THICK.

Belleville City Council, after hearing representation of a group of interested citizens, has made application to the province for the establishment of a juvenile court in that city.

TWO CHIMNEY FIRES

There were two chimney fires on Wednesday. The first was at 4.10 p.m. at the residence of H. Doleman, 338 McGill St. And the second was at 6.10 p.m. at the residence of Mrs. M. McDougal, 261 Romaine St.

DENTED FENDERS

The car of Garnet Cox, Lift Lock and the truck of Frank Vyse, 386 Burnham Ave., were in collision Tuesday night about 5 o'clock on Rubidge St. Fenders were dented and torn on both and the bumper of the truck was broken.

COLLIDE NEAR SELWYN

Minor damage was caused the car of Michael McGuire, 514 Bolivar St, when it was in collision Wednesday about 5 p.m. with the truck of Roy Gillespie, RR 1, Peterborough. The accident occurred on the Buckhorn Road, north of Selwyn. OPP W. K. O'Shaunnesy investigated.

HORTICULTURAL DELEGATES

Peterborough Horticultural Society's delegates to the Ontario Horticultural Society's convention at Naigara Falls are: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, Mrs. Floyd Curtis, Mrs. A. A. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilks, Mrs. Clara Baker, Mrs. Wm. Gracie and Mr. James Rigdon.

A RARE MALADY

The many friends of Mr. Matthew T. Breckenridge, 315 Pearl Ave., will regret to learn that he is a patient at Civic Hospital with an illness that is said to be comparatively rare in medical experience in this country. He is one of the long service members of the staff of Canadian General Electric Co.

REPORTED IMPROVED

Mr. Thomas H. Hooper was reported somewhat improved Wednesday afternoon from effect of a slight stroke which confined him to bed earlier in the week. He has been in business more than half a century, and is probably the last of his generation still actively engaged in down town retailing.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS SAFE

Conditions of J. Ryan, 501 Donegal St. and Edward Curtin, 284 McGill St. is reported this morning to be favorable. The two, both patients at St. Joseph's Hospital, are recovering from injuries received while they were passengers in the car in which Sidney Trowbridge met his death last week.

RECOVERING AT HOME

Harold Darling, Stewart St., foreman in the C.G.E., is reported to be resting comfortably at his home, recuperating from an illness suffered early this week. On Monday he attended the Sidney Trowbridge funeral, and then curled in the evening. On Tuesday he became indisposed and has been receiving medical attention since.

COLD AGAIN

It never fails to happen. Just as soon as the topic of the day is the lovely warm weather heralding the approach of Spring, an icy blast sweeps down from the north. After two days of mild sunny weather, a cool breeze began to rise by Wednesday afternoon. The thermometer slid to a chilling five-above early Thursday morning. "Clear and Cold" was the gloomy forecast. Apparently long underwear will have to be worn for a while longer.

Peterborough Lions Donate Modern Baby Incubator

Just before feeding time at the nursery of St. Joseph's Hospital Wednesday afternoon, President P. D. Scollard of the Lions club and four fellow Lions peeked on tiptoe through the glass door of the nursery to watch the antics of 28 small infants who were exercising lungs and limbs. One crib at the far wall contained a "premie" who was being fed oxygen through a tube. The Lions turned away to greet Rev. Mother Prescilla, superior of the hospital, and John R. Corkery, chairman of the board, and followed them into the empty delivery room to where a shiny new metal and plastic incubator stood in the corner. It was the very latest in nursery equipment, costing $500, that the Lions club had offered as a gift to the hospital, one that would one day be instrumental in saving some baby.

"If this piece of equipment does just that," said Mr. Scollard, "the club will feel that it is well repaid." He went on to explain to the hospital heads that being a gift, it was the club's wish that no extra charge would be made for its use.

Mr. Corkery replied on behalf of the hospital that it was gestures such as this that brought to light the good deeds done in home communities by their service clubs. He was very pleased to accept the equipment that had been so sorely needed in the past.

"Eight hundred and sixty-six babies were born here in 1948," said Rev. Mother Prescilla in her few words of thanks. "We can certainly use this fine incubator and I know from experience that it is going to be a very valuable addition to our equipment." She offered the example in the nursery of the little mite who was being fed oxygen by a tube and advised that the "premie" would be placed in the incubator that very evening.

As a demonstration, Nurse Marguerite Marchand of Chicoutimi, PQ, brought in little Carol Lee Kimball, new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Kimball, 367 Rogers St., but not a "premie," to let the Lions growl with satisfaction to see their new incubator being put through its paces.

This is only one of the Lions' gifts to hospitals. Civic Hospital waiting room is being renovated at the present time and when ready the club will equip it with tasteful furniture and drapes. They expect this ceremony will take place in about six weeks' time.

J. E. Anderson Retired Lawyer Dies At Lindsay

LINDSAY, Ont., March 11. — (ENS).—J. E. Anderson, K.C., Crown Attorney here for 25 years, died at his home in Lindsay early Thursday morning. Mr. Anderson was in his 65th year. Having retired from his position as Crown Attorney more than a year ago, Mr. Anderson and his wife were wintering in Jamaica, and had only returned to Lindsay Wednesday afternoon. He had been in failing health for some time.

Born in Lindsay in 1863, Mr. Anderson received his primary and secondary school education here, and enrolled in the S.P.S. at the University of Toronto in 1904. He withdrew from the institution a year later and in 1907 enrolled McMaster University, then at Osgoode Hall in 1911. In 1914 he was called to the bar and came to Lindsay, entering the firm of McLaughlin, Fulton, Stinson and Anderson. He distinguished himself in the court room as a lawyer and orator, in addition to taking keen interest in community affairs. He is survived by his wife, three sons and two daughters.

Buggies Safest On Highways

TORONTO, March 11 — (CP). —It's safer to ride in a horse-drawn buggy than pump a bicycle on Ontario roads. Men are more likely, by far, to have highway accidents than women. And the more experienced you are behind the wheel, greater is the chance you'll be involved in traffic mishaps—and fatalities.

All this—and many more incongruities—are revealed today in a breakdown of statistics in 1947 motor vehicle accidents issued by the Ontario Highway Department.

For example:

More mishaps occur on clear days than in foggy weather—1,507 bringing death to 495 persons in 1947.

Daylight-hour accidents far exceed those at night—12,428 bringing death to 329 citizens. There were 8,777 and 309 deaths during dark hours.

Collisions with bicycles totalled 669 with 31 fatalities, but collisions involving horse-drawn vehicles were only 120 with four deaths.

Obituary

MRS. KENNETH WHITTAKER

A large gathering of friends and relatives attended funeral service Wednesday afternoon at the Kaye Funeral Home for the late Mrs. Violet Mary Ida Whittaker, 11 River Road, who died Sunday at Civic Hospital after a lingering illness. Rev. Dr. James Semple officiated, and the pallbearers were L. Lipsett, R. Delahaye, B. Kingdon, G. Douglas, G. Trennum and P. Killingbeck. There were six flower-bearers and burial took place at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Whittaker was born in Bridgenorth, daughter of the late Richard Heard and Mary Northey, and spent most of her life in Peterborough. She was a member of George Street United Church.

Tighten Restrictions

WINDSOR, March 11 — (CP). — Renewed vigilance in an effort to stop Communists attempting to cross the border into the United States was instituted here yesterday. R.C.M.P. officials said they would "leave no stone unturned in an effort to wipe out the Red trafficking between here and Detroit."

FIRE AT ROGERS ST. DUMP

Spontaneous combustion was believed the cause of a fire which broke out at the Rogers St. dump on Wednesday night just before midnight. A booster pump and a 2½-inch line were used to extinguish the blaze, and the area was saturated to prevent it breaking out again. At the entrance to the dump there is a sign which says that combustible material should not be put there.

TWO NEW CONSTABLES—Two rookie Provincial officers have been posted recently to the Peterborough detachment. At Left is Prov. Constable W. K. O'Shaughnessy, Brancroft, and Right, Prov. Constable L. G. Brown, Peterborough. Constable Brown is well known locally, having been employed as a bus driver with the Peterborough Bus Lines. Both men reported for duty in February after taking the usual training course at Toronto.

All Space Taken At Seed Show; Runs Next Week

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, returned Wednesday night from London where he spent the day at the Middlesex County seed grain and bacon show.

"They had a big crowd, especially of farmers, visiting and shopping around, and they have a splendid show," said Mr. Paterson, "but they have been established ten years, and they have a good county and big city behind them.

"I think our own show here next week will, in proportion, compare very favorably with London. It opens at 10 a.m. Wednesday and continues through the auction sale of grain exhibits Saturday afternoon. There will be something going on all the time, with the exception of Wednesday and Friday evenings when we have two dinners uptown.

"John Rickard is president of the Quinte Seed Growers' Association, and we have had a good committee working for weeks in preparation of the prize list, program, exhibits, and so on. Representatives of Quaker Oats Company, Dewart Milling Co., Co-op Services, and others have done a good job.

"This show is being held in the former drill hall at Morrow Park, and we are using the rifle range room for the program of motion pictures, addresses and also for convention sessions.

Building Warm

All the space in the big building has been taken for the entries of seed grain and potatoes, the bacon show, and all kinds of farm appliances, machinery and other articles.

"We have been buying fuel to keep the building heated during the four days of the show. There is no admission charge, following the custom of the Quinte Seed Fair, and we are expecting many visitors from the counties of Central Ontario."

Graham Eastwood of Canada Packers, Ltd., who has also been taking an active part in the committee work, reported today that 21 entries have been received for the bacon show. Swine producers from Hastings, Prince Edward, Durham, Northumberland, Victoria, Ontario and Peterborough counties are sending entries. Lennox-Addington and Frontenac are the only counties that are not represented in this phase of the show."

Quinte Seed Fair was held in Oshawa last year, and when they decided to move to Peterborough for 1948, local plans were gradually elaborated when it was remembered that the Eastern Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen were meeting here about the middle of March for their annual convention.

Their executive readily agreed to hook up with the Quinte Seed Fair, and to enlarge agricultural interest the next development was the addition of a bacon show. By the way, there are daily door prizes with G. A. Gillespie and Cliff Curtis in charge of that detail.

Secondary Rink Objectives Are Released.

Chairman Dick Ouimet released the campaign target figures for the Civic Arena drive Wednesday night at a meeting of the Publicity Committee at the YMCA.

Breakdown of the campaign shows the following quotas and the men who will direct the various drives. Industry, $40,000, Percy Killingbeck; Payroll Deduction Plan, $30,000, Archie Weir; Special Names, $20,000, Gordon Armstrong; Businessmen, $20,000, Charlie Kingan; Entertainment, $20,000, Harry Winslow, and City Council, $10,000.

Other phases of the campaign to tie in with the main drive include the efforts of women's organizations and a city-wide canvas.

Stan McBride, publicity chairman, reported that posters and other forms of advertising are available for immediate distribution in industrial and central downtown location.

Butter Shortage Reported In City

The high cost of feed for livestock, coupled with the natural shortages of butter at this time of year, are held responsible for the current shortage of the product at this time.

Terming the present shortage as "serious," an official of the largest butter plant in the city said that the situation should correct itself in about a month. Pointing out thatthe butter supply usually became bad in early spring, he listed as aggravating factors that per capita consupmption has jumped in recent years and the fact that there are now increaser further sources of revenue for cram, into which many of the farmers are funnelling their production.

Some grocery stories in various parts of the city have reported they have had difficulty in keeping up with the demand for the past two weeks. Several are considering limiting purchases to one pound per customer until the situation eases, and one or two have already taken this measure.

Little First Grfade

The situation was described as more serious this spring than in recent years. The supply of first grade butter is "very slow," it was said, although there appears to be adequate stocks of lower grades. The stored butter, made during the summer of 1947, is running out fast and present production is not sufficient to take up the slack. It will be a month or more before there is any great increase.

One of the city dairies stopped buttr making about a month ago due to internal changes in their organization. This has also slightly affected the position.

A large quantity of milk and cream production is now being used for cheese, condensed milk and ice cream mix, it was pointed out. The consumption of ice cream has jumped sharply in the past year.

The situation is believed to be general throughout the province, and some retailers who obtain their supplies from outside points, state that there has been "the odd bit of trouble" in getting their full requirements.

COURTESY TO VISITORS

Lindsay might not be able to boast a population of 35,000 people, but it can brag a little about its kindy treatment of visiting motorists. On Wednesday afternoon a Peterborough business man parked five hours in the downtown area, and instead of getting a summons for violation of the meter parking system he received a small yellow slip entitled, Lindsay Police Dept. Courtesy Card. The slip indicated by a check mark the "violation parking meters." Below the check mark the motorist's license number was written in. "I thought the meters in Lindsay were off on Wednesday afternoon, but anyway that kindly treatment to my way of thinking is pretty super, and I see no good reason why it could not be adopted in this city for the benefit of visitors," the Peterborough man said.

Entries Top the 500 Mark With Choirs In Majority; Will Award 4 Scholarships

Approximately 500 entries comprising upwards of 2,000 participants will take part in the second annual Kiwanis Club Festival of Music to be held in George Street United Church from March 15 to 19. Adjudicator this year will be Mr. Alec Redshaw, Grimsby, England. The Peterborough Festival of Music was able to secure Mr. Redshaw thrcugh its affiliation with the Musical Competition Festivals of Canada. Through this affiliation it is believed Peterborough will be able to obtain the advice and direction of many eminent British musicians, visiting this country.

Entries are said to be particularly heavy among choral groups and vocal soloists. Eighteen are entered in the boys' vocal solo, 10 years and under; 13 in the girls' vocal solo, 20 years and under; 15 in the girls' vocal solo, 12 years and under.

This year the Festival will be open to entrants from all over Ontario instead of just the surrounding counties as was the case last year.

The Scholarships

Four scholarships will be awarded. The Gliddon Memorial Scholarship awarded by the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association for the violin student showing the most promise of future development. The sum of $75 will be applied toward further tuition during the ensuing year.

The two other musical awards are the Harry Huffman Memorial Scholarship, valued at $75, for a promising pianist, and Comstock's Memorial Scholarship, also $75, for vocal talent.

The W.A. Richardson Scholarship, valued at $75, will be awarded the competitor who shows the most promise of future development in dramatic art. It also will be used for further tuition.

A final concert will be given on the last night, Friday, March 19 by outstanding contestants selected by the Festival Committee. The various scholarships will be presented at this last concert.

Certificates will be awarded for first, second, and third places in classes other than band and choral groups.

Included on the 5-day program are vocal solos; duets, and choral groups; piano solos and duets; rhythm bands, band contest, clarinet solos, piano sight reading, and verse speaking.

A Music Selection committee consisting of individuals from the music teaching professions, plus interested laymen, has been formed to ensure that suitable pieces were selected.

Members of the Music Selection Committee are: Mrs. F. Green, Miss M. Harstone, Mrs. C. Renaud, Mr. C. Searles, Mrs. E. Foster, Mr. Fred Mann, Mrs. R. Williamson, Mrs. F. Turner, Mr. F. Sullivan, Mr. J. Minicola, Mr. Fred Brooks (Port Hope), Mr. W. H. Peryer, Miss M. Clarey, Mr. H. Northrop, Mr. C. Allen, Mrs. J. McColl, Miss Musa Cox, Mrs. G. Kilbon, Mr. W. Morrow, Mr. R. L. Hale, Miss F. Rahmel, Mr. K. S. Wightman.

Music Festival Committee includes S. Northrop (chairman), W. Gemmell, T. Rodger, V. McCabe, E. Bartlett, D. Fitzgerald, R. Raine.

Festival secretary is Mrs. S. Northrop, Rubidge St.

Mrs. G. W. Craw, Aylmer St., will be the accompanist.

Black Sheep

FEILDING, N.Z. — (CP). — Five hundred and sixty-five pure white lambs were loaded onto a train to be shipped for auction. When they arrived at their destination, workers unloaded 565 black lambs. Investigation revealed the lamb's wool was saturated with oil fumes when the train's oil-burning locomotive passed through a tunnel.

ATTENDING CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilks are attending the Ontario Horticultural Association convention in Niagara Falls. The sessions open today and continue until Friday night. This is the third consecutive year the convention has been held at the General Brock Hotel.

AN AGE-OLD STORY OF CONFLICT — This Arab boy's face mirrors fear, bewilderment and resentment as he peers through bullet-shattered window of Arab school bus which was fired on by Jews in Jerusalem. An Arab spokesman said there were 60 children in the bus, but none was hurt although there were at least seven bullet holes in the vehicle.

Junior IODE Planning Fashion Show

LAKEFIELD, March 11 — (ENS).—Miss Joan Northey was hostess to the Junior IODE girls for their March meeting, with 28 present.

Joan Creighton, vice-regent, presided. The secretary's report was given by Denise Doubt and the treasurer's by Beth Brown. Mrs. J. McKerchar gave a very interesting and educational address on her trip to Scotland.

Mrs. V. Boate, of Peterborough, was introduced by the regent, Mrs. W. O'Brien, and gave the girls an insight into the planning and arranging for their fashion show, which the girls plan to have on May 28 if the hall is available.

The following committees were appointed for the fashion show: Ann Samis to arrange for the Memorial Hall. Frances Erskine and Donna Edwards, tickets. Stage, Ann Richardson and Joan Northey; program, Mrs. Eric Anderson and Denise Doubt, assisted by Eleanor Deck, Marion Sloan, Barbara Leonard, Ann Richardson; hairdressers, Dona Edwards, Ann Samis; dance, Wendy Dunford, Ann Samis.

Joan Creighton thanked Mrs. Boate for her talk and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Northey for their hospitality. Joyce Brown thanked Mrs. Eric Anderson for loaning chairs.

The following were present: Mrs. E. Anderson, Mrs. L. Anderson, Mrs. W. O'Brien, Mrs. V. Boate, Mrs. J. McKerchar, Joyce and Beth Brown, Shirley Clayton, Joan Creighton, Marline Crowe, Denise and Nancy Doubt, Frances Erskine, Donna Edwards, Effie Gunn, Marie Henry, Joan Northey, Ivy Remnant, Ann Richardson, Eleanor Stirling, Margaret Smith, Elsie Waldon, Marilyn Fraser, Mae Watson, Alice Foster, Rita Maloney, Zetta Moher, Eleanor Deck, Bernie Moher, Marion Sloan, Wendy Dunford, Ann Samis, Barbara Leonard.

Mail-Order Accountancy Firm Keeps Books, Fill Out Tax Forms

EDMONTON, March 11 (CP)—J. M. Olyan started in business less than two years ago with a typewriter, an old adding machine and an idea. He now has an office staff of 11, a series of rooms and every machine from comptometers to a printing outfit.

When he graduated from the University of Alberta with honors in science, he was puzzled about his choice of a life work and took some aptitude tests. These indicated he should get into accountancy — and that was the beginning of his idea.

He launched his "Send Me Saturday" system — a boon to the small business and professional man. It supplies an accountancy and income-tax service for which the customer is supplied with a daily envelope where he keeps all paid accounts and enters daily receipts. Periodically, he sends those envelopes in—and his books are kept. He gets a monthly statement, his income-tax forms are made out and his records kept up to date.

The system also has a statement for those small firms which do credit business. They mail out monthly statements and post accounts once or twice each week.

Mr. Olyan also conducts an aptitude test service. He conducts the tests and has a placement service in addition.

He has designed a simple account book for the farmer to use in compiling income-tax returns and his next venture will be forecasting business trends—he hopes to supply customers with a monthly booklet with current forecasts.

Donate $10 To Fund

NORWOOD, March 11—(ENS)—The meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Friday. Mis Cockeram of the Children's Aid Society was guest speaker. It was decided to donate $10 to the Appeal for Children Fund. Mrs. Oitment and Mrs. Harry Pearce were hostesses at the tea hour.

WORLD CHAMPION MILK PRODUCER—Drooling as she dreams of past benders is "Bridge Birch," the 8-year-old cow who became the world's champion milk producer on a diet of stout. Stout, if you're not familiar with the stuff, is a drink comparable to beer, except that it is almost black and heavier bodied. Primed with stout, Bridge Birch produced 20 tons (4,508 gallons) of milk in a year to beat the U.S. record of 3,900 gallons on the 329th day. But now that the hard-working bovine has won top laurels, they've put her on the wagon. Owner is a London, England, haulage contractor who farms week-ends only.

Italian Police Seize Explosives

ROME, March 10 (Reuters). — Large quantities of arms, ammunition, explosives and other war materials have been seized by Italian police throughout the country following the government's decision to strengthen the penalties against all persons found in possession of hidden arms.

Seven peasants are reported to have been detained by Carabinieri during a police raid in Val Di Chiana, Tuscany, where the bombs, machine-guns, rifles, pistols and ammunition were seized in various farmhouses.

A dump of seven tons of high explosive was discovered at Rivo Di Puglia in Southern Italy. The police now are investigating the possibility of arms, ammunition, and drugs smuggling along the Italian Adriatic coast with its centre at Ancona.

Great quantities of arms, ammunition, and equipment including radio-transmitters are reported to have been seized also in other provinces.

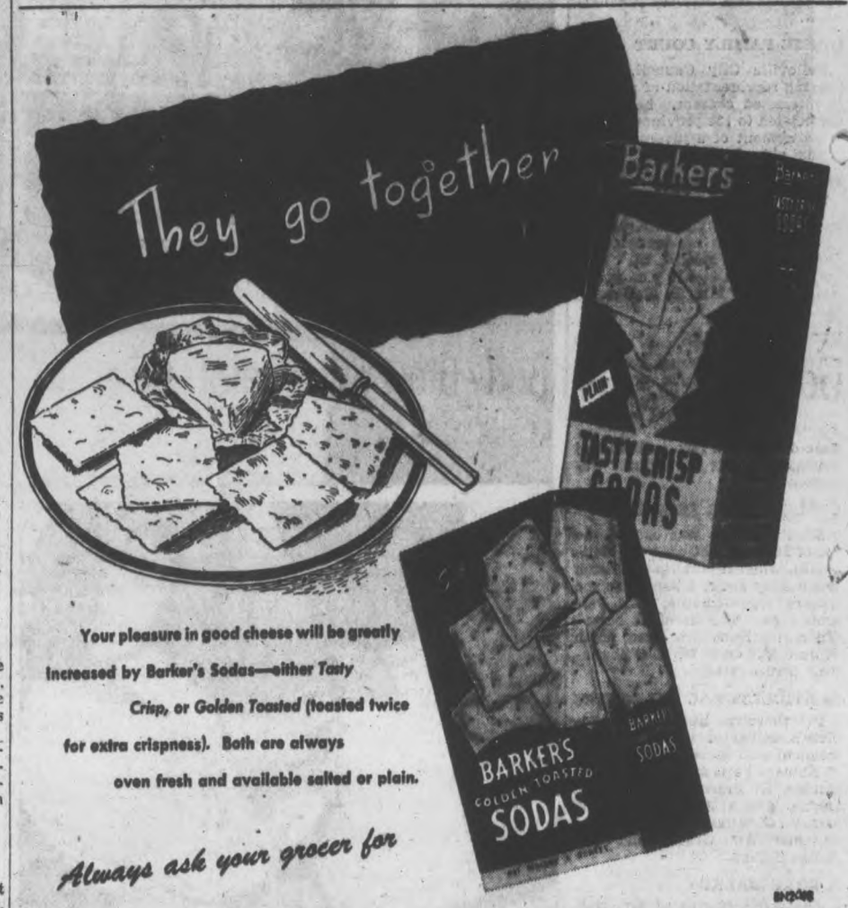
Lily Lake Women's Group Plans Booth At Seed Fair

LILY LAKE, March 11 (ENS) —Mrs. Clarence Hancock and Mrs. Mick Dunford were the hostesses for the monthly meeting of the Lily Lake WA held recently. Mrs. George Middleton presided.



Roll call was answered by a household hint and a can of goods for overseas. Failing to do so, members were fined 25 cents.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Ackison and the treasurer. Mrs. Middleton, reported more than $400.

Mrs. M. Dunford introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, Miss Ballantyne of the Children's Shelter. She stressed the need for foster homes for every age of children and of different religion and color.

Mrs. Gordon Hancock thanked Miss Ballantyne for her very interesting talk and urged everyone to do their best in helping to overcome this need.

During the business, plans were discussed for the booth to be at the Seed Fair during farmers' week. It was also decided to have an attendance contest for the coming year. Mrs. Wm. Steinkrauss and Mrs. J. A. Middleton were chosen leaders. The losers are to treat winners to some form of entertainment at end of year.

Tea And Bazaar Is Huge Success

MILLBROOK, March 11 (ENS) — A generous patronage was accorded the afternoon tea and bazaar held in the waiting-room on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the teaching staff and pupils of the three rooms of the Public School. They were hoping to meet an assessment of $30 from headquarters of the Junior Red Cross, toward the expense of its provincial project of providing a mobile dental clinic. A St. Patrick's Day atmosphere was emphasized by the large green shamrocks used for decorative purposes, and the warm indoor atmosphere in contrast to the cold outside, was accentuated by the silver bowl of spring flowers which centred the lace-covered hostess table, where from silver services at either end, Mrs. T. A. Campbell, president of the Auxiliary to the Senior Red Cross, and Mrs. P. E. Hamilton, wife of the public school principal, poured tea.

Assistants at the hostess table were two of the teachers. Misses Jean Burnham and Gladys Williamson, and a number of the pupils from the senior room served the guests. Mrs. Fred Lowery looked after making the tea, and individual tea tables were also centred with springs flowers. The principal, Mr. Hamilton, looked after the money and had a general oversight of the pupils and their work.

Seventy dollars was realized from the undertaking, and a goodly share of this came from the bazaar table, served by Leona Ball and Anne Dawson, and from the "touch and take" table, where Lena-Marie Lowery, Marlene Richards, Caroline Harkness and Jean Kinsman were on duty.

Gov. Dewey Dealt Body Blow By General MacArthur

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 11 — (CP). — Republicans who want to be president may have to fight for the nomination against their No. 1 active military hero — Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Announcement from Tokyo that the Supreme Allied commander in Japan would accept the nomination was a blow to Governor Thomas Dewey of New York, Harold Stassen and Senator Robert Taft and their supporters.

No doubt it brought gloom to the Democratic party which has little alternative but to nominate President Truman to succeed himself.

There is some belief in Washington that the entry of MacArthur as a willing candidate also came as ur.welcome news to the Russian government.

There are many influential people in the United States, in both parties, who feel that in this critical period, when there is so much loose talk of an inevitable war with Russia, a strong man is needed.

The move toward MacArthur was natural although he is 68 years old.

MacArthur has proved himself an extraordinarily able military leader and his accomplishments in the administration of Japan have been outstanding. His ability to handle domestic affairs as President might be questioned but his firmness toward Russia and his knowledge of Communist aims and methods recommend him.

MacArthur's announcement of willingness followed minutes behind Truman's announced readiness to accept nomination, but it is believed to be only a coincidence.

It also may be a coincidence that MacArthur's former military secretary, Brig.-Gen. Bonner Fellers, has been attached to the national Republican committee here as head of the veterans' division.

CONCORD, N.H., March 10 — (AP). — Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York yesterday won the first round in the ballot box fight for the Republican Presidential nomination.

The New York Governor swept six of the eight delegates in the New Hampshire Presidential Primary yesterday — the first in the 1948 campaign.

Showing strength in both rural and urban areas, Dewey beat back the challenge of Harold E. Stassen —only other announced Republican candidate to enter a full slate.

President Truman won endorsement of the Democrats in their primary. He was unopposed.

Dewey was generally favored in this primary — one that politicians held important from a psychological viewpoint.

Leading the way were two veteran campaigners. Former Governor Robert O. Blood polled 26,204 votes in the 282 of the 298 precincts already counted, and Governor Charles M. Dale got 25,414.

The third Dewey man to win in the state-wide contest was Robert Upton, vice-chairman of the Republican State committee with 19,837.

Senate Peaceful Issue Delayed

OTTAWA, March 11 (CP). — The issue of the right of a Cabinet minister to enter the Senate to introduce legislation did not arise in the Red Chamber yesterday.

A Bill to amend the Canada Shipping Act — which Senator Wishart Robertson, Government Leader, said yesterday he would ask Transport Minister Chevrier to introduce—was called, but no action was taken.

Mr. Chevrier's introduction of the Bill in the Senate would be in accordance with a change the Senate made in its rules last session.

Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative Leader, said yesterday the rule change is "unconstitutional." No non-Senator could speak without unanimous consent and if a Cabinet minister entered the Senate, he would be "a stranger . . . and I'll ask that he be removed."

OIL FROM EAST

Throughout the war oil from the Middle East was supplied in large quantities for the United Nations. All oil from British sources was provided under British reverse lend-lease.

CLINICS MAINSTAY IN CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S WORK — A score or more clinics are operated by the Ontario Society For Crippled Children in every part of the province. Other clinics operated by service clubs call upon the Society for organizational aid or surveys to discover crippled children needing aid. Competent case workers are supplied or visits to orthopaedic experts arranged. Using "Timmy" as a living symbol of the Easter Seal Campaign, almost 100 Ontario Service Clubs including the Peterborough Rotary Club and the Society hope to raise $170,000 in their fight to alleviate crippling conditions in Ontario. "Timmy" is shown during a recent visit to a hospital clinic, while being examined by Dr. E. C. Janes as his mother and Miss Oliphant, the Society nurse, look on.

Candidates Wait Results Of Operation Door Knocker

THORNTON HEATH, Surrey, England, March 11 — (CP). — An ace airman, a company director, and a veteran of political strife will watch the polling today after beating their arches flat in a door-to-door marathon in the North Croydon by-election.

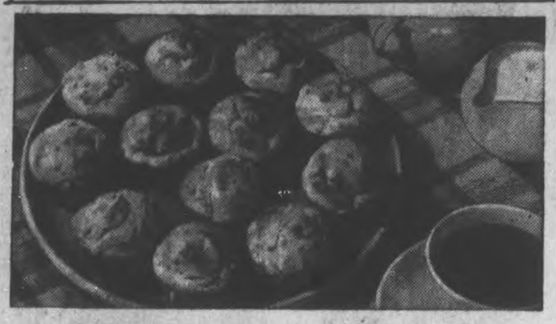
Air Vice-Marshal Donald Bennet, 37, a Liberal, Fred Harris, 33, Conservative business man, and Harold Nicholson, 61, veteran diplomat, Labor writer and a governor of the BBC, are contestants in what has been nicknamed "Operation Door Knocker" in this middle-class residential district.

Amid the clamor of visiting party notables, including Winston Churchill, the Conservative Leader, the candidates have made it necessary to take their arguments to the voters in their homes rather than expect them to attend meetings.

They have tramped in snow and slush through Thornton Heath, Norbury, Upper and South Norwood, London suburbs, to tell housewives and business men of their policies.

Still Dubious

On the eve of the by-election, the respective party managers still were dubious. Their main anxiety is over 12,000 voters who have reached voting age or moved into the district since 1945, when H. U. Willink, a Conservative, was elected with a majority of 607 votes over a Labor candidate. Willink recently retired to take a university post.



The by-election is a challenge to Labor to wipe out previous defeat and win a prestige victory to offset the by-election in Camlachie, in Glasgow, which recently was lost from the Labor column to the Conservatives.

North Croydon is the 40th by-election since the 1945 general election. The Conservatives thus far have held every seat they won in 1945 and have captured two from independents and one from Labor.

New! Delicious! Peanut Butter Muffins!

Take only ¼ cup sugar—and so easy!

ALL-BRAN PEANUT BUTTER MUFFINS

¼ cup peanut butter
¼ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup Kellogg's All-Bran
1 cup sifted flour
1 tablespoon baking powder

Blend peanut butter and sugar thoroughly; stir in egg, milk and Kellogg's All-Bran. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderate oven (400°F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 10 muffins.

What a flavour combination — creamy peanut butter and nut-sweet All-Bran! And the delicate toasted shreds of All-Bran give these muffins a soft, tender texture that melts in your mouth! Clip the recipe and get Kellogg's All-Bran today. P.S.— Don't forget! Saturday is muffin day!

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Scout Hut

The Mayor and Exhibition board will be contacted regarding the loss of the hut, with a note of thanks for the opportunity of proving the need of a permanent Scout Headquarters, and the probable support of both the City and the Exhibition board in securing new quarters.

Camporee

To date, seven groups have reported that they intended to take advantage of this. The Commissioner will seek the aid of the District Scouters to get after those groups who have not yet mailed in their replies.

Craft Show

Craft Show will be held in the Market Hall on May 12 and 13, with special displays on Badge work, by those groups willing to undertake such objectives. The City Trust will be approached for permission of the use of the Market Hall for that week.

Paper Collection

It was decided that the Paper Drive would be held on April 3. The funds raised in this drive are returned to those Groups who take active part in the drive, to assist them in camping expenses during the coming year.

Personal Relations Committee

A step forward was made when, on suggestion of the President, a special committee was formed to look after the Group Committee angle of the movement. A monthly bulletin will be issued to all Groups pointing out the work of the executive and explaining the aims of that committee in the advancement of Scouting throughout the city. The Committee appointed consists of the President, B. I. Burgess, Commissioner Wolff and Mr. Barry Ottowel.

Trinity Troop

David Coit and James Liscum were invested on Wednesday. Scouter Cy Davis congratulated Dave and Jim on the fine showing made in Tenderfoot Tests and explained the meaning of the investure. A. S. M. C. Stone presented the new scouts with their Scout hat and group neckerchief. Patrol leaders Jack King of the Eagles and Doug Hancock of the Swallows presented their Tender foot Badges. Dr. J. N. Perry, group committee chairman, spoke briefly. The Fox Patrol has given up first place in Patrol competition to the Eagles.

Dr. Bruce Gordon continued instructions on the Religion and Life badge while V. Currie instructed on First Class first aid.

A hike was held Saturday north of the city.

Second class fire lighting and cooking tests were passed by Bob Hinton and Alvin Phillips.

Trinity Cub Pack

Major Clifton was present to instruct in Semaphore and Mr. Burgess, Mr. Spearin, Dr. Perry assisted Akela, Baloo and Raksha by passing tests.

Gord Davis led a sing song, and Akela continued the story "Two Little Savages". Raksha announced that the Red Six had won the Six Competition for February.

Baloo closed the meeting with a Mouse Howl.

Tests passed were, book balance, Rae Frost; knots, Garry Hancock, Bruce Hill; flag, Larry Gray, Gerald Vincent, Raymond Henwood; skipping, Bert Heuback; hopping, Bobbie Richy; Athletics, Frank Jobbit, David Ross, Peter Ashby; shoe shine, Allan Miles.

St. Andrew's Cubs

Pat Weaver led the opening Grand Howl. Bob Hunter and Bob Stenner were invested. Three new chums joined the Pack, Victor Brisbois, Clifford Foster and Leonard Buckley.

Somersault, book-balancing and hopping tests were passed by Gildo Silvestri, Billie Vickers, Bob Hunter, Norman Sanders, Bob Knapp and Billie Dorrington. Bob Dubay passed shoe shining and savings. Johnny Mann led in the closing Grand Howl.

St. Paul's Pack

Members of St. Paul's Pack were guests of the Salvation Army Friday. Akela Parr and her Assistants headed a fine program.

The Pack will meet at the Y.M.C.A. Friday.

St. John's Pack

Akela Ingham was welcomed into the work.

The following tests had been passed, Bobby Howden, Ross Dobbin, cleanliness; leap-frog and ball throwing; Bobby Martyn, guide; Gary Rollins, ball throw-Walter Blackwell, signalling and physicial exercises; Terry Hawkins, cleanliness and union jack; Tommy Cuffe, signalling and physical exercises; Peter Faulkner; cleanliness and somersault; Wayne Barber, cleanliness.

St John's Troop

Ron Sargent became a fully invested Tenderfoot. To chalk up the evening as a complete success, Ron passed Kim's game and Compass before he left for home. Two other lads pushed a step ahead when Ernie Chase passed Kim's game and Roy Taylor passed the lashing test.

Camporee

The committee in charge reports that seven groups have complied with the bulletins and sent in their notice of attending. These are St. John's, St. Paul's, St. Andrew's, George St., Parkhill and Trinity from this district and Madoc from out of town.

Red Cross Plans 400 Awards On March 19

TORONTO, March 11. — When the 28th Annual Meeting of the Ontario Division, Canadian Red Cross Society takes place on Friday, March 19th at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, recommendations for honorary awards in the Society will be made on behalf of more than four hundred volunteers who have given outstanding service. Token presentation of War Service awards to members of the Canadian Red Cross Corps will be made.

The meeting will commence at 10 o'clock in the Crystal Ballroom with President Alan L. Ambrose as chairman. Printed reports of committee chairmen will reveal the scope of Red Cross effort in the province throughout the past twelve months and the National and Ontario chairmen will speak on the 1948 aspects of their respective programs.

His Honour the Lieutenant Governor, Honourary President of the Ontario Division, and Honourable George A. Drew, Prime Minister, will bring greetings of the province and they, with their wives, will be among the head table guests at the luncheon to be held at one o'clock. Barbara Ann Scott and Mrs. Clyde Scott are among the head table guests also. C. Bruce Hill, M.C., St. Catharines, National President of the Chamber of Commerce and a former President of Ontario Division, is to be the guest speaker.

The meeting will reconvene in the afternoon and at the conclusion Mrs. C. F. McEachren, former National Chairman, Women's Work Committee, will address a meeting following tea at four o'clock.

Delegates from most of the branches in Ontario are expected to be present.

Canada's Armed Forces Reduced To 33,827 Men

OTTAWA, March 11. (CP) — Canada's armed forces have been reduced to 33,827 officers and men in the active branches of the army, air force and navy, the government disclosed today in a series of written answers to parliamentary questions.

The heaviest concentrations of strength, the replies showed, are in Central, Western and Northwestern Canada.

The Defense Department, replying to questions from Major E. D. Fulton (PC, Kamloops), said that the army's active strength is 15,409 officers and men. The authorized active strength for the army is 26,329, subject to the provision that it shall not exceed 20,079 for the present. A question by Major Fulton on the size of the reserve army was not answered immediately.

The active strength of the RCAF is 11,636 of a total authorized strength of 16,221, subject to a restriction the strength should not exceed 14,271 at present.

The navy's strength was given at 6,782. The RCN has authority to expand to 7,875 at present and to an eventual total of 10,375.

The replies also disclosed that the RCAF has an auxiliary strength of 692 out of an authorized strength at present of 3,121 and 4,500 eventually.

The naval reserve is 3,247 with authorization for 4,400 at present and 18,000 in the future.

Sharp reductions were reported in the ranks serving at headquarters. The army's headquarters strength was placed at 1,925, the RCAF's at 552, and the navy's at 178.

The army's heaviest concentration of strength is in the Central Command, where 5,203 officers and men are stationed. While Eastern Command has only 1,081, Western Command, which covers the Pacific coast, has 2,798. Another 2,093 are stationed in the Prairie Command.

Urges More Work

LONDON, March 11 — (CP) — Work more efficiently and change your job if it will increase production of export goods, Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the people of the United Kingdom in a radio address last night. The Chancellor said that "the greatest need for 1948 is more efficient production.

Calls Premier 'Stinking Skunk' Saskatchewan MP Tossed Out

REGINA, March 11—(CP).—A. T. Proctor (L—Moosomin) was "named" in the Saskatchewan Legislature yesterday and ordered from the chamber for the balance of the sitting when he called Premier T. C. Douglas a "stinking skunk" and refused to withdraw the remark.

He was ordered from the chamber by Speaker Tom Johnston after the House voted, 43-4, to expel him for the rest of the sitting.

Mr. Proctor had risen before the orders of the day to deny charges made in the Legislature Tuesday by Premier Douglas, who said the Liberal Party established a dummy corporation in 1942 which "deprived" the provincial treasury of nearly $70,000 on sales of supplies to the government of former Liberal Premier W. J. Patterson.

"It is smears like this that have kept honest men out of politics," Mr. Proctor said. "The Premier of this province is a stinking skunk."

After Mr. Proctor twice refused to withdraw the remark, Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines, Acting Government Leader, again asked Mr. Procter to withdraw.

He said the government was willing to appoint a royal commission to investigate the charges or refer the charges to a special committee of the Legislature or the public accounts committee.

Won't Withdraw

"I won't withdraw," Mr. Proctor said, "My honor has been impugned in this House and I'm the judge of that."

"I'm afraid I'll have to name you," warned Mr. Johnston.

"That's quite all right with me, Mr. Speaker," replied Mr. Proctor.

The Premier's charges centred around activities of Acme Dye & Chemicals, Ltd., which he said sold 20,000 pounds of dye to the government between 1940 and 1942 at $5.80 a pound—$3.44 a pound more than the government now was paying.

"This is just one of ways in which the Liberal campaign funds were maintained during the years when the machine needed a lot of grease," Mr. Douglas had said.

Mr. Proctor said "any statement or inference of wrongdoing made against me by Premier Douglas is not only false but it is a malicious lie told only for the purpose of obtaining some political advantage for himself."

Fisheries Council Bans Communists

OTTAWA, March 11—(CP).—A two-day conference by the Fisheries Council of Canada ended yesterday with its disclosure of a blunt refusal to admit to its membership "any organization tainted with Communism."

Delegates heard Justice Minister Ilsley declared "the triumph of Communism in the world at large would entail an intolerable abridgement of our liberties," and the council unanimously resolved to demand the deprivation of rights and privileges of Canadian citizenship to all who subscribe to "disruptive doctrines for which Communism stands."

The council also voiced its desire for the holding of the proposed Dominion-Provincial conference on fisheries and elected a new slate of officers; the president of a Vancouver packinghouse J. M. Buchanan, being elected new president of the council.

The incident, one of the most brutal example of Red terrorism, occured in the international district of the Austrian capital city. Grunden will recover, but might lose his left arm.

Reach Settlement

OTTAWA, March 11 — (CP). — An alimony action brought by Mrs. Germaine Madden against Judge John P. Madden ended abruptly yesterday when counsel for the two parties concerned informed the court that an out-of-court settlement had been reached.

Hard To Avoid War

WASHINGTON, March 11 — (AP). — Eamon de Valera said yesterday that war 'appears very difficult to avoid." The world faces a terrifying situation," the former prime minister of Eire told a press conference.

Dollar Saving Cripples Trade

OTTAWA, March 11—(CP).—Senator Wishart Robertson, Government leader, yesterday challenged in the Senate a charge that the Government's exchange-conservation bill is "hostile to freedom of trade." He described the bill as a move toward economic stability.

The criticism was led off by Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, who later won support from Senator Arthur Roebuck (L—Ontario).

Speaking during debate on a motion for second reading, Senator Haig said: "No bill in the history of Confederation was ever more hostile to freedom of trade than this one."

Senator Robertson said the Government policy will tend toward stability, "the greatest attraction for investments coming into this country."

He admitted that Canada's credits and loans were contributing factors to the exchange difficulties. But in the light of Europe's distress and the continued "westward march of Communism," no "thinking person" would say the credits and loans should not have been extended.

REPRODUCTIVE RARITY

"An important part of my diet ever since my first bottle has been Crown Brand Corn Syrup. Now, that may be all right for a little character like myself, but let me tell you, these grown-ups sure are lucky what with Mom serving them Crown Brand Corn Syrup with so many of their dishes. And she uses it in her baking, too, as a sweetener. I can hardly wait until I'm old enough to have some hot waffles or pancakes smothered with delicious Crown Brand. If it's as good as it is in my cereal—mmmmm!"

For years doctors have recommended the use of Crown Brand Corn Syrup as a satisfactory carbohydrate acting as a milk modifier for bottle-fed infants.

Four-day Flights To Moon Forecast By Radar Expert

By RONALD PRESTON

LONDON, March 11—(Reuters).—Thousand-ton "atomic spaceships" capable of carrying passengers 250,000 miles to the moon in four days may be under construction in 30 years' time if the present rate of progress in research continues. But before then, perhaps in 10 years, 100-ton rockets, carrying scientific instruments, will probably be launched to the moon at a speed of about 30,000 miles an hour.

This view was expressed by a 30-year-old former Royal Air Force radar expert, Arthur C. Clarke, chairman of the Inter-Planetary Society which comprises many scientists and literary men including George Bernard Shaw.

Stressing that large-scale research on guided missiles was now being carried out in Britain, the United States and Australia, Clarke declared that "this research, though mostly of a military nature, is identical with that which must be carried out to make space travel possible.

"The problem of sending a guided missile to the Antipodes is in some ways more difficult than sending one to the moon, and sooner or later the first steps in space-flight will follow automatically from present military research.

"Although the true spaceship is still a generation ahead, rockets have already left the atmosphere and the first steps in the conquest of space have already been taken.

"The atomic spaceship, when it comes, will make possible the exploration of the moon and planets and lead to the greatest revolution in human history.

"Perhaps in the exploration of the planets man will at least find an enterprise great enough to absorb those energies which he has hitherto squandered in war."

Clarke added that his opinions are shared by a great many other people — perhaps the majority of rocket engineers.

He said that the United States Navy will have ready for firing this summer an improved version of the German V-2 rocket with a ceiling of 230 miles and a top speed of 5,600 miles an hour, and added that present research will probably result in rockets reaching heights of several hundreds of miles in the next five years.

"It should be technically feasible to send automatic rockets to the moon within 10 years," he continued, "but whether or not this is done will depend on non-technical considerations such as finance and national prestige."

But however that may be, he believes that the development of spaceships carrying human passengers and returning to earth must "await the harnessing of atomic energy for propulsion."

"At the moment the favorite idea is that some sort of high temperature atomic pile or furnace, burning plutonium may be developed to heat a gas, probably hydrogen or helium and so provide a propulsive stream of very high velocity."

There are, however, immense practical difficulties still to be overcome — the protection of passengers from the by-products of nuclear energy such as fatal "gamma rays" for example.

1,000-Ton Rocket

Stressing that his opinions are based "largely on conjective," Clarke forecasts that the first atomic rocket to the moon would probably weigh about 1,000 tons.

The type of automatic rocket needed to cover the 250,000 miles to the moon would, in Clarke's view, probably weigh up to 100 tons. It would be similar to the V-2 except that it would have a number of separate "steps," each of which would be dropped off as the fuel became exhausted.

"Only in this way can the initial velocity of about 25,000 miles an hour necessary to escape the earth's gravitational pull be achieved with our present chemical fuel," Clarke explained, "because four-fifths of the weight of the rocket would be taken up in fuel and it could not carry more than about one pound's worth of instruments for every ton."

The step-rocket, Clarke stressed, is not a new invention. The Germans used a 100-mile-range step-rocket "rhiene-boote" in the war and were planning a large trans-Atlantic one.

Navigation in space would not present any insuperable difficulties. The spaceship, which could be kept on its course by guide rockets, would, on leaving the earth's atmosphere, speed "uphill" against the earth's gravitational pull until it reached about nine-tenths of the way to the moon.

At this stage, roughly, the moon's gravitational pull becomes greater than that of the earth.

Return Flight Easier

The spaceship would then begin to "fall" towards the moon, and would probably, by reversing its engines, have to slow up its descent to ensure a smooth landing. The return flight to the earth would be easier since only one-tenth of the way would be against the moon's "pull." The rest of the journey would be "downhill" pulled back by the earth's gravity.

On returning to the earth's atmosphere, the spaceship would probably fly around in ever increasing circles and land by means of parachute attachments. It might even have retracable wings and land as an aircraft.

Once on the moon, Clarke pointed out, passengers, if they left the spaceship, would have to wear special pressure suits similar to deep sea diving suits to prevent themselves from blowing up as a result of the reduced atmospheric pressure. Precautions would also have to be taken against the intense cold.

Clarke sees no reason why, in the distant future, it might not be possible to organize built-in settlements on the moon for mining is mineral wealth, with airlocks to keep the atmosphere at the right pressure.

He does not consider this problem to be so very different from that of the colonization of the Arctic and Antarctic which he believes will begin in the near future.

Conditions on the planet Venus, which might be next explored after the moon, should be roughly similar to those on the top of Mount Everest, he concluded.

HARD ON CONSTITUTION

It is estimated that on an average winter day, about 6,000,000 persons in the United States are temporarily or permanently disabled because of illness.

LENDS SUPPORT TO RED CROSS—Taking time out of her busy schedule, Barbara Ann Scott paused on her way home in London, England, to become a volunteer worker in the Canadian Red Cross Society. Canada's young ice queen lend her support to the current Canadian campaign for $3,000,000 as Col. R. W. Frost, Overseas commissioner for the society, far right, presents her with a Red Cross armband. Nova Scotia Legislature Begins 1948 Sitting

By The Canadian Press

Opening today of the Nova Scotia Legislature brings to nine the number of provincial houses now in session. Last of the provincial parliaments to start its 1948 sitting, the legislature at Halifax will mark the centennial of the inaugural of responsible government in Canada.

Special ceremonies in 130-year-old Province House will recall the formation within its walls Feb. 2, 1848, of the first responsible executive council in a British colony.

Throne Speech debate was expected to end today in the neighboring legislature of New Brunswick. H. L. Fleming (PC—Carleton) yesterday called for a clear-cut provincial power policy.

As the Prince Edward Island Legislature met after a five-day adjournment, Premier Walter Jones answered opposition questions concerning government operation last fall of a strikebound packing plant.

The Ontario Legislature gave first reading to six government bills. Labor Progressive party bills for a 75-cents-an-hour minimum wage and free milk for school children were defeated.

Quebec's Legislative Assembly considered private members' business and two opposition motions concerning the price of dairy products and the re-establishment of tuberculosis victims after their cure. Amendments to both motions were presented by government supporters and approved.

At Winnipeg, a change in membership of the board of governors of the University of Manitoba was sought by C.C.F. Leader E. A. Hansford, who said the present board was not representative of the people of Manitoba. He said his request stemmed from the resignation of Dr. A. W. Trueman as president.

A government - sponsored motion urging the early calling of a Dominion - Provincial conference was carried 50 to 3 in the Alberta Legislature. It was introduced Tuesday by Attorney - General Lucien Maynard.

ATOMIC RESEARCH — An atomic energy development rated as second only to the splitting of the atom was announced by the radiation laboratory at the University of California for the U.S. Atomic Energy commission. The announcement revealed that mesons—nuclear particles heretofore found only in cosmic rays, and thought by some nuclear scientists to be the force which holds nuclei together—have been produced in abundance by the university's giant 4,000-ton cyclotron. Credit for the development was given to Dr. Eugene Gardner, 35, a research physicist at the University of California.

Beware of Married Suitors Usually Just Philanderers

Dorothy Dix

THE WOLVES ARE on the prowl, seeking whom they may devour, and so many unwary Red Riding Hoods are playing along the road that leads to their destruction. Be warned in time, little girls. Never again will you be in such peril. Turn about and run back to your Mamas as fast as you can.

For the married wolf is the most dangerous and cruel of all his bloody tribe, and no compassion for you will keep him from casting you aside when he has tired of you and satisfied his lust for youth and freshness and unsophistication, and the beast is always on the scent of new victims.

I am talking now about the married philanderers who prey on young girls, without even a single vestige of pity for the lives they are wrecking. There isn't a day that I do not get many letters from guileless young girls who tell me that they are in love with married men who are desperately in love with them, but who cannot marry them because they already have wives and little children.

"I know John loves me because he tells me so, and it simply breaks his heart that we have to keep our love a secret and can't live openly together. But he is so noble that he doesn't feel that he has a right to break up his home and be separated from his kids, who are devoted to him," they write. "And, of course, it would be bad for his business, but he tells me to just be patient and he will make everything all right just as soon as he can."

Victims of Perfidity

And the poor little obsessed victim of man's perfidity believes every word of these black lies and wears her youth out in weary waiting. Or, worse still, throws her cap over the windmill and becomes the temporary inhabitant of a love nest.

It is easy enough to understand why so many girls fall in love with married men. Generally it is their boss who sweeps them off their feet, and that is because he is older, more worldly wise, more experienced in handling women and has all the technique of love-making at his fingers' end. No young and inexperienced girl is a match for an old roue, and before she knows it poor little gullible Sally has given him her heart to play with.

There is no tragedy more pitiful than that of the girl in love with a married man. If by any chance the man to whom she has given her very soul returns her affection, yet cannot break the bonds that tie him to another woman, she lives a life of jealousy of the woman who has the place that she feels should be her own, that makes it a hell on earth.

And if she loves a man who never loves her enough to want to marry her, she knows the bitterness and the emptiness of long years of wishful waiting and of blighted hopes that wither her beauty and her youth so that no man wants her.

Perhaps there is no way in which the heart can be controlled or girls foolproofed against falling in love with attractive married men, but they can minimize their danger if, when they begin to feel that-away about a man who is another woman's property, they will run home to Mother.

It is the only way they can save themselves from the big, bad wolves, who will get them if they don't watch out.

TOWN AND COUNTRY SUIT —The suit that is as right in the country or suburbs as it is for general day wear in town is always a find. This year the designers have come through with some beauties, suits that subscribe to the present fashion specifications, yet suits that aren't "dated." This town or country model is a suit of navy and white checked woollen with a generously flared skirt. The jacket is detailed with tuck-seaming in front and back and has slightly built-out patch pockets. Navy crepe is the color of the accompanying blouse.

Store Staff Plans March 17 Dance

Plans are underway for the annual St. Patrick's Day Dance, sponsored by the staff of the local Canadian Department Stores, to be held Tuesday, March 16, at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club. Manager, Mr. J. H. Jamison a native of Belfast, Ireland, was the originator of the first St. Patrick's Day Dance held in North Bay in 1929. The first one held in Peterborough was in 1933, in the old Conservatory of music hall at the corner of Hunter and Rubidge Street.

During the war years the proceeds of the dance which totalled $1,700 were given to aid the British War Victim's Fund.

The Kawartha Club will be decorated in traditional Irish fashion. The Sevenaires will provide the music for dancing and as an additional attraction a mantel radio is to be given as a door prize.

From Sweater to Shirtwaist With Sex Appeal Retained

Watch for: Proof that the battle of Two Looks has ended in a draw . . . The moderately longer skirt is accepted. Although one or two designers still hold out for ten inches, the hemline appears officially stabilized at thirteen inches from the floor. The shoulder pad on the other hand failed to depart in spite of efforts to banish it. Virtually every collection includes pads in moderate rounded form. The built-out hipline is shown about fifty-fifty in the collections; designers believing in the slim hipline keep it really slim.

The Sweater Girl has become the Shirtwaist Girl, with the sex appeal retained.

The sound of a dress is part of the excitement, with taffeta and faille contributing the sound effects.

Experimental cuts are everywhere, designers having a field day in fashioning new architecture for body lines. Yokes that become sleeves, armholes, that extend into side godets, sashes that are built in and up from hip to bosom, all part of the new "fusion" idea in silhouette . . . Streamlined thinking has developed many "built in" effects, including built in suspenders and sashes . . . Flounces and tiers are important, and excitement centres around the hemline . . . Collars are high, wide and cuddlesome and usually have big girlish bows under the chin . . . Sleeves are smartest either cupping the elbow or completely non-existent.

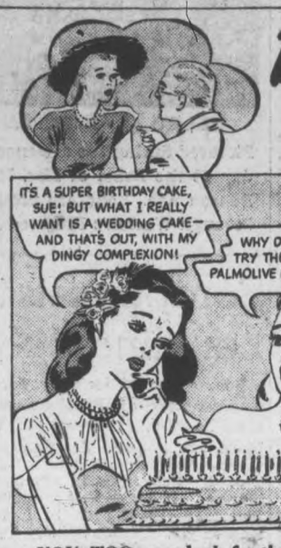
Capes and capelets appear almost as often as jackets and coats.

"Waistline" this season means the whole exposure from bosom to hipbone, either moulded skin tight in a princess line or wrapped with wide, wide cumberbund or sashes.

The period of the early 1840's, time of Victoria and Albert, of the pelerine, the ankle length hoop skirt, the dolman passementerie and the high wing collar, permeates the collections. Counterpart is the future-pointing, super-slender silhouette which breaks out in pleated fullness like a fan opening.

Fabrics are rich and fine, but not heavy. Tissue taffeta, tissue faille, tissue cottons . . . Newest are those with "built-in" pattern, definite designs woven in rather than superimposed. Schiffli embroidery which gives the effect of lace laid over fabric, satin striped woollens, and cotton taffeta are all news.

It will not be a black Spring, nor even a midnight blue one Bright navy, beige, dark greys, pinks and the orange gamut take the color lead.



Evening gowns are in full bloom in width, always stiffened out with crinoline, horsehair petticoats or hoops and more often ankle than floor length.

YPU Entertains

The spirit of Ireland predominated Monday evening when the young people of Murray Street Baptist Church entertained Park Street YPU. Everyone had a shamrock name tag and took the name of Kelly, Flanigan or Murphy. Irish colors decorated the room and Irish games were played under leadership of Miss Jean Mailing. Men were seen hanging out the washing in "Irish Washerwoman", green snakes were hunted, an Irish romance figured out and limericks completed. For all these, the Kellys came out on top winning the grand prize for high score. "Mixers" were "Murphy's patchwork quilt," "Irish handshake" and "Irish bingo", and autographs were exchanged. Irish tunes on the piano were by Dave Graham. With lights low, tall green tapers on the decorated table showed the guests their lunch—green punch, green sandwiches. Irish colleens, dressed in small green aprons and lace caps, who served were Misses Kathleen Westropp, June Blewett, Blanche Quinn and Jean Mailing. Gordon Herzog, president of Park St. YPU expressed the appreciation of the guests.

Tea Given to Raise Money For Appeal for Children

A crowd that exceeded wildest dreams and representing almost every organization in Peterborough came to the residence of Mrs. Harold Scott, 32 Benson Ave., Wednesday for afternoon tea. They were entertained by the Women's Progressive Conservative Association but there was no political shade to the event. Proceeds, amounting to an unexpectedly high total, are for the "Canadian Appeal for Children Fund." Further donations can be made by those unable to attend until the close of the regular meeting Monday afternoon.

Further assistance to the fund came from the sale of baby's knitted garments donated by Mrs. J. M. McCulloch. Mrs. H. Lucas and Mrs. George Melton were selling raffle tickets on a beautifully dressed doll, donated by Mrs. Roy Pilling. The draw will be made at the Association meeting.

The hostess had laid her table beautifully with fine silver tea things on a lace cloth. The centre bouquet of daffodils and iris was arranged in a low cut-glass bowl. Green tapers and shramrocks were representatives of St. Patrick. Pouring tea were Mrs. Jas. Juby, Mrs. G. T. Melton, Mrs. Graham Falkner and Mrs. Herbert Bradburn.

Tea room hostesses were the ward chairmen, Mrs. H. Staunton, Mrs. E. Fisher, Mrs. Jas. Pickering, Mrs. H. Wilson, assisted by Mrs. Kitchen.

Mrs. J. Cridland, president of the association, received with Mrs. Scott, who is honorary president. Mrs. R. G. Cottrell was treasurer.

Soroptimists to Eliminate Loneliness of Old People

Baby of the service clubs, Soroptimist Club of Peterborough, made its debut Wednesday with a brand new project. For want of a name, the program is presently headed, "Rehabilitation of older women". It has endless possibilities that cannot even be foreseen as yet. Certainly there has never been an effort more needed or more worthwhile.

Soroptimists, a group of highly classified professional and business women, are bringing into being a plan for women of the older age-group to come together socially every Wednesday afternoon at the YWCA. A comfortable secluded club room and kitchen facilities will be at their disposal. Until the women feel their footing firm enough to make their own plans, entertainment to suit their tastes will be arranged. Though busy women themselves, members plan to take time off each week for a while to enjoy several hours helping in the activities and serving the refreshments. Later, they hope it will be a place for them to drop in after five and be served a cup of tea.

Response to the first meeting yesterday was so encouraging that advanced plans are already coming to mind. All truly great things begin in a small way, so Soroptimists were content that the number able to come out was not large. Too, they found they became well acquainted with the women present, and learned a great deal from them. Next week, each will bring a friend, perhaps several, and there will be much to talk about as all get acquainted.

Suggestion that the group start making a quilt was accepted eagerly. It was found one woman has baskets full of patterns and another has a quilting frame. All had needles and thimbles and expressed willingness to use them, so members are busy securing the necessary materials to have all in readiness for next meeting. Anyone who cannot sew will find magazines to amuse them or card games, as well as the social contacts to be made.

Transportation, a big item to most older people, is graciously taken care of by the club. All they require is the address of any woman in the city who would care to become one of this friendly circle. Acquaintances will bring out the fact that many lonely widows and others are living close enough to each other for in-between visits. After just one meeting, two women were heard planning for Friday evening as they left.

"You have no idea what this means to me" said one lady present. "I have just been walking on air since the day your member called to invite me to this meeting." Her enthusiasm for the plan was a delight to the Soroptimists who feel she will spread the word and bring others in to take part in the pleasures.

Though sociability took up most attention Wednesday, there was time to show two films. "Ducks Unlimited' was in technicolor and the women were thrilled with the beautiful outdoor scenes. Beautiful music was the feature of "A City Sings" that they greatly enjoyed.

Tea and refreshments were served informally. Color and a hint of spring was added to the scene by a pot of golden daffodils.

Mrs. Enith Scott is president of the Soroptimists and her telephone number is 5477.

Cartwright-Watson

HAVELOCK, March 11. — (ENS).—A quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday, at the manse of St. Paul's Presbyterian church. Peterborough, when Barbara Marguerite, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Watson of Havelock, was united in marriage to William Percy Cartwright of Havelock, son of Mrs. Cartwright and the late J. D. Cartwright. Rev. C. G. Boyd performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street length dress of pink silk jersey with black accessories and corsage of pink roses. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James Cartwright of Peterborough, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. The latter more medium blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Havelock. Mrs. Watson received in a black gown with black and white check trim. Mr. Cartwright assisted, wearing a powder blue costume.

For the wedding trip to Toronto the bride donned a lace trimmed blue crepe dress, grey coat and black accessories. They will live in Havelock.

Visit Fire Hall

Marion Pound opened the meeting of George St. YPU Monday evening with a short worship period.

Business was conducted by president Dorothy Graham and minutes read by secretary Thelma Jordison. Plans were made for a St. Patrick's party. A letter from the Trinity YPU invited the group to their fireside service Sunday evening.

The young people then adjourned to the fire hall, where they were taken on a tour of the premises. This proved to be a most interesting and instructive visit. Many realized that they had very little knowledge of the inside workings of the fire department, and were amazed with their findings. More trips to places of interest in town are planned. On behalf of the YPU, Ross Parkin thanked the firemen for their hospitality.

With The Girl Guides

1st St. Andrew's Brownie Pack

The sun smiled Saturday for the annual sleigh-ride of St. Andrew's Brownie Pack. Sixteen Brownies were present to enjoy the ride around Jackson Park and return to the hall for chocolate milk and cookies. We are sorry that some Brownies were sick and unable to attend and hope they will soon be back. The Pack was pleased to have Capt. Gladys Bridcott of All Saints' Company as their guest.

1st St. Andrew's Guide Company

The meeting opened as usual, after which the Guides went to Patrol corner. During the evening the folllowing tests were passed: bed making, Eleanor Gilders, Barbara Jones, Beverley Payne, and Eleanor Everett; bus and telephone, Mary Raddon and Beverley Hutton; knots, Eleanor Gilders; health, Beverley Hutton. The Patrol Leaders discussed the mothers' night program and after a flag game the meeting was brought to a close with campfire.

3rd All Saints' Guide Company

Friday night found the Guides of this company busy passing tests and the following were successful: whistle signals, A. Hamilton; further knowledge of the Guide laws and promise, S. Dafoe; Guide promise, J. Adams and A. Todd; second class knots, S. Dafoe; morse, G. Roberts; square lashing, Helen Bradley.

Old Fashions To Be Shown Monday Evening

A fashion parade of period gowns is arranged for Monday evening to be presented in the Sunday school auditorium of George St. United Church by Peter Robinson Chapter, IODE. There will be old-fashioned wedding gowns, afternoon and evening dresses modelled by Mrs. T. Glover, Mrs. C. B. Waite, Mrs. J. Heffernan, Mrs. G. Ham, Mrs. R. Lewis, Mrs. H. Chown, Mrs. M. Hardill, Mrs. D. Munroe, Mrs. G. Hill, Mrs. H. Keefer, Mrs. H. Baker, Mrs. J. Hiland, Mrs. L. Armstrong, Misses Doris and Helen Burgess, Cora Clark, Moira Whalon and Jean Hamley. Miss Mildred Bailey will be commentator.

Guest speaker of the evening is Mrs. Kate Aiken of Toronto.

Miss Mary Greer, regent of the chapter, is general convener, assisted by Mrs. W. Derry, Mrs. C. B. Waite, Mrs. B. V. Moore, Mrs. W. McCreery, Mrs. H. Keefer and Mrs. N. Hamley. Tickets are in charge of Mrs. F. Jobbitt and Mrs. W. Belleghem. Mrs. C. E. Graham is arranging the stage setting, and Mrs. V. Morphet the music, with Miss Mildred McIntyre as pianist.

Circle Enjoys "Irish" Party

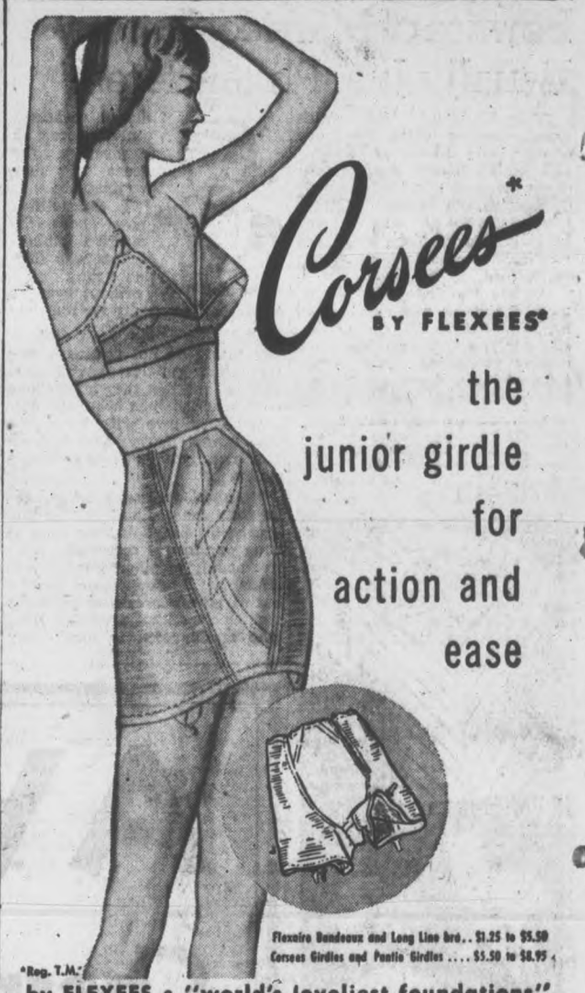
Amid gay decorations in green and white with shamrocks scattered about Mary Nicholls Circle of Murray Street Baptist Church enjoyed an evening of Irish fun Tuesday. Miss Marian Mansfield, vice-president, gave announcements in the absence of Miss Margaret Eastwood.

The group was divided into two families, the Murphys and the Kellys—Miss Clara Doughty and Mrs. Ivan C. Morgan being their heads. Irish washerwomen, Irish spuds and Irish romance were a few of the games which lent a happy spirit to the party. After an Irish sing song with Mrs. Percy Johnson at the piano, the story of St. Patrick was read. A buffet lunch was served on a prettily decorated table, lit with tall green tapers, but waitresses dressed in lacy green aprons and lace caps captured the eye.

Miss Jean Mailing was in charge of the social program. Mrs. Walter Cocks, Mrs. Chas. Brash, Mrs. H. Wells and Misses Alice Johnson and Wilma Campbell served. Miss Clara Doughty accepted the prize for the "Murphy family," which had high score for the evening.

The circle is invited to Park Street Church Saturday evening to hear a special speaker. All are welcome.

Home and School Association News



The meeting of St. John's Home and School Association held Tuesday evening was attended by a large number of its rapidly growing membership. Mrs. Bernard Holland was in the chair.

Program arranged and presented under direction of committee of which Miss Bernice Greenan is convener was enthusiastically received.

"Recreation with regard to good citizenship" was the topic of an addressby Mr. Edward Murphy, guest speaker. The need for more profitable use of leisure time, Mr. Murphy explained, was well recognized during the past war when forty per cent of the young men were found to be unfit for military service.

Mrs. V. R. Henry, publications convener of Home and School Council, spoke on "Publications—one of the most important phases of Home and School work."

A weekly shopping and information service for today's woman

MONTREAL, March 11th—Now that War Savings Certificates are maturing month by month, you'll be glad to know there's a simple way to cash yours when they come due. I've found this method saves me time, trouble and money! All I did was put my Certificates in safekeeping at the BANK OF MONTREAL, and as each one matures, the B of M has it cashed and added to my account. This service costs very little . . . and it saves me the chore of sorting Certificates every month, mailing each one to Ottawa as it matures, and then cashing or depositing the cheque for it. Best of all . . . it helps me to save money, since the proceeds of the Certificates go straight into my B of M account! Why not visit your nearest B of M branch tomorrow . . . youll find they'll be glad to handle the redemption of your War Savings Certificates for you!

Teen-Agers are fun to entertain . . . full of vim, vigour, vitality and much enthusiasm for good food like this dee-licious Devil's Food Cake, made with BAKER'S CHOCOLATE! . . .

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

8 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate
4 tbspns. sugar
2-3 cup water
1 tspn. vanilla
2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 tspns. Calumet Baking Powder
½ tspn. baking soda
½ tspn. salt
2-3 cup butter or other shortening
1¼ cups sugar
2 egg, well beaten
1-3 cup sour milk or buttermilk

Combine chocolate, 4 tbspns. sugar, water; cook thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Cool. Add vanilla. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, salt; sift three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually; cream until light. Add eggs, beat well, and cool chocolate mixture and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, in small amounts; beat smooth after each addition. Turn into two greased 9-inch layer pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 35 minutes. Fill and frost as desired.

Like a New-Looking Pair of Stockings in a jiffy . . . a gay new blouse for your Easter suit? Here's how! Dye them to fashion's latest, favourite shades with All-fabric Tintex Tints and Dyes . . . but first write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free package of Tintex Color Remover! Almost like magic—the way it removes old, drab color from fabrics of all kinds—prepares them for the bright new colors of All-fabric Tintex Tints and Dyes! Ask for All-fabric TINTEX at your favorite drug, department or variety store . . . it's the most economical way I know to bring freshness to your home and your wardrobe!

A Reader Writes: "No more worries about rough, red hands since I read about Pacquins Hand Cream in your column — and tried it! When dishes — or the weekly wash—are done . . . I simply cream my hands with Pacquins and in an instant, they're smooth and white!" Yes, Pacquins is the hand cream preferred by more women than any other hand cream in the world . . . it's used constantly by doctors and nurses who wash their hands thirty or forty times a day. So why not try it for yourself—simply write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your free sample of PACQUINS!

Here's a Delicious Dish to make you feel not merely unruffled but definitely triumphant when you serve it to your delighted family . . . Heinz Oven-Baked Beans, sweetly succulent and excitingly flavoured with rich tomato sauce . . . then cooked "en casserole" 'til they're bubbling! Heinz Beans are a favourite food in my kitchen—always welcome—always flavourful—and so kind to my budget, too! For, just think!—they save meat—save time—save trouble! That's why I urge you to ask your grocer tomorrow for HEINZ OVEN-BAKED BEANS . . . serve them in lots of tasty ways!

Fine Feathers—and, may I say, BROCK'S BIRD SEED, make fine canaries! That's the tip I got from a friend whose gay little songster has completely captured my heart. There's no fuss or muss . . . in fact, I find, thanks to Brock's, canaries need less care than any other pet. This diet contains the exact mixture of selected, nourishing seeds a canary needs—PLUS, a special treat containing yeast that keeps Dickey's system toned up and his songs on a happy note! Your canary deserves a balanced diet . . . and, just listen to him sing for it—on Brock's Bird Seed.

Have You a Room In Your Home That's Haunted . . . haunted by the stale odor of cabbage and meals long since eaten? . . . or a room that speaks up to say, "He smoked a cigar here yesterday!"? Then it's time to banish that "haunt" quickly and easily by using Vapair, the new room deodorant with the delightful, woodsy fragrance. It's like magic! You just pull out the wick—and soon every corner of your room is pleasantly fresh. And just think! Vapair costs less than a cent each time to use. So take my tip and ask tomorrow for the big, full-value, ten-ounce bottle of VAPAIR at your favourite drug or department store.

The Way to a man's heart is through his stomach . . . but in these days of high prices—this can be carried further—through the stomach, through the heart, to the pocketbook! And you can please all three when you plan meals to include delicious dishes made with BENSON'S CORN STARCH! Dishes like this—Novelty Meat Roll—Sally's Sponge Cake (just 2 eggs)—Lemon or Orange Filling . . . from Benson's Recipe Sheet B.D. Of Course you'd like a new Easter Bonnet and one excellent way to save for it is to cut down on food bills! Try this . . . buy less meat and still have meals as deliciously "meaty" as ever with Oxo, for Oxo is the goodness and flavour of prime lean beef in cube and fluid form. Serve it in any number of delicious ways . . . in soups—as a gravy—in stews. Keep it in a handy place on your kitchen shelf —use it often to add flavour excitement to meals and help balance your budget . . . and, remember — OXO has remained stable in price!

Quizzing a friend the other day about the secret of her success with coffee, I got an answer that's a household buyword . . . Chase & Sanborn! She said she'd tried "bargain brands" to "save" a few cents—but didn't know the true value of REAL coffee 'til Chase & Sanborn came into her life. Her husband, she says, is firm about his coffee—insists on the deep-down richness of this fine brand. Yes, Chase & Sanborn is truly satisfying—always! It's REAL coffee! That's why I urge you to ask your grocer tomorrow for CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE in the vacuum-packed tin or the economical paper bag!

The Makings of the loveliest Spring Wardrobe you've ever had are waiting for you in your favourite fabric centre! This Spring, the news is nylon-by-the-yard . . . whispering nylon taffetas and swirling cloud-like sheers! Choose your favourites from the colourful array . . . and, remember, nylon fabrics of finest quality are made of C-I-L nylon yarn! Buy matching nylon sewing thread, then create, at home, your very own version of the New Look for Spring! And for real sewing help, simply write to me, Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q., for your free copy of "Home Sewing with Nylon Fabrics"!

Her Daughter's screams startled Mrs. Winter as she was chatting with her downstairs neighbor. She rushed upstairs to her apartment to find ugly flames and thick smoke pouring from the room. Her 17-months-old son was in the kitchen and she rushed through the smoke, snatched him from his play-pen, grabbed her young daughter by the hand and rushed from the burning apartment. Her face was badly burned—her baby was almost suffocated . . . but all three were out of danger. As a tribute to her quick-thinking courage . . . the DOW AWARD, including a $100 Canada Savings Bond, is being presented to Mrs. John Winter of Brantford, Ontario. The DOW AWARD, presented from time to time to a Canadian hero or heroine for outstanding bravery, is sponsored by DOW BREWERY in Montreal.

Golden Season of Cheese When Proteins Needed

By MARY MOORE

In the days of the Mackenzie Rebellion around 1840 evidently there was a great deal of plain and fancy eating done.

I was rummaging in the archives at the library and found some rare old dishes described in some old newspapers

One of them was adaptable to our modern ideas of eating and cooking so I tried it. It is called Golden Buck and I have to admit it is a new combination to me; but, so exactly fits our needs: (1) with the price of meat so exhorbitant and (2) all protein foods so desirable in this month of short supply in almost all of our native fruits and vegetables and (3) it is Lent,—that I am featuring it.

Golden Buck

(A combination of a rich Welsh Rarebit and poached egg.)

One-half lb. grated processed cheese, ½ cup whole milk or cream, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon mustard, ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 egg yolk. Heat the milk in top of double boiler, then add cheese (the milk is heated to hasten the melting of the cheese—the faster it melts the tenderer it is) and all remaining ingredients, except egg yolk. When ready to serve stir in beaten yolk. Meanwhile have ready as many poached eggs and slices of toast as there are diners. Put the hot rarebit on the toast, top this with a poached egg, sprinkle with paprika. A good accompaniment, when this is either served for French Bread partially sliced and richly sprinkled with grated cheese and melted butter before toasting in oven. This is a little similar—but teaches you how to make bread boxes, which are an elegant substitute for toast under any creamed dish, and go excellently with cheese to make a pretty vegetable plate. Bread boxes are only made by me if I have a way of using up the left-over crusts, such as in mock duck or stuffed tenderloin or stuffed veal hearts.

Bread Boxes: Cut stale white bread in 2-inch slices and remove crusts; cut the slices in diamonds, squares or circles. Remove the centers, leaving a box or case. Brush these with butter and brown in hot oven 8 to 10 minutes, until golden. (These may be fried in deep fat, but for me that is too complicated.

To 1 cup grated milk or processed cheese add 1-3 cup grated onion, 4 teaspoons French dressing (or heavy cream and salt, pepper paprika to taste, and 1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice). Apportion this mixture into the bread boxes and bake about 5 minutes at 400 deg. Fahr. or until cheese melts and is bubbly.

Chese Rice Puff (Souffle)

Cheese Souffle is good—cheese and rice are good together—cheese and rice souffle are doubly good.

One and one-half cups grated mild or processed cheese, 1 1-3 cups cold cooked rice, 1 cup hot water, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 eggs—yolks and whites beaten separately. Mix all ingredients well except whites. Fold in stiffly beaten whites. Pour into buttered baking dish or into individual custard cups or ramekins, buttered. Stand in larger dish containing 1 inch hot water. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 30 minutes, browning off top just before taking from oven. NOTE: Crumbs or leftover cooked cereal may be used in place of rice.

For Friday, March 12

A RATHER critical and unpredictable state of affairs, with sudden and smashing events of open and above-board force supplemented by an undertone of the sinister, treacherous and malevolent, urge an alert, vigilant and conservative course of action. In fact it would be wise to postpone or nullify all vital operations or judgments until such explosive and tricky rule has blown over, as estrangements, separations and unconventional occurrences could happen under impulsive and blind proclivities.

Bor the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the verge of a year of strange crises or peculiar adventures in which there is little of a happy or constructive nature to be expected. Violent and explosive crashes are seen, while a deceptive, subtle and tricky undercurrent is quite as deplorable. Public and private connections are in the balance, with separations and estrangements probable, disrupting and devastating all ties and foundations. Refrain from any drastic or vital action and defer all decisions until the erratic and unpredictable mood passes.

A child born on this day may have singular talents and ambitions but its erratic temperament and emotions may circumvent constructive work. Its adventures may be spectacular or unconventional.

BEST FOR HEALTH

Meals and grains that have been subjected to intensive milling heat treatment lose nutritive value although their caloric value is litle changed, health experts say. Whole-grain cereals are best for health

BABY'S CRY IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

DISTINGUISH between your baby's cry of pain and cry of temper. The "pain cry" should have instant attention. For the feverish distress due to gas on stomach or bowels or those common digestive upsets, give Baby's Own Tablets at once. Mrs. May Mundy, of Toronto, finds they work every time.

"I am the mother of nine children, three of them prize babies, and Baby's Own Tablets have been my only medicine in raising them to the healthy children they now are. As soon as my children became a little feverish I at once gave them Baby's Own Tablets and in a very short time the fever disappeared and the children were normal again."

Equally effective for constipation, upset stomach, teething troubles and other minor ailments of babies.

Quickly effective. Sweet-tasting—easily crushed to a powder, if desired. No "sleepy" stuff—no dulling effect. Get a package today. Sickness often strikes in the night. 25 cents. Money back if you are not satisfied.

Bill For 40-Hour Week Defeated In Legislature

TORONTO, March 11—(CP).—CCF support of Labor-Progressive party bills for a 75-cent hourly minimum wage and free milk in schools was on record today as the result of a formal division on the two measures in the Ontario Legislature. The bills were defeated by votes of 64 to 11 and 55 to 12 respectively yesterday as Premier Drew called for the division and then the CCF supported the LPP plea for a recorded vote.

A third LPP bill which would have established a 40-hour week, time-and-a-half for overtime and overtime hours limitation, was defeated during second reading without a division.

The fourth of 10 L.P.P. measures had not come to a vote when the sitting was adjourned. J. B. Salsberg (LPP-Toronto St. Andrew) was speaking at adjournment.

One member of the official Liberal Opposition, Romeo Begin, Russell, lined up with the CCF, Labor Progressives and A. A Parent (Ind-Essex North) in support in the free milk measure.

Garfield Anderson (CCF-Fort William) voiced the CCF view on the free milk bill when he said he favored the principle although in its presented form he didn't believe the bill workable. He said he hoped it would stimulate the Provincial and Dominion governments to enactment of proper legislation for the purposes outlined.

Get First Reading

Six government bills were given first reading. One would return to the municipalities authority to set gasoline station closing hours. This will become effective April 30 and apply to Brantford, Toronto, Hamilton and Windsor. Those are the only areas where closing hours of 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. apply to suburban service station operators.

Other government measures amend acts covering public service, tourist camp regulations, mental hospitals, industrial standards and teachers' professions.

Discussing the 40-hour week bill, Mr. Salsberg said he regretted that the government had not changed its "conservative and unprogressive attitude" toward it.

Fear Longer Hours

Where trade unions are weak the workers are still subjected to a 48-hour week, he said. Since there was no longer a shortage of labor there was a danger of longer hours being forced on the workers.

Labor Minister Daley replied that many strong unions did not have the 40-hour week and many did not want it.

It was on the 75-cent minimum wage bill that Premier Drew lashed out at the Labor-Progressive members and Communism in general.

He said first that he was amused at the suggestion that the government move in dealing with Opposition bills was unfair.

Immigrants Told Opportunities Great In Canada

HALIFAX, March 11 — Resources Minister E. J. A. Glen this week told 779 immigrants arriving here on the ship Beaverbrae that their opportunities of succeeding in this country would be "as great as ever" and that "diligence and thrift are the things that create homes in this free country in which you have just arrived."

The Federal cabinet minister, a visitor in Halifax since last Friday night when he arrived to inspect at first hand the facilities for landing new Canadian here, spoke to the large group as they passed through the immigration procedure after the ship docked.

As Minister of Resources, Mr. Glen is responsible for immigration facilities in this country.

The shipload of immigrants, including Poles, Ukrainians, Estonians, Latvians, Lithuanians, Czechoslovaks, Yugoslavs, Hungarians and Romanians, arrived here on the first trip of the Beaverbrae, first Canadian ship to operate in immigration service. Many of them who had been persecuted by the Nazis for years saw irony in the fact that she was the former German ship Huascaran, received by Canada last year as part reparations payment. leading officials of his department, inspected the ship from stem to stern shortly after her arrival and he commented later that "the arrangements of the company and the conditions of the ship were most satisfactory."

One of the new arrivals, Mrs. Augusta Tews, who came from Poland, told her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Braun of Kitchener, Ont., "every day seemed like Christmas" and spoke of the good food on board, the free distribution of cigarettes and chocolate bars to passengers each day and the display of movies on board which depicted the new life the settlers might expect in various parts of Canada.

Immigration authorities who accompanied Mr. Glen on his tour of the Beaverbrae included A. L. Jolliffe, director of immigration, Capt. E. S. Brand, advisor to the Minister of Merchant Shipping and A. G. Christie, Inspector in charge of Immigration at Halifax.

Cannery Pioneer Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, March 11.—A pioneer in Ontario in the cannery business, Frank Clark, 84, died yesterday at his home, 38 Dundonald St., where he had lived for more than 35 years. He had been ill for the last seven years.

Born in Cherry Valley, he was the son of the late Capt. Paul Clark, master of the excursion boat HMS Merritt, which ran out of Picton, Bay of Quinte, on trips to the 1,000 Islands and other points. Following the retirement of his father, Frank Clark became master of the excursion boat for a time.

As a young man Mr. Clark joined his father's evaporated apple canning business and later branched out establishing vegetable canneries in various parts of Ontario and British Columbia. After selling out to the Dominion Canners, Mr. Clark spent considerable time in Southern Saskatchewan, taking west carloads of horses which he sold to the farmers. He acquired a farm at Stoughton, Sask., where he homesteaded returning east after the fall harvest.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. B. E. Park, Windsor; Mrs. C. O. Hand, Caledonia; and Miss Mabel Clark, Toronto; a son, Harry Clark, Stoughton, Sask., and two brothers, 93-year-old David Clark of Picton, and Palen Clark, in Saskatchewan. Funeral service will be held in Picton.

Dental Health Can Extend Life 10 Years

Quoting Dr. Charles Mayo, Dean Ellis of the Faculty of Dentistry, Toronto, told So-Ed Wednesday night that "human life might well be extended by 10 full years through dentistry alone." He was speaking at the fifth weekly meeting of the So-Ed group held at the Normal School.

Generalizing he said, "parents and relations would do nothing to expose a child to a TB patient, or to death-dealing cancer if it were possible to avoid it; but on the other hand they are not nearly so careful with regard to cavies."

"If the truth were known as to the tooth wreckage we see, carbohydrate would be regarded as the greatest caus." He contended that 98 per cent of the population is affected early in life—as early as five years of age. And this has not yet been remedied, he said.

Dean Ellis gave four results of being a "dental cripple." First, food could not be chewed properly, and he contended that this would affect the system after a period of years. During the time food was retained in the mouth while the chewing process went on, he said, the most valuable contribution was not the mechanical work of the teeth but the physiological result—the proper mixture of saliva.

Impaired speech was another result, he pointed out. And he said that while this might not be altogether unbecoming in a small child it was a definite deficiency, and would be undesirable in later life.

Poor teeth "impaired esthetics." He said he believed ugly teeth could produce psychological quirks, even to the point of child delinquency. "I believe there are many misfits due to the mental effect of decayed teeth.

Can Lead to Cancer

Broken and diseased teeth can lead to cancer, he said, as well as other ills stemming from being a "dental cripple."

The only sure remedy is with the very young child, said Dean Ellis. And to be effective it must be tackled on a mass basis.

He quoted Guggenheim Clinic statistics claiming that at the age of three there are 2.3 cavies per child; at four 3.5, and at five, 4.2.

Merely because they are temporary teeth they should be neglected, he said. Instead of letting them go they should be attended to be a dentist. He pointed out that the first teeth serve as guides for the secondary teeth to follow, and therefore the first should be care for, too.

Dental health and general health were mutually dependent, he said. The health of teeth is affected by the health of the child. For example, adequate nutritional development and the nature of the food itself giving both teeth and gums exercise, were mentioned.

Dean Ellis quoted figures indicating that in the United States more money is spent on dogs than dental care; 1½ times that amount on silk hose; twice as much on cosmetics; four times as much on tobacco, and five times as much on movies.

As an illustration of the belief that man is not as clever as generally imaged, he said that while an individual would insure his barn against loss by fire he would not insure his dental health against loss. And the latter is irreplaceable, he said.

"The next 25 years will see greater health advances in theory and practice than in the last 50 years."

Dean Ellis then laid down a rough sketch of a program which he believed mothers would be wise to follow.

One, the mother should make sure that the child sees a dentist when it is between ages of nine months and a year. (a) mother should get some nutritional education—not just balanced diet, but food physically right, such as amount of bulk, and and the exercise of gums and teeth. (b) She should be aware that with baby teeth the function is secondary to the realization that they are primarily guides to the permanent teeth. (c) Care of child's teeth by artificial means. (d) Prohibiting of bedtime snacks.

Within 10 seconds from eating carbohydrate material it will start into acid, he said, and it will work for about one and a half hours. He admitted that elimination of carbohydrate foods was impossible on a major scale, and recommended a through brushing of the teeth within 10 minutes after every meal.

"If we could bring children up with full knowledge of these factors avoiding excessively carbohydrate food, we could reduce tooth cavies by 50 per cent."

The second point in his program was that children should be taken to the dentist at the age of two and two-and-a-half, every four or six months. Then he believed there would be no dental trouble.

Throughout his address Dr. Ellis emphasized that the solution at present was in nipping decay when the person was only a child. This he felt would eliminate later "dental cripples."

Dr. John J. Craig introduced the speaker, and he was thanked by Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, Peterborough. Quirt McKinney was the chairman.

50 YEARS WED TODAY—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stapely of 513 Donegal St. are seen as they discussed plans for the golden wedding celebration they are having today, with their family as guests. The couple was married in Madoc on March 11, 1898.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stapely Wed 50 Years Ago Today

Fifty years have elapsed since they were married, but Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stapely have not let time lay its finger too heavily upon them. The groom of March 11, 1898, goes to work daily and his wife keeps busy with household tasks at their Donegal Street home.

Wedding the former Annie Sanford took place at the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sanford, of Madoc. Her husband was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stapely of Marmora. Twenty-one years later, the couple moved to Peterborough and have remained in the city. They are members of All Saints' Anglican Church.

To-day, Mr. and Mrs. Stapely are celebrating their golden wedding, surrounded by their three daughters, several of six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Daughters are Laura (Mrs. Findlay Harris of Bannockburn), Evelyn (Mrs. J. Pounder of St. Catharines), and Carrie (Mrs. Fred Blondin), Edison Avenue.

A family dinner is arranged, complete with decorated wedding cake. All will be merry, and the honored couple enjoying the party to the full. No wonder they like company, for in 50 years they have probably discussed everything that interests them many times, even to the "new look." As Mr. Stapely remarked dryly when the photographer suggested they engage in conversation, "We haven't much to say to each other just now."

Hon. C. G. Power Had Hunch About Jap War

By The Canadian Press

Refusal of the British government to allow a number of secret dispatches to be made public leaves some of the doubt still hovering over charges arising out of Canada's role in the 1941 defence of Hong Kong.

Evidence and exhibits given before the Sir Lyman P. Duff commission in 1042 were tabled in the Commons, but they failed to back up the contention of Premier Drew of Ontario that the Canadian government got a clear-cut warning three days before the troops sailed Oct. 27, 1941, that war with Japan was an early possibility.

Following is a five-point summary of the Hong Kong defence evidence.

Imminence Of War

Hon. C. G. Power, defence minister at the time Britain asked for the two battalions, was asked:

"Up to the time this expedition left for Hong Kong, had you any conviction in your own mind that war was inevitable or a matter of the immediate future or the near future?"

Maj. Power: "Quite frankly, I felt in my own mind that there was a real danger of war with Japan, but I have heard people who had as much right to an opinion, and far more knowledge than I had, who have stated, even after the Japanese war broke out, that they did not think there ever would be a Japanese war. It is only a matter of opinion.

"I felt, perhaps without any sound basis except having read these dispatches, that there was a very good chance of war breaking out with Japan, and in such a case our men would be in a very difficult position."

Question: "Yes, but was it in your mind imminent or a matter of the fairly remote future?"

Maj. Power: "No, it was not imminent. I did not know when it would happen. I could not guess. It is all guesswork in this war."

Two New Pacts Signed By Sailors' Union

MONTREAL, March 11 (CP).—J. A. (Pat) Sullivan's Canadian Lake Seamen's Union announced yesterday the signing of agreements for the 1948 shipping season with the Sarnia and Colonial Steamship Companies.

These agreements, according to the CLSU, are similar to that signed last week-end by Sullivan's union with the Canada Steamship Lines, covering some 2,600 seamen employed on CSL vessels.

Yesterday's agreements will give some 800 seamen a subsistance allowance of $5.25 aday; 14 paid holidays for an eight-month navigation season; union shop; maintenance of membership; and a wage increase of $30 a month.

The contracts with Canada Steamship Lines, Sarnia and Colonial steamship companies, are the first reached by the CLSU since it was formed a year ago by Sullivan after he resigned from the presidency of the Canadian Seamen's Union charging that the CSU was dominated by Communists.

According to the CLSU the new wage scale agreed to by these companies follows: $225 a month for first cooks; $175 for wheelsmen; $170 for firemen; $135 for porters and a $30 monthly increase for other personnel.

The shipping companies also agreed that an additional $10 a month will be paid on all self-unloading vessels. Overtime rates are boosted to 90 cents an hour.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

A THREE-WAY PLAY

THERE ARE frequent plays which offer two chances of success. One chance would be through the direct operation of the play itself. The other would come after its failure, from inviting a mistake by one of the defenders. On rare occasions a three-way play is encountered. First it may work by itself, bringing your contract home. Second, if it fails, one defender may make a particular error. Third, if he does not, his partner then has a chance to slip and present your contract to you.

	♠ 7 6 3 ♥ 10 7 4 ♦ K 9 8 6 ♣ Q 10 3
♠ 10 5 ♥ Q 9 6 3 ♦ A 5 ♣ 9 5 4 4 2	N W E S	♠ J 9 2 ♥ K 8 5 ♦ Q 4 3 2 ♣ K J 7
	♠ A K Q 8 4 ♥ A J 2 ♦ J 10 7 ♣ A 5

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
2 ♦	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠

East later regretted deeply that he had not passed the 1-Spade, but his side had a part score of 80, and that lured him, in the hope that West had passed almost enough to bid.

In response to the diamond call, West led the A. But when he got the 2 from East and South played the J, West switched to the club 4. The 10 from dummy brought forth the J and A.

Thereupon the declarer, Fenton Johnston, one of the best in New York's University Club, went to work. With a probability of one loser each in all suits except spades, he first took out the trumps in three rounds and then made his real try for game.

It happened to be a three-way play. It was a finesse of the diamond J. If this worked, he would be home. It didn't, however, and now the second chance was at hand. If East would only lead a club, either his good K or a smaller one, two hearts could be discarded on a club and a diamond. East saw that himself, so returned a heart, the 5. South played low and let the Q win.

Now came the third chance. A club return would beat the contract, but a heart would assure it. West guessed wrong, leading the heart 3. That trapped the K, so diamonds furnished a discard of the club 5 and the rubber was in the bag.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ Q J 8 ♥ A 8 6 4 3 ♦ A 9 ♣ 7 5 2
♠ K 9 2 ♥ 9 7 5 2 ♦ K 10 8 6 5 ♣ 8	N W E S	♠ 10 6 ♥ Q 10 ♦ J 7 2 ♣ Q 10 9 6 4 3
	♠ A 7 5 4 3 ♥ K J ♦ Q 4 3 ♣ A K J

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

How should South strain to make 6-No Trumps after the club 8 lead?

Home And School

Parent education, it was noted by Mrs. Henry, is a recognized phase of adult education . . . by rich and poor, educated and uneducated alike.

There was an extensive display of literature partly made up of a sample kit procured from the Federation offices in Toronto especially for the evening.

A report outlining the organization, aims, and activities of the Canadian Association of Consumers was prepared and presented by Mr. Clarence Smith. Members were given an opportunity to join at Tuesday night's meeting as it is a representation of 33 women's organizations in Canada including the Home and School.

Another phase of the program was presided over by Mr. Edward Murphy and included accordion selections by Mr. Gordon Fousel. A quartet composed of Thomas Williams, Jerry Dyrun, Kirk Halcro and J. Nolan, presented two outstanding selections, "On the Banks of the Wabash and "Ole Black Joe." Miss Bernice Greenan was accompanist. Mr. Tousel again delighted his audience with accordion selections and a soprano solo "Let the Rest of the World Go By." The evening concluded with a song led by Mr. J. V. Anglesey.

Votes of appreciation to those taking part were expressed by Mr. Connolly and Mrs. W. Prindible.

HARD OF HEARING

More people have been fitted with Sonotone than any other hearing aid because—

Sonotone is the largest organization in the world devoted exclusively to hearing aid service and research. Its large engineering and scientific staff includes men well known in the technical field — men who have been associated with large industrial laboratories, as well as those who have devoted years to pure research in acoustics, hearing and deafness.

Constantly these engineers and physicists are delving into new ways to improve Sonotone instruments — testing out new developments which the war has brought into being; studying audiograms, of which Sonotone has over 250,000 on file; consulting with physicians, otologists and leaders in the field and endeavoring in every way to bring the newest and best that modern scientific knowledge can offer to the aid of the person with hearing impairment.

The next regular Sonotone Hearing Clinic will be held at the EMPRESS HOTEL (Phone 3521) on MONDAY, MAR. 15. Hours: 1:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Tuesday and later appointments may be made on Monday.

MORE ABOUT—

Hong Kong

which, if not all, the British war office woud have."

Col. Drew asked him: "So you would say equally that there is no information of importance in Washington that is not in Ottawa?"

"So far as Canadian interests are concerned, I think that is correct," replied the General.

Adequately Trained

On the subject of training, Gen. Crerar testified that he considered the Grenadiers and Rifles "generally adequately trained to undertake defensive responsibilities such as those in prospect at Hong Kong." His information was that hostilities were not imminent and that they would have ample time to carry out further training here.

The report to Col. Macklin on which he based his memo to the General came from Lt.-Col. H. A. Sparling who prepared it in September. He was under Brig. L. K. Lawson, then director of military training and shortly after named Hong Kong chief.

His report listed both battalions as category "C" which meant that he could not recommend them for "operational consideration at present" because they lacked training. He listed 17 other units which would be preferable.

Picked Personally

On Col. Drew's additional charge that both battalions were "hopelessly untrained for war," the documents and evidence showed that Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, then chief of the general staff, had picked them personally and considered them "certainly fit to meet an attacking force, even in superior numbers." The Duff report referred to them as "well-trained."

The general overruled a recommendation of Col. W. H. S. Macklin, then director of staff duties at defence headquarters, who submitted a list of units in Canada that were trained enough to go. The Grenadiers and Rifles were not listed because a report to Col. Macklin had indicated that they lacked sufficient training. They were graded in the lowest group of a three-category training report.

However, the colonel testified that he had come to the conclusion that Gen. Crerar's view was "sound."

The general said there was little to choose between any of the battalions, that the others would have to come out of the 4th Division and thus disrupt it, and that the Grenadiers and Rifles would suffer injured morale if they were left in Canada after being "halfway" overseas, in Jamaica and Newfoundland.

On the question of imminence of war, a series of inquiry exhibits show that information from Canadian military headquarters in London, reflecting British intelligence, indicated that war in the Far East was not expected.

Vague Explanation

Several British dispatches leave the same general impression, although there is one naval message of Oct. 24, 1941, referring to "altered circumstances" in the Orient, which is only vaguely explained.

Col. Macklin had ignored the Grenadiers and Rifles in his recommendation to Gen. Crerar but had named the other units. However, after the General had enumerated the other considerations, he had considered their choice sound. He would have spoken an objection if he had felt it.

On this point, Gen. Pope said he considered the two units "eminently suitable"; Brig. Lawson expressed no objection; Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, then overseas army chief, said he had taken the 1st Division to England "and not one of them had had that training."

Brig. Lawson had reported back from Hong Kong, however, that neither battalion had completed its tests of elementary training for infantry weapons on arrival, "since many of these have not previously been available to them". He said, too, that of 697 men in one unit, 118 had less than 16 weeks training, of whom two had one week.

Lt.-Col. J. L. R. Sutcliffe, Grenadiers commander, reported that in Jamaica duties prevented collective training on any scale but that "far more extensive training" than his report would indicate had been obtained from their "many and varied duties."

Vehicles Sidetracked

Evidence showed that 212 vehicles slated for the Canadians use were sidetracked to Manila by United States navy orders to the freighter San Jose that was carrying them. They never got to Hong Kong.

Defence Minister Ralston launched an inquiry at defence headquarters after learning, some time in December, that 20 vehicles scheduled to go aboard the troopship Awatea had not arrived in Vancouver until the day after she sailed.

The crux seemed to be that transport controller T. C. Lockwood had been informed Oct. 16 by the shipping concern that there was not room for them, that four days later these were started on their way when information came to the army directorate of mechanization that space was available. The railways, Mr. Lockwood said, reported that all haste was made.

However, the Awatea's captain told the embarkation officer at Vancouver that he had to take on extra fuel and there would not be enough room anyway.

The commissioner found no evidence that the troops suffered through lack of their transport.

MORE THAN A CAREER

... and it's packed with chances for progress!

Here's a life with a career! It's open to every man who joins the Active Army!

You will be trained under expert instructors to provide you with a trade . . . a real skill. That's the first important step toward security because that trade is yours all through your life.

You start from your first day in uniform to qualify for a lifetime pension which starts when your service days are over.

There are many other important features that make this an outstanding career for young Canadians—seventeen and over!

- Opportunity for advancement . . . including promotion to officer rank for those with initiative and ability, who meet the age and educational requirements.
- Food, clothing and housing are all provided.
- Free medical and dental care.
- Comradeship . . . adventure . . . lasting friendships.
- A healthy life—with plenty of sports and recreation.

AND MORE!

The Army offers more than these essential things! If you want to feel that you are a really good citizen, doing something important for Canada, if you want the "lift" that comes with doing out-of-the-ordinary things, working in a great organization . . . then you belong in Canada's New Army!

If you are over seventeen and planning your future, call at your local recruiting centre or nearby armoury and learn what the army offers you.

THERE'S THE RESERVE

Firemen Wait Board Action

TORONTO, March 11—(CP)—Some 1,250 firemen in six Ontario municipalities are awaiting decisions of arbitration boards, to be set up under the Fire Departments Act of 1947, to rule on wage increase requests and adjustments in hours and working conditions, it was announced today by E. F. Bevis, president of the Provincial Federation of Ontario Firefighters.

A Toronto board, headed by C. A. Wright, Dean of Osgoode Hall Law School, will reconvene Friday to continue hearings in the application of Toronto Firemen for a $6 weekly wage increase. In Ottawa, Scarborough Township, York Township, North Bay and Woodstock, Boards of Arbitration have been applied for.

They will be asked to consider requests for wage increases, for shorter hours, and an improvement of "present deplorable working conditions," Mr. Bevis said.

The Fire Department Act was passed, Mr. Bevis said, as a recognition of the fact that firemen do not have recourse to strikes which are forbidden under the firefighters' constitution.

Fire Wipes Out Family Funds

THORNBURY, Ont., March 11—(CP).—Mr. and Mrs. Carman Boyle and their eight-months-old son, Lyle, are living today at the home of Mrs. Boyle's mother, two doors from their fire-scarred home in which six-year-old Marilyn Boyle and her four-year-old sister, Brenda, died yesterday.

Except for a small amount of insurance on the house, Boyle's resources have been wiped out. Neighbors and townspeople have come to the Boyles' aid with clothing so that they may attend their daughters' funeral.

More than 25 years ago, fire destroyed the home of Carman Boyle's parents at Chatsworth, burning to death his two oldest brothers and a sister, he revealed today.

Line Of Czech Mourners Two Miles Long Pay Tribute To Masaryk

Communists Tightening Control On Country Introduced New Program; Second Official Suicides Within Week

PRAGUE, March 12—(AP).—A line of weeping mourners nearly two miles long filed through Czernin Palace today to place flowers on the bier of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk. Masaryk's body lay in state from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., but the throng was so vast the doors of the palace opened an hour early to permit school children to pass through.

As the mourners filed through the huge square in front of the palace where Mararyk fell to his death Wednesday, others queued up below for the walk up Hradcany Mountain.

Meanwhile, the Communists were strengthening their control of Czechoslovakia with a program of reorganization and legislation in a dominated parliament.

The Communists also claimed new evidence of opposition plotting against the government in a report of the confession and suicide of a non-Communist political leader, Josef Herod.

This was the second suicide reported in political circles this week. The other was Masaryk's.

Parliament was slated in today's session to go ahead with committee organization giving Communists powerful posts and to legalize the work of action committees which prepared the way for the new government, sworn in just two weeks ago.

Communists already had been made chairmen of the important budget and foreign affairs committees. Rudolf Slansky, a Czech organizer of the Communist International Information Bureau (cominform), was emerging as floor leader.

The latest suicide was reported last night by district police of eastern Moravia. Their statement said Herot killed himself in his jail cell in Moravska Ostrava after confessing to participation in a military plot to overthrow the republic. They did not specify how he ended his life.

2 Dead, 1 Missing As Flames Raze Apartment

MONCTON, NB, March 12 — (CP). — Two persons are dead and little hope is held that a missing woman will be found alive after an early morning fire destroyed a three-storey apartment building at the corner of Robinson and Main Streets here to-day.

Dead were identified as Clifford DeRoche, 50, whose wife is missing and is feared to have perished, and Alfred Sonier described as about 30 years of age.

Seven other persons who had been missing were found by police who reported that all but two of 12 injured had been discharged from hospital after treatment for superficial hurts.

Police said the two remaining in hospital were Alfred DeRoche and Telesphore Leblanc, suffering from back injuries sustained in leaping from the flaming building.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately known.

Apartments on the second and third storeys of the building in the business section housed 29 persons and most of the injured suffered their hurts when they leaped from the upstairs windows. None was reported in serious condition.

The fire was discovered at 2:20 a.m. by two taxi drivers who rushed up the flaming stairs of the building to warn the residents after turning in the alarm.

The two young men, Ronald Babineau and Clarence Cormier, pounded on all the doors on the second storey, but were blocked from the third floor by flames.

Ask Retail Price Setting Probed

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP).—Investigation into the practice of manufacturers and wholesalers setting retail prices was asked of the Commons Price committee today by the Canadian Association of Consumers.

In a brief presented to the committee, the Association asked that this practice of "re-sale price maintenance" be probed to determine its contribution towards the prices of consumer goods.

"As consumers," said the brief, "we would like to know whether competition in our economy is working free.

Plan To Add 23,000 To Dutch Forces

THE HAGUE, March 12 — (AP). — The government announced today that 23,000 men will be added to Netherlands police forces to safeguard public security. Police strength will be more than doubled.

Justice Minister J. H. Maarseveen told parliament the government's power will be strengthened to combat internal extremist activities from any quarter. He said privately that recent events in Czechoslovakia, where the Communists seized control, had speeded the government decision.

The 7,000-man government police force will be increased by 10,000 volunteers. Municipal police now numbering 13,000 will be doubled. The increases will be within the framework of normal police service and there is no question of any independent corps, the announcement said. Loyalty tests will be given.

Evacuate US Consulate But Can't Find Any Bombs

JERUSALEM, March 12 (AP). —An anonymous bomb threat to-day emptied the United States Consulate building, 300 yards from the blasted Jewish Agency headquarters where 13 were killed and nearly 100 were injured yesterday.

American personnel returned after an hour-long police search failed to turn up any explosives. The consular staff had moved out after a telephone caller said in English:

"Get out of the building — it will blow up in five minutes."

The death in a hospital of another victim raised the death toll to 13 in yesterday's bombing of the Jewish Agency building. The agency says an Arab, driving a car stolen from the American Consulate, entered the Jewish compound and ignited a bomb. Three of the dead were women.

In Tel Aviv, the Jewish Agency announced its ratification of a merger of two Jewish fighting forces, Hagana and Irgun Zvei Lumi. Final approval depends on a referendum of agency members in London and New York.

David Ben-Gurion, chairman of the agency executive, opposed the merger, but Conservative Jewish leaders backed it to strengthen the Jewish fight against the Arabs over partition. Hagana previously assailed Irgun for terrorist acts which it charged were hurting the Jewish cause. Jewish sources say Irgun has agreed to cease its attack upon British forces withdrawing from the Holy Land.

Hagana, the official militia of the Jewish Agency, has a shock force of more than 10,000 paid soldiers. Irgun, an underground organization, is reported to have more than 1,000 men.

Ask Ontario Spend More To Boost Farm Industry

TORONTO, March 12—(CP).—Recommendations that the Government invest "many millions more" in the province's agricultural industry and settle farm workers in separate low-cost housing units, were advanced in a brief presented today to Premier Drew and his Cabinet by the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

The brief stated that Ontario Government expenditures in 1946 were $6,459,000, of which less than $3,000,000 was for ordinary expenditures, and about $3,500,000 for such items as quality premiums and subsidies.

"We believe that these are inadequate expenditures on such a vast business," the brief read.

To alleviate demand for full-time farm employees, the OFA suggested the Provincial Government consider social and economic advantages of settlement of the greatest number of farm workers in separate houses and that this be included in consideration of assistance in providing low-cost housing units in Ontario.

The brief also said that the level of remuneration in the Department of Agriculture, agricultural colleges and schools and agricultural representatives services were too low. Improved salaries and opportunities were needed to hold and attract "a strong and aggressive agricultural personnel."

Approve Act

"Farmers are generally pleased with the administration of the Farm Products Marketing Act and these schemes should have a stabilizing and lifting effect on farm income throughout the province," the brief read.

It asked that the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers Association should have the right to determine its organizational collection of license fee.

Support was given to a recommendation of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association that the Ontario government replace the cheese subsidy paid since 1941 with a quality premium paid on top quality milk and sediment-free cheese.

Rumor Norway On Stalin List

LONDON, March 12.—(AP).—Wide circulation was given today to a rumor that British officials expect Russia to ask Norway for a treaty of friendship soon. There was no confirmation of the report, and both the British foreign office and the Norwegian legation said they know nothing of such a move.

Under the Finnish peace treaty, Russia has a short frontier on Norway.

A denial of the report was carried by the Copenhagen newspaper Nationaltidende, quoting the Norwegian foreign minister, Halvard Lange.

A report was carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System. It said British officials expect Prime Minister Stalin to ask Norway for a pact. It added that J. C. Hague, Norwegian defence minister, made a "secret" trip to London and talked two days with war office officials.

5 Countries Sign Treaty For 50 Years

Hope Pact Will Halt Communist Advance In Western Europe

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 12 (AP)—Britain, France and the Benelux nations adopted today a 50-year treaty for a political, economic and military union of western Europe intended to check the march of Communism.

Conference officials said the accord and allied documents will be signed here next Wednesday by the foreign ministers of Belgium, Britain, France, Luxemburg and the Netherlands.

The text of the agreement will not be released until the signature ceremony, to give the five governments of the negotiators opportunity to examine it closely.

Delegates from the five countries, including four of the world's greatest colonial powers, completed their efforts on the western union suggested in January by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin after more than a week around the conference table.

Sir George Rendul, chief of the British delegation and Britain's ambassador here, said upon emerging from the conference room that the delegates had agreed among themselves not to communicate any of the substance of the treaty before their governments approve it.

Questioned as to whether the treaty provided for a permanent five power commission to carry out its provisions, Sir George shook his head.

"That," he said, "is one of the things I just cannot talk about."

The treaty is reported to contain a preamble and 10 clauses and was believed to bind the five countries to mutual assistance in the face of aggression, mutual aid in the economic field, co-operation in improving their living standards and a measure of co-ordination of colonial resources.

One of the final points before the conferees, it was learned, was whether the treaty should name Germany as a possible aggressor. There was no definite indication as to the decision reached.

Attlee Threatened

LONDON, March 12 (AP). — Police scrutinized all visitors to Prime Minister Attlee's official residence to-day after an anonymous telephone caller said: "No. 10 Downing Street will be blown up to-night."

Girl Wins RCHA Award For Stony Lake Rescue

A Peterborough girl who dived into Stony Lake to rescue a 12-year-old boy from drowning nearly two years ago has had her courage and skill recognized by the award of a "Parchment Certificate" from the Royal Canadian Humane Association. The rescuer was Joyce Pitchford, 17, Morrow St., who was holidaying during CGIT week at Camp Inglestane on Eaglemount Island. She was standing on the dock with a group of some 30 girls at about noon on August 11, 1946, when a motor boat sped through the channel past the island. Donald Harris, 12, Toronto, was sitting on the prow of the craft.

Suddenly he lost his balance and fell into the channel. The boat swerved and he was struck by the propeller, stunning him and leaving a deep gash in his leg.

At first the onlookers thought he was fooling but when he cried for help and began to sink from view it was realized that he was in danger of drowning. Miss Pitchford took off her shoes, dived in the water and swam to the spot where the boy was floundering some 40 feet away.

Explaining her action, Miss Pitchford said, "I just jumped. I didn't think about it at all."

Young Harris did not struggle and she was able to grasp him and bring him to shore without further incident.

Order New Trial For Johnston

TORONTO, March 11.—Quashing the conviction and ordering a new trial because of mis-direction of the jury, the Ontario Court of Appeal yesterday criticized the action of Judge Clement of Kitchener in imposing a $3,500 fine instead of a jail term on Denton Clifford Johnston, convicted of carnal knowledge of a Kitchener girl under 16.

The attorney-general had appealed against the fine, and W. B. Common, for the department, insisted that Johnston should have been sent to the reformatory. Two of the three Appeal Court judges who heard the case agreed. All three judges wrote separate opinions in the case.

While he declined to make any order on the appeal against the sentence since a new trial was ordered, Mr. Justice Laidlaw stated in his judgment: "However, it is perhaps not improper to express the view that if the trial had been

British MP's Consider Submission

Federation Of Europe Long-Range Plan, Charter Of Rights

LONDON, March 12—(AP).—A resolution calling for a constitutional convention to unite all Western Europe with a common citizenship was submitted to the House of Commons today.

Seventy-three members of five political parties signed the resolution.

Winston Churchill, Opposition leader, who called for a "United States of Europe" 18 months ago, was not a signer, but he promised the group he would seek a day's parliamentary debate on their plan.

16 Countries

The resolution seeks to set up at once "a council of Western Europe consisting of representatives of the 16 participating countries in the European recovery plan and western Germany, to lay down broad lines of common action."

Launching into a long-term policy, the resolution asks for creation of "a democratic federation of Europe, with a constitution based on the principles of common citizenship, political freedom and representative government, including a charter of human rights."

There appeared to be no immediate support for the plan in the Government.

Safecrackers Raid Two Toronto Offices

TORONTO, March 12—(CP)—Two offices were wrecked and $700 stolen last night by a gang of safecrackers who, police said, used liquid dynamite. Police said they believed the gang of experts responsible is the same one which has blown a number of safes in Toronto in the last month.

Workers arriving today at Masse Manufacturing Company found the safe door blown across the room, doors smashed, a window broken and the asbestos safe lining littered about the room.

About $200 had been removed from the safe, company officials said. Earlier a messenger service in west-central Toronto was robbed of $500 in a similar manner.

Loyal Canadians Duped to Aid Red 5th Column

Public Apathy Most Valuable Asset Communist Conspirators Have — More Desirable Than Orators

(Editor's Note: The Peterborough Examiner to-day presents the third of a series of articles in which Don Cameron veteran Windsor Star reporter, reveals how international Communism has succeeded in gaining widespread and dangerous power in Canada. The facts on which the articles are based were gathered through an investigation that covered weeks of time and thousands of miles of distance. This newspaper believes they constitute the most complete account ever written of Communists in Canada.)

By DON CAMERON
Windsor Star Staff Reporter

Are YOU an involuntary marcher in the Communist fifth column organized for the violent seizure of Canada's material and human resources to enrich the world's most tyrannical dictatorship?

Most Canadians are!

It's a 100-to-1 bet that you detest the cynical implications of the Red assault on the rights and dignity of men as exemplified by the tide of totalitarian revolution stemming from the Soviet Union and threatening to engulf all Europe and Asia.

And it's a better than 50-to-1 bet that, without in the least intending to, you are actively or passively helping to open channels to bring that flood here.

Yesterday's article in this series indicated the extent to which a tireless, disciplined minority of Communists have gained dangerous power in the Canadian trade union movement — power that could be turned with devastating effect against the vital economic supports of our democracy in any hour of crisis.

But even if these disciples of disruption should succeed in making a traitor or a dupe of every worker in the Dominion and welding the entire labor force into a revolutionary army, its effectiveness would be dubious in the face of determined opposition from the great mass of the population—the hated "bourgeoisie," chief target of Marxist anathema.

Public apathy is the most valuable asset the Communist conspirators have. More desirable for their treacherous purposes than soapbox orators or drawing-room radicals are the plain people who shrug their shoulders by the hundreds of thousands and say to one another, half believing and half wishful:

"It can't happen here."

This reported doubted that it could happen here when, weeks ago, he began a wide swing through central Canada to view actual conditions and ask questions of innumerable persons who were in a position to reveal this or that segment of the national picture, which is an integral part of the world picture.

Now he knows that it CAN happen here and IS HAPPENING

The Windsor Star, in presenting the unadorned facts, unclouded by wild rumors or rampant emotionalism, seeks only to dispel this apathy so that people can see the full scope of the infiltration of the alien creed of class hatred into Canadian democracy. Once that is accomplished, their awareness can safeguard the nation more efficiently than any laws or police action could.

It is no accident that the majority of loyal Canadian citizens is unsuspectingly aiding the Red cause, either by thoughtless belittling of its significance or by letting themselves be tricked into supporting one or more of its party-line policies. It is the result of cunning employment of one of the most effective strategies of propaganda ever developed—the "united front" technique.

When extremist tactics of the Communist Party of Canada, patterned after those employed in other countries, resulted in a spontaneous wave of public indignation and disapproval, the higher strategists of the Communist International at Moscow put their heads together. Finding the Red label a handicap to many of their organizations and individual activists, they decided to carry on the greater part of their promotional work in disguise.

Their revolutionary machinery was not abandoned, nor was there any slackening of direct efforts toward the eventual seizure of wealth and power. Side by side with this activity, however, appeared the "united front" organizations — frauds and swindles carefully avoiding identification with Communism, whose sole purpose was to gain the support of well-meaning people and coax substantial citizens into the Communist camp by the back door.

At the outset, before the signing of the Hitler-Stalin non-aggression pact, they were exceedingly successful with their falseface organizations to protest totalitarianism in Italy and Germany. It appeared they were among the first groups, in those days, to recognize the threat of Nazism and Fascism, and they attracted many sincere anti-Nazi and anti-Fascist democrats who had no other place to turn if they wished to make their protests count.

The fraudulent nature of these movements was discovered with a shock by tens of thousands when the Nazi dictatorship and that of the USSR became virtual partners at the beginning of the war, and the whole emphasis of the Communist program was abruptly switched to support of German aims and traitorous sabotage of the Allied war effort.

The next complete reversal of the party line, when Hitler double-crossed Stalin and attacked Russia, found the Reds turned suddenly into ardent patriots, beating the drums for the war effort and declaiming their loyalty to Canada from every platform—and busily organizing Leagues of Soviet Friendship to enhance in every possible way the prestige of the fatherland of revolution.

Today there are so many phony organizations attempting to rally people to the support of popular causes—which serve only to conceal less innocent causes—that one must be watchful and well-informed if he would avoid being drawn into the Communist net as a collaborator.

This situation is especially regrettable because its effect is to make many people, once they discover they have been bilked, shun all societies seeking to arouse public sentiment. Many good and worthy causes, sponsored by honest and reliable men and women, suffer as a result.

During his long investigation of the Red conspiracy in Canada this reporter asked a leading citizen of a large city—a man whose advice is eagerly sought by hundreds of business men—about the Housewives' League of Canada.

"It's certainly not Communistic or pro-Communistic in this city," he said. "Mrs. Soandso, the chairman, is one of our most active clubwomen, and she's death on everything Red. Pretty much the same is true of several other women I know who belong. You can cross the Housewives' League off your list of suspect groups."

He was absolutely right about Mrs. Soandso, and probably about the other members who were known to him. But he was absolutely wrong about the league itself.

Secretary of the Windsor Housewives' Consumer League, for instance, is Mrs. Nelson F. Dearing, an active member of the local branch of the Labor-Progressive Party, successor to the Communist Party of Canada. One of the most prominent workers in the Windsor League is Miss Ann Blumenfeld, secretary to Cyril Prince, regional organizer of the LPP.

The Housewives' League is being used as a "Communist front" organization, a unit of the invisible army which has enlisted countless women who have no use for Communism but are quite understandably worried about the increasing cost of feeding a family and running a home.

A little over three weeks ago the Toronto Housewives' Consumer Association, a branch of the league, met to pass resolutions and plan toward "a million signatures" to petitions for a roll-back of prices—and, incidentally,

Oshawa Man Slugged; Car In Pit

Taxi Driver Crawls To Pump House; Find Money Torn Up

BRAMPTON, March 12.—Slugged by a maniac who took money from a wallet and tore the bills into pieces, Lloyd Prince, 20-year-old Oshawa taxi driver, is in Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton, recovering from head injuries.

Prince was forced to drive his fare, a man about 40 and six feet tall, from King St. W., Oshawa, to Malton, where he was hit over the head twice. The car was driven into a gravel pit near the Malton pump house by the fare, who took the wheel when the car neared a Malton sideroad.

The youthful taxi driver, dazed by the blows, crawled on hands and knees to the Malton pumping station, where he was found by Alexander Mair, the night watchman. Just as he reached the gate leading to the pump house, Prince collapsed at Mair's feet.

"What's the matter with you?" Mair asked, not sure whether he had been chosen as a victim for some violent play.

"Ive been slugged and robbed," Prince groaned.

Mair carried him into the small hut at the station and telephoned Ontario Provincial Constables Douglas Strude and John Strachan.

Found Car

Accompanied by Chief Constable Andrew Herkes of Brampton they drove to the pumping-station, where Prince told them the story. A search of the gravel pit disclosed the car at the bottom. The attacker had made no attempt to drive off with the machine.

A search of the area near the car turned up bits of paper money scattered in all directions. Eighty cents in change was found on the front seat.

HARD OF HEARING

More people have been fitted with Sonotone than any other hearing aid because—

Sonotone is the largest organization in the world devoted exclusively to hearing aid service and research. Its large engineering and scientific staff includes men well known in the technical field — men who have been associated with large industrial laboratories, as well as those who have devoted years to pure research in acoustics, hearing and deafness.

Constantly these engineers and physicists are delving into new ways to improve Sonotone instruments — testing out new developments which the war has brought into being; studying audiograms, of which Sonotone has over 250,000 on file; consulting with physicians, otologists and leaders in the field and endeavoring in every way to bring the newest and best that modern scientific knowledge can offer to the aid of the person with hearing impairment.

The next regular Sonotone Hearing Clinic will be held at the EMPRESS HOTEL (Phone 3321) on MONDAY, MAR. 15. Hours: 1:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Tuesday and later appointments may be made on Monday.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 12 — (AP). — Wheat opened with fair-sized gains on the Board of Trade today following announcement that the government had purchased enough flour to fill April export allocations. The strength of wheat helped feed grains. However, grains fell back after the opening with corn and oats dropping below the preceding close. Trading was very active.

Wheat started unchanged to 2⅛ higher, May $2.39-2.36½; corn was ¾-2½ higher, May $2.13-2.13½, and oats were unchanged to ⅞ higher, May $1.10½-¼.

to recruit members willing to join the picket line at the Rogers Majestic Company plant in Leaside, where workers were on strike "for increased pay to meet rising prices."

The striking workers were members of Communist Clarence S. Jackson's United Electrical Workers, who are under the absolute domination of a violently pro-Red leadership both in Canada and the United States. They employed unlawful methods of mass picketing, obstruction and intimidation so enthusiastically that 80 provincial police constables were sent to the plant to maintain order.

On Thursday, February 26, when a number of Toronto Housewives' Consumer Association members were marching with more than 100 other pickets, a brief pitched battle was fought between pickets and police, in which several persons were injured. The fight started, members of the union charged, because the police had "manhandled" some of the woman pickets.

It is impossible to say that the row was provoked deliberately by Communists to provide propaganda for their "class struggle."

It is also impossible to ignore the coincidence that a gathering of women who, for the most part, only hoped to run their homes more economically should be so directly connected with a disorderly clash between Red-led strikers and the police "cossacks" against whom Kremlin-guided revolutionaries have railed since the beginning of Marxism.

Are you in favor of better housing? Do you deplore racial discrimination

Then you, too, will have an opportunity to join a Communist-front organization which feels the same way you do about those matters. You will be asked to sign petitions, contribute funds, attend meetings.

No doubt you will be surprised to find the meetings are concerned also with protests against Greece, Canada's support of the Marshall Plan, shipment of arms by this country to aid Chiang Kai-Shek's war against the Chinese Communists, and other matters of which the Communist Party and Soviet foreign policy disapproves.

But it is possible you may be confused to the point where you feel vaguely that the housing question is somehow linked to the civil war in China or that there is little hope of stamping out racial and religious ill-feeling unless the Marshall Plan is halted and the United States stops feeding the people of Greece who are not already conquered by the Red guerrilla fighters of that unhappy land.

It is possible you will contribute some money or sign two or three petitions that have nothing to do with housing or racial prejudice before you get out of the meeting.

If so, you will have strengthened — even if only by an infinitesimal degree — the Communist fifth column in Canada.

satisfactory, and the accused had been properly convicted, the imposition of a fine would not be an appropriate sentence. There is nothing before the court to justify the imposition of a fine in lieu of a term of imprisonment. The Crown has asked one year definite and one year indefinite. That sentence would have been a fair and just one if the conviction had been affirmed by this court."

Johnston, it was pointed out, was a mason contractor, and one of the reasons for his release on payment of the $3,500 fine instead of being sent to jail was the great need for houses which he was engaged in building.

Different Idea

Mr. Justtice Roach ruled that, since he was ordering a new trial, there was no necessity for dealing with the attorney-general's appeal against the sentence. "Had the conviction been sustained," he said, "I would have felt constrained to vary the sentence and, in lieu of a fine, impose a term of imprisonment."

Criticizing the trial judge's action, Mr. Justice Roach added: "The judge proceeded to give effect to the fact that the accused . . . was engaged as a mason contractor on a housing project and was, in the judge's words, 'an important cog in the machinery which is today trying to supply the people with the housing and hospitalization for which they have been crying to high heaven upward of three years.

"With the utmost deference, that fact is not a fact which should have been taken into consideration. The offense here charged is a serious offense against society, that is, the State. If the accused is guilty, the mere incident of his employment and his ability to pay the substantial fine imposed should not enable him to escape the term of imprisonment which the offense merits. That it should would be quite contrary to British justice."

Steals Atom Secret Gets 6 Months In Jail

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., March 12 (AP)—One of two United States ex-army photographers convicted of stealing secret photographs from the Los Alamos, N.M., atomic project has been sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500. The other has received a $250 fine and no jail sentence. Judge Bower Broadus assessed the heavier penalty yesterday against Ernest L. Paporello, 29.

Report Sharp Drop On Golds On Exchange

TORONTO, March 12.—(CP).—A sharp drop in golds generally and in a sizeable list of base metals in one of the busiest days this year dominated the stock exchange here today.

Main Street Topics

HIGH STANDING MADE

PC William Aggas of the city police force received high tribute from officials of the RCMP training school at Ottawa on completion of a six-week course in criminal investigation there. He returned to the city force last week and is conducting a re-organization of the print filing and identification files of the department. The report of the instructors, read to the Police Commission Thursday, states that his marks in all subjects were high and that the manner in which the course was taken was "most satisfactory."

NEW HOMES FOR TWEED

Tweed Town Council has voted to enter into negotiations with the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for the construction of 25 new homes for the town. The rental rates of the proposed homes are expected to run from $27 to $30 per month. There are now 25 applications for new homes and another 25 are expected.

ROOF FIRE REPORTED

Sparks from a chimney are believed to have started a small fire at 9.18 Thursday evening on the roof of the residence of Claire Stuart, 583 George St. N. Damage was estimated at between $10-$15. The fire was extinguished by hand pumps.

UNUSUAL BRIDGE HAND

A young woman held an unusual bridge hand at the SoEd bridge class on Wednesday night. Her 13 cards were 5, 4, 3 of spades; 5, 4, 3 of diamonds; 5, 4, 3, 2 of hearts; and 4, 2, 2 of clubs. One man said he had never seen such a low hand in 20 years of bridge playing.

WIFE SURVIVES

In the item telling of the death of the late Thomas J. Whibbs at Toronto on Monday, the name of his wife who survives along with the children was omitted. His wife was formerly Clara Barry. He died suddenly, and not from a lingering illness.

MEASLES TAKE TOLL

Average percentage of attendance in the city's nine public schools in February was 87, ranging from a high 93 per cent at King George to 79.6 per cent at Confederation. The report states: "The low attendance is due largely to the prevalence of measles."

"DEAR TEACHER— JOHNNY'S SICK"

The current toll of winter illness has affected the teachers of the city's schools as well as the pupils. The February report to the Board of Education lists 27 teachers absent for brief periods during that month. Total loss was 113 days.

THREE NEW TEACHERS

Board of Education Thursday night approved the applications of three new teachers for the next term. They are: Norman Graynor, Welland; Miss Jean Leach, Peterborough; Lepha Kidd, Cobourg.

VETERAN TEACHER RETIRES

The Board of Education Thursday night approved the retirement on pension of E. G. Wagar, vice-principal of Queen Mary school. He has been in service for 30 years. The retirement will become effective in June.

FIRE AT ROYAL BANK

An overheated furnace stack in the boiler room is believed to have caused a fire which damaged the basement ceiling of the Royal Bank early Friday morning. Firemen used hand pumps and ripped away a portion of the ceiling to extinguish it. Wilson Gemmell, manager, described damage as "comparatively small."

BUS PETITION

Several requests for a bus line on Park St. north from Charlotte were left on file by the legal committee of the council, until a proposed new agreement with Bus Lines is considered.

EASTER WINDOWS APPEAR

Easter themes are beginning to appear in Main Street shop windows reminding the shopper that Easter is three weeks away this Sunday. One store has an attractive curling display in its centre window with pussy willows, Easter lilies, and fleecy lambs, symbolic of spring, in flanking windows.

WILL APPEAL CASE

The Board of Education's solicitor has been advised by the insurance company of the Board that the decision of the Supreme Court here in February which awarded $11,800 to Mrs. E. Letellier will be appealed. The plaintiff charged that she had broken her hipbone in an accident, when she fell on the sidewalk near the Collegiate.

Nationalization Bill

LONDON, March 12 (Reuters) —A draft of the government's bill for the nationalization of the iron and steel industry now is completed and is likely to come before the cabinet at an early date, it was authoritatively learned learned yesterday. The Labor government intends to introduce the bill early in the next session, which begins in October.

Ottawa Gunning For 'Reds' Trying To Enter Labor Field In Canada

Say Situation In Dominion Mining Unions Brings Things To Head; Status Of Communists Already Here Unclear

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, March 12—(CP).—Communists trying to move into the Canadian labor field from other countries — particularly the United States — have official notice that the Government is gunning for them. The warning came from External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, who made clear to the Commons yesterday that Canada is cracking down on labor-union Reds fleeing from the anti-Communistic Taft-Hartley labor law of the US.

These Communists will be stopped at the border, the Minister told the House as he formally confirmed the unofficial disclosure of March 4 that the Government had undertaken this policy.

The minister left unclear the status of known Communists or Communist suspects already operating in the country under immigration permits. It has been reported that the Government will just allow these permits to lapse, thus forcing the holders to leave the Dominion.

On this point, the minister said he might have some definite information for the House today.

Mine Union in Mind

The minister's statement, produced by a series of Opposition questions based on newspaper reports of the Government's new policy, came just a day after the Canadian Congress of Labor had announced it would not try to help some U.S. officials of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers threatened with eviction from Canada.

Long known to have a red tinge around its U.S.-dominated leadership in Canada, the CCL affiliate had applied to the Congress for help in halting application of the new policy to its U.S. officials now in Canada. The Congress rejected the plea flatly.

The situation in the Smelters' Union, it was understood here, was one of the major factors in deciding the Government to exclude alien Communists. A number of other Canadian unions are known to have Reds from the U.S. operating with them, but the condition in the IUMMS was the most obvious.

Predict US-USSR Showdown To Be This Spring

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP) —The United States today wound up its first year under the "Truman doctrine" in the midst of the worst international crisis since the end of the Second World War. Both here and abroad appears evidence that a fateful showdown is inevitable this spring between the United States and Russia.

It was on March 12 last year that President Truman told the Congress "it must be the policy of the United States to support free peoples who are resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressures."

It amounted to a demand for a "stop Russia" policy in the Middle East. Congress responded with $400,000,000 to bolster Turkey against pressure from Russia and to support Greece against what United States officials call the "internal aggression" of the Communists.

Show Less Fear

But the effect of the doctrine was much greater. France and other countries suddenly began to line up more and more with the western powers and to show less fear of Russia.

To the extent that United States officials hoped the declaration of the Truman doctrine plus a few hundred million dollars would be sufficient to stop Russia, the Greek-Turkish policy has not succeeded. State Secretary Marshall has had to ask Congress for an additional $275,000,000 to carry on military help to Greece and Turkey for another year. There may be other requests for future years.

Insofar as the program was designed to make a start on stopping Soviet Communist expansion, it has registered at least partial success. Officials cite the fact that Turkey has not yielded to Russian threats, that Greece has not fallen to the Communist rebels and that there is still a conviction throughou Europe that the United States when the showdown comes—and if it comes—will stand by the policy which President Truman declared a year ago.

Six Pay Fines

There were only five minor traffic offences received on guilty pleas in court this morning, a contrast to recent days which have seen 30 and 40 such charges.

Fined $5 and $2.50 costs each for improper lighting on their vehicles were: Donald Landry, Apsley; Elmer Spence, 466 Paterson St.; Lawrence Wiles, R.R. 4, Peterborough.

George Johnston, Bridgenorth, was fined $2 and $1 costs for overtime parking.

J. F. Harvey, Lakefield, paid $5 and $2.50 costs for speeding.

Donald Chambo, 134 Park St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs or 10 days when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk in public.

"Minor" Items

Purchase requisitions approved by the Board of Education Thursday night showed the size figures can reach in dealing with large numbers of such "minor" items as pen nibs, pencils and erasers.

Those approved were: three tons of mimeograph paper from United Paper Mills, Toronto, $762; pencils for the public schools, Deyells, Peterborough, $557.84; miscellaneous, Deyell's, $75.10; miscellaneous, Trebilcock Bros., Peterborough, $306.30; note books, art supplies, erasers, etc, John Hill, Peterborough, $3,822.40; miscelaneous, Collegiate, John Hill, $457.99.

Conservatives Win By-Election

LONDON, March 12 —(AP)— The conservative party kept its House of Commons seat in yesterday's North Croydon by-election. Fred W. Harris, the conservative candidate, got 36,200 votes against 24,536 for author Harold Nicolson, labor. Former air vice-marshal Donald Bennett, liberal, trailed with 6,321 votes.

The election, in a London suburb, was held to fill a vacancy caused by the retirement of H. U. Willink.

It was the 39th by-election since the 1945 general elections, the conservatives have not lost any seats in that time and have gained one from the ruling labor party.

Labor now has 396 seats in the Commons and the conservatives 199, of the total of 649.

COMPARISON OF RUSSIAN AND B-29 PLANE—Pictured in silhouettes is comparison of Boeing B-29 and its direct descendent (left), Russia's new Tupolev transport. Fuselage of the Russian plane is bulkier than the Boeing B-29, but the vertical tail and dorsal fins are nearly identical. Plan views show certain features of wings, nacelles and horizontal tail of two planes are identical. Pictured in the Boeing magazine, the Russian plane shows at least 20 items that are exact duplicates of B-29 parts, Boeing engineers say. The Russians are believed to have copied the designs, then built jigs and dies after at least three of the big bombers were forced down in Russian territory during World War II.

Jury Absolves Car Driver Of All Blame

LINDSAY, March 12. (ENS)—Thursday night a coroner's jury, probing the death of 7-year-old Janette Thibadeau of Lindsay, returned a verdict of accidental death, absolving Joseph O'Leary, driver of the car which struck her of all blame in the mishap. The child died in hospital February 20 a short time after being struck down on Highway 35 just north of here. She had been returning from school with her brother, Raplh, aged 9. The jury recommended that all motorists sound horns when approaching children and that parents instruct their children to observe traffic carefully.

Dr. T. R. McLennan, radiologist at Ross Memorial Hospital, said the Thibadeau girl probably died of shock and concussion from the sever blow. There was no evidence of head injuries. Mr. O'Leary, aged 24, of RR 5, Lindsay, had been driving north at the time and said he saw two children, a boy and a girl, walking north on the east side of the highway, and both stayed well off on the shoulder. He said he had noticed a truck approaching from the north, and had slowed down to let it pass before passing the children himself. "The truck and I passed about 40 feet from where the children were standing by a mail box," O'Leary continued. "I saw the boy look back at me a couple of times and so didn't bother to blow my horn, before passing them. I took my eyes from the children to look at the road as I passed them, since they had been standing well off the road when I last looked. A moment later I heard a scream, and the child's body flew over my right front fender, then rolled away. I had been going about 30 miles per hour, and stopped immediately. The girl was lying just behind my car where she had apparently rolled after striking the snow bank at the roadside. I took the girl and her brother to the hospital."

The brother of the dead child said he was looking in the Thibadeau mail box, just across the highway from his home, and Janette was standing a few feet away nearer the road. He said he thought Janette had seen the car coming, but had apparently tried to cross the road. "Did the car hit Janette or did she hit the car?" asked Coroner Dr. H. D. Logan.

"I think the car hit her," the boy replied. He added that the O'Leary car stayed on the pavement all the time. Provincial Constable W. G. Milton, who investigated, said on testing O'Leary's brakes and steering he found both in first class mechanical condition.

Acquit Mother Of Fire Blame

PICKERING, March 12. — A coroner's jury inquiring into the deaths of three children in a cottage fire at Fairport Beach on February 16, returned a verdict of death by suffocation from fire of unknown origin.

No blame was attached to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mask, foster-parents of the children, Allan and Gloria Grbowski, four and two years, and Patricia Ann Adams, two, wards of the Oshawa Children's Aid Society.

The tragedy occurred at 2:15 in the afternoon while Mrs. Mask had stepped out to a store 150 yards distant to buy food and candy for the children. Mrs. Mask told the inquiry that she was away only about three minutes, and was in the store when Mrs. Farquhar, a neighbor, rushed in with the news that the cottage was ablaze.

"I ran home and tried to get in the back door, but I was driven back by the flames and smoke," Mrs. Mask said. "I saw flames around the electric wiring."

Mrs. Farquhar said the foster-mother smashed a window with her bare hands in an attempt to rescue the children. "It was impossible to get inside and my daughter and I had to pull her back," Mrs. Farquhar said.

Famous Passion Play To Be Shown Sunday

The world famous "Passion Play" motion picture based upon both Freiburg and Oberammergau productions and produced in Europe with English dialogue and sound track music, depicting many famous scenes in the life, crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus, will be presented at the Sunday evening service in George Street United Church.

A very spiritual and reverent atmosphere is established and maintained throughout the entire program and leaves the audience in a meditative, prayerful and heart-searching mood, provoking thought concerning the reality of the Christian principles in their daily lives. The film is one of unusual beauty, and has been highly praised wherever it has been shown.

Some Questions About A Secondary Hockey Rink

At a meeting to discuss the proposed secondary hockey rink on Tuesday night there was some criticism because the City Council was being asked to contribute a mere $10,000 to this project; it was felt that this was too small a proportion of the $140,000 which the hockey enthusiasts think the rink will cost. It was said that "the City Council is not backing sport in this city". We think that people who feel this way should be reminded that any money which the City Council votes for a secondary rink will be raised by taxes on the people of Peterborough, who will also be contributing whatever other monies are raised for the erection of this secondary rink. Through their agents, the City Council, the people of Peterborough have recently voted $150,000 for the building of the Memorial Centre, in addition to $75,000 voted earlier, and $275,000 raised by public subscription. This appears to us to be very substantial support for sport in Peterborough, and we think that those who are anxious to build a secondary rink should give serious thought to the demands which may reasonably be made upon the population of this city.

* * *

The hockey enthusiasts are convinced that Peterborough needs two rinks, but we have not yet seen any convincing proof that Peterborough can afford two rinks. When the population was 25,000 we could not support one rink; why do we imagine that 35,000 people can support two? We have, it is true, a great many hockey teams and they could make use of two rinks if the rentals were low enough, but has anyone figured what the economically possible rental of a rink costing $140,000 will be? Will it be within the reach of the minor teams? And if a secondary rink were a profitable venture, why has not private capital interested itself in the project? Why does hockey have to be maintained by public handouts?

* * *

There was a time in Canada when sport was self-sustaining. We suspect that there was more amateurism in the true sense of the word in those days than there is now. Certainly the modern tendency is for all sports to expect to be subsidized by their communities in return for the pleasure which they give to some members of those communities, and the rather vague glory which the occasional possession of a winning team brings to its home town. But is not $640,000 rather a large sum for a city like Peterborough to spend in ten years on sports buildings?

* * *

There are things that Peterborough needs more than it needs two rinks. For one thing, it badly needs a good public auditorium in which public meetings, conventions, concerts and plays could be held. It was suggested at one time that the arena of the Memorial Centre would be used for such purposes, but it is obvious that such a scheme would never work. In any case, it has become increasingly plain that the chief function of the Centre will be that of a hockey rink—the name "secondary rink" given to the other project gives weight to this conclusion. And a great many people are asking why the city is being rushed into making extensive and extravagant preparations for a single sport?

* * *

If the secondary rink were to be a simple affair costing about $30,000 or $40,000 there might be more enthusiasm for it than exists at present. But so far we have seen no signs of widespread anxiety that Peterborough should have two rinks, nor do we think that it will be possible to collect any such sum as $140,000. The ambiguous status of hockey as an "amateur" sport hardly encourages the taxpayers and business men of a city to subsidize it so extensively.

The Debate On The Address In Reply To The Speech From The Throne

The Governor-General's Speech read at the opening of Parliament is a statement prepared by the Government on its past efforts and future legislation. The parliamentary debate in reply is much less important than the imposing name suggests.

It gives private members on Government back benches and in Opposition the opportunity to air their views about the state of the country and their own constituencies. It is important, of course, that private members should have the opportunity to speak out, but too many of them speak too long and say too little. Frequently when a private member rises to speak on the Speech from the Throne debate, a noisy exodus of other members obliterates his opening words. He usually speaks to empty benches and, of course, for the benefit of the parliamentary reporters whose job it is to take his words down for Hansard.

The debate began in December and has continued intermittently. Last Tuesday it was finally ended, to the relief of the House. The members can now devote themselves to a great deal of important legislation which has been piling up.

A New Holiday

As winter drags itself to a wet peevish end, and takes malicious last cold bites between bright days of thaw we cannot help but congratulate ourselves that we have survived it. Our patience has been great, our fortitude exemplary; we have endured much, suffered harshly and now in these days an end of our trials—for this year—approaches.

There should be some reward for having undergone a Canadian winter. Men on military service get medals for standing up bravely against human enemies; surely the Canadian people deserve some boon for courageously facing the assault of the winter elements. We should have a special holiday.

The holiday would be a movable festival, its date varying from year to year and from district to district. There should be no nonsense about having it fixed dully to fall on a Monday or on the 21st of March or the first of May. Let is come when the weather gods ordain. Thus the holiday would have the virtue of unexpectedness and the quality of spontaneity. It would be a day for joyous self-congratulation and spring spree.

Since the gods would ordain the annual date there must be a council of weather-wise to interpret the god's ordinances and to announce in each locality the date—only on the eve of the gay day. Admitted to this select group would be all men in the community who have attained the age of eighty and thus can tell by crooking a finger or squinting at a ground-hog or smelling the earth that spring has really come. Other citizens who can give proof that they have oracular rheumatiz, prophetic tibias or other powers of divination should serve as honorary advisers to the Ancients.

We declare holidays for queens and labour heroes; let us honour our hardy selves and with a sprightly annual gesture cast Winter aside and welcome Spring.

Tracking Down Indians?

A special joint committee of the House of Commons and the Senate examining the Indian Act with a view to amending it has made its first report. The initial paragraph of a press release from the Department of Mines and Resources began as follows:

> A further advance in a program jointly sponsored by federal and provincial governments designed to combine fur conservation with greater opportunities for trapping Indians, was announced today by the Hon. J. Allison Glen....

Though present food costs may give a fillip to hunting for food, though we presumably live in a hunter's paradise, though our cold weather makes any kind of skin (preferably of a fur-bearing animal) desirable, and though we are beset on many sides by potential enemies, we do think that the Department of Mines and Resources is overdoing things a bit by providing "greater opportunities for trapping Indians". The Indians in this district are kindly disposed toward us and the days are gone when white intruders in this continent had to protect themselves against scalp-hunters — at least Indian scalp-hunters. (Our own breed are much more virulent.)

The Department really didn't mean what it said, it confessed, blushing redder than an Indian. It means to say "to combine fur conservation with greater opportunities for Indians who trap". Our friends the Indians might justifiably raise the war-cry for Mr. Glen's scalp—in words more carefully selected than those of a departmental clerk.

The Week On Parliament Hill

By
A. J. THOMAS

THE debate on the Speech from the Throne came to an end on Tuesday. Mr. F. D. Shaw (Social Credit, Deer River) and Mr. Fleming (Conservative, Eglinton) were among the more interesting speakers. Mr. Shaw called attention to the attitude of the Canadian Medical Association whose policy is not to allow immigrant doctors to practise in Canada, no matter how highly qualified. Apparently the Immigration Branch has been acting in accordance with the C.M.A.'s wishes and has made a ruling which prevents doctors from entering the country with a view to living here as doctors. The Minister of Health, Mr. Martin, promised to investigate this ruling.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. Shaw made the interesting suggestion that the House should have an analysis made of the indirect tax content of staple foods. He said that the taxes thus revealed would be startling. It is quite true that indirect taxes on almost everything we buy are heavy. For that reason Canadians during some of the war years were the most heavily taxed people in the western world — even though direct taxes like income taxes were lower than in Britain.

Mr. Fleming (Conservative, Eglinton) in the course of his remarks slipped easily into French. Too few English-speaking members of the House are sufficiently conversant with that language to give French-Canadian colleagues the courtesy of speaking in Canada's second official tongue.

Some lively topics came at question time. Mr. St. Laurent spoke about the mystery of the Polish art treasures and Mr. Duplessis' "clumsy and deliberate attempt to smear the ministers representing the province of Quebec in the country's government". Various Opposition members raised the question of the dropping of control on commercial rent—which came into effect on Monday. They charged that landlords were taking the opportunity to demand exorbitant rents and were forcing small businesses to close. Mr. Abbott remarked that the Wartime Prices and Trade Board had authority to take action when rentals were "higher than is reasonable and just".

SEVERAL members were perturbed that there was no opportunity to discuss the grave foreign situation, even though Mr. King said that when pressing government bills and the Speech from the Throne debate were dealt with, Canada's foreign policy could be thoroughly debated. The complaints of people like Mr. Davie Fulton (Conservative—Kamloops) do not seem groundless. External relations are vital to Canada and Parliament should keep them under constant survey. Mr. St. Laurent made an interesting comment on a question: Is Canada represented at the five-power conference in Brussels? He said: "In accordance with the usual practice, the United Kingdom is keeping Canada informed". Such information from Britain is a valuable result of our membership in the Commonwealth. In this case we were not invited, and would probably not have been permitted to have a participating observer at the conference.

One important private Bill which came before the House was the Bell Telephone Bill permitting that company to expand its capital from 150 million dollars to half a billion dollars. Mr. Church (Conservative—Toronto) and Mr. Coldwell (C.C.F. Leader) made some wise criticism about allowing the Bill to go through too quickly without reference to standing committees like those on radio and communications.

MR. Gregg made his maiden speech as Minister of Veterans Affairs in introducing the resolution to form a Veterans Affairs Committee. His speech was brief and adequate. The debate following upon it was long, but remarkably non-partisan and earnest. Nearly 100 members of the House are veterans of the last or first war. The all-party Committee, when authorized, will deal with all veterans affairs. If it can get to work before Easter, the supplementary cheques to 200,000 veterans, arising from the announced increased grants, can be mailed in early April.

These increased grants (to the disabled and certain categories of pensioners and students) have been provided for in the estimates tabled on Tuesday. The pensions estimates have jumped from 37.7 million (of the last fiscal year) to 80 million dollars. That is a large increase and a large budgetary demand. The total estimate are down by 131 million dollars; the figure is $1,985,146,060 — a huge sum for a country of twelve million people. Defence estimates are 252 millions, down a comparatively few 11.5 million dollars from last year.

THE massive reports on Hong Kong were tabled on Wednesday, complete in their million words excepting for five confidential communications (and references thereto) from the British Government. This weighty material should suffice as bed-side reading matter for Opposition members for many weeks.

The Senate reconvened on Monday night after a mid-term recess. Delicate and suitable tribute was paid to Senator John Philip Robicheau of Nova Scotia who died recently. He was a French-Canadian Acadian; his paternal ancestors came to Canada in 1628, which was 129 years before Wolfe and the English came to Lower Canada. The Senate Immigration Committee approved a request that the families of all Chinese residents in this country be allowed to enter Canada. There are 23,000 married Chinese residents in Canada, 19,000 of whom have families in China.

UNCONSIDERED TRIFLE

A "best-seller" novelist was walking with a friend when they passed a house on which a tablet had recently been fixed to commemorate the fact that a poet had lived there.

"I wonder what they'll put over my door when I die?" said the novelist, musingly.

"House to let," replied his friend promptly.

Letter To The Editor

BYRON ADMITTED TO AN "EXCLUSIVE" CLUB

Sir: One of your recent editorials dealt a crippling blow at the Scottish Nationalist cause by refuting Hugh McDiarmid's claim to Byron as a Scots poet. The party will soon have to rely solely on their political, historical and economic facts to support their demands.

It is true that the poet, by a geographical accident, was technically an Englishman, but the good sense of his mother who removed him to Scotland shortly after his birth and the poet's own native genius (inherited from his Scottish parent) successfully overcame this early handicap.

Your article surprised me with its revelation of the contempt which Byron held for the works of Sir Walter Scott.

You quote, as proof of this contention, a verse from "English Bards and Scotch Reviewers" in which Byron makes unflattering reference to Scott. Your editorial wisely did not go on to point out that in the same satire nearly all of Byron's contemporary poets, including Wordsworth, Southey and Coleridge came in for much more devastating attacks than Scott who treated the whole matter very lightly.

It should also be known that Byron subsequently recanted many of the libellous passages of his poems and in a letter to Scott he wrote: "This satire was written when I was very young and very angry and fully bent on displaying my wrath and wit; and now I am haunted by the ghosts of my wholesale assertions".

Scott and Byron became life-long friends and the correspondence and works of both men contain many indications of the esteem in which the work of the other was held.

In "Don Juan" for instance, Byron wrote:

Scott, the superlative of my comparitive,
Scott who can paint your Christian knight or saracen
Serf, lord, man, with such skill as none would share it, if
There had not been one Shakespeare and Voltaire,
Of one or both of whom he seems the heir.

A further indication of his regard was his dedication to Scott of one of his greatest poems, "Cain".

Your editorial turns once more to "Bards and Reviewers" in which Byron castigates the literary critics of the Edinburgh "Review" (for giving deservedly unfavourable notices to his first published work "Hours of Idleness") and with great relish but little logic you point to this as proof that Byron detested all Scotsmen.

Moreover, in Don Juan we find:

"I rail'd at Scots to show my wrath and wit,
Which must be owned was sensitive and surly".

The stanza concludes:

"I scotch'd not killed the Scotchman in my blood,
And love the land of mountain and of flood'.

In the same poem we find Byron's own views on his nationality:

"But I am half a Scott by birth, and bred
A whole one; and my heart flies to my head,
As 'Auld Lang Syne' brings Scotland, one and all,
Scotch plaids, Scotch snoods, the blue hills and clear streams".

It is of interest to note also that Byron in his expeditions to Greece was dressed in the tartan of the Gordon clan—surely a unique method of expressing his distaste of his Scots connections!

If Scotland cannot adopt Byron as her son —what country has the right to do so? England, perhaps? The country of which Byron wrote to Murray (another detested Scot and life-long friend) "I am sure my bones would not rest in an English grave or my clay mix with the earth of that country".

Leigh Hunt, a contemporary of Byrons says "He cared nothing for England or its affairs, and he hated the master vice of England—hypocrisy".

It would seem, therefore, that McDiarmid had reasonable grounds for attempting to enrol Byron in that most exclusive of all clubs —Scotland.

Yours etc.,
A. R. GILCHRIST.

Rabbits And Dollars

Australian rabbits are earning dollars for the Empire pool....and providing food for Britain as well. Last year 90,000,000 rabbits were caught in Australia. Skins exported to the United States earned $10,000,000, making rabbit skins second only to wool as a dollar getter. In six months the sale of carcasses, mostly to the British Food Ministry realized £800,000 ($2,560,000).—Australian News.

A Bible Message

Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God; who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began, but is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and imortality to light through the gospel. Find Germany Slowest In Recovery

BY JACK SYMTH

BERLIN, March 12 (Reuters)—Allied economic experts, following an extensive survey of conditions in Europe, are satisfied that every other country without exception is today far ahead of Germany in economic recovery.

The estimate of the level of physical production indicates that German output during the last half 1946 averaged about 40 per cent of that in 1936, roughly 34 per cent of the 1938 production. During May-June, 1947, however, following the recovery from the winter recession, the level was probably several points higher.

All other European countries for which data are available show a far greater degree of recovery.

In France, production in the last quarter of 1946 and in January, 1947, was about 90 per cent of the 1938 rate. In Belgium, production was about equalled, while in Norway, it surpassed that of 1939.

In none of the European countries is the current production level much below 90 per cent of pre-war.

In terms of basic industrial production, the contract is equally striking. German production of hard coal during March, 1947 --the highest since the occupation—was about 56 per cent of the 1938 output. In Belgium, on the other hand, coal output during the same months was just under 90 per cent of 1938 production, while Czechoslovakia, France and Poland all showed coal production significantly higher than before the war.

Big Reduction

In 1938, German hard coal production, excluding the separated areas, was more than three times that of France and more than four times that of Poland.

In March, 1947, German output was less than twice of either of these countries.

Before the war, Germany was by far the greatest producer of steel in Europe, excluding the U.S.S.R. but in March,1947, steel production on the United Kingdom was almost three times that of Germany while French output was more than 50 per cent larger.

It seems probable that average food consumption in Germany is less than that of any of other European countries, with the possible exception of Greece, where only figures relating to the Athens region are available.

Ready To Call Tenders For Fenelon Falls Bridge

LINDSAY, March 12 (ENS)—"Everything is in shape to call for tenders for erection of the new bridge at Fenelon Falls," County Engineer H. D. Wilford told County Council on Wednesday, "except that we need the plans and specifications approved by the Department of Highways. However, we are hopeful the plans will go through shortly," he continued, "and in this event we will be ready to call for tenders early in April." He added the only other factor that might prove a drawback is that Highways Minister Doucette asked the counties to keep their 1948 expenditures as close as possible to the 1947 expenditures. It is estimated the Fenelon Falls bridge will cost $100,000.

Speaking of the expenses of snow removal, Mr. Wilford told Council it had cost the county approximately $9,200 to keep the roads clear up to the end of February this year. In 1947 snow removal and maintenance expenditures amounted to $7,600 for the same period. The county engineer pointed out that five units of snow removal equipment were operated this year, compared to four in 1947. "Also the cost of gas and other operating expenses has increased," he stated.

Mr. Wilford said the cost per mile for operating the county's largest snowplow has averaged $49, and cost per mile of operating the other four units has been $39, 38, 30 and $24. "At present there are 218 miles of county roads wide open to traffic," he went on. "That is much better than was the case last year at the same time, but we have had much less now this year."

Demand Mine Unions Purge Communists From Ranks

TORONTO, March 12—(CP).—The Ontario Legislature last night held its first night sitting of the 1948 session and members, continuing Throne Speech debate, spent most of the time discussing Communism.

A. Kelso Roberts (PC, Toronto St. Patrick) charged that Communists have been going into the gold-mining camps of Kirkland Lake and Timmins and trying to turn miners against their employers. He said he did not believe Canadian workers in gold camps wanted to be "led around by the nose by known Communists."

He demanded that Robert Carlin (CCF—Sudbury), District Eight organizer for the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) make his position clear on what Mr. Roberts termed "the Communist movement" in the mine union. Mr. Carlin did not reply but it is expected he may do so when he speaks later in Throne Speech debate.

Criticism of Communism came earlier in the day from W. J. Grummett, CCF House Leader, who declared his party opposed to "any truck or trade with Communism." Mr. Grummett also called for settlement of immigrants in northern Ontario to develop agricultural areas and advocated larger taxation allowance for northern mining communities.

Blames Union

A. A. MacLeod (LPP-Toronto Bellwoods) called Mr. Roberts' speech "a rehash of newspaper clippings probably handed to him by dissatisfied union members in northern Ontario bars." He described the Throne speech as a "past-pot symphony" and said that since its election the government had been "manufacturing excuses about not doing anything about housing."

First reading was given during the afternoon sitting to government bills dealing with education, Change of Name Act, Public Vehicles Act and Surveys Act and a Liberal bill which would increase payments under Workmen's Compensation Act for 66 2-3 per cent of regular wages to 75 per cent. Thirteen private bills previously entered in the form of petitions were given first reading.

One of the Government bills would enable establishment and maintenance of technical and polytechnical institutes to provide more advanced industrial training that is afforded by regular vocational schools.

Question Loyalty.

In his speech, Mr. Roberts discussed a report to Philip Murray, president of the CIO from a committee appointed to nivestigate a breach within the Mine and Mill Union.

The report to Murray was quoted as saying "that the loyalty of the present officers of the union is not to the members of the union but to an outside group having no connection with the trade union movement. In every dealing they acted under the guidance and instruction of the Communist Party."

He said the officers said Robinson, president, and Morr Travis, vice-president, were installed when a split developed in the union during elections.

Directing his remarks at Mr. Carlin, Mr. Roberts said:

"I say to this House in view of the seriousness of a condition such as this, that he owes an explanation to this House, and if he is not himself connected with the Communist movement within the organization, which I sincerely hope he is not, he should certainly make his position very clear in that regard to this House."

Mr. Grummett opened his 90-minute address by declaring the CCF never has had nor will have in future "any truck or trade with Communism."

He noted the Labor-Progressive Party attempt to attach itself to the CCF and said his party had no illusions about Communism. The CCF, he declared, propose to defeat Communism by offering a "dynamic democratic program."

Fashion Crafts Bang 3898 In City League

Fashion Craft continues to be the big team in the Men's City Five-Pin League as they blanked McGillis 6-0, took high single game wtih 1368 and had high pinnage of 3898. The Robertson squad now need only seven points in the next four nights to clinch first place.

Ramblers and Shockey's each took six points from Legion and Grant's to hold down second and third positions.

Kawarthas blanked Sunocos and moved one point up on Plazas and King George as the two latters teams each dropped a game to Generals and Freeman's.

In the remaining games Clappers whitewashed Spartons and De Laval did the same to Empress Old Timers. Clappers had second high pinnage of the night 3713.

Jim Herron was top man with 877 and "Tic" Caccavella had 854 and Doug Abraham 853.

Bert Hall won single honors with 363 on his first night of bowling, lining up with Grant's. Other good single scores included Maurice Caccavella 331, Tom McPhate 330, George Walton 319, Fred Martin 318, Jim Herron 318-306, Cy Whatley 305, Joe Denault 303 and El Downer 302.

The first six teams place as follows:

Fashion Craft	124
Ramblers	106
Shockeys	102
Kawarthas	93
Plazas	92
King George	92

Vice-president Jack Wade, in the absence of President Roy Lewis asked for a one minute's silence in memory of a fellow bowler, Sid Trowbridge, who died last week. Sid had been a familiar and popular figure in the Men's City League for many years and will be missed by all. Sympathy was also extended to the Whatley brothers, Cy and Ken, in the loss this week of their father, Sidney Whatley.

A speedy return to good health was the wish of the bowlers to Tom Martin and Bill Howes.

Walter Firth, after a lengthy illness, paid the alleys a visit last night and was welcomed by all.

The Martin family will play a double-header this Saturday. They will meet the Mattucci family at 1:30 p.m. and the Legrow family at 3:30 p.m. Due to the unfortunate accident to Tom Martin the matches will be four-man affairs.

Girls' hoop games in the YW tonight: St. Paul's vs. Kawarthas at 8.15, and Normals vs. Neill's an hour later. Down there at eight p.m. tomorrow, Toronto DuVals tangle with Towne Togs in LOBA playoffs and Togs have to hustle to overcome that lead spotted DuVals up Toronto way the other e'en. It was a surprisingly rough joust for girls and awfully fast, packed with excitement. Fouls cost the services of three of the Yudin bunch and DuVals cashed in on this. Bev Pringle sparked Togs' attack. Equally important is the men's OABA playoff tomorrow eve at 8.15 in the Collegiate between St. Catharines and the Marines' champs, and that should be a sizzler all the way. Preceded by a Toronto-PCVS exhibition. The senior "A" PCI-ers play in Cobourg tonight.

Couple of classy lacrosse aces are living here now and ready to play for the Petes' gutted-stick squad comes warmer weather. They are Curly Warren, husky defenceman of Scarboro Grads, and Don Smith, junior star from Fergus. Local officials are also checking on two other chaps in Fergus and two from Orillia. Meantime, the club has five sponsors for minor teams and wants seven more for this big setup. It'll be coached probably by a Toronto Varsity fellow, now taking a recreation directors' course, who will make it a full-time job here in the summer. A bingo is planned later this month to raise funds for the minor lacrossers. Equipment and other angles are being checked, too.

Junior School Victors

Confederation puckists recently captured the junior title of the Public School Hockey League, defeating Queen Mary 4-1 in the final. It kept intact their undefeated record of the season and was the second time this school won the Kinsmen Trophy since it was donated in 1945. Our congrats to Coach Arn Olmstead and such players as the Bryan boys, Parry, Bolton, Dunstan, Davis, Goldie, Sloan, Miller and the others. And a word for the other coaches and clubs, senior and junior, of this fine circuit which gives so many lads a proper supervised start in the winter sport.

All roads lead to Lindsay tonight where Orillia Narvos mix it with the local Legionnaires at 8.30 in the Scugog palais d'ice. Second scrap of their goals-to-count OHA senior "B" quarter-final series, and Legion are down two markers at the moment. A sellout crowd assured and a peach of a struggle promised on fast ice between two well-matched clubs. Orillia are bigger and about as speedy afoot as the scrappy Legion pack, but the latter know their own rink better and might wipe out that deficit early. We hope. 'Twas a rugged go in Orillia and may well be a battle of similar style in Lindsay this gloaming. A local loss winds up OHA hockey in these parts for this year.

It may be trite, but true nonetheless—there are no soft touches in provincial playdowns. Every round is a bit stiffer than the one before. Group finals are tough but in playdowns you have the group champions in against each other, and they're all tough numbers and hot. Narvos started strongly at home 'gainst Legion and thought there was nothing to it, but the Vitarelli pack roaded back in the middle heat to make it a dogfight—but a penalty in the third cost 'em two goals. We hope Godfrey and Bob Greenlaw are in good shape, after Wednesday injuries, tonight and if they are we feel Legion should yank out a close decision on the round. Winner of the series may go against Toronto in semi-finals early next week. Good luck, Legion.

Hamilton Lions Club are sponsoring an annual football coaching clinic in the Cathedral High School auditorium in Hamilton on March 31, April 1 and April 2. Morning and afternoon classes by competent lecturers, under Frank Gnup, head coach of Hamilton Wildcats. Tuition fee of 10 bucks for the three-day course, and all angles of the grid game, including equipment and pictures, will be handled. As well as a general question box. The course is open to anyone interested in coaching the game from high school mentors up. Fred Veale of McMaster University and Larry Sullivan, formerly of Notre Dame, are assisting Gnup. Following letter comes from Frank Gnup:

Bev Always Interested

"We have written to some of the people who are interested in the coaching of football up your way but fear we have not been able to get the names of all. This may interest you—the first application we got back was from your Mr. Goulding saying that he would attend. We are trying to reach as many coaches or those who aspire to be coaches as possible. The one best way we know is through the newspaper and that is why we are writing you this letter. If you would write a line or two in your column it would go a long way and might reach someone who would appreciate the chance to take advantage of this opportunity. Hope your basketball team has all the success they will want in the OABA layoffs."

Confed. Team Captures School Honors

Queen Mary and Confederation Juniors finished their Public School schedule recently on the former's ice. Confederation kept intact that unbeaten record for the season by turning back the homesters 4 to 1 to win the championship.

The first period was scoreless and very even. Early in the second period P. Bryan golfed a loose puck into the Queen Mary net for the first score. Clement soon evened it up on a low shot. Davies from B. Bryan then put Confederation one up. B. Bryan made it 3-1 with his first goal of the season. In the last period R. Bryan got one more to end the scoring 4-1.

Standouts for the losers were B. Merrett, Roberts, and J. Clement.

In winning the cup for the second time since it was donted by the Kinsmen in 1945, Confederation scored 35 goals, while only four were scored against them.

The teams:

Queen Mary — Goal, J. Hawthorne; defence, J. Sarginson and B. Merrett; centre, T. Roberts; wings, K. Cullen and J. Clement. Subs, George Franks, D. Montgomery, E. Deal, and G. Putnam.

Confederation — Goal, M. Bryan; defence, M. Parry and B. Bolton; centre, B. Bryan; wings, E. Dunstan and B. Davis. Suubs, D. Goldie, D. Sloan, R. Miller, and R. Bryan.

Referee—A. Hill.

Lakefield Lasses Beat Apsley, 13-1

LAKEFIELD, March 12. — (ENS).—The Lakefield girl hockeyists defeated Apsley lasses 13-1 in an exhibition here last night. Irma Bullock starred with four goals, while Marion Sloan and Lorraine Hockaday each counted twice. Marilyn Windsor tallied the lone marker for the visitors in the second period. Single counters were made by Denise Doubt, Joye Hutt, Betty McIlmoyl, Irma Bullock and Jean Geraldi. The teams:

Apsley—Goal, E. Everett; defence, E. Nichols and C. Johnston; centre, M. Windsor; wings, M. Earnshaw and M. Tucker; alternates, M. Everett, J. Wagner, E. Lane, B. Brundage and S. Monahan.

Lakefield— Goal, A. Bullock; defence, J. Creighton and J. Hutt; centre, L. Hockaday; wings, J. Geraldi and M. Sloan; alternates, R. Bullock, I. Bullock, B. McIlmoyl, M. Wilson, N. Clements and D. Doubt.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press

Elmer Lach, Canadiens' shifty centre-man was the only player in the big seven to move along last night as the Montrealers defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1. Lach's goal moved him to within a point of Gaye Stewart, Bud Poile and Doug Bentley, all of Chicago, who are tied for second place with 54 points apiece.

The leaders:	G	A	Pts
O'Connor, New York	23	32	55
Stewart, Chicago	27	27	54
Poile, Chicago	25	29	54
D. Bentley, Chicago	19	35	54
Lach, Canadiens	27	26	53

Saskatoon Quakers captured the Saskatchewan senior hockey championship by defeating Regina Vics 3-2 on the round in a two-game series, 15 years ago tonight. The Quakers swept all before them in the Western Allan Cup playdowns, beating Edmonton Superiors and Trail Smoke Eaters, but lost in the finals to Moncton Hawks, the first Maritime team to win the cup.

Hockey Players Supply Drops

DUNFERMLINE, Scotland, March 12.—(CP).— The Scottish National Hockey League, dependent upon Canada for its supply of players, can't afford to use them up too rapidly, but in a recent game here two valuable players were put out of action through injury, possibly for the balance of the season.

They were Randy Ellis, Dunfermline Vikings' centre from Lindsay, and Bob Leckie, Ayr Raiders' defenceman who comes from North Bay, Ont.

Meanwhile, league playoff spots have been decided, with Paisley Pirates and Ayr finishing one-two in the eastern zone and Dumferline and Dundee Tigers holding first and second positions in the western section.

Leading the league-scoring parade is Al Gordon, slender Ayr centreman, with 43 goals and 59 assists. He's followed by Ellis with 61 goas and 32 assists and Jack Thaler, of Paisley via Oshawa, who has 47 goals and 42 assists.

Johnny Sergenese of Humberstone, Ont., has scored 83 points playing with Perth Panthers.

Canadiens Turn On Heat Bounce Toronto Leafs 3-1

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Coach Frank Boucher of New York Rangers better be on his toes this week-end. The Rangers have two games against Montreal Canadiens, and the Canadiens are clinging like leeches to their mathematical chance of getting into the Stanley Cup playoffs. The Canadiens were not only clinging like leeches but they were fighting like wildcats last night when they hung a 3-1 defeat on the Toronto Maple Leafs at the Montreal Forum.

That game put Toronto two points under the Detroit Red Wings, and Toronto and Detroit each have only four games left before the schedule closes. It may turn out that the Canadiens' victory cost the Leafs the league championship. But the race is so close that no one will make any predictions.

Apart from the leaders, the victory put Canadiens seven points behind Boston Bruins who hold the fourth and last play-off position. One Boston victory will eliminate the Canadiens even if the Montrealers win all remaining games. Because Canadiens have only four games left.

The Canadiens didn't look like discards last night when they checked and skated the Leafs off their feet. Sticks were carried high, crushing board checks were handed out and a couple of fist fights marked proceedings.

Canadiens Tops

But in the goal light section, where the red flash casts only gloom on the opposing teams, the Canadiens were tops. Elmer Lach, after concentrating on tying up Leafs' flash centre Max Bentley, scored the Canadiens' first goal. Gus Mortson got Toronto's only counter early in the second period to tie it up. Then Jacques Locas put Montreal ahead before the frame ended, and Murph Chamberlain added one for good measure in the third period.

Referee George Gravel handed out 15 penalties, trouble starting with a fight between Montreal's great defenceman Kenny Reardon and Toronto's steady Gus Mortson in the first period. Chamberlain and Leafs' Howie Meeker were slugging each other at the time. Meeker later took on big Butch Bouchard, with no damage done.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Film Company Making Tour Of World

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, March 12 (AP) —International distances mean nothing to John Ford, Merian Cooper, and their new Argosy Film Company.

Having filmed "The Fugitive" in Mexico, the producers will return there for "Three Godfathers." They plan to make "Bora Bora" in Tahiti, the story of Bastille Day celebrations at the island. They had hoped to shoot "The Family" in Tsingtao, Manchuria, but it will probably be done in Mexico City.

Background shots for "Mr. Joseph Young of Africa" will be made in the dark continent by an expedition which is leaving soon. Ford and Cooper also plan "The Quiet Man" in Eire.

Long Era Ends

Wallace Beery is reported to be leaving MGM after one more picture. That would mark the end of a 20-year stay at the Culver City lot, where he made such memorable films as "Min and Bill," "Tugboat Annie," "The Champ," and "Viva Villa." Wally has been unhappy with the kind of pictures he has been getting in recent years and it is said he will return to his old stamping grounds, Paramount....

Abbott and Costello will barnstorm the country in April for a dual purpose—to publicize their Independent film, "The Noose Hangs High," and to raise money for their Youth Foundation in Eastside L.A. They will start the tour after they finish "A and C Meet Frankenstein."....

10-Second Review

"The Mating of Millie" (Col.) is a good comedy fashioned from the familiar situation of a girl who wants to get married. Evelyn Keyes is excellent as the marrying gal (who wants a hitching so she can adopt an orphan) and the eligibles are Glenn Ford, Willard Parker and Ron Randall. Of course, she picks Ford, after many good laughs.

Huskies Score 3-2 Win Lead USHL Division

By The Canadian Press

The old Merriwell trick came into play last night to give Houston Huskies a five-point lead in the southern division of the United States Hockey League.

With 45 seconds to play, Joe McArthur pushed in a tie-breaking shot to give the Huskies a 3-2 victory over Fort Worth Rangers and increase their lead.

Hub Macey and Morden Skinner got the other Houston goals while Joe Schmidt and Alex Ritson scored for the losers.

In the only other league game last night, defenceman Fred Shero's goal in the overtime period gave St. Paul Saints a 4-3 victory over Kansas City Pla-Mors. The victory put the Saints in a tie for second place in the northern division with Kansas City. Minneapolis leads the division.

Warsaw Squad Two Up In Rural Final

NORWOOD, March 12 (ENS).—Westwood was edged 2-0 in a good close game in Norwood arena on Thursday night. It was the second game of the Rural League three out of five finals, and Warsaw's second win. As far as Warsaw is concerned, the cup can be parcelled any time now and they will take it home. The write-ups or reports of the games do not seem to satisfy these hockey players and their fans but no mere amateur could describe this team and give it complete justice.

Westwood played a very good game at that, it would be difficult to pick any special player for mention, as they all tried desperately for a win, but did not manage even one goal. They had a lot of tough breaks around the goal. The teams:

Warsaw: Goal, Patterson; defence, L. Lonsberry and Simpson; centre, I. Watts; wings, M. Patterson and J. Watts; alternates, Sharpe, Evans, S. Lonsberry, G. Payne and E. Payne.

Westwood: Goal, Renwick; defence, Shearer and Mortlock; centre, Woods; wings, B. Thompson and Sargent; alternates, Bill Warr, Morris Simpson and Bruce Warr.

Referee, Archie Weir; linesman, Hartley Morrison.

Summary:

First Period

Warsaw—Don Sharpe (G. Payne) 19.05

Penalties—Evans, Morris, Simpson.

Second Period

Warsaw—I. Watts (J. Watts) 18.50

Penalties—E. Payne, Simpson, G. Payne, Mortlock, Simpson.

Third Period

No scoring.

Penalty—Thompson.

$100,000 Reduction

TORONTO, March 2 —(CP)—City council yesterday slashed $100,000 from estimates for day care centres and decided that additional accommodations must await provincial or government aid. Mayor H. E. McCallum said there are 2,600 applications for day-centre accommodation and to help this number, $1,000,000 would be necessary next year. Twelve centres caring for 700 this year will cost $100,000, he said.

OARSMEN BRAVE COLD TO PRACTICE — Though bitter March winds ripple the surface of the Schuylkill river, University of Pennsylvania oarsmen take their shells out for first practice. This is the freshman crew—about to pass under the Girard Ave. bridge in Philadelphia.

Confirm Agreement With Lake Seamen

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., March 12—(CP)—Capt. R. Scott Misener, president and general manager of Sarnia and Colonial Steamship Lines confirmed yesterday that his companies had signed agreements with the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union calling for "substantial" wage increases, maintenance of union membership, union shop and increased subsistence allowances.

The companies at present had no employees on ships but when crews arrived they would be given an opportunity to approve selection of the CSLU headed by J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, as bargaining agent, Capt. Misener said.

STILL CHAMP—Gus Lesnevich, of Cliffside, NJ, light heavyweight champ, is shown after being declared the winner and still champ, after he scored a first round knockout over Billy Fox of Philadelphia, in their scheduled 15-round championship title bout in Madison Square Garden, New York. The end came for Fox exactly one minute and 58 seconds after the start of the fight.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Horsemen posted rewards and made plans for a search of their own at Miami, Fla., yesterday for jockey Al Snider of Calgary, Alta., and two companions missing for six days on a fishing trip in the Florida keys. The Jockey's Guild and Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Agency jointly offered $1,000 for finding each of the missing men, dead or alive. An additional $500 was offered for anyone locating the 16-foot plywoodboat they were in when they disappeared last Friday.

Three friends of Snider had already posted $5,000 reward for anyone finding the men alive. Missing with Snider are C. H. (Tobe) Trotter, Miami horse trainer, and Donald Fraser, Toronto business man.

Jack Nash was named chairman of the London Hunt and Country Club committee yesterday at London, Ont., succeeding Dr. W. J. Brown who resigned after 25 years in office. The committee announced dates for major golf tournaments this summer. They include the annual 36-hole invitation June 16 and the two-day seniors Aug. 12-13. Initial play for the Sandy Somerville Cup will be held at Brantford, June 6, with the second round at the hunt club, Sept. 12.

Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, top-ranking world's light heavyweight contender, last night was matched for a 10-round bout with Elmer (Violent) Ray, Minneapolis, at Chicago April 7. Jack Hurley, matchmaker of the Stadium Boxing Club of Chicago, said Charles had pledged to donate $5,000 to the parents of the late Sam Baroudi, who died six hours after receiving a knockout blow delivered by Charles in the Stadium Feb. 20. Hurley also said the boxing club would donate $5,000 to complete a $10,000 fund for the dead boxer's parents.

Tommy Rodgers, one-armed boxer, successfully defended his 155-pound Harvard College title at Cambridge, Mass., last night by gaining a close three-round decision over Jack Lord. Rodgers, who lost his left arm in a railroad accident while a youth, relied on his speed and swift hooks to win the officials' nod. He won the title last year in a technical knockout victory.

R.C.A.F. Flyers, Canada's Olympic hockey champions, yesterday defeated the Swedish club team Soertalje 3-2. Period scores were: 1-0, 0-0, 2-2.

Don Gallinger, suspended Boston Bruins hockey player, left by automobile yesterday for his home at Port Colborne, Ont. The 22-year-old Bruin, veteran of five seasons, was suspended Tuesday following the National Hockey League gambling investigation.

Pete Babandon, Boston Bruins forward, pleaded innocent yesterday at Boston, to a charge of assault and battery. He was released on his own recognizance until March 31. Babando was charged with assaulting a hockey fan and the latter's small son when leaving the ice following a Boston-Chicago National Hockey League game Jan. 31 in Boston Gardens.

Says Canada Can Give Mexico Tennis Battle

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP).—If Canada can develop a good tennis doubles combination, the Dominion will give Mexico a battle in the first round of American zone Davis Cup eliminations this year.

That was the opinion today of Henri Rochon of Montreal, Canadian Davis Cup star, who is representing his country in the United States indoor tennis championship at the Seventh Regiment Armory.

"What we need is experience," said Rochon, a southpaw who breezed into the second round yesterday with a 6-0, 6-3 triumph over Don Wheaton of Pelham, N.Y.

"We have a lot of tennis players in Canada but nobody becomes very good simply because we seldom get any real competition.

"However, I hope to make the Davis Cup team again in singles and Brendan Macken should be better than ever. But I don't have the stamina to play both singles and doubles and we'll have to find a doubles team before we can beat Mexico.'

Ball Executive Welcomes New Holdout

LAKELAND, Fla., March 12.—(AP).—Ever hear of a baseball executive who welcomes a holdout?....Maybe Col. Jake Ruppert used to welcome Babe Ruth's periodic resistance to offers in the old days. That was something of an act between the Babe and the Colonel, winding up in a blaze of publicity for the Yanks.... Now comes Billy Evans, Detroit general manager, saying he's glad shortstop Eddie Lake hasn't come to terms...."If he was here, he wouldn't let anybody else in there," Billy explains. "He's a strong little fellow who can play every day. That's one of his arguments. Since he hasn't come in we've been able to try Neil Berry and Johnny Lipton at short. Both have looked good and we have been very much impressed by Berry's play."

Study in Contrasts

Evans, who used to be a newspaper man, besides being a ball player, umpire and minor league president, offers a unique theory about Dick Wakefield's failure to pull out of a hitting slump...Dick acts like a don't care guy, but Evans thinks he "affects a nonchalency (sic) he doesn't feel."...."Look at him," Billy commented as Wakefield stalked by. "He has everything. I think he could be as great a hitter as Ted Williams, but he has an entirely different attitude....Wiliams always is looking for improvement. He bothers his team-mates with questions. Everywhere he goes, he singles out players and asks them to watch him and tell him what he can do to improve his hitting. Wakefield never does things like that."

Hit and Run

Dr. Illarion Gopadze, team physician for Philadelphia Athletics, was in the Russian diplomatic service under the Czarist regime in 1917....When the Red revolution began, Dr. Gopadze was on a mission to turkey...."When I heard the news,' the Doc explains, "I kept right on going until I wound up in America."

AL CAUGHT ONE HE DIDN'T WANT—A man who caught one ball too many is Al Gionfriddo, Brooklyn Dodger ball hawk, whose home-run-robbing catch of Joe DiMaggio's world series drive, won him a niche in sports-page history. Al who has been photographed in every conceivable catching pose since he made his spectacular catch—even standing on his head—stopped a wild pitch with his head during a Dodger workout game at their spring training camp at Trujillo City, Dominican Republic. Johnny Van Cuyk, guilty of the wild throw, is shown applying a cold compress to his damaged teammate's skull.

What's What In Baseball

NEW YORK, March 12.—(AP).—Three Philadelphia Athletics' rookies will get an opportunity to show their stuff during the three-game series which the A's open against Washington Senators today.

Manager Connie Mack is expected to lead off the series with his old stand-by of last season, Phil Marchildon of Penetanguishene, a 19-game winner.

Rookie hurler Alex Kellner will be sandwiched between veterans Joe Coleman and Carl Scheib tomorrow. The other freshmen, Bill Connelly and Lou Brissie, are expected to follow Russ Christopher on the mound Sunday.

Outfielders Pete Reiser and Dick Whitman are getting a workout at first base for Brooklyn Dodgers.

Manager Leo Durocher, apparently experimenting in case he needs another first sacker instead of Jackie Robinson or Ray Sanders, said he wanted to discover the versatility of each Dodger. Some observers viewed this as another step toward moving Robinson to second base.

Washington Senators, who a few weeks ago would change the subject if anyone asked about the club's prospects, are looking happier these days because of three rookies. They are second baseman Al Kozar from New Orleans, and outfielders Dean Stafford from Greenville, Tex., and Larry Drake, from Sherman-Dennison of Texas Big State League.

Joe DiMaggio will make his spring training debut for New York Yankees Sunday when they meet the Boston Red Sox in an exhibition at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Yank outfielder has been taking it easy making sure of his throwing arm, which was operated on last fall for removal of bone chips in the elbow.

Combines Down Redmen By 6-3 Series Now Tied

By The Canadian Press

While Ontario Hockey Association's senior and junior finalists took things easy in preparation for tonight's tilts, another junior Northern Ontario Hockey Association final game was run off last night with Porcupine Combines hanging a convincing 6-3 defeat on Copper Cliff Redmen. The best-of-seven series now stands at two games apiece.

Combines came from behind a 2-0 deficit at the end of the initial frame to tie the count at 2-2 at the end of the second. In the third period the Combines clicked four times to the Redmen's once.

The OHA swings into action again tonight with Kitchener-Waterloo invading Hamilton seeking their first win in the best-of-seven senior finals which the Tigers now lead 2-0. Windsor moves to Barrie seeking their third straight victory in their best-of-seven junior finals.

CUSTER STANDS AGAIN—George Armstrong Custer III, great grand nephew of the former American civil war general and Indian fighter, is a member of Michigan State College's Varsity fencing team. Like his famous kin, young Custer hails from Monroe, Michigan.

Second Book Of Remembrance Will Take 5 Years To Finish

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP).—Preparation of Canada's Second World War Book of Remembrance—a detailed, precise task expected to take five years—has been started here by Lt.-Cmdr. Allan B. Beddoe, 54-year-old sailor-artist.

The book will contain some 48,000 names of fallen Canadian service men, compared with 66,651 names in the First World War book, now in the quiet sanctity of the Memorial Chamber in the Parliament Buildings' peace tower.

No decision has been made on the ultimate location of the second book.

The memorial chamber, a small peaceful room of which the first book is the centre, is devoted wholly to the deeds of Canada's First World War forces. It's solid, intricately-carved stone work depicting First World War scenes and emblems which might not easily be altered to accommodate tokens of the recent conflict.

The first book took 10 years to complete, the work being delayed by the death of the artist when he had only one of the 600-odd pages illuminated.

Lt.-Cmdr. Beddoe, who completed the decoration of the first book, is in charge of the new work.

He served with the RCNVR during the Second World War.

The first part of his new work—compilation of a card series on which appear the names to be inscribed in the book by hand—is under way. The names will be listed by year of death.

The new book, about 450 pages, will be of rare vellum, a sheepskin material manufactured in England. The first 100 sheets already have been received here.

Ontario To Get Milder Weather

TORONTO, March 12—(CP)—Zero and near-zero temperatures held most of Ontario in an icy grip over the night. However, the weatherman forecast an upward trend in temperatures today and tomorrow fo rthe southern part of the province. In the north, another icy blast is in store for Saturday.

White River, in Northern Ontario, upheld a tradition of nearly 50 years with the lowest temperature reported in the province over night—22 below zero. Subzero levels were reported in Suothern Ontario as wil—17 below at Muskoka airport, 10 below at Welland, one below at London.

In its forecast for tonight, the Dominion Public Weather Office in Toronto foresaw sub-zero temperatures only in Northern Ontario with 10-below levels expected at Earlton and Moosonee.

McKees Battle To Retain Child's Custody

TORONTO, March 12 (CP). — Seven-year-old Terry McKee, during most of his young life the object of a legal battle between his divorced parents, Mark T. McKee, wealthy American airline executive, and Mrs. Evelyn McKee, yesterday became involved in the niceties of jurisprudnce as his mother's counsel, R. I. Ferguson, told the court: "There is not only the custody of the child involved in this case."

"In the interest of justice," Mr. Ferguson said, "McKee should not be allowed to run from court to court and state to state and have this issue retried and retried."

Mrs. McKee is appealing from a judgment of Mr. Justice Dalton Wells which gave custody of the boy to his father. Mr. Ferguson argues that a California court gave custody of the child to his mother in 1945 and his father "kidnapped" him and took him to Michigan and subsequently to Kitchener. Mrs. McKee's case is that the California judgment should be upheld.

Chief Justice R. S. Robertson, at yesterday's hearing, observed there was the possibility the father could apply for custody in Michigan courts.

"He won't do that," said Mr. Ferguson, "because the Michigan law gives the mother the child until he is 12."

"I'm afraid Terry will have celebrated his 21st birthday before he gets through with this litigation," commented Chief Justice Robertson.

The case has been fought in United States and Canadian courts since the parents were divorced in California in 1942.

Alberta Studies High Prices

By The Canadian Press

Provincial legislation to roll back prices was proposed yesterday in the Alberta legislature, as Premier E. C. Manning said his government planned to enforce mark-up controls on the basis of prices prevailing with the federal government's decontrol orders were issued.

The session started in the Nova Scotia Legislature, last provincial house to open this year, and throne speech debate continued in most other provincial parliaments.

After the Nova Scotia throne speech, which forecast legislation for a redistribution of seats and amendments to eight acts, including the year-old Labor Act, the House adjourned for ceremonies and speeches recalling that Nova Scotia Feb. 2, 1848, became the first colony overseas to obtain responsible government from Britain.

Concluding the New Brunswick throne speech from the opposition side of the house, F. G. Squires (PC-Carleton) declared his province's government "snoozed in her rocking chair", and allowed wartime industries and an opportunity for revival of industry to slip into the hands of the central provinces. The debate was scheduled to be concluded today by Health Minister F. A. McGrand.

Larger Increases In Pensions Demanded In House Of Commons

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, March 12—(CP).—Three Government measures, one aimed at increasing veterans' pensions, another at extending the powers of the Canadian Wheat Board, and a third at ratifying new excise taxes, were the target of Opposition criticism in the Commons yesterday. The pensions bill, given second reading and referred to the veterans' committee for detailed study, was criticized on the grounds that the proposed increases were inadequate. George Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley) joined Opposition members in urging larger increases.

Veterans Minister Gregg said supplementary cheques covering the proposed increases, which average between 16 and 20 per cent. of the present pensions, will be about the equivalent of one month's pension and will be mailed by the end of the month. The increases are retroactive to Oct. 1, 1947.

Opposition to the Wheat Board measure stemmed from Progressive Conservative and CCF benches, with A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West) charging that acceptance of a section of the legislation would mean the complete socialization of practically everything the Western farmer has to sell.

The debate was on a resolution to a Bill that would provide for an increase in the initial price of wheat; give the Wheat Board the power to become the sole marketing agent for oats and barley as well as wheat, and provide for the establishment of a pension fund for board employees.

Separate Sections

As a result of criticism, Trade Minister Howe finally agreed to separate the initial payment section from the other two so there would be no delay in getting the cheques reflecting higher payments to Western wheat producers.

Earlier efforts by J. A. Ross PC-Souris) to have the resolution split into three parts so that each subject could be considered separately were rejected when Speaker Gaspard Fauteux ruled out his amendment. The Speaker's decision after appeal was upheld 131 to 63, with the CCF Party voting with the government while the Social Credit members joined with the Progressive Conservatives.

Mr. Howe's conciliatory move was followed by adoption of the resolution and first reading of the Bill to which it pertained.

No progress was made on the contentious resolution that would give legislative effect to the 25 per cent excise taxes which Finance Minister Abbott announced November 17 would form part of the dollar-conservation program. The Opposition has termed the taxes unjustified and illegal.

Mr. Abbott said that from November to February the new taxes, applying against a lengthy list of durable consumer goods, had yielded an estimated $5,863,995.

In the veterans debate, Mr. Gregg promised to consider suggestions that a permanent committee be established to deal with affairs of former members of the services. He said he would be glad to review cases where the pensions of First World War veterans were reduced and cited figures to show that during the last year only 147 had been decreased out of the 69,736 pensions being paid to veterans in this class.

Outlines Plan

He recalled that a cost-of-living bonus, later included in the basic scale was paid by veterans following the First World War and said he had been asked whether the Government intended the present increase to fluctuate with the cost of living.

He went on:

"The answer to that and similar questions is this: The Government does propose in this bill to increase the basic rate of pension and it is not intended that it should fluctuate according to the changing cost-of-living index."

Speaking in the pensions debate, G. S. Whote (PC-Hastings-Peterborough) said the increases were 'totally inadequate." Canada could afford larger increases.

The Government planned to spend hundreds of millions on the beautification of Ottawa and as a war memorial, yet "hedged" and "quibbled" when it came to paying pensions.

Not Consulted

Mr. White said he wondered how many veterans and veterans' organizations had been consulted on the type of war memorial the country should have. Personally he felt that scholarships for veterans' children across the country would be more valuable than a beautified Ottawa.

His party advocated on many occasions that there should be a $100-a-month pension for 100 per cent disability.

He felt the wives of disabled veterans should continue to receive a pension when their husbands died. Action should be taken as well to prevent reductions in pensions of First World War veterans. Provision should be made to provide increases for all pensioned veterans when they reached a certain age.

He protested against the "class distinction" which gave a ranking officer a higher level in civil life. A private suffered just as much during the war as did a brigadier.

He objected also to salary increases being proposed in the legislation for the pension commissioners, who received even more than did county judges.

Hear Damage Action

TORONTO, March 2 —(CP)— A damage action against W. T. Burford of Ottawa, former secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Federation of Labor and publisher of the Labor Review, started today in Assize Court. It accused him of converting between $50,000 and $250,000 of the Federation's money to his own use. Complainants were Ernest Smith of Toronto, C.F.L. general representative, and Thomas Cane of Kirland Lake, member of the C.F.L. executive and of the Canadian iMne Workers Union.

Cattle Prices Climb 25 Cents Cwt.

TORONTO, March 12 (CP). — Cattle prices were strong to 25 cents a hundredweight higher on the Livestock Market this week, while calves, sheep and lambs were steady. Hogs were strong to 25 cents higher.

The cattle run, 5,400 head, was 1,200 more than for the same week a year ago. The market had a healthier tone than for some weeks past and the early gain was held to the close with receipts fairly well cleared.

Weighty steers sold at $14.50-$16.75, with a top load of $17 cwt. Butcher steers were $13-$15.75 and a few choice reached $16.40. Butcher heifers sold at $12-$15.50 and a few tops made $16. Butcher sows were $9.50-$13, with canners downward to $6. Bulls sold from $10.50 for light bolognas up to $13 for good butchers. Fed yearlings were strong at $15.50-$18 cwt. Stockers were $13-$14.15 for picked lots with plain downward to $10.50. Milkers and springers were $85-$145 each for the quality offered.

Calves held firm on a run of 1,300 head. Good to choice vealers sold at $21-$24 cwt. with plain to medium lights and heavies from $13-$20. Thin grassers for slaughter sold at $9-$12 cwt.

Hogs totalled 2,600 head. The market opened at $29 for Grade A and closed with $29.25 asked. Grade B1 hogs are rated at 40 cents cwt. below the Grade A. Sows were $20 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were only 200 head, with no strictly good lambs included. Plain to medium lambs sold at $15-$18 cwt. The small supply of sheep sold at $5-$10 cwt. according to quality.

Weekly summary of receipts:

	Cattle	Calves	Hogs	Sheep & Lambs
This week	5437	1343	2761	230
Last week	4507	1064	1995	179

US Presidential Campaign Under Way In Earnest

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, March 12—(CP).—This week saw the beginning in earnest of a political campaign which provides United States voters with most complex and difficult decisions in next November's balloting. The campaign to pick the next President comes at about the most critical peace-time period in the history of this or any other country.

World events of staggering significance are crowding in on the thinking and planning of United States citizens. Talk of a new war peril is on every page of daily newspapers and constantly on the air.

The 1948 campaign for the Presidency was informally launched this week.

He Is Willing

President Truman announced his willingness to accept the nomination if the Democrats so decide at their national convention in Philadelphia next July. His announcement comes at a time when surface appearances would seem to offer him little hope of winning.

Second development was the announcement from Tokyo that Gen. Douglas MacArthur would accept the call to service if the Republican Party nominates him for President at its convention in June, also in Philadelphia.

Third development and really the opening gun in the campaign was the primary election in New Hampshire where Governor Thomas Dewey of New York and former Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota fought it out for support of that State's eight delegates to the June convention.

Stassen, a Navy veteran of the Second World War, elected two delegates, Dewey six, but it was looked upon as a significant showing for Stassen.

First Test in April.

MacArthur's first test of popularity will come in the Wisconsin primaries scheduled for early April.

The Democrats have their candidate. In spite of the revolt of Southern Democrats against Truman, the party can hardly fail to nominate him.

The Republicans have, in addition to MacArthur, Dewey and Stassen, a number of other possible choices, including Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, Governor Earl Warren of California, and Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan.

Viscount Wavell Admits Ill-Fated Burma Error

LONDON, March 12—(CP)—Viscount Wavell, over-all Commander of the ill-fated Burma campaign, in a war office dispatch published tonight attributed the defeat of his outnumbered forces in 1942 to seven main causes.

1. Unpreparedness of Burma for a war which a contributing factor was the "cardinal mistake" of authorities in London in putting Burma under the Far East command instead of under India.

2. The terrain made attack the best form of defence but "unfortunately the means were not available."

3. "Misconceptions" in assessment of the Burma defence problem and the form the main Japanese attack would take.

4. An inadequate system of military intelligence.

5. Insufficient naval force to give any effective support to the army.

6. Inadequate air support for the army which was the "chief requirement of force in Burma at this time."

7. The moral effect on the soldiers of the knowledge that part of the population was "potentially hostile and treacherous."

Wavell acknowledged in the dispatch his own "error of judgment in minimizing the danger to Burma."

NEW PRESIDENT — H. Harold Duplan, executive vice-president, Silverwood Dairies, London, who was elected president National Dairy Council of Canada.

VOL. XCVI, No. 61 FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1948

Kitchener Rate Up To 45 Mills

Kitchener council increased its municipal tax rate 2½ mills to 45 mills in a 2 a.m. session Monday night. They had to provide for a deficit of $54,000 from 1947. A significant note in the report of the council meeting is: "The council balanced reverses by spreading capital expenditure on housing projects over three years. The aldermen also had about five mills to work on due to assessment increases."

Kitchener's assessment department singled out the commercial area of the city last year for special attention, and marked up taxable values to such an extent that the Court of Revision was swamped with protests. But, the new assessment level remained unchanged except in a few minor amendments in revision.

Ben Johnson 90 Years Today Never Misses Police Court

Benjamin Johnson, 249 Stewart St., is 90 years young today and together with a small celebration at his house, he followed the even tenure of his daily routine by attending the daily police court. "In this way," said Mr. Johnson, "I keep in constant touch with current happenings and pick up a lot more on the radio." He does not see as well as he used to and uses these information methods to keep abreast of the times. His wife says he is a fan of radio barn-dance music although he was neither a musician nor a 'stepper' and has never touched alcohol in any form, or tobacco. His favorite beverage is buttermilk and he is a keen trencherman.

A student of early life in Upper Canada would learn a lot of things about pioneering life if he were to spend time with "Ben" Johnson. He was born a mile east of Harwood next door to the Bethesda Methodist Church, eldest of a family of five boys and four girls. His father, Peter Johnson, came from Northern Ireland and married Bridget White. They settled on this backwoods location and cleared fields from the hardwood bush with two teams of oxen. Young Ben got to be an expert at breaking in and handling these slow beasts and recalls many a trip with oats and barley to the Peterborough mills via the ice of Rice Lake. There were also trips down the length of the lake to Bewdley and south to Port Hope with loads of dried peas and some shorter jaunts to the village of Baltimore to have grain ground.

Friendly Indians

There are also stories of the Indians from the Hiawatha Reserve, many of them friends of the Johnson family, who cut black ash in their swamps for snowshoe frames and basket laths. The natives gave them fish from their "doorstep" in summer and bags of wild rice in the Fall. Mr. Johnson remembers the time when the old Cobourg-Peterborough Railway was in full swing and how he hauled stone fill in winter for the causeway for three dollars a cord.

At the age of 32 he wearied of the backwoods life and, having gained a practical carpenter's knowledge, went to Toronto to work on house construction for the next five years. It was not very renumerative at 25 cents an hour and he bought a farm near Madoc where he married Lily Carstairs. Their daughter, now Mrs. Mabel Thickson, lives in Bowmanville and the only son, Walter, was killed by lightning at the age of 35 while working in the fields on a Fraserville farm.

The Madoc farm proved to be very poor land and the Johnson family moved to the old Goodfellow farm in South Monaghan, bought it and remained on it for 20 years. When he decided to retire from farming, Mrs. Johnson had passed away and he married Mrs. Adam Pimmett 22 years ago.

The only physical complaint Mr. Johnson suffers with these days is a stiffening of one leg that stemmed from a break when he was 12 years old, he fell from a barn roof to the ground. He broke the same limb in a different place at the age of 82 but it never "kicks up". A man with such an iron constitution for 90 years should expect to last many more and the betting is that he will.

Aid To Children Collection Down In County

A group of farmers from the east end of Otonabee virtually pushed the Federation of Agriculture into hospital-plan action Thursday evening.

The Federation has been cautiously looking into and around a health program which, with county council endorsement, sometimes ventures into the field of the county health unit. Of late down in the Stewart section of Otonabee farmers set out on their own initiative to ascertain the local sentiment toward the kind of hospitalization scheme that has been set up in the cities. This survey disclosed quite a strong feeling that something should be done by and for the people in that locality.

Councillor R. R. Stewart reported that he found the people eager to get the exact information and to avail themselves of some form of the new co-operative health and hospital plan.

Partly for that active interest, the members appointed Mr. Stewart chairman of a committee of the Federation to prepare a preliminary report,—and soon. With him are Mr. Stanley Wood, Mrs. Herb. McFarlane, Mrs. Roland Scott, Bruce Graham, James Maloney and Clifford Johnston.

Twenty-five members attended the meeting in the office of the Department of Agriculture, with W. W. Dawson, chairman. Milton Clark of Smith extended the critical spirit in a question of what progress was being accomplished in the appeal for contributions for Children in Europe. He said that some farmers in Smith were asking him who was to receive the money. Apparently the Federation plan of using school children as an agency was not accomplishing the results expected.

Mr. Dawson recalled that it had been adopted in the belief that it was best suited to the problem of scattered homes in some parts of the county. John Kitney, secretary, had obtained the names of the teachers in the western inspectorate, but was refused that information by the inspector of east Peterborough schools. When the appeal was undertaken it was understood that it closed in Ontario at the end of February. Consensus of the members was that collection method in Peterborough county was not satisfactory.

Carman Seymour reported that Durham Federation had made a house to house canvass, but apparently that plan could not be followed here.

"It is easier to do it that way where the Federation is organized on a county basis," Mr. Kitney commented.

"Any way, farmers have been asking me what was actually being done," said Milton Clark. "As I see it the best way would be collection on the basis of school organization."

The discussion ended on the note that possibly returns would begin to come in from the schools.

Picnic In June

It was proposed Thursday night that the annual Federation picnic be held Saturday, June 5, with the probability that it would be again at Morrow Park. The committee of last year are being asked to assume the details. President Dawson suggested that an entire meeting should be allotted to planning for the picnic. Approval of the commentary on the beef and dairy cattle shown last year was expressed by Mr. Stewart, who said that form of discussion by men highly qualified for that role, was an additional educational feature.

Proposes Lacrosse Bowl Be Set Aside To Assure Permanent Tenancy By Club

To meet the wishes of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club for assurance of tenacy of the Miller Bowl site on Towsend St., the legal committee of the council proposed yesterday that the property be set aside for lacrosse purposes. A bylaw to that effect appeared to meet the wishes of the Club as recently set out in a letter from Ken Kingston.

An agreement is to be entered into with the Club trustees, and it has been suggested that an annual grant be made by the council in the amount of taxes collectible from the Bowl property. It was said that the site has to be assessed in the ordinary way and the tax rate charged. The alternative to remission of taxes as an aid to the Club is the granting of an amount equivalent to the tax bill.

This concession is based on the Club's plans to engage a coach who will be available daily to demonstrate the game to boys who wish to learn it. Ald. Doug Miller, who is not a member of the committee, was present as a representative of the Club. Its intentions this year was to foster lacrosse among minors on a larger scale than has ever been attempted, for the purpose of establishing the game on a permanent basis.

Report Outlines Program To Protect School Children

A report presented to the Board of Education Thursday night outlined the steps which eight of the city's public schools are taking to ensure safe conduct of the pupils between their homes and schools. The reports, which were prepared by the principals, were assembled by Inspector K. S. Wightman as a result of a recent board discussion concerning traffic hazards near the schools.

Two of the schools, Central and King George, use older boys as "traffic police" at noon hour at busy corners to supervise the crossing of the younger pupils. Boys are stationed on Water and George Streets near Central and at the corner of Roger and Hunter Streets for the King George School.

All of the schools reports mention that the teachers watch and supervise children crossing at corners and give regular reminders and teaching on safety measures.

King Edward, King George, Prince of Wales, Confederation, May's and Queen Mary Schools dismiss classes for the noon hour at irregular intervals in order to permit the children time to get across the busy streets before or after heavy industrial noon-hour traffic begins. May's School also holds the junior class to avoid dismissal at the time of the passing of a train about 11.40.

Central School's most dangerous corners, states the report, are Brock and Water Streets, Brock and George, Murray and Water, Murray and George, McDonnel and Water, McDonnel and George.

The King Edward School experiences difficulty at noon with the industrial traffic which creates a "bad rush for a few minutes" at the corner of Lansdowne and Park Streets. Early dismissal succeeds in avoiding the noon rush at the Romaine and Park corner. The report states that Romaine and Aylmer is a bad corner, "because most motorists fail to stop at the stop signs."

King George School teachers and senior boys supervise junior grades at noon, whose departure is staggered to avoid the Westclox rush of workers. The only "hazardous" corner mentioned is that of Armour Road and Hunter Street.

Prince of Wales report told the board that the weight of traffic, which comes at definite times, "does not seem to be heavy enough to constitute abnormally dangerous conditions for children except at those times. It detailed methods of supervision at the three bad corners—Sherbrooke-Park-Reid, Wolfe and Park and Place and Park.

Few Cross Streets

The corner of Barnardo and Conger Streets is the focal point of danger for the Queen Alexandra School. The report stressed the "handicaps" of the lack of cross streets between Barnardo and Benson and Barnardo and Argyle.

"For want of these crossings" the report continues, "the school is frequently embarrassed by reports of illegal crossings which it is unable to control."

Confederation School is able to avoid heavy traffic by a dismissal timetable synchronized to miss the traffic of industry.

May's School follows a similar dismissing and supervision procedure. The report suggested the erection of "School—Go Slow" signs in the area and added: "Suggestions welcomed—the traffic hazard is a constant source of worry."

Weller and Monaghan Road and Monaghan Road and Elm were referred to by the Queen Mary School as requiring supervision.

"This traffic," the report reads, "needs checking quite frequently and prominent school signs should be erected."

ON VETERANS' INSURANCE

Local Veterans' Affairs office management advises that the scheme of deducting life insurance premiums from pensions has not been brought to a final stage as yet. Veterans who have purchased insurance under this plan are requested to continue to pay monthly premiums for the next two months directly to underwriters' offices until the Government machinery for deductions from pensions as source is working smoothly.

Legal Committee Decides City Has Too Much Noise; Frowns On Amendments

Legal committee of the council declined Thursday to recommend any change in the anti-noise by-law to meet the wish of the Allied Labor Council for permission to broadcast union information at factory fronts and gates. First, they decided they would not rescind the by-law, nor would they declare the Labor Council exempt from its restrictions. The third suggestion from the petitioners was that the by-law be amended to allow the exception of labor messages in factory neighborhoods. It was said that labor unions had carried on the practice of distributing hand bills, and they still had that means of publicizing their affairs; that people living in the vicinity of factories were bound to object to loud broadcasts, as in the vicinity of the CGE plant, Peterborough Lock Company and so on. Another minor point mentioned was that if the council put through one amendment others might be sought.

Main objection of the committee, with Ald. Sands chairman, was that there was already too much needless noise in the city streets, and the by-law had been designed to try to reduce it. The other members present were Aldermen Armstrong, Swanston, Waddell, Anglesey and Mayor Ovens.

Police Tighten Supervision Over All Taxis

Stricter supervision of the taxi business of the city will be possible under amendments to the taxi bylaw approved by the Police Commission Thursday.

The amendments will call for all taxi drivers, as condition of their licences, to carry in their vehicles their pictures in a position which can be seen by the passenger and will stiffen regulations in regard to notification of police in cases of changes in staff and cars.

It has also been suggested to the Commission that the drivers be fingerprinted—one finger only, the right index—in line with that practice in other cities.

The Commission received the recommendations in a report of Police Chief John Thompson, who said that "the safety of the public is at stake if supervision is lax," adding that the growth of the taxi business in Peterborough has made the existing method of filing inadequate.

The report stated that owners have been lax, despite bylaws to the contrary, in reporting changes with the result that in some cases, drivers have in one year worked

94,339 People Used City Rinks During 2 Months

In approximately two months 94,339 pople, children and adults, skated on Peterborough's nine pleasure rinks. In a slightly longer period, Christmas holidays to Feb. 28, 1,225 organized hockey games were played on the eight hockey cushions, distributed throughout the city.

Attendance figures for pleasure rinks show Riverside, 18,594; Orphange, 22,504; King Edward, 11,012; Turner, 9,827; Confederation, 9,322; Bonnerworth, 12,186; Inverlea, 4,644; Rutherford, 3,001; Wolsley, 3,249.

The two hockey cushions at Riverside Park accommodated hockey enthusiasts to the extent of 375 games; Inverlea, 99; Orphanage, 123; Bonnerworth, 101; Turner Park, 197; Confederation School, 170; and King Edward Park, 155.

Usual winter squabbles between hockey players and pleasure skaters eliminated this season by having separate rinks near each other. From the standpoint of maintenance this proved very satisfactory as well, allowing Parks Department staffs to supervise both simultaneously.

A check was also possible by requiring teams to secure a permit from the Recreation Commission before playing.

Only two complaints reached the Recreation Director, Jack Dane, during the season; and they were of a minor nature.

Mrs Wilfred Stevenson presided for business. It was voted to pay for renovating the interior of the church.

Plans were made to have two quiltings at an early date An Easter Monday party in the Harwood hall was planned.

St. Paul's MA Club Cancel Annual Tea

MA Club of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met Thursday afternoon in the Guild Room of Murray St. Baptist Church with 25 in attendance. Mrs. Dora Amos, vice president, was in the chair in absence of Mrs. Ann Curtis. New members welcomed were Mrs. R. Killingbeck, and Mrs. Clark of 171 Antrim St. Mrs. Helene Snelgrove, secretary, and Mrs. Cathy Davidson, treasurer, gave their reports.

Mrs. Mary Cochran was in charge of the devotional period. Mrs. L. McNeil delighted with two piano solos, and Mrs. M. Croft with two piano accordian solos. Mrs. Ruth Cowan moved the vote of thanks.

It was decided to dispense with the annual shamrock tea owing to renovation in the church. Members voted unanimously to have the thankoffering at April meeting. Mrs. Amos reported 11 pairs of knitted boottees had been distributed to new babies of the congregation. Mrs. M. Watson reported as sewing convener.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Mary Boyd. Lunch was served by Mrs. Grace Dyer and her assistants.

1850-1948 Styles In Review Tuesday

A review of fashions leading to the "new look" will be featured Tuesday evening, March 16, following the '38 Club bridge in the YWCA. Dresses that were the height of fashion in 1850, 1900, 1910, 1927, 1939 and 1945 will bring pictures in the family album to life. Their wearers will be Misses Geraldine Dunford, Norma Wakelin, Elaine Patton, Phyllis Turkington, Flora Metcalfe, Maxine Elliott, Madelyn McWilliams, Hazel Mutton, Ada Jane Edwards, Kay Hales, Elaine Adler.

Contract will be complete when 1948 styles in busines, dress-up and sportswear is displayed by Mrs. Charlie Clarke, Mrs. Dave Wilson, Mrs. W. Jopling, Mrs. S. K. McQuarrie and Miss Shirley Florence.

Mrs. S. Cann of the '38 Club is convener of the fashion show, and commentators will be Miss Maralin Munro and Miss Lena Dewart. Pianists will be Mrs. R. Pearson and Mrs. R. Hawkey.

The evening will open with card games of all kinds in the Green Room. A few tickets are still available at the YWCA

Auxiliary Plans Bingo and Banquet

Mrs. G. Cooke, Hamilton St., was hostess for the annual meeting of St. George's Cubs and Scouts Auxiliary Wednesday. Mrs. J. Douglas, president, was in the chair. Report for the past year was read by Mrs. R. Waldie, secretary. Annual report of the treasurer was given by Mrs. G. Cooke. The election of officers resulted in re-election of the executive members.

Members discussed buying material for the Scout scarves. Arrangements were made for a Father and Son Banquet in the church basement Tuesday, April 20. The auxiliary is raffling a pair of blankets to raise Cub funds and the draw will be held May 12. It was decided to have a bingo on March 31 at the home of Mrs. A. Godfrey, Albertus St. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. Douglas on April 14.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. J. Smith.

NORTH MONAGHAN SCHOOL

On Monday night, at the North Monaghan Grove School, the Knights of Columbus minstrel show, sponsored by the Home and School Association, was presented under direction of Mr. Peter Moore. Eddie Murphy was interlocutor and Robert Johnson pianist. Members of the cast were served lunch after the performance by Mrs. W. W. Sheppard, social convener and members of the association.

Tuesday was father's night for North Monaghan Grove Home and School Association. Mrs. J. Coit, president was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Eric McKinstry, corresponding secretary, read two letters from Holland acknowledging parcels sent during November. Mrs. S. Whitfield, program convener, announced that the next council meeting will be held in the public library March 16 at 7:30 when Mrs. H. Johnson of the Institute of Child Study in Toronto will speak.

Mrs. Coit announced that Mrs. E. Druery and Mrs. W. W. Sheppard would be delegates to the Home and School conference in Toronto, March 30 and 31.

Mr. L. H. Bird, principal, was chairman for the program. Pupils from the senior room presented a short skit entitled "The Second Monthly Meeting of North Monaghan's Gentleman's Aid Society." It was a humorous parody on a home and school executive meeting portrayed by Lola Mae Lavoie, Douglas Linsey, Bob Davies, Glenn Hamilton, James Hargreaves, Orville Clark and Garvin White.

Mr. Morley Powell presented colored slides which he had taken of scenes around Buckhorn and Peterborough. Also beautiful garden, wild flowers and wild animal life pictures. Mrs. S. Whitfield moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Powell.

Mrs. W. W. Sheppard, social convener and her committee served lunch.

Labor Group Urges Prices Be Cut Down

OTTAWA, March 12.—(CP).—The Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor today urged reduction of prices to end-of-the-war levels and appointment of a Royal Commission to study price boosts.

The Confederation said in a mensorandum presented to the Cabinet that the Parliamentary Prices committee "cannot give satisfactory results unless measures are taken to put a check on rising prices, but also to unduly-increased prices.'

Price recommendations:

1. Prices of basic necessities should be reduced to end-of-the-war levels, the Prices Board to grant "justified" increases.

2. Royal Commission study of boosts" since the end of the war in manufacturing industry and in retail and wholesale stores."

3. A permanent "arbitration tribunal," with labor presentation. No price boost, 'as long as demand shall exceed supply," could become effective before submission of reasons to this body.

4. An "equity tribunal" to study rent cases, with power to grant adjustments.

The Confederation, which clams to represent 75,000 workers, suggested an "accurate cost-of-living index" based on a "typical family budget of five persons." This would eliminate workers' doubts about minimum salary needs and cost-of-living flunctuations.

The memorandum reiterated CCL opposition to Communism. It approved the aim of a private bill by Wilfrid Lacroix (L-Quebec-Montmorency) which would outlaw the Communist party, the Labor-Progressive party and any organization advocating overthrow of the government.

Demand Dropping For United States Supplies

By The Canadian Press

Close on the recent world-wide grain surveys that showed excellent prospects for bumper crops, comes a survey of industrial recovery in those same countries which, since the end of the last war, have been almost entirely dependent on United States supplies.

Production figures for those European countries hardest hit by the war show that during the last half of 1946 Germany averaged about 34 per cent of the 1938 production. France in the last quarter of 1946 and in January, 1947, was about 90 per cent of the 1938 rate. In Belgium, production was about equalled while in Poland it was about 105 per cent of the 1937 rate. Production figures from Britain, which gets most of her grain from Canada, also indicate an increase over pre-war levels.

In none of these countries is the current production levels much below 90 per cent of pre-war, and a continued extension in the rate of increase is anticipated.

The grain prospects survey admittedly exerted a downward pressure on commodity prices in the United States since the world-wide demand for western hemisphere grains is bound to diminish with increasing supplies elsewhere. From the industrial survey in Europe it would appear that North American industry, in its turn, must face a diminishing demand for its products.

Spotlight Reveals Role of Canada In a Major United Nations Council

By WALTER O'HEARN

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—As the Economic and Social Council is striving earnestly to wind up its sixth session, the spotlight has shifted for a moment to this organ of the United Nations which for the past five weeks has operated in shadow.

ECOSOC, as it is called, has been acclaimed as the most useful of all UN organs and Canada has been praised as one of ECOSOC's most useful members. Yet the shadow during the past session has been very real and obscuring. It has been caused by the fierce light which beat upon other sessions in other chambers.

What chance for public attention have debates about the Economic reconstruction of the world when the Security Council or the Little Assembly are bellowing or brooding over Indonesia, Pakistan, Palestine, or Korea? Who will stop to watch a building being erected when there is a big fire in the next street?

Part of the trouble in calling attention to any facet of ECOSOC's work is the difficulty of telling in clear, easily grasped phrases precisely what it is and does. Even delegates to the Council encounter that difficulty when they try to tell the uninitiated about their work.

Broadly speaking, ECOSOC is the council devoted to long-range planning, to agreements rather than disputes, to economic surveys and formulas, to fostering social and cultural programs and to preventive action against infringements of civil liberty.

A Clearing House

It also functions as the UN's clearing house for almost all the "specialized agencies" such as UNESCO, ICAO, the ILO and the Food and Agricultural Organization. It is the parent authority for the Commission on Human Rights and its derivative body, the subcommission on Freedom of the Press; for the commission on the status of women; for the economic commissions for Europe and the Far East and for those other commissions which may be set up. It maintains a special liaison with "non governmental organization" and those on its "A" list such as the World Federation of Trade Unions may apply to insert items on ECOSOC's agenda and take part in the debates on these items.

Naturally an organ of such scope has a heavy agenda for its twice-yearly meetings. There were 45 items on the agenda for the session just concluding.

To the discussion of many of these the Canadians brought well-disposed minds and an attitude of common sense. They were determined to clear away as much of the undergrowth as possible from the Council's proceedings—and in this atmosphere it grows with almost tropical swiftness.

For example, Canada is still sincerely devoted to the idea of world wide recovery of trade and opposed to mere regional commissions. To the economic commissions for Europe and Asia one has now been added for Latin America and a study is being made of a commission for the Near East. To the Canadian mind these commissions tend to promote section thinking and help to obscure the over-all picture. In a domestic way Canada has had bitter experience of the effects of sectionalism. Our delegates abstained from voting for or against these new commissions, but before they came to a vote, the Canadian disapproval had been made perfectly clear.

Canada's Aim

For all this dislike of extra commissions and committees, Canada did argue for one more working body. This would be a group to study the voluminous reports of the organizations noted above and to co-ordinate and condense. This would save the Council time and it might save the affiliated organizations an enormous amount of duplication. (An ad hoc committee has been set up to study this problem.)

On the purely economic side, Canada made a rather notable contribution. Last year at the instance of Australia and Poland, the UN secretariat began a world economic survey. By the time the returns were in this had expanded to a five volume report, at once unwieldy, impressive, readable but overpowering.

On the strength of this survey, Poland with other nations crowding her for first honors, introduced a resolution in ECOSOC. (The Poles contend among other things that capital is best invested in Poland for quick results, and their resolution was a clearly implied criticism of the Marshall Plan.) Canada cut in, not quarrelling with the Polish resolution as such, but pointing out that the survey was a job done by the secretariat; that it was just out; that member governments had not had adequate time to study it; that to derive a lot of resolutions from it now would turn the Economic and Social Council into shambles. The Poles surprised everybody by withdrawing their resolution and agreeing with the Canadian position.

On a far different issue—one of principle—Canada found herself in the company of Slav bloc states, but perhaps for a different reason. This was the so-called "Yugoslav Gold Case." The Slav nations protested to ECOSOC about the action of the United States in holding back $47,000,000 of Yugoslav gold. The Americans admitted holding the gold but protested that their nation had unsettled claims against Marshal Tito's government.

A Current Issue

Now the question that came up was not the right or wrong of the gold case, but the Economic and Social Council's competence to issue a recommendation in this matter. Last year in a similar case about Danubian river barges, the Council recommended a Danubian conference on the question. The conference did not come off, but for those who in the Anglo-Saxon way as the slow piling up of precedent as a respectable way to build law, there was at least a hint in ECOSOC's previous action. For those with the Latin view of law as a clearly defined code to be applied to particular cases there was no clue.

The Council appointed a committee to examine its own competence on the matter. Now Canada in that committee would have been satisfied with a flat resolution that the Yugoslav gold case was beyond the competence of the Council. But a French amendment to a U.S. resolution would have it that the Council can make no recommendation to individual members, but only to the UN as a whole.

To the Canadians, who would have been willing to leave the Council's powers flexible and undefined, this amendment had a bad smell. For example, Mexico has a poppy crop which in its size and luxuriance has alarmed world narcotics authorities. Under the new interpretation of the Charter, the Council would have to scold all 57 member nations, including Iceland, for their extravagance in growing poppies. In the committee eight of the seventeen delegates abstained. Britain, France, the United States, Australia and Brazil voted for the crippling amendment. Canada voted against, along with the USSR., Byelorussia and Poland.

But when the matter came before the full Council, Canada found herself in a larger company, as some of the abstainers had got the point.

Nine nations voted with Canada yesterday not to limit the Council's powers, although all but the three Slav states joined in voting down the 'Yugoslav Gold Case'.

Warning Sounded

The five weeks of ECOSOC have had their opera bouffe moments. The French made a furious, eloquent and successful attempt to admit tiny Monaco to UNESCO on the strength of that principality's contributions to "culture." Canada did not offer serious objection but warned about the dangerous precedent of admitting "diminutive states" to international bodies.

There was a smaller to-do about moving the council's next (June) session to Geneva, with impassioned oratory from those European and Latin delegates who wanted to go to Geneva and milder objections from those persons who considered such a move to be nonsense. The Canadians made it pretty clear that they thought the trek to Europe was nonsense too, but as they might be suspected of considering their own convenience they would hold off. They did and the Europeans won by several lengths.

RAISE MONEY FOR FUND—Students of Shelburne High School raised $233.10 in 10 days for the Canadian Appeal for Children by doing odd jobs, such as baby-sitting. Their contributions averaged more than $2 apiece. This group of baby-sitters are, back row, from left: Sylvia Smith, Kathleen Fewster, Muriel Wake. BC Gas Increased

VICTORIA, March 12 (CP). — Premier Johnson yesterday announced the retail price of gasoline will rise by 2 cents a gallon throughout British Columbia at midnight last night. The Premier's announcement is expected to end the current shortage of gasoline, caused by oil companies curbing imports of refined gasoline because they claimed they could not realize an adequate profit.

Can't Interfere

OTTAWA, March 12 —(CP)— Trade Minister Howe reiterated in the Commons yesterday that the government has no authority to interfere with the distribution or the prices of fuel oil for household heating.

PLANE RUSSIAN-MARKED —James C. McGovern (above), of Elizabeth, N.J., co-pilot of a Japanese transport plane, reported that P-30 fighter planes fired on his plane during a flight between Mukden and Tsingtao. He reported that the fighters carried Russian markings but believed that they did not attempt to hit the transport.

Tummon Charges Subterfuge In Marketing Hogs

TORONTO, March 12 — (CP). — Secretary W. E. Tummon of the Ontario Hog Producers Association charged yesterday at the Association's annual meeting that many truckers are taking hogs to market "by subterfuge". He said that under present regulations a farmer may truck his own hogs to market but the producer's agent may not do so unless he has a public commercial licence passed by the Ontario Municipal Board.

"The result is that many truckers are getting hogs to market by subterfuge. They have to say they own the hogs."

Licensed truckers were restricted to certain districts and in many cases delivered livestock to one particular point.

"For example, if I want to ship hogs to Peterborough, the licenses trucker can't take them there because his shipping point is designated as Toronto. I live near Belleville and if I want to market hogs in Kitchener or some place else, I should be able to do that."

"We're in this fight to win," Mr. Tummon said. "We're going to get our livestock to market without subterfuge and no board should be allowed to stand in our way."

Adopt 19 Resolutions

Not bashful in offering suggestions to both federal and provincial governments, the Ontario Hog Producers adopted 19 resolutions, and in them were 17 points for the guidance of the nation's lawmakers.

Former MPP for Victoria North, William Newman of Lorneville held to the edge of his seat for the majority of them. But there was another one which caused him to inquire: "Aren't we going a little beyond our reach?"

This resolution called for a "complete study of the possibilities of having the marketing scheme extended to include control of retail pork prices."

President Charles W. McInnis of Iroquois: "Yes, I agree with the resolution, but I wonder how we're going to do it. The idea is to prevent large retail concerns from buying up large quantities of supplies and starting price wars."

It carried as one delegate declared: "There's a control on the retail price of milk, remember."

On three occasions Mr. Newman, now 75, told the producers: "We're making good money out of hogs."

In the most spirited discussion of the day, V. S. Milburn, secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, charged the Ontario Municipal Board "with taking unto itself dictatorial powers."

Fears Monopoly

Mr. Milburn said: "The licensing system is setting up a monopoly and creating markets wherever the municipal board desires. The milk producers have a comparable problem. When we appear before the board we are treated as prisoners at the bar, answering to lawyers and other people. We need a demonstration to see if the producers are going to submit to that type of treatment.

"There is no political issue. Some cabinet ministers have received the same treatment as us. This is real regimentation."

Mr. Newman: "Do they know that the trucking fees have increased from 80 cents to $1 a hog? I don't know who gave them that authority. When you go to the board you'll find the railway lawyers and the truckers' lawyers working in one another's favor. It's a big combine. Maybe it's a good thing. A trucker has to invest $4,000 to do a job well. If some jerk on the other side can get four or five farmers to back his applicancation that will destroy the other man's route. That's why we have the board."

The covering resolution "demanded" that the producers have the rights of free competition in marketing without restriction in the matter of transportaion and asked that licenses be issued on the recommendation of the marketing board with "proper truck equipment as the qualification."

Ask Conciliation

Remembering their plight which followed the packinghouse workers' strike last fall, the association demanded a law which will require employers and employees to settle their disputes by conciliation or arbitration without closing the plants. If there should be a walk-out, "proper government authorities" should make the plants available for processing.

McInnis and Alva Rintoul, Carleton Place, were re-elected president and vice-president, respectively, with the following executive, who constitute the hog marketing board, representing seven zones: George Pollock, Berwick; W. E. Tummon, Foxboro; Charles Newton, Barrie; Wilfred Bishop, Norwick; Norman McLeod, Galt; George Johnson, Owen Sound, and Clayton Frey, Sarnia.

Plante Ousting Causes Battle

MONTREAL, March 12.—(CP). —Religious and civic leaders were taking sides today over the suspension of Assistant Director of Police Pacifique Plante—greatest vice-buster Montreal has ever known—as a wide-open showdown between "Pax" and Director Albert Langlois loomed:

Langlois suspended Plante and his chief henchman, Lieutenant Armand Courval, yesterday for "insubordination and refusal to obey an order" when called to take part in the departmental trial of three morality squad officers accused of immorality.

While the city executive committee was known to stand behind Director Langlois on the grounds that the suspension was purely a departmental matter of discipline, friends and supporters of Plante claimed that it was an attempt to force the 'crusader" to resign.

City Council Leader Pierre Desmarias, the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trade and the president of the Federation of the Sacred Heart Leagues, a Roman Catholic action movement, issued statements last night alleging that Plante's suspension was an indirect result of his successful campaign to clean up the metropolis.

City hall observers said today that there was a strong possibility that Plante's suspension might end within a day or two and that this was the only way that a show-down could be averted.

Have Steel Problem

OTTAWA, March 12 (CP). — Whether the urgent needs of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission for steel to complete power projects can be met will not be known for another week, a Reconstruction Department official said yesterday. The amount of steel involved was not disclosed.

Can Pool Grants

Labor Congress Won't Aid Reds

OTTAWA, March 12 — (CP) — Targets of the government's drive against the entry of alien Communists—suspect United States labor organizers operating in the northern Ontario gold-mining field—have been thrown overboard by the Canadian Congress of Labor.

The CCL has rejected a request from one of its affiliates, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, that it take steps to halt the ejection of five Smelter Union organizers from the U.S.—regarded as fellow-travellers.

In disclosing this action yesterday, the Congress administered a stern boot to the hopes of any Communist suspects seeking help against the government ban on non-Canadian Communists entering the country.

The Congress—in a joint statement by President A. R. Mosher and Secretary-treasurer Pat Conroy—declared it had turned down a Smelters Union request for help on behalf of five men "alleged to be members of, or closely affiliated with, the Communist party of the United States."

SCHOOL FOR DEAF—Her Excellency the Viscountess Alexander shows interest in the work of a pupil at the Mackay Institute for the Deaf in Montreal, which she visited recently. Miss Winnifred Cory, a teacher, is at extreme left, while Mrs. Robert Loring, president of the Institute, and M. S. Blanchard, principal of the school, are at right.

U.S. Sponsor Curb On Veto

LAKE SUCCESS, March 12—(CP)— The United States today proposed drastic restictions on on the big power veto in the United Nations.

The proposal would exclude all the issues on which Russia used the veto 22 times in the last two years.

It was laid before the little assembly as the first move toward carrying out a declaration made by state secretary Marshall before the U.N. assembly last September.

Marshall said at the time the United States was willing to limit the veto to quesion of prime importance if the other big powers would agree. The assembly referred the entire veto question to the little assembly.

In advancing its specific proposals today, the U.S. delegation conceded through a spokesman that there still was no evidence that Russia would agree to any modification of the security council voting procedure.

The United States spokesman said, however, the issue was so important it was worth trying even though there was no definite indication Russia would agree.

Havelock District Reps Told Advantages Of High School Area

HAVELOCK, March 12 (ENS) —G. L. Duffin, executive assistant of the Secondary School Branch, Department of Education, Toronto, spoke on larger High School areas.

He discussed the way the proposed area would affect the community at a public meeting Tuesday before representations from Havelock, Norwood and surrounding district.

F. L. McKenzie, chairman of the Havelock Board of Education, was chairman. The speaker was introduced by Inspector K. O. Birkin, Peterborough.

Mr. Duffin traced the trend in educational methods in Ontario.

Secondary education cannot be improved, he said, as long as small communities are expected to build schools and depend on outside pupils to aid in the matter of finance. Each school should have an academic program to Grade 13, an effective department of agriculture, home economics, general workshop and commercial course. He outlined the procedure for obtaining a school area for this district.

County council must find out how many of these schools could operate successfully in their district. In this case one area school could serve Norwood, Havelock, Belmont, Asphodel, Otonabee and part of Dummer.

The next step is to hold meetings to give details to the ratepayers. A request might be filed to county council who will form a board, comprising one person from each municipality concerned, one from the largest public school board, one from separate school board and one member of the county council.

The government grants, he said, would cover 75 per cent of the cost of maintenance, debenture payment and transportation not exceeding $200 per pupil.

Mr. Duffin spoke on the educational system in Russia, where every child is given free tuition from the kindergarten to university, if they pass the examinations. He also drew attention to England's new educational bill passed in 1944.

Other countries are doing this and Ontario must keep in step.

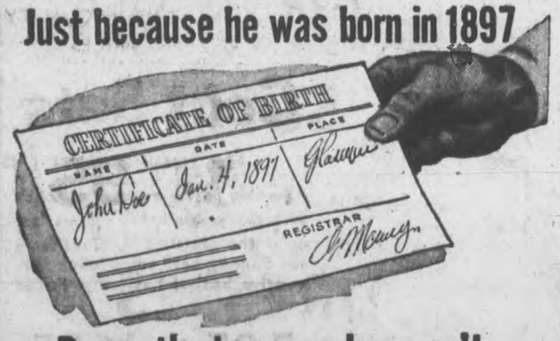
Four McGill Men To Attend Conference

MONTREAL, March 12—(CP) —Prncipal Cyril F. James yesterday released the names of the four representatives from the University to the first post-war conference of the universities of the British Empire to be held at Oxford, England, next July.

They will be the chancellor, Chief Justice O. S. Tyndale, Dean D. L. Thomson of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research, Dr. H. N. Fieldhouse, of the Department of Chemistry and Principal James.

UAW At Ford Plant Ask Strike Authority

DETROIT, March 12—(AP)— The United Auto Workers (CIO), at the Ford Motor Company sought strike authority yesterday in a dispute over paid lunch periods for 60,000 workers.



President Thomas Thompson of Ford Local 600 said the UAW international's approval of "direct action" was being asked by the local's executive board.

"Direct action," in union parlance, is generally meant a strike.

Dr. Harry Shulman, the Ford-UAW impartial arbiter, ruled Monday that the company was not legally obligated under its contract to provide paid lunch periods.

Cost of the paid lunch period formerly in effect at Ford plants has been estimated at $8,000,000 annually.

Just because he was born in 1897

Does that mean he can't apply for a job with you?

His birth certificate is dated 1897—he's 50—does that mean, Mr. Employer, that he's "too old for the job"? Many employers do tend to reject men over 45 years old, and women over 35!

Consider carefully when you have a vacancy whether it could not be filled as capably by an older man or woman—due to the experience and stability they bring with them.

SPANS THE WORLD

Men Without Ambition Stay Just as Spineless When Wed

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am engaged to a man who has everything to recommend him as good husband material except ambition and the knack of bringing home bacon to feed a family. I love him, but I am terrified when I think of attempting to rear a family on his meager earnings. My fiance is good, sweet and kind, but I have never been able to infuse into him any of my ambition and hope for the future. He seems to be content to go through life with a song in his heart and no money in his pocket.

Dorothy Dix

He has an inadequate education and his family are all shiftless. What do you think of the situation?

WORRIED.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think the situation is desperate so far as you are concerned, and that you will be bringing certain misery down on your head if you marry this lad and let him drag you down into poverty and want. That your good, kind, ambitionless fiance's fault is one that leans to virtue's side makes it all the more difficult for you to cope with, for it is so easy to love that sort of a man and so hard to hurt him, and you are so apt to befool yourself into thinking that you can change him after you marry him into a go-getter.

Futile Effort

It simply can't be done. You can't put a backbone into a spineless man. You can't put pep into a man who has none. You can't infuse vigor into the lackadaisical because you are not God and you can't make a man over. You've got to take him as he is. So in kindness to him, as well as justice to yourself, you should break off this marriage because you will never be happy about it. You will always be beating yourself up against a feather-bed that will go soft again the next minute.

You will lose all respect for your husband because he can't make good. And he will lose his affection for you because you badger him and ask the impossible of him. There is no changing people from what they are into what they should be. Give up the hopeless effort.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is encouraging me to have affairs with men as he does with unmarried girls, but I have too much self-respect to take his advice. He says this is the Modern Age. I still love him, but I am afraid our marriage is going on the rocks.

HARRASSED.

ANSWER: In urging you to throw away your self-respect and decency, your husband is evidently trying to drag you down to his own level and pin a scandal on you that will enable him to get a divorce so that he will not have to pay you any alimony. Don't let him do it.

He does not love you, or he would not so insult you, and I can't imagine how you can have anything but loathing for him. His defense that this is the Modern Age is idiotic. There has never been any Modern Age about vice. It has always been with us.

I urge you to use a little common sense in dealing with your problem, instead of weakly permitting your husband to make a catspaw of you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 87 years old and I have just found the way to handle a quarrel with my wife. She was awfully mad at me the other day and just pouring it out on me. I said: "Ada, wait a minute. Let's wait until our honeymoon is over. You know we have only been married 25 years." That made her laugh and the quarrel was over. Humor sometimes helps.

J.P.S.

ANSWER: These are words of wisdom to which I call the attention of all husbands and wives. Laugh over your spats and you will kiss and make up.

SUMMER SILK—We have no qualms about showing you a little silk frock at this time of year, since the stores report that so many women are making their summer selections from resort clothes while stocks are still good. Product of a well-known designer is this pretty two-piecer of cocoa brown silk shantung. The jacket top laces through small gold eyelets from an interesting neckline, and is rounded at the hipline for the small waist look. In contrast, the skirt is swirling and gracefully full.

SHIRTWAIST MANNER—This handsome costume for a trig daytime appearance at the multiple sunny occasions of a warmer season, is made in the shirtmaker's tradition... but it's a one-piece job, with no opportunity to slip and twist, gap apart, and in general look too casual to be comely at all. The chalk white crepe waist is buttoned to one side in a new line, and it has good shoulders which merely help out natural squareness. The shirt, white with a multi-color ribbon swirl print, is a swirl itself, attached to the waist, and belted with a sash tie of its own fabric. No hat at all, or a floppy big black sun skimmer is the indicated accessory.

Salad Dish Welcome For Lunch

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, March 12 (CP). — A crisp, bright salad for lunch is just about as welcome as a bouquet of spring flowers these drab off-season days.

Just as the time has come to begin casting off winter clothing, it's also the season for turning to lighter foods — and the housewife will find that most members of the family welcome a fruit or vegetable salad.

Moulded Vegetable Salad. — Two tablespoons gelatine; one-half cup cold water; one-half cup vinegar; juice one lemon; two cups boiling water; one-half cup sugar; one-half cup shredded cabbage; one-half cup chopped celery; one-half cup chopped green pepper; salt.

Soak gelatine in cold water and then add boiling water and let stand until gelatine has dissolved. Remove and add vinegar, lemon juice, sugar and salt. Cool, and when it begins to jell add the chopped vegetables. Pour into molds, chill, and serve on lettuce leaves with salad dressing.

Rice and Salmon Salad.—Ingredients.—1½ cups cooked rice; 1½ cups cooked salmon; one-half teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon paprika.

Drop rice into rapidly boiling water and boil until tender. Wash in cold water and drain well. When cool, mix with cold flaked salmon, salt and paprika. Mix with French dressing and chill thoroughly. Mix with chopped celery and serve on lettuce leaves.

✧ ✧ ✧

Plain Fruit Salad.—Ingredients: One grapefruit; one orange; one cup diced pinapple; one apple, peeled; one banana; one-half cup chopped celery.

Remove membrance from the fruit pulp, add the celery, arrange on crisp lettuce, and cover with mayonnaise.

✧ ✧ ✧

Hints for Salads.—When the salad is served as a separate course, crackers, sandwiches often accompany it. Olives, radishes and celery also may be served. Crackers, if used, should be spread with butter or cheese and crisped in the oven.

✧ ✧ ✧

Steamed Apple Pudding.—Ingredients: Six apples; one-third cup sugar; one cup all-purpose flour; two teaspoons baking powder; one-half teaspoon salt; one-half cup milk; two tablespoon shortening.

Pare, core and slice apples into a buttered double boiler. Add sugar. Mix and sift dry ingredients, cut in shortening and add the milk. Spread the dough over apples and steam 35 minutes. Turn out to serve — six servings.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, March 13

A dramatic about-face from recent disruptive and unique situations, is likely to descend with quite as drastic and unreasonable force, in which the energies, forces, plans and programs make an abrupt dash forth in the definitely opposite direction of accomplishment, gain and thrilling gratification. Concentrated effort, the concrete assembling of all forces, faculties and initiative, rush onward in one swoop of strenuous and spectacular enterprise, to rush with whirlwind and breathtaking crisis into fields of incalculable heights. These effect all connections, commitments and objectives, probably spell conspicuous success and productiveness.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a period in which a complete reversal of recent conditions, blocks and obstructions are due to "make things hum." Much achievement in unusual lines, where energy, shrewd and deep thinking, are sustained by diligence and earnest effort focus with sagacity and executive ability on the goals in sight. Promotion, enhanced credit and personal gratification should materialize in all desires and relationships. Work to this end.

A child born on this day has many sorts of talents, skill, good sense and acumen for attaining rich goals in life, with distinction and personal happiness included.

Fabulous Gem Gift To Princess

LONDON, March 12.—(CP).—Princess Elizabeth examined a rare 54-carat pink diamond given her as a wedding gift and was so impressed that she remarked: "It's so lovely it seems almost a pity to cut it."

A bespectacled Belgian craftsman looked up shyly from his diamond cutting bench and replied: "But it will be a beautiful stone when it is finished, Your Highness."

The scene took place in the diamond cutting factory of Briefel and Lemer where work on the stone is about one-third completed and will be finished in mid-April.

Princess Elizabeth, accompanied by Queen Mother Mary, spent nearly an hour touring the high-windowed workrooms of the factory.

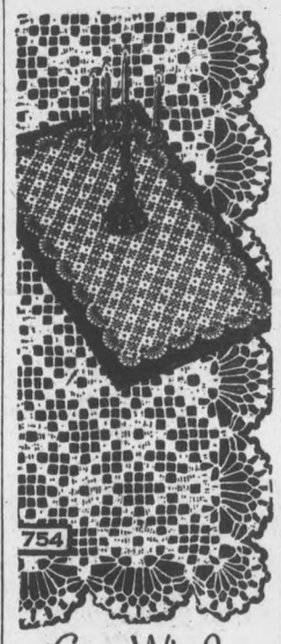
The Princess smiled delightedly when she saw the diamond, a gift from Dr. H. T. Williamson, formerly of Montreal, who owns rich diamond mines in Tanganyika.

True to form, the Queen Mother asked numerous questions of a technical nature. Wearing her traditional toque and light blue coat, she was given an extra cheer by factory girls who gathered at the building entrance to welcome the Royal party.

Fingering his tie nervously, S. Briefel, a partner in the firm, led the party through the workrooms.

He told the Princess that when the diamond is finished it would be "one of the world's most famous stones."

"It certainly is a wonderful gift," answered the Princess, who wore a brown flowered hat and a plain green coat.



Yesterday a factory official said that expert diamond merchants had been unable to assess the value of the stone, but he was sure "it would run into five figures."

MR. AND MRS. WILBERT HOWSON are seen cutting the cake at the reception in Mark Street United Church hall Saturday following their marriage, performed by Rev. A. M. Partridge. ReservationSchool Question Studied

ROSENEATH, March 12. — (ENS).—"Should the Indian residential school (Anglican) be brought to the Indian reserves, that parents might watch the gradual educational and cultural development of their children, rather than the child's absence for a number of years, necessitating adjustment for both parents and children upon their return to the reserve?"

This was the question discovered in the study chapter, "Among Our Indians," presented by Mrs. Ray McCracken and Mrs. Earl Braithwaite at the WA meeting of St. James' Anglican Church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Edgar Braithwaite was hostess. Mrs. C. R. Spencer presided and Canon Spencer conducted devotions.

Mrs. Spencer spoke on present world conditions, and urged all to pray for conversion of the Russians.

Mrs. J. S. Brown, treasurer, reported receipt of $3 for custom quilting, and a bank balance of $198. Mrs. W. Robbins reported $3.55 in the ECD treasury.

A quilt was put in the frames and completed during the business and study period. Many completed articles of sewing were brought in for the August bazaar.

LIPSTICK that does NOT COME OFF

The latest beauty news from London and Paris has caused something of a furore in cosmetic circles. After years of striving, in experiment and research—GUITARE, an entirely indelible lipstick, has been produced. This new and exciting lipstick leaves no disastrous traces on cups, cigarettes or handkerchiefs. Super-Indelible GUITARE stays on for at least 8 hours, you can even go for a swim and still not have to touch up your lips. A new colour base—"KISSFIX"—in the form of a soothing beauty cream has been incorporated by a special process to guard against dryness. This new ingredient makes hard, cracked lips, soft and supple the instant GUITARE is applied. Eight heavenly translucent shades from which to choose—each one specially designed to harmonise with the different colourings of hair and skin. It's a godsend and it's a "must" to the busy and the fastidious.

2—Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Quinn of Codrington, wish to announce the engagement of their second daughter, Mary Frances, to John Gregory, son of Frank and the late Mrs. Scollard of Peterborough. Wedding to take place in St. Alphonsus Church, Weller, at 9.30 a.m. April 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gouldburn of Whitby, Ontario, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Nora Margaret, to Mr. James M. Scollard of Ottawa, eldest son of Mrs. Scollard and the late Mr. Wm. Y. Scollard of Peterborough. The marriage to take place in Whitby, on April 10, 1948.

6—In Memoriam

BUCHANAN—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Robt. C. Buchanan, who passed away March 12, 1937.
There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance last forever.
—Ever remembered by her husband and daughters.

HENSHALL—In loving memory of our darling son age 3 years, who passed away 1 years ago today March 12, 1947.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach
Sweet to remember him who once was here
And who though absent is just as dear
—Sadly missed by mother and dad.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mr. Raymond King and Family thank all kind friends and neighbors, the Rev. E. C. Moore, and Rev. T. S. Gault, doctors, nurses, all church organizations of St. George's Church, and Ladies' Legion Auxiliary for flowers and kindness shown to them in their recent bereavement.

Mrs. Gilbert McIlmoyl and family, wish to thank those who sent the many beautiful floral tributes and especially the friends and neighbours for their numerous acts of kindness during their recent sad bereavement in the loss of a loving husband and father.

The New "SOFT FLOW"
Water Softener
Banish your hard water problems. Luxurious baths, sudsy shampoos, whisker wilting shaving lathers, dish water kind to your hands, better tasting foods are yours with soft-as-rain water when you use a "SOFT FLOW" Water Softener. Simply slip over your tap. Nothing is added to the water. Water hardening minerals are extracted. "SOFT FLOW" lasts indefinite. Softening action renewed by simply flushing with common table salt.

indignant that skating was discontinued while cold weather remained, it was pointed out that cost to the taxpayer is approximately $1,000 a week and experience has shown that weather in March is too unreliable to justify such an outlay. Last year rinks were open for two weeks at the beginning of March, but only three days were suitable for skating.

Seventeen injuries were reported, mainly cuts, bruises and the odd broken tooth. And these were generally suffered during hockey matches. One elderly lady reported a broken wrist, however.

One youth injured his companion in a hockey game and gave the Recreation Director quite a turn when he read the solemn report of the incident. It said: "I was skating fast toward the goal and rifled the puck which struck the deceased on top of the head stunning him . . ."

The director's heart began to beat again when he read further and found that the injury required the presence of a doctor not an undertaker.

MARGARET B. HALL, Municipal Clerk.

Insurance Boosted

As a result of a recent court action in which a plaintiff was awarded $11,800 against the Board of Education, the liability insurance coverage of the schools was increased Thursday night by the Board. The increase will cover any person to $50,000 and any one accident to $100,000. Previous coverage had been $10,000 and $50,000.

The Board also voted in favor of advertising the procedure to be followed in rentals of the Collegiate auditorium. All applications must be made to the secretary-treasurer at least three days before the performance and a contract signed within a week of the application, and before the date of rental.

for several owners without any notification of the changes reaching the police. The new amendments call for the reporting of any changes of drivers or cars within 48 hours.

The pictures are to be taken by the official police photographer and paid for by the drivers.

The Chief also suggested that any licence granted to a driver shall entitle him to operate any taxi cab licensed for hire in the city and immediate vicinity.

Promote Four Officers

Promotions of four police officers to the next highest class were approved by the Police Commission Thursday.

PC William Aggas is promoted from second to first class constable.

PC Victor McConnel is promoted from third to second class.

PC's Vernon O'Donahue and George Shaw, who have completed the six months probationary period, have been designated fourth class constable.

Salary increase for the higher ranks were also approved.

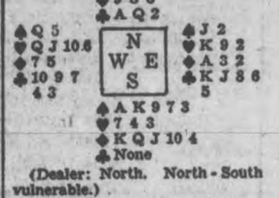
POSITION IS EVERYTHING

WHETHER a particular card is a trick-taker or not can depend on a whole set of influences. Sometimes its location is everything, not only in relation to other cards held by your opponents but in relation to the cards in the rest of your own hand. Such plays as squeezes, throw-ins and coups of various kinds hinge almost entirely on the relative position of several different cards.

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	4 NT
Pass	5 ♥	Pass	5 NT
Pass	6 ♣	Pass	6 NT



It looked pretty gloomy to South after West led his club 8. Possible losers were in sight practically everywhere he looked, but the lead furnished one ray of light when the club J became a sure trick-taker as the A felled the Q, and the next play, a sort of safety play, worked when the spade 3 was led to the K.

West's return of the spade 9 gave South a clue, that possession of the diamond K might be the reason West twice refused to lead that suit. In that event, if West with two kings had not doubled, East probably held the heart Q. So South scored the spade Q and J, then finessed the heart J successfully. When the heart K killed the Q, a squeeze against West in the red suits hove into sight. Trying this, South scored the spade A and 7, then the club K and J.

As the last club was led, South also held the diamond Q-4-3 and dummy the heart A-8 and diamond A-9. Sure enough, West was squeezed. He had kept the heart 9-7 and diamond K-10. If he tossed a heart, the diamond 9 would have been shed from dummy and the diamond A, heart A and 8 would have ended the hand. Instead he tossed the diamond 10, whereupon the heart 8 was discarded from dummy. The diamond A, heart A and diamond Q then got the final three tricks.

NEIGHBORS HELPED—Some of the furniture saved from the $10,000 fire at Young's Point Friday afternoon which levelled the 15-room Carlton Hotel is shown (Upper Left) piled along the street in front of the blazing building. Upper Right is the front of the building during the blaze, which spread rapidly from a short-circuited car in a rear shed. Young's Pt. Inn Destroyed By $10,000 Fire

YOUNG'S POINT, March 13.—(Staff).—Fire on Friday afternoon completely destroyed the Carlton Hotel of this village, a landmark for more than half a century. The two-storey brick building, better known as McFarland's Hotel, was swept by flames for an estimated loss of $10,000.

The fire department of Lakefield, five miles away, responded to the call, but was unable to halt the blaze. The firemen had difficulty keeping the flames from spreading to nearby homes and stores.

Only occupants of the hotel, which stood at the main crossroads of this hamlet, were Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, owners.

It is believed by Mr. Clark that the fire started when his car, which was in the rear shed, short-circuited. He had been out trying to start the car about a half-hour before the fire, he said.

First warning came about 3.45 p.m. when customers in the Young grocery store across the highway noticed smoke from the rear shed. They hurried over and aroused Mr. Clark, who was napping in the front room at the time.

Neighbors To Rescue

While a call was being placed with the Lakefield department, neighbors worked frantically to save some of the furniture. The flames spread swiftly through the entire structure, and soon made this work dangerous. Only a small fraction of the complete furnishings of the 15 rooms was carried outside.

Firemen were active against the blaze and its spread for more than two hours, and there were several watching for stray embers until midnight. A large crowd watched as the men fought the fire, as large sections of roof, floors and brick wall fell with loud crashes. By the time the last spark was out, only parts of the walls were left standing.

Creamery Man Hurt By Shaft

GORE'S LANDING, March 13 (ENS). — Albert Adams, First World War veteran, is in Cobourg Hospital suffering a broken shoulder and multiple cuts and bruises when he was caught up on Friday in the shaft of the creamery churn and violently whirled around. He was employed at the Harwood Creamery.

Mr. Adams' clothes caught in the shaft, causing him to be swept off his feet and whirled around five times before he was finally thrown free. His clothing was ripped off, and he was both bruised and burned.

He was taken by ambulance to Cobourg Hospital for medical treatment.

Benes Sheds Bitter Tears As Masaryk Laid To Rest

PRAGUE, March 13—(AP).—Jan Masaryk received the last rites of State today as President Eduard Benes wept at his bier. In the vaulted pantheon of the National Museum, draped in black, Communist Premier Klement Gottwald made the main funeral oration, berating the critics of Masaryk in the West and indirectly accusing them of the Minister's death.

The frail, ailing President, who helped Masaryk's father mould this republic, dried his eyes as a eulogy by another government official recalled episodes of Jan Masaryk's life.

The President stood with head bowed. He seemed to be trying to maintain his composure.

Then a children's choir sang the favorite folk song of Czechoslovakia's first President, Thomas G. Masaryk. Benes broke into tears.

It was Benes' first public appearance since the government crisis began in Czechoslovakia Feb. 21.

Dr. Benes reached the pantheon of the National Museum at 2 p.m. and a few seconds later the funeral began. From early morning thousands of persons had gathered around the National Museum and parliament, and had crowded the side streets of Prague's central square. Yesterday more than 250,000 persons had filed past Masaryk's bier.

Speed Delivery Of Greek Guns

ATHENS, Mar. 13. (AP)—Maj.-Gen. James van Fleet, military chief of the American Mission to Aid Greece, said today AMAG is speeding up arms deliveries to the Greeks.

He announced the arrival of 35,000 latest-type British rifles supplied by the mission. He said heavy Vickers machine-guns and Bren sub-machine-guns are expected from Britain soon and delivery has been hastened on American 75-millimetre pack howitzers.

Greek forces are fighting Communist-led guerrillas in parts of the country. A press report today from Kastoria, quoting army authorities, said a point had been found in the region of Presbisko Jezero (Lake Prespa) where the guerrillas had been building an airstrip. The lake borders Greece, Albania and Yugoslavia.

Cornwall Man Burned Foot From Safety

CORNWALL, March 13. (CP)—Daniel Patrick McCourt, 66-year-old widower, was burned to death only a foot or so from safety last night as helpless neighbors outside watched his frantic efforts to reach a door.

Mrs. Arthur Clement, a neighbor, saw the small frame home flaming and with her husband and Leo Harps, another neighbor, rushed to the scene. They saw the door was bolted on the inside. They broke a window but the flames drove them back.

Mrs. Clement said they saw McCourt near the middle of the room trying to stagger towards the door. Then he disappeared in the flames.

Jewish Columns Attack Village

JERUSALEM, March 13. (AP)—Police say two columns of Jewish fighters have attacked a village in Northern Palestine, where Arab Leader Fawzi Bey Al Kaukji has proclaimed martial law.

They reported the Jewish columns, with about 100 men in each, raided the Arab village of Kafr Kanna north of Nazareth last night.

According to the police report, three Arabs were wounded. Arabs said they inflicted 25 casualties on the Jews and drove them off.

Al Kaukji, who claims a volunteer army of 15,000 men, recently established headquarters in northern Palestine. This week he declared the region under martial law.

"Red" Plot In Burma

RANGOON, March 13.—(AP)—The Burmese press reported today the uncovering of a Communist plot to assassinate Premier Thakin Nu and overthrow his government. Newspapers said the plot was disclosed in secret papers seized by police during a roundup of "Red Flag" Communist party members. A country-wide uprising was planned in the wake of the assassination, the press accounts said, with the outlawed Red Flag leader Thakin Soe returning to Rangoon to assume leadership.

Reject Aid Program Cut

Blast Taft Effort To Shave Off Million

WASHINGTON, March 13. — (AP).—The senate moved toward final action today on the European recovery program after defeating a major drive to slash its first-year funds.

By a 56-to-31 vote last night it blasted aside a determined effort led by Senator Robert Taft (Rep.-Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy committee, to shave $1,300,000,000 off the $5,300,000,000 Marshall plan figures.

Senator Tom Connaly (Dem.-Tex.), one of the program's chief sponsors, predicted its overwhelming passage by tonight. The bill is designed to speed funds to 16 western European countries to bolster them against Communism.

Elated backers said the resounding defeat suffered by Taft's fund cutting proposal insured Senate approval of the bill without major changes.

That would be a victory for Senator Arthur Vandenburg (Rep.-Mich.), chairman of Senate Foreign Relations committee and exponent of the bi-partisan foreign policy.

PlaneMissing With 30; Fear Crash

Spot Fire On Mountain As Search Begins; In Anchorage Area

SEATTLE, March 13 — (AP). — The Seattle Control Tower, checking on a North-east Airlines plane overdue at Edmonton, reported to-day it had been informed by the Gulkana Range Station a fire had been sighted on Mt. Sanford, 200 miles east of Anchorage, Alaska.

The Gulkana station, about 50 miles west of the mountain, said the plane had reported it was overhead at 11:36 p.m. PST. No further radio contact was made with the four-engined craft carrying 24 passengers and a crew of six on a charter flight from Shanghai.

The tower said the flight plan filed by the pilot called for checks at Gulkana and Northway, after leaving Anchorage. The plane was scheduled to arrive at Edmonton at 5:03 a.m. PST.

Mt. Sanford, on which the fire was sighted, is to the right of the course the plane would have normally followed.

North-west Airlines officials here said they had little information about the craft other than it had taken off from Anchorage on schedule and was more than 1½ hours overdue at the Edmonton field.

They had no crew or passenger list, but said the 24 passengers were oil company employees from Texas and California, en route to New York.

An unofficial report that the big plane had landed at Fairbanks, Alaska, was discounted by the Airlines, who said word would have been received here if it had "set down" in Alaska.

Northwest Airlines said the passengers were seamen who had taken an oil tanker from New York to Shanghai.

Wins Handicap

LINCOLN, England, March 13 —(Reuters)—Commissar, 33-to-1 outsider, today won the Lincolnshire Handicap, first major race of the flat-racing season. He won by two lengths from Clarion, public favorite at 100-to-9, with Flaxton, 100-to-7, the same distance back in third place. Fifty-eight ran.

Fire Destroys Bank

KAZABAZUA, Que., March 13—(CP).—Fire razed the one-storey branch of the Provincial Bank of Canada here early today but the flames failed to find any cash, bonds or securities. All had been taken to a larger branch at Maniwaki, Que., 45 miles north of here. It was believed a stove left burning in the bank office set fire to the wooden walls.

Lewis Threatens New Coal Strike Over Wage Pact

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) —John L. Lewis has hurled an implied threat of a soft coal strike at the government and mine owners.

The United Mine Workers chief said yesterday in a letter to the unions' 400,000 members that their employers in the last eight months "have dishonored the 1947 wage agreement and defaulted under its provisions affecting the welfare fund."

That contract, signed last July 8, pledged the miners to stay on the job as long as they are "able and willing". Lewis told a press conference that he did not know how much longer they'll be "willing."

The agreement—which runs until June 30—can be ended by either miners or operators on 30 days notice. He said the quarrel would not involve Canadian members.

The fiery mine leader did not say flatly that his miners will stop work. Instead, he asked the public to persuade the "millionaire coal operators" to break a deadlock over how the $30,000,000 welfare fund is to be used.

Money for the fund is raised by a 10-cent royalty on each ton of coal produced.

Operators say Lewis wants a $100 monthly pension for every miner over 60 who has been in the pits at least 20 years. That, they argue, would raise coal prices 40 cents a ton.

"Fantastic," snapped Lewis. The fund alone is big enough to pay for it, he said.

Never In Modern Times Has Sea Power Been At Such Low Point

Conservatives Protest Fiercely At Scrapping Of So Many Capital Ships; Admiralty Keeps Silence On Latest Moves

By RONALD MACLURKIN

LONDON, March 13—(Reuters).—Many British naval experts believe that behind the screen of recent parliamentary storms and government reticence on the apparent decline of the Royal Navy, Britain is working on a great blueprint by which she will again become mistress of the seas in the atomic age. Protests by the Opposition Conservative Party on recent decisions to scrap capital ships have been fierce. The Government has consistently refused, however, to provide figures on Britain's present naval strength and has been equally secretive about future plans.

But the Navy, magazine of the alert Navy League, self-appointed watchdog of Britain's seapower, published this estimate of present naval strength: battleships, nil; aircraft carriers, two; cruisers, 11; destroyers, four with home fleet, 24-32 in Mediterranean and Pacific; submarines, 12; sloops, four; frigates, 10.

Fairly Accurate

The estimate was thought to be fairly near the mark, although no official figures have been available since 1939 when the official "Return of The Fleet" was last published.

With the decision to scrap the battleships Nelson, Rodney, Queen Elizabeth, Valiant and the battle cruiser Renown, Britain is actually left with five battleships—Vanguard, Duke of York, King George V, Anson and Howe. But none of these is in operational service, and all are immobilized. The last two are being used as training ships.

In 1939 Britain had nine battleships, two battle cruisers, four aircraft carriers, 26 cruisers, 70 destroyers, and 39 submarines.

According to unofficial estimates, therefore, it is true to say that never before in modern times has the seagoing strength of the Royal Navy been brought so low. The Navy League goes further and declares angrily: "The British Navy today is completely powerless to maintain the national prestige, or to protect in any way the national home."

Toronto Ready To Celebrate Barbara Ann Day

TORONTO, March 13 —(CP)—Toe-to-toe curb space was at a premium this morning as mobs of Torontonians bobbed heads and bent their ears to catch the tunes of "I'm sitting on top of the world"—the signal that pert, bubbling Barbara Ann Scott was being cascaded with ticker tape as she approached City Hall.

Canada's outstanding athlete of two consecutive years and personality-plus-beauty world champion woman figure skater was scheduled to arrive from Ottawa by private plane to receive civic tribute and the Lou E. Marsh Memorial Trophy.

Barbara Ann's program was mapped as:

A welcome from Mayor E. McCallum and Charles Ring of Toronto Lions Clubs which will give the Ottawa ice star guest-of-honor-spot at a dinner tonight.

A trip by cable ferry from Toronto Island Airport to the mainland, followed by a slow ride in an open car through the heart of the city's financial district.

The ride to City Hall paced by squads of motorcycle police and led by the 48th Highlanders brass band playing—you guessed right — "I'm Sitting On Top of the World."

Greetings, again, extended at the City Hall steps by Mayor and Mrs. McCallum, and their daughter, Dorothy—and several thousand unofficial but noisy greeters.

Red Hierarchy Traced from Moscow to Canada

Leaders of Communism In Canada Headed By Buck, Murphy, Salsberg, MacLeod, Smith and Freed

(Editor's Note: Here is the fourth in a series of articles in which The Peterborough Examiner tells the amazing story of the Communists' seizure of strategic power in Canada. Don Cameron, staff reporter of the Windsor Star, spent weeks and travelled thousands of miles to find and verify the facts out of which he has constructed the complete picture of the present status of the Red conspiracy within the Dominions.)

By DON CAMERON
Windsor Star Staff Reporter.

Who are the leaders of Communism in Canada today?

Only when one attempts to answer that provocative and all-important question does he fully understand how much a masterpiece of cunning contrivance is the terrible revolutionary machine Karl Marx envisioned and strove with scant success to create a century ago. Not for 69 years was it to come into its own in an October of violence and murder, embodying improvements wrought by a motley crew of fervent idealists and power-greedy rebels, among whom the cynical, ruthless and genius-touched Vladimir Ilyich Ulyanov, since deified as the Red God Lenin, stood tallest.

It is a diabolically ingenious machine of which each separate, tiny part is a complete whole, able to function by itself. Yet so closely are the parts integrated that the entire structure — the sprawling dynamic conspiracy that covers all the world and already exercises a stern mastery over nearly one-fourth of the human race functions with the smoothness and precision of a multiple printing press.

Perfect Machine Against Mankind

It is probably as nearly perfect mechanically as any of the complicated devices man has invented to produce goods to serve the human race, with this diabolical difference: That instead of serving mankind, it produces slaves to serve a purely materialistic ideal.

It is probably as near to being soulless as anything comprised of human beings can be. In its denial of the soul — of any spiritual reality or immortality attached to the individual—it strives consistantly to become more so.

And it embodies this baffling but tested and practical paradox: That it is a machine made of slaves, disciplined, trained and obedient — and every slave is a leader!

Theoretically, at least, the Communist Party of Canada, known since it was declared illegal during the war emergency as the Labor-Progressive Party, has 250,000 member who have chained themselves to the iron wheel of the proletarian revolution—every single one of whom is a leader!

Practically, of course, that is not the case. For all the nightmare aura of invincibility with which they have surrounded themselves through their conspiratorial secrecy. Communists are human, and as such are subject to human weaknesses and errors. No one knows better than the intellectual engineers who operate the machine the extent of its lunatic fringe of fuzzy-minded idealists, dialectic fanatics, and witless hooligans who are useful only when goon tactics are in order.

Many Trained as Disciples

And yet a surprising number of the rank and file of Communists are well fitted for the carrying out of the exacting tasks the high command of the party lays upon them. As disciples of the Red cause and apologists for its excesses among their circles of acquaintances; as misleaders of the workers, politicians, educators and others; as agents, provocateus, and stirrers of strife in all segments of society, they act with an efficiency that made Communism the envy and the supreme bugaboo of such blundering aspirants to world rule as Hitler and Mussolini.

When the day of which they dream and toward which they work unceasingly arrives — the day the Red prophets proclaim is nearly at hand and already is heralded by disorders throughout most of the world — there will be no lack of captains to lead riotous mobs to overthrow and destroy all that democracy has built to safeguard the people's liberties.

In that day, to quote the booklet "What the Communist Party Stands For," published by the Communist Party of Canada:

"Panic seizes the rulers. A general uprising begins. Workers stop work. Many of them seize arms by attacking arsenals . . . Street fights become frequent. Under the leadership of the Communist Party, the workers organize revolutionary committees to be in command of the uprising. There are battles in the principal cities. Barricade are built and defended . . . The police as a rule continue fighting, but they are soon silenced and made to flee by the united revolutionary forces of workers and soldiers."

Lenin called his revolutionary movement Bolshevik, which means means "majority," but that term was as deceptive as most others in the Red lexicon. Lenin preached always the concept of the Communist Party as a minority vanguard of the elite, trained and tested to the ultimate degree of efficiency, which without embracing the interests of the masses would manipulate their brute strength and give it direction toward a victory, not of the masses, but of the Bolsheviks.

Such was the role of the Nazi party in Hitler's Germany and the Fascist party in Mussolini's Italy. They were interested in the common people of their lands only as they could use them for their own criminal seizure of wealth and power.

Stalin Is Supreme Leader

Such is the concept of Lenin's apt pupil and successor, Joseph V. Stalin, premier of the Soviet Union and secretary-general of the Communist Party of the World.

Stalin is the unquestioned supreme leader of the Communists in Canada as he is of Communist parties throughout the world. And the basic policies of Canadian Reds, as of others, are dictated arbitrarily by the 13 other members of the Politbureau of the International Communist Party's central committee.

The dreaded N.K.V.D., the Soviet secret police, of Minister of the Interior Lavrenti P. Beria, have their representatives in Canada, for the dual purposes of cooperating with and spying upon Canadian Communists, as well as guiding espionage activities.

Agents of Minister of Foreign Trade Anastas I. Mikoyan, moving freely through all countries, have been in close contact with Communist officials both here and in the United States.

The Komsomol, or Communist Youth League, pet project of Deputy Secretary-General Andrei A. Khdanov, is linked directly and through other Communist youth organizations in other countries with the Canadian Federation of Labor Youth, which flourishes here today even more luxuriantly than did the Young Communist League which was its predecessor.

Until its dissolution a few years ago, the Comintern co-ordinated the activities of all Communist groups in the world, and its top-flight co-ordinator of western hemisphere activities was Dmitri Zakharovitch Manuilsky, now Ukrainian representative to the General Assembly of the United Nations.

"If any one man co-ordinates the activities of world Communism today, that man may well be Menuilsky," says Martin Ebon, author of "World Communism Today," the latest and probably most authoritative book on the subject in existence.

East-West Showdown Seen As Chile Forces Czechoslovak Investigation

Russia Pushed Into Defendant Role As UN Will Probe Coup Methods; First Soviet Called To Account Since '46

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, March 13—(AP).—Chile's demand for United Nations investigation of the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia pushed Russia today into the role of a defendant before the world. It also opened the way for airing of conditions in at least one part of Russian-dominated Eastern Europe. Many saw the possibility of an East-West showdown.

The Security Council put the case on its provisional calendar for next Wednesday. The Russians then must meet the Chilean allegations that the methods of Nazi Germany are being used by "a member state against another member state" and that "the extent and magnitude of the plans of the USSR" stand revealed.

This was the first time Russia has been called directly to account since the Iranian case in early 1946.

The United States delegation cautiously refrained from early comment. However, on the basis of recent statements by President Truman and State Secretary Marshall, strongest American support for the Chilean case can be expected.

In filing the case yesterday, Chilean delegate Herman Santa Cruz emphasized that he had not discussed the plan in advance with any other delegate.

Forces Consideration

Action by the government of Chile forced consideration of the once rejected case. Secretary-General Trygve Lie had ruled out the same charges presented by Dr. Jan Papanek, Czechoslovakian anti-Communist chief delegate.

Informed sources predicted the case would run something like this:

1. Russia wil wage a bitter fight, with certain support from the Soviet Ukraine, to kill the charges before the 11-country council can discuss them. However, moving the case from the provisional calendar to the official agenda is a matter of procedure and therefore outside the range of the big power veto. Chile needs the support of seven delegates to get the case heard.

2. Failing to muster five opposition votes, Russian Deputy Minister Gromyko may repeat his walkout of March, 1946, when he left the council chamber in a row over the Iranian case.

3. If Russia stays and fights, one of the bitterest propaganda battles in the U.N.'s two-year history is in prospect with perhaps the life of the organization at stake.

Woman Stabbed Arrest Nephew

MONTREAL, March 13 (CP)—Provincial police today were holding Armand Leroux, 39, as a material witness in the murder of his aunt, Miss Anna Boyer, 52, who was stabbed to death with an ice-pick in her suburban Dorval home last night.

"I have just killed Aunt Anna!" Leroux was quoted as saying when he rushed, hatless and coatless, into the home of Police Chief Alderic Noel of Dorval.

Chief Noel took the man back to the Leroux home where he found the woman lying in a pool of blood in the centre of the kitchen. She had been stabbed six times in the abdomen with an ice-pick.

60 Years Old

The razed building was built about 60 years ago, and was known to many as the McFarland Hotel, named after its late builder and owner. It has not been used for a hotel for the past 10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark have lived there since their marriage in 1938. Mrs. Clark is a daughter of the late owner. Living quarters used by the couple comprised only four rooms, two upstairs and two downstairs. The full 15 rooms were furnished for occupancy as hotel quarters, they said.

The fire of Friday was a repetition of history, residents of the area recall. The first hotel—built on the same site by the late Mr. McFarland—was burned to the ground a few nights before it was to officially open about 62 years ago. The second hotel was built two years later.

Mr. Clark said that insurance on the building, its contents and on his car would not cover one-sixth of the loss.

Need Equipment

The fire, it was pointed out by Fred M. Young, was a vivid demonstration of the need of adequate fire equipment in Young's Point. Secretary of the fire brigade there, he said that a drive was now under way to raise funds for the purchase of a fire pumper. About one-third of the required amount had already been secured, he said.

Besides the permanent residences and buildings there, he said, there were also many summer cottages owned by out-of-town people, which were not protected.

"If it had not been for the fast work of the Lakefield Department," he said, "there is a strong possibility that the whole Point might have been wiped out by this fire."

The salvaged furniture—including the wall telephone which was torn from its fastenings by a volunteer rescuer—was stored in summer cottages near the hotel. Neighbours against assisted in placing the furniture in the temporary shelter. The saved pieces included an organ.

Omemee School Girls Fete Mothers, Teachers

OMEMEE, March 13 — (ENS) — Twenty-six Omemee public school girls in grades five, six, seven and eight were "at home" to their mothers and teachers Wednesday.

The guests were received in the hall by Frances McPhee and Bernice Thornton. Grace-Ann Sibley and Estella Linsdell conducted them to the sewing exhibit, after which they were received in the diningroom by Marion Zufelt and June Collins.

The diningroom was decorated in spring shades of mauve and yellow, the table centre-piece a beautiful cineraria.

Marie Naylor and Joan Saulter, assisted by Beverly Deyell, Isobel Hyland, Katherine Murray and Dorothy McConnell, served tea, poured by Mrs. L. M. Curtis, wife of the public school principal, and Miss J. Lamb, primary teacher. Orma Brooks, Donna Overholt, Temple Morcombe, Yvone Sibley, Jean James, Donna Clifford, Eileen Zufelt, Mary Ann Pooley, Lyla Webb, Joan Whitmore, Phyllis Nelson, Jean McCausland, Margaret Shaw and Olive McCausland served refreshments.

A chorus was composed of girls of grades five and six. Their teacher is Miss L. Graham.

Miss D. Jones, teacher of grades three and four, was also a guest.

A vote of thanks was extended by the guests to the economics classes and their instructors Mrs. S. D. Vaughan and Miss L. Graham.

Mrs. Henry Jakeman, who has been ill for some time at her home, was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, Wednesday.

Harold Padgham, Gervin Mulligan, Reg. Edmunds, Harold Sanderson, and Carlton Patton motored to Orillia Wednesday to attend the hockey game.

Bludgeons Dog To Death With Axe Court Says Lawful But "Brutal"

LINDSAY, March 13.—(ENS).—Charged with the unlawful killing of a neighbor's dog, Donald McLean, 61, of Woodville, was found not guilty in police court Friday. Magistrate E. A. Gee said the method in which McLean had destroyed the animal, a valuable hound belonging to Hector Pethick of Woodville, was "brutal and deplorable," but that he was nevertheless within his rights in killing it.

McLean, a farmer, admitted to the court he had knocked the dog unconscious with a stable fork, tied it to a post, and later threw a bag over its head and bludgeoned it to death with an axe. He contended the dog had been chasing his sheep.

"I didn't shoot the dog because it was on the Sabbath,' McLean said.

"Why did you place a bag over the dog's head?" asked Crown Attorney L. W. Jordan.

'Because I'm a chicken-hearted man,'" was the reply, 'and it's the first time I'd ever killed anything in my life."

'For a chicken-hearted man you did a thorough job," observed Mr. Jordan.

McLean said the dog had entered his barnyard the morning of Feb. 22 while he was doing chores, and had begun chasing his sheep. He said he broke the fork over the dog's head and carried the animal into the stable, where he tied it to a post. He then telephoned Thomas Henderson, Mariposa township councillor, who told him he could kill the dog if it had been molesting his sheep. McLean said he then returned to the hound and smashed its head with the axe.

Worth $5

Mr. Pethick, whose home is adjacent to the McLean farm, said his dog had been tied up, but had broken its rope and wandered away. It was not until three days later that he discovered McLean killed the dog, he said.

"McLean showed me the dog where he had left it, and the head was smashed beyond recognition. The hound was worth $50, but I wouldn't have taken $100 to see it die such a death. McLean told me Henderson had said, without investigating, that he could kill the dog and collect a $5 reward," Pethick stated.

"I'd like McLean to prove that the dog was molesting his sheep," he added.

Mr. Henderson said a bylaw effective in Mariposa stated that any dog found molesting sheep was to be killed. H. E. Richardson, the defending lawyer, contended that McLean was fully justified in killing the dog. "But I cannot say he was justified in his methods," he stated.

"Any man who would kill a dog in this way is particularly inhumane and contemptible," Mr. Jordan declared. "These are not the actions of a reasonable man. McLean didn't even attempt to find out who owned the dog."

Two Million Dollar Hospital For Indians

COCHRANE, March 13—(CP).—An Indian hospital to cost almost $2,000,000 will be built at Moose Factory on James Bay, it was announced last night by Magistrate E. R. Tucker.

The magistrate criticized the proposed location of the hospital on an island five miles out in the bay. An executive member of the Canadian Red Cross Society, he said the hospital might better be built at Moosonee at the end of steel on the mainland.

The contract for the hospital has been awarded to Sterling Construction Company of Windsor.

Princess Helena Dies, Cousin Of The King

LONDON, March 13. (AP)—Princess Helena Victoria, a cousin of the King and granddaughter of Queen Victoria, died in her London home today. She was 77.

Buckingham Palace sources said she had been in poor health for some time.

For many years the princess lived in a London west end apartment with her sister, Princess Marie Louise. She led an extremely quiet life in her later years and rarely was seen in public.

In the past she had devoted her energies to social welfare work and had been a leading figure in numerous charities.

wartime Prime Minister and a former First Lord of the Admiralty, has hit out at the Government for the present apparent weakness of the Navy. But Government spokesmen have stolidly blocked all questions.

The only glimpses allowed have come from the Admiralty itself.

Last month, Vice-Admiral D. C. Ford, Engineer-in-chief of the Fleet, held a press conference which received little mention. He told correspondents of experiments in stalling a gas turbine engine in a motor gunboat—making Britain the only country in the world with a vessel at sea incorporating this development — and declared: "We cannot tell where this invention is going to lead us, but I feel that it may be start of a new era, certainly at sea."

Jet Propulsion Plans

Next step, it is understood, will be to install gas turbines in a destroyer, thus bringing jet propulsion to the water and opening up far-reaching possibilities of naval speed and manoeuvrability.

Such a development, applied to an entire fleet, would remove the navy's great dependence on oil—a headache in war, and a headache also in Britain's financial crisis of today when oil means dollars.

A recent official Admiralty statement on atom power also received little publicity. It said: "The implications of atomic energy, in the long view of the situation, are by no means limited to defensive aspects, and may lead to enhancement of naval power in a highly modified form and with wide offensive and defensive commitments."

General Retreat On Exchanges

By The Canadian Press.

Promise of a fourth successive week of insignificant market activity on Canadian stock exchanges was not fulfilled when a burst of action sparked by nosediving golds Friday swept up industrials, base metals, and Western oils for a general retreat.

The activity in Toronto and Montreal was independent of the trends at New York where dullness and narrow prices prevailed up to the close yesterday. Commodity markets in the United States fluctuated throughout the week, but emerged only mildly off while livestock in Canada carried through on fairly active trading and steady prices, with hogs at Toronto up 25 cents a hundredweight.

Big business news of the week was the announcement of a 36-power wheat agreement putting a $2 a bushel ceiling and $1.10 floor price on wheat exported by the United States, Canada, and Australia over the five crop years starting August 1, 1948.

Golds took a sharp nosedive on the Toronto Stock Exchange yesterday after holding out successfully for several weeks against a steadily deteriorating market. The downward move was negotiated in substantially increased activity with the volume of shares traded about double the average trading day this year. Brokers had no specified reason for the slide except that the depressing international situation influenced traders to unload.

Japanese Now Can Travel East Of B.C.

Still Need Permits To Move Around In Coastal Areas

OTTAWA, March 13.—(CP).—Japanese in Canada, their movements tied down for six years, now are free to travel at will anywhere east of the Rockies.

But they still may not go into British Columbia without a permit of the type they previously needed for movement of any kind.

In discussing this relaxation of restrictions in the Commons, yesterday, Labor Minister Mitchell also made clear the Government intends to continue for another year from March 31 the remaining restrictive powers at its command.

Besides the permit provision for travel in B.C., the chief of these other restrictions is that barring persons of Japanese descent from getting fishing licenses in that province or serving on vessels operating out of its ports.

Provision for this continuation is embodied in the Government's legislation, for extending its emergency powers until March 31, 1949.

Mr. Mitchell also tabled an order providing for the Government to continue until March 31, 1950, part of its financial assistance to Japanese evacuated in wartime from the West Coast province to Alberta.

Though not fully lifting the ties from Japanese travel, the new relaxation represents a long step from the previous position. Under the wartime order, persons of the Japanese race could not move anywhere in Canada without a permit from the Labor Department, and they were subject to be ordered to any place the department considered they should move.

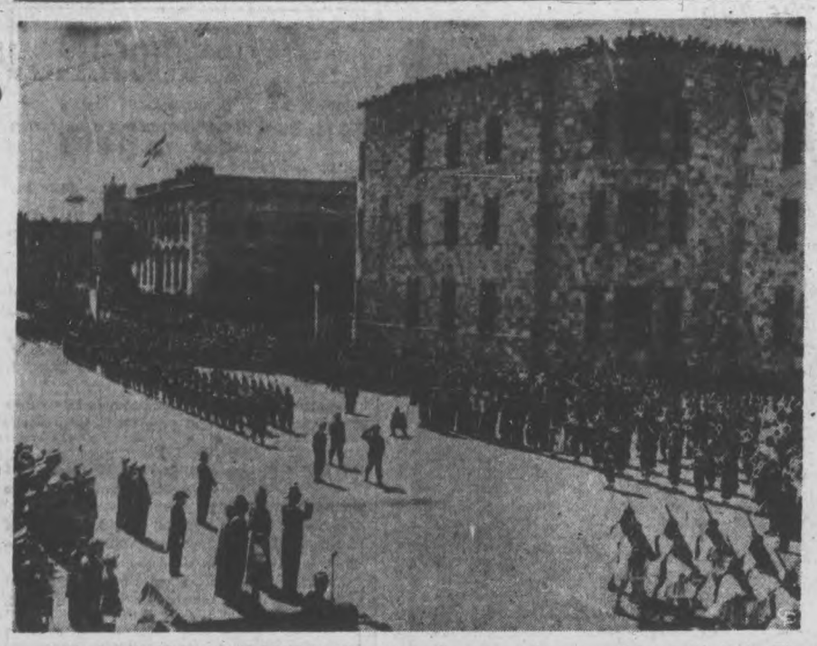
Charges were that she unlawfully obtained goods to the value of about $249 from a ladies' wear store in Lindsay by means of worthless cheques.

She is alleged to have presented the phony cheques on Thursday. Carl Bell, proprietor of the store, said the goods in question included a fur coat valued at more than $170.



"To Be Or Not To Be"—Fate Of Meters Will Be Decided At Cobourg On Monday

COBOURG, March 13 (ENS).—Next Monday night council will decide on how good—or otherwise—the parking meters have been. Still strongly opposed to them is Reeve John Westington who declares that farmers are against the meters and that the devices hurt farmer trade. The fact that Port Hope has decided to retain the meters is being advanced here as one reason why Cobourg should get rid of them and thus gain rural business from the Port Hope area.

Some in Cobourg would like to see the meter changed, as is to be done in Port Hope, so that coppers up to five can be placed in the coin slot instead of one cent and a nickel, the only two coins at the present time.

He used a map to illustrate his talk on the story of Newfoundland.

"So percariously are some of the houses perched upon the rocks, it would seem a giant must have lifted them up and thrown them there."

Means of livelihood include deep sea fishing, pulp and paper industry, zinc, lead and iron mining.

Newfoundland was on the front line during the war, and the port of St. Johns was taken over by the Canadian navy, and by American soldiers.

During the depression necessity made a number of the people turn to agriculture as a means of making a living, chiefly in the Humber valley, and this industry has made great progress.

Speaking of the Government by Commission of seven men, three appointed by England, three by Newfoundland, and the Governor of the Island, Mr. Haywood noted that at one time political corruption was enlarging the national debt until the country was practically bankrupt. He does not believe that in the change now imminent, Newfoundland will become a tenth province of Canada, but will choose some form of responsible government, probably similar to our own. The cost of living in the island is at least 60 per cent higher than in Canada; when eggs were $1.05 a dozen in the stores, the speaker had sold them at 60 cents per dozen from thos supplied by his domestic fowl.

"I was really doing my neighbors a favor, for I could as readily have had $1.00 per dozen."

Education is in the hands of the churches, and this is not good, since denominational barriers are strong. "But the people are keenly alert for education and I am positive in this that the children are on a higher level, educationally, than those in our Ontario schools."

The speaker said he could not find words to describe the fine and self-sacrificing work being done by the workers from the W.M.S., nor how welcome and needed are the bales sent from their supply department.

Mr. Haywood mentioned that Henrietta Campbell, an heroic W.M.S. worker is to be on furlough in September and will visit in their home. He closed by reading the Newfoundland National Anthem from the Hymnary and during the social hour when Group B served refreshments, Miss Hetherington played it on the piano, the vote of hearty thanks to the sepaker being voiced by Mrs. Ridge and Mrs. F. P. Stinson. The president, announced the Easter thankoffering to be taken at the April meeting at Mrs. Ridge's home. Mrs. G. A. Spicer sang a solo.

WANT LONGER RECESS

OTTAWA, March 13 — (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King yesterday agreed in the Commons to discuss with party leaders the possibility of speeding up House business to make possible a longer Easter recess, now scheduled to run from Wednesday, March 24, to Tuesday, March 30.

House Tackles Wartime Controls Bogs Down On Coarse Grains

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, March 13—(CP).—Legislation, extending some of the Government's wartime controls, was advanced one stage in the Commons yesterday before members bogged down in renewed debate on a three-pronged measure affecting Western farmers. A resolution preliminary to a bill to continue Prices Board orders, including those covering price controls, domestic rental ceilings and evictions—operating until March 31, 1949—was adopted. The bill itself was given first reading after a minimum of debate.

Extended discussion erupted on second reading of a bill that would provide an increase in the initial price of wheat, establish a pension fund for employees of the Canadian Wheat Board and give the board power to take over the marketing of oats and barley along with wheat.

Progressive Conservative members criticized the latter two features of the Bill, but the CCF and Social Credit members said they would support the measure although it was not entirely to their liking.

At the House opening Prime Minister Mackenzie King read into the record a cable from the British Government in which it said it could not agree to release five wartime dispatches on the international situation. These dispatches were missing from the Hong Kong evidence tabled in the Commons Wednesday.

No More Advances

External Affairs iMnister St. Laurent said there had been no further advances made by Canada to Czechoslovakia in the last three or four weeks on the $1,000,000 balance left of the $19,000,000 loan to that country.

Finance Minister Abbott said he expected the contracts under which Canada has extended credits to war-devastated European countries will be "fulfilled," although he agreed it would be "false optimism" to expect that there would be no losses.

In introducing the control resolution, Justice Minister Ilsley said 28 of the 50 wartime Orders-in-Council contained in the Transitional Measures Act pased at the last session have since been revoked. Of the 27 remaining, same have been partially revoked.

In the brief debate that ensued John Bracken, Progressive Conservative Leader, said his party would debate controls on second reading of the Bill. His party favored orderly decontrol and did not think that some orders, such as those on rents, should be "abandoned precipitately."

CCF members asked nothing more than assurances that they would be given opportunity to move amendments to the legislation once it was brough to a more advanced stage.

Hong Kong Issue Discussed Quietly

OTTAWA, March 13 — (CP). — The Hong Kong issue came up briefly in the Commons yesterday without touching off any fireworks.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King read into the record an answer given by the British government at Westminster in which it said it could not agree to release five wartime dispatches on the international situation.

Their absence from a tabled evidence taken at a Canadian Royal Commission inquiry in 1942 has left up in the air the whole question of whether the Canadian government knew war was imminent in the Far East when it sent troops to Hong Kong in 1941.

Grandmothers' Night At Marmora WI

MARMORA, March 13—(ENS)—The meeting of Marmora Women's Institute on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. G. Chrysler took the form of Grandmother's Night.

Mrs. W. D. Lavender was chairman.

Plans were completed for the supper in St. Paul's Parish Hall at which the Institute will cater to the Marmora Chamber of Commerce the following evening.

It was decided to make a donation to the Canadian Appeal for Children.

The program consisted of community singing with Mrs. L. R. Rundle pianist.

A reading was given by Mrs. F. Grant. A contest was won by Mrs. P. Gray. There was also a display of fancy work which was auctioned for the Institute funds.

Mrs. Robert Phillips was the oldest grandmother present.

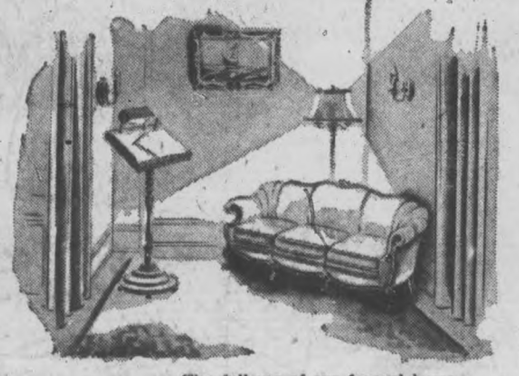
The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. Hannah.

Declare Patterson Didn't 'Walk Out'

OTTAWA, March 13—(CP).—Reason for published reports of a walk-out of the Canadian delegate, Dr. George Patterson from the United Nations Korean Commission in Seoul is all very simple—and has no international implications.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told the Commons yesterday there was no walk-out. Then, as delicately as he could, he said:

"The matter was discussed and, at a given moment, Dr. Patterson, for reasons that can be understood, retired for a few moments, and came back, and the meeting continued. The fact that he had been out for a few moments was described by newspaper men as a walk-out. That was not so."



MAKING CANDLES — Miss Leontina Eisewerth of Young, Sask., is the only candlemaker in western Canada. She operates a candle factory founded by Father L. H. Shirley, priest of her parish at Young. Fr. Shirley first started making candles in the rectory with the hope of relieving the parish debt. His hopes were not realized and Miss Eisewerth took over in 1946. She uses a former grain elevator engine room for the factory and a filtering plant designed by Fr. Shirley is in the basement of his church.

The Kiwanis Music Festival

On Monday the second Peterborough Music Festival, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, will begin its five-day competition. Last year the festival made a good showing, and this year it is profiting by the experience of festival organization which was gained at that time. The festival is considerably larger in scope, and the competitions are open to all comers. The growth which the festival has shown in two years is deeply encouraging to lovers of music, and a sign that the festival will shortly become an annual event of great importance.

* * *

We are particularly glad to see that there is a large number of choral entries this year. Choral singing in Canada has an honourable history; Canadian choirs have taken some of the highest awards that the musical life of two continents affords. Peterborough itself not so long ago, possessed a female choir of widespread renown, and until 1930 had a male choir which was equally good. Perhaps the enthusiasm shown by school choirs will kindle a flame in the breasts of their elders; certainly the school choirs are good training-grounds for adult choirs. A festival which contains a large number of choral entries cannot help but have its effect on choral singing through the city and its district.

* * *

As we said last year, it is gratifying that the Kiwanis Club should have undertaken a yearly task which is directed toward the cultural betterment of Peterborough. Music is one of the most absorbing and rewarding of all the arts, and no community can have too much of it.

The Year Of Revolutions

The practice of searching history for parallels is not to be scorned as misleading and invalid. Events are not exactly repetitious but they are cyclical, and history does have its lessons, uncomfortable though they may be. The year 1848 is called the Year of Revolutions. Now, exactly a century later, we are involved in events and the consequences of events not dissimilar to those of 1848.

After the Congress of Vienna which closed the period of the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars (1789-1815), European statesmen determined to preserve the order of things then established. They reasoned that the dangerous liberalism of the early French Revolution had brought about the Reign of Terror, the rise of Napoleon and the long wars. They wanted no more liberalism, though the more astute leaders knew that Europe could not revert to the old regime. Metternich was the dominating figure in this policy of repression and the damming up of liberal currents.

However, his system could not endure. From 1820 there were recurring outbreaks which came to a head in 1848, due to the seeds of freedom that had been sown in the preceding century, to progress in the Industrial Revolution and the rise of the middle classes. A little before the Year of Revolutions, there had been prolonged riots in Bavaria and disturbances in Wurtemberg, with ominous mutterings in Italy. In February, 1848, a rising in Paris quickly overthrew the Orleans monarchy, socialists and radicals gained power and a French republic was proclaimed. Before the end of the month the socialists were attempting to institute national workshops in Paris. A week more and German liberals were demanding a national assembly and a constitution for a united Germany; there were riots in Berlin, and the Austrian government was forced to bow to revolutionists in Vienna. The Hapsburg dominions began to fall asunder. Italians rose against absolutist monarchs or Austrian masters. There were disturbances in Spain, and in Great Britain it seemed for a moment that the Chartists—the British radicals—would overthrow the existing system. Everywhere authorities hastened to grant constitutions or make liberal the constitutions already existing.

The revolt against the old established economic and social system was complete. The middle classes with the support of workers took control.

In this century we have seen a Russian revolution arising from one war and followed by another. The old industrial and capitalist system of the post-Metternich (our Victorian) period has been challenged and modifications are being forced upon it, even in the New World, as in 1848 the aristocratic, landowning system was challenged and forcibly modified. There is a new science and a new society, as in 1848. The historic question is: which is playing the role of Metternich's Austria of 1820-1848 — Soviet Russia or capitalistic America? To us observers on this continent, Russia is the despotic imperialism bent on damming up the current of liberalism, and the United States is comparatively liberal and prepared to make change.

The lesson of 1848 is surely this: A repressive political system which drives radicals underground is sure to break up. If freedom of opinion and critics of existing social and economic systems are not tolerated in a state, that state is doomed. Governments must countenance change, whether they like it or not.

Britain Lifts The Tax On Hollywood Films

The British Government's austerity program which has made the life of Britons very drab include restrictions on amusements. To save American dollars and, we suspect, to impress a Crippsian rigour on the people, the Government seven months ago put a 75 per cent. tax on all American films entering Britain. This was really a ban, and made the retaliating ban imposed by the American film industry redundant. On Thursday the Government changed its mind. An agreement has been made so that under reciprocal financial arrangements Hollywood films will be going to Britain at almost the normal rate.

It can be explained that the lifting of the tax was made possible by the American producers' willingness to take out of the country no more than seventeen million dollars of their annual earnings. It can be said that British producers have been unable to supply the home market, and that the whole British industry would be threatened if cinemas had to close down for lack of films. (By the first of this month the stocks had dwindled, even of revived pictures, so that many movie houses had little to show their patrons). The real explanation is this. People must have entertainment; they must have so-called luxuries like movies, tobacco, plays, pubs, holidays, travel and new hats. It was the need of the people which forced the Government to lift the tax.

When Canadian troops first moved into western Holland where the people were starving it was not bread and tinned meat that they craved—it was the luxury of a cigarette. During the war the British Government did its best to keep the pubs in operation. The present Government, less wise in such matters, has tried, unsuccessfully, to wean the public from films. It failed, for the very reason that people can do without the necessities of life but they must have its luxuries.

The Skoda Arms Empire

Czechoslovakia has more than political value to Russia. Czechoslovakia has the vast Skoda industrial empire which was a European arsenal in the last two wars. The Skoda works consist of thirty-five big plants which produce iron and steel implements ranging from tractors to small arms. From 1932 to 1938 when the Nazis occupied Czechoslovakia Skoda produced fourteen per cent. of the world's armament exports.

The Skoda works have not been converted entirely to peacetime production of farm, railway and other industrial equipment. It is reported that the works had orders for armaments from Russia, Iran, Sweden, Argentina, Yugoslavia and Switzerland, and that they are producing millions of rounds of ammunition, thousands of shells, 20,000 rocket bombs and 1,000 Bren guns monthly. Since Russian troops entered Czechoslovakia in the last months of the war, the Skoda works have not been considered a potential asset to the West. Now Russia's monopoly of its products will be complete.

Diary Of Minority Opinions

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Was talking to a man today about neglected Canadian authors, and we wondered why so little is said about Sir Gilbert Parker and Grant Allen in this country. Parker was a Belleville man, and that city is not so rich in literary renown that it can afford to slight an important figure. As for Allen, "What's Bred In The Bone" is quite as readable as many modern Canadian novels ....But my nomination for the all-time fiction best-seller of Canadian authorship is "The Horrible Revelations of Maria Monk", written by a Montreal girl who had a most adventurous life and eventually died as a prostitute in Bellevue Hospital, New York. You cannot buy the book in Canada, but edition after edition of it comes out in England, and in 1939 a bookseller in Leeds told me that he sold a gross of "Maria" a month. Can we neglect so popular a work?

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: In Toronto today on business, and woke at 8 a.m. to the sound of the radio in the next room playing Strauss waltzes. Radios in hotel bedrooms are an abomination of desolation, and people who want to listen to waltzes before they have cleaned their teeth are, in my opinion, perverted....Almost swooned at lunch when I saw a man at a table some distance away who had been killed, I thought, in the war. It was not possible to rush to him at once and say "Are you a ghost, or merely an Amazing Resemblance?", and so I was kept on pins and needles for an hour. But at last I buttonholed him, and it was indeed my friend. When I told him that I had thought him dead, mourned his loss, and filed him away in my memory, he laughed uproariously. Nothing amuses people under fifty so much as being told that you thought they were dead; after fifty the joke gradually loses its side-splitting character until, in the seventies, it is received with sour looks. Having established my friend's corporeality we exchanged news, but I could not shake off my doubt at once, and for half an hour or so I expected him to come out with some interesting revelation about the Life Beyond.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Bought myself a small bag of dragees today; life has been using me rather shabbily, and I thought I deserved a little treat. They are delicious sweetmeats—my favourites. The modern dragee is an almond coated with hard sugar, delicately flavoured with (I suspect) talcum powder; eating one always reminds me of my childhood, when I was occasionally commanded to kiss ladies who tasted just like that; old ladies tasted like mauve dragees and young ladies tasted like the delicious pink or white dragees; I always gave them a little, unobstrusive lick as I kissed, to test their flavour. Modern face power affords no such delights....This dragee has not always been an innocent indulgence. A century ago physicians concealed their most detestable purges in those sugar shells, and poisoners have also made use of them....Dragees are the sugar-plums about which one reads in old children's books, and they are still more wholesome than chocolates. Sat before my fire sucking, champing and wallowing in the nostalgia which the sweets evoked.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: I was brought up to believe that it was dangerous, if not downright suicidal, to eat onions. From time to time, just out of perversity, I would eat a few in a restaurant, and they always gave me pains, but they were so delicious that I could not resist them. Now, after deep thought, I have decided to conquer onions, and so today I bought a very small bottle of pickled onions, and consumed two of them at lunch. Felt no ill effects during the afternoon, and so I ate two more with my evening meal. I still live, and unless I drop dead before morning, I shall continue this homeopathic approach to onions, increasing the dose each day until I am able to pick up a big, red Spanish onion and eat it like an apple....The chief objection to onions, of course, is that they make one smell like an onion oneself. The breath of an onion-eater is a powerful weapon of offence. I am told that a glass of milk kills the smell of onions on the breath, but this must be a well-guarded secret or a lie, for I never see any onion-eaters drinking milk, and their blow-torch breaths can be felt at forty feet.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: Was talking to some people today who were moaning about Russia; they expected the Russians to come over the top of the earth and chase us down into Louisiana any time. "But why should the Russians fight us" I asked, assuming my favourite role of The Voice of Reason, "when they can get all they want by sticking closely to their own business and paying no attention to what we think or say? If they want a piece of territory they grab it, and we dither and shake our fingers at them, and say that if they ever do that again we shall be very, very cross. The Russians do not like fighting any better than anyone else, and they know that they will not have to fight unless they tell us what they are going to do next. We won't have war with Russia unless we insist on it". My host observed weightily that the Russians might find out that free men fought better than slaves if they pushed us too far. "If by slaves you mean the Russians", said I, "they did some very able fighting in the late war for freedom, and Rome built an Empire with slave legions". Then they began to say I was a defeatist. Ah, me!

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: Marchbanks yields to no man in his fanatical loyalty to the Crown and his devotion to the person of his sovereign and he always flings his glass into the fireplace after drinking the Royal Toast (even when he drinks it in water at a service club luncheon). Marchbanks is also very fond of music, and agrees with Beethoven that our National Anthem is a noble air. But even Marchbanks can get too much of "God Save The King", particularly when played at the end of movie shows by bands which look as though they were suffering from creeping paralysis. It is my belief that there would be a great sigh of relief through the country, and far less Communist activity, if we gave up the custom of playing "God Save The King" upon every conceivable and quite a few inconceivable occasions. Throw away all the rotten old films of bands, smash all the scratched old records, splinter all the vile libels upon the Royal Countenance painted by drunken sign-painters, and let us have "God Save The King" only when it is needed, and when it can be decently performed.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: I see that Princess Elizabeth and Barbara Ann Scott have both been included among the "Six Most Wholesome Women of 1947" by the Women's Research Guild of New York. A dubious compliment, if ever I heard one. In my callow youth, I was badly scratched several times before I learned that if there is one thing no girl wants to be called, it is wholesome. This word suggests that a girl eats a lot of turnips, laughs too loudly at clean jokes, wears too much underclothing of the wrong kind, and has not heard about depilatories. Wholesome is what one calls girls whom one cannot call beautiful, or witty, or charming, without hurrying straight to the bathroom to wash one's mouth out with brown soap. Even a girl who takes a lot of outdoor exercise, like Miss Scott, need not be wholesome because of it: even a princess, with the eyes of the world upon her, can avoid the curse of wholesomeness. What girl would be a slice of bread, when she can be a piece of cake? I think that both these maligned young women are thoroughly unwholesome, so there!

Letter To The Editor

DECENTRALIZATION FOR ONTARIO

Sir: An item in the Examiner to hand opens thus: VATICAN CITY, March 8.—(AP)—Pope Pius said yesterday that mad rivalry for power prevents the world's return to economic order...."We watch unhappily the action of a policy which is only a race for power and hegemony."

Somehow that story reminded me of an earlier editorial, dealing with a Federal report on the manufacturing industries of this province, and listing the various centres in Ontario, in the order of their manufacturing productivity. The top thirteen ranged from Toronto's $961,736,716 to St. Catharines' $61,830,037—and with Peterborough ninth of the line, with a gross value of manufactured products of $67,960,755.

As the famous columnist puts it 'Believe it or not', though I live in Toronto I would heartily favour an enactment at the provincial legislative level, calling for a 'ceiling' of anywhere between 250,000 and 400,000 population of any urban centre in Ontario! The case for a decentralization policy has been stressed on many occasions; but, in the past, the plea fell on the deaf ears of Dr. Laissez-faire, a decent but outmoded chap who preferred to be undisturbed, and was naturally not disposed to get tangled in the "mad rivalry for power"?

On the other hand, it cannot be successfully denied that the atomic age is writing new thoughts into men's minds, and most of them are pointing in the direction of decentralization—for the safety of the nation; the health and happiness of its homes. Surely nobody doubts that 10 first-class urban centres of 100,000 people, represent a richer, more wholesome and sounder and more enduring system than a million people in a single metropolis?

The basic interests of the farmer would be served—and conserved—by a better balance of his urban customers? The people would steadier, and so would the markets be!

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear: but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you that he will not hear....

None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.... Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths. (Isa. 59: 1. 2, 4, 7.)

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. (Is. 55: 6-9.)

U.K. Polar Exploration

One of the most successful years of work recorded in recent history of Antarctic sledging has just been completed by United Kingdom experts. Some 3,500 miles were travelled by dog team to carry out extensive topographical and geological surveys in the Falkland Islands. The year's activities culminated in two long trips covering over 1,000 miles of the Weddel Sea coast of Grahamland, much of which has never been traversed before and therefore not hitherto been accurately charted.—United Kingdom Information Office.

Outdoors

With PETE McGILLEN

BENEATH THE ICE of the Kawartha lakes during this month of March, the maskinonge are courting. Minnie, the muskie from Pigeon lake, a gal of 30 summers—and 20 husbands, is shopping around for a new partner. She knows by the temperature of the water and various internal urgings that soon the time will come when she will want to cavort in shallow water and lay hundreds of eggs. Unlike the modern female of the world of humans, she has no "new look" to intrigue the stupid males, but she has a special interest in a sleek male muskie who has a "new look". This particular specimen which she noticed coyly glancing at her, with sheep's eyes from behind a sunken stump has a white scar along the left side just back of the anal fin. It gives him such a mature look. He's a slim, racy looking character, the kind of a male, the gals look at twice. He's so shy now, but by the time the ice starts to break up, he will have broken the ice too and another maskinonge honeymoon will be underway.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

MUSKIES ARE IMPATIENT for the ice to go, just as humans are. When the ice moves out and the lake waters rise, pairs of these beautiful fish move into the shallows, seeking weedy spots, and sometimes they even swim into flooded farm fields. The coolness of the water does not seem to interfere with the muskie spawning. The female lays upwards of 100,000 eggs, and these are fertilized by the male. However, the muskie unlike the bass, does not remain in shallow water to protect the eggs. They are delinquent parents, because once the egg-laying is over they disappear and hundreds of these eggs are gobbled up by other fish. Sometimes spawn is left high and dry if the water drops too quickly. In about 17 days, the eggs hatch into tiny black fry or minnows, each having a food sac attached. This sac nourishes the fry for a period of from ten days to two weeks and by that time the little fellow is able to forage for himself. He lives on minute plant and animal life in the water. In an amazingly short time this same little fish, now about three inches long and looking much like a piece of yellow straw, starts to feed on other smaller fish.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THUS NATURE'S GREAT CYCLE continues in the muskie world. But, let's hark back to the spawning period. That "new look" the male muskie had was a spear wound. A year earlier, a poacher standing at the edge of the marsh in rubber boots, holding a flashlight in one hand and a spear in the other, had hurled the weapon at the fish, but only one tang of the spear grazed the side of the muskie. He survived this nasty wound. It was a wound inflicted by a man whose sense of sportsmanship is as low as the sense of loyalty that characterized the fifth columnists in the countries overrun by the Germans. Some distant day when the Government makes possession of a fishing spear punishable by a $500 fine, then these butchers will be forced to discontinue their slaughter. Of course the foremen in local factories who know certain employees are making spears during working hours could help a lot if they would confiscate the spears—but they won't.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦
